Youth Corps Comes To Manchester

Have you noticed that the river, as it runs through the village, is a little less congested with logs and snags? A crew of Michigan Youth Corps workers were working on the river for four days last week. Check the foot of Madison Street. All the brush was cut, and three beautiful blue spruce trees were discovered. It is hoped that a crew will return next week and complete the job.

It all started when Wendell Reinhart was being interviewed at the Donut Place for the article on Manchester Horsepower that appeared in the Manchester Enterprise last week. He said he thought the Village of Manchester would be almost perfect, if the river was cleaned up.

That was a week ago Wednesday. On that Thursday, Bill Zsenyuk, Village Manager, had lunch with Jim Murray, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner, at the Black Sheep Restaurant and he said he would send a crew out the following Monday. He was concerned whether permission would be granted by all the adjoining land owners for the crew to enter on their property to remove the trees and snags from the river. He was assured this would pose no problems, and further the Village would provide trucks and drivers to remove the debris and haul it to a place where it could be burned.

The crew arrived, as promised, the following Monday and they worked for a full four days. "They did a real nice job", said Bill Zsenyuk, "and they didn't let up once during all that hot weather". It is hoped that another crew will be available after the Chicken Broil week, and that clearing all of the river within the village limits, will be completed.

The Michigan Youth Corps is a $40 million project designed by Governor James Blanchard, using Michigan tax dollars to provide summer jobs for 25,000 unemployed youth. Statewide, one of every three Youth Corps applicants landed a job. The ratio was higher in Washtenaw County - almost one job for every two applicants. Young people chosen for the program are from 18 to 21 years old. Priority was given to those with unemployed parents. About 1,300 youths in Washtenaw County applied to the jobs program. They earn $3.35 an hour, the minimum wage.

The Manchester Paper Mill

This is a reprint from the Manchester Enterprise, dated July 25, 1872

Reynolds And Unterkircher
Over two years ago we urged upon our capitalists and business men the necessity of forming a stock company and erecting a paper mill in this village, but no one seemed to respond, at least no attempt was made to organize a company, or build a paper mill, until Messrs Reynolds & Unterkircher "two of our best business men" conceived the idea of buying the "Premium Mill" property at East Manchester.

Then there were men enough ready to start a dozen paper mills, but not a thought was given to the advantage of starting any other kind of manufacturing enterprise.

The property was bought and a plan for a paper mill, in connection with the flouring mill, was carried out by those men of untiring energy. Monday we visited the establishment and picked up a few figures, by the aid of Mr. Unterkircher, who we found in the water below.

Repairing The Mill
The flouring mills are receiving a general overhauling and will be arranged so that either steam or water-power can be employed. They expect to start up the stones in about two weeks. Then farmers will be able to get their grists ground at any time without the usual delay.

The Paper Mill
building is merely an addition to the flouring mills, extending north and east. The building is but one story high, and built of wood. We first enter

The Engine Room
which is 16 x 32 feet, and which is now ready for the reception of the engine of 75 or 80 horse power from Fremont, Ohio. Next comes the boiler room, 12 x 32 feet, which will be supplied with two large boilers of the best make, and in a few days the masons will commence work on the arches. From this room we step into the

where the paper machines will stand. This room is 27 x 85 feet, and is well lighted and ventilated. The machine will be set up about the 1st of August and it will be in operation by the 15th of September.

Meeting opened with pledge of allegiance. Approved minutes as submitted with the exception of Planning Comm. which was approved with the correction of Erin Jessica Lindsay from Crin Jessica Lindsay. Also approved Bd. of Appeals minutes as read.

It was noted that there is no tape for the June 13, 1983 as the tape was defective. Macomber explained that all seemed satisfied with decision of Bd. of Appeals Re: miniature horse.

He explained that if the 4" hose is purchased this year, it will have to come from Fire Equipment Fund. Bd. also requested Fire Dept. to consider the following: Physical exams annually at Township expense; Set age limitation for active firemen; Develop application for new firemen which would then be reviewed by the F.D. and recommendations made to the Bd. Board would do the final approving and keep applications on file.

