Our Patriotic Songs

Manchester Enterprise
May 16, 1889

The brave but ragged and unpaid soldiers of the revolution had only two patriotic airs to march by. These were "Yankee Doodle" and "America." Neither of these was American, but both were English. "America" was simply the English "God Save the King" in a new dress. "Yankee Doodle" was an old English comic air to which American words were adapted. Thus barren was the patriotic ear and voice in '76.

In 1779 a German named Feyles wrote a patriotic air for Washington's inauguration called "The President's March." In 1798 war with France was threatened. Washington's old soldiers prepared to gather around their leader and fight once more. Under the patriotic inspiration of the hour Joseph Hopkinson, an eminent lawyer, wrote the words of the song "Hail Columbia." Hopkinson was a son of Francis Hopkinson, one of the signers of the Declaration. The words of "Hail Columbia" were sung to the tune of "The President's March." It at once became a patriotic national air, our first one, be it noted, though the music of even that was composed by a German.

The war of 1812 brought us Francis Scott Key's "Star Spangled Banner." The air was the first to emerge from the solemn and stately old rhythm of revolutionary times into a livelier, quicker motion. But again the air is not new. The words were adapted to the music of a popular song of the day called "Anacreon in Heaven."

Not until the last war can we be said to have patriotic songs in all respects our own. Those four years of tragedy and glory aroused all that was dormant of both patriotism and poetry in the American soul. The song commonly known as "Red, White and Blue," beginning

Columbia, the gem of the ocean,
The home of the brave and the free,

was by David T. Shaw. Both words and music were by Shaw.

Another thrilling and famous war song was the "Battle Cry Of Freedom"—

Yes, we'll rally round the flag, boys.

It rolled in great waves of sound from every camp in the field and every fireside at home. The rhythm is strong and inspiring, and "Rally Round the Flag" will stand as one of our national patriotic airs. Both words and music are by George F. Root, a clear home production.

Then there is "Dixie Land." The air with appropriate words, ought certainly to be adapted as one of our national songs. It is a better tune than "Yankee Doodle."

To the inspiring strains of all these airs, and several others, the

Russia Alerts US of Downed Plane At Wampplers Lake

by Marie Schneider
Allen Schaffer and his wife were awakened from a sound sleep at 4:30 a.m. Sunday morning at their home on the east shore of Wampplers Lake by the shrill sounds coming from the lake.

Schaffer turned on the yard lights and ordered the people to keep their hands up until help arrived from the Jackson police. The people in the plane that had landed on the water yelled back that they were with the Civil Air Patrol in Monroe. They were not slow to call out that they had been alerted by North American Air Defense Command (Norad), which supplies air protection for the United States, Canada and Alaska, that there was a plane down in southern Michigan.

They in turn had checked out many areas and finally pinpointed the location to be Wampplers lake. Norad in turn had been alerted by Russia that Russia had picked up

Bloodmobile July 16th

An emergency Bloodmobile is scheduled for Monday, July 16th at the American Legion Hall from 12 to 6 and is well underway. Recruiters are working through all the churches in the area and industries will be making appointments for their employees next week.

Registration displays will be at Comerica, First of America, and Great Lakes banks and IGA Manchester A & B Market where donors may sign up for their preferred appointment time.

A nursery will be provided by the Legion Auxiliary at the Legion House next to the Hall so families may bring their small children to play while they are helping the cause "To Save Lives." If it is a hot July day, the air conditioned hall will be welcomed by all.

If further information is desired, call Mrs. Del Ludwick, chairman-of-the-day, at 428-7434 or Mrs. Reck at 428-8852.

signals from a Russian satellite that a plane could be in distress somewhere in southern Michigan.

An E.L.T. is an emergency locator translator. When an airplane crashes, this device sends out signals that something is wrong and keeps sending out signals until help arrives. It was discovered that Allen's own personal plane's E.L.T. was activated at this time. The reason that the E.L.T. went off is not known. All Schaffer and the people at the lake know is that they were awakened from sound sleep, that Schaffer alerted the Jackson police who soon arrived at the scene.

