HIT or MISS BY FARLEY

The other day a learned doctor said that women live longer than men because they carry five pound purses and the extra weight increases the cardiovascular activity and adds to their longevity.

Men on the other hand are forced to slow down while walking so that their handicapped mates can catch up and their cardiovascular systems tend to be sluggish and subject to early degeneration.

A specific disease caused by purse carrying is described by Dr. Kurt W. Engle in a letter published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The doctor defines "ponderous purse disease" and compares it with "back pocket sciatica" which often afflicts men who carry their wallets in their hip pockets.

Back pocket sciatica, the doctor says, "is caused by pressure on the sciatic nerve in the gluteal region." He also has another related condition, ponderous disease in shoulder purse users. Both diseases are highly sex limited - back pocket sciatica in men and ponderous purse disease in women.

The purse disease is manifest by tenderness, pain and tenderness and spasm in local areas. Constant contraction of the muscles on the side of the ponderous shoulder purse side results in tenderness and spasms in upper-shoulder and lateral stabilizer neck muscles.

The hope for a cure is unknown. "Prevention of ponderous-purse disease is so logical that to point it out may be piraculous" says the good doctor. His advice has almost no persuasance. An unfavored but seldom tried cure is the shifting of the shoulder purse followed by "contralateralizing of the pain and needless postponement of the cure." He goes on to say that "switching to a hand held purse is subjectively objectionable."

"And so, like hookworm in societies where people won't wear shoes, the disease appears destined to remain endemic in ours" he continues.

Florence Cryst says that women live longer than men because they "had a later and better start. God made Adam out of a bit of dust but he made Eve out of a rib of the great big strong wonderful and handsome Adam."

Robert Nathan sums up the situation in this important discussion by writing that "in the old days before ERA, women always walked behind their men carrying either their youngest child or a large stone, the idea that the man would meet the first charge of the enemy, and, if he lost the fight, the woman would have, at least, something with which to smack the foe."

And so now that this most important subject has been properly evaluated and discussed, you may find levity or irony in this very learned discussion.

The rate of inflation has slowed. This means that we are now walking and not jogging to the poorhouse.

Nowadays we fill with entertainment the blank spots that used to be filled with thinking.

Professional athletes are paid high salaries, possibly to offset the humiliation of not having useful employment.

Bank Robbery in Manchester

Reprint from the Manchester Enterprise, dated October 12, 1976

The People's Bank Broken Open-The Safe Badly Shattered-The Vault Considerably Damaged-The Amount Of Money Taken Out Quite Large-The Damage To Vault, Safe, Etc., Will Exceed Several Hundred Dollars-They Made A Clean Sweep, and Left No Money Behind but a Bag of Copper.

On Monday night last, or rather early Tuesday morning, our quiet village was somewhat shaken up, as if caused by a small earthquake. A noise, like the shooting of cannon, was heard by a few people living on Exchange Place, and thinking that it was a party of men out on a "jamboree," who were rejoicing over some political victory, they paid no attention to it. The night was very windy, and consequently the report of the explosion was not heard at a very great distance.

About five o'clock in the morning, parties that were passing along the street saw a dilapidated state of things in the bank building, who hurried inside and helped to gather up papers, etc., which were scattered all over the floor in confusion. The cashier was promptly on hand, and with the assistance of the citizens soon got the papers straightened up.

So complete was the dreadful work done, that by all appearances the party must have been used to that kind of business.

A large hole was cut through the brick work into the vault, and the safe was then blown open. The concussion was so great as to shatter a large front window, on the east side, all to pieces.

They must have entered at the back door, as the lock was broken off, and the door somewhat battered.

It was a dreadful shock to the whole community, as it had been the heaviest robbery the citizens of Manchester ever experienced. It was very fortunate that the building did not take fire, otherwise the loss would have been still greater, as other valuable property was at peril.

Officer Hines, of Jackson, arrived in this village yesterday morning, who will work up the case and endeavor to capture the scoundrels.

In Minnesota and other Western States they make quick work with such parties, and scour the whole country until they capture the desperadoes.

