Settlement That Led To Manchester Was Mile Or More East Of Present Business Section

The first building erected in this township was a log house on the east side of the river, not far from where the Creamery now stands. The nineteenth century was scarcely of age when that occurred and we have little record to fix the date.

The river was dammed and a saw mill erected on the east bank near John White's residence where the few early settlers hauled logs to be sawed into planks, boards and timbers used in some of the residences that are still occupied by our citizens. The quality of timber those days was first-class oak, walnut, whitewood, etc.

Among the residences now standing and occupied that were erected in those early days is the home erected by Mr. Sole, which is now owned by R.G. Sontor. The location of the site overlooking the Raisin valley and the prosperous village of Manchester, must have been an inspiration in the early pioneer days, for it is yet one of the most sightly of the many charming views in this locality. Mr. Sole possessed many acres of virgin soil and established a comfortable estate, which for many years was considered the pioneer's home, until willing hands erected at least a temporary abode for the new settler in the locality.

There were many Indians in these parts in those days, but they were mostly roving bands, though they spent some time fishing in the river and hunting for deer, etc., in the primeval forest.

A grist mill was erected on the west bank of the river, where the municipal light and water plant now stands, and there was a row of residences, stores, shops, etc., extending from the top of the hill south of the creamery, down past the mills and to the top of the hill where Thomas Lamming now resides, and north as far as the Ypsilanti railroad. People are still living who can remember when general stores, a shoe shop, cabinet shop, tavern, plaster mill, cooper shop and other small industries there were well patronized. The residence of Henry Steingeweg was among the most pretentious ones erected in those early days by Jabez Fountain, the miller.

Solesville had a school house but no church and perhaps that accounts for its losing out when Manchester was established.

HIT or MISS BY FARLEY

The following was given me some time ago with the request that if possible could I publish it in my column, that he thought it well worth while, so here tis. It was written by the member of a church committee assembled to choose a new pastor. He had heard the board reject applicant after applicant for some fault imaginary or factual and had become disgusted with the whole affair so he stood up and read a letter supposed to have been from another applicant for the job. It read as follows:

"Gentlemen: I understand your pulpit is vacant and I should like to apply for the position. I have many qualifications and have been a preacher with much success and as a writer. It's said that I am a good organizer. I've been an organizer and a leader in most places that I have been.

"I'm over 50 years of age and have never preached in one place for more than three years. In some places I have left town after my work has caused riots and disturbances.

"I admit I have been in jail three or four times, but not because of any wrongdoing. My health is not too good although I still get a great deal done. The churches I have preached in are small though located in several large cities. I've not got along with religious leaders in towns where I have preached. Some have threatened me and even attacked me physically. I am not too good at keeping records. I have been known to forget whom I have baptized. However, if you can use me I will do my best for you."

The reader looked over the members and said "What do you think. Shall we hire him?"

The good church folks were aghast. Call an unhealthy, trouble making absent-minded ex-jailbird. Was the board member crazy? Who signed that application? Who had such a

Wrestling Tournament Results

Van Talcott has returned home from the State Class C Wrestling Tournament at Middleville. Although unable to place, he reports that it was an unforgettable experience to compete at the state level. From the Grand March on Friday morning, when all contestants were given a standing ovation, to the last championship match late Saturday, the weekend was packed with action, drama and many examples of fine sportsmanship.

The state championship was won by Montrose, with New Lothrop runner-up. Area wrestlers who placed are Kirt Peterson of Ida, 4th at 112 lbs; Todd Barrett of Addison, 6th at 112; Scott Marry of Hudson, 4th at 119; Ed Stempson of Dundee, 2nd at 126; Todd Brown of Dundee, 3rd at 132; Don Houghton of Addison, 3rd at 138; Ron Oberly of Dundee, 4th at 156;

Joe Wolcott of Hudson, 5th at 167; and Kurt Kraftchick of Ida, 6th at 185.

