HIT OR MISS by farley

They are at it again. This time it is a nationally known women's organization that is advocating that housewives be paid a salary. The idea bobs up whenever people in power or another ambitious politician becomes obsessed with the idea and want to convince folks that they really care about women. The project however sinks before anyone does anything about it.

Not long ago several religious groups advocated salaries for women as a new chapter for women's rights that have had international circulation in the drawing up of a model for family policies. Some of these also criticised government policies concerning birth control. These groups may have felt that salaries for housewives would placate women upset about several recent moves by the catholic church and Pope John Paul. This move by the church seemed designed to put women back in their traditional second place in family and church life, some observers say. The case for paying women to stay home and do the housework and mind the children seems to have a certain appeal for women in a world that usually measures people's work by their earnings. Housewives often feel unappreciated and underpaid. All their work goes uncounted in a nation's gross national product, and their lack of income reinforces their dependence on their husband's income, pension and social security, according to several interested women.

In theory, paying women to stay home and do housework would give recognition to its economic and social value 'tis contended. It would imply that

The Heathen

This is a reprint of the Manchester Enterprise dated February 22, 1877

A writer in the Detroit Free Press over the signature of "Plain Talk," is calling attention to the great number of "heathen" in that "city of churches," and the seeming ignorance of those churches of their existence, whilst they are sending missionaries to those foreign lands. His remarks, as applied to what is called "fashionable christianity," if such there can be, are, in the main, just. "Home missions" do not receive their main support nor most earnest laborers from such as these; but from more humble and sincere sources. It is a scriptural characteristic of the Pharisees, we read, to "sound a trumpet," when they do alms, and of course the farther the recipient is from the giver the farther and louder can be heard the trumpet's blare. But in trying to become "strictly upright," Plain Talk falls into the common error of bending a little backward, on this point.

His remarks about this sinful Racing, as it might be termed, between rival churches, to see who should have the finest edifice, the "smartest" preacher, the most artistic choir, etc., whereby those of humble means were virtually debarred religious service, save as recipients of a "charity," repugnant to every sensitive soul, are eminently just, and we are glad to have seen this great sin, whose evil results eternity alone will disclose, "handled without gloves" in some of the denominational papers. It is not alone "sinners," as Plain Talk, styles himself, who see this great wrong, but ministers and ministerial editors, believe herein, if a Reformation is not dawning, these churches are at least ripe for one, and some are already casting their eyes about for the coming Luther to begin it.

With regard to Plain Talk's remarks on building churches costing double and sometimes treble the available means of the society, thus plunging themselves "heels over head in debt," we think that species of wickedness is working its wont cure. It has been a dear lesson to some, and the future alone will reveal its full influence for evil; but we are glad to believe it is not a "growing evil."

And right here we would add, and we believe all thoughtful persons are of the same opinion, that it is a blessed thing for Manchester, to-day, that such a spirit has not been manifest in a

Students To Compete In Annual High School Quiz Bowl

Mr. Parson (coach), Betsy Royle (captain), Katie Miller, Renee Yeutter, and Jay Wilde.

Saturday, February 11, 1984, will be an important day for five Manchester High School students. On that day Manchester will send a team of four members and one alternate to Alma College to compete in their annual high school quiz bowl. Individual members of the Manchester team include junior captain Betsy Royle, seniors Katie Miller and Jay Wilde, and sophomore Renee Yeutter. The alternate is Brad Myers, a freshman. The team is coached by Richard Parson, high school guidance counselor. This is the second year a team from Manchester has participated in this competition.

The team was chosen in October and has been practicing regularly since then. Orchard Lake St. Mary's will be their first opponent. Should Manchester win that contest, they will advance to the next round on Saturday, February 18th. Teams from all over the state will be competing with the winning school receiving a $5,000.00 scholarship to Alma College and the runner-up a $2,500.00 scholarship to Alma.

Manchester Substance Abuse Awareness Committee

The Manchester Substance Abuse Awareness Committee (SAAC) met on February 1 at the Village Hall to evaluate the committee's past work and to set future direction.