We hope that the parties will be all captured, and receive the full extend of the law. Judge Lynch is

Computerized Blood X-Ray At U of M Hospitals

Linda Barry, a University of Michigan Hospitals x-ray technologist, uses a computer to enhance the x-ray image of the neck of a patient (right, background). The video display shows the carotid arteries (major blood vessels leading to the brain) taken on U-M Hospitals' new digital subtraction angiography equipment. It works by the same principle that allows space probes to send back pictures to earth. The procedure is safer and more comfortable for the patient and can be performed on an outpatient basis.

The kind of computerized numerical system used to transmit and improve pictures radioed from U.S. space probes is now mapping patients' blood vessels in a special x-ray exam in The University of Michigan Hospitals.

The computer-assisted procedure is called digital subtraction angiography (DSA), a safer, less expensive way to produce angiographs-x-ray images of arteries and veins.

A television camera captures the images produced by the x-rays passing through the patient's body. The computer "translates" the picture into digital information assigning numbers to the different densities of more than 250,000 points on the picture.

The numbers can be stored on magnetic tape and manipulated by the computer to enhance the images they form. The radiologists can see the images almost immediately on the computer's monitor.

As in all angiographic procedures, the patients receive injections of radiopaque "dye" or contrast medium that makes the blood vessels stand out from other body tissues.

The main advantage of DSA, is that the contrast can be injected into a vein instead of an artery. As it circulates through the blood stream, the contrast material is diluted, but the DSA technology can detect lower concentrations of contrast than standard equipment.

DSA will be extremely valuable as a screening tool and will eliminate the need for more involved, higher risk procedures for many patients, say the radiologists.

But it will not totally replace conventional angiography. Conventional angiography gives more detailed information and is often sharper. One reason is that selective arterial injection allows the radiologists to get images of only certain blood vessels. Because they inject the contrast into only the artery they need to see, overlying blood vessels don't interfere with the images as they would in DSA.

Manchester Students Do Well On M.E.A.P. Tests

The recently released results of the Michigan Educational Assessment Program tests administered in grades 4, 7 and 10 to all students in the state of Michigan indicate that Manchester students tend to score better on the tests than the average state wide.

The Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) is designed to measure basic skills in reading and mathematics. The results of the tests are designed to assist teachers as they determine strengths and weaknesses for each student.

The results show that 79% of the Manchester 4th graders have mastered at least 75% of the math skills. Seventy Three percent of the 7th graders have mastered the math skills while 78% of the 10th graders have done so.

In reading 80% of the Manchester 4th graders had mastered 75% of the skills. Seventh and tenth graders had mastered 86% and 92% respectively. These data indicate that Manchester students tend to score considerably higher than state averages.

Superintendent Gene Tompson commented, "These test data once more indicate how strong the Manchester basic skills program really is. We have considerable evidence to show that our students can read and compute mathematics with a high degree of skill. These test data are very valuable as we examine our curriculum for strengths and weaknesses. They enable us to pinpoint very specific problems which are in need of attention. For example, we noted that a fair number of our students in the fourth grade were having a problem with alphabetizing. With this information we will be able to make simple adjustments in our curriculum to solve the problem."

Test data have been distributed to parents in grades 4, 7 and 10. If any parents have not received the information they are encouraged to contact the school in order to obtain a copy of their child's results.

Bank Robbery

the law such fellows ought to receive.

It is about time this village should have a night-watch, as the merchants need protection from burglary as well as from fire. Glass fronts will not keep out burglars. The expense of a night-watchman would be very small to each business man.

Railroad Society "50-50 Campaign"

The Southern Michigan Railroad Society, Inc. has announced plans for its "50-50 Campaign". The plan to raise $50,000 in 50 days (50-50) will be to support the Society's project to purchase the former New York Central railroad line that runs between Lenawee Junction, MI to Clinton, MI. The line will then be operated as a "living" museum with passenger trains of antique railway equipment such as steam locomotives and passenger coaches.

The Society wants to raise the $50,000, through various methods, from the general public by March 20. This money will then be used as a down payment on the railroad line.

Since the end of November, the Society has been holding a "Buy-A-Tie" campaign. This plan has been very successful, and it is now to be integrated into the "50-50 Campaign". When a supporter "buys" a tie, he receives a tie certificate stating that he is the honorary owner of the ties he bought, and when the rail line is purchased, his name will be placed on an actual tie on the railroad or displayed in the museum.

The "Buy-A-Tie" campaign will now be expanded. Several community clubs and organizations will be selling ties with a part of the proceeds going directly to that club. Ties will also be available, along with Society memberships, T-Shirts, and engineer hats at many local businesses in Tecumseh and Clinton. Members receive the privilege of participating in Society activities, attending its meetings, and taking part in its elections.

