Klager Students In Reading Olympics

Ryan Steele read 38 books in one month, which was the highest of anyone in the school!

To place a strong emphasis on reading, as well as raise money for a worthy cause, Klager students have taken part in the Reading Olympics. The children who wished to participate obtained sponsors who agreed to donate to the March of Dimes for each book read. Children who read four or more books then won Olympic-like Medals.

This year the participating children read 833 books and raised a total of $636.13 for the March of Dimes.

Congratulations to all medal winners: Matthew Wiethoff 25, John Runyon 20, Jason Rogers 30, Lynette Wackenhut 30, Marcus Stockwell 21, Steven Duvall 14,

Board Plans 1963 Fair

The January meeting of the Fair Board included discussion of the carnival (Michigan State Amusements) and which rides would be available for our 1963 Fair. Some members of the Fair Board will preview the carnival in June. The Fair this year will have approximately 15 rides with some new names like Frolic, Roll-o-plane and Octopus. Fairgoers this year will be able to ride all day for $5.00, something many community members have asked for in the past. Single tickets will also be available, however.

The MAFE convention in Dearborn was attended by members Elmen Kopka, Mike Rossettie, Jerry Bristle, Jim and Renee Thelen, Carol Britten and Kathy Richardson.

Secretary Carol Britten asked members to note that the deadline for changes in the 1963 Fair Book will be April 1. Other business included passage of a resolution to apply for State aid on rented equipment for the 1963 Fair and acceptance of the Treasurer's report as read.

The 1963 Manchester Community Fair will be held August 9-13 this year, a week earlier than in previous years.

BY FARLEY

As someone said, Congress finally quarreled its way to a conclusion, various job bills came and went and everyone discussed the details of the various make-work and real work bills, the cost of unemployment and the cost of the government programs but all these bills were labeled "Men's jobs bills".

Facts show that 93.8 percent of the construction workers in this country are males so when Congress talked about finding jobs to repair the roads and the bridges and the mass transit systems they meant male jobs but when I heard about all this I wondered about what was going to become of the members of the fair sex who are also unemployed. Congress just argued about getting jobs that would pay the wages of skilled male labor.

There is nothing wrong with getting jobs for the men nor fixing the nation's highways but these are hard times and we're talking about putting the breadwinners to work and evidently the breadwinners are all men. Evidently in these hard times the unemployed women become invisible.

One historian who has written about the fate of American women in the 1930's said, "I keep getting struck again and again by the parallels with this depression. The same things happened in the 1930's. The government helped the men but ignored the women who were also unemployed but in different jobs."

During the 1930's between two million and four million women were unemployed but many of them seemed to fade into the background. In a book "Holding Their Own" a Dr. Ware points out that the female unemployed were laid off one by one rather than in massive shifts at a factory and they were not seen in breadlines nor in the flophouses. Nobody seemed to notice them. Some became "housewives" and 145,000 or more became homeless wanderers, and others about

How To Kill Manchester

Reprint from Manchester Enterprise, dated October 1866
Observing men, men of keen foresight and good judgement, men at home and men from abroad, predict that Manchester is destined to become an inland town of no small importance. We sincerely hope it may. But, if there are any who wish to stop all this, we will give them the secret.

For instance, if you own any real estate in the shape of land and lots, hold the same at an enormous price, ask a price that no man can scarcely give. Screw everyone down or do not sell at all. Let your land be the home of boulders and the paradise of mullens. If you should put up tenement houses, ask such a rent for them that no working man can afford to pay. Build them small and inconvenient, yet be sure to ask an exorbitant rent for them. Or, don't put any house up at all. Put out your money at 15 or 25 percent interest. Act the Shylock. Then grumble at the village taxes, find a great deal of fault with the expense of our schools and public improvements. Change the teachers as often as possible in order to get poor ones at a cheap rate. If the Principal be a good man and hence needing a good salary, turn him off in order to get a poorer one at two or three hundred dollars less. Grumble at the building of Bridges and Sidewalks. Care about nothing, save your own dear darling self. Make light of, and shake your head at the enterprising men of our town. Run down Schools, Hotels and Newspapers. Care nothing about the building of churches, say they are of no account, or, if you want one, say a barn of a thing would be your choice. If you are a church member, take no notice of the stranger that comes among us. Avoid the poor as you would sin, keep from the weekly meetings of the church, and hang around the corners. If you see young men trying to build themselves up in business, give them no encouragement. Be a faithful apostle of backwardness, walk and talk like a crab, or a certain long-eared animal. Be the champion of fault-finders. Scorn all new enterprises, never patronize a public lecture, make no sacrifice except for your own interest. Don't take the ENTERPRISE, or advertise in it. If you do, don't pay for it. Make everything as slow, as close, as cold, as dead and disagreeable as possible and we assure you that you shall soon be crowned with success in the paralysis, deadness and backwardness of Manchester.

