

Rabies-A Growing Problem

Wildlife rabies is increasing and along with it is an increasing risk to people and their pets, according to the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association. Last summer a young girl in Dearborn, Michigan, was bitten by her own dog. The dog was confirmed as having rabies and the girl was successfully treated. A Tucson, Arizona, man was less fortunate. The same summer he was bitten by his dog, but testing for rabies on the dog's brain was negative. The man did not undergo treatment. Subsequently, he developed signs of rabies and died.

The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta reports the incidence of confirmed rabies has increased from 3,298 in 1978 to over 7,000 in 1981.

Last year rabies was more common in cats than in dogs. Part of the problem is that most areas do not require cats to be vaccinated. The most common source of exposure is the growing skunk population. Other high risk wild animals are foxes, bats, and raccoons.

What happens if your dog or cat is bitten by a confirmed rabid animal? If your pet isn't currently vaccinated against rabies, you can choose between a six-months locked-enclosure quarantine or humane euthanasia. If your pet is currently vaccinated against rabies, a three-months quarantine is required. Your pet will be vaccinated at the beginning and the end of the quarantine.

You can protect yourself and your pets by: (1) keeping your pet's vaccinations current, (2) avoiding wild animal contact by not letting your pet run free, (3) avoiding skunks, raccoons, bats, and foxes—these are not recommended pets, and (4) knowing that rabies vaccination is available to people but is generally only given to people who are at high risk.

Area Persons Recognized

Forty-five area employers and educators met May 6 for an "Employer Education Breakfast" sponsored by the South & West Washtenaw Consortium. Participants represented the schools, chambers of commerce and employers from the five municipalities of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline.

Rodney Benson, executive director of the Greater Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, stressed the importance of people and their education in the current local and state push in high tech industry. Benson praised the work of the Consortium in vocational education and for bringing together employers and educators. Partnership of business and industry with vocational education is critical for all.

Employers received information on the vocational education consortium of the five local schools and heard from two of their own explain the value of their involvement with vocational education. Ms. Jan Fyall, Personnel Specialist for Bechtel Power Corporation spoke of the employment of Co-op students, and Bruce Blankenship, Personnel Director at Braun-Brumfield, Inc. explained how involvement on Vocational Advisory Committees allows for input in vocational programs. Both firms actively use Co-operative Education students and employ vocational education graduates.

Certificates of Appreciation for outstanding contribution to vocational education were presented to ten people nominated and selected by the schools. The certificates were jointly from the Michigan Department of Education and the National Alliance of Business and Industry. Recipients include Barbara Steele, Chelsea Community Hospital and Ted Hanss, Hoover Universal Inc. of Manchester.

HIT OR MISS by farley

To the several folks who called me and expressed their thanks for my recent column on the fact that it had been discovered that many high school graduates could not read nor write, nor spell, nor add nor subtract, nor multiply, nor divide with the amount of skills that most of us would suspect that they should have.

I find that I am not the only one who has written columns about this condition. Some have been very serious about the condition while others have treated it with humor and sarcasm. Art Buchwald, well known for his dry sense of humor had one the other day that I greatly enjoyed and if you don't object, may I share it with you?

He said: "Linda Peepuls was giving the dinner. When dessert was finished she said 'I have some exciting news for all of you. My son George just read his first book.' We all raised our wine glasses to toast the occasion.

"How old is George?" Reilly said. "He'll be 18 next month," Linda said. "George has always been a bright student," said Linda.

"What book did he read?" Frances Huff wanted to know.

"J.D. Salsinger's Catcher In the Rye." There was an embarrassed silence at the table.

"What's wrong?" Linda wanted to know.

"Catcher In the Rye is a dirty book." I said.

"He found it in the school library," Linda said.

Eekstrom was outraged. "You ought to report the librarian to the school board. They probably don't even know it's there."

"But George seemed to enjoy it," Linda said defensively.