The Society is also planning a "Railroad Week" in Tecumseh and Clinton from February 28 to March 5. A series of talks and films is planned, and it is suggested that local businesses participate by holding "Railroad Days" sales on Friday and Saturday. On those days, Society members will be collecting contributions on the streets in Tecumseh and Clinton.

The Society is asking everyone to do his part to preserve this historic rail line. Anyone desiring more information on the Society, or who wishes to participate, is invited to call General Manager Jeffrey Dobek at 423-7989 or Secretary Celia Davison at 456-7029.

Youth Fellowship Participate In "ROCK-A-THON"

The Manchester United Methodist Youth Fellowship participated in a "Rock-A-Thon" beginning Saturday at 1:00 p.m. The thirteen youth rocked for twenty hours - completing their task at 9:00 a.m. Sunday morning. The rockers were Mitzi Ahrens, Brian Gebhardt, Cheryl Kempfer, Heidi Mottice, Heather Mottice, Ron Milkey, Lisa Knickerbocker, Laura Walton, Traci Modrzewski, Robert Gillow, Colin Anderson, Craig Houck and Andy Hart. The donations raised will help to send the youth to Red Mission in Kentucky during Easter vacation in April. The youth will give a monetary donation to the mission. Besides the adult counselors and parents, the youth are grateful to all the sponsors who supported them in this adventure.

Manchester Area Historical Society

Loren Heller will be at the Manchester Mill, Monday night, February 21, to auction off the "Boxes" for the Manchester Area Historical Society Box Social. This is the second annual event for this activity, so don't miss the fun and food provided by the occasion.

The regular meeting of the Society begins at 7:30, when the box makers bring in their offerings and buyers get their bidding numbers. There will be games galore with all the equipment furnished. If you have a favorite that you think might not be available, bring your own or call Mrs. Omar Robbins to check on it. A sing-a-long will range through favorites of the 1900's with the Richardson Memorial piano carrying the tunes.

There will be a brief business meeting and then the famous auction. Boxes are as stated in last week's Enterprise, the creation of their makers - large enough to hold the evening's feast for two and containing the name of the originator INSIDE the box for the buyers identification when he opens his prize. (No one guarantees you'll get your partner's box!)

The proceeds of the sale goes to the Society's Building Fund for the purchase and upkeep of the Old Blacksmith Shop which will be in working order for the March meeting.

Coffee, tea and trimmings are furnished by the committee. See you Monday night!

Cross-Country Skiing In Waterloo

The public is cordially invited to bring their cross-country skis and come use the hilly and sometimes challenging trails of the Waterloo Nature Center.

Enjoy the mystery and beauty of the winter landscape. Follow the ski trails and discover the life that thrives amidst the snow and ice crystals. Pause to observe the tracks of mice, deer, pheasant, and other field and woodland dwellers. Let their tracks tell the story of life in a world which at first glance appears lifeless.

As you come upon Mill Lake, marvel at the vista that opens before you and remember that this and Michigan's other inland lakes are a legacy that have been left to us by the glaciers, unseen sculptors that carved, gouged and molded our land.

Be aware not only of the sights but of the different sounds which greet your ears. Listen for the soft muted sounds when the snow is soft and cushioning or the cracking and crunching sounds when the mercury drops and your eyes are dazzled by the shimmering jewels of ice encrusted branches and buds. Keep an ear peeled for the chattering of angry squirrels or the snorting of startled deer.

The Oak-woods trail and Mill Lake loop provide you with over four miles of ski trails. Parking at the Nature Center is free and does not require a State Park Motor Vehicle Permit as do other areas in Waterloo Recreation Area. However, there is a $1.00 trail fee per person which helps to offset trail maintenance. Members of the Waterloo Natural History Association do not have to pay. Maps of the area are available at the booth in the parking lot. For further information call the Nature Center at 475-8069, Tuesday through Thursday 9 - 3.

Please leave a message if no one is available to answer your questions. The Nature Center may be reached by taking I-94 to exit 157. Head north on Pierce Road as far as you can go. Turn left on Bush Road, drive for about 1/4 mile and the Nature Center will be on your left.

