Bloodmobile Report

A dismal day and a disappointing Bloodmobile is reflected in the rain. Many, many, thanks, however are given to the 170 men and women who kept their commitment and donated 165 pints of blood. As you can see, 15 were deferred indicating the health conditions in the area which undoubtedly kept at least 40 others who were registered from attending. The volunteer and professional staff was excellent as usual and Emanuel United Church of Christ was the gracious host.

There will not be another Bloodmobile in Manchester, except the high school clinic in January, so all donors wishing to help toward the critical needs of area hospitals can give in Ann Arbor until the last week in January. There has to be 58 days between donations, for the good of the donor, so don't jeopardize the local March Bloodmobile by giving just before it comes—date to be announced later.

More about our new 6 gallon donor and others and records for the clinic next week.

Hit Or Miss

When nostalgia became "in," sometime around the late '60s and early '70s, it became popular to tag the '50s as the Golden Age of Television.

The consensus seemed to be that the tube was never better than in its infancy. You had great situation comedies: "I Love Lucy," "The Honeymooners" and "You'll Never Get Rich" (Phil Silvers).

You had wonderful variety shows: "The Jackie Gleason Show," "The Ed Sullivan Show," "Texaco Star Theater" (Milton Berle), "Your Show of Shows."

You had important, emerging writers working for the medium: Rod Serling, Paddy Chayefsky, Gore Vidal.

You had the anthology series, those enterprising outlets for quality drama: "Four Star Playhouse," "Studio One," "The U.S. Steel Hour."

As one book about the era exclaimed in its title, "How sweet it was!"

Now, however, it's become fashionable to debunk the '50s "myth." Scholars and other "experts" are telling us that time has exalted the video decade to undeserved heights.

We're remembering only the good, they tell us, and conveniently forgetting about the overwhelming amount of junk.

TV Guide sparked renewed debate when it published an interview with Michael H. Dann, a former senior vice president for programs at CBS and a veteran of the Golden Age.

Dann, a consultant for ABC Video Enterprises and IBM, not only thinks the '50s are overrated, he contends (and don't laugh, folks) that TV is better now than ever before.

Dann's first argument concerned network news. Murrow, he said, was the exception. The Chancellors, Jennings and Rathens are more professional than the average newsmen of yesteryear.

Point two: Sports coverage and children's shows have improved ("Sesame Street" is better than "Howdy Doody").

Point three: the best sitcoms of this era ("M*A*S*H," "All In The Family," "The Mary Tyler Moore Show") are better than the average '50s sitcom ("Father Knows Best," "The Life of Riley.")

Point four: 80 to 90 per cent of the anthology dramas were "pure pap."

Today's miniseries and TV

Prep Pre-School Program Offered

The Parent Readiness Education Project (PREP) will be available for parents and their pre-schoolers again this year in the Manchester School District.

The program entails one morning per week of classroom activities and individually assigned home activities for the remainder of the week. It is designed to make a smoother and more rewarding kindergarten year for the child in the future.

The PREP teachers, Linda Hiatt and Susan Lovejoy, have sent letters to all the parents of children born between December 2, 1979 and December 1, 1980. If you have not received a letter please call the PREP office at 475-9131, ext. 60, to make an appointment. Screening will take place at the Emanuel Church of Christ on October 23, 24, and 25. At this time the PREP staff will meet individually with each child to assess the child's learning strengths and weaknesses. This information will be shared with the parents at that time.

This free service is offered to parents to learn more about their child's readiness for school activities.

Family Of Local United Way Agencies Grows

Jessica and Kelly Randall enjoy playtime with other children while their mother participates in the Young Mother's Support Group.

The Young Mother's Support Group and the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee [SAAC] are two local agencies serving Manchester citizens which have been added this year to the list of Manchester United Way agencies. This brings the total number of agencies receiving funds directly from Manchester United Way to seventeen, six of which are local.

The Young Mother's Support Group has been meeting weekly since May 1982. It was developed from a growing awareness among physicians, social workers and others in Manchester of the need for a local support group for young parents of infants, toddlers and pre-schoolers.

Among the goals for the group, identified by group leaders Kay Arney, CSW and Marley Pagel, Social Work Intern, are to increase members' understanding of child development and of their own children's growth and behavior. This leads to more positive feelings about their children, more confidence in their own abilities as parents, and a resulting increase in self-esteem and positive feelings about themselves as individuals and as parents.

The group also discusses issues such as ways of handling stress and provides information to group members on various community resources which are available to them.

The Young Mother's Support Group operates on a very minimal budget. The professional leaders have donated their time. Money for toys, supplies and snacks is donated by Chelsea Community Hospital. Manchester United Way funds will be used to provide child care for the children of group members during the weekly meetings.

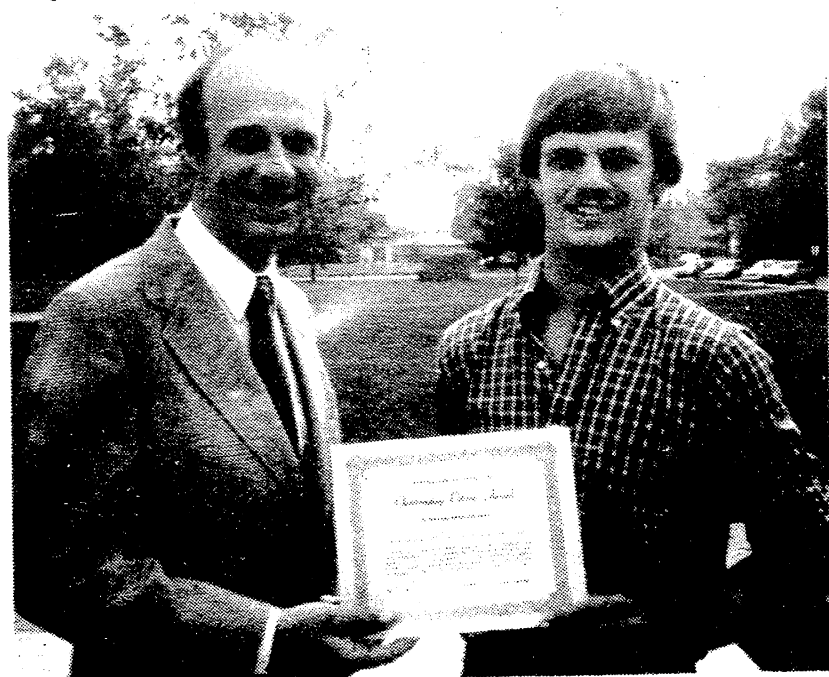

The Manchester Substance Abuse Awareness Committee [SAAC] was formed two years ago by citizens and educators who were concerned about the abuse of alcohol and other drugs in the schools, and by the lack of parental awareness of this situation and its consequences. Through the committee's efforts considerable impact has been made at the school and community levels. A drug education curriculum has been implemented at the middle school. A support group has been formed for high school students under the direction of school social worker Susan Roelofs. Last spring ten teachers and a village police officer participated in a six-hour intervention training program. The committee has also been instrumental in bringing experts such as Bill Manning to Manchester to speak to the community.

