Tirb Chevrolet Celebrates 50 Years Of Business

Mr. Harry Strudder and Mr. Tom Carican of G.M.A.C. presented Ray C. and Wanda Tirb a congratulatory letter celebrating Tirb Chevrolet Company's 50th anniversary.

Tirb Chevrolet at 131 Adrian Street celebrated their 50th year in business on Tuesday, November 29th. On that date representatives from General Motors Acceptance Corporation were at the facility to present Ray C. Tirb with a letter of recognition in honor of the occasion.

It has been a long time since Frank H. Tirb became a franchised Chevrolet dealer in Manchester on November 29, 1933. His son, Ray C. Tirb, is the franchised dealer in the same building in which his father was in business 50 years ago.

Back in 1933 there was one factory in Flint making Chevrolets. Clarence Lindbert opened an agency where Allen Currey, DDS is now located at 227 E. Main Street. Cost of cars in those days ranged from the neighborhood of $300 to one thousand dollars—including all makes of cars.

When Frank Tirb took over the dealership on November 29 Clarence Lindbert worked for him. Everything was quite different in those days of car delivery. It would not be unusual for seven men from Manchester to drive to Flint for cars. They'd go one day and return here the following day. They were talking cash! Every car had to be paid for in cash before they left the factory. Those were the days of no checks. But when the men returned to the Tirb garage there would be six new cars.

motors—there were two to choose from. Yes, and remember there was no automatic transmission. A contrast from today where there is at least a dozen engines to select from. Automatic transmission—no one had heard of it. Those were the days when everything was done by mail. Today everything is computerized. Mail no longer is used in the auto industry.

Ray remembers when his dad was selling cars and they had 4-wheel brakes and here in town the customers used to ask to have the front wheels disconnected.

Tirbs remember one of the really big improvements in the auto industry. That was when the cars were first equipped with starters. There was no longer the necessity of having to crank up the Chevy! Automation was really at work.

Then there was World War I. That saw the end of car production at once. Frank Tirb was in service in France at the end of that war. It took the car industry some time to get back on its feet after that one. But swing back again it did.

Before World War II Tirbs were selling some 125 new cars a year. Things were beginning to look good. Then the war years. Production of cars was at a standstill. At the end of the war in 1946 car production started all over again.

That is the way it has been in the auto industry. Ray C. Tirb became a franchised dealer in 1959—following in his father's footsteps. Ray likes the business. It is what he knows best. He had a good teacher—his own dad!

There are many improvements at Tirb Chevrolet. The showrooms are bigger. Additions have been put on and there is a large area at the back of the building for car displays.

Earlier this summer General Motors celebrated their 75th year in business. This is Tirb's 50th year. Only 25 years without Tirbs.

It's Luminaria Time Again!

This is the sixth year for our Christmas Eve Luminaria. This year however, something has changed, the project will from now on be headed by The Manchester Area Historical Society. Therefore all of the supplies will be picked up at the Old Blacksmith Shop on East Main the week before Christmas. Look for pickup hours in next weeks paper.

The price this year is $3.00 per residence. The cost of the candles and bags has continued to climb over the past six years and it has finally become necessary to raise the total cost per residence.

Any person or persons who wish to work on his or her street collecting, and has not been contacted by December 10th, please call Karen Hinkley 428-9115.

As this project is now being turned over to the area Historical Society, I want to say thank you to everyone who has helped to make this project a success, especially Sandy King, Joyce Stein, Betty Mann, the First of America Bank and many others, too numerous to mention. This year we will all enjoy seeing every street in the village participate in the Luminaria.

1984 Fair Date Set

The 1984 Manchester Community Fair has been scheduled for August 14-18. Fair dates are usually determined by the availability of a carnival, and a carnival has been contracted by President Jim Thelen for those dates.

New Motor State, a Detroit area carnival, has taken the job. Once again the carnival will offer the ride-all-day for one price, but will also offer reduced prices on single tickets for Kids' Day. According to Fair officials, the carnival will offer about 12 rides, guaranteeing a ferris wheel and merry-go-round.

To other Fair business, a logo design has been chosen from more than thirty designs that were submitted. The winning design was submitted anonymously, so no prize has been awarded. Thanks go to all who worked on designs, and congratulations to the winning designer.

