The Village Legislature

This is a reprint from the Manchester Enterprise, dated April 20, 1879.

The meeting of the council on Monday evening was attended by a number of spectators, who enjoyed listening to the deliberations of the city fathers with apparent relish.

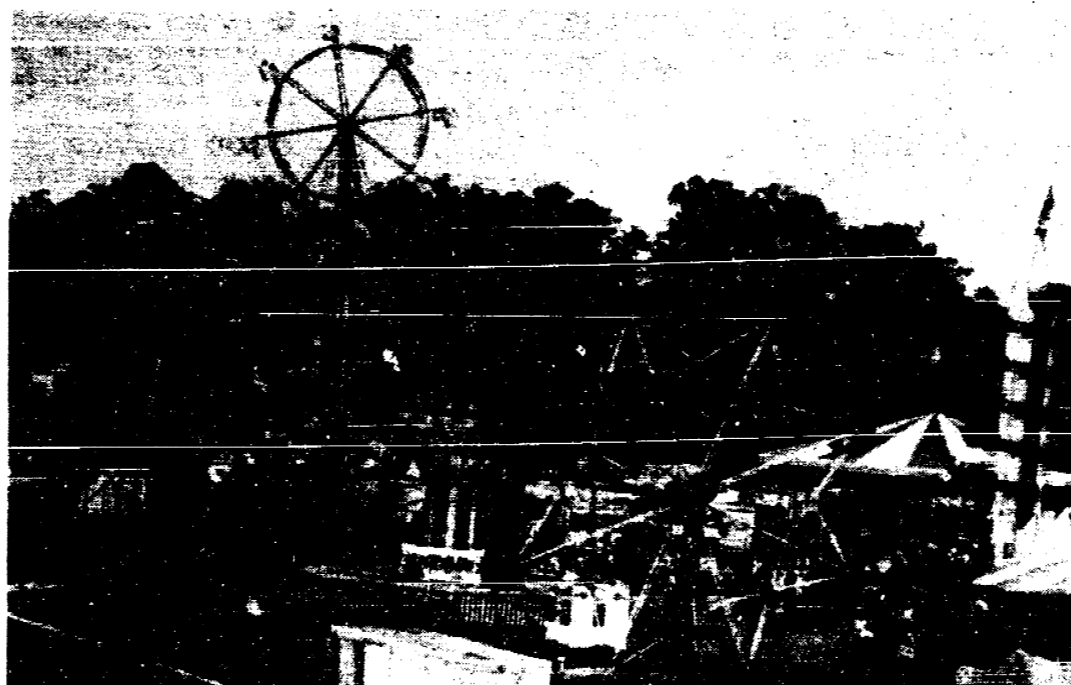

Bills were presented at a former meeting of the council, by Messrs. Goodyear, Corey and Doty, for services on the board of registration, and as inspectors of election, etc., which were referred to a committee. The committee could not find that members of former councils had ever received pay for such services, and that there was any law allowing it. They recommended that these bills be not paid. The matter was again brought up on Monday evening, which called "Patrick Henry" to his feet, and he got off a gushing speech, but we only print a portion of it, as follows:

Mr. President: - I would like to say a few words in regard to those bills. Kerney seems to be intelligent enough, but when he gets up to speak, he settles down as quick as though he had taken a dose of croton oil. I think that a dose of that drug would help that gigantic brain amazingly. Now that Rothschild, who lives in a brick house up there, who I believe to be the instigator of this bill in question, thought it would be a fine opportunity to have Belmont present those bills before this council, thinking that while we were yet green and unused to council proceedings, there would be no trouble in having them approved. Now then, gentlemen, there is just where Roosevelt Rothschild made a sad mistake. He is a great man to talk about the expenses of this government and about the extravagance of this republican party. He would not make this corporation of Manchester tremble with fear at a load of indebtedness, if for his own interest; oh! no.

Now then, Mr. President, what is the duty of this council, and what was the duty of the old council? We all know that the law states plainly that they shall serve without compensation. Why were not those bills presented before the old council's time expired? They thought they would meet with better success through the new council before they got their eyes open to business. Now then, gentlemen, I don't favor the payment of those bills at all. I expect to do my duty here without pay, and I don't think their time is worth any more than a poor laboring man's time is.