Since the committee was formed 2 years ago it has worked primarily in the areas of school and community awareness of chemical substance abuse. The committee's accomplishments have included a number of well attended community awareness meetings, the inception of a substance abuse curriculum at the middle school, teacher in-service programs, the availability of student support groups at the high school, as well as input to parents and senior citizens by qualified speakers.

The committee set future goals in three areas: Community, School, and Family. In the community area the committee hopes to increase awareness by acting as a Speaker's Bureau for local organizations. SAAC would

Emergency Telephone Numbers Reviewed

The EMS Commission of Washtenaw County at their January 27, 1984 meeting reviewed the emergency numbers listed in the Eastern Jackson and Western Washtenaw County's Target Directories, Inc. phone directory. The EMS Commission supports the efforts of the villages of Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester to obtain corrections to the incorrect emergency numbers listed. It is important for anyone receiving this directory to contact their local fire, police or ambulance service to properly notate the numbers listed incorrectly for Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester on the emergency numbers page of the directory.
During times of stress, proper location of emergency numbers is critical. Efforts on the part of citizen's prior to any corrections being made by Target Directories, Inc., the publisher of the directory, could potentially save time when contacting an agency for emergency assistance.

Manchester Area Historical Society

Have you ever seen a lithophane? Do you know what a lithophane is and how it was used? If not, or even if you are just curious, come to the February meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society on Monday, February 20, 1984, and see and learn about lithophanes. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Blacksmith Shop at 324 E. Main Street.
David Jefferson of the Jefferson Art Lighting Co., located at 4371 Lima Center Road will demonstrate and display lithophanes from his historical collection, as well as those that he is currently making and applying in many different ways.
The lithophane enjoyed its greatest popularity before the development of photography and declined in popularity after 1850. In fact the technique of making lithophanes has almost been lost to the world. David Jefferson, 36, a former potter, taught himself this once-extinct technique to engrave scenes on porcelain plates so thin they transmit light and may be used for lampshades and window panes. As far as he knows, he is the only lithophane designer in the country and one of the handful in the world.

Lithophanes were just developed by a German porcelain factory in the 1820s and reached their highest popularity in the 1850s. Lithophanes never caught on as well in the United States, because much of the country was still a frontier at that time. Delicate porcelain lamps aren't exactly the thing one puts in a log cabin or drags across country.
Come to the February meeting at 7:30 p.m., Monday, February 20, 1984, and enjoy an interesting and educational evening.

like to encourage each town organization to have one program a year on a topic of their interest related to substance abuse. SAAC will assist any group in arranging for a speaker. In the school area the committee will continue to assist in setting up student intervention groups along with teacher training. In the family area a parent hot-line list is being developed to assist young people and parents at crisis times. Training for volunteers will be coordinated with surrounding communities who presently are looking to Manchester SAAC for leadership in preventing substance abuse. A Parent Network group will also be available to families who wish to work for prevention of chemical dependency by spending some time identifying their families' values and developing skills in communication and decision-making.
The SAAC committee would like to encourage any interested community members to join in its efforts by contacting Brian Schick (428-7442), Bill Zsenyuk (428-8505) or Sue Hamilton (428-8395).

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:

Nothing hurts like being forgotten. Today, the world of thousands of men and women who have proudly served in the armed forces of the United States has narrowed to their Veterans Administration hospitals. And, despite the excellent care they receive, it's sometimes hard for them to escape the feeling that the hospital staffs are the only ones who care. You know that's not true. Americans do care about them. And you can join me in an opportunity to express our appreciation to hospitalized veterans by taking part in the National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans this Valentine's Day. February 14 has been set aside as a special time for Americans to salute hospitalized veterans. By personally visiting with a hospitalized vet at the Veterans Administration Hospital at 2215 Fuller Road in Ann Arbor, you can show that you remember these men and women who gave so much to help insure our Nation's future. A reception room for visitors will be open all day on February 14 at the Hospital. Staff members and volunteers will escort visitors to meet with the vets and hand out valentine cards.
We at the American Red Cross have always had a continuing interest in the needs of veterans, and I hope that many of you will join in this year's National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans. Take part by visiting a hospitalized vet. Nothing helps like being remembered.

