Chicken Broil Uses Tons Of Supplies

by Lucy Feldkamp

Everything about Manchester's annual Chicken Broil is big, starting with the number of people served, 12,000 to 14,000. That many dinners requires a lot of supplies, and Broil planners have to make sure there is enough of everything to go around, from napkins to radishes to potato chips.

Ron Mann, chairman of the supplies committee, is in charge of ordering everything for the Broil except the chickens. That means 5 tons of charcoal for the barbecue pits, 250 pounds of butter to baste the chickens, 12,000-14,000 rolls, 1,000 pounds of radishes, and 68 crates of cabbage for the coleslaw. Besides all that cabbage, the Broil's secret coleslaw recipe calls for 40 gallons of vegetable oil, 100 pounds of sugar, 24 cans of salt, 18 gallons of vinegar, and 50 pounds of onions, along with pepper, celery seed, and mustard for seasoning. Mann also has to arrange the delivery of 2100 chairs and 200 tables which are rented for the occasion. Then there are all the supplies needed by the 500 to 600 workers themselves: 600 paper caps, 600 pairs of gloves, 500 rented aprons, and 2000 paper cups for the lemonade and iced tea that helps keep the Broil volunteers cool at their hot jobs. That is enough to supply a small army, which is close to what the Chicken Broil crew is.

Gene Bentschneider, the overall chairman of the Broil, takes care of ordering the chickens, which come packed on ice in a big semi truck from Morren Poultry, in Galesburg. This year, Bentschneider is planning to order 15,000 pounds of chicken. The chicken is timed to arrive around noon on Broil day, just when the first charcoal fires are being lighted. About 12:30, the crews carry the first batch of chickens to the pits, so that at 4:00, when the first dinners are served, the meat is thoroughly done, tender and juicy after a long slow roast.

Chicken Broil organizers and the county health department cooperate closely, insuring that all this food is handled and prepared safely. This involves meetings both before and after the Broil to go over new regulations and possible improvements. The day of the Broil, at least one inspector checks things out, to make sure that everyone is following the rules.

15,000 pounds of chicken is a lot to cook and serve in one day, and each dinner includes potato chips, roll and butter, radishes, coleslaw, and milk or coffee. The Chicken Broil volunteers have worked out a system to handle all this food successfully. The fact that this year's Broil is the 31st running proves that the results of all this labor taste good enough to get people back year after year.

Settlement Of Bridgewater

Some Of Mrs. Crampton's
Memories Of Pioneer Life

This lady is Mrs. B.H. Felton, now a widow for the second time. "James Crampton, myself, and Thos. Piket, arrived in what is now Bridgewater, in May, 1830, forty-seven years this last May; being the second settlement in the neighborhood; Col. Daniel Hixon's being the first. The first birth in the town was Henrietta Hixon, now the wife of Rev. D. Kedzie of Dowagiac. The first marriage was that of Dennis Lancaster and Harriet Frederic. The first death that occurred was that of Mrs. Thomas Boulton. Our first town meeting was held at the house of Daniel Brooks, now Mrs. Crane's. The next year it was held at the residence of John Valentine, now Norman Conklin's. George Howe was chosen as the first supervisor, Robert H. Heggie town clerk, H.B. Norton first justice of the peace.

"Some men seem to be born with perennial honors resting upon them; as an instance, D.W. Palmer has been town clerk of Bridgewater 30 years, and Malcom McDougal, justice of the peace during 30 consecutive years. Men old in honors as well as years.

"Jacob Gilbert came in the Fall of 1830. In the Spring of 1831, Thomas Gilbert, Harvey, Esther and Ephriam Platt, Anna and Eliza Gilbert came into our immediate neighborhood.