Chief James Kensler
Manchester Township Fire Dept.
309 Territorial Road
Manchester, Michigan

Dear Chief Kensler:

On June 27, 1983 at about 4:30 p.m., HVA was dispatched to a reported automobile accident on M-52 at Bethel Church Road, in Sharon Township. Enroute to the scene, we learned that one patient was trapped inside of the vehicle, seriously injured. Upon learning that information, your Department was dispatched.

When our ambulance arrived, we found your firefighters already busy freeing the victim from the automobile. This was quickly accomplished, and your men entered the vehicle to apply cervical traction on the patient's neck. This care continued throughout the patient's care, with one firefighter accompanying us to Chelsea Community Hospital.

On behalf of my crews, the patient, and the community, I would like to extend our sincere thanks for a job well done. Not only were your men well trained in the use of your new hydraulic extrication tool, but they also showed their ability to care for critically ill patients. It must be comforting for Manchester's residents to know that they have expert help available within the community when emergencies occur.

Thanks again for your help and cooperation.

Sincerely and cordially,
Dale J. Berry
General Manager

AS TO WAYS WITH MICROWAVES

Fresh fruits are so plentiful now, and ways to prepare them are as unlimited as one's imagination. They can be juiced, jammed, sauced, grouped or combined in myriad ways. Some can be deliciously wrapped in coconut, or blended, creamed, winded or tarted. Here are a few recipes for frozen jams and preserves from a "Whirlpool" microwave oven cookbook which covers speed, simplicity, and will help you to enjoy that frosty pleated flavor all through the year.

FRICKER PEACH JAM (shown)
Total cooking time: 3 minutes
3 pounds ripe peaches, peeled and pitted
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup water
1 1/2-cup package powdered fruit pectin

Chop peaches. Toss peaches with ascorbic acid crystals to prevent darkening. Measure 2 1/2 cups peach pulp (add water, if necessary, to make 2 1/2 cups). Place 2 1/2 cups peach pulp in large bowl. Add lemon juice. Stir in sugar; mix well. In 1 1/2-cup bowl combine water and pectin. Place in microwave oven.

Cook pectin mixture for 2 minutes at HIGH. Stir well and continue cooking for 1 minute at HIGH. Stir in sugar mixture. Quickly ladle into 7 half-pint freezer containers. Cover and let stand for 24 hours or till set. Store up to 3 weeks in refrigerator or 1 year in freezer. Makes 7 half-pints.

SOUTHERN PINEAPPLE CONSERVE (shown)
Total cooking time: 3 minutes
1 large fresh pineapple
1 teaspoon finely shredded orange peel
1/4 cup orange juice
Yellow food coloring
3 cups sugar
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup water
1 1/2-cup package powdered fruit pectin

Remove pineapple crown. Wash and peel pineapple; remove eyes and core. Cut peeled, cored pineapple into pieces. Place pineapple, a few pieces at a time, in blender or food processor bowl. Cover and process on finely chopped (not pureed). Measure 2 cups chopped pineapple. In large bowl combine 2 cups chopped pineapple, orange peel, orange juice, and several drops yellow food coloring. Stir in sugar, walnuts, and coconut. In 1 1/2-quart bowl combine water and pectin. Place in microwave oven.

Cook the pectin mixture for 2 minutes at HIGH till boiling. Stir well. Continue cooking for 1 minute at HIGH. Stir in pineapple mixture. Quickly ladle into 6 half-pint freezer containers. Cover and let stand for 24 hours or till set. Store up to 3 weeks in refrigerator or 1 year in freezer. Makes 6 half-pints.

Total cooking time: 6 minutes
2 1/2-cup package frozen strawberries
3/4 of 6-ounce bottle liquid fruit pectin
3 1/2 cups sugar

Remove caps of metal ends from strawberry cartons. Place opened packages in microwave oven with open side up. Cook strawberries for 2 minutes at MEDIUM low. Transfer berries to a large bowl. Place in microwave oven.

