One of the finest public buildings in the city is Girard College

This edifice, in the corinthian style, is the finest specimen of Grecian architecture in the United States, if not of modern times. It was begun in 1833, and opened in 1848, having cost in its construction over $1,930,000. The building is named after Stephen Girard, an eminent American philanthropist. He was a seafaring man during his youth, and rose to master and co-partner in an American coaster. In 1769 he retired from sea life and commenced business in a small way as a trader in Philadelphia, and ultimately realized a large fortune. He then became a banker and in 1812 advanced a loan of $5,000,000 to government. He was a liberal benefactor to the city, subscribing to its charities, and adorning it with many elegant buildings. He died in 1831, bequeathing the bulk of his property, amounting to about $9,000,000, besides the proceeds of a certain portion of his estate (out of which some legacies were to be deducted), together with a building lot in Philadelphia, for the erection and establishment of a college for orphans. A marble statue in the lower vestibule covers the remains of the founder. By a clause in the founders' will, no ecclesiastic, missionary, or minister of any sect whatever, is allowed to have any connection with Girard College, or even to be admitted as a visitor therein; but the officers are instructed to train up the pupils in the truest principles of morality, leaving them to choose their own religious opinions upon arriving at years of discretion. We understand also, that he was a woman-hater, and would not have married at all had he not fell in love with a pretty barefoot girl, at a public fountain, whom he educated and married, but tried to cast from him in after life.

There is a register kept at the outer gate, where all visitors are required to have their names recorded. We were about to place our name on the book, when a young man informed us that he was placed there to do that business. We glanced over the page and handed him our paste-board, with the remark that they had made a poor selection of a scribe. The college grounds are surrounded by a high stone fence, which gives the place the appearance of a penitentiary, from the outside. The edifice is built of marble and stone, even the floors, stairways and roof. A fine view of the city and a portion of Fairmount Park is obtained from the roof, as the building towers above all others. Only a few blocks to the south is seen one of the four parks laid out and reserved in the original plat of the city, by Wm. Penn. It was there that the great Sanitary Fair was held in 1865. When it was roofed over, the trunks of the trees served as supports, while the tops waved far above.

Every true American should visit

The Nation's Birth Place, Carpenter's Hall, on Chestnut, between Third and Fourth streets. We did, and as we entered the principal room an old gray-haired quaker was talking to the visitors, telling them that the building was erected by a company of carpenters, who had formed an association to obtain instruction in the science of architecture and to assist such of its members as should by accident be in need of support, and erected in 1770. Area Residents Celebrate Birthdays

Albert Herman, who celebrated his 90th birthday February 11th, has lived in Sharon Township most of his life. He came here from Defiance, Ohio, when he was a young boy of 15 years. He arrived in Manchester with his father and mother, brothers and sister.

His father John Herman, purchased a farm on Sharon Valley Road, near Gillets Bridge. It was the farm across the road from the Gillets farm. Land extended to the river. Neighbors helped them move out to the farm, with the help of teams of horses and wagons. It was in later years sold to Henry Ford.

Mr. Herman was one of six children. He has two brothers Andy and Roy living in Jackson. Deceased are Raymond, Perry and a sister Marie.

He fought in the first world war in France and Germany. While fighting there, he was gassed.

After the war, he married Emma Romelhardt, (who passed away February 10, 1971). They had four children, Vernon Herman

Not all of Manchester's senior citizens live to reach 102 years but one did. Mrs. Florence Johns Kirk celebrated that special birthday at her home here on Monday, February 20. She was honored at a birthday breakfast on Sunday with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, relatives and a number of friends with her.

There were flowers and remembrances from those present and from others who were unable to come. In years past, Sunday morning was the time to have all of the family members stop in for breakfast and this Sunday was no exception. Her daughter, Mildred, had a birthday breakfast for everyone.

At 102 years, Mrs. Kirk can look back on a very busy life. After her husband, Ferdinand, died in 1946 she and her daughter, Mildred, left the family farm and moved to an apartment above her son Leonard's Appliance Store. The store has changed hands but

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation has completed its evaluation of Semi-finalists named in the fall of 1983 and has determined which of them has qualified as Finalists in the competition for Merit Scholarships to be awarded this spring. Throughout the country there are approximately 13,500 Finalists who are being considered for some 5,300 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1984. Manchester High School is proud to announce that Katie Miller of 10955 Hieber Rd. has been awarded Finalist status.