Fair Board members are reminded that there will be no meeting in December. The next meeting of the Board is tentatively scheduled for January 9.

The public is invited to the annual Christmas party of the Manchester Area Historical Society at the Manchester Mill on Monday, December 12, at 7:30 p.m. Featured will be Bert Hornback, the "Dickens" of Ann Arbor and the state, who will present his dramatic readings from A Christmas Carol. He has appeared publicly at the Earle and the Clements Library in past years and will give two readings at the University's Museum of Art in Ann Arbor this season, as well as performing for private groups throughout Michigan.

Members and guests are invited to complete the evening by joining in singing carols (with Howard Parr at the piano), trimming a Christmas tree for the birds with items contributed by Manchester merchants, and partaking of seasonal refreshments.

Doors to the Mill will open at 7 p.m. and residents are encouraged to come early. Music by Mary Sue Moore, pianist, and Michelle Cartier and Brian Pieske, violinists, Mark Meister, violist, and David Moore, cellist, will precede the program.

Fifteen Students Inducted To Honor Society

The Manchester Chapter of the National Honor Society will induct 15 outstanding high school students to its membership in a candlelight ceremony Thursday, December 8. The ceremony will be held in the High School Media Center at 7:30 p.m. All parents, students and interested community members are encouraged to attend. Please help us honor these new inductees.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that can be awarded a high school student. It is attained not only with a high level of scholarship, but also by demonstrating high standards of leadership, character and service to the community. In Manchester, prospective members are selected by a faculty committee weighing each of the four areas equally.

The final list of students is then submitted to the entire faculty for approval. In this manner each student is evaluated in all areas of curricular, extra-curricular, and community endeavors, in an attempt to choose well-rounded students who are and will continue to be leaders in their community.

Continuing a tradition of service, National Honor Society Members babysit for a young mother's group and sponsor a community Blood Drive through the Red Cross in the winter, in addition to hosting school functions.

Students to be inducted to the Society are: seniors, Shelley

Klein Schmidt and Jan Coval, and juniors, Betsy Royle, Ron Milkey, Lisa Rickelmann, Jennifer Englund, Lou Anne Krzyzaniak, Merri Beth Opal, Michelle Ball, Beth Fahy, Hope Broucke, Karla Raab, Cliff Tracy, Tom Lockridge, and Mark Meister.

Current members are Kraig Sauter, Sarah Platt, Todd Haselschwerdt, Mary Stierle, Katie Miller, Jay Wilde, and Mark Ball. Officers for the 1983-84 school year are Kraig Sauter, president, Lisa Rickelmann, vice-president, Mary Stierle, secretary, and Katie Miller, treasurer.

The National Honor Society is one of the oldest and most prestigious national organizations for high school students. Through its sponsoring organization, The National Association of Secondary School Principals, members have been awarded over two million dollars in scholarships.

Way Campaign
Exceeds Goal

Mr. Jack Zaborowski, Campaign Chairman, is pleased to announce that for the 24th consecutive year the citizens of Manchester have given their wholehearted support to the United Way by making contributions and pledges totalling $31,075. This represents an achievement of 102.3% of this year's $30,363 campaign goal.

Jack indicated that the citizens of Manchester have traditionally given more than their share to people in need. We can all certainly be proud of our achievements in the face of present economic conditions. Susan Hamilton, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Manchester United Way, wishes to thank each of the Division Chairman, Area Captains, fellow board members and especially the volunteer solicitors for a job well done. A very special thank you goes to Mrs. Del (T.V.) Ludwick for her guidance and devoted year-long efforts in support of the Manchester United Way.

Thanks are due Simon Steele and the Manchester Enterprise for his coverage of the campaign and to David Little for displaying our thermometer. In closing, Susan indicated that it is a pleasure to serve the United Way in a community like Manchester, that year after year shows that it really cares and truly does "Put Some Sun in Their Day".

My First And Last Shot With Queen Anne

This is a reprint of the Manchester Enterprise, dated December 4, 1902

The sporting fraternity are saying a great deal about "events" just now, so I will relate an event that happened some time in the "forties." My father and brother, Arthur, had gone very early in the morning, there being a good tracking snow, for a deer hunt, taking the two rifles with them, brought from Rochester, N.Y. There was also an old Queen Anne flint lock musket left in the house which father carried in the war of 1812, and was also brought to Michigan. After father and brother had gone I thought about Queen Anne. I took her down, wiped the dust from her, looked her over, stood her by my side. She was taller than I but I decided to take her in the woods unknown to anyone. So after finding some powder and rifle bullets I loaded her and started a southwesterly course from Manchester.

