Review Of High School Graduation Requirements Urged

A major component of the report provided to the Manchester Board of Education by independent evaluators was concerned with high school graduation requirements. The report urged the administration of the Manchester Schools to initiate contact with the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools to investigate accreditation requirements. Currently the Manchester Schools are accredited only by The University of Michigan.

A review of graduation requirements was also urged. The review should include teacher and community input and should focus upon both the desirability and consequences of increasing graduation requirements with particular attention to mathematics and the physical sciences.

Recent national studies have endorsed expanding graduation requirements for secondary schools.

The report also urged the board to consider establishing seven period days. This type of arrangement could require the addition of staff, yet would provide added scheduling flexibility for students which would enhance more stringent graduation requirements and increase student participation in extra curricular activities.

Cheese and Butter Distribution

Federal Surplus Cheese and Butter will be distributed in Manchester on Friday, August 19, from 10 to 12 noon at St. Mary's Catholic Church, kitchen. The entrance to come to is at the back of the church on Madison Street.

An Outing

This is a reprint from The Manchester Enterprise, dated August 29, 1895

While visiting our friends, Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Main, near Wampler's lake, last Saturday, it was suggested that we drive over to Brooklyn, their market town, and in the hopes of meeting some old acquaintances we readily consented.

The drive of five miles was pleasant indeed, the sandy roads having been battered by the early morning rain. Crops look good and the farmers are more cheerful.

Arriving at the pretty little village we saw evidence of a steady growth, and on every hand workmen were engaged in making improvements. Mr. Main pointed out Mr. Kensler's cold storage, the pickle factory, electric light plant, etc., not forgetting to call our attention to the new stone walks they are laying and several new residences of pretty designs, among which is one owned by his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Cruse, whose hospitality we enjoyed.

We found the streets filled with teams, and stores with farmers, their wives and daughters, exchanging butter, eggs and other products for merchandise of various kinds.

Our first call was on one of our former townsbos, Herbert Reed, who conducts a neat barber shop in the center of the business portion. He made many inquiries about friends in Manchester, who will be pleased to know that he is doing well and is much respected. Naturally our next call was at the Exponent office but we were disappointed in not finding the proprietor, Mrs. Clough in. Mr. Smith, the printer, informed us that she was home sick. He reported business improving. The Brooklyn people seem to appreciate their home paper and give it good support.

Dropping into Palmer, Coulon & Co.'s store we were met by the genial Ara Palmer, who was so long the popular station agent. He handles calico and groceries like a born counter jumper. Here we had the pleasure of seeing Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ennis, old subscribers of the Enterprise. They are as jolly as ever.

In passing the hotel who should we see sitting on the porch but our old townsman, Daniel FitzGerald, and we would have liked to sit down and visited with him had time permitted.

There were many more on whom we should have called had time permitted, but we must leave them for another time.

We found W.S. Culver at his store assisting his several clerks in waiting on customers. It needed no words of his to tell us that business was good.

Brooklyn people have not far to go when in need of a little recreation or a quiet day at the lakes during the summer. Wampler's on the east is only six and Clark's on the west is but four miles distant and at both there are good hotels and pretty cottages in cool groves where the lake breezes keep the leaves in constant rustle. From personal visits or descriptions heretofore

Spur Of The Moment

The Spur of the Moment Inc. held their August show, in perfect weather, and are sorry to say the attendance was just about nothing. The ones that did compete, did a fine job, and are glad they came.

Since the last show, we have had a little change, as the food truck that had been to all of the earlier shows, decided that the money they were making was not enough to pay for them to even be there, so we WILL NOT have food at the shows from now on. We are sorry, but we can see all the sides, and these people are out to make a profit, just like any business.

Our judge, at our August show was Diane Boutet from Canton, Michigan. Her ringmaster was Kami Kassuba from Romulas, Michigan. Most people were satisfied with the trail class judging, but that is a hard one to try to judge. I suppose. Diane explained why she did as she did, and why she placed as she did, and that is what a judge is there for.

We had no pony classes: The sponsors of the pony classes are Eames Animal Clinic, Inc., Manchester, sponsoring Pony Pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Ron Houck sponsoring Pony Halter. Cosmya Chiropractic Life Center, Clinton sponsoring Pony Speed.

Youth Halter sponsored by Pat and Judy Monaghan, Chelsea. 1st Kathy York showing Sugarfoot. 2nd Kathy Monaghan with Captain King. 3rd Karen York and Sundance. 4th Donny Adams showing Trouble Seeker. Keith Friday was awarded a "honorable mention".

Youth Pleasure - No sponsor. 1st Karen York on Sundance. 2nd Kathy York with Sugarfoot. 3rd Kathy Monaghan and Captain King. 4th Donny Adams on Trouble Seeker.

Adult Halter - No sponsor. 1st Sue Miller and C.D. Derringer. 2nd Lynn Elliott showing Sis. 3rd Jean Davis showing Braun Sugar.

Adult Pleasure sponsored by Atlas Feed and Grain, Clinton. 1st Lynn Elliott and Sis. 2nd Sue Miller and C.D. Derringer. 3rd Jean Davis and Braun Sugar.

Our Walk Trot Class - for Novice riders only. Paulett Sporjorick riding Kathy Yorks

horse Sugarfoot. Kristen Samsel riding her young horse, 3M's Blue Ridge. Our judge said that each of these riders had a good potential for becoming very good riders in the near future.

Our Special Class was Trail sponsored by Shifty Acres, Manchester. This class was planned and set up by Peggy Lynn Friday and sons and we want to thank her for the thought and work involved in it. Peggy was also the announcer for this show and did a real bang up job on that too. 1st Milissia Bullard riding Custus Kid. 2nd Karen York and Sundance. 3rd Kathy York on Sugarfoot. 4th Sue Miller and C.D. Derringer (there were lots of questions on this placing).