Over one million students entered the competition in the fall of 1982 by taking the PSAT in their junior year. Those who qualified as Semi-finalists represented the top one-half of one percent of this year's senior class throughout the country. Semi-finalists then had to document high academic performance throughout high school, receive the recommendation of their principals, confirm their earlier test score by taking a second test (the SAT), and provide considerable information about their interests, accomplishments, and goals. With all of this information at their disposal, the National Merit Scholarship Corporation selected the 13,500 Finalists.

Katie is a senior at Manchester High School and is the first National Merit Finalist in a number of years. She has been involved in many extra-curricular activities including band for four years and the National Honor Society for two. She has participated in track, cross country, varsity choir, and the high school quiz bowl team. In addition, Katie ranks first in her senior class with a perfect 4.00 grade point average. For her college choice, Katie has applied to Alma, Hope, and Michigan State with her first choice right now being Hope. She is considering a major in either math or liberal arts.

World Day Of Prayer To Be Held March 2nd At Bethel Church

On Friday, March 2nd the World Day of Prayer Celebration will be held at Bethel United Church of Christ. The worship service will begin at 1:30 p.m. Following, there will be a time for fellowship and refreshments.

World Day of Prayer is an annual celebration which is sponsored in the United States by Church Women United. It unites women of faith in some 5,000 communities in the United States and 170 countries around the globe in a common day of prayer. 1984 marks the 97th consecutive observance of an event which began in 1887 as a day of prayer for mission by lay women of the Presbyterian Church. Today, it has grown to include countless thousands of Christian women of various races, cultures and traditions on six continents of the

This year the World Day of Prayer service was written by Christian women in Sweden on the theme "Living Water from Christ, Our Hope." The authors have used water as a focus, drawing upon many examples from scripture where this element symbolizes life and hope.

The offering taken that day will go toward making possible the mission of Church Women United including the Intercontinental Grants Program that women, human rights, justice and peace.

The women of Bethel Church invite all women in the Manchester area to attend this service on the day when women of faith around the globe pray together for a world free from hunger and thirst.

Black Sheep Theatre To Reopen For 1984 Season

Coralie Parkins, Director has announced that The Black Sheep Theatre will open its doors for the 1984 season on March 1. "Deathtrap," a comedy-thriller by Ira Levin, and the first of ten productions slated for the season, will air on that date with additional performances on March

2, 3 and 8, 9, 10 and 15, 16, 17 with curtain at 8:15 p.m. each evening. "Deathtrap" was first presented in New York City at The Music Box theatre on February 26, 1978 with John Wood and Marian Seldes in the principal roles of Sidney and Myra Bruhl. The Black Sheep Theatre will feature Todd Wurster and Coralie Parkins, both of Chelsea, in these same roles with Clifford Anderson played by Martin Contreras, Helga Ten Dorp by Marina Seeman, and Porter Milgrim by Mark Bernstein. Contreras, Seeman, and Bernstein are all from Ann Arbor.

The play, set in Westport, Connecticut, revolves around a has-been playwright (Sidney) and his wife (Myra) who are driven to the idea of murder when an aspiring young writer presents what appears to be a best-seller first play based on ideas from a summer seminar taught by Sidney. But that is only the beginning of twists and turns that produce both comedy and spine-chilling terror which builds in suspense until the last shocking moment!

A variety of dramas, comedies, and musicals including such well-known best-sellers as Ibsen's "Ghosts," Neil Simon's "Prisoner of Second Avenue," and Tennessee Williams' "Suddenly Last Summer" are planned for the 1984 season.

We have 4 teams each comprised of 5th and 6th grade boys. Each team will play 2 games. The team which wins both its games will be the Fun Night Tournament Champion. A traveling trophy will be awarded with the boys' names inscribed on the trophy. At 8:00 p.m. we will finish up with the alumni game, dividing up odd years vs even years of graduation. There will be a charge for admission - $1.00 student, $1.50 adult or $3.50 for the family.