Passing along an unbroken country I struck the trail of two deer which I followed cautiously up to the farm now owned by John Grossman I think, when I saw them lying down in a ravine, now almost filled up. I am told, on the south side of Grossman's barn. At that time no clearing had been done anywhere on my journey; all was unbroken wilderness. I concealed myself behind a large tree and slowly crawled to the top of the hill south of the ravine. I had never shot at a deer but I was not excited up to that time. Taking a confidential look at Queen Anne, I drew her up beside the tree, pressed my shoulder to her butt, my right cheek resting innocently on her breech taking deliberate aim at the larger one. I pulled her trigger. Phizz-z-z Bang-g-g. Where is Queen Anne? Where is my cap? Where is the deer? Where is the man behind the gun? After the smoke had cleared away and my cap was found I again embraced Queen Anne and we went down the valley and sure enough there lay the larger one dead.

How to get home with Queen Anne was my next thought, never having thought, never having been that distance from home and no road, I concluded best to take my back tracks which brought me out all right. But the worst was yet to come. My father had returned and I know I shall never forget the look he and mother gave me. What has happened to you? Why did you take Queen Anne down for a hunt? My God boy you must have overloaded her. When mother looked me over and found my right shoulder almost dislocated, my right eye closed, my cheek bone very black and sore, mother very earnestly said Queen Anne was too much for me and you leave her alone after this or your father will get after you. I made a solemn promise then and there that this was my first and would be my last event with Queen Anne.

Statewide Equine Survey To Be Conducted

The Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service is joining hands with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service to undertake an extensive equine list building project, for purposes of conducting a statewide equine owners survey in the fall of 1984.

The 1981 Governor's Conference on Agriculture and the 1982 Governor's Conference on the Michigan Horse Industry, both identified as a top priority the need for a comprehensive survey of the Michigan equine population. The equine industry needs an adequate data base to better determine its size and scope, and to more effectively allocate resources.

We are soliciting your help in building this list of Michigan equine owners for the upcoming survey. If you would like to be involved in this important information gathering task, please contact the 4-H office at 973-9510 to obtain forms and further instructions.

Shakespeare Reading Club

The Shakespeare Reading Club met at the home of Mrs. Howard Parr on November 25th and the Historian, Mrs. Marvin Kirk read the minutes of the meeting of March 12, 1898. In that year the U.S. had granted autonomy to Cuba. Clara Barton and her accomplishments were discussed. At Lick Observatory a new Comet had been sighted. The world's largest library was located in France. This national treasure had been assembled by King Louis XIV. The members of the Shakespeare Club were reading Act III of Henry VI.

To keynote the theme of the afternoon which was "A Great Statesman", the quotation for the day was from Alexander Pope's "Moral Essays"

"Statesman, yet friend to truth; of soul sincere. In action faithful, and in honour clear; Who broke no promise, serv'd no private end".

Mrs. Malcolm Billings took up the subject at this point and gave a lucid and inspirational talk on the life of Sir Thomas More. He was a member of a great but not noble family and lived during the reigns of Henry VII and Henry VIII of England. More was a man of deep religious conviction, aesthetic, moral, intelligent and just. He rose to prominence as a lawyer, was knighted by Henry VIII, became Keeper of the Great Seal of England and then Lord Chancellor. He was the first commoner in English history to attain that lofty position. He clashed with the King because he would not acknowledge his Sovereign to have supremacy over the Roman Catholic church. Eventually he forfeited his life, because he would not compromise his moralistic convictions.

Roll call followed and each member named and briefly commented on a world famous statesman. Those mentioned included Winston Churchill, Adlai Stevenson, George Grenville, Roger Sherman, Benjamin Franklin, Daniel Webster, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Beckett, and Michigan's Arthur Vandenberg.