"In 1832-3 settlers began to arrive in greater numbers. During this period there came John Haynes, John Valentine, Norman Conklin, John Scott, (who sold to Derick Owens, he to Rev. Robert Powell), Daniel Brooks, (who built the first frame house in Bridgewater), Shove Miner, George Howe, (who gave the name to the town), Mr. Darby, Lewis Ingersol, Bennager Lockerby, Wm. H. Aulls, W.W. Plummer, Henry Bird, John Walters, Mr. Evans, Mr. Graves, Mr. Bush, Jacob Dubois, Johnathon Mitchell, Russell M. Randall, John Lynch, John Milson, Washington Hewitt, Mr. Darby, Wm. ## "Teacher Of The Year"

The Manchester Community Schools have recognized Susan Davis, a German teacher, at Manchester High School, as Teacher of the Year.

Davis was nominated by her building principal, Bill Bushaw, and was recognized at a recent meeting of the Manchester Board of Education.

In his letter of nomination Bushaw noted that Davis is not only an excellent classroom teacher who motivates her students to perform at the highest level possible, she also possesses clear instructional goals, is aware of individual needs and is actively involved in establishing programs outside of the classroom. During the past year, Davis provided leadership in the Manchester Schools in establishing a student exchange program with a German High School. Manchester High School was one of 200 high schools in the United States allowed to participate. As part of the program which saw a group of German students visit and live in the Manchester community for 3 weeks during April, Davis will lead a group of local students to Germany.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson commented, "Susan Davis exemplifies the excellence found in many Manchester teachers. The selection process is always difficult. Nevertheless we are pleased to recognize a Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Davis possesses limitless energy and is an exceptionally creative teacher. Her students benefit from both of these characteristics. We consider ourselves to be extremely fortunate to have her in the Manchester Schools."

Davis will be nominated to the Michigan Department of Education Teacher of the Year Program as the Manchester representative. She received an award noting her recognition, will receive a stipened for the purchase of additional curriculum materials for her classroom and will be sent to a professional seminar for advanced study in her field.

Tri-Star Baseball Skills Contest

The Optimist Club of Manchester will hold a Tri-Star Baseball Skills Contest at Kirk Park at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, June 30th. There will be a separate contest for boys and girls. The contest is composed of three basic skills, for youth aged 8-13, in order to evaluate contestants' skills in hitting, baserunning, and throwing.

All that is required in order to compete is desire, according to Elvin Johnson, committee chairman.

There will be plaques awarded to the first three winners in each age group with a separate contest for boys and girls. Each contestant will also receive a memento score card and patch.

Entry blanks are available at several local businesses or at the contest site on the day of the competition. They may also be obtained by calling Elvin Johnson at 428-9409.

Hit Or Miss

by Farley

Down in the southern hill country of Ohio some years ago there was published in the village of Custar, a weekly newspaper edited by what was known as a character, but whose comments on various subjects were widely read by many. Some years ago he placed in a very prominent position at the bottom of the front page the following:

"It is reported that a woman of this town kneads bread with gloves on. That's nothing. The editor of this rag of freedom needs bread with his shirt on and with his shoes on and with his pants on, but if some of the subscribers to this rag of freedom he's gonna need bread without a d--d thing on, and Custar is no garden of Eden in the winter time either."

And then there is another story from Ohio about the woman who was doing some 70 miles an hour on a 55 MPH highway the other day when she glanced into the rear view mirror and saw, approaching rapidly, two motorcycle mounted state police. They were catching up with her so she stepped down on the accelerator and jacked her speed up to 80 miles an hour with the cops in hot pursuit.

A couple of miles down the road she spied a service station and roared into it, came to a screaming halt and jumped out and dashed into the ladies room. When she came out the troopers were waiting outside. With a big grin on her face she said to the troopers "You didn't think I would make it did you" and they gallantly forgave her. That's what is called using your noodle.

They tell about the chap who came dashing into the office the other morning wearing one black shoe and one brown one. After being rather unmercifully kidded about this he countered by saying that he liked the idea of having a pair of different colors—that he had a pair just like the ones he was wearing back home.

We ran across the story of Owey the other day. Owey was the world's most traveled dog.