The motion on the payment of the claims was lost.

Manchester Fair August 9-13

Michigan's Biggest Little Fair is about to make its 39th appearance. The Manchester Community Fair will begin on Tuesday, August 9, with the traditional parade down Main Street at 6:30 p.m.

For most of the children and many exhibitors, this is the highlight of the summer.

"Fairs are one of the largest annual events that happen in some counties," says John O'Bryant, Michigan agricultural fair coordinator. That has certainly been true in Manchester, and this year will be no exception. In addition to the exhibits, tractor pulls, entertainment and carnival rides that annually attract both young and old, Saturday, August 13th, is the date set for the Manchester

Pace Finds Early Support

The widespread community support shown the committee for Positive Action in Community Education (PACE) has been an inspiration to committee members.

Successful fund raising to date has assured there will be a public information drive consisting of mailings, informative handouts and newspaper ads.

Individuals representing a cross-section of the community are working together to explain the necessity of passing Proposal I on the August 31st ballot if we are to continue the present K-12 program. Proposal II is for building maintenance which is sorely needed.

If you would like to help, please call President Mattie Agin at 429-4447. Contributions may be sent to Linda K. Hartmann, Treasurer, 6701 M-52, Manchester.

PACE is a registered Ballot Question Committee legally entitled to raise funds and campaign for the proposals.

Street Fair, Art Fair, The Manchester Mill Run and the K of C Pancake breakfast.

While Saturday is certainly a busy one at the Fair, it is not the only day full of activities. This year the Manchester Community Fair offers Senior Citizens Activity Day on Thursday, Kid's Day on Friday and Ladies' Day on Saturday. Special activities are planned for each of these days.

Also new for 1983 is the carnival's decision to offer rides all day for $5.00. Single tickets will be available, however. There will also be a helicopter available for rides, weather permitting, for those who seek something more adventuresome than the traditional rides.

The Fair is fortunate this year to have entertainment planned for every evening. We will welcome to the slate of evening entertainment Kathy Kitchen, a 15 year old country and western singer and Mark Northey, a folk and country singer who plays a variety of instruments. Playing

HIT or MISS by farley

U.S. Census experts are still sifting through statistics finding out fresh insights about our population. One of the biggest surprises of the 1980 census is that the urbanization of the United States has come to a halt. One of the latest studies in this respect was published in the July issue of the Scientific American.

Street Fair '83

The 1983 version of the Manchester Street Fair is coming Saturday, August 13, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., with loads of activity planned by its organizers, the Manchester Art Guild and the Merchant's Association.

Painting, pottery, baskets, quilts, photography, wood carving, brasswork, jewelry, and many more items for the home and personal use will be represented in this area of the Street Fair. The public is invited to meet the individual artists and ask questions about their pieces and how they produce them. organizers note. An open market for selling of all kinds will be on Main Street too.

Demonstrations of heritage crafts will occur all day long. These include a blacksmith, as well as spinning, quilting, rug-hooking, rug braiding, wheat weaving, painting, and Ukrainian egg decorating.

Live entertainment is scheduled throughout the day as well, with Blue Grass music, a magic show, belly dancers, bands and more.

Of course, stores will have their annual Sidewalk Sales Day with merchants offering wares to bargain hunters. Food and refreshments will be available also.

With help from "Mother Nature" a fine day should be had by all.

Manchester — A Nice Place To Live

This article appeared in the 50 PLUS magazine. Manchester was selected as 1 of 20 unique places to live.

MANCHESTER: "If you were thinking of a classic Andy Hardy, all-American town from the late 1920s and early 1930s, this is the town you'd want to live in. It's a real small place in the far southeast corner of the state, midway between Ann Arbor and Jackson. It's also close to the Irish Hills, an extremely pretty region so named because it reminded Irish immigrants of their homeland." (pop. 2,000).

That's Not My Job

This is a story about four people, named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody and Nobody. There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it. Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it. Somebody got angry about that, because it was Everybody's job. Everybody thought Anybody could do it, but Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it. It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have.

