HIT or MISS

It's hard to imagine the varied effects that our economic condition has had on various places and things and people one would not connect with such circumstances. For example we read not long ago of the plight of Turkey City, Pa., population 11. Now Turkey City has a post office which is a very peaceful place except shortly before Thanksgiving when several thousand cards and letters arrive to be postmarked there. This year with 20 cents postage, there were very few who cared enough to spend that amount on these letters, so the post office there is suffering from an economic letdown.

And just the other day we had a report from Rudolph, Ohio, saying that if Rudolph depended this year on the holiday mail receipts he wouldn't have enough to buy batteries for his celebrated red nose. Once the small settlement had to put in extra help to help stamp the Rudolph stamp on the thousands of cards and letters that arrived there. Visitors came long distances with trays and packages of mail but last year the total fell to some 200 and this year shows no signs of being any better - if anything, it will be less this year. Important Programs On TV Channels

Father Schlunkert announces six important telecasts of interest to parents. Father's program "With This Ring" features three well-informed guests within the next six Sundays.

This coming Sunday, December 26 and Sunday, January 2, Doctor David Logan of Ann Arbor will be featured. Dr. Logan is a distinguished Psychiatrist who devotes almost all of his practice to the prevention and cure of substance abuse. He offers to send parents, without charge, a questionnaire designed to discover possible substance abuse by their children.

On Sundays, January 9 and 16 the guest will be the founder of the Ann Arbor branch of "Families Anonymous". He will tell parents how, by mutual action, drug abuse can be prevented or treated.

Sundays, January 23 and 30 will bring an unusual guest. Plans are now complete for taping interviews at the White House with the President's adviser on Drugs, Dr. Carlton Turner. Dr. Turner, who came to the White House last year, heads the strong federal campaign to wipe out drug importation and to bolster grass-roots efforts at achieving a drug-free environment.

Manchester viewers will find "With This Ring" by tuning to Channel 2 at 8:45 Sunday morning or Channel 13 at 7:00. Two weeks later the same programs appear on Channel 10 at 7:15 a.m. and Channel 6, 12:45 Sunday night.

Winter 1983 Community Education

The Winter-1983 Community Education brochure will be mailed to Manchester area residents around December 30. Registration will be from January 3 through January 14. Washenaw Community College pre-registration will be held on Wednesday, January 5 from 7-8:00 p.m. in the High School library. Washenaw Community College classes will start on Monday, January 10. Check your college catalog or Community Education brochure for exact times and starting days of classes. Several new and popular classes have been added to the college schedule this winter. The enrichment section has been expanded to include Aerobic dance classes four nights a week plus and after school session that meets twice a week. Please check starting dates for the aerobic classes. These classes start before the scheduled starting date of the week of January 24 when most of the Enrichment and high school completion classes begin. Look for the star next to class listings, this indicates classes that need only a few more NEW registrations to get started. The same policy for cancellation of classes will be the same as in past years. If school is closed during the day, classes will be cancelled at night and made up after the scheduled ending date. Plan now to join one of your Community Education classes with your friends and to make new friends this winter.

Building Renovation Discussed

In a special meeting on Saturday, December 17 the Manchester Board of Education met to review and discuss the status of all facilities and to examine plans for future renovations. Superintendent Gene Thompson reviewed for the Board efforts which have been made to meet emergency problems in heating, roofing, and ventilation systems. He indicated that while immediate emergency problems had been met the facilities remained badly in need of major renovation and that new emergencies would emerge unless plans were developed in the maintenance area. Board members discussed timelines for the development of plans and debated possible means of finance for the required projects. It is anticipated that this topic will be a major concern of the Board for the next several months.

Good Cooking In Manchester

by Lucy Feldkamp

Pinwheel cookies are as appropriate to Christmas as a red flannel suit trimmed with white fur. Both are a little out of the ordinary. Pinwheels served on a plate with an assortment of other cookies look especially elegant and often disappear first. Their looks attract the fingers even though the other cookies may taste as good, which you cannot after all tell until you have actually eaten one. Pinwheels look like they take a little trick and extra time to make, which is true, but the trick is not too hard and the time needed is not so long.

Pinwheels come in a variety of styles, all variations on one technique, rolling out the cookie dough, spreading a filling or another dough on top, and rolling the whole thing up. The dough is then cooled in the refrigerator and later sliced and baked. This is the easy part, the pleasing part, when you can see the curled up pattern in the dough and pride yourself on the beautiful things you are putting in the oven.

Here are two different pinwheel recipes which could appear together on the same cookie tray without clashing, or without one beating the other in either looks or taste.

DATE-NUT PINWHEELS

1/4 cup margarine
 1/2 cup shortening
 1 cup brown sugar
 1 egg
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 1 3/4 cup flour
 1/2 tsp. soda
 1/4 tsp. salt

Mix margarine, shortening, and brown sugar, stir in the egg and vanilla. Blend in the dry ingredients. Divide the dough in two and roll each half out into a 7" x 11" rectangle. Spread with Date-Nut Filling (recipe follows) and roll up tightly from the wide side. Wrap in waxed paper and chill several hours. When ready to bake, preheat oven to 400 degrees and slice dough into 1/4" pieces. Place on a lightly greased cookie tin and bake for 8-10 minutes. The cookies should be very lightly browned.

DATE-NUT FILLING

3/4 lb. (3 cups) chopped, pitted dates
 1/3 cup sugar
 1/3 cup water
 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Mix the dates, sugar, and water in a saucepan, and on medium heat, cook and stir until the filling is thickened. Stir in the nuts. Cool before using.

CHOCOLATE PINWHEELS

1/2 cup margarine
 1/4 cup shortening
 1 cup sugar
 2 eggs
 1 tsp. vanilla
 2 1/2 cups flour
 1 tsp. baking powder
 1 tsp. salt
 2 squares unsweetened baking chocolate, melted

Blend the margarine, shortening, and sugar. Stir in the eggs and vanilla. Add the dry ingredients. Divide the dough in two and add the chocolate to one half. Roll each out on waxed paper until it is about 9" x 12". Here is the tricky part. Flip the chocolate dough onto the white, trying your best to get it to land right on target. If the two doughs do not match perfectly, do not despair, just continue. Roll the two doughs together with a rolling pin. This will help the two stick together. Then roll the dough up from the wide side, wrap in waxed paper, and chill several hours.