He was a mutt and showed up in the postoffice in Albany, New York in 1888 and adopted the clerks and they made him their pet. Owey grew to ride along on the mail trains and soon became well known. A note on his collar requested that that wherever he roamed eventually he should be returned to Albany and he soon accumulated medallions testifying that he had visited many post offices. He was finally shipped to Alaska, across the Pacific to Japan and then on around the world to Shanghai, the Aaores, etc. Soon after he completed this trip he became crabby and when he arrived in Toledo on one of his trips he growled and snapped and was adjudged mad and was shot. His friends had his body preserved by a taxidermist and he was put on display at the post office museum in Washington. In 1937 his body was shipped to the Smithsonian Museum where it is still on display.

The wife of a nearby businessman complained that every time she got under the shower the phone rang so he went out and bought her a wireless telephone. It worked great in the bathroom but the next time the bell rang it was the doorbell.

American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Legion Home on June 13, 1984 with 17 members and 1 guest present.

Mary Smith reported that $625.66 was received on the sale of poppies by Auxiliary members. This money is for the exclusive use of needy veterans.

President Vivian Middlemiss reminded us of the Blood Bank to be held in the Legion Hall on July 16, 1984. Auxiliary members will be helping at the Blood Bank.

Several beautiful handmade items made by area residents for patients at the V.A. Hospital were displayed. An election of officers for 1984-85 year took place; installation will be at the July meeting.

Our July 11, 1984 meeting will consist of a potluck dinner at 6:00 p.m., with JoAnn Shiel, Polly Brokaw and Marsha Chartrand on committee.

"Keepin' busy" are the passwords for Manchester Art Guild members and their summertime activities. Most have scheduled at least one art fair in which to exhibit (Manchester, August 11, of course), whether it be for fulfillment of hobby or career dreams. Some have been juried into fairs as far away as Saugatuck (Margaret Goodrich), Midland (Jo Swanberg), and Tawas City (Bonnie Greenwald). The Guild is proud that three of its members will be selling the products of their talents in Ann Arbor during the art fair days in late July: Pam Grau, Jo Swanberg, and Bonnie Greenwald.

In addition to such busy schedules, they still manage to plan the annual Manchester Street Fair and staff their store, "Manchester Outlet!"

People of Manchester Area:

We are all fortunate that the very large black cat that has been seen in our area has exhibited no aggressive tendencies toward humans so far. This does not mean, however, that we can become complacent about its presence. The fact is that it is an extremely dangerous and unpredictable animal—this one perhaps more so because we know nothing about its history. "Panther" seems to be the most accurate term to describe this size cat. Without closer examination, authorities are not able to identify it more specifically, although most suspect that it is a leopard.

There is evidence that the animal is still in the wooded area around Adrian, Furnace, Territorial, Schlewels, and Boetger Roads and points south and east. It has a range of many miles. Panthers are nocturnal, doing their hunting at night and sleeping during the day. This animal has been seen as early as 9 p.m. and as late as 10 a.m. or so.

There are some common-sense precautions everyone should take.

Being a "lazy" hunter, the panther prefers small, helpless creatures. Please watch your children closely.

Although there is an abundance of small game in the area, a favorite food of panthers is dog. No matter how large or fierce your dog is, he cannot protect you—or himself, for that matter—from a panther. We urge you not to walk your dog in the area, especially in the evening.

Watch your dog for peculiar behavior—unusual barking, nervousness, etc. We recommend that you not venture outside to investigate suspicious activity.

Report sightings of the cat or unusual cat screams to the police immediately. Also, report suspicious loss of domestic animals, dogs, cats, chickens, ducks, etc.

The cat prefers to hole up in barns and abandoned buildings. Keep doors closed on all garages and out-buildings at all times. Would-be hunters and the just curious are seriously hampering our efforts to capture the cat. For your own safety, as well as ours, please do not enter the area previously described. Be advised that the discharge of firearms is prohibited within the Village limits. Violators will be prosecuted.

This animal is an endangered species and is protected by the United States government. Killing it, except in self-defense, is illegal. Violators are subject to prosecution and heavy fine.