"Sure he enjoyed it," Reilly said. "It's full of sex and bad words. But it doesn't belong in a high school library. The next thing you know George will be reading Huckleberry Finn and Kurt Vonnegut's

Mayor's Exchange Day

May 27 Set For Awards Program

The second annual Academic Awards program for Manchester High School students will be held Thursday, May 27, at 8 p.m. in the High School gymnasium. Lists of the names of students to be honored will be posted at the High School beginning on Monday, May 24.

The Band and the Varsity Choir will provide musical selections. After the Awards program, refreshments will be served in the Study Auditorium by the Manchester Education Association. The public is invited.

Poppy Day

On May 21 and 22, the red crepe paper poppy will be offered to the public by the American Legion Auxiliary and Post. This reminder of the sacrifice of countless thousands in four wars is an annual event undertaken by the Members of the Unit #117 in Manchester.

Volunteers from the Unit will once again take part in this nation-wide program in memory of the citizen soldiers who gave their lives in the cause of freedom.

Funds collected on Poppy Days are used to assist the needy veteran and his family. It is a self-help program, for the familiar red paper poppy is hand-made in Poppy Shops run by Legion and Auxiliary volunteers. In these shops, disabled and hospitalized veterans make the flowers by hand, petal by petal. It is part of a physical and psychological therapy program by veterans for veterans. These poppies are purchased from the shop by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary and offered to the public, not at a price, but for a contribution...a few cents to say America remembers.

This memorial flower was originally adopted by the American Legion Auxiliary in 1920 and since that time, programs have been conducted throughout the United States each year.

Contributions on Poppy Days are by the Local Unit to aid needy veterans and their families in the community and in hospitals throughout the state. All proceeds are channeled directly into rehabilitation and welfare work for children and youth.

Auxiliary members from Manchester will ask the public to pause for a moment, pin on a poppy, and wear it with pride, remembering the civilian who took an oath to serve his country and gave his life so that America would survive today.

Miss Poppy for 1982 is Miss Adrienne Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wallace of City Road, Manchester. Adrienne is five years old and a kindergarten and has a baby brother, Aaron.

Slaughterhouse Five.

"Or Studs Terkel's Working", I said.

"Are they all bad books?" Linda asked.

"The worst. They've ruined kids for life."

"We've been trying to get George to read a book since he was 12 years old."

Catcher in the Rye was a breakthrough. It would break his heart if we told him he couldn't read any more like it.

"There are books and there are books," Eckstrom said. "My daughter came home from her English class with William Faulkner's Wreath of Thorns, and I told her if she brought anything like that into the house again I'd throw it in the furnace. I was reported her teacher to the principal."

I said "If more parents took an interest in what their children were reading we wouldn't have such a rotten society."

"Well it's too late now. George has already read Catcher in the Rye." What to do.

"I wish I had kept a closer eye on my son. I let him read Hemingway's, The Sun Also Rises when he was 15 years old and the next thing he was reading Malamud's, The Fixer," Eckstrom said.

"Where do you find out what books are bad for children's minds?" Linda wanted to know.

"There are organizations all over the country that will supply you with lists", I said. "We get our guidance from a couple who censor books in Texas."

"What's George reading now?" Reilly asked.

Linda said "Voltaire's Candide."

"I hate to tell you this", Francis said, "but you have a very sick kid on your hands."

So with all due respect to Mr. Buchwald, may this epistle take care of the reading ability of your teenager.

CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH SCIENCES

There is one subject that arouses interest in all segments of society and in almost all ages. That's toxic substances and how they may possibly harm our health. For much of the country, you can date this interest from the New York State problem of "Love Canal." For Michigan, the intensified interest dates most generally from 1974 and the PBB episode. Regardless of what it may have taken to spark public concern, the interest is there. In response to that interest, and to make sure there is some one place to which the public can turn when they perceive something may be wrong with their environment, our department has created a new unit within it that we hope will be an answer to this need. We call it the Center for Environmental Health Sciences.