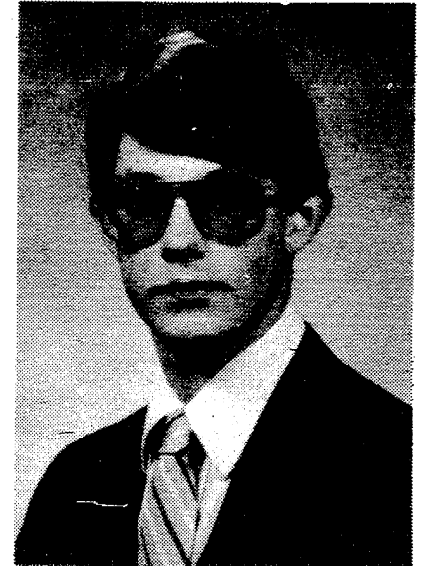

The police checked the Civil Air Patrol in Monroe and were pleased to find that, indeed, the plane had arrived from Monroe at Wampplers Lake. An interesting note is that Norad had been Todd recently graduated third in his class with a grade point average of 3.84. He was on the Honor Roll all four years. As a student he was a member of the band, the pep band, the National Honor Society, and the FFA of which he was Treasurer. He was also a member of the Academic Games Team. Todd is currently planning to attend Michigan State University to study electrical technology.

Winner Of Mock Election

Congratulating Jeff Horning was William Ryan, a former state representative, who now serves as chief administrator of the House of Representatives. Ryan commented on the current political scene before presenting awards to winning candidates.

Jeff Horning of Manchester was elected to the position of county treasurer in a mock election held during the 1984 Young People's Citizenship Seminar, sponsored annually by the Michigan Farm Bureau and county Farm Bureaus throughout the state.

Over 210 high school juniors and seniors participated in the week long event, held June 11-15 at Albion College. Farm Bureau sponsors the seminar to help students prepare to accept their citizenship responsibilities. In addition to the political activities-voter registration, campaigning, rallies, party conventions, and primary and general elections-the students learned about the American economic system and governments in other countries.

JULY 4th, 1984

Would our forefathers be proud if they could see what became of the nation they began? We think so, for the doctrines and ideals they set into motion 208 years ago have survived, and our cherished freedom still serves as our greatest strength. We believe that if they could see their handiwork, they would celebrate. And so, we celebrate, for their dream is our reality.

Manchester Elementary Principal Submits Resignation

Manchester Elementary School Principal Janice Hammond has submitted her resignation to the Manchester Board of Education to be effective June 30. Hammond indicated in her resignation that she had accepted a position as an elementary principal with the Birmingham, Michigan Public Schools.

In her letter to the Board Hammond expressed her appreciation for the support she had received as an administrator, noted her pride in the development of programs such as Special Education Team Rooms, and the all student spring play, and indicated the difficulty of making such a decision along with her regret at leaving the family atmosphere of the Manchester Schools.

Hammond, who has been elementary principal in the Manchester Schools since 1981, stated, "I am personally dedicated to learning and need to continue to grow professionally myself. The opportunity with the Birmingham Schools is one of those unique chances which comes only rarely. Birmingham is a much larger school district which will give me the opportunity to interact with 10 other principals. The thought of leaving the Manchester Schools and community, however, produces a great deal of sadness. I feel that I have been part of a family here and feel very close to parents, students and staff. Still, I am grateful to have had the opportunity to have been a part of Manchester for the past 3 years." Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson commented, "The loss of Janice Hammond as part of our administrative team definitely hurts. During her three years here her limitless energy, optimism, creativity, and administrative talents have contributed greatly. She is literally a public relations goldmine. The fact that she was Birmingham's first choice out of 250 candidates tells the high degree she is held in our profession. The Birmingham Superintendent told me he was looking for the best elementary principal in Michigan. I told him that was exactly who he had just hired."

Music Scholarship Awarded

Christopher Wiethoff, son of James and Carol Wiethoff of Manchester, and a student at the Nellie Ackerson Middle School, has been awarded a music scholarship at Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp for summer study.

Music scholarships are awarded by Marshall Music Company of Lansing to those students deemed most worthy based on musicianship, citizenship, and musical achievement, as determined by the school music staff and school administration. Each scholarship is in the amount of $155.00. Students participate in concentrated sectional and large group studies along with other outstanding student musicians from throughout the state. They also have the opportunity to play under the direction of nationally known conductors.

Ypsilanti Community Band To Play At Broil

Many years ago, organizers of Manchester's Chicken Broil discovered that nothing calms a long line of hungry people like a little music. Since then, musical entertainment has become almost as important to the Broil's success as the chicken itself.