Village Council Proceedings

JUNE 4, 1984

The regular meeting of the Manchester Village Council was called to order by President Hinkley at 7:00 p.m. Present: Harris, Kallewaard, Koebbe, Niehaus, Reinhart, Zsenyuk, Steele, Smith. Absent: John Schabile.

Niehaus moved to approve minutes as read, supported by Harris. Motion approved.

Garth Greenan from Rural Housing was present to ask for Council's help to investigate the sewer on Torry Street and possibly pull a TV camera through the sewer. Koebbe said the Village would not be able to spend money to investigate the Torry Street sewer because of the cost of the inflow elimination at the Chi-Bro Park pond, also the Village does not approve the use of a TV camera in the sewer. Mr. Greenan said his company would handle the entire expense of the investigation.

Harris moved to approve the May Payables of $33,588.75, supported by Kallewaard. Roll Call Vote: Ayes-all. Motion approved.

Village Planning Commission

REGULAR MEETING
MAY 15, 1985

The Regular Meeting of the Manchester Village Planning Commission for May was called to order at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Room of the Village Hall. Members present: Alber, Grossman, Leeson, Stautz, Kwolek, Lowery, Walton and Kallewaard. Member absent: Smith. A quorum was present. The agenda was approved after deletion of one item.

Minutes of the Regular Meeting of April 10, 1984 were approved as read.

A sign permit application for Jim's Car Clinic, 101 W. Main St., was reviewed. Gerry Mann, property owner, was present to answer questions. He stated that the proposed sign would be mounted in the same place as the previous sign, using the existing bolts; and also that the sign would be lighted but not flashing. Section 31.04-E-1 of the Village Zoning Ordinance was cited as to placement of the sign. It was noted that the area of the sign falls within the requirements of the Village Zoning Ordinance. A motion was made by Walton, seconded by Lowery, to issue the sign permit as requested. The motion was passed unanimously on a voice vote.

The Site Plan Review for the proposed 32-unit Manchester Apartments was introduced for discussion, having been tabled at the April, 1984 Planning Commission meeting. Jim Hovey, Rex Copey and Garth Greenan of the Rural Housing Corporation and Rural Architects were present to represent the developer. William Kotowski was present to answer questions on behalf of the Village engineering consultants, McNamee, Porter and Seeley. Village Manager Zsenyuk was also present to answer questions. The Secretary read aloud a letter from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (dated April 25, 1984) and a letter from McNamee, Porter and Seeley (dated May 4, 1984) relating to the proposed development. There were numerous questions relating to the requirements of Farmers Home Administration lending; rental policies; Rural Housing Corporation's performance in relation to similar developments in other Michigan cities; details of the proposals to remove inflow and infiltration from the Village sewer system.

Hovey presented a letter from Rural Housing Corporation (dated May 11, 1984) confirming that the owner of the proposed development would be Manchester Apartments Company Limited Partnership; Thomas R. Runquist and Rural Housing Corporation, General Partners. Zsenyuk explained that McNamee, Porter and Seeley's study of pond water diversion from Char-Bro Park was in process, and no completion date had yet been given.

Greenan proposed that Rural Housing Corporation share with the Village the cost of cleaning the Torrey St. Sewer line and running a TV camera through it to identify the defects which are suspected to be allowing infiltration. Zsenyuk and Kallewaard noted that such a proposal would have to be made to the Village Council, which alone has authority to expend money for such a project.

Hovey requested that the Planning Commission give approval of the site plan, contingent upon the sewer problems being resolved to the satisfaction of the MDNR.

Kallewaard presented a letter from the Village Attorney concerning the necessity of establishing a single owner for the main project site and the triangular piece of property at the southwest corner of E. Main St. and Torrey St. (the triangular property being required to achieve the density ratio cited in the Village Zoning Ordinance). (Letter dated May 14, 1984) Hovey stated that the problem would be resolved. James C. Hendley, owner of the triangular piece of property, stated that the land was available either to Rural Housing Corporation or to the Village.

Lowery requested that brick veneer be used on the first story of the apartment buildings. Numerous questions were asked by Village residents in attendance.