Cook berries for 3 minutes at MEDIUM low. Wash fruit apart with fork and cook for 2 minutes at MEDIUM low. Mash berries. Stir in sugar; mix well. Let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. When sugar has dissolved, add pectin. Continue stirring for 3 minutes. Quickly ladle into 4 half-pint freezer containers. Cover and let stand for 24 hours or till set. Store up to 3 weeks in refrigerator or 1 year in freezer. Makes 4 half-pints.

County Board Of Health Meetings

During the coming year, the Washtenaw County Board of Health will hold several of its regular meetings at sites outside of Ann Arbor. The Board, seeking input from community members regarding health issues, is attempting to make the meetings more accessible to county residents.

The July meeting of the Board will be held at the Saline Community Hospital, 400 W. Russell, Saline (Blue Room), July 22, 1963, at 9 a.m. A presentation on Policies and Procedures for Approval of Private Sewage Disposal Systems, will be addressed by Barry Johnson, P.E., Director of Environmental Health of the Washtenaw County Health Department. Time will be set aside for public discussion.

The business portion of the meeting will follow. All interested area residents are invited to attend.

Mead, the mildly alcoholic beverage that was the favorite drink of Queen Elizabeth I, was made by combining honey and water with spices, herbs and lemons. After boiling, it was left to stand for three months. Finally it was bottled, and considered fit to drink six weeks later.

Changes Needed In Farm Policy

"The PIK program has bought time, but not prosperity for agriculture," according to American Farm Bureau Federation president Robert E. Delano. "We have gained a little breathing space for a couple of years," he told Congress today (5/25/63), "but the real debate on farm programs has just begun."

In his testimony before the Joint Economic Committee's agriculture panel, Delano noted that Congress has not made essential domestic spending reductions necessary to eliminate inflationary expectations, adding that federal farm programs cannot escape spending restraints "if we are to gain control of runaway federal spending."

"U.S. farm policy has to stop artificially propping up prices for political purposes and start meeting foreign competitors by raising support prices to world prices," he said. He attributed the current decline in farm exports in great part to a lack of price competitiveness.

"Keying U.S. farm policy to world market prices offers advantages," he noted. "It would require producers and farm program policy-makers to pay close attention to world market prices first, rather than last, as is often the case."

Diminishing permanent production controls as a policy option that would result in a "policy ceiling" for farmers, Delano cited the case of Argentina, which, in the late 1950's, linked its support price to world prices and became a major grain exporter.

Another alternative, he asserted, would be for the U.S. to continue spending excessive amounts supporting agriculture—expenditures which have increased from $2.8 billion in 1950 to $80 billion in 1962—with little to show for it, except reduced net income and massive commodity stockpiles.

And this year's remedy, PIK, Delano stressed, is a temporary stocks-reducing program that fails to confront the fundamental problems plaguing agriculture. "The need for a PIK program shows how present inflexible federal farm programs are incapable of dealing with changing U.S. and world production, marketing and economic conditions," he noted.

"We must move in the direction of clearer market signals to assure efficient production and increased trade," Delano said. He offered Farm Bureau's legislative proposal, the Agricultural Recovery Act of 1963, introduced last month in the House, as an example of a market-oriented approach. He said the measure calls for a freeze in target prices and loan rates, actions that will "signal our competitors that we have adjusted U.S. farm policies to the realities of changing world conditions."

U. S. Farmland Values Decline

At $744 per acre, the average value of U.S. farmland was down 6% from the $789 value of a year earlier, 6 1/2% below the record $787 average of two years ago. This also marked the only fourth time in a half-century that farmland values have shown a decline and the first time since 1929 that their value has declined two years in a row. In Michigan, value declined from $1,192 to $1,109 per acre.

Wedding Bells Ring MAUREN CLARE ZSENYUK DANIEL JOSEPH HESLIP

St. Francis of Assisi Church in Ann Arbor was the setting for the wedding of Maureen Clare Zsenyuk and Daniel Joseph Hespil on April 30, 1963.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Zsenyuk of Manchester. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James Hespil of Fortson, Georgia (formerly of Manchester).