In a break with tradition, the parents of one wrestler were introduced. All five sons of Mr. and Mrs. Severn of Montrose have been state quality wrestlers. On Saturday night their youngest son, Rod, won the tenth state championship in their family. He also set a new national record, with 88 pins in two years. Rating a standing ovation from the large but mannerly crowd was the performance of Tim Balsecki, 126 lbs, of Comstock Park. A state champion three years out of four, he is also a grand national and world freestyle champion. His high school record is 174 wins and 3 losses. Including freestyle he has a lifetime record of 790 wins and 43 losses. Matt Strickler, 138 lbs, of Pontiac Catholic Central set a new national record with the most wins in a single year; he is 65-0 this season.

Coach Chuck Benedict and the entire team wish to thank the parents and other fans for their support this year. Best wishes go to June graduates Dave Rodriguez and Jim Burch. Next year's seniors will be Jeff Daubner, Bart Nickerson, Bob Curley and Jeff Kunzelmann; juniors, Van Talcott, Steve Vleck and Allan Kuhl; sophomores, B.J. Lee, Joey Deacona, Bill Broucek, Mike McClellan, Brian Waldron and Tom Neff. Hopefully they and a new crop of freshmen and other recruits will have a successful first season in our new league next year.

Winter sports recognition ceremonies will be held in the High School Gym at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 16; the public is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

Winter Athletic Recognition

The winter athletic recognition will be held on Wednesday, March 16, 1983 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym. Basketball, Volleyball, Wrestling, and Cheerleading participants will be presented with awards. The public is invited.

Word Processing Comes To Middle School

Mr. John McGuire, sixth grade teacher, explains word processing to a student.

Word processing has been introduced to our sixth, seventh, and eighth graders as part of the middle school's micro-computer program. It is used on a limited basis with some of our sixth grade students and has developed into a nine-week program for our seventh and eighth graders.

The program focuses on the importance of developing typing skills and shows students the practical uses of word processing. Students are taught how they can insert and delete parts of a text, rearrange the order of a document, and store the document for future use or revision. Editing one's work turns out to be fast and simple and saves valuable time, manpower, and money. Students are also encouraged to use word processing when working on reports, speeches, and term papers.

Mr. Bill Symons, Mr. John McGuire, and Mr. Doug McLeod are actively involved in this portion of our micro-computer program and are working together to design more activities aimed at expanding our word processing program.

"Good fertilizer and pesticide management on the farm results in two things; optimal return on the dollar for the farmer, and cleaner streams and lakes for everyone," says Ron Struss, Cooperative Extension Agricultural Agent. A workshop which explores proper fertilizer and pesticide use on the farm is being held by the Cooperative Extension Service, MSU, on March 15, 1-4 p.m. at the Saline City Hall, 100 N. Harris. Extension Agents from Monroe and Washtenaw counties will discuss correct soil sampling techniques, calculating fertilizer rates and determining optimal fertilizer placement. Selection of the right herbicide and insecticide for the job and recommended pesticide application techniques will also be covered.

The workshop is an activity of the Saline Valley Project, Rural Clean Water Program, USDA, and is open to all interested. The Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Office can be contacted at 973-9510 for further workshop information.

Unplug It. . . . And Be Safe

Always unplug any small electrical product after using it, cautions the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers (AHAM) and Underwriters Laboratories (UL).

Don't assume that if the switch is "off," there's no danger of electrocution. This may not be true if the product comes into contact with water.

Electrocutions may occur in kitchens, bathrooms or outdoors - anywhere near water sources.

Never use any electrical product while bathing or put it where it can drop or be pulled into the tub or sink. If the appliance accidentally falls into the water, don't reach into the water for it. Unplug it immediately at the wall outlet.

Never leave a small portable electrical appliance within the reach of small children. Children left unattended could pull the plugged-in, but switched-off appliance into the tub or sink and risk being electrocuted.

Shrine Circus Promises "Greatest Show in Town"

If experience breeds success, the 75th Anniversary Shrine Circus, which opens Friday, March 11 at the State Fair Coliseum, will be the greatest show in town.