SAAC has chosen to focus its efforts in three areas this year: the school, the community and the family. Projects include providing a booklet of guidelines for parents for successful teenage parties, continued intervention training for teachers, law enforcement personnel and other citizens, the establishment of intervention group leaders at the high school, a local hotline for families in crisis, and continuing efforts to inform citizens of their responsibilities in the area of substance use and abuse through speakers and community gatherings.

SAAC received a special grant in 1983 from Manchester United Way. This year it is budgetted to receive $1,000 as a member agency. Since SAAC operates as a volunteer organization with no salaried personnel and very

Playground First Aid

A first aid class focusing on injuries incurred by school children will be held at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea on Tuesday, October 23, 1984. This session is specifically designed to discuss the various types of injuries young children commonly incur. The presentation will cover head injuries, broken bones, sprains and twists. Other more common everyday injuries such as bloody noses, scrapes, bumps and bruises will also be discussed. A question and answer period will follow at the end.

This session will be taught by Dr. Mike Klinkman, a family physician at the Family Practice Center. Dr. Klinkman stated that, "Often the person giving first aid in these situations is worried about doing something 'wrong'; this makes it harder to remember some basic 'right' things to do." Dr. Klinkman will talk about the basic things to do, and explain some things that might mean more serious problems and should be referred to a doctor. All the information is aimed at taking some of the "worry" out of first aid.

Dr. Klinkman has designed this session to be especially useful for playground supervisors, teachers, daycare workers, babysitters and parents. This session will be held in the classroom at the Family Practice Center, 775 S. Main Street, in Chelsea from 7-9 p.m. Preregistration is requested. There is a $2 fee payable at the door. Call 764-8010 to register for the class.

New Tiger Cubs and their parents are Ben and Monty Okey, Justin and Loring Ebersole, Mark and Thomas Schulte, and Brent and Rodney Hoelt. We still have a few openings but they must be filled by our October 23rd meeting. The Tiger Cub Co-ordinator is Ernie Reese (428-7834).

Evangelism Revival At Iron Creek Church

When revival takes place in the heart of the individual believer, then the unchurched will be reached with the Good News of God's salvation. This is the goal of the Iron Creek Community Church of Manchester. Pastor Shaner is reputed to be one of the most thorough expository preachers in our area. His sermon preparation habits consist of personal Bible study from 5:00 a.m. to noon daily during the week and a continual search for scriptural understanding that has gained him a reputation for great Bible preaching.

The meetings will also include special music provided by talented musicians from area-wide Bible churches. Pastor Bill Mason and his family will also be adding their musical presentations to the series of meetings. There will be a special "Kid's Night" on Friday evening for all of the children.

The services begin at 7:30 p.m. each night. The church is located at the corner of Sharon Hollow and English Roads. A nursery will be provided for infants. Call 428-9343 for further information.

The heating season is just around the corner. Here are just a few tips to show you how to enjoy your wood burning stove or fireplace the safe way.

A safety check your CHIMNEY advertisement with illustrations and text. It lists checks for height, material, condition, flue openings, and cleaning. It includes a diagram of a chimney and a person cleaning it. Text: 'Safety check your CHIMNEY. A faulty chimney can cause a chimney fire that threatens your whole house. Check (or have an expert check): HEIGHT: Your chimney should be at least 2' above the roof peak and 2' above any portion of the building within 10'. MATERIAL: Your chimney should be brick, stone or cement block at least 4" thick, with a 5/8" thick tile lining. Older, unlined chimneys may be lined with steel flue pipes. These must be replaced every few years. Insulated stainless steel stovepipe chimneys must be at least 2" from material that can burn. CONDITION: Check for loose, leaning or cracked bricks, particularly in attics and out-of-the-way places. FLUE OPENINGS: Close off unused flue openings with solid masonry rather than with metal caps (which can rust out). CLEAN OUT ALL CREOSOTE: Have your chimney cleaned every year, or as often as necessary. (Creosote builds up more quickly if you burn wood or coal.)'

Be prepared in case of fire! Know the telephone number of your Fire Department.

Nerds In Manchester

Manchester High School has been taken over by new problems. The problems hit on October 2, 1984 at 8:40 a.m. The problems—NERDS!!

You are probably wondering how a nerd could be a problem? Well, take a look, my friends, at the picture. How would you like your son or daughter to be taken over by nerdism? But don't worry, luckily this problem only lasted one day. It was curable, at least for now.

Let me tell you how this all happened. Remember good ole Homecoming Week, how we all used to dress-up and the spirit of Homecoming would last all week? Homecoming hit this past week in the high school. Once again the students' spirits were at an all time high. They could be nerds for a day or slob on another day. A lot of costumes were terrific, as evident by seniors Merri Opal, John Lochey, and Karla Raab. Overall the Leadership Class felt Homecoming was a success. The class had fun as well as the students. The class has already started working on next year, so that Homecoming can be even better!

Council Proceedings

OCTOBER 1, 1984

The regular meeting of the Manchester Village Council was called to order by President Hinkley at 7:00 p.m. Present: Harris, Kallewaard, Koebbe, Niehaus, Reinhart, Schaible, Zsenyuk, Smith. Also present: 52 interested citizens.

Harris moved to approve minutes as read, supported by Kallewaard. Motion approved.

Sandy Winzenz was present to discuss Village Ordinance #62. An Ordinance to Regulate and Control the Burning of Waste Material, Refuse, Leaves, Paper and Other Debris within the Village of Manchester.

Section 3. Burning Outside of Building: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to burn or cause to be burned any waste materials, refuse, paper or other combustible debris outside of buildings or structures in the Village of Manchester.

(B) Container: All such burning shall be done in a container with solid or wire mesh sides having a suitable metal cover and so constructed as to prevent the dispersal of sparks and burning materials to neighboring or adjacent buildings or premises.

Mrs. Winzenz feels that the Village of Manchester is one of the few communities who allow burning within the Village limits. She stated that last Fall she wrote a letter to the Manchester Enterprise that the burning of the leaves and other materials definitely cause respiratory problems for people. Mrs. Winzenz would like to eliminate all outside burning unless a permit is obtained. Larry Becktel concurred with Sandy Winzenz. Reinhart said his Ordinance Committee would be meeting on Wednesday evening and they will discuss the burning issue.