A Call For Cooperation

Governor James J. Blanchard
In rebuilding Michigan we have to take dramatic, bold steps for the future. "Business as usual" and "government as usual" simply won't do. We are in the center of a global struggle for jobs, for economic development, for quality of life, for business, for education, and for limited resources in our country and on our planet. The only way, I believe, to meet the challenge is through a policy of cooperation, investment, and quality.
Today I'd like to talk about cooperation—something our state desperately needs to meet the challenges of the future. If any state has been marked by friction between business and labor, it has been our state. This has spilled over into the legislature, into communities, into battles over school millages, and into the Chrysler rescue. The members of that commission are leaders of our major companies, universities, labor unions, and they have been working tirelessly to help us develop a plan for Michigan's future. We have such people as William LaMothe of the Kellogg Corporation and Sam Benedict of Mead Paper and Dr. Gordon Guyer, who is the head of the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University. We also have Peter Stroh of Stroh Brewery, Philip Caldwell of Ford Motor Company, Roger Smith of General Motors, Dr. Harold Shapiro of the University of Michigan, Dr. Cecil Mackey of Michigan State University, and Dr. David Adamany of Wayne State University. There are many others.

We have put together a 20-point plan for Michigan's future—to diversify our economy, to help retrain our workforce, to improve our business climate, and to develop a strategy to revitalize Michigan's economy for the future.
You already know that we had our very successful Michigan Youth Corps and we've done some things to improve the business climate this year—reducing the cost of unemployment compensation and worker's compensation and making changes in the Single Business Tax.
What you probably don't know is that many of our proposals, indeed our 20-point program, are the result of extensive cooperation between those leaders of business, labor, education, and government. We have received tremendous support from all over the state to encourage this cooperative spirit. One example of that cooperation is the program we put together to recruit a new medium-density fiberboard plant in the Upper Peninsula's Luce County. The list could go on and on.
We will be implementing our 20-point program over these next three years—from improving the business climate to job training and retraining—from lowering the cost of health care in Michigan to diversifying the forest products and food processing industries—from encouraging new technologies to rebuilding our educational system. All of these points in our 20-point program are important for our future. All require the very best within us and all require extensive cooperation between business,

Hints for HOMEMAKERS

Information To Help You

Buying milk in a Gallon 2-pak package can keep it fresher than buying that same amount in a gallon jug.

Although the trend for some years has been towards purchasing milk in economy-size gallon jugs, consumers have been unhappy with unwieldy sizes and problems of keeping such a large amount fresh.

Now come answers to these problems in the form of the convenient gallon 2-pak, two paper half gallon cartons held together by a neat and handy carrying handle and sold as a gallon package.

The big difference is size. Once home, the 2-pak easily separates into two cartons. They are much easier to handle than jugs, even fitting into most refrigerator doors.

One can be kept in the refrigerator sealed and chilled until needed. This maintains freshness. The one in use is much easier to pour, especially for youngsters.

There's another plus: when each carton is empty, just flatten it out and toss in the garbage for easy disposal.

A real advantage for homemakers.

LaLeche League

The second meeting in our series, The Baby Arrives: The Family and the Breastfed Baby, will be held at the home of Marsha Chartrand, 208 South Clinton Street, on February 14 at 7:30 p.m. All women with an interest in breastfeeding are welcome to attend any La Leche League meeting. A common misconception is that this is a group only for those with nursing problems. If you have had, or are now having a successful nursing experience, you can help us encourage new mothers in their efforts to breastfeed their babies. La Leche League seeks to promote good mothering through breastfeeding.

If you have any questions or problems at any time, La Leche League leaders are always on call to help you. Our local leader is Linda Meyer, 428-9475.

Wrestling News

A larger than usual crowd was on hand for last Thursday's home wrestling meet against Blissfield. Parents of B.J. Lee, Van Talcott, Shawn Ion, Joey Deacons, Dan Platt, Tim Schuler, Steve Vleck, Bob Curley and Jeff Daubner were introduced; also parents of managers Bud Ball and Karl Schook. Spirit boosters Toni Bejma, Leslie Duncan, Julie Howell, Lisa Knickerbocker and Cherie Verhines, led by Natalie Walkowe and Dawn Bunn, had brightened the gym with signs, their cheering was also appreciated. B.J. Lee (98 lbs) brought the spectators to the edge of their seats losing a hard fought match 10-9. Van Talcott (112) won 13-8. Freshmen Shawn Ion (119) and Dan Platt (132) fell to more experienced wrestlers; newcomer Tim Schuler (138) lost 6-1. Bob Curley (145) pinned his opponent at 2:54, and Steve Vleck (155) tied 14-14. Jeff Daubner (185) won an exhibition match 2-6. Manchester gained 12 points in forfeits but gave away 30 to come out on the short end of a 50-23 score.