We wanted to create a place that would be highly visible where you, the public, and local governments could go with your environmental health hazard concerns. If for some reason you are worried about possible contamination of the water or air around you, we encourage you to bring that concern to our CEHS. We guarantee you'll get a hearing. If we are not the proper people to help with your problem, we'll help you get to the people who can help you. One of the most important functions of the CEHS will be to coordinate among key environmental activities in the state, not just those within our own department, but those of the other state and federal agencies and service groups which share responsibility for public health protection through the regulation of chemicals. So in the future don't hesitate and wonder which agency you should contact when you have what appears to be an environmental problem you fear could affect your health and that of your family. Call our Center for Environmental Health Sciences at 517/378-8060. The center is at present directed by John Hesse.

Legislative Update

Mary Keith Ballantine
23rd District

State Income Tax Increase - A temporary emergency surcharge will be added to Michigan's state income tax, hiking the rate from 4.6 percent to 5.6 percent until September 30. The tax increase, retroactive to April 1, 1982, was passed by the House (56-50) and the Senate (22-15), to balance this year's budget.

Michigan Fitness and Health Week - Gov. Milliken has proclaimed May 16-22 as Michigan Fitness and Health Week. As part of the observance, Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant will host a President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports regional fitness and sports clinic May 21-22. The clinic, open to the public, is one of only two to be held in the United States this year. Stay fit and be active!

New License Plates - Michigan's drivers will have a choice when their current license plates expire. There are three different procedures to choose from. First, you can simply get a new 1983 tab for the current plate. Or, you can purchase a brand new 1983 plate that will be valid for two years. Or, if you want to plan ahead, you can buy a new 1983 plate that will be good for five years. The new plates, which are already on many cars, are ocean blue with white letters and numbers. Take your pick and drive carefully!

1982 Country Carousel - The Michigan Department of Agriculture has printed its tenth edition of "Country Carousel." It is just the guide you need for roadside fruit and vegetable stands, pick-your-own farms, and Michigan wineries. The booklet, which fits neatly in your glove compartment, is available at branch AAA offices, highway travel information centers, or by writing to: Communications Office, Michigan Dept. of Agriculture, P.O. Box 39017, Lansing, MI 48909. Information included for each listing are directions, available products, dates and hours of operation.

Detroit Grand Prix - The streets of the City of Detroit will be filled with Formula One cars that will vie in the first annual Detroit Grand Prix, June 6. Grandstand tickets are available by calling 313/259-7749, or by sending in coupons appearing in Detroit area newspapers. Practice runs through the streets of Detroit will be held on Friday, June 4 and Saturday, June 5. The 175-mile, 70-lap event on Sunday will take racers past Cobo Hall, Renaissance Center, Joe Louis Arena, and along the Detroit riverfront.

News Of Good Things Growing

Bedding plants are some of the most colorful good things growing in Michigan, and last year our state produced 6,428,000 flats. More than three-fourths of them were flowering plants to add brilliant hues to gardens and lawns all across Michigan. Combined, the flowering and vegetable bedding plants were worth more than $28 million last year, nearly half the total $54.5 million wholesale value of Michigan floriculture, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Michigan continues to rank second among the states in bedding plant production, and fifth in floriculture, which includes chrysanthemums, hybrid tea and sweetheart roses, and a variety of other cut and potted flowers. Last year, Michigan growers produced 6,765,000 pots of geraniums, enough to brighten a great many patios, planters, balconies and gardens.

Right now is a particularly delightful time to visit your city farmers' market or a roadside stand so you can feast your eyes on the remarkable riot of color. Each year it seems the growers bring forth new varieties or new colors of old favorites to compete for your attention. The same is true of vegetable plants, and isn't it nice to have someone else worry the seeds into sturdy, healthy seedlings ready for your home garden. I wonder, sometimes, how many tons of tomatoes, how many bushels of green beans, sweet peppers, how many cabbages are harvested in backyard gardens from those flats of bedding plants.

If you're short on garden space, consider hanging baskets filled with cherry tomatoes for a sunny spot; cucumbers in large pots on the patio, with a trellis for them to climb. Leaf lettuce could border your flower beds, and a tub of green peppers trained on wire will provide a shiny green accent among the flowers. Imagination, plenty of sunlight, good drainage, and judicious watering can provide a generous crop of vegetables for your dinner table.

