

Capac Defeats Dutch

Running Back Carl Wiedmayer

by Jon Hardenbergh

Into every life a little rain must fall... well, the rain that fell Friday was in the form of Chiefs, yes, Capac Chiefs and they used size and speed to hand us our first loss of the season.

We took the pigskin on our own 17 yard line and proceeded to march right down the field only to have the Chiefs brickwall us on their 12 yard line and take possession. Unfortunately they did likewise but they scored and soon after tallied again, 13-0. Then with time running out in the opening half Capac threw a 34 yarder and it bounced around then fell in a Chiefsians hands for six. This left us 19 points short after 2 quarters of play.

In my opinion the entire complexion of the contest changed after we took the opening drive to their 12 yard line but couldn't move further.

We did do better in the second half as we actually outscored Capac 14-12 but this left the final tally 31 to 14.

We did have a good rushing attack as Dave Rodriguez motored for 93 yards, Carl Wiedmayer zoomed for 91 while Jim Krzyzaniak ploughed for 88 yards.

We now travel to Wildeat country to play a tough Onsted squad. Onsted is 2-1 on the season losing Friday 6-0 to Clinton.

Although the J.V.'s lost Thursday 6-0 I felt they played well especially on defense. Whenever you lose by only a few to a bigger school like Chelsea it should be a moral victory.

United Way Campaign Launched

Seventy-five enthusiastic United Way campaign volunteers gathered at a dinner meeting last Wednesday at the Emanuel Church of Christ Fellowship Hall to receive their final instructions for the campaign which continues through the month of October to raise $30,358.00 in support of 36 local, county, state and national health and community organizations.

The dinner was sponsored by the Manchester and Pleasant Lake branches of the National Bank of Jackson, Jack Zaborowski, Manager, as a plus contribution and was served by members of the Emanuel Womens Fellowship.

Following the pledge of allegiance to the flag by the audience and the invocation message by Reverend Robert Macfarlane, Pastor, Emanuel United Church of Christ, Clarence Fielder, President of Manchester's United Way welcomed the volunteers and guests.

Special recognition and thanks were extended to Mrs. Rosemary Hamilton who submitted this year's winning campaign slogan "REACH IN-THAT WE MAY REACH OUT".

The audience was entertained by the Emanuel Bell Choir under the direction of Anthony Gaines with a rendition of

Manchester Schools Free Of Asbestos

A recent inspection of the Manchester Schools for evidence of loose asbestos indicated that schools were free of the substance in all student areas.

Samples were taken throughout the buildings of all suspected loose fiber materials. Laboratory analysis has reported that the school district is free of asbestos fiber throughout student areas. "We did identify a small amount of loose asbestos in one of the boiler rooms," said Superintendent Eugene Thompson. "No students were ever in these areas. The problem was very minor and has now been corrected according to the guideline of the State Department of Education. I am pleased that we are able to announce to parents that no asbestos hazard exists in any of our schools."

"Ring of the Bells"

Anne Ballew, Executive Director, Hospice of Washtenaw, was the featured speaker. Hospice is now a participating agency of Manchester United Way. Mrs. Ballew outlined the agency's program of assistance to the terminally ill and stressed the importance of services by volunteers to the Hospice program.

Campaign Chairman, Dr. Glenn C. Lehr, Jr., introduced the campaign Division Chairmen who in turn introduced their captains and teams of solicitors. Dr. Lehr emphasized the big challenge facing the drive this year. With the addition of a new agency, Hospice, and the prevailing unsettled economic conditions he stressed the importance of contacting all of our citizens early in October and encouraging those who can to increase their contributions of past years. He expressed confidence that this year's campaign team will again "go over the top" as has been the history of Manchester citizens for the past 22 years.

Phyllis Baker, a dedicated supporter of United Way, former Board member, past president and secretary and 1984 campaign Chairman, counseled the campaign volunteers with a detailed explanation of campaign procedures and a review of the solicitors kits and supplies.

T.V. Ludwick, United Way Board member and Secretary, was accorded special recognition and thanks from the volunteers for her untiring contributions of her time and talents to the United Way program throughout the years.

The dinner meeting committee, Board members Sue Hamilton, Diana Macfarlane and T.V. Ludwick handled the many and detailed arrangements. Dr. Lamont Okey, Board member, and Mrs. Okey were the evenings host and hostess. Mary Blossom and her 4th grade pupils designed and prepared the background banner. Alber Orchards donated the cider and the Flower Garden donated the table decorations of potted flowers and floral arrangements. The Manchester Enterprise printed and contributed the programs.

Manchester's United Way volunteer campaign team is now ready and anxious to contact every citizen in the Manchester area with the message "REACH IN-THAT WE MAY REACH OUT".

Community Education

Manchester Community Education in cooperation with Saline Community Hospital will sponsor a CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) course at Manchester High School on Monday, October 18 and Wednesday, October 20. Both sessions are from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. CPR is a combination of artificial respiration and artificial circulation which should be used when a cardiac arrest or certain other emergencies occur. Students will learn proper procedures for dealing with emergencies and helping to save a persons life. Both sessions are required. There is no charge to attend this course. If you have not registered and wish to do so, please call the Community Education Office at 428-7804 prior to the class starting date. Final enrollment will determine the number of instructors and student handbooks needed. Don't put it off, this is an excellent opportunity to learn this life saving skill.