High School Announces Coming Home Week

During the week of February 20, the students of Manchester High School will be doing a few things backwards. The event is called Coming Home Week. The high school student council developed the idea of Coming Home Week to help students conquer the midwinter blah's and spark school spirit. Instead of the traditional Homecoming Week where there is a queen, Coming Home Week has a king and his court. This is just one of many reversals for the week. In addition to the king, there will be the following events:

- Monday - Slum Day
 - Tuesday - International Day
 - Wednesday - Tourist Day - Staff members exchange teaching assignments and students dress as tourists.
 - Thursday - Blue and White Day - These are East Jackson's colors. We are wearing these colors to show we have no fear of the Trojans.
 - Friday - No Sweat Day - Students wear their sweats showing it is "no sweat" to defeat the Trojans. This is also Hall Decoration Day.
- Throughout the entire week students will be voting for their favorite "Mr. Legs". The class that wins spirit week will be awarded free Manchester Dutchmen painter hats. Friday night after the game, tournament, Manchester received a first round bye (automatic win) then lost 235-145 to St. Mary's Preparatory (Orchard Lake) in the second.

Called the "varsity sport of the mind," Quiz Bowl is a fast-moving question and answer game played between two four-member teams. It is a game of quick recall and fast response, with points awarded to the team giving the correct answer first. Contestants have three seconds to answer toss-up questions (worth 10 points each) and five seconds to answer bonus questions (worth a pre-stated number of points from 20 to 35, depending upon complexity and degree of difficulty.)

Both toss-up and bonus questions cover a broad range of topics including science, politics, literature, history, religion, art, chemistry, geography, movies, television shows, Olympic competitions, sports, music, and Nobel, Pulitzer and Academy Award winners.

In Alma's Quiz Bowl, there are two divisions of competition, determined by school size and corresponding to the class level of sports competition set by the Michigan High School Athletic Association. Class A and B schools compete and Class C and D compete. Each division will have a champion and a runner-up.

This year, the fourth year that Alma has sponsored a state-wide Quiz Bowl competition, 49 high schools - 24 in A-B and 25 in C-D - are participating. The two championship matches are March 21.

Manchester High Loses In Quiz Bowl

Manchester High was among the 16 schools eliminated in the second round of the 1984 Alma College High School Quiz Bowl on February 11. Of the 49 schools that competed in the first two rounds, only 16 (8 each in A-B and C-D division) have survived. Competing in the C-D Division of the single-elimination

Thomas R. Marshall, vice president under Woodrow Wilson, once had this to say about his office: "There were two brothers. One ran away to sea and the other was elected vice president. Neither was ever heard of again." That also is the usual lot of a lieutenant governor, the state official who mostly labors in the shadow of the chief executive. But unlike the vice president, a lieutenant governor has the company of his or her peers - such as at the annual meetings of the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors, says a recent news item.

Strictly speaking, only 43 of the 50 states have lieutenant governors. In the other seven the second-ranking state official is the secretary of state or the president or speaker of the state senate. Among the 43 Tennessee combines the offices of lieutenant governor and senate speaker while Utah combines those of lieutenant governor and secretary of state.

Turnover is high among lieutenant governors: 21 of the current crop of 43 were first elected in 1982. The typical incumbent serves just one or two terms. A notable exception is Lt.

Gov. John A. Cherberg of Washington, who has served continuously since 1957. This probably is a tenure record.

Women are underrepresented among the ranks of lieutenant governors but - defying the notion of obscurity in that office - are prominent out of proportion to their numbers. There are four at present, in Colorado, Kentucky, Michigan, and Minnesota. Martha Layne Collins of Kentucky is chairman of the lieutenant governors' conference and is the Democratic nominee for governor in this November's election. Evelyn Gandy, a former lieutenant governor of Mississippi, led the field in that state's Aug. 2 Democratic gubernatorial primary and faces a runoff Aug. 23.