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees, slice the dough in 1/4" pieces, and bake on a lightly greased cookie pan for 8-10 minutes.

On Christmas Eve, pinwheels are a diplomatic offering to leave by the fireplace for the wearer of the red flannel suit. You might get something special in return.

But an IRA from IDS is different. I'm not only interested in your IRA, I'm more concerned with how an IRA will fit into your total financial plan. Not just for today, but as part of your total financial plan.

Helpful Hints For Christmas

1. Empty egg cartons make excellent storage boxes for your small tree ornaments.
2. Before children play with new games they receive for Christmas, tape directions inside the lid.
3. Save plastic dry cleaning bags for packing things to be mailed.

The heyday of Rock music passed before many of us were even able to find out what a Garfunkel was.

Dutch Edge Napoleon

Dave Malcolm hit this free toss giving us the 40-36 victory by Jon Hardenbergh

It's just what we needed—a win to close out 1982. Our roundballers had the hard task early this season to face two tough teams so it was a joy to trek into Pirate country with an optimistic feeling.

It really felt good to me to see our squad take the opening tip but as time ticked on I came somewhat concerned. We weren't dropping the ball through the hoop as we've done previously. Fortunately Napoleon was cold in shooting also so we led 8-4 after 1 period. The Pirates seemed to stay right behind and did pop the 2-pointer just at halftime to knot this contest, 16-16.

The scoreboard seemed to point strongly toward us several times but they would rally and close the gap. Napoleon started fighting with some 2 minutes left to pull within 1 point.

They did get control and down the court they came—a pirate gunned from 15 on the right side and in it went. We tossed the sphere out, raced down and passed to Dave Malcolm. Dave went up and missed but it was because he was fouled. Let me set the stage for you—7 seconds left and Napoleon led 39-38 with Dave shooting 2 free throws. Dave calmly swished both to seal our win.

40-38. Dave was also high scorer tonight as he hit for 24 points.
Congratulations go also to our J.V. squad as they posted their first victory.
Our wrestler's weren't so lucky as Dundee left town victorious. We do have a young bunch of grapplers and they need to learn.

AT LAST, A BANK GETS THE BEST OF THE MONEY MARKET FUNDS.

Frankly, we're impressed with the money funds.

So much so that you'll find all their best features in our new, FDIC insured money market account.

It's the newest Cash Investment Service from your First American Bank.

Right off, it's very rate competitive with any money market fund or account on the market. So you know you'll be earning money market rates.

It gives you immediate access to your funds in any amount. So it goes without saying, your money isn't locked up for any set period of time. And, of course, there are no fees or penalties for early withdrawal.

But we also wanted to improve on a good thing. That was easy, because there are some features only a bank like ours can offer.

The security of FDIC insurance, up to $100,000 per depositor, and the convenience of dealing with people you know at a bank down the street.

We also added a $2,500 minimum, the lowest the law allows. And we threw in a simple monthly statement that makes it easy to keep track of all your account activity.

Now, if you'd like to get the best of the money market funds along with the best a bank can offer, you know where to come.

MANCHESTER BUSINESSMEN
All interest payable to taxpayers on overpaid taxes or by taxpayers on underpaid taxes will be compounded daily after December 31, 1982, the Internal Revenue Service said.
68	Beginning January 1, 1983, the rate of interest on overpayments or underpayments will be redetermined twice a year, based on the average adjusted prime rate during the six-month period ending September 30 and March 31.
63	The rate based on the six-month period ending September 30 will go into effect on January 1 of the next calendar year, and the rate based on the six months ending March 31 will go into effect on July 1 of the same calendar year.
55	Previously, the rate was set annually by October 15 and was based on 100 percent of the average prime interest rate for the preceding month. Under this procedure the rate was 20 percent for the period February 1 to December 31, 1982.
54	The prime rate is the rate commercial banks charge their largest corporate customers.
53	The interest rate for the first six months of 1983 is 16 percent, compounded daily.

No-Cost Weatherization

Would you like to keep your home warm in the winter and cool in the summer at a lower cost?

If you have a lower income you may qualify for a no-cost weatherization of your home. These are your tax dollars at work and you deserve the break.

This is the message given by Washtenaw County Community Services Agency who is now looking for homes owned or rented by senior citizens and limited-income folks. "We need to figure out how to stop using so much fuel during the winter. With the rising cost of fuel the only solution is to reduce the amount of fuel used."

The program to help reduce the use of such fuel is called Home Weatherization. It is very simple: Home Weatherization involves putting more attic insulation in homes, installing storm windows, putting caulking around windows and doors to keep out the cold, and other small procedures to reduce the amount of fuel used. All of these materials and their installation are offered at no cost to qualified residents in Washtenaw County.

Who is qualified can be determined in a very simple way. Anyone who is on some kind of assistance is usually qualified. The family income should not exceed $11,625 for a family of four. For a family of two, the maximum income is $7,775.

The way to get your home weatherized is really very simple. All you have to do is call the Washtenaw County Community Services Agency at 994-2570 and find out whether your income qualifies you. You will be asked a few questions such as: To show some proof of income, whether you own your own home or rent, the kind of fuel that you use, the number of people in your family, your social security number, and the amount of your fuel bills. Then the staff person will arrange to visit your home and an appointment will be set. Usually this can be done within a two-week period. If you are found to qualify for the free home weatherization you will be put on a waiting list and a crew of expert weatherizers will be out to your home within one month. The crew will either be county employees or private contractors. The funds for this program are from the Department of Energy. They are your tax dollars and therefore no one should feel shy about having a free weatherization to their home if they are eligible. The money is regulated at the State level by the Department of Labor through the Bureau of Community Services. The Bureau of Community Services then contracts with the Washtenaw County Community Services Agency to implement the program at the local level.