First, there is Detroit's Moslem Temple, sponsors of the "big show" which originated the idea of the Shrine Circus back in 1906. Now emulated in over 150 Temples and Shrine Clubs across the country, the Detroit show has become the talent showcase for other Temples.

In 75 years local Shriners have become experts in the staging of the circus and ably handle the myriad of details involved. During the 38-performance run of the Shrine Circus over 1200 red-zeal Shriners will be involved in every aspect of the show from selling tickets to showing you to your seats. But, even before the show comes to town, Shriners rely on the experience of a top circus producer and their own circus expertise to sign and skillfully unite the top acts from around the world.

This year, with the help of circus producer Tommy Hanneford, the Shrine Circus will showcase many acts new to Detroit and some never before seen in the U.S.

In addition to producing the show, three generations of this famed Hanneford circus family, which dates back to the 1600's, will perform in the show. The Royal Hanneford elephants and horses will be presented under the direction of family matriarch, 93-year-old Katherine, her son and producer Tommy, granddaughter Nellie and grandson Mark Hanneford Karoly.

Also featured in this show will be Gaylord Maynard and his horse, Chief Bearpaw, veterans of Broadway and Las Vegas, this act has been highlighted on "The Circus of the Stars" and "Those Amazing Animals."

This three-ring spectacular will also showcase heart-stopping daredevils like Douglas MacValley and his motorcycle Globe of Death, the Farrells who walk on a thin wire high above the arena floor, and Miss Belinda, one of the most sensational single trapeze performers in the world, and one of the few still performing the very difficult one-arm swings.

Direct from the Big Apple Circus come the Backstreet Flyers. These five young black men from New York have been hailed by circus critics throughout the world for their superb "Russian Swing" act.

Completing the two-and-a-half hour show are The Flying Gaonas, Mexico's first family of the air featuring young Julio who performs the fabled triple-somersault; Jorge Bareda with his unique blend of skill and comedy masters his cage of lions; the amazing full-arena illusions of Mike Phillips and Tricia; the breathtaking slow-motion balancing of the Garza Brothers-

The Living Statues; and two wonderful all-new clown displays performed by local merry-makers, the Shrine Clowns!

The 1983 Shrine Circus continues with 38 performances through Sunday, March 27, at the State Fair Coliseum. Tickets are on sale now at the State Fair Coliseum Box Office, CTC outlets, Hudsons, Sears, Montgomery Wards and Michigan National Bank offices. Performances are scheduled Monday through Friday at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m., Saturday at 9:30 a.m., 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 9:30 a.m. (3/20-27), 1:30, 5:30 p.m. (3/13-30). Tickets are priced at $3.50, $5.00, $5.50 and $6.50 for shows Monday through Thursday and Friday matinee. Performances Friday evening and all Saturday and Sunday shows are priced at $4.50, $5.50, $6.00, $6.50 and $7.50. To charge tickets by phone call (313) 366-6350.

For general information call (313) 366-6200.

CORRECTION!!

In last week's column of Hit or Miss, it was stated that the Shoe Shop collapsed in 1927, actually it happened in the summer of 1937 with the owner being Joe Weiss. Thanks to Millard Uphaus for the correct information.

HOW TO

By Dave Petzal
Editor
Mechanix Illustrated

Seal a Leaking Windshield

SILICONE PASTE WILL DO THE JOB

Water leaking into a car's passenger compartment from around the windshield is a fairly common problem. This condition could cause interior corrosion and even electrical problems. But it can be fixed.

Writing in Mechanix Illustrated, automotive editor Don Chaikin notes that the tricky part of this project is to first find the source of the leak, because the way water flows can be deceiving. Here's how to proceed. With a helper inside the car to spot the incoming water, take a garden hose without a nozzle and squirt water under moderate pressure at the windshield, starting at the bottom horizontal surface and working up one side at a time. Go slowly; it may take the water time to work its way through. Starting at the bottom is important to eliminate the chance of error from water flowing downward into the car.