From time to time a male lieutenant governor also manages to become a national newsmaker. It happened in 1979 when Republican Lt. Gov. Mike Curb of California nominated a presiding justice of the state court of appeals while Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr., was out of the state. The California Supreme Court later upheld Mr. Curb's action. It also affirmed Mr. Brown's authority to withdraw the appointment, which he did. Similar disputes between the governor and lieutenant governor have erupted in other states in recent years. In Missouri, for instance, the conflict arose from one state constitutional provision giving all the powers and salary of the governor to the lieutenant governor when the governor is out of state unless he is accompanied by the lieutenant governor. Even then the power and salary pass to the next in line, the president pro tem of the senate. The net effect was to make the governor a prisoner in his own state.

For the most part, though, lieutenant governors are content to remain in the background. Let the final word on being No. 2 come from Alexander Throttebottom, the fictional vice president in "Of Thee I Sing," the prize-winning 1930s musical. "He's a nice fellow when you get to know him," Throttebottom said of himself, "but nobody wants to know him."

Philadelphia

Committee," as it was styled, convened there and remained in session until it had completed its labors, which resulted in declaring the colonies "Free and Independent."

He told us how that when Congress met, Mr. Cushing made a motion that should be opened by prayer; how the motion was opposed because its members were of different religious sentiments, and could not join in the same kind of worship; how Mr. Adams arose and said "that he was no bigot and could hear a prayer from any gentleman of piety and virtue, who was at the same time a friend to his country." He moved that Mr. Duchee, and Episcopalian clergyman, might be desired to read prayers to Congress, to-morrow morning, which was carried.

"Accordingly next morning he appeared with his clerk and in his pontificals, and read several prayers in the established form, and then read the psalter for the 7th day of September, which was the 35th psalm - you must remember that this was the next morning after we had heard of the horrible cannonade of Boston. It seemed as if heaven had ordained that psalm to be read on that morning.

"After this, Mr. Duchee, unexpectedly to everybody, struck out into extempore prayer, which filled the bosom of every man present - I must confess I never heard a better prayer or one so well pronounced. Episcopalian as he is, Dr. Cooper himself never prayed with such fervor, such ardor, such correctness and pathos, and in language so elegant and sublime, for America, for Congress, for the province of Massachusetts Bay, especially the town of Boston - It had excellent effect upon everybody here. I must beg you to read the psalm. If there is any faith in the Sortes Virgilliance, or Homericoe, or especially the Sortes Biblicoe it would have been thought providential.

"Here was a scene worthy of the painter's art. It was in Carpenter's Hall, in Philadelphia, a building which still survives, that the devoted individuals met to whom this service was read. Washington was kneeling there, and Henry, and Randolph, and Rutledge, and Lee, and Jay, and by their side there stood, bowed in reverence, the Puritan Patriots of New England, who at that moment had reason to believe that an armed soldiery was wasting their humble households. It was believed that Boston had been bombarded and destroyed. They prayed fervently for America, for the Congress, for the province of Massachusetts Bay and especially for the town of Boston, and who can realize the emotions with which they turned imploringly to heaven for divine interposition and aid? It was enough, said Mr. Adams, 'to melt a heart of stone.' I saw the tears gush into the eyes of the old grave pacific Quakers of Philadelphia."

We were told that the chairs and other furniture of the hall are the identical ones in use at that time. The library is in the second story and contains many volumes of value and interest, the first of which were bequeathed by James Portius, at the time of his death, in 1786.

In 1857 the Carpenter's Company, with a reverence for their old Hall which has so well stood the test of time, being connected with so many stirring incidents in our national history, in a belief that its story is instructive and valuable, withdrew it from the purpose of trade and commerce, and devoted it to their own use, and the recollections of the historic memories that cluster around it, as the Nation's Birth Place. Mat.

High School Band Members Attend District Solo/Ensemble

On Saturday, February 11, 1984, ten high school band members attended the District Solo and Ensemble festival, held in Jackson. Since late December, each student has been diligently practicing, in preparation for their performance. All that practice paid off when the band members returned home with outstanding ratings. These events were: Mary Stierle - Flute solo, Katie Miller - Cello solo, Kraig Sauter - Baritone solo, Mike Waldron - Tuba solo, Khris Hunt/Debbie Wenk - Flute duet, and a Brass quintet - Brian Getty/Lisa Knickerbocker - Cornet, Todd Haselschwerdt - Trombone, Kraig Sauter - Baritone and Mike Waldron - Tuba, six received first division ratings, the highest eligible rating you can receive. In addition an Oboe solo entered by Katie Miller, received a second division rating. Each member should be proud of his/her performance. Those who received first division ratings are eligible for state competition to be held on March 31. Good luck to those who decide to attend the state festival.