The Home Weatherization program in Washtenaw County has been in operation since 1975. At one time the program utilized only CETA crew who were in training to learn the weatherization trade. This made the program very attractive for non-skilled workers, but resulted in fewer homes being weatherized each month. The program now does a complete weatherization of about twenty homes per month in Washtenaw County. Priority is given to senior citizens and persons who are disabled.

The Washtenaw County Community Services Agency is now assured of receiving a good sum of funds to continue the program into and through 1983. For this reason, they are urging everyone who thinks they might be eligible to call them and set up an appointment early. The earlier, the better.

For more information, call 994-2570.

Saline Community Hospital

The work of Saline Community Hospital staff members with Head Trauma patients and the resulting success stories have recently received national attention. A television taping regarding the program and services has recently aired over WDHO-Channel 24 in Toledo and a radio interview aired over the National Public Radio network on stations WEMU and WUOM. Both the television and radio interviews have provided recognition of the uniqueness of the program. Five years ago the Hospital began receiving requests to accept patients for therapy who had received closed head injuries (i.e., head trauma). Parents who brought their children to Saline Community Hospital for therapy often had become discouraged with the lack of progress made through treatments received elsewhere. Frequently, they had been given little hope that the patient could make any significant gain in the future.

Saline Community Hospital Speech Pathologist, Marilyn Koster, states, "We found that we were sometimes able to alter the situation with therapy using non-traditional approaches." Among the innovative procedures used were: Field Trips, Vocational Education Training, Young Adult Support Groups and a Parent Support Group.

Over the past three years, 86% of the patients accepted for treatment have previously been rejected for therapy at another institution.

At Saline Community Hospital, rehabilitation therapy is a joint three-phased program including Physical Therapy, Speech Therapy and Occupational Therapy. Chief Physical Therapist and Director of Rehabilitation Services is John Ivanoff, R.P.T. Marilyn Koster, M.A., C.C.C.-Speech Pathology, heads the Speech Therapy program and Cynthia Bruhnsen, O.T.R., is the Chief Occupational Therapist. The Hospital's Board of Directors and Administration have been extremely supportive of the program which has allowed for the development of innovative techniques which are unique to the Head Trauma Program at Saline Community Hospital.

"The far-reaching implications of this program include the ease with which such a program could be established within other institutions, opening the way for advances in the treatment of Head Trauma patients," states Saline Community Hospital Administrator, William J. Lavery.

Cards Of Thanks
 Mom and Dad,
 I just want to say Merry Christmas and that I love you.
 Even though I am 1400 miles away, I want you to know that you are in my thoughts this holiday season. Thank you for being so understanding last August when I left for new horizons and experiences.
 I hope your Christmas is joyful and white!
 Love always,
 Your youngest daughter

We would like to thank all of the moms and dads that helped make the Klegar Senior Citizens Dinner a success. We served over 230 people.
 A special thanks goes to Tom Hart for the invocation and the Methodist and Emanuel Church for the use of its facilities. To Mr. DuRuezel for the potatoes. Also to the moms who served and were brave enough to stay for clean-up.
 Ann and I know that if it wasn't for dedicated people like you we couldn't have pulled this off.
 Thanks again and Merry Christmas
 Cheryl Bunn and Ann Feneelon

What's Cooking in Michigan

by Margaret G. McCall
Michigan Department of Agriculture

Say Yes to the Good Things Growing in Michigan when you think of last minute gifts for Christmas, especially for those people who take pride in our state.

Nearly 50 agricultural commodities are produced each year in our state, including meat and poultry products, vegetables, fruits and dairy products, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

I suggest one of MDA's "Taste of Michigan" calendars as an inexpensive gift to please neighbors. The calendar, containing 16 tear-out recipe cards, is available from MDA's Marketing Division, P.O. Box 30017, Lansing, Michigan 48909 at $3 each.

Check your area for Michigan fruit patches who assemble beautiful gift boxes of Michigan apples. There are several Michigan processors who have available unique gift items such as Michigan jams and jellies which tell your friends that you are proud of Michigan's fine quality products.

One example is Rocky Top Farms at Ellsworth where Michigan fruits are transformed into gourmet preserves and packaged in Michigan cedar boxes, so the whole gift becomes a testimonial to Michigan's importance in food and fiber production.

Natural food enthusiasts will enjoy gifts of Michigan maple syrup and honey, two of nature's natural sweets. Addition of Michigan beet sugar makes it a sweet trio.

A juice pitcher with several cans of Michigan juices, such as apple, grape and tomato, makes a thoughtful family gift.

Holiday giving need not end with your Christmas list. Invite friends and relatives to an all-Michigan dinner. Or, serve a holiday brunch of cheese fondue, breads and ham or beef tidbits.

Michigan appetizer, dinner and sparkling wines are welcome gifts.

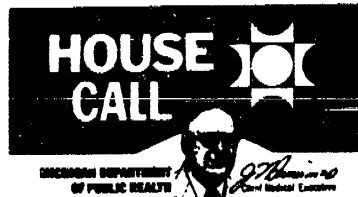

spirits it can effectively destroy the holiday spirit. More than that, excessive use of alcohol can lead to domestic turmoil, to accidents, and even to death. Drunk driving alone kills more than 1,000 Michigan people each year, injures another 38,000, and costs some $500 million in economic losses. Unfortunately, a disproportionate share of accidents and deaths occur over the holiday season.

Part of this may be attributed to the frequency of holiday parties where alcohol is served. Sometimes, it seems that you can't participate in a party or enjoy it fully unless you drink. Yet the fact is that about a third of our drinking-age population are abstainers or have only a drink or two each year. So holiday party planners should realize that their guests will include a number of people who don't drink. For these people, attractive non-alcoholic beverages should be available.

Other guests may tend to drink too much. These people create more difficult problems. A concerned party host will have an advance plan of action for dealing with them. Such a plan should offer alternative transportation or even overnight accommodations. Often an intoxicated person may insist that he is able to drive - but if the host has made his plan clear at the beginning, the drunk person may accept being driven home or staying overnight.