A motion was made by Kwolek, seconded by Grossman, to table the Site Plan Review until a definitive report is received from McNamee, Porter and Seeley on the sewer flow problem, and a definite decision is made by the Village Council on what action to take on the problem. The motion was passed unanimously in a roll-call vote.

A motion was made by Kallewaard, seconded by Grossman, to request that the site plan be altered to show: 1) a fence around the stormwater retention pond; 2) the brick on the first story exteriors; 3) the exact placement and area of the retention pond; and 4) that the issue of ownership, relating to density, be resolved to the satisfaction of the Village attorney. The motion was passed unanimously on a voice vote. There were no additional changes requested in the site plan.

Hovey asked if this motion should be considered a final list of site plan alterations requested by the Planning Commission; in other words, that if these changes were made, the only remaining item would be to satisfy the Michigan DNR and the Village Engineers on sewer and water hookups. Kallewaard replied that that was her intention in making the motion.

Kwolek recapped some of the requirements of the site plan review process, noting that approval depends on the applicant meeting the requirements spelled out in the Zoning Ordinance for the district; and that the Planning Commission has no authority to tell a property owner what can or cannot be done with the property, other than what is written in the Ordinance.

Matt Donnellon was present to submit an application for a Conditional Use Permit for a home occupation at 305 Beaufort Street. There was discussion of

50th Wedding Anniversary Is There A Gourmet In The House

On June 30, 1934, Margaret Lowery of Manchester became the bride of Loren R. Trolz. This Sunday, June 24, 1984, they will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house at the Iron Creek Community Church. The public is invited to share in their celebration from 2 to 5 p.m.

Yes, there is a gourmet in your house, and it might be you. A gourmet can be defined as "one who cares about fine food." And the selection of fine foods from Michigan's agricultural bounty makes being an at-home gourmet easy and interesting.

Many would-be gourmet cooks are deterred by so-called "gourmet recipes." But gourmet recipes can use regular ingredients and few seasonings. All gourmet meals are prepared, served and eaten with love and care.

Begin with Michigan Onion Soup with shredded Michigan cheese floating on top. Heat under the broiler or in the microwave oven until the cheese is bubbly. Continue with broiled Michigan Whitefish or Plum Glazed Chicken. The gourmet in your house knows that whitefish is cooked just until the flesh is opaque and flakes easily with a fork. A Plum Glaze enhances the chicken's flavor and aroma and gives a marvelous glistening appearance. Plum Glaze is also a wonderful addition to roast pork.

Make Stuffed Baked Potatoes with Michigan Russet Burbank potatoes. After scooping the baked potato from the skins, beat with butter and a little milk. Fold in crumbled cooked Michigan bacon and chopped sauteed Michigan mushrooms. Refill the shells and re-heat. Delicious!

Marinated Asparagus Salad, with only four ingredients, makes a gourmet out of the most skeptical of persons. And the fact that it can be made a day ahead makes it doubly appealing. Carrots with Hollandaise Sauce uses cooked Michigan carrots with either homemade or packaged Hollandaise sauce. The finale is Blueberries Jubilee, an adaptation of that spectacular dessert invented to honor Queen Victoria.

Yes, indeed, there is a gourmet in your house, and with Michigan's food products available year-round, gourmet meals can become a regular event.

PLUM GLAZED CHICKEN

- 1 medium Michigan onion, finely chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 can (1 lb) Michigan purple plums, pitted and pureed with syrup
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup chili sauce
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 3 pounds frying chicken pieces
- Saute onion in butter until soft. Stir in all ingredients except chicken. Cook about 15 minutes, until slightly thickened, stirring frequently. Arrange chicken, skin side down, in greased baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes, basting twice with glaze. Turn chicken skin side up and bake another 30 minutes, basting several times. Heat remaining sauce and serve with chicken. Makes 4 - 5 servings.