For the location of roadside or city farmers' markets near you, send for your free copy of the 1982 Michigan Country Carouse!, which lists more than 1,000 pick-your-own farms and roadside markets. Write Communications Office, Michigan Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 39017, Lansing, Michigan 48909.

DuRussel taking the 120 high hurdles in 17.6 seconds, Don Hagerman crossing first in 10.8 in the 100 dash, we then captured the 800 relay and Joe Achtenberg took the mile in 5 minutes flat. Don Hagerman took the 220 dash but unfortunately Whitmore Lake won the other 5 runs to win. Our girls fell also by the score of 78-45. Kari Agin was her excellent self as she won the 4 events she was entered in: 100m hurdles in 15.8, 100m dash in 13.2, 200m hurdles in 30.5 and the 200m dash in 27 seconds flat. Our other first placer was Missy Walkow as she cleared 4'8" in the high jump.

On Wednesday, our boys and girls played baseball in Hudson but I have no news on what happened. Also I have no stats for our boys and girls runners at Addison on Thursday. I did go to our JV boys baseballers as they squared off against Summerfield. They did lead 4:2 after about 3 but we rallied for 3 to lead 5-4. Bruce Rhee kept pitching us out of danger as we held on to win 6-5. The pictures this week are of our JV boys.

Again I have no information on the boys and girls baseball contests as they hosted Ousted-except-I did go to the boys game and we were nipped 3-1 and at our girls game we were downed 6-3.

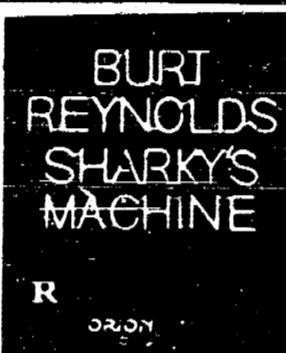

by Jon Hardenbergh

Starting out on Monday past we see our Varsity Boys Baseball squad taking on Clinton. It turned out to be another heartbreaker as the Skins won 3-2. Both teams scored one in the first and it remained this way until Clinton's sixth where they talked twice. Clinton then escaped our seventh where we loaded the bases with one out but crossed home only once. Having 2 or more hits: Mark Ball and Randy Day.

Tuesday was track day as our girls hosted Willow Run and our boys traveled to Whitmore Lake. At Whitmore Lake our boys ran tough but fell short 81-51. Don Hagerman got us going in good shape by sweeping both the shot and discus. The Trojans won the next 3 events but we bounced back winning 4 with Jim

During recent budget negotiations, many plans have been proposed by both Democrats and Republicans to attempt to reduce the federal deficit projected for the coming year. Included in some discussions has been talk of delaying or eliminating the 7.4 percent cost-of-living increase scheduled to be given to Social Security recipients starting in July.

It would be unfair to ask the elderly to accept reductions in benefits they have been counting on. They have contributed their hard-earned dollars to the system and the federal government now has a responsibility to provide some measure of economic security for them. It would be discomfiting to the American government to strip the elderly of money that they have been expecting, particularly without more advanced notice.

A look at some statistics helps to show how crucial the scheduled cost-of-living increase is. Ninety percent of all elderly Americans rely on Social Security benefits for all or part of their income. For millions of people the cost-of-living increase is the only means of enabling them to remain above poverty level.

The poverty rate among elderly Americans is the highest of any adult age group and is escalating dramatically. The average Social Security benefit is $365 per month for a retired worker and $643 per month for a retired couple. In 1980, over 50 percent of persons age 65 and older had incomes below $5,000. And elderly spend a larger proportion of their income for food, fuel, medical expenses and utilities.

As a nation, we cannot afford to turn our backs on senior citizens and leave them out in the cold.

President Reagan has formed a National Commission on Social Security Reform to seek solutions to the financial problems of the Social Security program. The commission is expected to report its findings and announce its recommendations by the end of this year. I believe Congress and the President should wait until the commission makes its findings and recommendations known before making any blind moves.

