Reminiscences of Iron Creek

A reprint from the Manchester Enterprise, dated February 14, 1889.

Written by Chas. J. Van Valkenburg and read at a Social held by the Iron Creek Society at the residence of John Waters

The scenery around Iron lake is on a humble scale, and though very beautiful does not approach to grandeur, nor can it much concern one who has not long frequented or lived by its shores, yet its waters are deep and are remarkable for its fish, and have been ever since the surrounding country was first settled, some 60 years ago. A few reminiscences of its earlier days may not seem amiss.

Amber E. Eaby and John B. Crane were the first settlers here. Eaby taking 80 acres of land from the government in the year 1829. The same land is now owned by Wm. Henzie, and P. Costello. The history of Mr. Eaby's latter life the writer has been unable to learn.

John B. Crane settled the same year, also taking 80 acres from the government, the same property being owned by the late John Raby. Mr. Crane lived here a number of years in an indian wigwam, returning once to New York and bringing back a few apple trees on his back, which he put out, thus starting the first steps to civilization. One of these trees is still standing. He lived here a number of years, principally by hunting and trapping, and at that time fur brought high prices. In 1849 he sold his land to John Raby and went trapping in Northern Michigan, where he accidentally shot himself through the thigh, and was ever afterwards lame. From there he went to Wisconsin, returning to the Creek after 15 years absence, and lived for two years with Oliver Curtis; but he finally returned to his old home in New York, where he died.

Judson Clark cleared the most land in this section, and the lake now known as Iron lake was then called Clark's pond, and it still bears that name on our county maps. Mr. Clark was born in Connecticut, where he afterward returned and died. He owned what is now called the saw-mill property, buying the same with a section of land from Harrison & Burns, who constructed the dam in 1836, employing Seth Carr. They built the mill in 1837. The workmen employed on the mill were Messrs. Badel & Ackley, from Ohio, at the same time erecting a frame that was to be completed in the future for a shingle mill. Judson Clark was the second owner of the mill property.

About this time Ebenezer Davison settled south of the creek, but there was no road leading south to the Chicago turnpike at that time. Mr. Davison lived for some time in a log shanty, no doubt enjoying life as well as any. Mr. Clark never finished the shingle mill but gave the frame to Mr. Davison for a house, if he would succeed in having a road surveyed from the mill leading south to the turnpike. This Davison agreed to do, and finally did accomplish with much trouble. Oliver Curtis surveying the same. Mr. Davison moved the frame home and had it finished for a dwelling, which he occupied for many years, and finally selling it in later years to William Henzie, the same building being a part of the one that Mr. Henzie now lives in.

About the time the mill was built Orrin Clark appeared upon the scene, being, as he expressed it, a sort of a "wandering jew" without a home; and, needing employment, he went to work in the mill. He helped saw the first log which was drawn by Willard Ferguson with a yoke of cattle. This log was a black walnut and cut on what was known as the Wolcott place; the said tree making five saw logs, each 12 feet long. After the machinery was put in position, the mill saved its own coating. This mill did not last many years. The dam not being strong enough, it was finally carried away by a freshet in the spring of 1846. It was not rebuilt for 15 years. The mill property was then bought by Samuel Estherbrooks, who caused the second mill to be built. This was 20 years ago, and the same mill and dam are now standing, and owned at the present time by

DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK
Mike Waldron #36

by Jon Hardenbergh

Last Thursday was head coach Jim Fielder's birthday and what better present is there than having his squad, the Manchester Dutchmen, run over Vandercook Lake to remain 4-0 in the league. The Dutch did have a few problems with the pass defense but this was corrected at halftime as the Jayhawks scored no more. Our rushing really clicked as Carl Weidmayer pounded out 145 yards. Quarterback Pat Ridenour was also hot as he threw 15 passes and completed 8 for 117 yards and 2 touchdowns.

The battle started with the Jayhawks receiving and within a few plays they tallied. It was a 64 yard pass and the boot that put them on top 0-7. It seemed this just made us more intense as we drove right down and Mike Agin ploughed from 3 yards out to score. Terry Schuler kicked the extra point to knot it 7-7. Soon we were moving again and we went up 14-7 on Carl Weidmayer's 2 yard plunge. We stopped them, took possession and Pat Ridenour hit Tom Lockridge for a 26 yard touchdown, making it 21-7. Vandercook Lake had little time to score but they marched down to hit paydirt with 8 ticks till halftime. A good P.A.T. and they had pulled closer 21-14.

Whatever was said in the bus at intermission certainly worked as we tallied twice and they were quiet.