Dan Hutchins, President of Dihydrol Company, was present to discuss alternatives to the Inflow and the Treatment Plant problem.

One possible alternative is to bring the existing system into compliance by locating, identifying and diverting all non-waste water infiltration flowing to the plant. This can be accomplished by an on site inspection of each customer. Industrial customers can recycle some of their discharge economically. It is possible that new commercial and industrial sites can build on-site Waste Treatment facilities.

Some alternative approaches for financing expansion:

1. Sell the water and waste water treatment facilities to private investors. The private investors would then invest the necessary funds for improvement and receive tax benefits, and lease back to the Village.

2. Seek alternative government funding.

President Hinkley thanked Dan Hutchins for coming to Council.

Larry Becktel asked if the T.V. viewing of the sewer on Torrey Street had taken place.

President Hinkley said the T.V. viewing of the sewer took place last Friday and the smoke testing was done today. The Village engineers have not sent a report on the testing, so Rural Housing will probably be on the agenda October 15, 1984.

Harris presented the six month budget report.

Harris moved to pay the Village Payables of $23,685.26, excluding Contractors Containers invoices, supported by Koebbe. Roll Call Vote: Ayes all. Motion approved.

movies tackle more important subjects more often.

Point five: The weekly action series were mostly cowboys and cops.

Oh, Dann did concede that variety was better, but he concluded by saying the Golden Age really was one of iron.

Well, that interview upset Al Vestuto enough to dash off a letter to TV Guide. Vestuto, a former program director with Ohio's Marks Cablevision in the suburbs south of Akron, Ohio, was a member of CBS' technical staff from 1950 until 1969.

"Just think of the budgets they have today and the time they take to make a TV movie," Vestuto said. "I'll bet you the budgets today are at least 100 times more than the most expensive thing we did on 'Studio One.' All our shows were live and we did 52 productions a year."

Vestuto also argues that the preponderance of today's shows are detectives or cops-and-robbers "so where's the big improvement? Night soap operas?"

No, not everything was golden in the '50s. Television never has been utilized anywhere close to its potential. But dismissing what was golden about that decade dooms us to a future unduly shaped by the witless trash of today.

Country Kids 4-H Club Meets

The October 8th meeting of the Country Kids' 4-H Club was held at the home of Dan and Joe Matson. The meeting was called to order with the flag and 4-H pledges. Old business was the distribution of premium checks from the 4-H fair. New business was the election of officers. This was the shortest election ever! Those elected were: President, Greg Weidmayer; Vice-President, Mark Schulz; Secretary, Amy Weidmayer; Treasurer, Darryl Kuebler; Reporter, Brenda Nimke; Recreation, Wendy Haeussler and Melissa Nimke. Members should note that ceramics classes begin October 16th at Mrs. Blumenauer's house. It was unanimously voted to accept Molly McGinn into membership. Mrs. Weidmayer announced that the November meeting would be on November 11th at 12:30 p.m. at the Freedom Township Hall in the form of a potluck dinner in cooperation with the Townline Workers' 4-H Club. Members are asked to bring two dishes to pass and own tableware. Drink provided. There will be fun afterwards learning to square dance. The meeting was adjourned, and a demonstration was given by Dan Matson and Mark Schultze on how to make "Spooky Spiders" out of gelatin and red licorice. The "Spooky Spiders" and cookies were quickly devoured at refreshment time.

The Search For An Illusion

When is a wave not a wave or a flower not a flower? Painters for centuries have searched for a point of view, whether they manipulate pigment to depict a flower in minute detail or give the illusion of a flower blowing in a breeze—spending just a moment in bloom on earth's eternity; it's really just paint, just a flat plane. How do they breathe life into these elements?

Three Art Guild members, Nancy Feldkamp, Ardella (Jo) Swanberg, and Madeline Vallier traveled to Michigan's Upper Peninsula with fellow members of the Chelsealand Painters recently, for a workshop with painter, Nita Engle. Nita is well-known for her watercolors which are full of movement and sparkle.

The group returned with a treasure of knowledge and fun with paint. They learned to manipulate not only paint, but paper by spraying water, turning and tilting and blotting to arrive at ocean waves, flowers sparkling in sunlight, and dramatic night scenes.

At least one member, Jo Swanberg, has been sharing a bit of her enthusiasm by demonstrating some of these new-found techniques to Mrs. Trout's high school art classes. All are working to refine the techniques and continue the never-ending search for the "perfect" illusion. Look forward to the next Guild meeting October 29th.

Tom Lockridge snares a 7-yard touchdown pass.

On Friday we hosted the Jayhawks from Vandercook Lake and we taught them a football lesson they won't soon forget. We played superbly offensively and defensively running up 61 points on the scoreboard while goose-egging Vandie. You can't say we ran up the score as Coach Fielder had the benchers seeing action from the second stanza on.

Mike Agin played super tonight as he motored for 117 yards, tallied 3 touchdowns and toed 4 points after touchdowns. Bob Bunney tacked on 2 touchdowns as Mark Lenhart broke a tackle and scampered 50 yards for paydirt. Many people did well on defense but 3 had their names mentioned time after time on the loudspeaker—Mark Walkowe, Tom Neff and Matt Masurik.

We are now 6-0 in the Cascade League and haven't lost in 13 battles.

Mike actually scored the winning points on the 4th play from scrimmage as he rambled 53 yards to cross the goal line. Pat Ridenour ran for the conversion. Soon Mike blasted up the middle for a 15 yard touchdown, and also toed the p.a.t. thru the uprights to make it 15-0. Again we marched down the field and Pat found Tom Lockridge in the northeast part of the end zone for a 7 yard pass. Mike booted it so it stood 22-0 and it was still the opening quarter. This was how the period ended but we were assaulting their goal.

Pat located tightened Bruce Rhees flying down the left side and hit him right in stride from 20 yards out. Bruce made a nice grab and fell into the end zone. Pat took the snap and Mike kicked it to up the score 29-0. In came Rob Smith to give Pat a rest and Rob took us down field and Bob ploughed in for 6. This time Steve Vleck booted the p.a.t. making it 36-0 as halftime came.

If you did not witness the halftime show put on by our marching band, you missed one of the best extravaganzas I've seen at any high school game. Our band may be small in number but they have heart, style, and flair.

The third period saw Bob and Mark tally to add 13 points to the board.