1982 Gas Prices Drop 8.6 Cents

The average monthly price of self-serve no-lead along Michigan's major roads dropped 8.6 cents per gallon from January to December in 1982. That was the first year since the Automobile Club of Michigan began its weekly "fuel gauge" survey in 1973 that gasoline cost less at year's end than at the start. Self-serve no-lead in 1982 averaged $1.361 per gallon in January and declined for 17 weeks to $1.220. For the year's low, prices climbed for the next 12 weeks, peaking at $1.359 before dropping to $1.275 in a 23-week decline. In 1981, self-serve no-lead's average monthly price rose 4.8 cents from January to December.

Senator Carl Levin's
WASHINGTON

MESSED-UP PRIORITIES

I recently offered the Democratic response to President Reagan's weekly radio address. In his speech, the President said that things are getting better, that unemployment is coming down. Last month's drop in the unemployment figures may mean that this needlessly long and deep recession has reached its bottom. We certainly hope so.

But I'm worried that the President has misunderstood their meaning and misjudged their magnitude. When looked at closely, virtually all of the improvement in the unemployment numbers results from a reduction in the work force, not an increase in jobs.

To the President, the new unemployment rate means that his program is working; to me, it means that 11.4 million of our fellow citizens are not. To the President, those figures mean that we are on the mend; to me, they mean that the victims of the continuing recession are still in need of intensive care.

The President seems satisfied with his economic program. In his speech, he recalled that unemployment rates in Flint and Detroit -- in my home state -- were 20% and 18% respectively, back in 1980. Well, I've been to Flint and Detroit since then -- something the President hasn't done since his campaign -- and I can tell you things are much worse there now than they were before.

And Flint and Detroit aren't alone. The 5,000 people who stood in lines throughout the freezing night to apply for 100 jobs in a plant in Wisconsin do not sense that an economic recovery is under way. The auto and steel workers who now shiver in soup kitchens instead of feeding the furnaces in our industrial heartland do not believe that the recession has bottomed out.

All of us -- Democrats and Republicans -- need to work together so that the American people can work again.

There are a few principles which will help us out of our economic plight.

Principle 1 -- We need immediate action to deal with human tragedies of historic dimension. Budget Director David Stockman said that federal support for distribution of food to the hungry and shelter for the homeless is "something we should look into." In the name of heaven, after years of misery, this is not something we should just be looking into -- it is something we should now be doing.

Principle 2 -- Economic recovery may come, but we cannot wait for it. The President said that he could support a jobs program if it did not cost anything. Mr. President -- joblessness costs us everything. Every percentage point of unemployment costs the Treasury $26 billion; and it costs our people their sense of confidence and self-worth. A jobs program is a way out of the dead end of unemployment; making work available is not the same thing as make-work.

Principle 3 -- If sacrifices are required -- and they are -- then they should be shared fairly. The President says he wants a freeze on federal spending but his budget calls for a $30 billion increase in defense and cut of hundreds of millions for unemployment and training and a cut of $300 million for child nutrition. At the same time that natural gas prices are rising by 25% to consumers, the President's budget calls for a 34% cut in low-income energy assistance. If a budget freeze is needed -- and it may well be -- then it needs to be across the board and the defense budget has to be on the board.

Principle 4 -- Economic growth and permanent employment must be our goal. For this to happen, we must reduce the President's huge deficits or risk having government borrowing collide with the demands of the private economy, driving interest rates up to new levels, and choking off economic recovery.

Our people are in trouble. And our government is not responding. We have excessive tax cuts for the wealthy and soup kitchens for the unemployed.

We have a budget that cuts domestic programs but calls for a 10 percent increase in spending for the Office of the White House.

We have enough nuclear weapons to blow up the world and the budget requests billions for more.

These are messed-up priorities. Congress has to change them -- and on a bipartisan basis. We have to begin to restore our national health, revitalize our economy, and regenerate our spirits. For the sake of our people, let's get on with it.

'82 Gasoline Prices Drop

The cost of gasoline in Michigan during 1982 was less in December than January, the first time that has happened since the Automobile Club of Michigan began tracking pump prices a decade ago.

That unprecedented price turnaround was for all grades sold along major roads and in Metropolitan Detroit.

The Auto Club "fuel gauge" surveys showed the average monthly cost of self-serve unleaded gasoline at 300 stations along main state highways fell 8.6 cents in 1982 to $1.275 per gallon. That compares with a 4.8 cents per gallon increase in the average monthly cost of that grade in 1981.