HOUSE CALL

WIC PROGRAM
Michigan Department of Public Health - Office of Communications

As the summer draws to a close, the Michigan Department of Public Health is entering the final phase of a major drive to enroll an additional 30,000 women, infants and children in the WIC Supplemental Food Program.

Passage of the federal Jobs Bill last March resulted in the allocation of some $3.7 million to the Department for the purpose of expanding enrollments during the summer months.

The WIC Program provides food, nutritional advice and health care referrals to limited income pregnant or breastfeeding women, and infants and children under the age of five, who are certified to be in nutritional need. The results of our intensive enrollment effort have been gratifying. Statewide data collected by the Department last month reflected participation in the WIC Program by 107,953 Michigan residents. We are hopeful that 120,512 needful mothers and children will be enrolled by the end of our campaign on August 12.

Today, partly because of our troubled economic climate, too many of our state's infants die and too many young children suffer from poor growth and development due to inadequate nutrition. Poor nutrition is related to low birth weight and a low birth weight infant is twenty times more likely to die than a normal birth weight baby.

Studies of the WIC Program have shown that WIC participation results in fewer low weight births, decreased infant deaths, and a decrease in the incidents of developmental problems such as blindness, deafness and mental retardation. The program also reduces medical costs since low weight infants need longer stays in the hospital. As a matter of fact, it has been estimated that WIC saves more than three times its costs in hospitalization expenses alone.

Further information on WIC eligibility and benefits can be easily obtained by calling your local health department of the statewide toll-free number: 1-800-WIC-3333.

Attention Cross Country Runners

Any high school student who is interested in going out for cross country should call Mr. Scaletta at the high school by Friday, August 12.

New Books At The Library

Among the new non-fiction titles recently received at the Manchester Township Library is MAKE-BELIEVE: THE STORY OF NANCY & RONALD REAGAN by Laurence Leamer. It is characterized as a story of personal triumph, but also of crisis, tragedy and illusion. Another new biographical title is DIANA, PRINCESS OF WALES by Penny Junor, a full-length, in-depth biography using material gathered in a questionnaire answered by the princess herself.

Less well-known persons are featured in MOSCOW WOMEN - thirteen lively, candid interviews conducted by two Swedish women, Carola Hansson and Karin Liden, who gathered this material in 1978. One reviewer calls this "the first serious, first-hand account of the realities of the lives of Soviet women since the 1920's." AFTER LONG SILENCE is by Michael Straight, an American who was involved with Communist espionage in his youth and whose confession unmasked secret agents of Soviet intelligence.

The story of an Army nurse in Vietnam is HOME BEFORE MORNING by Lynda Van Devanter. After her return home from a year's service, she suffered from some of the same difficulties that returned soldiers have experienced and fought a personal, internal battle. Another book about the Vietnam experience is TIM PAGE'S NAM. Tim Page was a photographer whose photos achieved worldwide fame. He was wounded five times and was himself as much a victim as those he pictured. This is a volume primarily of color photos with some text. There are many other new books at the library, both fiction and non-fiction, for adults and young persons.

The fourth annual collectibles sale of the Manchester Area Historical Society will be held as a part of the merchants sidewalk sales on August 13, 1983. This year, donations will be received and processed at the Blacksmith Shop. Donors are asked to please price and tag items given for the sale if at all possible. The Blacksmith Shop will be open this week to receive donations as follows: Friday, August 5th, 1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. Saturday, August 6th, 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon. For information about this sale please call Howard Parr at 428-9233.

The Blacksmiths will also be operating the forge as part of the sidewalk sales activities. The forge is scheduled to operate from 9:00-11:00 a.m. and from 1:00-4:00 p.m. on the thirteenth. These demonstrations have always proved interesting and popular and are furnished as a public service by the Society.

Then come join us for fun and entertainment at the Fair August 9-13!

Display Your Talent At The Fair

Manchester's best cooks and seamstresses, quilters and handicrafters are busy readying their exhibits for the Exhibit tent in the 1983 Fair. The tastiest pies, breads, and cookies will soon be on display for all fairgoers to see.