MARINATED ASPARAGUS SALAD

- 2 cups fresh or frozen Michigan asparagus pieces
- 1 small Michigan onion, thinly sliced
- 1 or 2 Michigan tomatoes, chopped
- Bottled Italian salad dressing
- Combine all ingredients with enough salad dressing to moisten well. Stir gently. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Stir again just before serving. Makes about 6 servings.

BLUEBERRIES JUBILEE

- 2 cups fresh or frozen Michigan blueberries
- 1/4 cup orange-flavored liqueur
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup blueberry preserves
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 cup brandy, warmed
- Mix blueberries with orange-flavored liqueur. Combine cornstarch and cinnamon; mix with water and preserves. Cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Stir in blueberries and heat thoroughly. The Manchester Community Fair will once again be using area youth this year for about six weeks. Last year's program was a great success for the Fair, and completed many projects that would otherwise have been left undone. Approximately six young people will be hired by the Fair to work on projects such as painting, building benches and sign-making.

According to the MYC program guidelines, youth with unemployed parents will be given first jobs, but the Fair has tried to employ Youth Corps participants from the immediate area if it is at all possible.

Any interested area young people should check with the MESOC office for guidelines on age restrictions and availability of jobs.

Michigan's fairs offer a wide variety of attractions for the whole family including agricultural, commercial and education exhibits, live animals, entertainment, contests and midway rides.

First Of America Declares 50% Stock Dividend

James H. Duncan, Chairman of First of America Bank Corporation, announced that today the Board of Directors declared a share dividend of 50% on the common stock of the corporation to shareholders of record July 16, 1984, distributable July 30, 1984.

Duncan said that "The directors and management of First of America felt that such a distribution was timely in view of the increased earnings and book value of the common stock in recent years and that it would further improve the marketability and liquidity of common share ownership. As of March 31, 1984, there were 4,367,964 common shares outstanding, so the distribution of a 50% share dividend will increase the total by approximately 2,183,982 shares to approximately 6,551,946 shares."

The common share owners will receive one share for every two shares they own and fractional share interests will be payable in cash. Owners of preferred and preference shares of First of America which are convertible beginning in 1985 and 1986 will have their conversion ratios adjusted accordingly to reflect the share dividends.

It is the present intention of the Board of Directors of First of America, in considering the declaration of the next quarterly cash dividend on the common stock following the share dividend distribution, to round up the payment rate per share to the nearest full cent. The new rate per common share would be $.26 per share, rounded up from the equivalent of $.2533. The last quarterly dividend of $.38 per share was declared April 11, 1984 and is payable July 25, 1984 to common shareholders of record July 6, 1984.

Spur of the Moment

FATHER'S DAY HORSE SHOW "Happy Father's Day" Jean Davis, President of Spur of the Moment Horse Club announced about mid-day. And it was a beautiful day, a little warm, but we won't complain too much.

We had some great help in both the announcers stand and the ring. In the morning Paula Hartman announced the Halter classes, then Doloris Buss announced the Performance classes in the afternoon. Thank You both for all your help. Bernard Davis and Gary Blades did a great job in the ring, setting-up the barrels, cones and helping the riders. What a way to spend Father's Day. THANKS A BUNCH!!

Our judge was Cheryl Stendurf, of Belleville, and our ring steward was Lynn Elliott of Belleville. A big Thanks to both of them for their help and work.

Klager Elementary "One Mile" Fun Run

Over 250 Klager kids and teachers ran the first ever Klager One Mile Fun Run. Some walked, some jogged, some ran real fast but everyone seemed to have fun. Klager physical education teacher, Sandee Sheats has been helping the students get in shape for the run for a couple of months.

Many parents turned out to cheer on the runners. Parent Pat Sahakian said, "I thought it was great! Probably a lot of the students never even knew they could run that far." Principal Janice Hammond says that ribbons are in for finishers who did not receive one. They may be picked up at Klager or at the Okey's house now.

The Klager staff would like to thank the PTO for providing popsoles for everyone and an extra special thank you to Monty Okey and Charlotte Major who obtained flags and numbers for the students to wear, measured out the course and were real supporters of the run all along.