Self-serve unleaded averaged $1.361 per gallon in January and declined to $1.22 in April, for the year's low. Average monthly prices climbed to a high of $1.359 in July and dropped each month for the rest of the year.

The Auto Club cited abundant supplies and energy conservation as major factors in reducing gasoline prices.

From the 1973 oil embargo through 1981, gasoline prices increased steadily as the costs of crude oil rose. Last year crude oil prices dropped and motorists benefited from lower costs, the Auto Club noted.

Gasoline consumption has declined in Michigan for four consecutive years. Last year, usage fell 5 percent through November compared with the same period of 1981.

The Auto Club said that decline reflects conservation and more fuel-efficient vehicles.

In addition to the decline for self-serve unleaded gas, prices moved downward for other grades across the state.

Self-serve regular costs along main state highways fell 8.6 cents from January to December to an average $1.207 per gallon. At full-serve pumps, unleaded gasoline dropped 2.4 cents by year's end to an average $1.421 per gallon while regular decreased 3 cents to $1.368 a gallon.

In Metropolitan Detroit, the year-end price of self-serve unleaded was down 11.8 cents to an average $1.214 per gallon. The average cost of regular decreased 10.3 cents to $1.142 per gallon. Full-serve costs fell to an average $1.416 for unleaded, a 4.9 cents drop and to an average $1.352 for regular, down 5 cents.

The Auto Club used only cash prices for its surveys. Last year some oil companies introduced two-tier, cash-credit pricing systems in Michigan, which cost credit customers an average 4 cents per gallon more.

How To... Reduce Heat Loss from Your Fireplace

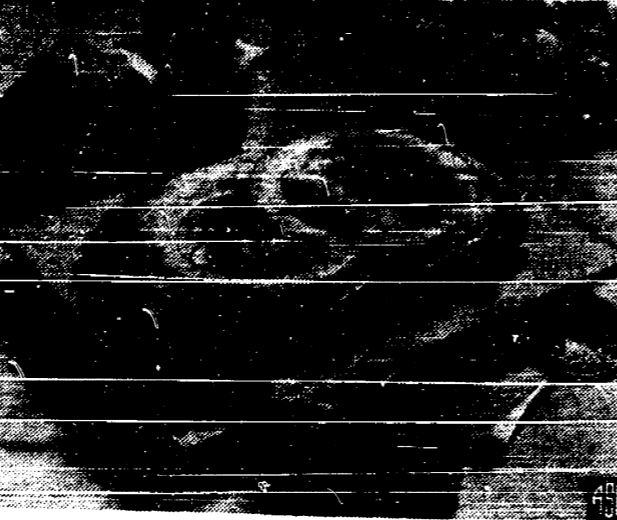

Fireplaces are quaint, picturesque openings in your house...through which huge quantities of heat are sucked up to warm the great outdoors. Sad but true, the Santa Claus entrance to your house is a bottomless pit into which you could be dumping money.

Well, anytime is a good time for a simple weekend project to do something about sealing your fireplace. It will save you money during the next cold weather period.

Continuing articles on energy conservation in Mechanix Illustrated note some handsome and economical solutions to fireplace heat loss. You can buy air-tight doors to do the job. Or, a new wrinkle is the pre-fab modular slip-in unit which not only prevents house heat from escaping, but also acts as an independent heat source.

CORRECTION: In a previous "How-To," we said that the malle end of a wood stove pipe should always be pointed up in order to eliminate creosote drip. We erred. The male pipe should always be on top pointed down.

Shower For The Bride-To-Be

Planning a special shower for the bride-to-be? Ring of Promise Salad is the perfect recipe to add to the buffet table -- it's pretty and delicious! Unflavored gelatin is used to mold a luscious blend of sour cream, sherbet, pineapple, celery and nuts. Make one ring, or if many guests are expected, make two and entwine for a double ring effect.

This recipe is one of many in the exciting new cookbook, "The Grand Performer." To order, send $2.50 (check or money order only made payable to Knox Gelatine, Inc.) with your name, address and zip code to: THE GRAND PERFORMER, P.O. BOX 8228MR, CLINTON, IOWA 52736 (allow 5 to 8 weeks for delivery). An offer of Knox Gelatine, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, NJ 07632. Offer expires when supplies are exhausted.