High protein snacks served with drinks slows down absorption of alcohol, but only time will allow the body to rid itself of alcohol effects. And remember, black coffee does NOT sober up a person. If possible, limit drinks to one per hour - anyone exceeding that limit for very long poses a driving risk.

Alcoholic beverages, in moderation, may serve as a social lubricant - but when they are not the main attraction, parties will usually be more successful.

HOLIDAY DRINKING

Alcoholic drinks play an important role in many of our holiday social events. Used in moderation, they pose no serious problem. But when people drink too many

Tax Planning Questions And Answers

Budgeting, economizing and planning are good, sensible ways to save money. The Internal Revenue Service wants taxpayers to realize that, while there are no bargains or discounts on taxes, there are legal ways to cut down on taxes, and the secret to "A penny saved" on taxes is good planning. The IRS has prepared this question and answer column to alert taxpayers to the money-saving benefits of good tax planning.

Question If you had to sum up in just a few words how all taxpayers could get the most tax "breaks" what would you say?

Answer KEEP GOOD RECORDS ALL YEAR! Even if you've always filed the 1040A, or short form, and have never been required to have more than your W-2 at tax time, your circumstances could change during the year and you might want to itemize deductions, for example.

Question I've never had bookkeeping - I don't know how to begin to keep good records. Do I have to keep ledgers and records like that?

Answer A good recordkeeping system is one that works for you. To be good, a system need not be formal or in a ledger, although for some people, that is a good system. A manila envelope or shoe box set aside in January for receipts and records, marked "Taxes" and the year, and kept for at least four years, is a good system for many.

Question Where do I begin? I don't know the first thing about tax planning.

Answer If you have large investments - stocks, bonds, real estate holdings, for example, you might want to look into a professional investment or tax counselor. In that case, be as choosy as you would in selecting a doctor or other professional.

Question How can I figure how much tax I have to pay?

Answer Tax is based on taxable income, that is, all of your income, minus such things as moving expenses, dividend exclusions, excess itemized deductions, etc. The idea is to keep your taxable income to a minimum, and do it legally, or take advantage of allowable tax credits, which directly reduce the amount of tax owed.

Question What are some of the tax credits available to reduce my taxes?

Answer There are a number of credits but of course, not everyone qualifies for every credit. Among those available are Child and Dependent Care, Earned Income, Credit for the Elderly, Political Contributions, Residential Energy, and overpaid Social Security Tax.

Question How can I get information on these credits and adjustments to income to see if I qualify?

Answer You can write to the Internal Revenue Service and ask for any one of their 90 free publications on various tax topics. Your tax instruction booklet will list many of the publications by topic and number.

Question Is it really legal for me to try to pay less tax?

Answer Generally, yes. While there are rules about paying taxes, there are also alternatives for paying less tax. Much depends on your motives and methods. Those who are devious and set out to defraud the government are not acting legally, and the penalties for this are severe. The right idea is to plan your affairs so as to result in the lowest tax allowed under the law.

Question Why must I prove I'm right? Does the IRS automatically think I cheat?

Answer The IRS does not automatically assume that taxpayers cheat. IRS does expect taxpayers to fulfill their legal obligation of keeping adequate records to

Drunk Driving Law Pending

Although Michigan's new drunk driving law does not go into effect until April, 1983, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin is appealing to all motorists to drive over the year-end holidays as if the new law was in effect now.

Among other provisions, the new law permits roadside breath tests on suspects and makes it illegal to operate a vehicle with a .10 percent blood alcohol level or more. Refusal to take a breath test can result in the suspension of a driver's license for six months and six points on the offender's driving record. Repeat offender's face license suspensions of up to five years.

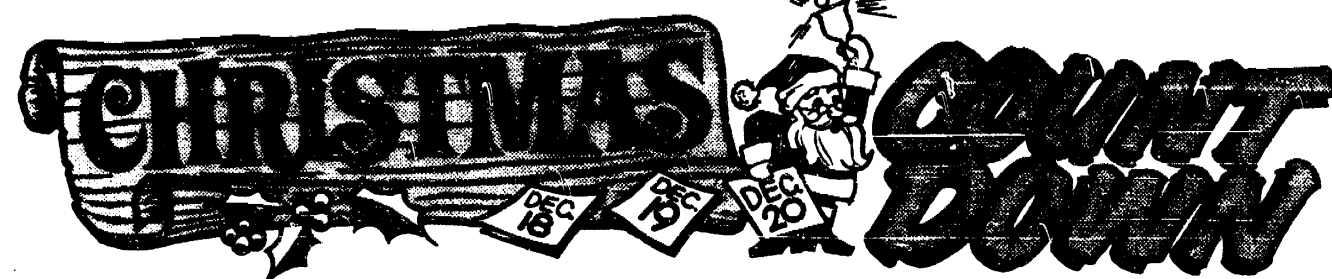

Of the 53,000 drivers involved in accidents in Michigan, in December, 1981, 4,900 had been drinking. In addition, 4,777 arrests for drunk driving were made that month. Under the new law, arrests are expected to increase substantially.

"Christmas and New Years this year are a good time to get used to Michigan's tougher drinking law", Austin said.

In 1981, alcohol was involved in more than half of the 1,589 highway deaths and 51,206 accidents.

not to go to Ripton such as through Crying Hollow Junction where there's a wolf in a shack who hollers like thunder. Outside Over There by Maurice Sendak, when goblins steal Ida's baby sister to be a goblin bride, Ida follows them, charming them with a captivating tune, rescuing her little sister. One, Two, Three-Ab-Chow! by Marjorie Allen, Wally Springer is allergic to dust, feathers and animal fur so it's hard for him to find a pet. The tadpoles he finds turn into jumping frogs and his snake scares his Aunt Beulah. His father gives him a hermit crab in a seashell and finally Wally has a pet. Daddy and Ben Together by Marjiam Stecher, photographs of how Ben and his daddy learn to take care of each other while his mother is away for a few days. Check One by Louise Matthews, when the rooster brags about the first egg the hen laid, the weasel decides to play a trick on them. He finds a cuckoo, a duck, a peacock, an ostrich and a turtle egg for the hen to hatch. What's the Fun Without a Friend? by Chihiro Iwasaki, Allison has to leave her dog Tippy home when she goes on vacation at the seashore. She misses Tippy so much she writes him a letter and asks her dad to bring him so they can have fun together. Even If I Did Something Awful by Barbara Hazen, a little girl kicks a football and breaks her mother's birthday vase. She asks her mother if she will still love her if she does many awful things. Her mother says she will love her no matter what, always. Good As New by Barbara Douglas, Grady's baby cousin K.C. comes for a visit and won't stop crying until he grabs Grady's special bear. He feeds the bear peanut butter, gets him all wet and buries him in the sand. Grady's grandfather, who can fix anything, pulls the stuffing out, washes the bear and makes him better than new.