Father—William Stevenson officiated at the ceremony. A reception followed at Weber's Inn. Honor attendants were Annette Phillips of Freedom Township, sister of the bride, and Eric Norgaard of Massachusetts was best man.

Bridesmaids included Jennifer DuRozel, Joan Schabbe, Beth Smith, Dorothy Zsenyuk, all of Manchester, and Michelle Hoop of Columbus, Georgia. Groomsmen were Donald DuRozel, Kurt Norgaard, Robert Smith, Michael Zsenyuk, all of Manchester, and Keith Moore from Ypsilanti.

The bride's gown had white lover's knot lace with a chapel length train and veil. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis with sword fern. The bridesmaids wore periwinkle blue chiffon gowns and carried blue bouquets of pink tulips, lavender lily, and yellow and white lilies. After a honeymoon in California, the couple will reside in Fortson, Georgia.

of the amount of labor employed, we will say that this machine is capable of running paper 64 inches wide and can make from 8 1/2 to 4 tons of paper every 24 hours, consuming from 3 to 4 tons of straw, and giving employment to about 25 hands.

We are informed that they have already used over 100,000 feet of lumber in the construction of this mill, and they will not have it enclosed before the last of the week, although they have 12 hands employed.

The Heating room is 32 x 48 feet, but as that is not yet enclosed of course we do not know how it will be arranged.

Workmen are busy upon the huge tubs which will be used for bleaching purposes, and we are told that two of them will be sunk into the ground about five feet, while the third one will be raised some ten feet above the floor in order to get a sufficient flow of water. The firm have just bought a large platform scale, for weighing straw, which will be conveniently arranged. The draft for the establishment was made by Messrs. Trip, Ales & Co., of Ann Arbor, who will set up the machinery, etc., but great credit is due Mr. Unterkircher for the aid he has given in the arrangement, and for the execution of the work. When this establishment is completed we hope to say more about it and then show our appreciation of a great work, and of the establishment of one of the finest paper mills in the State. The cost of the mill when completed will not vary much from $30,000, and our citizens and business men should encourage the enterprise and give it their support.

In a conversation the other day regarding taxes, which is a favorite topic for discussion nowadays, the fact was brought out that ten years ago the average taxpayer paid half of his children's educational costs when he paid his taxes and the state aid paid the rest. Today they pay some 83 percent because of the decline in state aid and their tax bills are nearly four times as high. Every educator thinks that it is now time for the state to resume its responsibility for education and high time for the citizens and others to convince the governor to restore education to a higher priority on the state's budget.

During 1971-72 the state contributed 50 percent to the various county schools but in 1972-73 the state contributed 20 percent less and the taxpayers four times more than in 1972.

Only 15.8 percent of the state's budget was spent on schools last year compared with 28.2 percent in 1972. County residents cannot and should not have to continue to pay an unfair cost of spiraling education costs.

Our taxpayers can continue to invest in the education of our young people or we can continue an era of educational neglect say state educators. An investment in people pays. Educated people are our best hope for a thriving economy and a "strong competitive position" among the states of the nation.

School officials say the schools have not been irresponsible in handling money and that their predicaments are not their fault. Figures show that an average of $2,407 is spent on each student which comes out to some $2.32 per hour for students who attend classes five hours per day or $2.94 if they attend six hours, which it is claimed as less than the cost of a good baby sitter.

Many state budgets are being cut because of Michigan's economic condition but Michigan has suffered more losses than others in its educational programs. It seems that there are almost education funds from which to make reductions.

Most school districts are going to have to ask for additional millage this summer but the time is rapidly coming when the districts cannot be asked to offset state reductions. It is said that the time is rapidly approaching when you will see districts close.

Widespread support exists for our schools but the legislature must pay a lot more attention to local districts to gain their support.

The story recently in the newspapers that some 1300 high school graduates in Florida would not do so because they couldn't read nor write.

It seems that the state has recently passed a law compelling all students to pass a literacy test before they can be granted a diploma and that the 1300 failed to do so. This caused a great deal of comment and evidently was a great surprise to most people.