Our fourth touchdown of the night was scored by Jeff Daubner as he intercepted and fell across the goal. Pat Ridenour capped the scoring as he found Mike Agin in the left flats—Mike snatched the sphere and motored 23 yards.

Terry Schuler, after having his last boot blocked, toed it thru making the final 34-14.

The Dutch now return home to host Grass Lake. The Warriors are coming off a victory Friday and have been playing rough, tough football this year, to become one of the states good Class D teams.

Our Little Dutch also won their 4th straight Thursday, downing Vandercook Lake.

Middle School Girls Basketball

7TH GRADE
Manchester's 7th grade girls basketball ran into a quick, aggressive Tecumseh team on Wednesday past and went home to a 29-6 defeat. The Dutch could generate no offense, and Tecumseh dominated their offensive boards, getting 5 or 6 shots each time down the floor. The win gives Tecumseh a 5-0 record and drops the Dutch to 3-2.

The Grass Lake Warriors were the fourth victim for the 7th grade Dutchmen this season. A late surge by the visitors gave Manchester a score, when 10 unanswered points allowed them to cut the Dutch lead to 22-18. However, some timely baskets by Sarah Corwin helped Manchester hang on to a 29-18 win. Scoring went as follows: Sherry Ricklemann 6; Sarah Corwin, Tracy Stengel, and Cheryl Blumenauer 5 each; Vanessa Salyer and Linda Milkey 3 apiece; Teresa Macomber 2. The Dutch went 10 for 31 from the free throw line.

8TH GRADE
On Wednesday, October 12, the 8th grade girls basketball team traveled to Tecumseh. The Dutch were able to keep the number of fouls well under twenty for the first time this season. However, the Manchester offense had a tough time penetrating to the basket. Tecumseh's outstanding defensive play gave them a 27 to 20 win. Dawn Brady was top scorer with 6 points, while Kim

Manchester Village Planning Commission

September 13, 1983

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Room of the Village Hall by Chairman Alher. Members present: Alber, Kwolek, Grossman, Leeson, Stautz, Smith, Lowery, Kallewaard. Member absent: Walton. A quorum was present.

Minutes of the Regular meeting of August 16 and the Public Hearing of August 16, 1983 were approved as read.

The Chairman called for committee reports. Stautz reported that the Optimist Club is now investigating the possibility of a permanent dock at the boat and canoe race landing point, but they are not yet ready to proceed.

The Chairman appointed Ted Stautz to the Industrial Park Committee.

The application of Tom Marshall for rezoning one parcel of land was reviewed. Smith made a motion, seconded by Stautz, to schedule a Public Hearing on the proposed rezoning beginning at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, October 11, 1983.

Mr. Ed Todd was present to apply for a sign permit for a portable sign at the Back Door Party Store, 500 Ann Arbor Street. He offered to cut the sign down to 18 sq. feet, the maximum allowed under the ordinance for a nonconforming use in a residential district. He also proposed to keep the lighting off whenever the store is closed, to donate its use to local activities, and to keep the sign near the front wall of the building rather than near the road.

In discussion, Kwolek stated that he did not believe the sign met the ordinance requirement of being "appropriate in appearance with the existing or intended character of the vicinity". Smith noted that a painted identification sign already exists on the street side of the building. Lowery expressed concern about the portability of the sign, and the fact that this case had special requirements because of being a nonconforming use in a residential neighborhood. It was also noted that, with changing lettering, the sign did not meet the ordinance requirement that the sign's function should be "identifying".

A motion was made by Grossman, seconded by Leeson, to grant the sign permit as applied for. Roll call vote: Grossman, yes; Leeson, yes; Stautz, yes; Kwolek, no; Smith, no; Lowery, no; Kallewaard, no. The motion was declared to have failed.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:52 p.m. on a motion by Lowery, seconded by Kwolek, passed unanimously.

Secretary

To the Editor:

THE GILMAN PAPERS
I am at work on some aspects of the history of the Universalist Church in Michigan. There was a Universalist Congregation in Manchester from 1846 to the early 1920's. My primary concern is letters, photos, clippings, sermons or articles pertaining to the Rev. John Briggs Gilman (1822-1881). He was Minister of the Universalist Church at Manchester from about 1855 until his death. The Thomas J. Thorn family is reported to have been in possession of the Manchester Universalist Church records. I should like to hear from any descendants of the late Mr. Thorn who may be residing in the Manchester area.

All the materials contained in Manchester Township Library have been copied by me. However, no photo of the church has surfaced in the books, papers etc. at the Library. I am especially interested in a photo of the Church. Upon invitation I will travel to Manchester to examine and copy any pertinent material.