The final 12 minutes saw Rob find Mike from 12 yards out then race 37 yards on a quarterback option keeper. In the closing seconds the Jayhawks were attacking but a Joey Deacons intercept ended their threat. This left the final 61-0 as this was the most points scored by a Coach Fielder squad.

The table is now set for Friday's showdown in Grass Lake. We are undefeated in the league as they are. We are ranked about 7th in the Class C polls as they were 10th in Class D.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE 117th Birthday

Our Bow

Manchester Enterprise October 17, 1867 Today we launch upon the ocean of newspapers our staunch little clipper the "ENTERPRISE."

It is our intention to make the Enterprise a favorite with one and all, therefore we hoist the neutral flag, which means that we eschew all subjects likely to raise a breeze and wreck our gay canoe.

The neutral flag is a beautiful one to sail under if everybody understands its true import. Very queer ideas are entertained by a portion of the public in regard to the rights and duties of editors, and the relationship subsisting between the editor and his subscribers.

When James I was asked to define a free monarchy, he replied that it was a government where the monarch was left free to do as he choose. Some people, by a similar process of reasoning, seem to think that a free press is a press that is "free for me to say what I please of others—provided, always, that nobody shall have the liberty of saying anything against me."

We greatly acknowledge our thanks to friends and patrons for the prompt and earnest manner in which they have responded to our call for subscriptions, and acknowledge to them our gratification in receiving their support and patronage.

THE LAW OF NEWSPAPERS

- 1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscription. 2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages have been paid. 3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take these periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bill and ordered a discontinuance. 4. If the subscriber moves to another place without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible. 5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is Prima Facie evidence of fraud. 6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

responsibility justly devolves upon him), or, in the case of accidental mistakes do the best he can. The practice of withdrawing patronage from papers for a mere difference of opinion between the editor and subscriber, upon accidental questions, is very pitiful. It is, moreover, purely American. In no other country is it so frequently resorted to as in this; and it is but a sorry method of manifesting displeasure or dissent. With papers long established, and liberally supported, these individual instances of private proscription can have but little effect. But in respect to papers enjoying slender patronage, and struggling for existence, they strike at the root of freedom of thought and discussion.

We submit the paper with feelings of pride and satisfaction, because when we first conceived the idea of its establishment, we must say it was with dark forebodings of success. Some of our friends told us of the utter fallacy and failure of the undertaking, while others encouraged and helped us. But with a firm purpose, and a determination to give the thing a fair trial, we pushed on quietly, earnestly, faithfully for our purpose, and today we present the first fruits of our labor and anxiety.

My Wifes Piano

The deed is accomplished. My wife has got a piano. It came on a dray. Six men carried it into the parlor, and it grunted awfully. It weighs a ton, shines like a mirror, and has carved Cupids climbing up its thighs. And such lungs—wheh! My wife has commenced to practice, and the first time she touched the machine, I thought we were in the midst of a thunder-storm and the lightning had struck the crockery chest. The cat, with tail erect, took a bee-line for a particular friend upon the back fence, demolishing a six-shilling pain of glass. The baby awoke, and the little fellow tried his best to beat the

Our City

Come hither ye wise and ye witty, Come listen from near and afar; While I sing of the beautiful city, That sits by the bank of the R.

Perhaps there was never another, More prosperous under the skies; And fond as a cherishing mother, She looks with the tenderest eyes, on her increasing dignity and importance as reflected in The MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

Her laboring men, and mechanics, (I hav'nt their calling by heart), Are versed in the prices of "panies."

And all of them Masters of Art. Her merchants, though cheaper than any, Dishonor and meanness despise They will suit you, in trade, to a penny, and, as a matter of course, they will each occasionally contribute a profound and excellent article to The MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

Her schools with such able professors, Will soon a distinction have won; Her churches admonish transgressors, To flee from the wrong they have done.

While fair by the beautiful river, Her towers and steeples arise. Oh, let us be grateful forever, Her clergy are worthy and wise, and, as a matter of course, they will each occasionally contribute a profound and excellent article to The MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

Her matrons, and maidens, oh, never; (So husbands and lovers declare) Did any-one, anywhere, ever, See beauty so lovely and rare. Her Doctors are so efficacious, It's wonderful any-one dies; Her legal men, gifted and gracious, With a talent no one denies, while everybody, young and old, little and big, worth naming, in the above-mentioned city, will take haste and subscribe for The MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

instrument, but he couldn't do it. It beat him.

A teacher has been introduced into the house. He says he is the last of Napoleon's grand army. He wears a huge mustache, looks at me fiercely, smells of garlic, and goes by the name of Count Run-away-never-come-back-again-by.

He played an extract de opera the other night. He ran his finger through his hair twice, then grinned, then cocked his eye up to the ceiling, like a monkey hunting flies, and then came down one of his fingers, and I heard a delightful sound, similar to that produced by a cock-roach dancing upon the tenor string of a fiddle.

Down came another finger, and I was reminded of the wind whistling through the knot-hole of a hen-coop. He touched his thumb, and I thought I was in an orchard listening to the distant braying of a jackass. Now he ran his fingers along the keys and I thought of a little boy rattling a stick upon a store-box or a picket fence. All of a sudden he stopped, and I thought something had happened.

Then he came down with both fists, and, Oh, Lord! such a noise was never heard before. I thought a hurricane had struck the house, and the walls were caving in. I imagined I was in the cellar, and a ton coal was falling about my head.

Non Est

A miserable specimen of humanity, named Fanning, who for a long time past has been in the habit of beating his wife with impunity, was on Wednesday evening last quietly waited upon by a few citizens, who bound him with a rope and took him before his offended wife, whom he had just beaten in a cruel manner, and compelled him to assign the out-standing claims due him, to his wife, and promise to leave the town on the evening train. He had packed his satchel for the departure, but before the train arrived a warrant was issued by Justice Goodyear, and he was arrested. Deputy Sheriff Weir provided quarters for him at the hotel for the night, but in the morning it was ascertained that Mr. F. had taken wings and "fanned" himself away.

Everybody seems highly pleased over the final result of this disgraceful affair.

Early History, Incidents, & c.

In the year of grace 1829, a region of country on the southwestern border of Washtenaw county, in the Territory of Michigan, described in the U.S. survey as township three, south of range three east, without a solitary white inhabitant within its borders, was called Dexter. The first taxes were levied and collected, and the first highways surveyed two years later by Dexter officials.

The first lot of land located in the township was the northeast quarter of section 32, by Daniel Luce, one of the Government surveyors, in the fall of 1830; the same afterwards became a part of the estate of the late Hon. Amasa Gillett, and was by him and his sons put in a state of cultivation. This farm we mark as Mrs. Miller does her tobacco, "none better if as good." We regard this location as somewhat significant, for it is an acknowledged principal throughout the civilized world, that in preparing the superstructures of every great and important edifice, the first foundation stone should be laid at the "north-east corner."