However while Michigan has no such law individual school districts have, for a considerable number of years, given students who failed to pass a literacy test administered by most schools, a certificate of attendance which looked a great deal like a diploma but which did not indicate graduation. This saved the non graduates from embarrassment at graduation time.

There are, as you know a certain percentage—a very small one—of the students who are simply not capable of attaining an academic record satisfactory for graduation and they surely should have additional help to do so, and should have made available special education classes, but those too have been curtailed by the Legislature. This surely should be remedied for those unfortunate.

If the Legislature would look around they could find many other places that they could economize—salary raises for themselves for example.

It takes a lot of wisdom to know when to act dumb.

State Bar Grant
Furthers Probono
Work In Northern Michigan

The availability of free legal aid for those who can not afford to pay for legal services is getting a much-needed boost in Northern Michigan, thanks to a $10,000 grant given by the State Bar of Michigan to Upper Peninsula Legal Services, Inc.

The non-profit legal-services organization, which operates offices in both the Upper Peninsula and parts of Northern Michigan, is using the bulk of the grant money to survey private practices in 21 Northern Michigan counties. The goal is to solicit volunteers to perform free legal aid (called pro bono work by the legal profession) for clients referred from the organization's offices.

A portion of the grant has also been used to help support an existing pro bono clinic in Traverse City, according to William J. James, director of Upper Peninsula Legal Services. James said volunteer attorneys at the Third Level Crisis Intervention Center interview clients two nights each week, then refer those clients to private attorneys willing to do pro bono work. "We decided to pick up the clerical costs for the center, which run about $4,800 a year," James said. Legal Services will use a portion of its federal funding, which is allocated for such private attorney projects, after the initial State Bar grant allocation given the center runs out this year. James says the Traverse City center serves about 65 clients per month. The survey of private attorneys in Northern Michigan is still in progress but James says response thus far has been encouraging. "The survey questionnaire has been helping us get answers to questions about how much pro bono involvement is feasible in this area," James said.

Attorneys given the questionnaire have been asked whether they will participate in pro bono programs, with 40 respondents already indicating that they are willing to donate time to the project.

"When the program gets underway, we will have clients in need of free or low-cost legal aid visit our offices in Alpena, Petoskey, and Traverse City, from which they will be referred to volunteer attorneys. We'll be working closely with private lawyers and local bar associations on this one," James said.

Members of the advisory board responsible for coordinating the survey and solicitation project are John S. Clark of Petoskey, Dean A. Robb, Sr. of Traverse City, Hon. Jeanna Neale of Cheboygan, and Robert J. Eppert of Tawas City. James R. Linderman of Petoskey administered the project.

William Hampton, chairman of the State Bar's Special Committee on Pro Bono Involvement, said he was "pleased with the results of our grant to Upper Peninsula Legal Services."

"These grants were intended to extend available pro bono services in out-state Michigan. This particular program is making the most of the grant by gathering valuable attorney survey information, by instituting a more unified pro bono program in Northern Michigan, and by helping an existing pro bono center continue to function."

National Health Insurance To Trim Health Care Costs

"National Health Insurance is an idea whose time has come not as a matter of ideology but as a matter of necessity," a speaker at the 1st day of the Renaissance in Health Planning Conference in Detroit said today. Merton C. Bernstein, Professor of Law at Washington University in St. Louis, declared that billions could be saved by combining all health insurance programs (including auto accident insurance and workers' compensation) and channeling their premiums into a national health program. The savings would come from eliminating eligibility tests, associated claims handling and legal controversies.

With all eligible, no eligibility tests are needed, no forms need be filled out. This might be the greatest single blow for timber conservation since Gifford Pinchot was Teddy Roosevelt's Chief Forester.

And activities that cause illness should be taxed and that money channeled into National Health Care.