If you would like to be included, it's time to start now. Exhibits will be entered on Monday, August 8, from 6-8 p.m. and on Tuesday, August 9, from 9-12 noon. It is recommended that exhibitors of perishable foods (cream pies, filled pastries, etc.) wait until Tuesday to enter. All other, such as needlework, may be entered Monday evening. If you are entering in many categories, you may bring some items on Monday evening and enter other perishable items on Tuesday morning.

Complete rules for exhibitors are outlined in the Fair Book, which is now available at area merchants. All exhibits, including Fine Arts and Antiques which were formerly housed in the Middle School, will be shown in the Exhibit Tent this year.

Middle School Football
Middle School football practice will begin on Monday, August 22. The first week will consist of conditioning and basic instruction of the offense and defense. NO pads will be worn the first week. Please note the following:

1. Practice August 22-26 (8:30 a.m. - noon).
2. ALL players MUST have their physicals BEFORE they can start practice.
3. Get your football shoes as soon as you can and start running in them, so you can avoid blisters.
4. Bring shorts, shirt and shoes for first week.
Coaches for the Middle School will be Brian Schick, John Korican, Ron Panches and Curt Fielder.
If you have any questions please call any of the coaches.

Another thing the legislation would do is put the federal government into insurance regulation. The insurance industry is presently the one major business activity that is still under state jurisdiction rather than federal regulation. Any time the federal government gets involved in private business, there are severe economic consequences—not just for the businesses, but the consumers they serve.

National columnist James J. Kirkpatrick, in a recent Washington Post article, said, "A relative handful of militant feminists may want to pay more for their insurance in the holy name of equality, but it is a fair guess that this so-called women legislation would have small appeal elsewhere."
Perhaps—but who knows what Congress will do, especially when faced with the wrath of that "relative handful."

SAFE BOATING TIP

Ann Arbor's Plezila 17-08 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary reminds you that when you are boating, you should watch your boat's wake. A boat owner is legally responsible for personal injury or property damage caused by waves from his boat.

"KEEP BOAT WAKE DOWN"

Slow down to "no-wake" speeds near swimming areas and boat landings. Even small waves can cause problems to swimmers, and make launching a boat extremely dangerous.

Beware of making steerable waves near fishing boats, which are often loaded to capacity and therefore easily swamped or capsized. Reckless or negligent operation of a power boat can subject the owner to a citation from law enforcement officers, which can result in a sizeable fine.

Letter To The Editor

July 25, 1983

Mr. Mayor:

Just a line to let you know, on Thursday evening, July 21 around 7:30 p.m., we had a bad wind and rain storm from the west, and a yellow balloon from your city landed on West Main St. in New London, Ohio.

After my husband looked at the map, we decided it floated quite a distance, and that's why I'm writing you.

Hope you had a large crowd at your annual Chicken Roast.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Harold Pfeifer
174 W. Main St.

Emergency Bloodmobile Does Well

Manchester produced the miracle the Red Cross needed to end the July slump in blood collections in Washtenaw County. 141 pints of blood were donated with only 9 donors deferred and 2 pre-screened - the 152 donors needed were there! There were many who didn't realize there was a Bloodmobile in town because we had only six and a half days for publicity and set-up. The regular Bloodmobile will be October 17 at the Manchester United Methodist Church as previously announced and since there has to be 58 days between donations everyone will be ready and able to come.

Among the successes of the day were 13 gallon donors who received their various pins: 3-gallon pins to Shirley Roller, Joe Tobias and Gary Walter; 2-gallon pins, David Ahrens, Mary Ann Barker, Marion Creason, Reverend Thomas Hart and Clarin Knauss III, and 1-gallon pins, Linda Daniels, Glenda Dennis, Elsie O'Dell, Don Roush and Chris Southwell.