If you find a problem with the windshield seal, it's usually at a butt joint. Just squirt a thin bead of a suitable flexible sealer. Your auto supply store will have a silicone paste that is ideal for this job.

If the problem is not the windshield itself, check around it for a badly sealed body seam. An occasional corner of the drip moldings where there may be pinholes visible. To fix a drip molding leak, fill any gap in a joint or the pinholes with the flexible sealer. After the sealer has set and cured, touch-up paint can be applied.

Agriculture In Action

ENERGY-TEMPORARILY ON BACK BURNER

After the oil crisis of the 70s, we have had a hard time getting used to the fact that oil prices have been falling, and some are seriously concerned that prices will fall too fast. Great Britain has emerged as a cautious defender of oil prices and was very reluctant to cut the price of its North Sea oil.

The argument frequently heard is that a sharp drop in oil prices would halt new oil exploration, and could cause an international banking crisis if Mexico and other oil exporters are unable to pay off bank loans. In addition, there is a fear of new social upheaval in the oil rich Middle East.

Farmers were among those stung by sharply higher energy prices in the 70s. A government report, released recently, points out that in the year between 1978 and 1979, farmers paid 50% more for gasoline and diesel fuel. The total farm energy bill reached $10 billion in 1979. Gasoline accounted for 37% of that, diesel another 23% and electricity 21%.

With the big jump in energy prices, it is no wonder farmers were eager to produce fuel on the farm from corn and other crops. On-farm fuel production is sort of on-hold now, but in recent months, capacity has about doubled for the commercial power alcohol plants.

We still have a future in producing fuel from crops and crop residues, but it won't be dictated by an energy crisis. At least for now, the energy crisis is on the back burner. For farmers, though, there always seems to be another crisis to take the place of the one that's passed. Some say the next big crisis will be water. In the meantime, a decline in farm exports, trade conflicts and overproduction create enough problems.

Young Farmers Accept Leadership Challenge

Some 200 young Farm Bureau members from across the state took part in the 1983 Young Farmer Leaders' Conference held March 2-4 in Lansing. Attending from Washtenaw County were Holly and John Porter, Doug and Robin Welshan, Dennis and Carol Huehl and Dan and Julie Schaible.

The conference, sponsored by the MFB Young Farmer Committee, offered sessions on farm partnerships, farm computers, estate planning, marketing, recent changes in the dairy industry, stress management, the role of Young Farmers in the Farm Bureau organization and legislative issues affecting agriculture.

Winners of the 1982 MFB Young Farmer contests, Outstanding Young Farm Woman Cris Wisner, Distinguished Young Farmer Gary Carmichael and Discussion Meet winner Laurie Isley, discussed the opportunities Farm Bureau offers for leadership growth and the importance of involvement in Farm Bureau activities.

Appointment To Be Made To County Board

The Board of Commissioners on April 6, 1983, will make an appointment to the Washtenaw County Board of Public Works for a term expiring January 1, 1985.

One-page resumes should be addressed to Carol Hampton, Controller/Administrator's Office, County Administration Building, P.O. Box 8845, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48107. Those resumes received by March 21, 1983, will be submitted to the Board of Commissioners for their consideration on April 6, 1983.

VA Information

Unemployed or underemployed Vietnam Era veterans may be eligible for an extension of their educational benefits. Gordon Clowney, director of the VA regional office in Detroit, has announced.

The director pointed out modification of educational assistance legislation provides for the extension of the 10-year educational eligibility period for certain veterans who may wish to pursue further vocational, apprenticeship, on-the-job training or get a high school diploma.

"The benefit extension is aimed at putting unemployed and underemployed veterans into training or educational programs that will give them marketable skills so they can reenter the work force," Clowney said.

To qualify for the extension a veteran must have been unemployed or underemployed for six months, and needs additional training or education in order to obtain a more stable job. Under the extension the VA will provide educational benefits for those found to be in need of additional training.