FROM COOKING WITH BON APPETIT: BREAKFASTS AND BRUNCHES (THE KNAPP PRESS)

PORT AND HONEY ZABAGLIONE WITH FIGS
 4 servings

12-16 fresh figs, peeled
 1/2 cup Port
 6 egg yolks
 3 tablespoons honey
 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
 1/4 teaspoon fresh lemon juice

Make a slit in each fig with a sharp knife. Combine figs and Port in large bowl and let stand several hours or overnight, turning occasionally. Drain Port into measuring cup and add more Port as necessary so liquid measures 1/2 cup. Arrange figs in individual goblets and set aside.
 Combine Port, egg yolks, honey, vanilla and lemon juice in top of double boiler set over simmering water and whisk until mixture thickens and triples in volume (scraping down sides and bottom of pan as you beat), about 5 to 7 minutes; do not let water boil or yolks will curdle. Spoon zabaglione over figs. Served hot or chilled.

NOW YOUR TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES COME FROM A NEW FAMILY OF COMPANIES.

As a Michigan Bell customer, you have been affected by recent changes in the telecommunications industry.

However—with few exceptions—the services previously available directly from Michigan Bell are still available to you... either from Michigan Bell or from one of our new Ameritech companies.

When federal action led to the reorganization of AT&T, Michigan Bell separated from AT&T and joined Ameritech, a new holding company headquartered in Chicago. Besides Michigan Bell, Ameritech's large family of companies includes a host of subsidiaries you may not have heard about, as well as the former Bell telephone companies in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin.

How we and these other Ameritech companies may be of service in meeting your telecommunications needs is described in the following.

Basic Telecommunications Services: Residence and Business.

MICHIGAN BELL provides basic telecommunications services including dial tone, flat rate, or measured service, white pages telephone listings, line repair services, and disabled customer services. You can also get optional network services like Touch-Tone and Custom Calling services from Michigan Bell, and business network services such as Centrex and network transmission services for voice, data, and image. And we provide public telephone service as well as long distance service within Michigan Bell's service areas, including optional long distance calling plans.

Equipment: Business.

MICHIGAN BELL COMMUNICATIONS, INC., serves as Michigan Bell's sales arm for business network services, including Centrex. It provides complete business communications systems, offering products and equipment from a wide variety of telecommunications suppliers, including terminal equipment for The Centrex Universe.

Equipment: Residence and Small Business.

The new CONSUMER PRODUCTS DIVISION of MICHIGAN BELL COMMUNICATIONS, INC., provides telephone equipment for residence and small business customers, with ordering by phone and delivery to your home or business.

Settlement Of Bridgewater

since then. Beauty, order, refinement and luxury have sprung up where all was wild and dreary. The howl of the gaunt wolf has given place to the enchanting strains of music, to oratory, to the Sabbath bell, and the voice of prayer. The fiendish yells of the wild savage have been succeeded by the voice of thanksgiving and praise to the Christian's God.

"In those early days we had to get our grinding done at Brownsville. I recollect in 1831 Mr. Crampton took his ox team, went to Lodi, or that vicinity, purchased a grist of wheat, got as far as Clinton, staid over night, and early in the morning went to Brownsville, dug potatoes to pay for his breakfast, had his grinding done, and reached home the second night. There was no more wheat to be had on any condition so we cut small patches of green wheat, dried it until it could be thrashed, then boiled it. In this manner sustained ourselves until harvest. Jacob Gilbert ground corn in a coffee mill, to supply his family until the harvest gave them a better fare. We had no roads on which to travel in those days, but went on Indian trails, and by marked trees. We might have adopted the language of Alexander Selkirk, and with the greatest truthfulness exclaimed: "The sound of the church-going bell.