- Ring Of Promise Salad
- 1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple in natural juice, drained (reserve juice)
 - 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
 - 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 1-1/4 cups sour cream
 - 1 cup lemon or orange sherbet, softened
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
 - 1/4 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

Mix reserved juice with enough water to equal 1-1/4 cups; heat to boiling.

In large bowl, mix unflavored gelatin with sugar; add hot juice and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. With wire whip or rotary beater, blend in sour cream and sherbet. Let stand until mixture is slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into 8-cup ring mold or bowl; chill until firm. Makes about 10 servings.

NOTE: For a double entwined-ring effect, make 2 single rings as above. Cut a section (about 1/3) from one ring; place inside second ring. Line up remaining 2/3 of cut ring alongside uncut ring to give entwined effect.

Students Help Plan County-Wide Meeting

Two Manchester High students have been named to the Planning Committee for a county-wide student leadership conference. The conference, part of Project Outreach, a state-wide program being conducted by the State Department of Education, will be held on the North Campus of the University of Michigan on May 2. Beth Fahey, a sophomore, and Jon Chapman, a junior, are representing Manchester on the Committee.

All schools in the county have two representatives on the Committee which is planning the all-day conference with the help of consultants from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District and the State Department of Education. The Committee held its first meeting on February 11 and additional planning meetings have been scheduled.

Manchester High will have five students attending the May conference.

Winners of the scholarships will be selected on the basis of (1) significant contribution to the community, (2) previous grades, (3) vocational goals and (4) a recommendation.

Applications for the scholarships are available from the Financial Aids Office in Room 223 of the Student Center Building. For further details, call WCC staff at (313) 973-3523 or write them at P.O. Box D-1, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48106. Completed applications must be returned by May 15, 1983 to the Financial Aids Office.

of her class, as well as President of the Student Council. In the U.S. Senate Youth Scholarship Program, she was the Manchester High winner and placed third in the Regional competition. Active in a wide range of school affairs she has served on several important school committees, and has done a great deal to promote spirit and unity at her school. She was captain of cheerleaders for both the football and basketball teams. She has demonstrated concern for others by being active in a tutoring group and by serving as a teacher in the Sunday School of her church. In the fall, her plans are to enroll at The University of Michigan where she has been accepted in the Honors Program. Melissa's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Bunney of Manchester.

The participating schools make the final selection of their outstanding Good Citizen. They do this on the basis of scholarship, leadership, dependability, service to home, community and church, and for patriotism. All selected Good Citizens have the opportunity to enter competition for the DAR of Michigan Good Citizen Award to be presented in East Lansing early in April. They enter by writing an essay on a subject specified for their year. This year candidates for State honors wrote on "Our American Heritage And Our Responsibility For Preserving It."

Assembled at Clements Library for the Awards were parents, family members, school representatives, and members of the DAR. A reception for honored guests preceded the program. Presiding at the presentation was Mrs. Arnold L. Nelson, Chapter Regent. The honored students were introduced by Mrs. Thomas Shea, Chairman of the Chapter's Good Citizens Committee. In remembrance of the honor and the occasion, each Good Citizen received an Award Certificate, a Good Citizens pin, and a small desk-size flag with stand.

Our Dribblers Remain Hot

by Jon Hardenbergh
Manchester was victorious in both contests played this past week, so we now have 7 wins in our last 8 outings. We trek to Blissfield on Friday then on Tuesday, the 22nd, we host Dundee.

On Tuesday, we greeted the Pirates of Napoleon to our gym. The last meeting was won by us with 7 ticks left—but not this time. We had our running, gunning game in high gear as we just scored and scored. We had a good cushion at 21-9 after the opening 8 minutes and it just got higher—as we sat atop by 32 in mid third period. The benchers were able to get a lot of play time as this rout ended 75-55. Dave Malcolm continues to set the nets on fire as he dumped in 21. Jim Krzyzaniak supplied a solid 14 point offering as Mike Agin layed 11 points.

On Friday, we entered Pantherland and despite their not too bright season—they can't be overlooked. Addison did take the lead after 1 period 10 to 7 but we rallied to hold the edge at halftime 21-17. We have been a second half squad many times this season and this night was another. We entered the third period up 4 and closed it ahead 13. We just kept putting the ball in the hoop to out-score the Panthers 22 to 11 making the final 61-37. Dave Malcolm was unstoppable as he canned 21 with Jim Krzyzaniak hitting 13.