The volunteers who were hurriedly rounded up by Mrs. William Schwab, Chairman-of-the-Day, were: Prescreener, Ica Schaffer; Registrars, Mrs. Ernest Ridge, Mrs. Ronald Jenter, Mrs. Dan Boutell; Pack Table, Amanda Schaible. Mrs. James Scott; Escorts, Mrs. Herbert Bersuder, Mrs. Guy Little, Linda Head and Brian Head; Canteen, Mrs. Amelto Simmons, Mrs. Del Ludwick; Observer, Mrs. Ben Creason and Drivers for the shuttle buses, Paul Wilde, James Cox and Robert Chapin.

The Emergency Bloodmobile was requested from Manchester because it fell exactly between the two regular collections in the area and because the Red Cross considered Manchester the most likely place to succeed on the spur of the moment. The local industries were terrific in meeting the need and the churches in the area helped get the information around and recruited as usual. Thanks to everyone for a major success.

In Memoriam

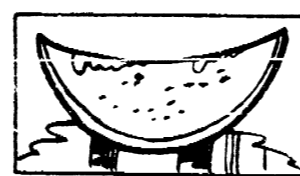

In loving Memory of our Father Palmer Nortley who passed away 21 years ago August 8, 1962.

It's been long years since you left us. Since you went on before. But we know when we cross the river. You'll be waiting on the other shore. And we know there will be no parting. We'll be together forever more.

Sadly missed by his children Iva, Bessie, Arlene, Richard and grandchildren

READ FOR REAL FUN: THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT! is the theme of this summer's reading program for young persons, so it is apropos that the final celebration will feature the Goodtime Players of the Ann Arbor Recreation Department in "Rumpelstiltskin".

The entertainment will take place at the library at 10:00 A.M., Tuesday, August 16. We hope all the reading and listening participants will be able to come. There will also be balloons and bookmarks for everyone who attends.

Children who have not participated in the reading program are cordially invited to come share the fun. We would like to know ahead of time (phone 428-9045 during library open hours) if others plan to attend.

The play will take about 40 minutes and there will be other festivities so the entire event should be over about 11:15 A.M. We hope many readers and readers-to-be can take part.

Proposed Programs For Budget Reduction Discussion

Manchester School Superintendent Gene Thompson has submitted to the Board of Education possible reductions for discussion and debate in order to provide for a balanced budget in the event two requests for additional operating funds are rejected by the voters at a special school election on Wednesday, August 31.

During his presentation Thompson commented, "I regret very much having to submit such a list for discussion. We have worked hard during the past four years to begin to rebuild the programs of the Manchester Community Schools. We are just now beginning to reach a point of earning respect of our fellow educators and citizens of this community. My hope is that it will never be necessary for the reductions which I am about to propose to be seriously considered."

Thompson's proposed items for discussion included the following: Middle school talented student program, elementary physical education, K-12 text books, K-12 library books, instructional supplies, elementary music, secondary school music, miscellaneous equipment, one elementary classroom teacher, band, computer literacy education, one special education teacher, significant athletic program reduction, middle school physical education, custodial personnel reduction, educational field trips, village transportation, contracted maintenance and cash balance.

The Board of Education assigned the task of determining priorities to the Board Finance Committee. This committee has begun deliberations and will make a full report to the Board of Education in September.

Main Street, Manchester, Michigan, until eight o'clock, P.M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, on the 15 day of August, 1983, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

NOTE DETAILS; INTEREST RATE; PAYING AGENT; AND DENOMINATION: The notes will be dated August 29, 1983, will mature April 3, 1984 and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 12% per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company located in the State of Michigan to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, subject to the approval of the (Municipality) Manchester Community Schools, (remainder of sentence may be deleted if not desired) with paying agent fees, if any, to be paid by the purchaser of the notes. Denominations and form of notes to be at the option of the purchaser. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

PRIOR REDEMPTION: The notes shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

AWARD OF NOTES: For the purpose of awarding the notes the interest cost of each bid will be computed on a 360 day year 30 day month basis by determining, at the rate or rates bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from August 29, 1983 (Here insert the sale date or the date of the notes whichever is later) to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. Bids may include calculation of interest cost based upon the above computation but the calculation shall be subject to verification by the municipality based upon the rate or rates bid. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest dollar interest cost to the municipality. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