Churches Observe Christian Unity Sunday

This Sunday afternoon, January 30, 1963, at 2:30 p.m., the Manchester Churches will gather together for worship at Emanuel United Church of Christ. They will be celebrating the annual observance of the WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY.

Special guest for the occasion will be the Rev. Dr. Gustav Kopka, Jr., who is the newly installed Executive Director of the Michigan Council of Churches.

Host Pastor Rev. Robert Macfarlane invites all area Christians to be a part of the worshipping congregation that afternoon, that all the Churches might strive toward spiritual renewed, and unity in serving our community in the name of Jesus Christ.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Sharon and Manchester United Methodist Churches, and Bethel United Church of Christ - both Pastors and congregations - will be joining in worship together. Join us at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Emanuel.

Las Vegas Party

HOUSE CALL

SALT TALK

If we say that someone is worth his salt - or is salt of the earth - we're saying that person a great compliment. That's because salt is a valuable and versatile substance which helps cure meat and fish, helps inhibit bacterial growth in such foods as bacon and bread, forms brine for such foods as pickles and olives, and because it enhances flavors. But there's another side to salt - it's become clear that salt - or the sodium in salt - can contribute to hypertension (high blood pressure) and that restricting salt can help in lowering blood pressure.

It's estimated that well over 30 million Americans have hypertension which increases the risk of stroke and coronary heart disease. Hypertension is caused by many things but sodium has been identified as one factor which can lead to it. We know that between 10 and 20 percent of the population are sodium-sensitive but we can't predict which persons are and which aren't. We do know that persons with a family history of hypertension are more likely to develop it, that overweight people have higher incidences, and that blacks are twice as likely as whites to develop it. So these people especially should attempt to restrict sodium intake.

That's not as easy as it might seem. Actually salt used at the table and in cooking contributes only about 1/3 of all salt consumed. The rest comes from food, especially processed foods. So cutting back on sodium requires some knowledge of the sodium content of foods. Unfortunately, foods do not have to be labelled as to salt or sodium - at present a company can elect to disclose if salt is an ingredient but even then it need not list the amounts of sodium. So about the only things I can suggest are as follows. First, read the label, even though quantities aren't listed, terms such as salt, sodium, or soda will tip you off to the presence of sodium. Second, don't use salt in cooking and remove the salt shaker from the table. Third, cook more from scratch and avoid convenience foods. Finally, beware of prepared seasonings and flavorings. This doesn't mean you need get along without seasonings - herbs, spices, lemon juice, salt-free garlic and onion powders and home-made catsup, mayonnaise and salad dressing can dress up foods very pleasantly.

Remember - the taste for salt is acquired and the threshold for salt goes down after a short time. In fact, once you go on a sodium-restricted diet your taste buds adjust and often you can't go back to salty foods at all.

themselves in their rooms until their money and food ran out.

When the first job program of the thirties was set up it was for large scale construction work and public projects. Eleanor Roosevelt had to remind the government about the women. But then only 300,000 of the women of the total work force were women. From 13 to 19 percent of the total force were women and more than half of these worked in the sewing rooms. The attitude towards working women became antagonistic and in 1936 Geo. Gallup asked the public whether wives of working men should hold jobs and 82 percent of them said No. In 1939, 77 percent of the schools, 84 percent of the insurance companies and 66 percent of the banks had restrictions against married women working. Now this same thing is happening again.

The unemployment percentage for women is only one percent higher than men says investigator Ellen Goodman. However few remind us that now as in the thirties, women retain jobs only when they work in the low-paid ghettos where the men do not apply.

Finally, Congress has passed the federal gas tax law to supply the funds for jobs-for men.

Men and women should not become competitors for jobs. A job program for men too helps the bulk of women who live in far where the men are the wage earners, she says.

Nowadays 52 percent of women in the country work out of every six families is maintained by women; when bulk of young families depends two workers, you just can't for about the women. It took decades for the women to become viable and now one has to "see" women who are out of work, do you?

And besides I was always of the side of the women, weren't you?

Mid-Winter Blahs?
 It's cold outside. There's snow in the air and slush on the streets. Your fingers are numb and your nose is starting to run. It's January in Michigan. It's the time of year when most of us wish we could be somewhere else.