S.A.A.C. Presentation To Be Held

The Manchester Substance Abuse Awareness Committee will hold their first fall presentation on Thursday, October 7th at 8:00 p.m. in the Middle School Gymnasium.

Mr. Ron Harrison will moderate an informative discussion with the parents and young people involved in the Dawn Farm project. Dawn Farm is a drug rehabilitation center near Ypsilanti.

We hope to see you there. For further information contact Brian Schick at 428-7442 or Bill Zesnyuk at 428-7877.

"Toys Past and Present"

This 18" x 24" Christmas Miniature Tin Village was handmade by Mr. Louis A. Kuebler, a master tinner, for his children Bertha Kuebler Huber, William, Minnie, Herman and Hilda Kuebler Kappler, well before the turn of the century, perhaps after the birth of the first child, Bertha, in 1887, or 1900.

Herman, now 89 years old lives in Saline, told me the story of the little Christmas Village his parents would decorate during the Christmas season, and one part of the story has never left his memory. Herman said his father told the children "to leave the little gate open, so the Angels could go in and out at night," and now nearly a century later, the little gate remains open, guarded by Angels.

Louis A. Kuebler came from Stuttgart, Germany in 1858 to Chicago, Illinois with his brother. The brother, August went to Atlanta, Georgia and Louis came to Ann Arbor, then to Manchester. He married Barbara Kalmbach, born in Wurtenberg, Germany, who came to the United States with her parents at age two, went to Pennsylvania, but then to Manchester. Louis started his tinning business in Manchester in 1895 and was known as "Tinner Kuebler".

Son, Herman went into the business with his father in 1910 at age 17. The shop was located where the Parr Electric is now.

The Village had been stored in the attic of the original Kuebler home on Furnace Street and was re-discovered at the household sale of the late Hilda K. Kappler in May 1980. It was suggested to Herman, rather than selling the village, would he give it to the Manchester Historical Society to which he gladly agreed.

The Village has been repaired, cleaned and painted, same as the original. The cone shape in the center, once held a live Christmas tree, kept fresh by water held in the cone, which is now rusted out - so a 20th century plastic tree must be substituted.

Isn't it fun to imagine the beautiful tiny antique village miniatures that once upon a time made the Kuebler children happy? Now, in 1982 the village has the 1950's style.

Thank you Herman for giving the children (and adults) a part of a Christmas of long ago. Merry Christmas Herman, 1982, from your friends in Manchester.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor of the Manchester Enterprise:

The warmth and generosity of the residents of Manchester were most evident at the recent Manchester United Way Campaign Kick-off. There is a recognition that community needs are stronger and more urgent than ever.

Manchester United Way campaign volunteers are dedicated to raising the funds necessary to assist the young, the old, the ill and the troubled residents of the community.

People are enthused about meeting this year's Campaign Goal. There will be an opportunity for everyone to help meet the challenge of enhancing the community and improving the quality of life.

With understanding and a generous response to this year's campaign slogan "Reach In ... That We May Reach Out," this will be the most successful campaign ever.

Teacher Presents Program At State Conference

Yvonne Henry, a first grade teacher at Klager Elementary, was recently selected to present the program she uses in her classroom to the Annual Career Education Conference sponsored by the Michigan Association for Career Education.

The conference held during the middle of September attracted educators interested in career education from across the state. MACE is dedicated to advancing career education in the public education systems in Michigan.

Ms. Henry's program demonstrated to teachers how she combines career education activities along with basic skill education in her classroom. Her belief is that early career development concepts have an impact on student's later decisions regarding personal needs, life style and career plans. She believes that schools have an obligation to assist young people in their career development and to provide appropriate career education experiences.

Dr. Eugene Thompson, School Superintendent, in commenting regarding Ms. Henry's program stated that, "The selection by this state conference of Yvonne's program for presentation is further evidence that the Manchester Schools are being recognized for the excellence of our programs. Ms. Henry has done an outstanding job of providing career education opportunities for her first graders. We were very pleased that her efforts were recognized. I am personally very proud of the work she does in the classroom and am pleased that she along with many other Manchester teachers are being recognized as leaders in Michigan education."

Fifth Grade Band Recruitment Impressive

Mrs. Wanlass and part of her fifth grade band

If numbers or percentages of students participating in our band program are reliable indicators of building a solid program the middle school is off to a banner year.

Mrs. Lynette Wanlass, Band Director, reports that sixty-five (65) students are currently involved in her fifth grade program. This is a staggering figure when one realizes that there are only eight-two (82) students in the entire fifth grade. This means that 79% of our fifth graders are members of the band.

In the sixth grade area thirty (30) students are currently enrolled in our program. With a total of eighty-one (81) sixth graders, this indicates a 37% rate of student involvement.

The seventh-eighth grade program consists of fifty (50) participants. Thirty-nine (39) of which are seventh graders. With a combined enrollment of 198 students in the seventh and eighth grades, such figures would indicate a 25% rate of student participation.

Mr. Brian Schick, Middle School Principal, impressed with the direction in which the band program is apparently heading would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Mrs. Wanlass on her recruiting efforts.

HIT or MISS

BY FARLEY

We have a large manila envelope into which we put clippings from here and there which we hope to share with our readers at some future date and this envelope we get out now and then to delve through and find something appropriate for this column.