Our stop on a trip around the world took us to Copenhagen, Denmark and to Tivoli Garden, in particular. Mrs. Aaron Nathan read a New York Times Travel Section article about the renowned park, about its restaurants, amusements, tame rides, and concert halls. Tivoli Gardens is very popular with tourists but even more popular with the local Danes, who buy season passes and visit an average of three evenings a week during the summer months when Tivoli is open. Time spent there offers fun, culture, music, marvelous food and visual charm. It should be a "Must" for summer visitors to Denmark.

The next meeting will be a Christmas luncheon at Mrs. Nathan's at noon on Tuesday, December 13th.

Cooperatively Speaking

The Manchester Food Co-operative will hold its monthly ordering and business meeting on Thursday, December 8, at 7:00 p.m. The new meeting place is the Manchester Medical Center on Galloway Drive. Anyone wishing to join our co-op is welcome to call Paul or Jonelle Dankert at 428-9487.

It's time to get reacquainted with your phone bill.

When you go to your mail box and find your next phone bill, you'll notice it's changed in some ways. For example, there'll be more pages because the billing information will be more extensive and listed differently. These initial changes are the result of Michigan Bell's upcoming separation from AT&T on January 1, 1984.

We'd like to explain these changes. Probably the first and most important thing to understand is that after January 1, 1984, your Michigan Bell bill may include charges from Michigan Bell and AT&T or other long distance service companies, but you'll continue to pay the total bill to Michigan Bell.

Your billing information will be in three general categories:

Basic Service.

In the future, Michigan Bell will continue to provide and bill your basic telephone service, as well as your local and zone usage. Included in your monthly service could be Custom Calling, Touch-Tone® Service, or optional calling plan charges. Michigan Bell will also bill you for any directory assistance charges you incur.

Long Distance.

Your long distance calls will be separated between those provided by Michigan Bell and those that after January 1, 1984, are provided by other long distance carriers but may be billed by Michigan Bell. They will appear on separate pages.

Telephone Equipment Charges.

In the past, your telephone equipment charge was added into your charge for basic service. Now it will be itemized on a separate page. Ownership of the equipment Michigan Bell now provides you for a monthly fee will soon be transferred from Michigan Bell to AT&T.

Phone numbers will be listed on your bill to call if you have questions about your billing or service. And when you receive your new bill in December, a bill insert will clarify the various pages of the bill in much greater detail.

We want to do whatever we can to help you understand the changes that are taking place in your phone company. Please remember...

IT'S AT&T WE'RE SEPARATING FROM... NOT YOU.

Facts down the line. We suggest that you continue to watch your monthly telephone bills for any additional changes in the billing format, repair service or procedures for establishing or changing telephone service. Also, because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal day-to-day telephone service matters, this toll-free number is a source for answers to your questions about your changing telephone company: 1 800 555-5000.

Dutch Roundballers Fall

By Jon Hardenbergh

The Manchester Dutchmen opened their basketball season on Friday hosting the Aggies from Sand Creek. We fought back to knot the tally to force a three minute overtime, then rallied again to send it into the second overtime. Unfortunately this time the buzzer sounded with the Aggies ahead 70-67.

Sand Creek started by outsourcing us 20-15 in the first period but the baskets were even in the next period to leave the tally 34 to 29 at the half.

Fouls and turnovers hurt as we fouled out six players and posted over 40 miss cues in this contest.

We hooped more baskets than Sand Creek in the next two periods - with Mike Agin driving the length of the court to tie the score with seconds left putting the battle into overtime. After the Aggies had put a 5 point cushion on the scoreboard we came storming back to sent it into another extra period. We had problems getting our freebies to fall and the Aggies left with the 3 point victory.

Pat Ridenour was the high scorer tonight as he canned for 18 points. Mike was right behind as he netted 17.

Our next game is Friday at home.

High School Prepares For Academic Games

Academic Games Coaches: John Korican, Janet Garrity, Jim Fielder and Leonard Hastings.

As a member of Cascades Athletic Conference, Manchester High School has the opportunity to compete in sporting events as well as in the area of academics. Each spring, Cascades Conference schools send academic teams to Jackson Community College to compete in the Cascades Conference Academic Games. Competition in the Academic Games is divided into five categories. English, Social Studies, Science, Math, and Business. Teams of students in each of the five categories will be selected. These teams will be coached by faculty members and in March will compete in head to head competition with the other Jackson area schools. Points will be awarded in the contest and winners will be announced. High School faculty members have shown a great deal of interest in this program and have volunteered extra time and energy in serving as coaches. Jim Fielder, after a fine year of football has agreed to coach the science team. Janet Garrity will be providing the leadership in the area of mathematics. The social studies team will be led by John Korican. And the English team will be managed by Leonard Hastings. Principal, Bill Bushaw, stated

"During my short stay here at Manchester High School I have seen that our students have a great deal of pride. They enjoy organized competition. I expect this to hold true in these academic games, and I am confident that we will do very well."