Youth Speed sponsored by Dick and Larry Alexander, Manchester. Kathy York and Sugarfoot had 16 points. Second place was Kathy Monaghan and Captain King with 13 points.

Adult Speed sponsored by Bar-G Saddlery, Ypsilanti. First place high point trophy was won by LeRoy Hone and Scat Mac with 20 points. Second place went to Vera Kleeve riding Whisky with 12 points.

Our next show will be held at Whites Arena on September 11 and the special classes will be Foal/Yearling and Costume. This Costume class is a lot of fun and the baby horses are cute to watch, so try to come and participate, or just watch. We welcome all.

Mothers Against Drunk Driving

Mothers Against Drunk Drivers will meet on Thursday, August 25, 1983, at 7:00 p.m. at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. on Hogback Rd. The film, "What Would You Do?" will be shown at this month's meeting. This film contains four scenarios concerning drinking and driving.

The Michigan Mothers Against Drunk Drivers workshop will be held Saturday, October 22 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Okemos High School.

Cards Of Thanks

FAIR BOARD THANKS COMMUNITY

Our thanks go to all the people of Manchester who helped make the 1983 Manchester Community Fair a success. The Fair is a tremendous amount of work and each year the Board calls on volunteers in the community to help pull it all together. The volunteers we had this year were instrumental in getting the Fair off to a good start.

Our special thanks go to the community residents on Vernon St. between Wolverine and Torrey who were so tolerant and understanding when the street was blocked. Special thanks also to the Tri-City Logging Co. who donated wood chips that were used in the Exhibit Tent after we were flooded with rain.

Many noticed the new signs, bleachers and freshly painted buildings on the Fairgrounds this year. Thanks go to the Michigan Youth Corps workers who put a lot of time and effort into the work they did on the Fairgrounds before the Fair.

Finally, thanks to all who came to the Fair, exhibited at the Fair, and enjoyed the entertainment at the Fair. You are the ones who put the "community" in the Manchester Community Fair. See you all next year at the 40th annual Fair!

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Couch, Dr. Ben and Dr. Hwang, all the nurses and helpers at the Saline Hospital for the wonderful care and support given me during my stay there.

Thank you relatives, neighbors and friends for the many get well cards, the phone calls, the beautiful flowers, and all that good food that was given me.

Special thanks to Rev. Macfarlane, Rev. Hart and Rev. Hocking, for their visits, prayers, and spiritual support.

Most of all, thank you Ray and Wanda for your excellent care and consideration.

God bless each one of you.
 Sincerely,
 Ina Haeussler

TAX FACTS

If you smoke, you may have noticed the price of your cigarettes has increased since the first of the year.

That's because the federal excise tax on cigarettes doubled, from eight cents per pack to 16 cents per pack, on Jan. 1, 1983.

One cigarette manufacturer, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., of Winston-Salem, N.C., is doing something to help ease the pinch that this new tax is putting on consumers' pocketbooks.

It's introduced Century, the new cigarette in the money-saving 25 pack. Century offers 25 more cigarettes per carton at the same price as traditional cartons. That's like getting more than one free pack with every carton purchase.

HIT OR MISS by farley

It was announced by the press that Eric Arthur Blair's birthday was June 25 but that created no great stir, for George was better known as George Orwell, his pen name under which he composed two of the most influential works of political sarcasm of this century—Animal Farm and 1984.

Perhaps to call them works of political prophecy would be a better description of them. They were published in 1945 and 1949 and now an Orwell boom is gathering force as the year 1984 approaches.

In Animal Farm, a short satirical fable, some farm animals grow tired of their servitude to man and start a revolution to run the farm as they wish. But they are betrayed by their leaders, the pigs, into worse servitude. The pigs slogan is "All animals are equal but some animals are more equal than others."

The more ambitious 1984 depicts totalitarian society of the future in which truth has no meaning, for historical records are destroyed and propaganda masquerades as information. Love and independent thought bring punishment and privacy is impossible since "Big brother is watching you."

A TV special of June 7, "1984 Revisited", noted some of the ways the actual world of 1983 resembled the fictional world of 1984. Of prime concern was "the rise of the computer state" with its growing potential of the invasion of privacy. Also examined were such developments as two-way television and the surveillance of cameras now in widespread use in banks, department stores and subway systems. In the print media, a lively debate over the likely nature of Orwell's were the author still living. Norman Podoretz fired the opening shot in January's Harpers entitled "If Orwell were alive today" and the conclusion was that Orwell would be a supporter of neoconservation, the school of contemporary political thought closely associated with Mr. Podoretz. A number of letter writers to the magazine took issue with the argument, and John Garvey of Commonwealth weighed in with a satirical column entitled "If Norman Podoretz Were Alive Today" a Conversation with George Orwell".

In an article in The New Republic's year end issue, Irving Howe stepped the question that Mr. Podoretz did not hesitate to answer. Mr. Howe wrote "it would be foolish to say" what Orville's current beliefs are "except that it is hard to imagine him dropping his interest in politics entirely."

Possibly Orwell's description of Charles Dickens can be accepted at least in part as a self portrait "a man who is always fighting against something, but who fights in the open and is not frightened... a man who is generally angry—in other words... a nineteenth century liberal, a free intelligence, a type hated with equal hatred by all the small little orthodoxies now contending for our souls."

There's little future for the person who can't write illegibly enough to be an executive nor speak incomprehensibly to be a politician.