Nearly at the same time, or a few days later, Moses Pool located the north-west quarter of section thirty-three.

These same sections 32 and 33 are generally regarded among us as classic ground. Tradition says the geographical centre of the terrible Tecumseh was near this spot. The old cornfields, the graves and ancient mounds containing relics found by the pioneers would seem to strengthen the supposition that at least this township was not an insignificant part of the empire of that noted chief.

In the spring of 1831, the first permanent settlement was made by Amos Ballard, J.H. Fellows, Jos. O. Gilbert, H. Rowe, G. Rowe, J.R. Sloat and two brothers, D. Cook, R.L. Fellows, E. Campbell, Ira Annabil, M. Burk, F.A. Gillett and John Bessey.

The winter of 1831-2 was unusually cold and severe, with but six or eight log cabins or shanties in town, and these hastily erected late in the season. Provisions of all kinds were scarce and dear, and these could only be obtained from a distance, occasioning no little want and suffering, proving ere the close of winter the source of a melancholy incident which cast a shade of gloom and sorrow over the infant settlement.

David Cook and Edward Campbell went to Detroit with an ox team, for supplies. On their return the team gave out near Bingham's saw mill, and with heavy packs they sought their families through the trackless forrests and drifting snow, they soon became bewildered and wandered about for three days and nights. Their protracted absence created alarm, a search was instituted and the men found within four miles from where they left the team. Mr. Campbell was helpless and insensible. The kind care of friends came to late, all efforts to restore him to consciousness were unavailing; he lingered for a whole week apparently in the same condition, and died.

Mr. Cook was badly frozen but finally recovered. His dreadful exposure and frost bitten limbs, however, were a source of continual annoyance and suffering during the remainder of his life.

In the spring, summer and fall of 1832, there was a general rush and stampede from all points of the compass, and the town was well sprinkled with settlements. The first religious society was organized in June of this year, by Rev. E. Pilcher of the Methodist Episcopal church, at the house of Gilbert Row, in what is still known as the "Rowe Settlement." The first district school was also organized this year at this settlement, and still ranks No. One. It was during this year also, that the Black Hawk war prevailed, and no small amount of alarm was manifested. Settlers at Clinton, Saline, Lodi and Ann Arbor considered their scalps rather insecure, not knowing or realizing that Rock River in the north-western part of Illinois, was more than 400 miles distant, that being the scene of operations and the stamping ground of the Sauk Indians.

In the absence of railroads and telegraphs this lack of information on the part of the early pioneers may be readily excused for it is well known the Ex-President VanBuren and Peirce have both at a much later date exhibited their ignorance of the geography of the great Northwest, by franked letters directed to Chicago, Wayne County, Michigan. Also, the records at Washington show that no longer ago than 1818, congress sent a committee of their own number to the Territory of Michigan, to examine the same with view of surveying, locating and reserving "soldiers bounty land," who subsequently reported to that body of sages, that the Territory of Michigan was worthless for agricultural purposes.

In 1833 the tide of immigration continued, and the principal part of the land adapted to grain growing was located and subsequently settled. In February 1834 a race was run for a name to the township. Somebody has said, "what's in a name." We think there is much in a name, particularly in a good name. The verriest infidel or skeptic would dislike living in a town, city or village named Sodom, or Gomorrah. Some of the pioneers were from Sharon, Conn., and a number from Rumulus, New York. And now commenced a race for the name for the township, in the shape of two petitions to the Legislative Council in session. It was Rumulus v.s. Sharon. Rumulus hving the start, but it was soon neck and neck, for twenty four hours. Finally Sharon, although encumbered with Basswood hams and wooden Nutmegs, was ahead of her heathenish competitors, notwithstanding the nursing and training of his wolf mother. We are satisfied with a good name and would not exchange it for any other, this side of paradise.

The town of Sharon was organized in the spring of 1834 by electing Lewis Allen for its first Supervisor, and B.F. Burnett town clerk. Micah Porter and Abijah Marvin were the first parties of the peace and was appointed by the Governor of the "Territory." The first sawmill was erected on section 29, by Amasa Gilbert and Burnett on the extreme northerly bend of the river raisin.

About these days the "Toledo war" came on to disturb the people in their peaceful pursuits of subduing the earth, and Sharon flourished her full proportions of patriots in that disastrous campaign, and before its close, some of the most ardent and reckless found themselves sadly damaged; but all the dressing their wounds required was a whole and clean pair of unmentionables. A few of the old pioneers are yet with us, and occupying their original locations, and are our most prominent and useful citizens.

Some have been called from their labors to receive their rewards at the hands of the "Master of Assemblies," while others have left us for other and distant fields of enterprise.

The Township of Manchester was settled simultaneously with Sharon, and the above named gentlemen, were also its pioneers.

Improvements

It has often been said that this is a fast age, an age of stupendous and mighty improvement; and enterprises that would have baffled the skill and genius of former ages have been conceived, and executed in the very face and eyes of seemingly almost unsurmountable obstacles, and the almost universal opinions of mankind recorded against their success. But the indomitable will and genius of the master minds of this generation know no impossibilities to block the wheels of progress.

While we look abroad and behold with wonder the admiration the great works which powerful nations are erecting, we cannot but contemplate with honest pride and gratification, the less pretentious, but no less important evidences of progress in our own beautiful village. Manchester so long considered in the last stages of expiring life, has at length revived and is showing to the surrounding world that she still is full of vigor, activity and vitality. In comparison she has far outstripped her sister towns, in improvements, during the past year. We doubt if another village in the State can boast so much, and justly, as we, over our prosperity.

Through the exertions of our efficient representatives in the Legislature, Hon. J.D. Corey, Manchester was incorporated into a Village on the 28th day of February, 1867; but whether taxpayers would call this an improvement we cannot say, but of one thing we can speak, viz: the enlarged powers granted the Common Council over the old system, which has been judiciously and discreetly exercised, has added greatly to the beauty of our streets and the convenience of our side-walks.

We shall endeavor to give a brief history of the buildings erected, and other improvements the past year, most of which has been done since early spring.