Clowney said eligible Vietnam Era veterans can get additional information about the program from the regional office in Detroit.

Ending date for this extension is December 31, 1984.

East Indian Cookery

The heat of the spices and the cool of the yogurt are the contrasts you will enjoy at the display of East Indian cookery on Wednesday, March 16, at 1:00 p.m. at Cooperative Extension Service, 4138 Washtenaw. The educational program will feature a demonstration, by two native Indian women, of the preparation of the basic bread, the chapati, two mixed dishes with the seasonings we associate with curry, and a vegetable dish.

They will show how whole spices are ground to make the "garam masala" used in many Indian foods. This combination of spices, most of which are already in the American kitchen, is a distinguishing feature of this cuisine. However, the food need not be fiery; it can be prepared without the hot chili peppers and still be "authentic."

There will be a $2.00 charge for the event to cover the cost of food to be tasted by the audience. Call 973-9510 to reserve a space. This demonstration is part of a continuing monthly series of food programs offered by Cooperative Extension Service. Call to obtain a free flyer describing the series.

Those who register will be scheduled by the Chairperson-of-the-Day, Mrs. Ica Schaffer and their cards will be mailed back to them giving their appointment time.

The Womens League will be in charge of a Nursery at the church on the day of the clinic to take care of children while their mothers are donating.

Stiffer Drunk Driving Penalties Set

Offense	Fine	Jail Sentence	Points	License Action
(Operating Under the Influence)
1st offense	$100-$500 (plus costs)	Up to 90 days	6	6 months to 2 years license suspension
2nd offense (within 7 yrs)	Up to $1000 (plus costs)	Up to 1 year	6	1 year minimum license revocation
3rd offense (within 10 yrs)	$500-$5000 (plus costs)	1-5 years	6	5 year minimum license revocation
OWI
(Operating While Impaired)
1st offense	Up to $300 (plus costs)	Up to 90 days	4	90 days to 1 year license suspension
2nd offense (within 7 yrs)	Up to $1000 (plus costs)	Up to 1 year	4	6 to 18 months license suspension
3rd offense (within 10 yrs)	Up to $1000 (plus costs)	Up to 1 year	4	1 year minimum license revocation

New penalties in bold face.

A motorist convicted of drunk driving under new Michigan laws could pay more than $1,000 in fines, court expenses, attorney fees and for other court ordered treatment, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Those costs, as well as longer license suspensions and mandatory screening for alcohol abuse problems, are aimed at reducing the increasing number of drivers who drink.

When Michigan's new drunk driving laws take effect March 30, a $25 license reinstatement fee and the cost of alcohol screening must be paid by convicted offenders. Screening will be done primarily by court probation officers trained by substance abuse staffers.

A driver ordered to attend an Alcohol Highway Safety Class could pay up to $90. Those are just some of the expenses which will help boost the average fine and court costs from the 1982 level of $350 to $550.

Those ordered to spend 30 days in a hospital treatment program for substance abuse would shoulder all costs.

A one-time court appearance on a first drunk driving charge could average $350 to $500 in attorney fees in the Metropolitan Detroit area. The cost would increase for a second charge.

Other expenses could be higher insurance premiums and lost time on the job since those charged with drunk driving must appear in court.

The drunk driving laws leave intact current jail and fine penalties for offenses, but they impose more severe license sanctions, including a six months to two years suspension for a first drunk driving conviction.

A second offense within seven years would result in a minimum one-year license suspension while a third offense within 10 years could result in suspension for five years. Restricted licenses may be available to enable first offenders - but not repeaters - to drive to work, school or treatment centers.

The new laws allow the court to sentence anyone convicted of a drunk driving offense to up to 12 days of community service. Any insurance costs incurred by the state or local government as a result of the sentenced person working in the service would be paid by the offender.