Major health impairing activities that now pay nothing for the human health damage they cause - principally alcohol and tobacco use - should be subject to a health damage tax. Such a measure would make those who voluntarily engage in health impairing activities, such as drinking, smoking, and polluting air and water, pay for the damage they demonstrably cause. By one computation, imposing a tobacco tax equal to what its real dollar value was in the early 1960's would generate tens of billions of dollars a year. That kind of money can help make a national health program a reality.

The speaker observed that serious gaps in health care coverage exist. He said that the newly-unemployed experience what the long-term unemployed and the episodically-employed, and the part-time employed, and the never-employed already experience.

He warned that cost control is the key to preserving all forms of medical care but that measures limited to Medicare cannot work. And he scored the Reagan Administration's "hastily prepared" "diagnostic related group" Medicare payment plan as one that "rewards sparse care and penalizes painstaking care." Other methods are required including putting more physicians on a salaried basis to remove the incentives to prescribe unneeded care that the current "fee-for-service" arrangements provide.

p.m. at Carr Park. This will be our Pack Physical Fitness Championships with 8, 9, and 10 year old age groups. Five events will be the standing long jump, overhand softball throw, push ups, sit ups, and the 50 yard dash. This event will be held on Thursday if the weather is bad.

Also in August at Carr Park we will have our Scout Family Picnic on Wednesday, August 24 at 6:00 p.m. This will be "potluck", bring a dish and your own tableservice. Boy Scouts from Troop 426 will be here too. Let's have a fun night!

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE CAN BE CONTROLLED

Having your blood pressure checked takes only a minute or two of your time, but if you're among the 60 million Americans whose blood pressures are higher than they ought to be, this quick and simple procedure may prove to be the most important medical test you'll ever have.

High blood pressure, you should know, is a potentially dangerous disease. It is primarily responsible, in fact, for the half million strokes that occur in this country each year. About 165,000 of these strokes are fatal.

But high blood pressure can be effectively treated. There are steps that you can take to lower your blood pressure. In other words, and when you lower your blood pressure, or bring it under control, you reduce your chances of having a serious complication, such as a stroke or a heart attack. Over the past ten years, thanks in large part to the things we have learned about high blood pressure and to the emphasis we have placed on treating it, deaths from stroke have declined by more than 42 percent.

Our ability to deal with high blood pressure was a long time coming. As recently as the late 1960s, scientists still did not know when, or at what blood pressure level, treatment should be initiated. They did not know whether control of high blood pressure was possible for everyone or whether successful control would lead to corresponding reductions in death rates.

A long-term clinical trial, initiated by the National Institutes of Health in the early 1970s, answered all of these questions, in a dramatic style. Treatment of high blood pressure, this study found, even treatment of so-called "mild" high blood pressure, resulted in significantly fewer deaths from strokes and heart attacks.

Evidence that high blood pressure control works and that people believe in its benefits is not hard to find today. More patients with high blood pressure are visiting their doctors, and doctors are writing more prescriptions for drugs to treat high blood pressure than ever before. In 1972, only about 16 percent of people with high blood pressure had their disease under control. That number more than doubled in the ensuing decade, the most recent figures indicating that an estimated 34 percent of people with high blood pressure today have the disease under control.

High blood pressure detection is easily accomplished, as most people know, by means of the familiar cuff that is wrapped around the upper arm and inflated. If you are told that you have high blood pressure, it is important, first, that you be rechecked. If your blood pressure still is found to be elevated, the next step is treatment.

Treating high blood pressure is a job for two people—you and your doctor. High blood pressure can be controlled, and your doctor can tell you how, but it will be up to you to follow his or her advice. You may have to lose a few pounds of weight. You may have to eliminate salt from your diet, take medication or, perhaps, combine two or more of these control methods. Whatever it takes to bring your blood pressure down, by all means do it and stick with it. The benefits, I assure you, will be worth the effort.

WATER SAFETY

Michigan Department of Public Health - Office of Communications

On a hot summer day, there's nothing nicer than being on a beach in the sun with a cool breeze and the fresh clean water which Michigan is blessed with. Unfortunately, this can lead to tragedy - in 1981, 183 persons drowned. Many of these deaths could have been prevented if more people knew how to behave safely in or near water.