This year, Manchester residents and guests will be able to enjoy music from the Ypsilanti Community Band & Jazz Ensemble. The 65-member, all-volunteer band has been playing together for six years. "Our members are college students, teachers, housewives, professors, retirees—a diverse group of people who love music," said Lynn Cooper, conductor of the band.

Cooper added that their appearance at the 1984 Chicken Broil will be one of the few times the band plays outside Ypsilanti. Normally, it presents a series of winter concerts there, and another series of outdoor concerts in Ypsilanti parks during the summer.

The band's music is chosen to appeal to as many listeners as possible, explained Cooper. The band plays orchestral transcriptions, marches, show tunes and jazz numbers.

The concert will begin on Thursday, July 19 at 5:30 p.m. and will continue until about 7:30. If you'd like some excellent entertainment while you chew your chicken and crunch your coleslaw this year, don't miss it.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Verl A. and Leota (Cross) Sanch's 50th Wedding Anniversary Celebration will be held at the Britton High School cafeteria on Saturday, July 7, 1984, from 2 - 4 p.m. No Gifts Please.

Mr. Sanch has been self employed for 35 years in the Southeast Michigan area. Friends are welcome to drop in. The Celebration will be given by their three sons, Melvin, Chuck and Chip. Contact Melvin Sanch for further information, 313-229-9418.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield Seeks Rate Increase

Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan has declared war on its elderly and individual subscribers, said Michael R. Shpiece, deputy director for policy of the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation.

Shpiece branded a recent advertising blitz by the Blues, in which they announced they would seek a rate increase, as "riddled with falsehoods." The rate increase filed with the Insurance Bureau asks for an increase of 68.8% or $82 million on the cost of Medicare supplemental coverage, which pays the health care costs Medicare does not cover.

Shpiece said that health care costs, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Medical Consumer Price Index, have only risen 22.9% in the past three years, while Blue Cross has received rate increases totalling 119% and another 10% increase will take effect November 1, 1984.

"It is apparent that the Blues have decided that the elderly and those who purchase their own coverage aren't producing the profit the Blues want. They've decided to force these people onto public assistance or the Medicaid rolls, ultimately transferring the problem to all the taxpayers of Michigan," Shpiece said.

"The wallets of senior citizens were already empty and now the Blues want to steal their purses, too. They have an embarrassment of riches—so much money in reserve that they are seeking to conceal it from the public view to prevent their subscribers from knowing that they're supposed to be a non-profit, service corporation."

"They've abused every privilege the state granted them, so now they're going to abuse the citizens individually," Shpiece said.

"They're just trying to drive the elderly and the individual subscriber into the arms of the welfare system, instead of providing the coverage their tax exemption and unique regulatory status were designed to ensure."

"Their own sworn submissions to the Insurance Bureau show that they have $350 million in contingency reserves. This is an all-time high and a clear indication that they have plenty more money than necessary," Shpiece said.

An Afternoon In The Park

A group of senior citizens will host an afternoon in the park in honor of Chief William Zsenyuk. Zsenyuk is a candidate for Washtenaw County Sheriff.

Everyone who is interested please come and bring your friends, Friday, July 6th. Bill will speak at 2:00 p.m. on his policies and outlining his background.

The festivities in the park start at 1:00 o'clock until 3:00 o'clock. Come for conversation, food and a good time. Refreshments will be served.

EVERYONE IS INVITED
JULY 6th - FRIDAY
1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Hit Or Miss

We printed a column of what you might call "hodge podge" a short time ago—short items that we thought were somewhat amusing or interesting and several of our readers went to the trouble of telling us that they too thought them worth reading so here we go again:

Speaking of super service the library at Massapequa, N.Y. also rents hedge trimmers, garden tillers and sundry tools. Why not? In Costa Rica voters mark their ballots with thumbprints in invisible ink. If they show up at the polls with inkstains already on their thumbs, they can't vote.

Vital statistics show that three times as much Jello is used in Utah than in any other state. Do the Mormons crave sugar? That's a theory for it. Lots of people who don't use alcohol use more sugar than those who do.