Today we came up with a clipping from a column which appeared in The Bulletin published by the Great Lakes Carriers Association.

I have always found this small magazine most interesting which tells of all of the personnel of the ships and the shore installations which are associated with the Great Lakes. These folks live in a world of their own, one which we "landlubbers" seldom come in contact with; one which we find most interesting.

The following column appeared in The Bulletin for June 1980, but which surely is as timely now as then:

"Did you ever reflect that one of the most complimentary things you can say about a man is that he has a mind of his own? In these days when radio commentators, newspaper columnists and magazine writers serve up ready-made opinions so conveniently and so often, it's much easier to repeat something we've heard than to analyze what we hear and read and form our own opinions.

"A man's mental 'muscles,' like the muscles of his arms, grow with use. Every day we have scores of opportunities, in discussions with shipmates or in the privacy of our own reflection, to give our minds exercise in forming independent judgements. It's easy to side with the crowd, but if our opinion on some subject, even though a minority opinion, represents our best thinking, we ought to express it.

Emerson, the great philosopher, once said, 'Great is he who in the midst of the crowd can keep the sweet independence of solitude.'

"Thinking is hard work. Most people avoid it and 'parrot' the opinions of others. There are many glib views expressed these days by people with radical ideas - ideas out of focus with facts. Your opinion and mine are worth as much as the next fellow's. Let's grow in our own self-respect and in the respect of others by doing our own thinking, after weighing all we hear, see and read, and by having the courage to speak up and voice our opinion."

This little tale should perhaps be titled "Life Is Like That":

A friend reports that a little French poodle in a nearby yard was drawing a lot of eager attention from a small Manchester Terrier and a large dog of doubtful parentage.

The larger dog evidently had street sense and started digging his way under the fence. It was hard going and every once in a while he'd leave his task for activity elsewhere.

He made the mistake however, of leaving after it was large enough for the Manchester Terrier to squeeze through and when he returned the Manchester Terrier was in the yard cavorting with the poodle. The frustrated dog pawed at the hole tentatively but then thought better and left.

State Representative Roy Smith, pictured above with Jim Meranuck and Harry Krauss, was in town Saturday to introduce himself to area residents. On Monday he visited the Manchester High School Government class of John Korican and explained government procedures to the students.

Equestrian Team Competes In Second Meet

The Manchester Equestrian Team competed in its second meet of the season Sunday, October 3rd at the Danny Thomas Arena in South Lyon. The Manchester Equestrian Team had quite a disheartening day plagued with absenteeism and injuries to two of the teams member's horses. The team had eight of its nine members participating. Jennifer England, who was high point performer at the last meet was unable to participate fully due to lameness with her horse. Vonda Lucas's horse also turned up lame but she was able to find another mount on short notice. The team placed fifth out of the five teams competing scoring a total of 17 points. The team was up against extremely tough and experienced competition from the following schools: South Lyon, Milford, Clarkston, and Belleville. All of these schools had large teams consisting of 19 members each while Manchester only had eight of its members participating.

Evangelist To Speak At North Sharon Church

On Monday, October 18 through Sunday, October 24, 7:00 p.m. each night and 10:00 a.m. Sunday morning a world renowned evangelist, Dr. Hyman Appelman will preach at North Sharon Bible Church.

From coast to coast in every one of our United States, and from nation to nation on every continent of our world, for 52 years large throngs have thrilled to the proclamation of the Gospel by Evangelist Hyman Appelman. In 1914, Dr. Appelman, a 12 year old Jewish boy migrated from his native Russia to the United States with a dream to become educated and build a successful career. He became an attorney and professor, but as he started to make his mark in his chosen fields the Lord had other plans for him. He became a Christian in 1925 and within 5 years began to preach the gospel. He has since preached to millions on every continent and in most countries of the world. Everywhere he has challenged the hearts of people with the message of Salvation. Today in his 80's, Dr. Hyman Appelman is still about his Father's business - the fire still burns the ability still seethes. "I must be about my Father's business."

Don't miss this great man of God, at North Sharon Bible Church, October 18-24, 7 p.m. nightly and Sunday at 10:00 a.m.

Our Revival Meetings will conclude with our annual ROUND UP Sunday - on October 24th. A great day is planned with free pumpkins for each boy and girl who come.

Dutchmen Celebrating Homecoming

For the first time since 1960, Manchester High is devoting a week to Homecoming activities. No Homecoming was held last year since there were no fall sports activities scheduled. Friday night the Dutchmen will host the Hudson Tigers in this year's Homecoming contest. At present, both of the teams are undefeated in L.C.A.A. play.

Throughout the week, the Student Council has scheduled activities for the High School. There will be a day devoted to reliving the 50's, a Hat Day, a Punk Rock Day, a day when everyone wears clothing backward, and Friday will be Maroon and Gold Day. On each of these days, points will be awarded to classes for first, second and third places in competition. The week will be capped off with a Friday pep assembly during which there will be several more competitions between classes.

The Homecoming Parade will begin next to the Manchester Township Library on Friday evening at 6:30 p.m. featuring this year's Homecoming Queen contest finalists; several former Homecoming Queens including Lisa Wolf, the most recent Queen; the cheerleading squads; floats from each of the classes; and the High School Band. The theme for this year's floats is nursery rhymes.