First we notice the Union School, upon whose corner stone might have been engraved, with perfect propriety, the names of each member of the community as one of the authors of its existence. This structure is an exact duplicate of the Tecumseh Union School House, with some improvements in the internal arrangements, and from its elevated position, is perhaps the most slightly and ornamental edifice in the village. The structure is of brick, three stories high, with frontage of 40 feet, 80 feet deep and a tower rising from the centre on either side. The bell will be hung in the right tower. The entrance to the building is by the towers, which open to the right and left into the main rooms. It is to be furnished with the latest improvements in school-house furniture and the grounds are to be beautifully laid out and adorned with trees and shrubbery. The cost of this edifice is nearly $25,000. The fall term will begin about the first of November, under the direction of Prof. Olney, of Hillsdale, assisted by an efficient and competent corps of teachers.

Next we notice the fine three story brick block, being erected on the north side of Exchange Place, near the river, by our enterprising townsman, Henry Goodyear. This building is indeed, not only an ornament to the business part of the town, but a credit and honor to the enterprising spirit of its projector, and a few more like it would place Manchester second to no inland town, in a business point of view. The block is three stories high above the basement; the first floor contains two spacious stores, which when finished, will be occupied by Messers, Miller & Webb, Hardware Merchants, and the Wastell Brothers, Dry Goods. The second floor is to be occupied by G.R. Palmer, Dr. Self, M. Goodyear and the "Enterprise." The third story is to be a grand hall, 50 x 80 feet, and 18 feet walls. This hall will be fitted and furnished with a spacious stage, beautiful scenery, and will seat about eight hundred persons. The whole when completed, will be worth about $25,000.

Mr. Underkerker, though not engaged in building this season—reserving his strength for next summer—has erected a two story brick store on the east side of Exchange Place, at a cost of $5,000.

Of the dwellings erected this season, we notice the fine brick residences of Drs. Munger & Root, and Messrs. Walbridge and Pulhemus, on Ann Arbor street. These are each two stories, well designed and finished, at a cost of from $3,000 to $5,000 each. Two very neat frame dwellings near the Depot, were built by Chas. Weir and G. Craft at an expense of $2,000 each. Mr. Bodine is also finishing a frame dwelling on the Soulesville road.

Dr. Bessac has remodeled his store and now has a beautiful front. I.L. Clarkson has also remodeled his dwelling. The Baptist Church has been newly painted and generally renovated.

As a business point, we think Manchester offers many inducements for men of capital to invest here, especially in the erection of factories. With a water power unrivaled in the State, a rich fertile and extensive country depending upon this village for its supplies, we can see no good reason why investments will not amply pay. Establishments for producing articles for use and consumption are lamentably deficient. A machine foundry and furnace, a planing mill and other factories, would meet with perfect success. Who will invest?

Flying Dutchmen Lose Two Close Ones

Middle School Girls Basketball

For the second year in a row, our trip to Grass Lake's gym turned out to be a one-point, low-scoring, victory for the Dutch 8th grade. We took both games from the Warriors this season; last Wednesday by a 11-10 score. Manchester had plenty of scoring opportunities, but couldn't gain more than a 6-4 halftime advantage. In the second half, Grass Lake attacked our zone defense and forced us back into a man-to-man. Some good ball handling and sharp passing late in the game allowed us to hang on for the win. Scorers for Manchester were: Sarah Corwin with 5; Tracy Stengel with 4; and Cheryl Blumenauer, 2. Cheryl also pulled down 9 rebounds to lead the team in that category.

The 8th grade entered Michigan Center's gym with revenge on their minds. After suffering three straight losses to the Cardinals over the past two seasons, we knew this would be our last chance. However, Center had victory on their minds also, and sent us home with a disappointing 29-15 loss. The Dutch jumped out to an early 4-3 lead, but with 3:05 left in the 1st quarter, Center went on top to stay. With the score 14-7 at half-time, we thought, with some pressure, we might be able to cut their lead. But Center exploded for 6 unanswered points, and it was never close after that. Sarah Corwin was high scorer with 7, while Laura Meister, Teresa Macomber, Cheryl Blumenauer, and Sherry Rickleman added 2 each. Tracy Stengel managed to pull down 7 rebounds against a taller Center team.

The results of Wednesday's Addison game will be in next week, along with details about Columbia Center's visit on Monday, October 22nd.

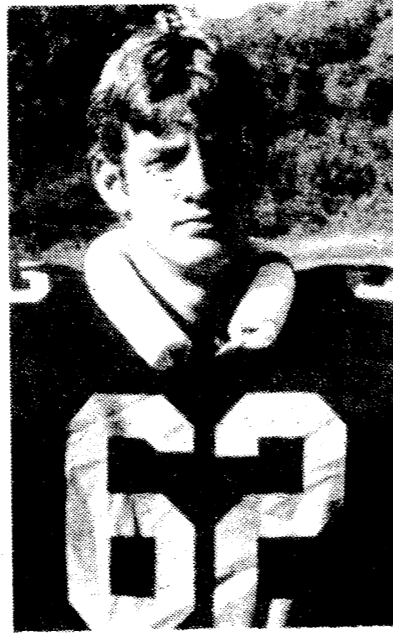

Middle School Football

Last Wednesday, the Dutch traveled to Onsted and came home with two wins.

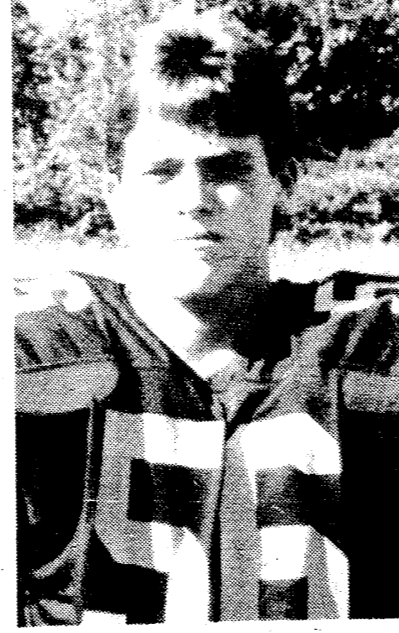

In a hard hitting game the 7th grade gained its first win of the season. Onsted led at the half, 6-0. Behind the running of Dave Beck the Dutch moved to the 1 foot line but could not score. Two plays later the Dutch scored a safety as they tackled an Onsted runner in the end zone, making the score 6-2. The winning score came with just over 2 minutes left in the game, as Dave Beck scored from 1 yard out. With an 8-6 lead the 7th grade had to hold off a late Onsted rally as the Cats drove to the 12 yard line. Jamie Darrow's tackle on the games last play ended the drive. The entire team played well and showed courage. Good job Dutch!