The new laws also call for the creation of a 23-member task force to review all aspects of the state's drunk driving problem. Among items to be studied over a two-year period are proposed and existing legislation, educational effort, law enforcement and judicial system activities. The task force will make recommendations to the governor and the legislature.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

MARCH 6-12

Girl Scouts celebrate their own Girl Scout birthday for an entire week. The birthday is March 12, the date when the first Girl Scout meeting in the United States was held in 1912. The week in which March 12 falls is known as Girl Scout Week.

Julliette (Daisy) Low and her cousin Nina Pape held the first Girl Guide Meeting in the United States in Savannah, Georgia. Eighteen girls met at Daisy's house. The girls made their own uniforms which were dark blue, long skirts and blouses and light blue ties. Besides sewing, the girls learned the Girl Guide Law, played games, studied nature and enjoyed sports.

In 1913 Daisy changed the name to Girl Scouts and set up a national organization in Washington, D.C. The girls also decided to change the color of their uniforms from blue to khaki because dirt wouldn't show as much.

Daisy died in 1927. A Julliette Low World Friendship Fund was later started to honor her and her vision of worldwide friendship. Every year girls over the United States give money to the fund usually on Thinking Day, the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden Powell, the World Chief Guides or Daisy's birthday, October 31. The money is used to help Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all around the world.

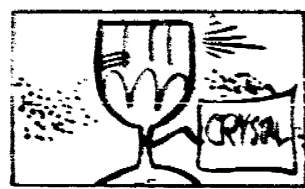

Julliette Low is remembered as a woman who worked for peace and goodwill. Her dream was to have young people make the world a friendly and peaceful place. She wanted young people to understand themselves and others.

In Manchester, the special event to celebrate the Girl Scout birthday is the annual family dinner to be held Monday, March 14th at the American Legion Hall. After dinner the Girl Scouts will provide entertainment through demonstration of various activities. Style shows, skits, songs, and exercise will be included in the program.

Special recognition will be given to leaders, sponsors, parents, and people of the community who support Girl Scouting.

Indeed Daisy gave something special to girls of the world and that is Girl Scouting. Manchester girls do not see the opportunity to be a part of that dream.

The word "crystal" came from a Greek word meaning both ice and rock crystal since the ancients believed that rock crystal was a modified and permanent form of ice.

Schools Develop Tornado Procedures

In order to provide the maximum safety for the children in the school district the Manchester Community Schools have adopted the following procedures in regards to tornadoes.

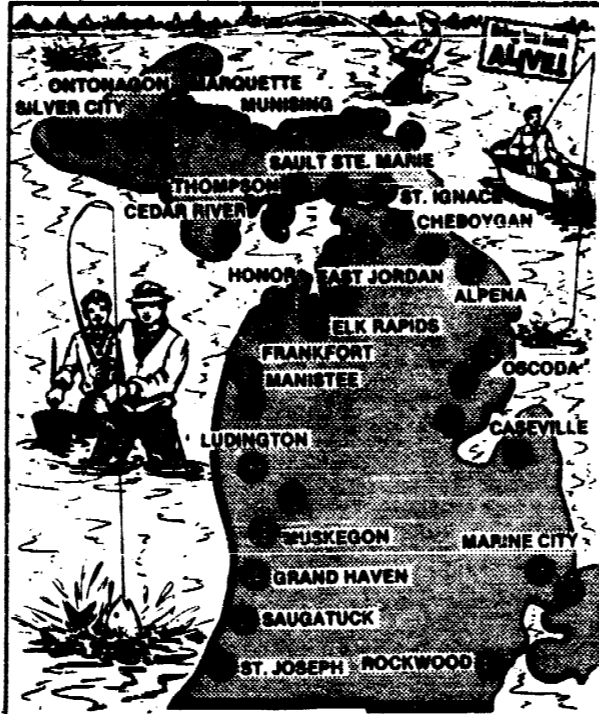

TORNADO WATCH: A tornado watch is for an area where tonados may occur during the next several hours. The size of this watch area is usually 100 miles wide and 300 miles long.

If a tornado watch is broadcast before 1:30 p.m. all children will be sent home and all school activities cancelled. If the tornado watch is broadcast after 1:30 p.m. the children will be dismissed at their regular time.