After the meet, refreshments were served, highlighted by one of Vicky Curley's special cakes decorated with wrestling figures and the name and weight of each boy.

The Dutchmen will travel to Addison, Tuesday, February 7, and Michigan Center, Thursday, February 9 at 7:00 p.m. Addison is on 127, south of 12. To get to Michigan Center, turn right in Napoleon between the Airport and the IGA onto Napoleon Road. Follow it to Michigan Center (approximately 5 miles.) At the stoplight turn left. Watch for the school sign at the township hall and turn right.

The league meet for the Cascades Conference will begin at 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, February 15, at Lumen Christi High School on Spring Arbor Road in Jackson. ### Assertive Discipline For Parents

Would you like your children to listen to you more? Would you like them to respond the first time you told them what to do? If you'd like some new ideas why not join other parents to view an interesting, humorous talk by Lee Canter next Thursday, February 16 at Klagger Elementary.

The Manchester P.T.O. will sponsor the program from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. which consists of a filmstrip of parents learning about assertive discipline. The presentation is specifically FOR PARENTS.

GOOD NEWS FOR CAR OWNERS

Owners of imported cars are no longer tied to purchasing their replacement turn signal flashers from foreign car dealers. Now, a new line of replacement flashers for imports is available through mass merchandising outlets, auto parts and specialty stores, and service station dealers and repair shops.

The flashers are made by Ideal Division/Parker Hannifin Corporation, a leading supplier of turn signal flashers for domestic vehicles. An Ideal part, number 569, (suggested list price: $6.85) replaces Volvo part number 1259615-1, which can cost $14.75, and replaces Ford (Fiesta) part number D9RZ-13350-A, which can cost $40.30.

Comprehensive installation information is included with Ideal's Flashers For Imports line—complete with easy-to-read diagrams and locator guides to pinpoint flasher location. This information makes selection and installation simple for even the novice do-it-yourselfer. Over four years of research and engineering went into developing the new line. The company has taken over 150 import flasher variations and reduced them to eight part numbers, covering 99 percent of the imports on the road today. The new Flashers For Imports line is based on the same reliable design that has made Ideal's line of flashers for domestic autos a recognized industry standard. The new line benefits from the continuous refinements that have been made in the existing line during the past 20 years.

For more information, ask for Ideal's Flashers For Imports at any local auto parts outlet, service station or repair shop, or write: Flashers For Imports, Ideal Division, Parker Hannifin Corp., 1000 Pennsylvania Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11207, (212) 498-4000, extension 212.

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH

DR. W. ATKINSON
DIRECTOR

How To Check For Curvature Of Spine
If you've ever grown trees, you know how to do it. In the early stages to start the seedling growing straight. Tying the young plant to stakes can give it a good beginning and keep it from bending.
In a very real sense, much of the same philosophy applies to raising children. All of us hope that our offspring will grow up straight and healthy, but we usually don't know if we're doing a good job of it.
One of the dangers is that the bruise or back pain in childhood may go away in a day or so, only to return years later in a different and more severe form.
Scoliosis, or curvature of the spine, is one condition that should be attended to as soon as possible. And here's how you can test for it in your child. Have the child bend straight forward from the waist, head level with the back and arms hanging loosely. Look closely at the muscles on both sides of the spine. If the muscles "bunch" up on one side, the strong possibility of scoliosis is present.
To make sure, schedule an examination for your child with a doctor of chiropractic. If curvature is not present, your mind will be relieved. But if there is scoliosis, your chiropractor can immediately start a program aimed at correcting the condition.
Like almost anything else, back problems are more easily and effectively handled when they are discovered early.

SCOUTINGS 74 ANNIVERSARY

FEBRUARY 5TH TO 11TH

By starting as a Cub Scout, a boy is taking his first step into an exciting world of learning and experiencing. Scouting at any age is a great opportunity to grow, and we wholeheartedly support them.