The 8th grade won a close 12-6 game, in which they had to overcome 8 fumbles, 1 interception, and a number of penalties. Three times the Dutch did score when they 1st downed inside the 5 yard line. Onsted opened the scoring on the first drive and led 6-0. The Dutch then scored on a 12 yard pass from John Korican to Tom Mann, with just a minute to go in the first half. After recovering an Onsted fumble, forced by a good play by Andy Hunt, the Dutch scored on a 2 yard run by Mike Brokaw for the winning score. Late in the game Onsted got to the Dutch 12 yard line after they had intercepted a pass and were helped by a Dutch penalty. But good plays by Jason VanDeven, Bryan Pratt and Andy Hunt stopped the drive to save the win.

Dan Platt rushed for 78 yards and Rickleman rushed for 36 yards. Defense was led by Shawn Nickerson and Scott Whiting with 7 tackles each. The final score, 20-14.

On October 11th, the Dutch Junior Varsity traveled to Vandercook to meet the Jayhawks.

The Light and the Rock
The Vision of Dag Hammarskjöld
 Edited by T.S. Settel
 New York: E.P. Dutton & Co. Inc.

There are many of us in Manchester old enough to remember when Dag Hammarskjöld was Secretary-General of the United Nations. In those years it was still very possible to believe that that organization might fulfill the promises of the UN Charter and end wars and those things which cause war—poverty, disease, ignorance and fear. We remember Hammarskjöld as an effective, energetic, compassionate leader whose sudden death in a plane crash may prove to be one of the worst blows the UN has ever suffered.

It has been said that the measure of a man is not what he does so much as what he thinks. Like Markings, The Light and the Rock reveals Hammarskjöld's deepest convictions about the essential goodness of Man and his guarded optimism for the future of the globe—an optimism that pervaded his years at the helm of the UN. The book takes its name from a room in the United Nations building "dedicated to silence in the outward sense and stillness in the inner sense." (Hammarskjöld's words). The room's decoration reflects its purpose of meditation or prayer—"a shaft of light, striking the shimmering surface of solid rock. So, in the middle of the room, we see a symbol of how, daily, the light of the skies gives life to the earth on which we stand."

This is a book of aphorisms taken directly from his writings on the individual, nature, art, religion, the world's condition and, of course, on the United Nations. They reveal Hammarskjöld not as a profound or brilliant thinker but as a deeply moral and good man who was aware enough of nature to know God in it, and from nature he derives solace. "Only when darkness comes does the melody of the brook reach its full strength." And he is the poet. "The light still plays/as when a thousand colors play/in a seemingly colorless, pale/diamond gem."

He is a passionate believer in the connection between justice and freedom not only for the individual's sake but also for the safety of the world. There cannot be the one, he argues, without the other. "... we see how close the links are between the philosophy reflected in the recognition of the rights of individuals and the basic principles which may decide the issues of war and peace." The scope of Hammarskjöld's mind and his learning are vast. He is equally at ease with Linnaeus, Schiller, John of the Cross and Eastern thinkers such as Tao-Tse Tung, Omar Khayyam and the Baghavad Gita. Above all, he is a humble man and aware that true leadership is a dangerous thing "if one does not keep in mind that the most influential leaders in the European cultural evolution were askers of questions, like Socrates or the carpenter's Son from Nazareth." And he sounds very much like John of the Cross when he says that humility is reflected in love which "... should mean simply an overflowing of the strength with which we feel ourselves filled when living in true self-oblivion. And this love finds natural expressions in an unhesitant fulfillment of duty and in an unreserved acceptance of life, whatever it brings us personally of toil, suffering—or happiness."

The United Nations has lost much of the promise of the Hammarskjöld era and whether it will even survive in its present form is debatable. Interestingly, Hammarskjöld himself wasn't blindly confident of its future. In a stirring passage at the end of the book, however, he likens the UN's ideas to Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. "Experience has shown how far we are from the end which inspired the Charter. We are indeed still in the first movements. But no matter how deep the shadows may be, how sharp the conflicts, how tense the mistrust effected in what is said and done in our world of today we are not permitted to forget that we have too much in common, too great a sharing of interests, and too much that we might lose together, ever to weaken in our efforts to surmount the difficulties. We must turn the simple values, which are our common heritage, into the firm foundation on which we may unite our strength and live together in peace."

In our nuclear age, Hammarskjöld's words have an urgency which we would ignore at our peril.

Handrails Installed

Senior Citizens News And Meals

Tuesday, October 23, the menu for the Senior Citizens Meal served at the Emanuel United Church of Christ dining room is: Roast Chicken, Potatoes, Vegetable, Roll and Butter, Dessert, and Beverages.

On Thursday, the 25th, they are serving: Boiled Dinner, Roll and Butter, Dessert, and Beverages. Tuesday blood pressures will be taken for free, beginning at 11:00 a.m. Euchre playing will fill the afternoon hours.

Thursday, the exercise program continues from 11:00 a.m. till noon. Bring your pennies because there is Bingo that afternoon. The surprise overall prize has been donated by Manchester Travel this month.

Saturday, October 27th, is the Hay Ride and the weather should give the area a break by that time. (Four years ago we had 2 inches of snow!). The bus will pick up the 50's-and-over if reservations are made with Helen Braun, 428-8966, so all can gather at the church parking lot by mid-afternoon. Bring your own hot dogs and buns (to be cooked at the party back at the church) or sandwiches. Other solicited hot dishes will be at the buffet table at the church when all return from the Hay Ride. Dress for the weather condition that day!

 Get those Chore Day Applications in to Jan no later than the 27th. We've got the helpers, we need the jobs.
 Plan for the Halloween Party on the 30th, the regular Meal Day. The Senior Club party for the month is scheduled for Emanuel Church on the 31st. The bus will pick up all who call for reservations, beginning at 11:30 that day. Anita Ford from the State Transportation Commission will be present to hear how much we like the bus and van services they have been instrumental in furnishing the area. Also our guest will be Lana Pollock, State Senator, who has been one of our champions in getting services. Everybody plan now to come on the 31st!

Klager Students Bake Birthday Cake

Klager's kitchen was a busy place on Monday. A group of Intermediate Team students, under the direction of one of their teachers, Mrs. VanRaden, made plans to celebrate Mrs. Jane Raus' birthday. Students took turns reading directions, measuring and stirring to prepare their surprise. When the cake was baked, everyone enjoyed their birthday treat.

Manchester United Way

minimal administrative costs, its funds are used almost exclusively to provide direct services to the citizens of Manchester through the implementation of its projects.

The remaining four local member agencies receiving funds again this year from Manchester United Way are Manchester Area Recreation, Manchester Family Services, Manchester Senior Citizens Council and Manchester

Cooperative Preschool. Together, these six local agencies will receive $10,100 of the campaign goal of $33,182. Therefore, approximately 30% of your contribution will remain right here in Manchester, providing direct services to Manchester citizens. MANCHESTER SHARES BECAUSE MANCHESTER CARES!