On Wednesday, October 26, the monthly potluck dinner will be held by the Senior Club at 12:30 at the Manchester United Methodist Church.

Apart from the rhetoric and the meetings, what is becoming abundantly clear is that a significant number of people in Manchester are terribly unhappy, not with the committee which drafted the proposal nor with a program of sex education, per se, but with this particular program.

And their unhappiness rests on two general grounds. First, it violates sound moral principles which many of us, Protestant and Catholic, hold, and second, its detailed anatomical and sociological information, particularly in regard to incest, rape, abuse and the like, could easily be misunderstood even by a relatively mature adolescent and thus could do grave psychological harm.

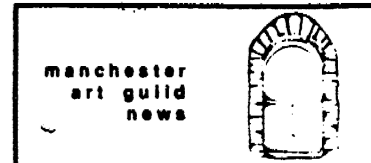

These objections are coming from Protestants as well as Catholics, grandparents as well as new parents, very highly educated people and those with a moderate educational background, from teachers who are also parents and from people who would call themselves liberals as well as conservatives. It would be the better part of wisdom, I think, then for the Board to reject this proposal either as a required course or as an elective.

The next trip is to Frankenmuth and is scheduled for November 11. So make your reservations with Helen Braun, 428-8966, early to avoid disappointment.

The Manchester Art Guild will meet this Monday, October 24, at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Nancy Feldkamp, 8701 Smythe Road. Discussion will include tentative planning for a Christmas Art Fair. Nancy lives north of Manchester. Go M52 to Pleasant Lake Road, west to Smythe, then 1/4 mile north. Phone 428-8798 for further information.

Girls Basketball

Bailey and Rockie Weber each scored 4 points.

The next evening, October 13, the team from Grass Lake visited Manchester. In a game that was close all the way, the visitors came out on top by a score of 25 to 22. Missed free throws and missed rebounding opportunities spelled defeat for the Dutch.

Leading Manchester in scoring was Kim Bailey with six points.

Yet many parents are overlooking one of the common causes of future health problems—not because they are indifferent parents, but simply because they are unaware of the potential problems. Children are going to be children, and they'll jump and fall and engage in rough-and-tumble play.

HIT or MISS by farley

Trivia is a favorite word nowadays. It is a very popular substance in various newspaper columns. Those two or three line paragraphs that are educational, humorous or informative are widely used nowadays. Their popularity is said to be widespread because most of our days are filled with so much that we don't have time to read thoroughly analytical tales of the various current events so we are glad to read these short items about every imaginable subject under the sun.

A growing list of our readers have told us that they enjoyed these items of trivia and so may we present here with a batch of them for your perusal. So read and enjoy:

*A bumper sticker we saw the other day read "Life by the inch is but a cinch but life by the yard is often hard."

*A couple of friends were discussing their problems the other day and one of them said, "I don't know why, but my wife and I don't seem to be getting along too well of late. I don't know why. I have tried to please her but to no avail. I wish I knew what to do." The second chap said, "You know you haven't been too nice to her lately. Why don't you, for instance, see that she goes out once a week to dinner. My wife and I had somewhat the same problem but I found the solution of the problem. We now go out to dinner once a week in a nice restaurant with soft music, good food and a congenial atmosphere. I guess we didn't go out enough. She didn't get away enough from the drudgery of the daily routine. It has made a great difference in her attitude. She goes out Mondays and I go out to dinner Fridays."

*Men who live alone suffer more from loneliness than do women who live alone. Psychologists say.

*Chicago is closer to Moscow than to Rio De Janeiro.

*Nineteen out of every 20 people who diet to lose weight give up shortly, it is now said.

*In music a sixty fourth note is known as a "humidemisemiquaver." Say it slowly. Does any other English word have three internal rhymes?

*If you don't want to call it a pimiento call it a pickled pepper. Same thing.

*A married man ideally should fulfill four requirements. Be a good husband, a good provider, a good father and a good craftsman. Scholars who study such things report that the man only had to fulfill two of the four to be socially valuable. The married woman, it was said at the time, ideally should fulfill three requirements: Be a good housewife, a good mistress and a good mother. But she only had to fulfill two to be socially valuable.

*A bank can legally honor the written amount on a check even if the amount in figures is not the same.

*The geographical center of the United States below Canada is a few miles west of Castle Rock, S.D. says Rand-McNally's road atlas. The population center - the point from which the total population is evenly divided - is now just outside of DeSoto, Mo.

*A way to get the conversation boiling at the bar is to quote the baseball history books which claim the pitching is 70 percent of the game.

*Research sez that 11 percent of the American householders have mice in their homes, but not on purpose. *The ice cream cone was outlawed in Washington D.C. for more than 40 years.