Bells Ringing Merrily Herald The Christmas

Around the world and across the ages, ringing bells are part of the traditions of Christmas. Zurich, Switzerland has long been noted for its beautiful bells. Every Christmas Eve, the Zurich bells ring out loud and clear, calling families to church. This same tradition is repeated in many, many other cities, where chimes and bells ring out at midnight from the steeples and spires of churches.

Bells contribute to the sights as well as the sounds of the holiday season. They are popular decoration and are used as ornaments on trees.

Tradition has it that bells inspired Clement C. Moore to write his famous poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas." The inspiration came from listening to the merry jingle of bells on his horse's harness, as he drove along on a frosty winter night.

FOR UNTO US A CHILD IS BORN

There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judaea, a certain priest named Zechariah, of the course of Abijah; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameless. And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren; and they were both now well stricken in years. And it came to pass, that, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office; his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And when Zechariah saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zechariah; for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. . . . And Zechariah said unto the angel, Wherewith shall I know this, for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years? And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these glad tidings. And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. And the people waited for Zechariah, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless. And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house. And after those days his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

George Washington Loved Mount Vernon Christmas

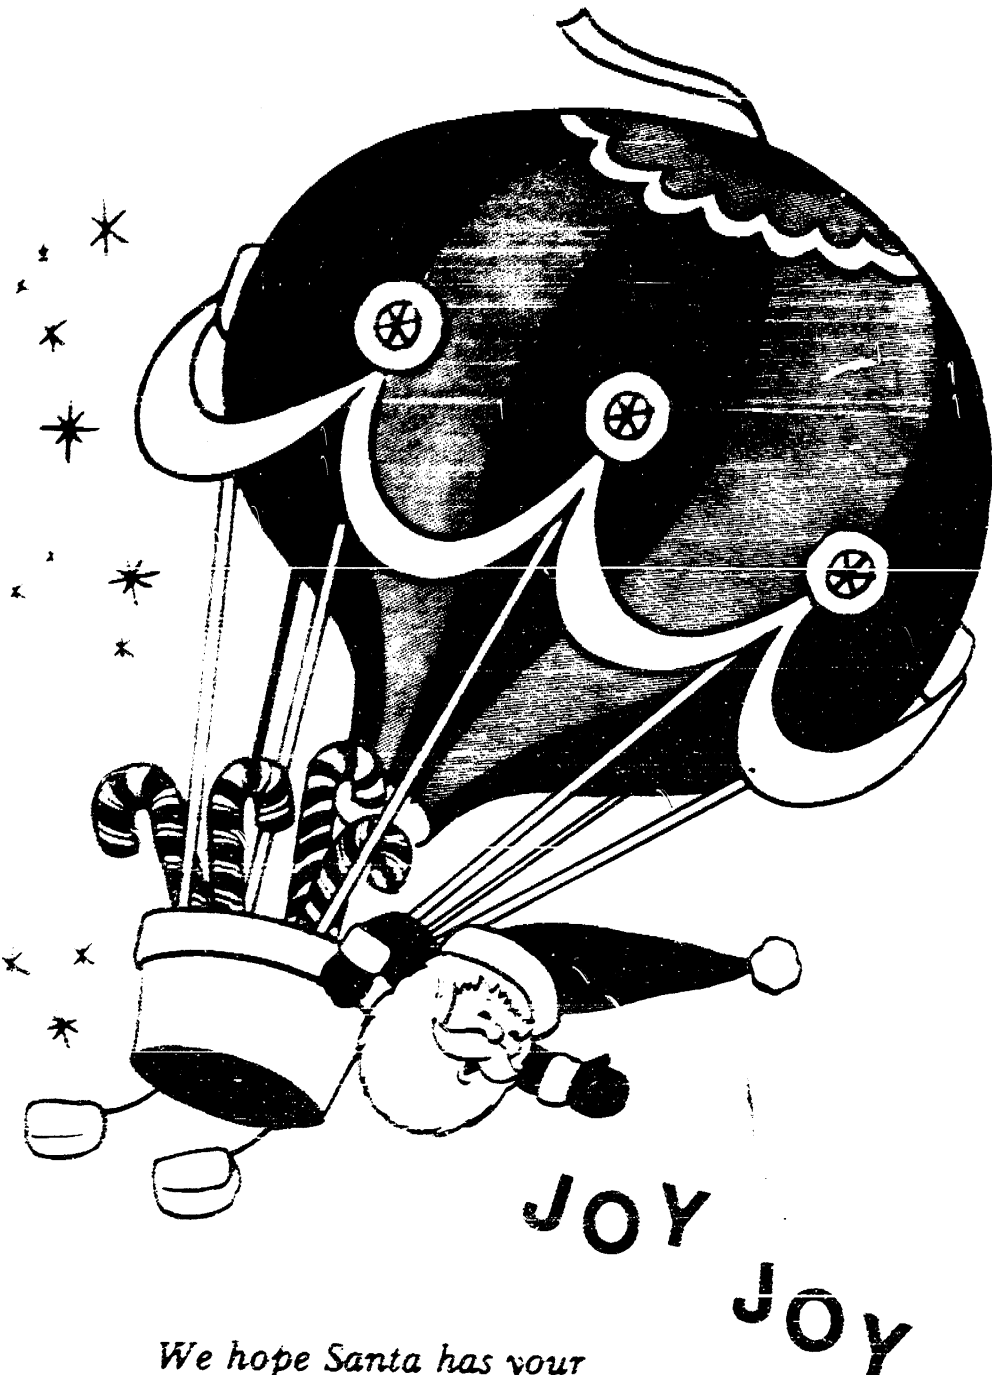

The Congress of the United States was at session at Annapolis December 22, 1783. A dinner and ball was being staged in honor of the retiring Commander-in-Chief of the forces that had gained independence for the nation.