Better Speech And Hearing Month

The middle and junior high students should be well on their way to mastering the speech and language skills of the adult. The caseload of the speech and language pathologist at this school level is usually smaller than at the elementary school. This is due in part to emphasis on early diagnosis and treatment of speech and language problems.

Some children at this level may still have persistent articulation problems (usually with r, and l). These children may be enrolled on a regular basis each week, or may be seen at intervals throughout the year as determined by individual need.

The child who is exhibiting signs of vocal abuse is mature enough at this level to benefit from direct voice therapy. This therapy stresses proper vocal hygiene and teaches the child to take responsibility for developing correct vocal habits.

The middle school child who is non-fluent (stuttering) can be taught any one of several different methods to achieve more fluent speech. A program is selected and developed which meets the individual needs of the child.

The effects of early age hearing and/or language problems may still be evident at this time. These students will often show lags in the ability to express themselves adequately. Not only are the effects noted in listening and speaking skills, but also in reading and in written language. When necessary, the child can be taught to develop strengths which will help to

The middle and junior high students should be well on their way to mastering the speech and language skills of the adult. The caseload of the speech and language pathologist at this school level is usually smaller than at the elementary school. This is due in part to emphasis on early diagnosis and treatment of speech and language problems.

Some children at this level may still have persistent articulation problems (usually with r, and l). These children may be enrolled on a regular basis each week, or may be seen at intervals throughout the year as determined by individual need.

The child who is exhibiting signs of vocal abuse is mature enough at this level to benefit from direct voice therapy. This therapy stresses proper vocal hygiene and teaches the child to take responsibility for developing correct vocal habits.

The middle school child who is non-fluent (stuttering) can be taught any one of several different methods to achieve more fluent speech. A program is selected and developed which meets the individual needs of the child.

The effects of early age hearing and/or language problems may still be evident at this time. These students will often show lags in the ability to express themselves adequately. Not only are the effects noted in listening and speaking skills, but also in reading and in written language. When necessary, the child can be taught to develop strengths which will help to

Freedom Gang 4-H

The May meeting of the Freedom Gang 4-H Club was held at Tracy Stengel's home on May 1, 1982. Before the meeting we reviewed what everyone received at Spring Achievement. The results were:

In the Young Division, Tracy Stengel, Laura Meade, Brenda Nimke, Alicia Haeussler, Dawn Leach, Karen Haeussler, Teri Blumenaur, Trisha Horning and Kara Cox received blue ribbons. Amy Cole received a red ribbon. Anne Tuveson received a purple ribbon and placed in the top ten young models.

In the Junior Division, Jennifer Haeussler received a red ribbon and Karen Tuveson received a purple ribbon and top model.

In the Senior Division Beth Meade received a blue ribbon and placed in the top ten models. Anne Mazurek received a purple ribbon.

We discussed the upcoming fair, July 27-30, what everyone will be taking and that the 4-H program is still in need of

Injunction Sought To Stop Income Tax

A court injunction preventing collection of the recently-passed income tax increase will be sought by one of the Legislature's stiffest opponents of the tax, State Senator Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo).

Welborn said in a speech on the Senate floor this morning that he found the 22% rise in the income tax unconstitutional on several grounds. The tax was sought by Milliken and the Legislature's leaders to prevent a threatened across-the-board downgrading of the state's credit rating which occurred Wednesday morning.

The veteran lawmaker, who fought and voted against the regressive tax increase five times, warned that investors were seeking a balanced budget through sound fiscal management, "rather than just another tax increase."

"I would say Moody's dropped our bond rating because we increased the taxes on the people of this state. Effectively, when we increase taxes on people, we take away job opportunities. Michigan is going to have a tougher time surviving and getting its people back to work," Welborn told his colleagues in the Senate.

Welborn said that when the Legislature changed the direction of the bill from one that would grant property tax relief to increasing the income tax from 4.6 to 5.6 percent, it violated the Michigan Constitution.

Welborn, who has consistently voted against any tax increase, also maintains the tax violates the constitutional prohibition against an ex post facto law. The measure sent to Governor Milliken on May 11 imposes the tax retroactively to April 1.

