The fifth graders of the Middle School have just completed a week of intense study of drug abuse and it's effects.

answered the children's many questions. He assured the fifth graders of his concern and the willingness of the Manchester police department to be of help.

Friday, the fifth graders concluded their Substance Abuse study with a declaration of their commitment not to use harmful

Fire Destroys A Large Portion Of The Business Part Of Brooklyn

Wild Scenes For Two Hours. Then All Is Over

The most disastrous fire that has ever visited Brooklyn swept away almost the entire business portion on the west side of Main street about 3 o'clock Monday

It was first discovered by Bert Miller, who had just returned from Jackson. He hastened to the engine house, grasped the bell rope and the first clang of the fire bell awakened some of the citizens, who hastily donning their apparel sallied forth to ascertain the cause. The fire was found in

Geo. Ebbert's grocery bakery, and those who were first there with Babcock extinguishers bravely battled with the flames, but played a losing game, as the building was a veritable tinder box. The chemical engine seemed to do good execution, but when it became necessary to re-charge it the tank was empty and during the delay the flames gained rapidly.

The citizens worked with a will in saving goods from the burning buildings, but in the haste and confusion of course much damage was done. The heat was also so great that goods piled in the streets were set on fire. Cinders also filled the air and it was necessary that great precaution be taken to prevent buildings upon which they fell from taking

HIT or MISS by farley

A chap named Pat Siena has written a ditty concerning "signs" that I think you may find interesting, so may we copy some of it as follows:

The sign on the restaurant door said "Shoes and shirts required." But what about pants?

I worry about the things that go unsaid in our society. But I worry just as much about the things that are said: "Watch for falling rock" and "scenic area," for instance.

The rock disturbs me because I find that I'm watching for it when I should be watching the other cars on the road.

But I'm simply insulted by the 'scenic area" signs. Obviously, esthetic judgement of my own. He also implies that I am already well-acquainted with "blight areas" - for these are never labeled.

Such labels remind me of those single word captions that television news programs like to put under a person's face: "Witness," "Victim," or "Author." I want either no label or a more complete one - like "Male, 180 lb., 27-year-old analyst; Harvard MBA ('80); reader of mainstream fiction; owner of condo (with garage) in upper-middle-class suburb; no wife or children (but several girl friends); favorite color: red; and, oh yes, also Victim."

There's another form of sign that I don't like. I call it the NO Syndrome: "NO Trespassing,"
"NO Admittance," "NO Exit,"
"NO Thru Traffic," "NO one except employees beyond this point," and "NO Vacancy." Most of what troubles me about these signs is that they assume I want to trespass, or enter, or drive through, etc. Usually I neither intend nor desire to do any of the things the sign tells me I can't do. It's like being turned down for a date that you never asked for.

As long as I'm resenting things, I may as well add certain road signs - such as "bump ahead," "sharp curve," and "hill." I want to discover life on my own; I don't want anyone giving away the plots of my trips any more than I want the endings of books or movies revealed before I get Even such well-meaning signs as "Thank you - come again" bother me. How sincere is it when the message is on the very same door every customer passes through? I'd rather the door would just say "PUSH," and let it go at that.

I know that I some sign maker thinks I have no, my reactions to signs. A friend of mine, who happens to share my distaste for the "No Trespassing" variety, tells of the day when he was jogging in Connecticut. He approached a private drive and noticed a handmade sign that said "Please Trespass." And so he did - into a beautiful, well-tended garden, where he sat near a statue to rest. And to enjoy.

> That's his favorite sign. But I have a soft spot for one I spotted in an automotic elevator. It said: "If this elevator gets stuck, try pressing the DOOR OPEN button." I like that. It's just a friendly piece of advice, with no promise that it'll work. All it does is give you something to try.

> And I love a sign, seen recently. which didn't say a thing. It was just a simple silhouette of a person in a skirt - meant to designate the ladies' room. Trouble is a Scotch fellow in a kilt thought it was beckoning him, and in he walked.

But my favorite sign of all times is the one I found on the side of a building: "No signs allowed." I think signs like that ought to be put up all over town!

Marion Ahrens To Chair St. Jude's Bike-A-Thon

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced that Ms. Marion Ahrens has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Manchester.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides medical care to over 4,200 patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude's, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle cell anemia, and other child killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-a-Thon program is dedicated to "Terry". Terry was diagnosed with leukemia in March of 1978, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today, she is well and off all medication. Terry is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized

The funds raised in the Bike-a-Thons this spring will help assure the continuation of the life giving work at the hospital.

The concern which Ms. Ahrens has for the work being done at St. Jude is greatly appreciated. The children hope that the citizens of Manchester will wholeheartedly support the Bike-a-Thon.

"Year Of The Secretary"

From Congressman Carl Pursell of Michigan's 2nd District

Congressman Carl Pursell (Mich. 2nd Dist.) has introduced a resolution in the U.S. House to designate 1984 as the "Year of the Rep. Pursell introduced the resolution (H.J. Res. 476) at the members of Professional Secretaries International in his district.

"Secretaries cornerstone of productivity in offices throughout the world economy," Pursell said. "Their efficiency and ability to master demanding new skills makes them an indispensable ingredient in modern business.