Our Little Dutch followed the varsity win fever as they downed Napoleon and ran over Addison 64-44.

Manchester Spikers Share Top Honors

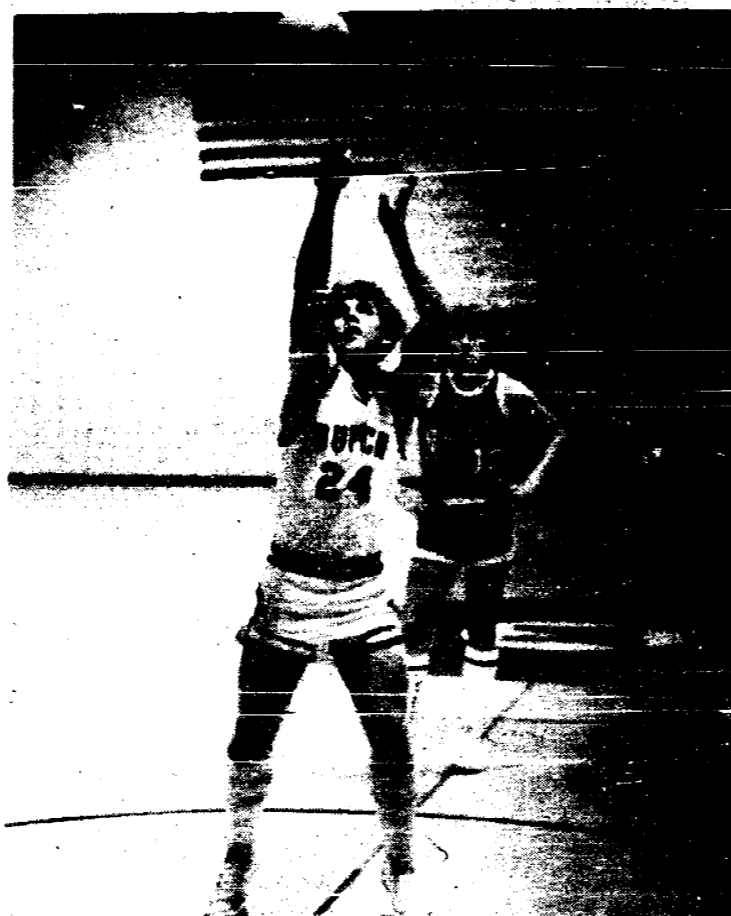

by Jon Hardenbergh
Before this past weeks' games, we sat atop the L.C.A.A. along with Hudson and Blissfield. Unfortunately Hudson downed us Monday, but we recouped Thursday to beat Blissfield while Hudson lost. Therefore the top spot still goes to us, the Tigers and the Royals. By the time you read this, the Dundee game from Monday will be history (Dundee is the team that upset Hudson). You can see us in Clinton for an early game Thursday or catch us at Gabriel Richard on Monday, February 21.

On Monday, Hudson came to town and just ripped us apart winning the first 2 games to end it 9-15 and 6-15. Kari Agin had 8 spikes and 6 points while Sarah Platt had 6 assists.

Of course we needed to defeat Blissfield on their home court Thursday and we did. We took the first game 15-10 but fell asleep for the next game letting the Royals back in the set 0-15. Maybe this gave Blissfield a false sense of security as we came at them and won 15-7. Lisa Rieckmann set a Dutch season point record posting 15 while the Honer-Agin combo clicked. Tammie Honer had 15 assists as Kari Agin slammed 13 times. Currently we stand 7-2 in the league and have a good 12-3 overall record.

Church Women United

At a recent executive committee meeting of the Manchester Unit of Church Women United, the members planned to hold a rummage sale again this spring, as they have for the past two years. You are urged to begin saving rummage now to assure a successful sale. It will be held on Saturday, May 14th at Emanuel United Church of Christ. Save your rummage until the week immediately preceding the sale, at which time you may leave it off at the church between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Part of the proceeds from the sale will go toward our support of Church Women United's Fund for the Fifth Decade. Church Women United recently celebrated its 40th Anniversary. Now, as they enter their 5th decade of existence, they will undergird and give impetus to their endeavors and provide for both immediate and long range financial needs through monies raised for the Fund of the Fifth Decade.