Helping find a direction in life is what Boy Scouting is all about. The example set by today's Scouts is one that he'll follow and live up to in adulthood. We're happy to honor this fine organization.

Volunteering as a Scout leader can be one of the most rewarding jobs you can have. We appreciate the efforts and time our adult leaders dedicate to the youth of our community for Scouting.

Band Boosters

The meeting was called to order in the High School Library on Wednesday, January 25, at 7:05. The minutes from November 30 were read and approved. Treasurer, Penny Getty, gave the following report: Checking $23.38, Savings $6,963.53, Uniform $871.63 and Scholarship $379.07. These amounts are correct through December.

Penny also informed the group that we have received notification from the bank that we will no longer receive interest on our savings account without some form of identification number, such as a Social Security number. This has created complex problems that we will need advice for. At this time, Lansing has refused to give us a non-profit certification, and the school does not want to include us under their non-profit "umbrella". Filing for a social security number would also mean filing for income tax. The same is true for incorporating, which requires quarterly reports in addition. It was decided by the group that we would contact other similar groups to see how they are planning to handle this, and to seek advice from knowledgeable people. Tabled for the time being, while Penny Getty and Jan Howell seek advice.

Old Business: The next topic of discussion was the Varsity Band jackets which is a program that the Band Boosters is initiating as an incentive to band students. Band Director Lance Vechinsky presented a point accumulation scale which will be distributed among the students. The scale shows how a student can begin to accumulate points earned by taking part in many of the extra-curricular offerings of band. Once a student accumulates 30 points, he will then be allowed to buy a Varsity Band jacket which will cost him/her approximately $55. This is a winter jacket with quilt lining and embroidered band ID.

According to Mr. Vechinsky's scale, the student could receive the jacket and letter ("M") at 35 points, and the jacket, letter, and their name embroidered on the jacket at 40 points. The letter is provided by Band Boosters. After discussion, the motion was made by Harry Schuler to change the point tabulation to 30 points for the jacket, and 35 points to receive the jacket, letter, and name. The motion was seconded by Penny Getty, and carried with all eyes.

With such a scale, students should be able to accumulate enough points to receive a jacket by their junior year. There will be retroactive points for sophomores and juniors, and possibly seniors, so that they will be able to get jackets also.

Mr. Vechinsky also informed us that the tutoring program should be complete within two weeks with all interested persons contacted.

All volunteer chaperones are lined up for the February 27th Sadie Hawkins Dance for the highschoolers.

New Business: We are undecided as to what fundraiser to choose for the 5th and 6th grade band to be held in the spring. There were many suggestions, and two of the favorites were hand soaps that were sold in the past, and candy bars. The most likely choice will be M&Ms if we can find the proper company.

There was a suggestion presented that we have a Spaghetti Bender as a fundraiser. An auction, garage sale, or White Elephant sale were also mentioned. At this time, the most appealing idea is an ice cream social which we will consider for the springtime.

Letters have been sent out to local businesses requesting donations to our scholarship program. They have just recently been sent, so we have no results to report.

The next major project Band Boosters will be working on is uniforms. We will have to decide color, type, costs and how to provide enough for the number of students we have working their way up in grade.

We are trying to work out the feasibility of taking the High School Band students on a trip, such as a train trip to Chicago. This is in lieu of the fact that the highschoolers have raised funds towards the coming purchase of uniforms, but will not be able to use the uniforms due to graduation.

The meeting was officially adjourned at 8:45, but Mr. Vechinsky also informed the group that, although not official Band Booster business, the following students from Middle School: David Hammang, Jackie Miller, Rob White, and Molly McGuire would represent Manchester at the All-District Honors Band, Jackson, (solo-ensemble) on February 17, 18, and 19. The Senior High will have theirs on February 11, but I do not have the names. There will also be a District Band Festival on March 3.

The next Band Booster meeting will be on Wednesday, February 22 at 7:00.

Respectfully,
 Nancy Houck, Secretary

Renew

Renew is an extensive effort of the Catholic Church in the Diocese of Lansing to foster spiritual development. Parishes participate on a voluntary basis beginning January, 1984.