Letter To The Editor

Bah humbug!!!! This must truly be the sentiment of those responsible for bringing Santa Claus to town. I have been taking my daughter to see Santa for the last three years and every year they have had him setting outside in the cold on nothing more than a folding chair! Now it seems to me that with the extra money that is brought into town by all these parents who bring their kids to see Santa there would be enough to at least keep all the toddlers dry and warm while they wait to see Santa. If Christmas is not for the kids then who is it for? Are we all so wrapped up in getting ready for the crowds that we forget that this is the most important holiday for our tiny generation. It is really sad when the best that anyone can come up with is a box of unwrapped toys and a wooden folding chair outside in the rain. The kids would never complain but that is no excuse, I can see that Christmas is becoming one big commercial event even in this small town that has always prided itself in its effort to keep tradition alive. Well then lets take a little more time and effort for our children, they deserve to have Santa come with a little atmosphere. It wouldn't take much, maybe a red blanket thrown over the chair with some decorations around and even a small tree in a warm building. This could all be donated with little expense and reused year after year. I feel that our children are worth it, come on they are only little once. Last but not least Santa was wonderful despite his dismal surroundings.

The need for food is greater than any year previous to Christmas 1983. Manchester Family Service has a list of 80 to 90 names who hope to receive food and clothing for Christmas. Last year approximately 50 households received help.

Manchester Middle School is co-ordinating a collection of food for the boxes to be packed December 14th at St. Mary's Church Hall. Children are asked to bring their food donations to the school by December 14th. Mr. Richard Fielder is working with the student council to provide this service for the community.

Students at Klager Elementary school are also participating in the collection of food under the direction of Dr. Hammond. Residents who do not have children in school can send their food with a neighborhood child or drop it off at the Middle School, (No home processed food, please) by December 14th.

Financial contributions are always welcome, they may be mailed to Manchester Family Service, Box 365, Manchester 48158 or Mr. Merrill Korth, 410 Adrian Street, Manchester.

Contributions of clothing can be left at St. Mary's Church Hall (back entrance) Wednesday evening December 14 or Thursday morning the 15th. For further information call Dianne Schwab 428-8976 or Claire Reck 428-8852.

Rogers Corners Farm Bureau

The Rogers Corners Farm Bureau Group will have a potluck dinner at Freedom Town Hall at 7:00 p.m. Friday, December 9th.

HIT or MISS by farley

Columnist Andy Rooney wonders that does anybody actually make those holiday dishes recommended in the home sections of newspapers and magazines? We too have wondered about this-some of them are a long ways out. There has been leftover turkey with cherries in aspic. There have been turkey pie with ripe olives and anchovies flavored with light rum and turkey with oyster sauce. What are you doing in our digestive systems? Must be you think the average person is too set in his ways and are trying to make it more interesting for us.

Maybe there is something a bit wrong with our Christmas and Thanksgiving meals. At our house they are most always the same. I always thought that these holiday dinners had to consist of turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes and gravy, squash, cranberry sauce and pie accompanied by various dishes of celery, pickles, olives, chow chow and other condiments. The main difference between Thanksgiving and Christmas is that at Thanksgiving we have mince and pumpkin pie and at Christmas we have cake and ice cream.

Most families have a dish or two of their own, says Andy, but basically everyone has the same feast. They like it that way. They may enjoy reading about nine new ways to stuff a turkey but most of us stuff our turkey the same old way. The recipe writers seem to think we are tired of the same old meal each Thanksgiving and Christmas but may we repeat we like it that way, we aren't in a rut. But all those off beat recipes make great reading and a great many folks read them. I think that people, for example, enjoy reading how to prepare braised pheasant with endive and black grapes but they wouldn't dream of making a change says Andy. Just the other day we were reading about quail with truffles and foie gras roast goose with haricot beans and guinea hen with juniper berries but my faithful wife knows that holiday time is no time to get clever.