Safety in water depends on following certain rules, including learning how to swim, a basic knowledge of water-safety, and training in life-saving.

First of all, never leave a small child alone in, or even near, the water. Make sure someone is with small children every minute - they can wander off almost in the wink of an eye. Next, make sure you can swim and, until you learn, the best thing is not to get in the water. If you can swim, do so only in areas protected by lifeguards - and always swim with someone who can help in an emergency.

When swimming, stay fairly close to shore and swim parallel to it. That way you can get into wading depth quickly, if necessary - or get help quickly if you need it. Also, never jump into strange waters - always check first for depth and look for underwater obstacles. Finally, never go into the water during a thunder storm - if lightning should strike the water near you it can be extremely dangerous. As far as rescuing someone else is concerned, only trained lifeguards should attempt it. Even if you're a trained lifesaver, don't try to make a swimming rescue if another, simpler method can be used. For example, without going into the water at all, you may be able to extend an arm, a branch, an oar, a towel or a fishing rod to a drowning victim. Your chances of success are much better than if you must swim to the rescue.

Michigan is fortunate to have so many inland lakes in addition to the great lakes. It really is a water wonderland. Take advantage of it - but also observe all the rules of water safety. For more information on water safety, check with the American Red Cross, the YMCA and YWCA, or your local schools.

Youth Corps
the nation, right now, is here in Michigan," said Governor Blanchard on the J.P. McCarthy "Focus" Program last Friday. Most of the Youth Corps assignments, which began early this month, will last eight to twelve weeks.

Doug Ross, a former state senator, and the Director of the Michigan Youth Corps, has interagency authority provided by Executive Order of the Governor. This means that the Agriculture Department, the Natural Resources Department, the Social Services Department and all others can be directed to help in making the program work, and it is working according to the Governor.

It's working in Manchester. It is providing employment for unemployed youth, and its making the Village of Manchester more attractive.

Chrysler Presents Red Cross With Recreational Vehicle

Chrysler Proving Grounds in Chelsea presented the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross with a Recreational Vehicle. The presentation was made by William Mitchell, Personnel Manager, and David McAllister from the Chelsea Proving Grounds. Accepting for the Chapter were Board of Directors Dan Harsh, Disaster Chairman, and David Egeier, Coordinator for the Red Alert Team and the First Aid Corps.

The vehicle, a 1966 Dodge Travco with only 31,000 miles, was used by Chelsea Proving Grounds to house the instrumentation used for impact testing of Chrysler vehicles.

The Red Cross is currently preparing the vehicle for emergency services. The Chrysler donation will join the fleet of disaster vehicles that the Washtenaw County Chapter maintains. We now operate two donated Recreational Vehicles within the county and we are the only Red Cross Chapter in the Mid-Western Area of 17 States to have such vehicles for disaster work.

THE FINANCING OF POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS

A recent nationwide public survey showed that about two-thirds of the American people oppose the idea of public financing of our congressional campaigns. A significant percentage would prefer that the financing of presidential campaigns be shifted back to voluntary private donations rather than taken from tax monies.

For several years, there has been a concerted effort to build public support for public financing of congressional campaigns on the basis that it would "clean up" such campaigns and isolate members of Congress from the pressures of special interest groups.

It seems most people don't buy that reasoning. Common sense tells most of us that you don't necessarily clean up politics by arranging for taxpayers to foot the bill. A great many people think just the opposite. More often than not, public financing leads to more graft and corruption than if it is derived on a totally voluntary basis in the private sector.

The public does not see the need for congressional and presidential campaign reform such as shortening the time period of the campaigns, putting some limits on television advertising and making the game a little more equal between incumbents and those running against them.

The survey shows that most Americans understand very well that so-called special interest groups are nothing to be feared, since virtually every special interest group in this country is represented by one or more organizations. And so long as people are free to join or not to join such efforts, democracy is served. There are no "special" interest groups—just interest groups.

That's what a free country is all about.