Renew consists of five six week "Seasons" which extend from the fall of 1984 and include both the spring and fall of 1985-86.

The purpose of RENEW is for the spiritual growth of the people of God. Its goal is to promote a coordinated three year process in all parishes, aimed at renewed Christian living.

People in participating parishes experience RENEW primarily through Sunday Liturgy, small group meetings, large group activities and take home materials.

Weber Center in Adrian was the location for the RENEW overnight learning experience January 27-28. St. Mary's Catholic Church was represented by Father Schlinkert, Mr. Ed Barnard, Mr. Harold Bersuder, Mr. James Davey and Mrs. William Schwab. Participants received a lot of information and some practice of what RENEW is and how it works.

To Itemize or Not—That Is the Question

While the IRS encourages as many taxpayers as possible to use the simpler 1040A and 1040EZ forms, there will be millions of taxpayers who will find it to their advantage to itemize deductions on the 1040 form.

Generally, you will benefit from itemizing deductions if you paid interest and taxes on a home you own, had unusually large uninsured medical and dental expenses during the year, made large contributions to qualified charitable organizations, or had major uninsured casualty losses. What this means is that you will probably have itemized deductions totalling more than the zero bracket amount appropriate to your filing status.

Taxpayers who itemize deductions reduce their adjusted gross income by their excess itemized deductions. Excess itemized deductions are the amount by which total itemized deductions exceed the zero bracket amount. For example, a married couple filing jointly, with itemized deductions of $5,500, would subtract their zero bracket amount of $3,400 from the $5,500 in order to determine their excess itemized deductions of $2,100.

Although adjusted gross income is reduced by only the excess itemized deductions, all deductions are allowed. This is because the zero bracket amount is incorporated into the tax tables and the tax rate schedules.

Itemized deductions are non-business deductions. If you itemize your deductions, you must file Form 1040 and fill in Schedule A (Form 1040). Schedule A provides space for listing deductible medical and dental expenses, charitable contributions, taxes, interest paid, casualty or theft losses, and miscellaneous items such as union dues.

If you itemize, you should keep a record of your deductible items, including cancelled checks and receipts. This will verify your expenses should the Internal Revenue Service examine your return. It will also help you determine whether your itemized deductions are greater than your zero bracket amount.

Taxpayers who itemize can take advantage of many deductible expenses. Here's a brief explanation from the IRS of some types of deductions available:

Charitable Contributions.

Generally, you may deduct contributions you paid to any qualified organization established and operated exclusively for charitable, religious, educational, scientific, or literary purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; to certain organizations that foster national or international amateur sports competition; to fraternal organizations if the contributions are used for charitable purposes; to veterans' organizations; or to governmental agencies that will use the gifts exclusively for public purposes.

This means that you may deduct your contributions to most religious organizations, a community fund, Boy Scouts, the YMCA, the Red Cross, the American Cancer Society, CARE, Veterans of Foreign Wars, etc. You may not deduct contributions to civic leagues or chambers of commerce.

If you donate property other than money, you must base your deduction on the fair market value of the property; that is, the amount you could reasonably charge if you were selling the property.

Bear in mind that a contribution is only a contribution at the time of its delivery. Pledges are not contributions until you make payment. Also, if a contribution results in a personal benefit, all or part of it may not be deductible. For example, if you buy a $50 ticket for a church benefit and receive a meal at the function worth $15, you can only claim $35 as a charitable contribution.

Medical Expenses

You may deduct the medical expenses you paid during 1983 to the extent that they exceed five percent of your adjusted gross income. If you were reimbursed by insurance or otherwise, that amount must be subtracted from your medical expenses.

Payments for the diagnosis, cure, prevention, or treatment of a physical or mental illness are deductible as are payments for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body.

In general, deductible medical expenses include your payments to doctors, dentists, psychiatrists, etc.; payments to hospitals for service, laboratory fees, x-rays, etc., and payments for eyeglasses, hearing aids and parts, dentures, crutches, etc.

What are not allowed are things such as a trip taken to "get away from it all," even if advised by a doctor, health club dues, maternity clothes, or diaper service.

Expenses for transportation that are essential to medical care—such as getting to and from a doctor's office—may be included in medical expenses. These include taxi, bus, train, or plane fares.