Next year at this time you could be spending a week under warm and sunny skies. Just think no fingers and toes to thaw out, no sidewalks to shovel for a whole week!

Does that sound good to you? Social workers from the University of Michigan Herchelman and Lois Vitale reported on plans for the April 9 Mother's Day luncheon. Betty also passed around a newspaper article reporting on Beta Sigma Phi activities in the small town of Hillman, Michigan.

Since there was no program scheduled, the meeting was adjourned for refreshments and conversation.

Distinguished-Student Rank Received
 A total of 3,239 Purdue University students received distinguished-student rank for the fall semester of the 1982-83 school year.

The students represented, scholastically, approximately the 27,582 members of the 27,582

Hostess Marsha Chartrand and co-hostess Mary Frances Fielder welcomed members of Xi Epsilon Iota chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Tuesday evening, January 18.

The business meeting was conducted by President Jane Van Doren. Members heard a report on the Christmas wreath sale and the sale of salted nuts—both very successful fund-raising projects. The chapter thanks all of the people in the area who supported

In order to make yet another improvement to our Fairgrounds for this coming year, the Manchester Fair Board is searching for old TV towers. Since the arrival of cable television in Manchester, many homeowners may have found their old TV towers no longer needed.

Computers Toured

The Computer Class and the Computer Club from Manchester High School were able to visit the computer facilities of Double A Products on January 12th. Tammie Honer sets it up

by Jon Hardenbergh
With the spiking of Kari Agin and Colette Rickelmann and the Twentieth Century Club

At their January meeting, the ladies of the Twentieth Century Club traveled with Mrs. Leo Scully and Mrs. Roger Hardenbergh to China. We traveled from Hong Kong to Canton to Hwangjo to Shanghai. From Shanghai we went to Wuxi then to Nanking to Sion and Peking where we visited the Ming tombs nearby and tramped along the Great Wall; then on to Qweiling back to Canton and Hong Kong. Indeed, this was a spectacular interesting trip. The two narrators did not travel together and had some variation in their itineraries and experiences.

Also at the January meeting, the Ways and Means committee announced they will conduct a Dutch Auction at the next meeting. The proceeds will support our project which as in 1981 and 1982, is the Jaws of Life, much needed by the Manchester Township Fire Department. The next meeting is February 8 at the home of Mrs. Lamont Okey.

by Jon Hardenbergh
On Tuesday night we traveled west to take on Jackson Baptist. We again started slowly by falling behind by 17-18. Jackson Baptist seemed to fall asleep through the middle two periods as they tallied a mere 12 points. We knocked home 29 points in these 2 periods helping the final to 55-41. Dave Malcolm led all scorers popping for 14 as John Blumensaur and Jim Krzyzaniak hit for 12 and 10 points respectively.

Throw out the record book when Clinton comes to town. A person looking at the book, seeing the redskins had height, speed, shooting and a solid record would say it looks as if Clinton is all set, but I'll tell him NO. Throughout Friday's battle, Clinton acted asleep both offensively and defensively and we rolled to a 50-38 victory. The first period saw Clinton trying to handle our tough man to man defense and they failed as we out-scored them 11-7. John Blumensaur got into foul trouble right away, so off the pine came Mike Stinson. Mike played super and Dave Malcolm was hot so halftime came with us atop 29-13. The 'skins did hold the scoring edge in the final 2 periods 25-21 but this sure wasn't enough. I mentioned earlier Dave was hot—give him the sphere and swish—to the tune of 29 points. Pat Ridenour supplied some big buckets as he canned for 14 points.

Our overall record stands at 4-4 as we now go on the road for a Tuesday game at Britton then Friday visit Hudson.

Wrestlers Have Busy Week

Manchester wrestlers have a busy schedule this week. They meet Onsted at home Tuesday the 25th, and travel to Morenci on Thursday. Both meets begin at 7:30 p.m. On Saturday, January 29th, they will compete against Blissfield, Concord, Fowlerville, Grass Lake, Homer, Jonesville, Napoleon, Onsted, Springport, Stockbridge, Vandercook Lake, Clinton, Quincy, Whiteford and Morenci in a 10:00 a.m. tournament at Napoleon. The only activity scheduled the following week is a meet with Chelsea at home Thursday, February 3rd, at 7:30.

M.A.D.D.

Mothers Against Drunk Drivers will meet on Thursday, January 27, 1983, at 7:00 p.m. at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department on Hogback Road. Probation officer Nial Rasen will be present to explain the probation officer's role in the legal process as it relates to the drunk driver. There will also be a progress report on court monitoring.