Another part of the rummage sale proceeds will go toward local organizations and institutions we wish to support. Last year Church Women United of Manchester made donations to the Manchester Family Service, the Ecumenical Campus Center and the St. Louis School for Boys. We hope to continue giving to these and other worthy causes on a yearly basis. Your continued support is appreciated.

Two up-coming events of interest to all women in our community are the World Day of Prayer Celebration on Friday, March 4th, 1:30 p.m., at the Sharon United Methodist Church, and the Lenten Breakfast on Wednesday, March 30, 9:30 a.m. at Emanuel United Church of Christ. There will be more information in the paper regarding both of these events. In the meantime, you are all welcome and invited to attend both, so mark your calendars with the dates.

If you have old towers you think the Fair could use, please call Doug Parr at 428-5243 (Manchester Electric).

HYPOTHERMIA AND INFLUENZA: TWO COLD-WEATHER HAZARDS FOR THE ELDERLY

Again this winter, as outdoor temperatures plummet, many elderly Americans will be exposed to temperatures so low that they develop hypothermia, a condition in which the body's internal temperature drops to 95° or lower. If not detected and treated promptly, hypothermia can be fatal. Because older people are particularly sensitive to the cold, even mildly cold temperatures of 60° to 65° can be dangerous.

At highest risk of developing hypothermia are the relatively small number of aged persons who, for unknown reasons, can neither feel cold nor shiver and so cannot produce body heat when they need it. Also vulnerable are those who have diseases that limit their activity or mental awareness, who have circulation problems or who are taking certain types of drugs, such as phenothiazines, that are used to treat anxiety, agitation and nausea.

Another threat to the elderly at this time of the year is influenza, which usually strikes during cold weather and strikes hardest at persons 65 and older and at individuals of any age who have certain chronic medical conditions, among them diabetes, diseases of the heart, lungs and kidneys, severe anemia and illnesses (or medications) that lower the body's resistance to disease. Since 1968, influenza epidemics have accounted for an estimated 200,000 deaths in this country.

Guarding Against Hypothermia: Older people can act to prevent hy-pothemia by dressing warmly, eating properly and keeping active. Because hypothermia often starts during sleep, they should wear warm nightclothes and use enough blankets to keep warm. Older people who are taking medicines should ask their doctors whether those medicines might affect their body temperature or their ability to feel cold.

It's a good idea for friends and relatives to look in on elderly persons frequently when the weather is cold. Signs of hypothermia are changes in appearance or behavior; slow, sometimes irregular heart-beat; slurred speech; shallow, very slow breathing; sluggishness and confusion. Anyone who detects signs of hypothermia in an elderly person should send for emergency medical help at once, then keep the victim warm, by wrapping him or her in a blanket and perhaps providing small quantities of warm food and non-alcoholic drink, until help arrives.

Preventing Influenza and Its Complications: Everyone with medical conditions likely to be complicated by influenza should be vaccinated annually before the cold-weather flu season begins. Since the vaccine requires about four weeks (after the shot) to take full effect, or to provide maximum protection, persons who have yet to be vaccinated should see their doctors right away. Another step that people at high risk for flu can take to reduce their chances of becoming seriously ill is to stop smoking. That's good advice for anyone, in any season, but of immediate concern is a recent report, published in the New England Journal of Medicine, that indicates a greater danger from influenza for cigarette smokers.

Four Manchester High School students will have the honor of being the first team ever from Manchester to compete in the Alma College High School Quiz Bowl. Team members are seniors Melissa Bunney (Captain) and Rod Henry; junior Katie Miller; and sophomore Betsy Royle. The alternate for the team is Jay Wilde, a junior. They are coached by Mr. Richard Parson, the high school guidance counselor. The team has been meeting regularly before school to practice for their first match which will be held on Saturday, February 19 at 1 p.m. at Alma College.

The competition is divided into two classifications depending on the enrollment of the school. There are 32 teams in the A-B division and 32 teams in the C-D division, of which Manchester will be one. A team competes head to head against another team with the winner advancing to the next round. Participants will be questioned on such wide-ranging subjects as U.S. History, science, literature, world geography, poetry, and famous quotations. An $8000 scholarship is awarded to the winning school in each division and a $4000 scholarship to each runner-up.