If you use your car, you may deduct the actual out-of-pocket expenses, such as gas and oil, or nine cents for each mile you use your car for this purpose. You may deduct parking fees and tolls in addition to your actual operating expenses or deducting nine cents a mile. You must, of course, keep track of your expenses and mileage.

Beginning in 1983 the separate deduction for half of medical insurance is eliminated. Therefore, the total of your health insurance premiums, and your payments for medicines and drugs that are more than one percent of your adjusted gross income, and all other medical expenses are subject to the five percent limit. You may include the cost of medicines and drugs whether or not prescriptions are required to obtain them. However, for 1984, the one percent limit for drugs will no longer apply, and deductible drugs will include only prescription drugs and insulin.

The interest you paid during the year on a debt for which you are legally responsible is deductible. This includes such debts as a car loan, a bank loan, an educational loan, or a mortgage of your home. However, if in 1983, you prepaid interest allocable to any period after 1983, you can only deduct the amount of interest allocable to 1983 on your 1983 return.

If you buy such things as clothing, a radio or TV set, furniture, or household appliances on an installment plan or a budget charge account or credit card that lists a finance charge,

Back Problems Can Often Be Prevented; Here's How:

The United States leads the world in the number of people suffering from low back problems. The current estimate is that eight out of ten people in this country will seek medical treatment for low back pain at least once in their lives.

have only slight muscle spasms; many others, however, will have serious, potentially disabling, problems.
The good news is that the problems, both large and small, can often be avoided. But it does require a bit of commitment and some good old common sense.

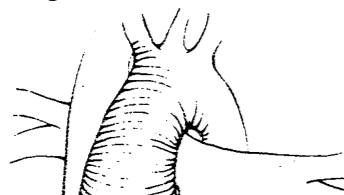

Help Your Heart

Coronary Bypass Surgery

"Bypass" surgery has become a common procedure for restoring health and vigor to persons suffering from narrowing of the coronary arteries by fatty deposits.

dants will move you to the operating room on a rolling bed. After you are given an anesthetic that brings sleep and freedom from pain, the operation will be performed.

If you must undergo this open heart surgery, you and your family should have sufficient information to relieve everyone's anxiety.

After the operation, you probably will stay in the hospital for one to two weeks.

Admission to the hospital is usually scheduled for two or three days before your operation to allow time for certain tests.

As you recover progresses, you will appreciate the effects of the surgery. Increased blood flow to the heart muscle should mean less of the chest pain called "angina."

Nervousness or anxiety before surgery is a normal reaction just as athletes often are nervous before important games.

You may find you need much less medication, if any, and that you are better able to sustain physical activity.

On the day before surgery, much of your body hair will be shaved and areas of the incisions will be scrubbed with antiseptic surgical soap.

On the day of the operation, you will receive medication to produce drowsiness. Attend-employee must apply during May and retire during June, July, August or September of this year.

An early retirement supplement - in addition to the full pension - of from $240 to $380 per month would be paid until the early retiree reaches age 62.

Pre-Retirement Seminars

A series of special "pre-retirement seminars" has been scheduled to prepare state employees for the Early Retirement Program signed into law by Governor Blanchard.

The Personnel Development Division of the Department of Civil Service provides pre-retirement orientation seminars on a regular basis for employees who are preparing to retire.

caring for children at home is as socially useful as working in a factory or an office, and preparing meals for a family is as important as assembling hamburgers in a fast food place.

Housewives with a salary could qualify for their own Social Security, their own insurance, their own credit. They would probably feel more the equal of a wage earning husband. They would not be as vulnerable in divorce or widowhood, the experts say.

But neither the advocates of salaries for housewives explain who is to furnish the funds to pay the women for minding their homes and children. The new family rights charter implies that housewives pay should come from public money, suggesting an extension of the children's allowances used now in several countries.

It seems to us however, that any sensible implementation of the idea is impossible. Who would be eligible for the salaries? Anyone who did housework? That would include almost anyone at one stage or another at one stage of their lives. It would be unfair to pay women for doing housework during the day and not those who do it in the evening after a day's work outside the home. What about those who help out, fathers, grandfathers and children who help out? And then there are the women who stay at home to care for elderly parents or disabled husbands.