Welborn said, "Rather than pass the tax, I would have cut government spending. Everyone knows there are two ways to balance the budget. One is to increase taxes. The other is to live within our means. I submit to you that the Legislature and the Governor took the easy way out by passing the tax increase, rather than going in and making the tough, hard decision of cutting the budget," he said.

Macomber Barn Fire Damage Estimated At $175,000

The loss resulting from a fire Tuesday night which caused extensive damage to the George Macomber dairy farm operation has been set at $175,000 according to Manchester Fire Chief Jim Kensler.

Three barns were destroyed in the blaze and a silo damaged. Twenty-five head of cattle including a prize bull were also lost. Milking equipment plus an automatic manure spreader and a feed conveyor also went up in smoke. Two thirds of the losses are covered by insurance.

Neighbors have been helping the Macombers to clean up the debris. Plans are under way to start rebuilding next week.

Kensler said the blaze erupted in one of the 60 by 30 foot barns after a spark from a four-wheel Bobcat (a miniature tractor) ignited some hay in the barn.

Firefighters from seven departments battled the blaze for three hours until they got it under control.

Two firefighters from the Manchester Fire Department were hospitalized for smoke inhalation and heat. Brad Roberts was treated and released Wednesday. Don Smith, who was in the hospital's intensive care unit was released Saturday morning but will not be able to return to work until sometime next month.

HIT OR MISS by farley

I have always been told that native ingenuity was to blame for the success of the people of this country but during late years we have begun to wonder what had become of that quality. We seemed to be losing ground in so many fields—automotive, electronic, and several others. But the other day we read one tale and were told a story that made us wonder.

A friend of ours told us, the other day, a tale that, it seems to us, proves that the ingenuity of the age group that will soon control the destinies of our nation is very much alive and well. It seems that her neighbor has a daughter who is enrolled in college not far away, came home to spend the weekend and Sunday evening she prepared to return to school.

She was to be picked up by a schoolmate to ride back to school with her and when she saw her friend drive up in front of her home she started for the door, then turned to her mother and said "Mom do you have any aluminum foil in the kitchen?"

"Why, yes" replied her mother, "what in the world do you want that for?"

"Well", replied the daughter, "I suppose I'll have to explain, won't I? You see we are forbidden to cook anything in the dorms. All we can have are soft drinks and popcorn and we like to sit around in groups at night, share our homework and discuss the important things of life such as boys, etc., and while so doing we get very, very hungry, so one of us goes down to the party store and gets a carton of Coke, a pound of process cheese and some butter and bread. Then we bring them back to the dorm and make sandwiches of the bread and cheese and then carefully wrap it in the foil. Then we take an electric iron, heat it and place on our ironing board the heat

News From Your Fair Board

The Fair Board continues to work on reducing expenses in order to keep the Manchester Fair alive. Working within a budget that has been reduced considerably, all members are using imagination and innovation to make Manchester's 1982 fair the best it can be.

Premiums were reduced for the large tractor pull and the float contest, as well as the reductions in other areas that were discussed earlier in the year. Entry fees for the large tractors will remain the same however.

The Queen's contest will be handled by Carolyn Sauter and Eunice Scully. Thank you both! Kids' Field Day will be directed by Boy Scout Troop 426.

There are now several openings on the Fair Board. Any interested community members are welcome to attend meetings and become involved in your fair.

The next meeting of the Fair Board will be June 14 at 8:00 p.m. in the Fair Office.

Board Of Education Trims Bond Issue

At the annual school election scheduled for June 14, 1982 voters will be asked to decide whether or not the school district should sell bonds totalling approximately 1.4 million dollars for the purpose of renovating and improving existing school buildings.

When first presented to the voters in June, 1981 the issue totaled approximately 2.2 million dollars. Since that time the Board of Education and administration have worked to reduce the size of the project.

Elements of the project which have been eliminated include the following: bus maintenance garage, athletic field improvements, Middle School connecting hallway, athletic field site acquisition, Klager administration offices plus several smaller components.