A couple of fellows tell us of the Detroit Pistons—New York Knicks playoff basketball game a short time ago. After the Pistons game they got into their car and learned from the radio that the Tigers—Indians baseball game was still going on so they walked through the unattended gates and saw seven innings of baseball—remember, the game lasted 19 innings.

The familiar expression "Love me, love my dog" is at least a thousand years old. It originated in the first sermon of the medieval St. Barnard in the Latin "Qui me amat amet de canem meum."

We were told the other day of 19-year old fellow who was found not long ago, living in a cave in a snowbank just west of Fremont, Ohio. He had apparently been involved in a problem at home and sought shelter in a snowdrift. There was a carpet on the floor and the man was found to be comfortably bundled in a sleeping bag. When the deputy filled out the report on where the man lived he wrote "1 Igloo Drive. Snowbank, Ohio."

And then there was the youngster who was having a spaghetti dinner with her grandparents and asked for more. Grandpa ladeled it out remarking "Say when." The youngster looked at him for a moment then said "Today."

Remember way back when adults were in charge of the record player?

What's the longest word in the English language that is spelled the same way frontwords and backwards? "Redivider."

In China, black eyed peas are known as "China Beans."

A success is a person who does more things right on purpose than by accident.

In Sault Ste., Michigan it is unwise and also unlawful to spit against the wind.

It's reported that in a restaurant window at Marathon Key, Florida there was a sign reading "Thank God there is NO home cooking."

There is no law in these United States requiring a woman to take her husband's name. It was however, the law in Hawaii when it was a monarchy and is a common law in England.

Here are a few tips to parents who plan to take their children with them on vacation trips:

Count the number of service stations you pass without stopping.
See who can climb back and forth over the front seat the fastest.

Time how long it takes a chocolate bar to melt in a sunshine in the back window.

Estimate the number of miles you can go before someone wants to stop.

Among all those items peddled by the street vendors in Thailand the best sellers are woman's brassieres.

We heard the other day of the husband who likes to fix things around the house. Last week he fixed four martinis, an old fashioned and twelve manhattans.

Party Planned For Departing Principal

The Manchester Board of Education and the Klager P.T.O. are jointly planning a farewell party for Klager Principal Janice Hammond who has resigned to accept a new position with the Birmingham Public Schools.

An ice-cream, punch and cookies farewell is planned for Janice Hammond on Sunday July 8 from 1:00 until 4:00 at Klager Elementary. All students and their parents are invited to attend to say goodbye to Dr. Hammond.

P.T.O. President Nancy Bihlmeyer is currently contacting P.T.O. members to arrange for cookies and other snacks.

Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson has indicated that he is arranging for ice cream and cones and is only worried about having enough ice cream scoops.

Dr. Hammond stated, "I am looking forward to the opportunity to see everyone one last time. I feel like I am leaving home and am excited and sad all at the same time. I'm afraid I am going to need a great deal of kleenex before the party is over. I hope that everyone can attend."

At the party, ribbons will be available for students who did not receive them after the One Mile Fun Run.

Don't Get Burned This Summer!

The National Institute for Burn Medicine (NIBM) wants you to know that nearly 90% of burn accidents can be prevented if you take a few minutes to be careful, especially during the summer months when you spend more time at home and out of doors. Gasoline, lighter fluid, and fireworks, when not used carefully, are hazardous. Information from the National Burn Information Exchange, a national data-gathering registry, shows that with a little effort common summer burn injuries can be prevented.

Here are suggestions for safety for eight potentially dangerous activities:

1. Power Engines - NEVER add gasoline to a hot motor. Turn off your lawnmower and let it cool before you fill it with gasoline! To prevent igniting combustible vapors remaining from pouring the gasoline, move your mower to another spot before re-starting it. Follow these same guidelines for chain saws or other gas-powered machines. For inboard motors on boats, be sure to ventilate well after filling so that no gasoline vapor is present on ignition! NEVER start gasoline powered engines indoors!

2. Gasoline - If you must store gasoline, store it in a safe, clearly marked container made specifically for gasoline storage. Keep it in a cool, out-of-the-way place such as a locked utility shed away from your house. NEVER store gasoline in your house! Better yet, don't store gasoline.

Buy it in one time quantities as you need it.

3. Barbecue Fires - Barbecue only out-of-doors in well ventilated areas away from walls or fences that could ignite. Let starter fluid soak into coals before lighting a match for a charcoal fire. Use enough starter fluid before you light the fire so that you never need to add lighter fluid to burning coals. NEVER use gasoline to start a fire. When you are finished with a barbecue fire, douse the coals. DON'T throw them on the ground where they will be stepped on.