Special thanks is extended to Mary Sue Moore and Jackie Miller for accompanying the soloists, and to Mr. Lance Vechinski for all his time he spent before and after school with each member. Again, congratulations to those who attended this year's District Solo and Ensemble Festival for a job well done!

Girl Scout Cookie Pick-Up At IGA

Imagine 310 cases of Girl Scout Cookies all in one location—at the IGA on Thursday, March 1st, 1984.

This is the dispersement point for all the Girl Scout Cookies ordered by the troops in Manchester. Once the troop cookie chairman picks up her troop's cookies, the girls begin delivering cookies from March 1st through March 10.

Free Workshop Offered

"Home Sweet Home: Helping Home Care Work" is the theme of a free workshop sponsored by the Greater Ann Arbor Chapter of the Alzheimer's Disease & Related Disorders Association on Saturday, February 25 from 1 to 4 p.m. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Education Center Auditorium. Featured speakers include Florence Tillman, R.N. of the Turner Geriatric Clinic and Cindy Beal-Bates, R.N. of the Catherine McAuley Health Center answering questions on nutrition, safety, and mobility for the care of the Alzheimer's patient at home.

Various day-care alternatives will be discussed by a panel representing respite care, day care, and foster care in the Ann Arbor and Detroit areas. The public is welcome. For more information call 572-4109.

Try to imagine twelve boxes of cookies per case, times 310 cases. That is a lot of Girl Scout Cookies and they are all dispersed to troops within just a few hours.

The cookie sale is the major fund raising project for Huron Valley Council that financially supports the Girl Scout program for nearly 10,000 girls in Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne and northern Monroe Counties.

If we missed you when taking orders, call Lois Hansen at 428-8623, or Dianne Schwab at 428-8976. Also, we will be having a cookie booth at Comerica on Saturday, March 3rd. Happy Eating!!!

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH DR. W. ATKINSON DIRECTOR Shoes May Be Clue To Health Problems You wouldn't want your children's back problems to go on unaided and perhaps turn into something else equally unpleasant or maybe worse. Here's one test you can use. Look at the heels of your child's shoes. If one is appreciably more worn than the other, especially toward the outside, you are looking at one of the more common indicators of back or posture problems. The recommended next step is to schedule a chiropractic examination for your child. Your chiropractor, because he is specifically trained for this, can quickly tell you the degree of the problem and what corrective measures should be taken. Dutch Sports In Action

Fridays action with #42 Tom Bejma shooting for 2.

By Jon Hardenbergh

The Manchester Dutchmen flew into Napoleon and struggled somewhat but left victorious, 53-44. The Pirates hung tough through the first half to trail by a mere point. We came out fighting in the third 8 minutes and out-tallied them 20-11. This proved to be the backbreaker as we won by 9. Our two juniors, Mike Agin and Pat Ridenour teamed up to toss in 26 points, 13 each. Mark Ball hit key shots and ended up with 11 points. We now have an 8-1 record in the Cascades Conference.

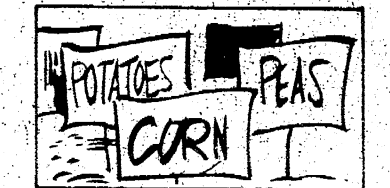

Our Little Dutch just keep plowing along as they downed Napoleon. As the season is nearing its end, we sit in great but still catchable position. On Friday, we host East Jackson. The Trojans did lose to us in the first meeting and I'm sure would like to beat us as they are coming off a nice win over Grass Lake. On Tuesday is another big game as we make up that postponed contest with Vandercook Lake. Vandie has won some 6 or 7 straight but got tripped up Friday by Michigan Center. This will be our final home game this season.

By the time you read this I will be far away on vacation. I won't be able to see what happens with our super varsity and junior varsity squads.

I bet if everyone goes to these battles and yells - I'll know.

J.V. action Friday shows John Curley trying to score.

Slightly over 46 percent of the land in America is given over to agriculture.