During halftime activities, this year's Queen will be crowned, winners of the float competition will be announced and the former Homecoming Queens will be introduced. Following the game, there will be a Homecoming Dance for high school students and their guests at the High School.

News Of Good Things Growing

By Margaret G. McCall
Cauliflower, with its snowy white clusters and deep green leaves, is such a pretty vegetable I have trouble deciding whether to use it as a centerpiece or eat it. Usually, I do both.

It's a smashing centerpiece surrounded by a few other Michigan fall vegetables and fruits. It's equally smashing served raw with your favorite dip - and deliciously low in calories. Or forget the calories and enjoy french-fried cauliflower as an appetizer.

Michigan ranks seventh in cauliflower production among the states, and last year our crop nearly doubled, to 6.2 million pounds worth more than $2.3 million, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Harvest usually begins in Michigan about the first of August and continues to November.

Probably the most familiar cooked cauliflower recipe features a cheese sauce, but there are many other ways to serve this nutritious vegetable. A whole cauliflower cooked until crisp-tender can be covered with buttered bread crumbs, dusted with grated Parmesan cheese, and tucked under the broiler to lightly brown. It's an attractive addition to your dinner table.

Here's another recipe I think you'll enjoy.
Cook one large head of cauliflower until just tender, drain well and chop.

Then, make a medium white sauce, using half chicken broth and half cream for the liquid. Season with salt, pepper and a pinch of nutmeg. Cool slightly, then add three well-beaten eggs.

Fold in the chopped cauliflower (and a half-cup of cooked chopped mushrooms if you like), pour into a well-greased ring mold which has been dusted with dry bread crumbs. Set the mold in a pan of hot water, and bake at 350 degrees for about 45 minutes, until set. Unmold on a warm platter and fill the center with mashed cooked squash, sliced buttered carrots or green peas, for a colorful presentation at table.

Carry On

by Carla Kary Iris

Do you remember the story of the City Mouse and the Country Mouse? It's one of Aesop's fables, a pseudo-sermon on the virtue of self-reliance. I'm not crazy about the story itself, but the images suggested by the title send my thoughts off on a delightful tangent of their own.

Of course, I've been doing a lot of thinking lately about city life versus country life. I'm basically your confirmed city girl transplanted into this delightful rural community. And there are many things I love above living in a small community. The working relationships with the people are refreshingly simple: I like the personal attention and care with which the local librarian, the grocery store cashier, and

Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant "A good friend and neighbor"

Since the years when Indians inhabited the wilds of northern Michigan the Big Rock—they called it Kitchi-ossing—has been an important landmark.

Then, it was the gathering place for spring and fall meetings of Chippewa Indians from all over northern Michigan. Several hundred years later, near the rock-Kitchi-ossing is still there—sits the electric generating plant that pioneered Michigan's nuclear era.

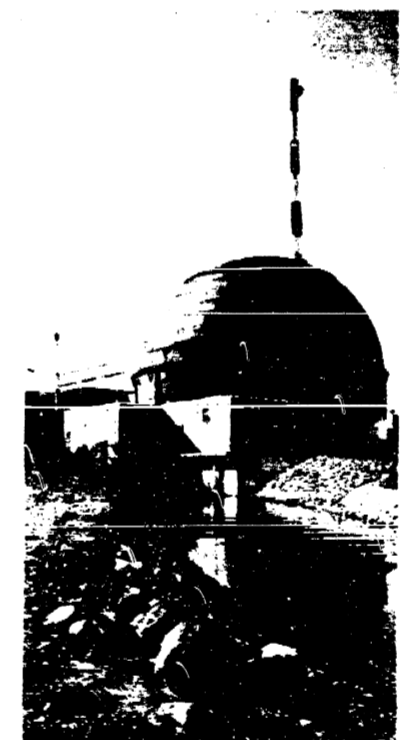

Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant, owned and operated by Consumers Power Company, is celebrating its 20th anniversary this month.

Built on the threshold of a new technology, Big Rock Point was Michigan's first, and the nation's fifth, commercial nuclear power plant. Construction started in 1960, and finished 2½ years later at a cost of nearly $27 million—a bargain by today's standards for any type of generating plant.

In the 20 years that have followed, scientists have watched the nuclear plant with interest. So, too, have the local residents in nearby Charlevoix and Petoskey, many of whom call it a "good friend and neighbor." The plant generates enough electricity to serve 100,000 people annually.

"We like Big Rock," says Josh Barnes, president of Lexalite Corporation, which is located 1,200 yards from the nuclear plant. "If Big Rock were not to operate, we would not be competitive in our marketplace."

The plant has become valuable to local residents in other ways, too. It provides a big boost to the local economy—at least $5 million in 1981 alone through things like payroll purchases, taxes and lodging. The plant employs about 160 people, many of them are involved in area religious, civic and governmental activities.

The plant also has been important scientifically. As only the nation's fifth commercial nuclear plant, its operations have been studied closely. In fact, Consumers Power, General Electric and the former Atomic Energy Commission conducted a research and development program at the plant. The successful program was designed to achieve increased fuel economy and greater electric generating capacity from nuclear power.

In 1977, the nuclear plant set a world record for boiling water reactors by operating 343 consecutive days. Last year, the plant fell five days short of breaking its own record. It generated electricity 91 percent of the time in 1981.