General George Washington departed the Maryland capital as quickly as he could, to return to his home at Mount Vernon the eve of the 25th. He enjoyed the Christmas festivities surrounded by his family. He desired to spend all subsequent Christmases in the place he loved above all.

Dear Mr. Washington kept a diary of his annual preparations. For example, Monday, December 17th, 1785 he enters repetitive of similar notations in 1784 and

Joy Of Christmas

Christmas with its peace and joy and wonder. Our spirit seeks our kindness, multiplicity and increase as "The Day" draws near. We are not ashamed to be good, kind and loving. We give freely of our love and kindness. The world suddenly grows better. Perhaps if we tried we might carry the joy of Christmas with us throughout the year.

We hope Santa has your number and that all good things of Christmas come your way.

A Christmas Letter Of Henry Van Dyke

I am thinking of you today because it is Christmas, and I wish you happiness. And tomorrow because it will be the day after Christmas. I shall still wish you happiness. I may not be able to tell you about it every day because I may be far away or we may be very busy. But that makes no difference. My thoughts and my wishes will be with you just the same. Whatever joy or success comes to you will make me glad. Clear through the year — I wish you the spirit of Christmas.

Santa Claus Is Subject Of Legend

Countless legends cluster about Christmas. The Yuletide season is glorified in songs and stories that stir the mind and touch the heart.

In America, Christmas means Santa Claus, a combination of patron saint, good fellow, and gift giver. Saint Nick (his alternate name) was once Saint Nicholas, a third century bishop who, because of his generosity, was elevated to sainthood. On the night before Christmas, according to tradition, Santa Claus and his sleighful of toys are whirled through the air by eight reindeer who answer to such spirited names as Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner, and Blitzen.

CHRISTMAS MUMMERS

The Christmas Mummer is still as common in England. The same plays which have been presented for the past several hundred years are performed. These affairs are observed in Gloucestershire, Oxfordshire, Warwickshire and Hampshire. At Stratford-on-Avon the Christmas Mummer performs just as they acted over three hundred and fifty years ago. It was then that William Shakespeare was an interested spectator.

WONDERLAND...The excitement of the holiday season is more than evident in the nation's shopping centers as merchants create extravagant displays of toys and gifts to attract holiday shoppers.

One Solitary Life

(author unknown)

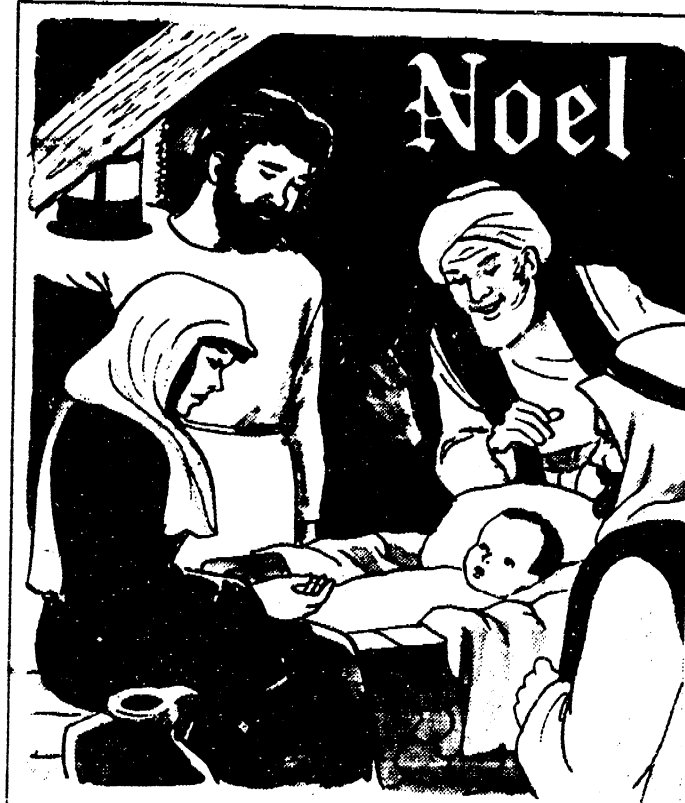

Here is a man who was born of Jewish parents in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years. He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never put His foot inside a big city. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where He was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but Himself.

He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying — and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the center-piece of the human race and the leader of the column of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever sailed, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as has that One Solitary Life.

Holiday Lights Should Be Safe

When you buy lights, look for the Underwriters Laboratories certification that they have been checked for safety.

Any outdoor lights should be weather-proof and clearly designed for outdoor use; even these lights are not designed to withstand prolonged exposure. Unplug all lights before you go to bed or leave the house.

Don't put more than three sets of lights on any extension cord. Keep connection joints away from any water.

Check all old sets of lights before you use them. Look for frayed wires, loose connections, broken or cracked sockets and spots where bare wire is exposed. Any set that is damaged should be thrown out if it can't be repaired.

Season's Greetings
Joy and Peace abide with you and yours this holiday.

'Shake 'em Up' Snow Scenes

Remember the "shake 'em up snow scenes" in a jar? You can make one.

Use an ordinary food jar with a tight fitting lid. Jars from baby food, mustard, honey or cocktail cherries are good. Remove the label and glue with warm water and a scouring pad.

Press a mound of florist's clay inside the jar cap and secure decorative items that will not react to water onto the clay. Small plastic snowmen, small toy figures, plastic flowers or old pieces of tree ornaments are examples.