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Harold A. Drouare of Grass Lake, Michigan announces the engagement of her daughter, Rita Patricia, to Edgar T. Crawley, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Crawley of Dexter, Michigan.

The wedding will take place in May, 1984, in Chelsea Michigan.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Manchester High School. Her fiancé is a graduate of Dexter High School. Both are graduates of Michigan State University, earning bachelors degrees in Packaging Engineering, presently employed at Hughes Aircraft Company in California as Packaging Specialists.

Athletic Complex Steering Committee

The Manchester Athletic Boosters have formed a committee in order to implement the completion of the athletic complex at Klager Elementary. The "Athletic Complex Steering Committee" has worked to create a "Master Plan" which best meets the needs of the overall sports program for Manchester Schools.

Phase I of this master plan is to purchase a new football scoreboard which will be used at the present field and then eventually moved to the new complex when it is ready. Also included in this phase will be the addition of a water service making possible the irrigation of playing fields and provisions for drinking and rest-room facilities. Estimated cost for Phase I is 6,500.00 with completion by the end of the summer 1984.

Phase II of the Master Plan will require aggressive fund raising, as it involves the placement of light poles, fixtures and wiring for the lighting of the complex. This is an integral part of the plan, for it will lead to total usage of this fine facility. Estimated cost of Phase II is $75,000.00, and it is the goal of the Boosters to have it completed by fall of 1985.

The third and final phase involves the construction of bleachers, a press box and rest rooms. This will round out the agenda of the master plan and allow for participation in a quality athletic complex of which we all can be proud. Although it is a bold and ambitious project, the Boosters are optimistic that these goals can and will be achieved by the fall of 1986.

Members of the committee include: Jim Fielder, Al Gebhardt, Dick Krzyzaniak, George Agin, Willard Cleland, Jack Lockridge and Rod Morrison.

Points discussed were: who are the new entrants in the job market; why are they seeking employment; types of jobs; creating new jobs and very importantly, adopting a positive attitude in seeking employment especially in male dominated fields. Using library materials and current magazines for references points were made on the effects of divorce and widowhood, the need for more math and science in K-12 school to equip women for today's jobs in the technical world such as tele-communications. Also important is the roll of generations needed for encouragement and child care. Good paying jobs can be conducted in or managed from the home.

Once an "I can do anything" attitude is believed and adapted the possibilities for women in the world of work are limitless.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Leo Scully on March 13.

Manchester Schools Anticipate Spending $100,000 With Local Businesses

Superintendent of schools, Gene Thompson has advised that the Manchester Schools anticipate the expenditure of $100,000 with local businesses.

"Doing business locally can be a tricky proposition. If something goes wrong or if we feel the product we have received isn't up to quality we run the risk of offending a taxpayer."

During the Bicentennial Mrs. Kirk was the Optimist Club's candidate for first lady. She went to the Irish Hills and talked with the drivers of the National Bicentennial wagon train as it lumbered along US-12.

Sunday was again her special day with relatives and friends at the apartment to help her celebrate 102 years. She enjoyed

High School Blood Drive

Jerry Post had the honor of being the first donor of the drive.

In spite of a February cold virus going around, 83 people came to the National Honor Society sponsored blood drive held at the High School Friday, February 10. Most were donating for the first time and one Vicki Carr, was giving blood on her 17th birthday - her present to the Red Cross. Some first-timers were fortified before donating with juice, cookies and conversation by our local Red Cross volunteers who cheered them on. All donors were rewarded with their own sense of good-will and the feelings of a job well-done. The National Honor Society would like to thank all participants and volunteers and hopes to see more of you at next year's High School Blood Drive.

Taking this little true-false test can help you tell.

- 1. Water is the least expensive commodity. True False?
2. Water is free. True False?
3. Most water systems plan on large rate increases in the near future. True False?

ANSWERS: 1. True. Safe, clean drinking water costs an average of $1.08 per thousand gallons in the U.S., about ten times as much as it costs to treat it. 2. True. What you get is billed for is the cost of gathering, treating, storing and distributing it. 3. False. While prices must rise, most leading water systems expect rates to be held flat for the next ten years.