Those valleys and woods never heard, Nor sighted at the sound of a knell. Or smiled when a Sabbath appeared." "In the fall of 1831 the road was surveyed from Clinton up north as far as Sharon, called then the "Bur-oak plains." Our first table was a barrel with a board placed on the top of it. Our only bed, for six years, was straw, the pillows composed of shavings. Now we complain of hard times, and indeed the times are hard, not so much financially, as morally and socially. In those days we all fraternized and sympathized, always ready to help each other; those bickerings and jealousies, and caste, had not crept in. Now politics, religion, and that feeling of stand aside I am more holy than thou, has divided society into a dozen cliques. In every little village there are several grades of society. The upper tendons, the high-toned, who would feel disgraced to associate with common mortals; and then the descending scale embraces many grades,—descending, did I say, perhaps, in the sight of heaven, this is the ascending scale. Who shall say?

"Allow me to relate an instance of pioneer life. In the fall of 1830, Jacob Gilbert, and James Crampton, my husband, started out on the Pottawatomie trail one Sunday morning, to see what they could discover, taking their firearms along. The sight of game lured them from the trail, and ere they were aware of the fact, had lost their way. After wandering about until early night they came upon a small cabin, where a man was living alone; they stayed over night with him, took breakfast, left their game with their host, and started out, confident of reaching home in an hour or two; but to their great surprise, night found them at the same cabin again. Next morning they went forth with fresh zeal, traveled all day, and when night came they were an unknown distance from anywhere. They built a fire, cooked some game, and slept by the side of a friendly log, with heaven's dome over them. The following day being Wednesday, they still started afresh; the fortunes of the day were similar to the previous days, night found them in the trackless wilderness. They cooked game, and laid down to meditate on the uncertainty of human events.

"Thursday morning Mrs. Crampton had solicited one or two neighbors to go in search of the wanderers. These neighbors promised to make a search, if the fugitives did not return by noon; but just before twelve the heart of Mrs. C. was made glad by the safe arrival of Crampton and his companion. Such were some of the perils that the first settlers had to encounter. There had been weeping and sleepless nights in the Crampton domicile during this time.

"The Sacs and Pottawatomies had each their trail. The Sacs on the west side of the Raisin, and the Pottawatomies on the east. Near where Rufus King now lives there were to be seen 600 Sacs at one time on the trail.

"We came from Old England to make us a home in the New World; but our most sanguine expectations never reached the remotest reality. We have seen villages and cities spring into existence as if by magic. The wilderness has not only budded and blossomed, but wealth and luxury have reared their stately and costly edifices. In those early days we never anticipated such a thing as a railroad, on which the iron horse, with lungs of fire and sinews of steel, snorting with his tremendous load, should annihilate time and space, and mock the tempest in its wild career. And then that other marvel, the telegraph, in which man has harnessed the thunderbolts of heaven and compelled them to do his bidding. And now they have not only enabled it to talk and print, but to transmit the sweet inspiring tones of music to distant cities."

(The above paper was read before the Washtenaw County Pioneer Society, at their meeting in this village on Wednesday, June 6, 1877, by R. Randall of Clinton).

Charlie Gauss Has Seen Many Changes

by Marie Schneider
Things have changed a lot since Charles Gauss was growing up. He remembers when he worked at Higgins and Weinlander's celery marsh. That was west of town. Kids had the job of marking the land with a puncher. Next they'd set in the celery plants 4 feet apart being sure that no air could get in. With cabbage plants it was different. There was no irrigation systems in those days, to keep the plants watered.

Everything depended on the weather. Sometimes there was an abundance of water and again there was little. But kids played an important part in putting in the celery and cabbage plants in Manchester.

In the summer there were the gypsies. Their horses always seemed to be well groomed but parents were insistent that the kids stay away from them.

Charlie graduated from high school here in 1925. He had saved a little money during the times he worked at the celery marsh as did his friends Harold Dresselhouse and Lynn Albertson. They worked on the railroad that summer and bought an old Ford touring car for $35. Their next move was to head for Saskatchewan, Canada. Charlie's uncle had a large track of land he had taken up from the government many years before at Central Butte.

His uncle no longer lived on the farm but had moved into town and the huge farm operation was handled for him by a much younger farmer and his wife.

The boys found that the people were very friendly wherever they went. The three worked all summer there helping with the harvest and thrashing. The farmers brought the grain to