Drop about a teaspoon of camphor flakes into the jar and fill the jar with water. Insert the decorated cap and screw the cap on securely, then shake and watch the snow settle.

Like the Magi, let us open our hearts and welcome the true miracle of Christmas.

FAHEY REALTY

Pinata Comes From Mexico

In Mexico the street vendors display their hand-carved religious figures, and beautiful tapestries are used as banners. Mexico is rich with tradition, and during Christmas the shepherds dress in colorful but grotesque outfits and dance and sing through the streets from house to house. The "pinata" is the children's favorite toy. The "pinata" is a gaily colored earthenware bowl in the shape of a face or an animal, filled with goodies such as fruit, candy, good-luck charms and peanuts. One after another each child is blindfolded and attempts to break the "pinata" with a stick. It is eventually broken, and the children dash to the ground to collect the goodies.

IN JAPAN

Christmas for Christians in Japan means Christ is coming again into their hearts with new power.

Christmas is not a family day among the Japanese Christians, as it is with us. There is no turkey or Plum Pudding. Rather Christmas in Japan is the day in which all Christians try to do something for others, especially for those sick in the hospital.

"God bless us, everyone!"
And let the magic spirit of Christmas be with us in the days to come.

CLOSED CHRISTMAS EVE AND CHRISTMAS DAY

Try "Clusters" This Holiday

Remember the "cluster" theory for highly effective decorations. This means that multiples, or clusters, of almost anything are far more dramatic than a single object, or even two. Cluster candles of all shapes and sizes to get optimum effect. Cluster tiny potted poinsettias or mums on a big platter or a low ceramic bowl for a centerpiece. Mass pots of flowers under a glass-topped dining or console coffee table or fill an untreated window with a whole blizzard of snow-white chrysanthemum plants, or red tulips.

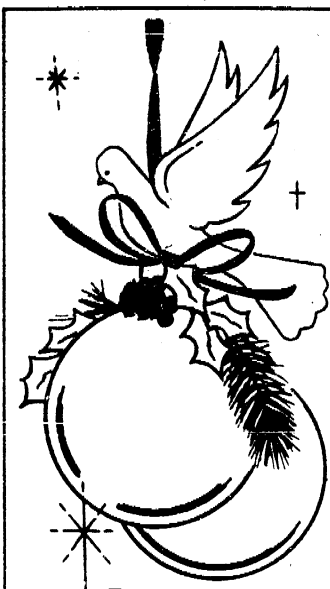

JESUS, the son of God was born in Bethlehem, in the simple surroundings of a crude stable. He was to spend 33 years upon earth, living a life of humility, faith, obedience and highest example. He offered friendship and love to every man and lay down a foundation upon which every man could build eternal happiness.

Buyer Beware

Watch out for last-minute Christmas sales — an overstuffed merchant will announce a "madness Type sale" to clear his shelves. Shoppers buy "bargains" that turn out to be junk.

Hurried and harried shoppers caught in the Christmas crunch are easy prey for merchandising gimmicks and dishonest salesmen. Often the products they peddle are an example of crass commercialization. Our only real defense for discriminating consumers: BUYER BEWARE!

Not Where, But... When Was Christ Really Born

Christmas in medieval England was called "CHRISTES MASSE," until it acquired its present spelling. The day is still known in many European countries as "CHRIST'S BIRTHDAY" and is called NOEL by the French, NATALE by the Italians, WEIHNACHT by the Germans, and YULEN JUL by the Scandinavians.

Most scholars agree that December 25th is most certainly not the anniversary of the Savior, and that He was not born in what we now measure as 1 A.D. The custom of celebrating Christ's birthday on December 25th originated in Rome in the fourth century of the Christian Era, some say in 354 A.D. The Roman monk Dionysius Exiguus, who made the calendar in the sixth century, probably misplaced A.D. 1 by at least six years.

Heredotus, according to the current Gregorian calendar, died in 4 B.C. He is said to have put to death the boy babies in Bethlehem who were two years, old and younger. The first Christmas may have been as early as 6 B.C. H.W. van der Varr Smit, the evangelical minister who was converted to Catholicism, in his "Born in Bethlehem; Christmas as It Really Was" notes that there was a conjunction of the planets Saturn and Jupiter in 7 B.C. This could have been the "Star of Bethlehem."

In finally choosing December 25th for Christmas, the early church fathers probably were not unmindful that the Roman feast week of the Saturnalia ended on December 24th, after which some purification of the soul would be in order. Worshipers of the Persian god Mithras celebrated December 25th as the advent of the sun.

The place of Christ's birth is much better established than the time. If you went to Bethlehem this Christmas and asked to see where Jesus Christ was born, the inhabitants would direct you to a small grotto, or cave, beneath the Church of the Nativity.

A history sponsored by the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization fixes the year of the Savior's birth at 6 B.C.

Christmas Spirit Stays The Same

Through the years, the ways of celebrating Christmas have taken on many different forms, but in spite of changes, the essence of the season, the basic spirit of Christmas stays the same.

Christmas time is, above all a time for togetherness and rejoicing. And the modern Christmas, just like an old-fashioned Christmas, calls for gatherings of family and friends, with much merriment, fun and feasting.

Like families of yesteryear, we celebrate with gifts, with the warmth of a glowing hearth and the gleam of a lighted tree, with stockings hung by the chimney with care, and with candles bright but in candleholders rather than on the tree.

Santa Claus, once transported only by reindeer drawn sleigh, may now arrive by helicopter, jet plane or boat.

Christmas Decorations Around The World

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly" is a traditional refrain in English and American homes, but in Spain and Italy, householders decorate with flowers instead of evergreens at Christmas time. The Christmas tree, popular throughout the United States and Northern Europe, the creche, or manger scene usually replaces it. In Sicily, many families use Christmas trees, but they decorate them with apples and oranges instead of tinsel. This carries out an old tradition that all the trees bore fruit when Christ was born.

Warm wishes for a Christmas full of peace and happiness. Special "thanks" to all our customers and friends.

Christmas in Switzerland is Christmas Land indeed. Everything glitters in the pure white snow, the air perfumed by the stately pine trees and sleigh bells sing merry melodies as the horses travel briskly over the mountain roads.