SECURITY: The loan is in anticipation of the 1983 local operating Tax for the fiscal year July 1, 1983 to June 30, 1984 which tax is due and payable December 1, 1983. The Manchester Community Schools has pledged to establish a special fund to be used solely to pay the principal and interest on the notes when due, and has pledged to set aside in said fund an amount sufficient to repay the principal and interest on the notes when due. A portion of each dollar of taxes remaining to be collected for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 shall be set aside in an amount not less than 125% of the percentage that the principal amount of the notes bears to the amount of the taxes to be levied and to be collected for operating expenses, anticipated delinquency in collections being taken into account, until the amount so set aside is sufficient for the payment of the notes.

In addition, the notes will be a General Obligation of the Manchester Community Schools and if tax collections are insufficient to pay the notes when due, the Board of Education has pledged to use any and all other resources available for payment of said notes. The Board of Education does not have the power to levy taxes for the payment of the notes in excess of its constitutional and statutory tax rate limit.

ADDITIONAL BORROWING: The Manchester Community Schools reserves the right to issue additional notes of equal standing with the notes of this issue to meet current operating and payroll expenses.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of 2% of the par value of the notes, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the notes. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

LEGAL OPINION; DELIVERY OF NOTES: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of the purchaser's attorney approving the legality of the notes, to be secured at the purchaser's expense. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered at a place to be agreed upon with the purchaser within the State of Michigan and within 14 days from award of bid.

The population of the cities is still growing these experts wrote, but at a lower rate of the rural areas. As a result the fraction of the nation's population in the urbanized areas is no longer increasing.

In the 1970s ruralization increased in 18 states as against only four in the 1960s. The term is used to determine an increase in rural areas' share of the total state's population. It is not a regional phenomenon. Ruralization took place in 1970 in Texas, one of the fastest growing states, as well as in New York and Rhode Island, the only two states to lose population during the decade.

The rural migration received a great deal of attention in the newspapers in the early and mid-1970s. At that time the extent and duration of the trend was in doubt. There was speculation that it might be only temporary since rising gasoline costs were making long distance commuting increasingly expensive.

The 1980 census removed all doubts that this movement applied only to the previous decade's population movements. One of the more startling finds was that the absolute size of the rural population declined in only three states. Twenty-nine states recorded losses in the 1960s and most of those states also lost population in the 1950s.

Ruralization can be explained in part by the desire of many young people to escape the crime and other stressful aspects of big city life and the growing ability of older people to buy retirement homes in rural settings. Another factor is that new jobs are being added in rural areas as in urban areas.

The Census Bureau's definition of a rural area included all incorporated places with a population of 5,000 or more. A second definition refers to a metropolitan area comprising a central city of 50,000 or more people along with the rest of the county and other counties that might be linked with it economically.

Metropolitan areas have tended to from larger when people abandoned the inner city and its suburbs for less populated areas. In time outlying areas become part of the metropolitan area and the result is a decline in the population density, then too the metropolitan area loses some of its identity and becomes increasingly rural at its fringes.

The changing nature of the economy offers reasons that the decentralization will continue. The shift from heavy manufacturing to production of lighter high-technology products works to the benefit of rural areas hoping to expand their employment base.

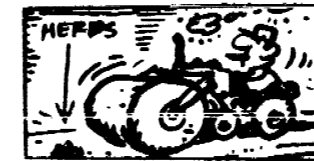

The population shift to the west and south will continue in the 1980s. Mobility will be inhibited by a diminishing supply of people in the prime moving age (22-25), the high cost and inadequate supply of housing and the increase in the number of 2-earner families. The leading restraint on further population growth in the far west and the southern states is the limited availability of water for industrial and residential use.

The population movements disclosed by the 1980 census offer evidence that many Americans feel that small towns and the open countryside provide a "Superior quality of life" to that of big cities. Only 18 percent of the nation's counties in 1970 lost population as compared with more than 40 percent in the 1940s, 50s and 60s.

Also a high proportion of the counties with population losses in the 1970s were urban counties.

Another growth noted was that concerned population growth close to but not within town boundaries. Maybe small towns are "suburbanization", a process usually associated with cities.