TORNADO WARNING: A tornado warning means that a tornado has actually been sighted in the area or its presence has been detected by radar.

In the event of a tornado warning children will not be dismissed from school. If a tornado warning is in effect at the normal end of the school day, children will not be dismissed but will remain at their emergency stations. Parents may pick up their children during a tornado warning. Parents must check with the school office before taking the child. Neighbors will not be permitted to pick up other children unless a written statement giving permission to release the youngsters to a neighbor has been filed in the school office.

HOUSE CALL

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR WELL

Most of us take some things pretty much for granted, like the crystal clear drinking water that issues from the tap when the faucet is turned. Commonplace though it seems, for many of us in Michigan that water comes from below ground, from a well.

Groundwater, as a source of supply, can be excellent, most adequate and satisfying, unless and until the supply is in some manner contaminated. That can, and does, happen.

When the groundwater supply is invaded by an unwanted substance, perhaps a chemical of some kind, one of the first things health and water quality experts turn to in their investigation is the record of the contaminated well. Every well drilled by a licensed well driller should be represented in state files by a well record. The State Health Code mandates it.

The requirement notwithstanding, such records do not always exist. Through carelessness, and sometimes indifference, a well driller neglects to follow regulations and doesn't submit to proper persons copies of the record for a well he has drilled.

That's why I thought it important for persons hiring a well driller to know these things. Consumers can easily exert personal pressure to get things done right and in a timely fashion.

First off, make sure you deal with a licensed well driller. Ask to see evidence of the driller's certification.

Then, and no later than 60 days after completion of the well, make certain you receive from the driller a copy of the well record. If it is not forthcoming, demand it. The driller is also required by law to furnish two copies of the record to the health department at the same time. One of these is forwarded to the Department of Natural Resources' geological staff.

When receiving your well record, check it over. It should contain certain specific information such as your name as owner of the well, the well's location, depth, geological materials encountered during the drilling, thicknesses of the materials penetrated, the amount of casing used, information regarding static water levels, and so forth. It would be helpful if you checked the record to see that it contained this information.

If future problems with the well or the water it produces should arise, the well's record will become very important. Be sure you have one, and keep it with your other valuable papers.

Jews For Jesus To Speak

What do the Jewish Passover and Jesus' Last Supper have in common? Rich Robinson, staff evangelist with Jews for Jesus, will answer that question as he presents "Christ in the Passover" at St. Thomas Lutheran Church, 10001 W. Ellsworth Rd., Ann Arbor, on Thursday, March 17, at 8:00 p.m.

The purpose of the "Christ in the Passover" presentation is to enhance the Christian understanding of the New Testament by showing a Jewish background for the Communion celebration. Ancient and modern Jewish customs are discussed and described with an emphasis on the aspect of redemption that Christ accomplished at Calvary.

A table is set with the traditional Jewish Passover items, including representative foods which are explained, but not eaten. Members of the Jews for Jesus group have given this demonstration in more than one thousand different churches.

Jews for Jesus, an evangelistic agency, is best known for its creative materials. Their literature, called "broadsides", deals with contemporary themes ranging from nuclear disarmament to Pac-Man. Broadsides use humor and clever illustrations, yet have a serious message: namely, that Jesus is the promised Messiah for Jews and Gentiles.

Moishe Rosen, national leader of the Jews for Jesus ministry, says, "Our message is not new, but we're telling it in a new way. For too long the Jewish roots of Christianity have been forgotten. Gentle cultural trappings have

Cancer Myth #2
"Bumps and bruises can cause cancer."
Some people believe that if they get a bump or bruise it may lead to cancer. That's a myth. It's not true. Bumps and bruises do not cause cancer. If cancer is discovered after an injury, the cancer symptom probably was there before, but it just was not noticed earlier. Get regular checkups and learn to recognize a change in your body that might be a sign of cancer. Call the Cancer Information Service.