BOARD OF COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WASHTENAW Norman E. Kennedy, Chairman

NEWS From the office of THE GOVERNOR

Governor James Blanchard announced specifics of his program to limit college tuition costs for Michigan resident undergraduate students attending the state's 13 public colleges and universities. "We're downsizing state government and targeting state spending on only the highest priority needs," said Governor Blanchard. "I challenge our colleges and universities to also tighten their belts, so that families can afford tuition for their children."

As a financial incentive, Blanchard offered a 10% increase in state funding next year for higher education institutions which adopted no tuition increase for resident undergraduates. Those colleges and universities which refused to freeze tuitions would receive less than the full 10% increase, based on a sliding scale, but would get a minimum six percent state funding increase.

The Governor made the following statement on a recent federal district court decision for an injunction against the continued construction of ELF pending an updated environmental study. "I am very pleased with the decision of Judge Crabb. I would note that in addition to the environmental and health concerns, the ELF project is a tremendous waste of taxpayer dollars. You will recall that the state Natural Resources Commission approved the Michigan right of way on this project over my objections, and I am pleased that the project has been halted," said the Governor.

Governor Blanchard called for greater cooperation inside the Capitol and said he will work to bring to state government the kind of cooperation he has been able to build between government and the private sector. "As Governor I want to be one of those people who pioneers this unprecedented cooperation for Michigan's future, and I know that all of you agree we should do everything we can to encourage cooperation at all levels - including inside the Capitol, where we desperately need it this year," the Governor said.

Governor Blanchard began a series of special meetings in the metropolitan Detroit area last week which are designed to foster greater public understanding of the state's successful fiscal recovery program. The meetings, which will be held over the next several months, will involve citizens and community leaders in discussions on the state's tax structure and the public services it supports.

A $1.5 million grant from the Governor's Office for Job Training will help fund a project of the UAW-Ford National Development Training Center, a joint employee training and development effort of the UAW and Ford. "This cooperative training project offers new hope to long-term unemployed workers at a time when rapidly changing technology and shifting economic forces have posed major obstacles to finding work," the Governor said.

The project will establish three Re-employment Assistance Centers to counsel and train at least 2,000 persons from among the 13,000 laid off Ford workers in southeastern Michigan. The centers will serve the Detroit, Macomb-Oakland, and Wayne-Monroe-Washtenaw regions. Training will focus on high demand job areas, such as licensed practical nurses, respiratory therapists, operating room technicians, automated machine technicians, or computer aided drafting.

Governor Blanchard announced that Michigan will conduct a one-year study of homelessness and mental illness in the Detroit area. "I have asked the Michigan Department of Mental Health to conduct this study in response to the growing concern that significant numbers within the total homeless population may be long-term mentally disabled," the Governor said. The study is one of only four nationwide funded by a $60,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH).

Governor Blanchard issued calls for special elections to fill vacancies on township boards in Royal Oak Township, Oakland County; and Berrien Township, Berrien County. The Governor is required to call a special election when a vacancy has existed for a period in excess of 45 days without action by the township board to fill the vacancy. Berrien Township election is scheduled for April 3, and the Royal Oak Township election is scheduled for April 10.

In Home Helper Training

A four session course is being offered to train helpers to assist elderly and disabled persons living in their own homes. The course is being sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital to establish a list of screened and trained, affordable in home helpers. Session topics include: Basic Care; Emotional Aspects of Disability; Mobility; Daily Activities and Commonly Encountered Illnesses. Persons completing the course will receive a certificate of attendance and become part of a resource pool serving local residents. Two training courses will be offered: March 6, 8, 13, 15 from 3:30 - 5:00 p.m. and April 10, 12, 17, 19 from 10:00 - 11:30 a.m. Sessions will be held at Chelsea Community Hospital. To arrange for interview or receive more information, call 475-1311 Ext. 262.

Report PIK Wheat Acreage To Agent

Wheat crop insurance policyholders will have the opportunity to revise the acreage insured if a portion of the crop is placed in the PIK program. Barbara Cranson, District Director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, announced that farmers will also have their premiums reduced with PIK participation.

Farmers are encouraged to report the amount of acreage placed in PIK to their crop insurance agent by March 1, the deadline for reporting.