St. Nicholas has been succeeded in many parts of Switzerland by the "Christkindli", an angelic figure who travels over the land every Christmas Eve in beautiful sleigh drawn by six reindeer. The sleigh is heavily laden with Christmas trees, fruit, cookies and toys for the children.

In every home there is a Christmas tree around which the family gathers and sings carols while the youngsters play with their new playthings. In many of these homes, the head of the family opens the big Bible and reads St. Luke's about the birth of Christ.

In the country districts, Santa Claus does not make his visit on Christmas Eve but on December 6th. December 6th is the anniversary of the first St. Nicholas who had the custom of giving secret presents to the poor, and was especially kind to children. He lived in Asia Minor where he ruled as Bishop in the fourth century. In some rural areas the boys of school age arrange a parade with Santa Claus at the head of the procession. The marchers stop at various homes to collect small gifts, and sometimes go to neighboring towns for donations. In the evening they gather in town hall where the gifts are equally divided.

Santa Claus is also honored with impressive ceremonies on December 6th at Zurich where a giant St. Nicholas leads a parade of youngsters dressed in long white nightgowns and wearing masks and headgear. The boys blow horns and ring bells as they solicit gifts of toys and fruit from the spectators along the route of the parade.

"Ain't The Gift" That Makes You Happy And Glad

It ain't the gift a feller gits, Ner how it's wrapped, ner tied; It ain't the shape or size, That sets the heart to beating' An' puts sunshine in yer eyes.

It ain't the value of the thing, Ner how it's wrapped, ner tied; It's something else aside from this That makes you glad inside.

It's knowin' that it represents A love, both deep an' true, That someone carries in his heart An' wants to slip to you.

It's knowin' that some folks love you, An' tell you in this way... Jes' sorter actin' out the things They really long to say.

So, tain't the gift a feller gits, Ner how it's wrapped ner tied, It's knowin' that yer folks like you, That makes you glad inside.

St. Luke 2:1-20 The Greatest Christmas Story

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David).

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she would be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were so afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you. Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at these things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Glory to God in the Highest...

May the spirit of the Christmas season bring to you lasting happiness.

MANCHESTER LOCKER PLANT

manchester art guild news

Ten artists from the Manchester Art Guild have closed their two-week Christmas show which had been located next to The Black Sheep Theater. It was a fleeting but fine showing of talented individuals.

One of four local artists participating in the exhibit and sale, was Nancy Feldkamp. Her work has progressed in sensitivity and design. This was demonstrated beautifully in her display of watercolors and leaf prints. Even the strong contrast of pine trees on a snowy landscape was handled with spontaneity and a delicate flow of paint on paper.

Another local painter, Jo Swanberg, also has shown a great deal of growth in her media. Her watercolor and acrylic paintings make use of strong design and color elements. A difficult treatment of color was very successfully accomplished in bright greens and oranges, with one large, stunning acrylic of a bushel basket on its side, and overflowing with squash and gourds.

Margaret Goodrich displayed small quilted pictures in rustic barnwood frames. Hand-quilted, their diminutive size is not reflective of the quality and design contained within. Much of her work involves landscapes in monochromatic color schemes. Some in this recent exhibit were "underwater landscapes with clever use of fish and seaweed in soft blues and greens. Bonnie Greenwald, a local potter, displayed a great variety of functional stoneware which showed skill in a medium difficult to master. The work exhibited in earthy blues and browns, sometimes made use of bold brushwork, and included mugs, bowls, wood vases, goblets, teapots, a casserole, and one large soup tureen which would do justice to any hearty stew or soup meal. Although the exhibit has gone, each of these artists are active and certainly will be seen in future Art Guild presentations. Need some last-minute Christmas presents? Any one of these craftsmen would be happy to provide a unique gift.

Hit or Miss

BY FARLEY

I can remember when a $5 bill was "big money", and if you had more than one you were a big operator. But prices kept climbing and before long the five was replaced with a tenner or two, but for a time a stack of tens would take you through from one pay day to the next and you could go to the store and accumulate a great big sack of groceries for $10.00. Then by the seventies, the tens were replaced by the twenties. When I went to the bank to cash a check the teller gave me my cash in nothing bigger than a twenty or two. I can remember having a $50.00 bill a time or two and it made me feel that I was in the presence of big money.

Not long ago I cashed a check for $200.00 and the cashier at the bank nonchalantly gave two $100.00 bills and that weekend when I went out to shop, I carried one of them carefully rolled up in my pocket, reports Bob Swift in a recent column. He says he didn't want to expose it to the casual gaze. It seemed almost like illegal currency. But when they talked up my bill I had to dig down and fish it out. Hesitantly, he laid it on the counter, and glanced at the cashier. "I almost felt guilty," he said. "Sorry" I mumbled. "It's a hundred, I've got nothing smaller." She picked it up and placed it on top of a thick stack in the cash drawer and counted out my change.

"Have a nice day" she said. That hundred meant no more to her than a five.

The big spenders must have a hard time impressing folks nowadays with a mere $100.00 bill. The Treasury Department says that in 1980, $100.00 bills accounted for 41 percent of all currency in circulation. In 1976 it was 31 percent while in 1971 it was only 25 percent. I too am very fond of that green portrait of Ben Franklin, but only yesterday I stopped and stooped over to pick up from the sidewalk two Lincoln pennies.

Silent film star Ben Turpin began his movie career as a prop man for a producer who was operating on a shoestring.

On one occasion after the day's shooting, the producer saw Ben lifting a bouquet of flowers from the set and slip out the door. Angered by petty thievery he followed him.

He made his way to the cemetery nearby, stooped over one of the graves, took out the flowers and placed them on the grave. It was a touching scene, and moved by it, the producer felt ashamed for harboring his suspicions.

He waited for Turpin to leave the cemetery and then approached him. "Ben, that was a beautiful thing you just did, he said, choked with emotion. You have my permission to bring them here. It was a beautiful thing to do."

"I think so," said Turpin. "It's where I got them".