Although 20 years old, Big Rock Point is only halfway through its design lifetime.

the town florist go about doing business. The community spirit is high, and wherever you go you are likely to know someone there. People in the community have a solid sense of responsibility about things that go on here - a commitment to nurturing our children, taking care of our land, and guarding the welfare of our citizens in general.

Then there's the added bonus of the beauty of a well-kept town with easy access to the ever-changing landscape of fields and farms, as the seasons progress and the weather changes. There is always a new wonder of nature to be savored and enjoyed. And with the progression of the seasons comes a progression of harvests, as the opulence of the land and the climate bring to the table giant zucchinis and luscious blueberries.

I enjoy all these blessings. Yet at times I can well quote Erma Bombeck, "Lord, give me the strength to endure my blessings. Such as last week, when a crock of 'working' sauerkraut lent its pungent odor to my entire kitchen-dining area and two pails full of ripening apples brought fruit-flies in from nowhere. (You do know what it means for sauerkraut to be 'working'?) It's a euphemism for 'molding'!"

Now, don't get me wrong. My husband's homemade sauerkraut is wonderful, and like most home-prepared foods, doesn't even bear comparing to its factory-canned counterpart. The end result is, in the long run, worth putting up with the periodic smell in the necessary course of its aging. And in the last couple of weeks we've collaborated on delicious apple pies and homemade applesauce that will be a nutritious addition to our children's diets in the months to come. But there's something about having two pails full of apples commanding me to run to the kitchen and be creatively productive that makes my spirit rebel. And when it was three pails full of pears waiting to be canned, I actually began to lose my appetite for my favorite fruit.

Happily, I've found that I'm not alone in my predicament. A few days ago when I made an emergency trip to the grocery store for more canning lids, I met a friend there and we had a mutual pep-talk about canning tomatoes and zucchini until we couldn't look at a tomato or zucchini without feeling ill, until about February. It sure helps to know that another presumably sane person shares your idiosyncrasy about too much of a good thing. Now all I need is to find another person who can be intimidated and made to feel guilty by a pail full of apples, and survive the experience - conscience intact.

Fortunately, the presence of the pie apples doesn't prevent me from munching on a crunchy, tart red "eating" apple and thoroughly enjoying the treat. Moreover, I can use the sauerkraut crock as an excuse to get out of the house and take a bicycle ride or retreat into my study for an hour or two. And I think I can survive the pumpkin and squash season by making the required number of jack-o'-lanterns for our family and maybe canning some pumpkin for pies.

But I'm beginning to appreciate a comment made to me by a friend a couple of months ago. According to Mary, "A farm wife is always glad to see winter coming on - because she knows that means that there won't be any more food to put up!"

Dutch Overtake Wildcats

Dave Rodriguez picks up good yardage against Onsted
by Jon Hardenbergh

We had some good runs in the first half at Onsted but lacked consistency. I don't know what the coaches said at the intermission but it looked like a different squad in the second half. We hit very hard on defense and rallied back to leave victorious, 14-11.

We took the opening kick-off and moved a little before having to punt. The picture blackened as the pigskin went over the punter's head and rested on our 3 yard line. The Cats ran a play for 1 yard then the picture came back for the Dutch as they fumbled. We did move somewhat but again punted. Onsted did little so fell back to kick but it was a fake resulting in a big grin. Soon they were assaulting our goal line so we stonewalled them. Onsted did settle for a 3 point field goal. Soon after we attempted a 3 pointer but it fell short so we rolled into the second quarter down 3-0. Late in this period the Wildcat's started on their own 34 yard line and got their aerial attack going. One touchdown was averted as we made a very good defensive play but they came right back with a good touchdown pass. A tricky line-up play resulted in the good 2 point conversion so with halftime almost here we stood 11 down.

As I stated earlier we seemed really fired up and soon marched right down the field with Jim Krzyzaniak crossing into the endzone for 6 - the extra point worked at first but a penalty nullified it. The second conversion failed but we'd crept closer, 11-6. The following 10 minutes belonged to the defense with our standouts being Jeff Waters, Ron Melcher, Mike Agin and Jerry Post. Midway, Onsted errored and I felt this is what may do it but we turned it right back. Things were going our way as they fumbled right back. It took us only 4 plays from this point (the 24 yard line) for Pat Ridenour to hit Mark Ball for the go-ahead touchdown. Krzyzaniak got our conversion for us as the scoreboard read 14-11 with some 4 minutes left. Onsted took the ensuing kick and through the air traveled right down the field but with 1:23 Melcher intercepted their throw to seal our win.

On Friday, we host the unbeaten Tigers from Hudson on our Homecoming Night. SEE YOU THERE!!!

INFLUENZA

One of the common diseases we face each winter in Michigan is influenza, or the flu. Flu is a respiratory illness, similar in many ways to a cold, but potentially much more serious. It's caused by a virus and there are two basic types of concern - Type A and Type B.

Both of these viruses change a little every year. When this happens, the antibodies produced by the body to give immunity become less effective. So people who have had last years type of flu may not be protected this year. In addition, about every ten years, virus Type A changes in a major way, creating a brand new strain against which antibodies offer no protection. These new strains cause epidemics and pandemics (world-wide epidemics). There have been three major such outbreaks in this century: The Spanish Flu in 1918; the Asian Flu in 1957; and the Hong Kong Flu in 1968.