PCIC increases the policy guarantee for wheat, when the PIK acreage is reported. This is done, according to Cranson, to encourage participation in PIK and to reflect the probability that the producer will increase his efforts to maximize yields on the remaining acres.

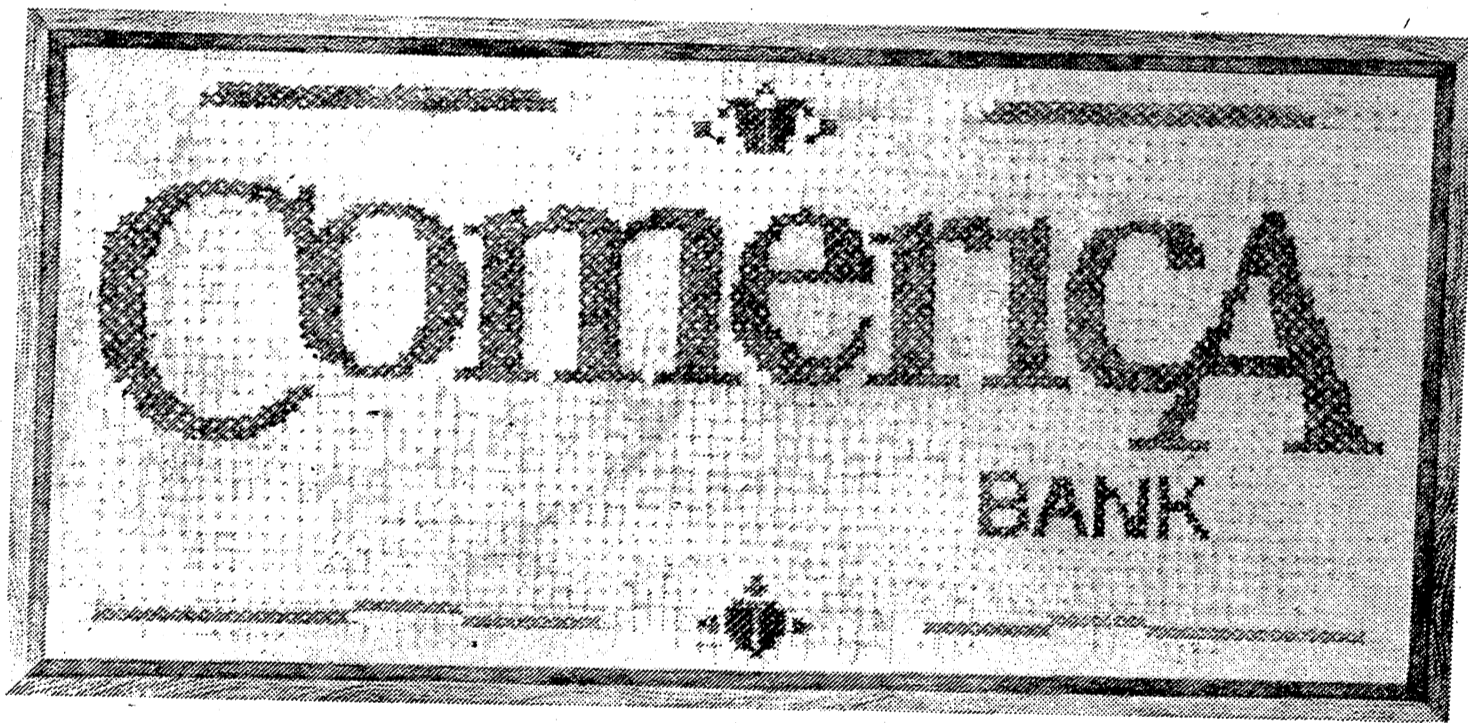

Farmers, Fishers Must File Tax Return Soon

Certain farmers and commercial fishers must file their 1983 Federal income tax returns and pay any tax due by March 1, 1984, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1982 or 1983 gross income from farming or fishing and did not pay estimated tax by January 17, 1984, (or who paid by that date and underestimated their tax liability) must file their returns and pay all tax due by March 1, 1984, to avoid paying a penalty.

Free IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," Publication 595, "Tax Guide for Commercial Fishermen," and Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax," provide additional information.

To order these publications, the IRS said taxpayers should write the IRS address found in their tax package.