Spur Of The Moment

The Spur of the Moment show at Whites Arena on July 10, was run in just perfect weather for such an event. We had a great time, with a full "fun day".

Our Judge was Lynn Elliott, from Belleville, and her ringmaster was Sue Miller, also of Belleville. They had to use a lot of "spotters" for their job, and it was FUN.

We thank Mr. Mertz for mowing the grass around the arena area, and for all the arena help, that makes the show run more smoothly, we had Bill Black, Pat Managhan, and Mick Davis. We also had two new people helping while their daughter Melissa Bullard competed. We want to thank them and hope they enjoyed themselves enough to come again.

Our first four events are "SPECIAL" and they were all sponsored by Shifty Acres, Barnard and Jean Davis, Manchester.

Bareback Equitation: 1st. Sue Shear and Tonto. 2nd. Karla Raab on Cersie. 3rd. Kathy York and Sugar. 4th. Kathy Monaghan on Captain King.

Ride-A-Back: 1st. Kathy Monaghan and Captain King. 2nd. Sue Shear on Tonto. 3rd. Amy Gillen on Sam. 4th. Karla Raab and Cersie. These two classes were ridden bareback.

Egg and Spoon: 1st. Sue Shear and Tonto. 2nd. Karla Raab on Cersie. 3rd. Kathy York on Sugar. 4th. Melissa Bullard on Custus Kid.

Command Class: 1st. Karla Raab on Cersie. 2nd. Kathy

Monaghan on Captain King. 3rd. Kathy York on Sugar. 4th. Sue Shear on Tonto.

We had two entries in the Walk-Trust class. Eddie Monaghan riding Captain King and Jodi Otterstedt riding her mothers horse Diamonds Viking. Eddie won first place, with Jodi coming in a close second.

We then moved right into the Speed Events, and this is the results of that part of the show.

Pony Speed: sponsored by Kosmyra Chiropractic Life Center, Clinton. The sisters, Amy and Robyn Gillen ended up with a tie, of 14 points, and had a run off, to decide the winner of the trophy. Robyn, disqualified, and Amy made a good run, so the high point trophy of the day went to Amy Gillen and Sam, with 14 points.

Yearth Speed: sponsored by Dick and Lorry Alexander, Quarter horse farm, Manchester. High point trophy was won by Kathy York and Sugar, with 18 points. Sue Shear was second with 15 points.

Adult Speed: sponsored by Bar-G Saddlery. High point trophy went to LeRoy Hone riding Sheba. Second was Larry Gillen and Shantell with 15 points. It was really a fun show and we all had a real good time. Our next show will be August 14 and the Special Class will be Trail.

Flea Wars

With summer comes FLEAS and still another chapter of the never-ending FLEA WARS. The Humane Society of Huron Valley offers the following information for a flea-free summer.

Flea Facts
The adult female feeds for 2-3 days, then begins laying hundreds of eggs. When your pet stretches, or scratches, eggs fall into carpeting, bedding, grass.

The adult flea has up to 30 days to find a host or it will die. The adult will find a host pet, and often jumps from pet to pet.

Fleas Can Cause
1. Anemia in Small animals.
2. Allergies, itching caused by allergy to the flea's saliva.
3. Infection and hot spots.
4. Tapeworms through ingestion of fleas.

Treatment
1. Shampoo, powder, dip and/or spray the host animal to kill adult fleas. Shampoos should be rinsed thoroughly and powder or spray can then be applied.

2. Spray or bomb indoor environment with a combination insecticide that kills adults and the egg/larvae. House bombing can be effective as long as 10 weeks.

3. Vacuum indoor environment and remove the vacuum bag.

4. Spray outdoor environment with a recommended insecticide or have it done professionally. Spraying should be repeated every 2 weeks in heavy flea season.

The effectiveness of a flea control program depends on keeping the animal and its environment clean, and on the regular use of insecticides. Consult your veterinarian about which products are most effective and best suited for your pet.

Good luck and may the force be with you.

One-third to one-half a teaspoon dried herbs is the equivalent of one tablespoon fresh herbs.