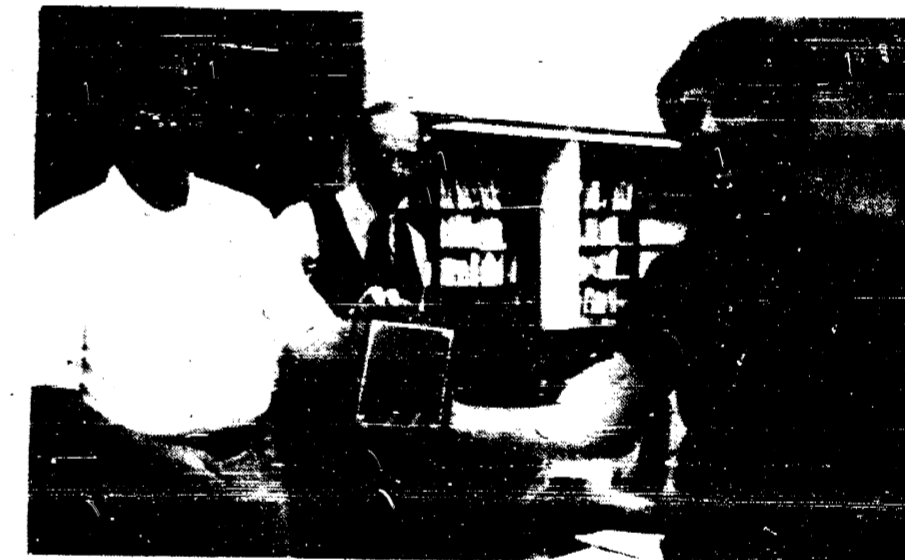

Depending upon the interest rate at the time bonds would be sold it is anticipated that the cost to individual property owners will be between 2.0 and 2.5 mills in the first year of debt retirement. As the state equalized valuation of the school district changes reductions in this cost are anticipated. It is anticipated that the total debt retirement period would be approximately 20 years.

With a total debt retirement of less than 1 mill the Manchester Community Schools are by far the lowest taxing school district in Washtenaw County. This low rate of debt retirement has forced the administration and Board of Education to fund major maintenance projects out of general fund expenditures. This process has necessitated removing dollars from the instructional program. Much of the work slated under this project falls into the category of roofing, heating, and energy conservation. At the high school alone, heating system improvement costs total almost $200,000. These improvements would provide for a uniform heating system throughout the entire building.

A general information session for information about the bond issue has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 2 at 8:00 p.m. in the High School Study Auditorium.

Mr. William Symons, a teacher at the Manchester Middle School has been recognized by the Manchester Community Schools as the Teacher of the Year. Nominated by his principal for outstanding work not only in working with students and providing leadership to the building but also for the development of a micro-computer program Symons was recognized at the regular Board of Education meeting on Monday, May 17.

Criteria used in the selection process were professionalism, leadership skills, teacher/student relationship and enthusiasm.

As part of the award Symons was presented with a plaque recognizing his achievement and was awarded a $100.00 stipend to be used for the purchase of curriculum materials.

A resident of Milan, Mr. Symons has spent significant numbers of extra hours working to develop programs in the Manchester Schools.

Board member Paul DuFresne in extending his congratulations to Symons commented, "We hope this award will become an annual tradition in the Manchester Schools. Bill Symons has established a criteria of excellence for all school employees."

MEMORIAL DAY

IN HONOR OF THOSE WHO DIED

Don't forget the Memorial Day parade on May 31, 1982 at 9:00 a.m. in honor of those who have served our country. The parade begins at the Main Street Bridge and continues to Wurster Park and the cemetery for further services. Our guest speaker at the Cemetery will be the Rev. Stanley C. McKenzie, a member of Emil Jacob Post #117 now living in Lansing.

At 2:00 p.m. the Legion will be holding its second annual Pig Roast. ALL Manchester area veterans and their families are invited to attend. Please bring your table service, and a dish to pass to supplement the delicious roasted pork. Come early and stay late! We are hoping for a great turnout again this year.