4. Sunburn - Protect your skin from hot summer sun by using clothing and a sunscreen. Remember that the skin of infants, children, and people with poor circulation such as diabetics is very susceptible to sunburn.

5. Fireworks - If you must use fireworks. BE CAREFUL! Supervise children: Teach them a safe way to use fireworks. Never bend face first over a fire cracker when lighting it, or to see why a firework didn't explode. Hold it out in front of you away from your face. Get a safe distance away after it is lit. Once a firecracker is lit, never pick it up again. Never re-light a spent firework or use fireworks around flammable liquids. Keep a bucket of water handy to douse spent sparklers.

6. Camping - When camping, use a tent made of flame-retardant material. Be careful with stoves, lanterns, and campfires. Douse them carefully when finished using. NEVER let children play near an open flame or hot lantern or stove.

7. Storms - NEVER swim or golf during a thunderstorm. Let God play through! If electrical (power) lines are downed from a storm - stay away from the area. Call the electric company immediately.

8. Do It Yourself Repairs - Summer is also a prime time for do-it-yourself repairs! Follow manufacturers' instructions carefully. Keep children away from heat sources. Use flammable materials only in well ventilated places. BE CAREFUL!

These precautions can reduce the odds of being burned. But what if your clothing does catch on fire?

STOP, DROP, and ROLL!

Smother the flames. Don't run! Once the fire is out, be sure the victim is breathing; then cool the area with tap water, not ice. If the injury is small, wash with soap and water, rinse thoroughly and apply a bland ointment. Repeat twice daily. If you see any signs of inflammation; redness, pain, heat, swelling, or if you are at all concerned, call a doctor. If the injury is larger than half the palm of your hand, wrap the area in a clean, dry cloth, and seek medical help immediately.

Keep summertime fun! Post these precautions where everyone in the house will see them.

A few minutes of safety can prevent a lifetime of regret.

PANTHER PAUSE

I am enjoying my freedom. Rabbit chasing has become a delightful event and instinct drives me longingly back to the wild. Running for miles and racing up a tall tree gives me a feeling of strength and prowess that I have never before experienced.

I have found the cutest tiny gray toys to satisfy my playful feline moods. I stalk them, step on their tails, bat at them and sometimes throw them carefully into the air. They squeak and tickle my paws. I jump high in the air and tumble delightedly. Leap to my feet and circle them in stiff-legged fashion, arch my back, pin my ears and pounce on them again, as if they were a territorial threat. I find however, that I must attack them gently, as they are very fragile and if I play too rough, their squeaker stops working and they quit playing. Sometimes I eat them.

As dawn approaches, my longing to roam lessens and a familiar yearning for human companionship quietly lures me back to the river area, near the village. But I am noticing a change in my once tranquil territory near the village, that is making me uneasy. Large wire containers of food have been placed in the area. The smell of man is stifling around them and although I feel a need for his companionship—I am becoming more wary. I keep my distance and as I laze in the warm morning sun, the distant murmur of human voices and the aroma of their food cooking, has a soothing effect on me. Drowsiness brings memories of a gentle hand patting my head and scratching my ears. I am suddenly alerted by the sharp crack of a branch. I rise stealthily and seek cover in a tall dense tree. I observe two men and a light brown dog moving cautiously about. They move as if searching for something and I can sense their tenseness as they enter a small deserted building, then emerge again. They stall and exchange idle chatter, pointing toward the river. The larger of the two men whistles and calls out to his dog, who is nearing my tree. The dog responds and they saunter out of view.

Sidewalk Project At High School Underway

The sidewalk at Manchester High School is currently being replaced by the local concrete company owned by John Schaible. The sidewalk which had deteriorated badly in recent years is part of the effort to improve the facilities of the Manchester Community Schools. In August, 1983, the voters of the Manchester Community Schools approved a special maintenance millage of 1.5 mills to be used for such projects. The sidewalk is part of the 1983-84 effort. Other projects paid for with these funds were the new roof and new boiler at the high school. The sidewalk project along with chimney work at Klager Elementary to be performed by The Schaible Company will cost approximately $4,000.