*A book has been published titled "Mental Institutions In A Nutshell."

*The literal origin of the word "pornography" meant "writing of harlots."

*Slot machines can be set for specific where they're legal. They give back to the players as much as 95 percent in the casinos, but less than 50 percent in other places.

Government contracts can get sort of funny, especially in war times. Combat veterans of World War II recall when their beer was delivered in camouflaged cans.

*The Soviets tried an intriguing experiment in 1939. From their planes 50 feet over Finland they dropped combat troops-without parachutes-onto the snow. Some parts of Finland are pretty rocky. The Soviets gave it up.

*Your muscles outnumber your bones by 650 to 206, about.

*1000 basic words make up 90 percent of all writing.

*There is no such thing as an unpleasant aroma. If it smells bad it's a stench. Consider horseradish, red pepper and the hottest

Iron Creek

Mrs. Calarina Gall.
 Wm. Baldwin came in the year of 1836, and bought of the government, in 1837, the land north of the creek, and on the east side of the road. His parchment deeds are still in possession of the owners of the land. He built a log house on the south bank of the lake, where he lived for many years, and finally died at the age of 88 years, being one of the oldest settlers at that time.

Rev. Peter Van Winkle came also at an early date, taking up the land occupied at present by his son, Virgil. Richard Green was his hired man, and assisted him in his farm work for many years.

The date of the building of the first school house is unknown to the writer. It was a small log structure, and stood where now a grove of oaks are growing, on a corner where a road leads past the residence of J.R. Holmes. Rev. Peter VanWinkle did not like the position of the schoolhouse, and gave the site where the present one now stands. He held religious services there nearly every Sunday until the present church was built in 1868.

In the fall of 1840 the news went around the sparsely settled neighborhood that a crazy man was lying on some straw beside a log about 200 rods north of the west end of the lake. Hearing this startling news, Orrin Clark decided to investigate, and going to the spot he found a human being as above stated, and a few feet from him stood a white oak tree feet in diameter. This man proved to be Charles Wolcott, who afterward procured slabs from the mill and constructed what was then called a "dug out," being a small excavation in the side of a hill, with the slabs set up on the side and covered with brush. Mr. Wolcott had taken up the 40 acres of land previous to this, and proved to be of sound mind, but very eccentric. He began at once to manufacture pumps, which were quite extensively used by the settlers for a long time. He constructed eight of these dug outs, and some of these excavations still indent the hillside of the farm now occupied by George Payne.

One night, in the winter of 1846, it was raining hard when the weather suddenly grew cold, turning the rain into sleet, and continued all night. Mrs. Orrin Clark, becoming worried about the old gentleman on the hillside, persuaded Mr. Clark to visit him as soon as possible in the morning. He found him in a pitiable condition, the rain having forced itself through the poor roof of the "dug out;" and the bedding becoming wet, and afterward freezing, the poor old fellow became a firm prisoner, on his own couch, to "Jack Frost." Mr. Clark built a fire and thawed out the frozen blankets, so that Mr. Wolcott could get up; but he said he had not suffered from the cold. Finally, becoming tired of Michigan and the age, Mr. W. sold his place and departed.

Brown Beauty is reputed to be the name of the horse Paul Revere rode when he warned the countryside of the approach of the British.

A Brazilian palm can claim the largest leaves in the plant kingdom. Its fronds are sometimes over 70 feet long and 19 feet broad.

The Manchester Board of Education has scheduled the evening of October 24 at 7:00 p.m. at the Manchester Middle Schools for an information session regarding the development of a reproductive health curriculum for the schools.

All films and materials which are part of the proposed curriculum will be available for viewing by any interested parents. The curriculum which has been under development is proposed for grades 4, 6, 7, 8, and 10-12. Movies which are part of the proposed program will be set up and running continuously in several class rooms in order to allow parents to view as many as possible.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson stated, "This information evening is part of the plan we have been following for the development of this program. In the survey conducted approximately a year ago a large number of parents indicated a wish for this program. We have attempted to follow their guidelines in the development. It is our wish to provide as many persons as possible with the opportunity to review materials and to voice any concerns they may have. I am anxious for the opportunity for accurate information to be provided to the community." I have been dismayed that much misinformation is being passed around. For example, the program is not required for all students. Parents must sign a form requesting that their child be included in the program. Also, the middle school program does not call for instruction regarding contraceptive procedures. The elementary program is unchanged from what we have been doing for the past several years. The high school curriculum is located in three elective courses which are not part of high school graduation requirements.

Following the public information night the Board of Education will discuss the topic further before voting on the issue at a meeting which will be well publicized.