Now ordinarily flu is not a life-threatening disease. But there are certain groups of people who face an especially high risk. These include people over age 65 and those with certain chronic diseases such as heart disease, lung disease, or severe anemia. Vaccination is recommended for these people.

A flu vaccine is a killed virus usually grown in a hen's egg. The dose injected is too small to cause illness but the body reacts by producing antibodies. However, vaccines can protect against only two or three viruses - and new ones must be developed constantly. Protection lasts less than a year, so annual vaccinations are necessary. If you're allergic to eggs, consult with your doctor before being vaccinated. Also, you should know that side effects, though rare, can occur - discuss them with your doctor too.

You catch flu directly from people infected who cough or sneeze and propel viruses into the air, or possibly indirectly from objects infected people have handled. To keep your resistance up, eat a balanced diet, get enough sleep, exercise regularly, and avoid stress. This won't guarantee that you won't get flu, but it will help - and if you should get it, symptoms will be less severe.

Voters May Use Absentee Ballots

Secretary of State Richard Austin reminded all registered voters who expect to be absent from their city or township of residence on November 2, election-day, that they may vote by absentee ballot.

Individuals who want absentee ballots mailed to them must apply for the ballots in person or by mail at the office of the city or township clerk where they reside before 2 p.m., Saturday, October 30. Voted ballots must be returned to the clerks by 8 p.m. on Election Day.

Individuals who expect to be absent on Election Day also may vote in person in their city or township clerks office until 4 p.m., Nov. 1.

In addition to being absent when polls are open, anyone 60 years or older or physically unable to vote without assistance is eligible to vote by absentee ballot.

4-H'er Attends Dairy Conference

A Washtenaw County 4-H'er attended the 28th annual National 4-H Dairy Conference September 28-October 1 in Madison, Wisconsin.

Kelly Ann Bristle, 15, of Manchester, was among the 22-member delegation representing Michigan at the four-day educational event.

"The purpose of the conference was to give older 4-H'ers from across the country an opportunity to explore the dairy industry and possible dairy-related careers," said Gale Baumgardner, Michigan 4-H Youth Program dairy specialist.

The conference's keynote speaker was Charlie Plumb, a 4-H alumnus and former Vietnam prisoner of war. Plumb is a noted speaker and journalist and serves as a lieutenant commander of the naval reserves. Bristle, a seven-year 4-H member, belongs to the Towalene Workers and Learn and Save 4-H clubs. She is the daughter of Karen and Stephen E. Bristle.

PAJAMA STORYTIME?????

Each Wednesday, starting October 6, from 7:00 - 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Robert Hamilton of the Manchester Township Library staff will conduct P J storytime at the library for the pre-school children of the area. She will read from favorite children's classics as well as recently purchased best-sellers. This type of activity has been very popular in other communities. Parents and older children are able to browse and read while the younger family members are listening and socializing with their peers. Among the stories chosen thus far are Madeline, Babar, the Dr. Seuss books, Richard Scary books, fairy tales and holiday stories. The children and parents are encouraged to suggest others. Rosemary Hamilton also mentioned that some of the small children might like to bring a special toy or stuffed animal to the P J storytime.

The Halloween decorations at the Library remind patrons of the many ideas for fall celebrations which can be found in our library. The cook books, the game books, magazines, and even children's party books are full of 'recipes' for food and party fun, not only for the young members of the community, but also for the adults.

Council Proceedings

UNAPPROVED MINUTES
MANCHESTER VILLAGE COUNCIL

September 20, 1982

The regular meeting of the Manchester Village Council was called to order by President Hinkley at 7:00 P.M. Present: DuRussel, Kallewaard, Koebbe, Petsch, Reed, Tracy.

Minutes of the September 7, 1982 meeting was read. Moved by Koebbe, supported by DuRussel to approve minutes as read. Motion carried.

Mary Kallewaard said that Manchester Plastics has submitted a site plan for approval and are proposing to put an addition on the north end of the existing structure. The building (120x50 ft.) will be used for storage. They have submitted an application to the Planning Commission and the Planning Commission has recommended approval of the site plan.

Mr. Jonas gave a description of the new structure and he said the Fire Department has requested that Manchester Plastics run a road at the north end of the building so they can get to the back of the building in case of fire.

Tracy moved to approve the site plan as presented from Manchester Plastics, including the road the Fire Department requested. Supported by Reed, motion carried.

A discussion was held on the Main Street project.

Petsch reported on the Parks. Tracy stated that in his opinion, riding with the Manchester Police should be confined to the Auxiliary Police, Explorers and Council Persons. Discussion followed.

Council wanted to check whether the Village Insurance would cover citizens riding with the Police and how many do actually ride. A decision will be made at the next meeting whether citizens can ride with the Police.

Koebbe gave the Public Works report. Koebbe reported that the sewer on Riverside Drive (South of 52) had collapsed causing the sewer to back up into basements. Union Construction submitted a bid of $2300 to $3000 to repair the sewer. Decision will be made next meeting.

Tracy moved to repair the Ford and Chevrolet pick-ups, supported by Petsch. Motion approved. Washtenaw County Development Corporation to attract new business.