Help Your Heart

Smoking Causes Heart Disease

Many smokers don't realize that most cigarette-related deaths are from heart attacks, not lung disease. "Fifty-three percent of smokers do not know or believe that smoking is a cause of heart attacks," Antonio Gotto, M.D., president of the American Heart Association, said at a recent press conference in Washington, D.C.

For almost 30 years the AHA has opposed cigarette smoking with increasing vigor. Dr. Gotto said, because of growing evidence of the devastating effects of smoking on the heart and other organs. An AHA committee of experts has reviewed the evidence and concluded that "smoking is the single most preventable cause" of coronary heart disease. Cigarette smokers have a two to four times greater risk of sudden death from heart disease than non-smokers. Their risk markedly increases when such factors as high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol or diabetes are also present. Female smokers who use oral contraceptive pills increase their risk of heart attack approximately tenfold and their risk of subarachnoid hemorrhage, a type of stroke, approximately twentyfold.

Agriculture In Action

Mooring Billboards
We all know that farmers are an enterprising lot, but if they had a contest for the most unique idea for offsetting some production costs, the prize would have to go to Puck's Farm in Kleinburg, Ontario, Canada. Puck's Farm is a dairy operation which also operates as a non-profit educational center where school children and others come to experience farm life. Puck's also sells dairy products and manure and now they've added a new item to their sales line—mooring billboards. That's advertising on cows. They use six cows for advertising, selling each side of a cow separately. They get $500 a side for a year's advertising—and they're sold out. The income is used to buy feed for the cow herd. The signs are painted on oil cloth and hung over the cow while she's out in the pasture. Who would advertise on a cow? Well, they've got a local restaurant, a frozen food manufacturer, a sign shop, a livestock breeder and maybe an attorney if he can get the Canadian Bar Association to approve. Puck's Farm is strategically located near the Toronto Airport and it's estimated that the mooring billboards are seen by 100,000 people a year. And many of those 100,000 take photos to show to friends so advertisers are getting good mileage for their ad dollars. There's a clever P.S. to this story too. If a cow gives birth while wearing their sign, advertisers get a sign on the calf—free!

Our Patriotic Songs

National guards marched in the great centennial parade in New York. We are rich enough in national songs now to pity the hapless heroes who went to their death on the bloody fields in ignorance of them. Nevertheless, the United States did not even yet any one distinctive national air like the "Marseillaise" or "God Save the Queen."

One more remains to be mentioned, the grandest of all, so strong and thrilling that it seems like an inspiration. Julia Ward Howe thought to write some words to the air of the old hymn, "Glory Hallelujah." She had heard the soldiers singing "John Brown's soul is marching on," to this air. With only this thought in her mind she sat down and wrote the lyric of the civil war.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of coming of the Lord,
He is tramping out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored,
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible swift sword,
His truth is marching on.

I have seen him in the watch fires of a hundred circling camps,
They have builded him an altar in the evening dews and damps,
I can read his righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps,
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel writ in burnished rows of steel:
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal;
Let the hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel, Since God is marching on."

He hath sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat,
He is sifting out the hearts of men before his judgement seat;
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer him; be jubilant my feet!
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lillies, Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigures you and me;
As he died to make men holy, let us die to set men free,
While God is marching on.

Book Review

by Joan Gaughan

William Penn, Friendly Boy
by Miriam E. Mason
New York: Bobbs Merrill, 1944
210 pgs.

It's hard to think of a duller figure in our colonial history than William Penn. He had no Pocohontas risking her neck to save his. He didn't invent Thanksgiving vacation or burn witches or found a colony for convicts. He doesn't even get credit for inventing religious toleration here—that always goes to Roger Williams. All that most children-and adults-ever know about Penn is that he was a Quaker and that he founded Pennsylvania (which means Penn's woods) and Philadelphia (which is a queer way of saying "City of Brotherly Love").