What would be a fair salary? Most mothers with small children put in more than 40 hours a week including Sundays and evenings.

Would housewives be entitled to fringe benefits such as paid vacations, sick leave and pensions? Who would monitor their performance? Who would check on hours worked?

Even if homemakers were paid the minimum wage without fringe benefits or overtime the total would quickly swamp the budget of any nation that tried it. It's hard to see what would be gained if families were forced to pay enormous taxes to get back a "dribble" of the money after it had filtered through the Washington bureaucracy and its processes.

Until the advocates of salaries for housewives have many workable answers to many questions it is fair to assume that these advocates have an idea that women are too stupid to recognize that they are being made the butt of a cheap political play.

"If you really care about the welfare of women today you should back equality in the laws which affect the marriage status, pay equity, more flexible working conditions reform of pension and Social Security unfairness and the social, economic and religious traditions that have put women down," says columnist Joan Beck.

From The Office Of The Governor...

Declaring that Michigan cannot afford to return to the ways of the past if it is to improve upon the foundation for recovery that was so painfully built in 1983, Governor James J. Blanchard presented an historic "zero increase" 1984-85 General Fund-General Purpose Budget to the Legislature. "...I am continuing the course that breaks with the ways of the past. In modern history, no Governor of Michigan has ever called for a general fund budget plan that was actually smaller than spending for the previous year," the Governor said in his budget message.

The proposed $5.38 billion budget is actually $69.6 million below projected 1984 spending. Savings from greater efficiencies, continued reduction of state employees, a decline in the number of Michigan residents receiving public assistance, and reduced interest costs reflective of the state's stronger financial position and credit rating will enable the state to freeze overall spending and undertake new initiatives. The budget provides for increased support for education, economic development initiatives, environmental protection and targeted human services programs.

He proposed moving up next January first's scheduled tax rollback (the second of four scheduled reductions in the temporary tax increase) to October 1 "if the Legislature adopts a budget in a timely fashion and accepts the spending freeze I have proposed."

Underlying his budget, Governor Blanchard said, "is the firm commitment that we will not, under any circumstances, spend beyond our means. In 1985, it is our intention to have no Executive Orders to disrupt state and local programs. We will do what we commit to do. We will deliver what we promise."

Saline Valley Project

The purpose and operation of the Saline Valley Project remains the same; what has changed is the size of the Project Area, is how Extension Agricultural Agent Ron Struss explains recent revisions to the Saline Valley Project. The Saline Valley Project, an USDA funded program assisting farmers in the control of agricultural water pollution, has been downsized from its original 200,000 acres to 77,000 acres in order to make most efficient use of remaining Project resources. The future of the Saline Valley Project following downsizing will be discussed at a public meeting held February 8th, 10 am - 12 pm, at the Farm Bureau Insurance meeting room, 5095 Ann Arbor-Saline Rd., Saline. The meeting will also feature a question-answer period and an opportunity to apply for Project participation. The decision to downsize the Project Area came out of Project review process which was initiated last March. Through downsizing, the Saline Valley Project hopes to be more effective in demonstrating the beneficial effects of conservation farming methods. "Part of the Saline Valley Project is to measure stream water quality on a regular basis to determine what positive effects our soil and water conservation practices are having", reports Extension Agent Struss. "by concentrating our efforts in a smaller area we hope to demonstrate more dramatically how conservation farming can benefit water quality." Originally involving parts of the River Raisin, Mill Creek, Honey Creek, Macon Creek and Saline River watersheds, the revised Saline Valley Project will recruit new participants only from the Saline River and Macon Creek watersheds.

Fifty-eight farms are currently participating in the Saline Valley Project. With the Project's assistance, these farms are protecting water quality of local streams and Lake Erie by applying such conservation practices as animal waste storage systems, chisel plowing, no-till planting, waterways and soil erosion control structures. Of the $1.8 million in cost-share funds available to farmers through the Project, 60% are committed to on-going activities on these 58 farms.

Individuals interested in the Saline Valley Project can contact Ron Struss at the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Office, 973-9510. "We are into the last leg of the Project sign-up period, and we are encouraging those interested in the program to look at it seriously at this time," Struss said.