Kallewaard said Robert Alder has asked to be on the agenda next meeting to talk about the restoration of the railroad.

Zsenyuk reported on the Emergency Warning Service.

Meeting adjourned at 8:42 P.M.
Helen J. Kensler, Village Clerk

Baseball Groundbreaking At Siena Heights

Ground was recently broken at Siena Heights College for the new baseball facility. Located behind the college's tennis courts and the Performing Arts Center, it is hoped the baseball field will be completed for the spring 1983 season.

Phase one of the baseball field will include land grading, sod on the infield, grass seed for the outfield, landscaping, and a sprinkler system. Phase two, planned for the spring, will include a scoreboard, backstop, and dugouts. Total construction costs for the baseball field is estimated at $65,000.

Siena's Athletic Director C. Patrick Palmer is raising donations for the construction of the baseball field, with more than half of the funds already pledged.

The Siena "Saints" previously played baseball at a field in an Adrian city park, located about a mile from campus.

"Construction of this field demonstrates Siena's commitment to improving the college's athletic program," noted Palmer. "Completion of Siena's Activities Center four years ago boosted our basketball program. This field will be a shot in the arm for the college's baseball program too."

Ask The Governor

Question: Instead of cutting education, why doesn't the State lay off more employees to cut costs?

Governor: Michigan has dropped to 40th in the nation in terms of state employees per 10,000 population because of the thousands of state workers we have been forced to lay off. With 128 employees per 10,000 population, we are 11th among the 13 states with populations of 5 million persons or more. These Census Bureau calculations include our college and university employees.

Question: The State keeps cutting back on everything, but I read recently where Michigan gave $425,000 to Battle Creek Township to develop a shopping mall. Where does it get the money?

Governor: The Small Cities program grant to Battle Creek Township is one of several projects which will be funded by $30.5 million in federal funds—previously administered by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and now the responsibility of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

The state took over administration of the economic development program in May and preliminary reports indicate that processing time is shortened and the primary goal of job creation is carried out more efficiently. It had been projected that the funding-jobs ratio of the program would be at a level of about $5,000 per job, but the per-job average has actually been $1,216, extending the funds well beyond original expectations.

The specific grant you referred to—$425,000 for the first stages of a major shopping mall near Battle Creek—will assist development of water and sewer facilities for the $45 million Lakeview Square. It is expected that there will be approximately 800 jobs during construction and an employment of about 1,200 at completion of the project.

Of the total cost of the mall, $40 million is privately financed and about $6 million will come from Calhoun County, in keeping with the private-public sector cooperation typical of Small Cities projects.

Judge Michael F. Cavanagh Seeks Court Term

Judge Michael F. Cavanagh is seeking one of two eight-year terms on the Michigan Supreme Court in the November 2 general election.

Cavanagh, age 42, was nominated to appear on the ballot at the Democratic State Convention held in late August in Flint.

An eight year veteran of the State Court of Appeals, Cavanagh is highly qualified for the Supreme Court position having also served in Municipal government and worked in private practice.

He comes from a long line of political activists including his late older brother, Jerome, who served as mayor of the City of Detroit from 1961-69.

Cavanagh has opened a campaign headquarters located in suite 910 of the Plaza Hotel, 111 S. Capitol, Lansing.

APPLE HAPPY KIDS

Brent Underwood, Kristin Cyers and Steven Duvall

The first and second graders in Mrs. Groeb, Mrs. Little and Ms. Jeffries room have been learning about apples. They culminated their unit with an Apple Feast where they shared apple crisp, applesauce, apple squares and every other possible dish made with apples.

During the unit of study students made apple mobiles, counted seeds in apples, read apple stories, learned to tell the difference between Delicious and Macintosh apples, worked on an apple sequence story, made applesauce in class, and worked in their learning centers on apple tasks. For the Apple Feast, parents sent in their favorite apple recipe. The children are in the process of making a class recipe book as a thank you for their parents. It will be called "Apple-tizing Recipes".

Deterioration Of County Roads

A dramatic illustration of how lack of funds is contributing to deterioration of Michigan's primary county roads is revealed in a new survey just completed by the County Road Association of Michigan.

The survey shows the state's 63 county road commissions, faced with dwindling gas and weight tax revenues, have drastically cut back on resurfacing and basic maintenance programs.

"Severe reductions in recapping and sealcoating on Michigan's 25,980-mile county primary road system mean possible loss of our road bases," according to Earl F. Rogers, engineer-director of the County Road Association.

"Unfortunately, proliferation of potholes and cracked pavements produce added costs for motorists in terms of reduced gas mileage, greater tire wear, and damage to vehicles.

"Our study shows at least 1,350 miles of county primary blacktop roads should be recapped every year just to protect the surface, but lack of funds forced counties to limit recapping to only 522 miles in 1980 and just 256 miles in 1981. Without periodic recapping we risk loss of the surface and road base itself.

"Sealcoating, which protects roads from cracking and deteriorating, should be done on at least 2,250 miles of county primaries every year, but funds are so tight that road commissions could afford to treat only 1,150 miles in 1980 and 890 miles in 1981."

Primary roads are main county arteries over which millions of motorists travel daily to reach freeways or major county communities.

Rogers warned that unless more adequate funds for roads and streets are found soon, the state will face a multi-million dollar cost to rebuild basic road bases.