This little book, illustrated with black and white drawings and written for the middle elementary school child, isn't likely to change that impression too much. Penn's contact with Quakers isn't mentioned until the twentieth of the twenty-four chapters and Pennsylvania doesn't come up until the second to the last. This is a fictionalized account of Penn's boyhood at Wanstead near London during the 1650's, the years of Oliver Cromwell's Protectorate. Because it is fiction, William's adventures could be those of almost any boy in almost any age. He is fascinated by a fire-eater, for instance, and takes pride in being the fastest runner in his school. A parrot delights him and when he visits the home of a family friend who has eight daughters he is driven nearly daft by their ruffles and embroidery and frills and things. There are several instances of his generosity to boys poorer than himself but even in this there is little sign of future religious leader. Boys in Manchester, given the same circumstances would behave no differently, I think. And it is because of this that I wonder if an 8 or 9-year old child really would like this book. William never does anything really rotten and nothing rotten ever happens to him. Even when he gives away all the money he had saved for a plum pie, he ends up getting the pie anyhow. And most children by the time they would be able to read this book have learned that life isn't quite like that. This is not only a fictionalized boyhood but a highly romanticized one as well. Hence, I doubt that a kid could really get excited about this William Penn.

Still the book has value. There are some lively scenes of seventeenth century London street life. Other historical figures—Cromwell, Samuel Pepys, Charles II—are mentioned and Penn therefore is thrown into the environment of a colorful historical era. Also, it does no harm to think of the Quaker who founded Pennsylvania as a boy who could run very fast. That doesn't quite get him into the Pocohontas crowd but at least it puts some life into the man. This isn't the best book a child will read all summer but it isn't the worst he could do either.

This book belongs to the Childhood of Famous Americans

8th Annual One Helluva Ride

The Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society invites you to take part in its 8th annual ONE HELLUVA RIDE! This year should be the biggest ever with over 1200 fun-loving riders expected.

The Saturday, July 7, 1984 ONE HELLUVA RIDE is reputed to be Michigan's hottest bicycle ride through Hell, Michigan on routes of either 50 kilometers, 100 kilometers or 100 miles. Riders may register and leave Wylie School in Dexter from 6:30 a.m. to 12:00 Noon.

The registration fee is lower than ever this year to entice more riders from the entire U.S. and Canada. The name of the ride is an attraction as well as the 11-color embroidered patch awaiting registrants who complete their ride by signing in upon returning to Wylie School. The fee of $8.00 for all includes a buffet-style lunch for riders on all routes, also fruit and beverages served at two stops. Iced watermelon and cold drinks will be waiting at the end of the ride. Each rider will receive a colorful detailed map showing routes, toilets, water and food stops.

A mechanic will be available at Wylie School to aid with emergency bicycle repairs, but riders should have their own pump, patch kit, extra tube and on-the-road tools with them. Sag wagons will bring in riders with problems. ARROW, a ham radio relay league will provide communication between key points.

At no extra charge for those who are enrolled in both ONE

HELLUVA RIDE and the "River Raisin Tour" the "Hell Raisin Connection." This ride begins in Dexter and ends at the Monroe Community College which is the starting point of the River Raisin Tour. There will be a sag wagon provided and refreshments at the end of the ride. Free camping is also provided.

The Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society promotes recreational bicycling by scheduling from 7 to 10 rides a week in April through November. Most rides are from 25 to 100 miles and are completed in one day. All rides are graded in order to accommodate the varied experience and endurance levels of its members who range in age from pre-schoolers to over 60. There are occasional weekend trips, special theme rides and picnic rides. For club members as well as non-members, AABTS encourages lawful bicycling for pleasure, exercise and transportation.

The club is comprised of riders ranging in ability from competitive racing athletes to interested beginners. As a rough gage to evaluate their present level, bicycle riders have a choice of three riding ability classifications: "A"—relatively fast, 15-18 mph, able to ride 100 mi. in 7 hours; "B"—moderate, 12-15 mph, stops as needed, ride 65 mi. in 5 hours; and "C"—leisurely, 8-10 mph, frequent stops, excellent for inexperienced riders.

In addition to five regular weekly rides such as the Saturday Breakfast which leaves the Old Amtrak station in Ann Arbor at 8:00 a.m. like clockwork except July 7, rain or shine (destination Dexter along Huron River Drive), there are featured Ride-of-the-Month events to which all interested bicyclers are invited.

Search For 1984 Big Tree

The Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District announces the 7th Annual Big Tree Contest, co-sponsored by the District and Tri-County Logging Company of Clinton, Michigan.

A major change in this year's contest is the revision of the rules and measurements taken to determine the Big Tree. In addition to circumference at 4 1/2 feet above the ground, the height of a tree, its crownspread and number of board feet will also be measured.