Dark skies couldn't dampen the spirits of Klager students and their families. Over 100 people gathered at Greengo Dairy Farm for the PTO sponsored hayride. Four very full wagons rumbled over hill, dale and through country lanes. Hay flew everywhere as the wagons past cornfields and brightly colored trees.

A treat of apples and freshly pressed cider welcomed the families when they returned from their hayride.

The hayride was the first of several family field trips planned by the Klager PTO.

Our thanks to Nancy and John Bihlmeyer for their hospitality.

Bus Safety Week At Klager

Klager students took an active part in observing Bus Safety Week. Last Friday they viewed a special film on bus safety, rules and courtesy.

Did you know that most fatalities occur when children are outside the bus? Among other points, the film stressed the need to behave safely on the street, at the bus stop and going to and from home.

Under the supervision of bus drivers Mrs. Seegert, Mr. Arnold, and Mrs. Hough, students practiced a bus evacuation drill. They reviewed the procedure for moving in an orderly fashion from seats to the back of the bus and learned how to exit safely through the rear emergency door.

The Tie Breaker

The Spur of the Moment Showdown took place at White's Arena, on October 7, 1984. There were a lot of ties to be broken. It all started about 11:15 a.m. (15 minutes late due to the weather), with the Fitting and Showing Classes: Youth, Tina & Nina Horne were tied with 7 points each. Nine Horne won the year-end award with 11 points, her sister, Tina, had 10 points for year-end. The Adult Equitation class, Sue Miller and Dee Burby were tied with 13 points each. Dee Burby won the year-end award with 17 points. In English and Western Pleasure Youth, Jennifer Blades and Tina Horne were tied with 6 points each. Tina Horne won the year-end award with 10 points. Adult English and Western Pleasure, Sue Miller and Dee Burby were tied with 12 points each. Dee Burby won the year-end award with 15 points. Youth Speed, Jennifer Blades and Tina Horne were tied with 63 points each. Tina Horne won the year-end award with 74 points. Jennifer Blades had 72 points. This made it a very exciting day!!

In the Adult Hi-Point of the Day there was a tie between Leroy Hone and Dee Burby, both with 12 points each. They had a run-off against each other with 2 barrels at one end of the arena. They had to race down around the barrels and back. It was a very close race, with Leroy winning by 1/2 a horse length. What a great way to end the show season!!

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank our children, daughters-in-law, son-in-law and grandchildren for the lovely party given in honor of our 50th wedding anniversary.

A special thanks to Fr. Schlinkert for the beautiful mass, the K.C.s and their wives for preparing the meal, Jeanette for the music, and Patrick for taking care of the refreshments and all of our friends and relatives for coming.

Thank you and God bless you all.

Ed and Dorothy Kirk

We want to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives for the many cards on William's 81st birthday on September 11th and our 55th anniversary. On the same day William suffered a slight stroke causing him to fall breaking his hip. Thanks again for all the visits, calls and cards during his stay in the hospital.

William and Viola Bross
Helen and Bob Popkey
Bill and Bev Bross
Bud and Rachael Bross

To my dear family, friends and neighbors—once again it seems so little just to say "Thank you." Your love, prayers, concern and gifts were all so gratefully appreciated during my recent eye surgery and the many weeks of "take it easy" recovery time. It is wonderful to have so many caring people take time to think and do for others.

This is my fifth eye surgery and I am now able to "see" all my old friends and hopefully become re-acquainted with all the new ones I've had the privilege to meet over the last few years.

My Love and Sincere Thanks
Tootie Armentrout

Computerized Election For Middle School

All middle school students will have the opportunity to cast their vote in the 1984 Presidential Election. Through the efforts of Mr. John McGuire, faculty member, and four of his students, a program has been designed enabling middle school students to vote by computer.

Seventh graders Ryan Burkhardt and Chad Randall along with sixth graders Jeff Smith and Robb Gonyer, have been working on this project for the past several weeks. It appears to be ready for use, and we are eagerly waiting for the election.

American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Legion Home on October 10, 1984, with 13 members present. Reports were given by various committees, among them the following:

Virginia Motluck of the Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation Committee reported that she and Vivian Middlemiss had delivered 64-small bottles of shampoo, 13 lap robes, 36 pair of slippers, 12 stoma bibs and 15 feeding bibs to the Ann Arbor VA Hospital. The Auxiliary is very grateful to the ladies in this community who have donated their time and efforts in making these items, and who continue to be in the process of making additional items for the hospitalized veterans at the VA Hospital.

A new American flag for our unit is being purchased, as is a smaller flag for use in parades.

Auxiliary members were reminded that the Veterans Day Parade will be held in Ann Arbor on November 11, 1984; also that our 2nd District President will be our guest at the November 14th meeting. Refreshments committee on that date will be Denise Dresch, Edna Knauss and Marilyn Minick.

NOTICE: ANY AUXILIARY MEMBER WISHING TO ORDER AN AUXILIARY HAT, PLEASE CONTACT HELEN HOSMER OR MARY SMITH FOR MORE INFORMATION. HATS WILL BE ORDERED SOON.

United Way Solicitors Busy In The Village

Solicitors for the Village Division of the Manchester United Way campaign are out in force this week and next in their efforts to reach each household in the Village. Co-chairman Mark VanBogelen and Jack Zaborowski explained that the Village Division is subdivided into six teams, each with a captain and several solicitors; Team A: Rubena Boelter, captain. Liz Blossom, Mary Boutell, Diane Schwab, Audrey Thornton and Sandy Winzenz, solicitors. Team B: Phyllis Baker, captain. Doreen Brokaw, Helen Kemner, Helen Kensler, Helen Hosmer, Helen Rigg and Martha Wenk, solicitors.

Team C and Team E: Phyllis Heinrich, captain. The Leadership class at the high school will do the soliciting. Team D: Dr. Monty Okey, captain. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Donyer, Rosemary Hamilton, Sue Hamilton, Dr. Ginny Johnson and Monty Okey, solicitors. Team F: Eileen Ball, captain. Elanor Ball, Sandy Kwolek, Sue Way and Jack Zaborowski, solicitors.

As a community, Manchester can be proud of the level of support given to its local United Way campaign. Because of the willingness of the captains and solicitors to give so much of their time and energy, Manchester United Way traditionally meets or exceeds its campaign goal. This year the Village Division goal is $3,318., 10% of the total campaign goal.

When your solicitor knocks on your door, please give as generously as you can. And please say thank you for the effort she or he is making to help support Manchester's United Way campaign.