Noting that the county share of state gas and weight taxes had decreased from $245 million in 1979 to 128 million in 1980 and $217 million in 1981, Rogers said the funding crisis has been crippling to county road administration.

"In addition, lack of funds has caused reductions in equipment replacement and maintenance. Counties normally should spend $28 million annually to keep truck fleets and machinery at standard operating levels but in 1980 they spent only $21 million and that was cut further to just $11 million in 1981."

Rogers noted that local county revenue sources, such as special assessments, township fund-matching, and county appropriations, have steadily increased in recent years but the limit has been reached in ability of local units to shoulder road maintenance costs.

State motor fuel and license plate revenues have shrunk for several years as motorists shifted to lighter, more fuel-efficient vehicles while at the same time costs of road construction and maintenance rose with inflation.

Rogers said the plight of county primary road upkeep is serious but even worse for county secondary roads which have been all but ignored due to fund shortages. Secondary roads serve subdivisions and rural areas, acting as feeders to the primary and state trunkline systems.

Area Morning Fog Creates School Start Up Problems

On several mornings recently thick fog has created severe problems for the transportation department of the Manchester Community Schools. Often fog conditions form just before daybreak. This is approximately the time at which drivers begin to check their buses and prepare for morning runs.

A decision must be made at approximately 7:00 in the morning as to whether or not runs will begin at the normal time. This decision is, of course, based upon visible distance. Department of Education regulations state that school buses must have clear visibility for a minimum of 400 feet in either direction. If in the opinion of the transportation supervisor and the superintendent the safety distance is less than the required space, start up time is delayed for at least one hour. This fact is immediately reported to radio stations WJR, WPAG, WNRS, WAAM and WEMU. If weather conditions look questionable parents should be certain to listen carefully to one of these stations.

Telephone calls either by students or parents to the transportation office serve only to disrupt the necessary communication lines which must be available to the administration. All persons are requested to please refrain from calling the bus garage in order to obtain information regarding start up times. All such information is broadcast by the radio stations.

"I am probably a little more conservative than most superintendents in making the decision about whether or not buses should run in the fog," says Superintendent Eugene Thompson. "I much prefer to delay school just a little bit longer in order to be certain that none of our buses are in extreme danger when they are stopped. We recognize the problems which are created for single and working parents especially but feel that the inconvenience is preferable to the risk of having children injured as the result of poor visibility."

"The Last Epidemic"

On Saturday, at 7 p.m., the film: "The Last Epidemic" will be shown at the Manchester United Methodist Church. This film looks at the issue of Nuclear Weapons. A discussion of the film and the ballot proposal E will follow the film presentation. The meeting is open to anyone from the community.

M.H.S. Students Honored

Scott Hunt
Paul Voytas

Scott Hunt and Paul Voytas, members of Manchester High School's Class of 1983 have been commended in the 1983 National Merit Scholarship Program.

Scott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hunt, 327 Schaffer Court, has been active in extra-curricular activities in High School. He has participated in varsity choir, school plays, wrestling and football, as well as being a member of the National Honor Society for the past two years. He has also been a member of the Student Council for four years. As a Sophomore, Scott was elected Council Treasurer; as a Junior he served as Council President and he is currently Council Vice President. He plans to major in engineering and is considering attending the University of Michigan, Michigan Technological University or the Air Force Academy.

Paul, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Voytas, 17723 Pleasant Lake Road, is a member of the National Honor Society. As a Sophomore, Paul was placed on an academically accelerated program to enable him to enroll in college a year early. As a result, he finished his high school course work at the end of the last school year and is currently enrolled at the University of Michigan as part of the University's Young Scholars Program. He plans to major in physics. By next June Paul will have already completed one year of college but he will return to graduate with his class at Manchester High.

will benefit by the full development of their talents.

The students being commended this month entered the 1983 Merit Scholarship competition by taking the qualifying test in 1981. Commended participants scored high, but slightly below students in their respective states who qualified as Merit Program Semifinalists. Only the 15,000 Semifinalists, who were announced in a national news release on September 16, will receive further consideration for about 5,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded this next spring.

Campaign In High Gear

Manchester's one hundred plus United Way volunteers are out in force, contacting every citizen in the Manchester area, to receive their contributions to this year's campaign. Their goal is $30,358.00 in support of 38 local, county, state and national health and community agencies.

Dr. Lehr's campaign structure includes seven divisions. The divisions, chairpersons and campaign quota are: Business, Harvey LeBeau and Tom Kallewaard, $3,734.00; Industry, Clarence Fielder, $18,214.00; Organizations, Janice Little, $364.00; Outside Business, David Little, $609.00; Rural, Sally Anderson, $4,250.00; Schools, Dr. Eugene Thompson, $1,366.00 and Village, Maryanne Koebbe, $1,821.00.

Most divisions are organized into teams. Members of the Village Division's six teams will be carrying the message "REACH IN - THAT WE MAY REACH OUT" as they solicit contributions from every household in Manchester Village. The teams and captains are: A Robena Boelter; B Kelly Patton; C Brenda Rose; D Connie Schaffer; E Ilene Ball and F Eleanor Ball.

Campaign progress reports are compiled weekly and will be portrayed on the famous chicken thermometer in the display window of Gill's Gamble store. He is anxiously waiting and is ready to have "Something to Crow About."