These measurements will then be used in a point system developed by the American Forestry Association to determine a point score for each tree. The tree with the highest number of points will be the Big Tree.

These new measurements and point system will favor forest or woodland grown trees, and the change is not meant to eliminate the present or previously crowned Big Trees under the old measurement system; but to expand the contest and allow more trees to be entered.

The 1984 Big Tree Contest Rules are as follows:

1. Tree must be alive and be located within Washtenaw County.
2. Anyone may enter a tree, whether the owner or not. It is advisable to ask the owners permission to enter a tree if you are not the owner.

3. Tree must have a single trunk, not multiple stems from one base.

4. Tree Measurements: A. Height = number of feet; B. Circumference at 4 1/2 feet above ground = plus number of inches; C. Crownspread = plus 1/4 crownspread feet; D. Board Feet = plus number of feet, equals Total Points.

All measurements will be taken by the Soil Conservation District personnel. Winning tree will have the highest point total.

5. Prizes: Tree owner will receive: Plaque to mark tree and tree identification book. Tree entrant if other than owner will receive: $50.00 cash prize from Tri-County Logging and certificate for 100 tree seedlings.

6. ENTRY DEADLINE IS NOVEMBER 16, 1984. All entries must be submitted to the Soil Conservation District by this date to be eligible.

For further information about the 1984 Big Tree Contest and to obtain contest entry forms, contact the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District, 6101 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48103. Telephone: (313) 761-8721.

From the office of THE GOVERNOR

Governor James J. Blanchard reported his call for the parties involved in the negotiations regarding Consumers Power Company's Midland nuclear power plant "to return to the bargaining table as soon as possible to continue bargaining toward an equitable solution."

In a letter to Consumer's Chairman John Selby, which followed an evening phone call from the Governor to Selby, Governor Blanchard said: "I urge you and the other parties to seek a solution which addresses not only your own legitimate concerns, but also the vital interests of the people of Michigan." During the phone conversation Selby requested that the Governor reaffirm to both the Attorney General and the Public Service Commission (PSC) his strong desire for a settlement. Pursuant to that request, the Governor called Attorney General Frank Kelley and PSC Chairman Eric Schneidewind urging a settlement as soon as possible.

Governor Blanchard suggested two courses of action to Selby if the parties cannot reach a solution on their own. Consumers can request an expedited decision on the rate case before the P.S.C., or agree with the other parties on an arbitrator empowered to reach a solution, the Governor said.

The Governor also noted that he has been involved in the negotiations to the degree that he has met privately with parties to the negotiations, including Selby; continually urged the parties to negotiate in good faith to reach a decision that is in the best interests of Michigan citizens and businesses; and has had an observer at all the negotiating sessions. "That is the only involvement I can have under Michigan law, which gives the Public Service Commission exclusive jurisdiction in rate cases," the Governor said.

LOANS AND GRANTS

$1 million in Michigan Economic Development Authority (MEDA) funds to National Galvanizing, Inc. toward construction of a new $10.6 million steel galvanizing plant in Monroe. The new facility which will create 35 jobs initially, is a joint venture of the Toledo-based Centaur Corp., and National Material Corp. of Illinois. Sales of galvanized steel coil, to be produced by means of a hot dip process, are projected at 10,000 tons per month after operations begin. The rust-proof steel product will be used primarily by auto manufacturers as car and truck underbody and chassis material.

"This cooperative effort of the public and private sectors will make possible instate supply of the rust-resistant steel needed to fill auto industry orders, and will further enhance the competitiveness of Detroit's auto manufacturing," Governor Blanchard said.

$1 million Michigan Economic Development Authority (MEDA) loan to Cartrex Corp., of Grand Rapids. The new Cartrex Corp., will create 28 jobs initially and 122 jobs after three years. "I am delighted that Michigan has been able to attract this new high-tech venture," Governor Blanchard said. "New, small companies like this one are helping to bring about a stronger and more secure Michigan economy, and Cartrex will add to Michigan's already-strong presence in high technology." Cartrex is a licensee of the California-based Newell Research Corp., authorized to manufacture and market recent patents in data media and data transfer products. The company will focus on mass-memory data storage market for small business and personal users of mini- and microprocessors. Sales of this type of computer hardware are projected to grow from $750 million nationally in 1980 to $10 billion by 1990.