Americans are an odd people. They love to be given advice but they hate to take it. They listen attentively to those who give it but as soon as the giver is out of sight they do things their same old stubborn way, don't they? Personally I do a bit of cooking now and then but I don't use recipes very often because there's always something about them that I don't understand. Did they, for instance, mean I mix all these ingredients together first and then add the other junk or do I mix them in and add the other stuff or put the other stuff aside until later.

Probably good cooks should use recipes because they can understand them like a foreign language. Then they put the recipe away and proceed to make the dish. A good cook doesn't have to go back and read the recipe line for line and word for word because they understand it. But may we repeat, keep those exotic recipes coming, we like 'em, and think what a catastrophe it would be if one of us common peons caught one of these recipe editors lurching on cold sliced turkey sandwiches.

The son was home for Christmas vacation and accompanied his mother to a discount store. At the checkout his mother put down the items she had purchased - and artificial plant for the bathroom, a toy for the dog and a two-hour fireplace log. The son watched as the mother pulled out her credit card, smiled and said, You're buying a rubber bone, a fake fern and a moek log and paying for it with plastic money, aren't you?

Senior Health Education Workshop

Saline Community Hospital's monthly Senior Health Education Program will take on a festive note for the program to be held on Wednesday, December 14, 1983. Location for the program which will run from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. is the Hospital's Blue Room. The December workshop topic is "Nutrition and Fun". Guest speakers from the Hospital's Dietary Department will provide information on holiday foods which look good and taste good without an abundance of extra calories. Percy Danforth, "Mr. Bones", will also pay a visit to the program and give a demonstration playing the bones, as well as acquainting the group with his travel with "the bones". Monthly Senior Health Education Programs are planned and implemented by a planning board comprised of older adults. Topics are chosen which are of special interest and concern to older adults. Each month's program features free blood pressure checks from 10:30 to 11:00 a.m. before the start of the program. A cafeteria luncheon is available following the program. For further information and for assistance in securing transportation help, please contact the Hospital at 429-5435, ext. 331.

INDOOR AIR POLLUTION

In mounting an aggressive challenge to one problem, we sometimes create an entirely new one. That may be what we have done by our relentless promotion of energy conservation measures in recent years.

There is some indication that a new problem is in the making - indoor air pollution.

I'm not saying the problem is a grave one right now. We really can't be sure because of insufficient studies and information to verify what appear to be some likely trouble areas. One thing is certain, there is considerable agreement among scientists and the health professions that there is a potential for trouble from indoor pollutants.

A few of the indoor contaminants that are being talked about today are carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, nitrogen dioxide, and formaldehyde. All are gases whose significant sources in the home can be the kitchen stove, the fireplace, space heaters, rugs, walls, furniture, and clothing.

Let's deal with these contaminants one at a time.

Carbon monoxide (CO) is a colorless, odorless gas generated indoors by a variety of combustion sources such as gas appliances, faulty furnaces, chimneys, vehicles in attached garages, tobacco smoke, and kerosene space heaters. Some of the health symptoms of CO are headaches, shortness of breath, and dizziness. At extreme concentrations, death can ensue from asphyxiation.

Sulfur dioxide is formed through the combustion of fuels containing sulfur. It affects breathing and is particularly troublesome for persons who have respiratory problems. It comes from gas appliances and unvented kerosene heaters.

Nitrogen dioxide is a product of combustion. It can be found in homes where there are gas-fueled appliances - kitchen ranges, water heaters, and so forth. Unvented kerosene heaters also contribute significant quantities of this gas to the air about them. Inhaling the fumes can cause shortness of breath and flu-like symptoms.

Formaldehyde, about which you have heard so much in recent years because of the foam insulation containing it, is also used in the manufacture of some carpeting, particle board, paneling, plywood, and other building products. We have recorded complaints from people who described their symptoms as eye, nose, and throat irritation; coughing; shortness of breath; skin irritation; nausea; headaches; and dizziness.

The problem is bound to be most apparent in cold weather when the house is tightly shut up. One remedy is some means of providing better ventilation. Airing the house daily or the use of heat exchangers are possible answers.

At any rate, by discussing this subject my intention has not been to alarm you, but to make sure you are aware and better informed.