"Another important reason for focusing attention on professional secretaries is to encourage more young people to consider a career in secretarial work. The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that this will be the career field with the most job opportunities in the 1980's," he added. P.S.I. initiated the "Year of the Secretary" idea to both recognize many contributions of secretaries in private and public organizations, and to generate interest in their profession. Congressman Pursell's resolution was referred to the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service for review. If the measure passes both House and Senate, the President will be requested to issue a national proclamation on the "Year of the Secretary".

Girl Scout Cookie Pick-Up At IGA

Imagine 310 cases of Girl Scout Cookies all in one location-at the IGA on Thursday, March 1st,

This is the dispersement point for all the Girl Scout Cookies ordered by the troops in Manchester. Once the troop cookie chairman picks up her troop's cookies, the girls begin delivering cookies from March 1st through March 10.

Try to imagine twelve boxes of cookies per case, times 310 cases. That is a lot of Girl Scout Cookies and they are all dispersed to troops within just a few hours.

The cookie sale is the major fund raising project for Huron Valley Council that financially supports the Girl Scout program for nearly 10,000 girls in Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne and northern Monroe

If we missed you when taking orders, call Lois Hansen at 428-8623, or Dianne Schwab at 428-8976. Also, we will be having a cookie booth at Comerica on Saturday, March 3rd. Happy Eating!!!

9 12 Agriculture 7 14 6.5 14.5 In Action DO FARMERS COMPLAIN TOO HIGH TEAM SERIES If you ask the average man or 3195 woman on a city street the question: "What do you think of farmers and ranchers?" they just might reply: "We like them. Napoleon Lawn & Leis. They're good, hardworking HIGH INDIVIDUAL SERIES people, but they complain too much." Urban dwellers have this image of farmers always complaining either about the weather or about prices. Farmers are pretty good at telling the rest of the world when they encounter problems. What farmers are not so good at is telling the world when events go well. So, after listening to farmers complain about their plight, city dwellers begin to ignore them. Unless farmers are willing to share the good news, they're liable to lose their credibility when they announce the bad. An example: back in 1979 when ranchers were getting $1.05 a pound for cattle, nobody said a word about things being pretty good. Now, however, when they receive only 60c a pound, they're unhappy and rightly so. They are trying to tell the rest of the world their problem, but nobody seems to be listening.

If these ranchers had only been a little more candid in 1979 and said, "thank heavens, we've got a price that makes sense," the American public would probably be more sympathetic to their plight now.

A word of advice to farmers and ranchers: Don't be afraid to tell the world when you are doing well. If you do, your city cousins just might believe you when things get tough.

Dutch Sports In Action

#40 Tom Lockridge shooting for 2

By Jim Krzyzaniak

The East Jackson Trojans came to town last Friday looking for the upset, but it wasn't to be as the Dutch gave a strong and inspired performance, defeating Trojans 67-62.

It was Parents Night and there was a very enthusiastic crowd in attendance. The first period belonged to the Dutch as they came out pressing, which was very effective and they led 22-11 after the first eight minutes. In the second period East Jackson regained it's composure and cut occasions, but as the half came to a close the Dutch were leading 38-28. During the third period the Dutch maintained the tempo of the game, but could not shake the pesky Trojans as the Dutch led after three periods 49-44. In the fourth quarter the action was hot and heavy, East Jackson cut the lead to four points with 4 minutes remaining. The Dutch though maintained their composure and received some key plays from their bench as they walked away with the victory 67-62.

The individual scoring figures reflect the team effort for the the lead to six points on several. Dutch. Pat Ridenour and Mike Agin scored 14 points each while teammates Ron Melcher and Mark Ball scored 11 and 10 points respectively. The Dutch also received key bench play in the fourth quarter from Lockridge and Bruce Rhees.

This win assures the Dutch of at least a share of the Cascades Conference Basketball Champioinship. All they need is a victory at home on Tuesday the 28th against Vandercook Lake or a victory at Michigan Center on Friday, March 2nd to win the title outright. This would be the first outright title for our basketball team since the 1973-74 campaign. Our record now stands at 15-3.

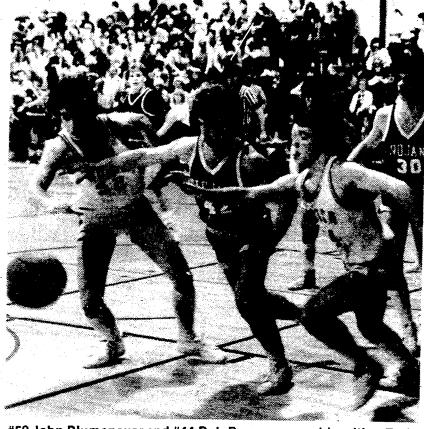

Our Junior Varsity also had a very exciting contest but did not fare as well as the varsity. Their game was close throughout but the Little Dutch fell 52-50. High scorers for the Little Dutch were Sophomores John Curley with 18 points and Rob Smith with 12. The Little Dutch also has a very

One final note, the Varsity Basketball team starts district action the week of March 5th at Addison High School. At the time this article was written it was not known when or whom we would be playing. But we are looking for an exciting District Tournament.
