The Chase For Gold

Manchester Enterprise
October 31, 1867

To "get rich" is the one absorbing ambition of young men of the present day, and of New York young men in particular. The simple desire to accumulate property is natural and praiseworthy, and ambition in some direction is necessary in every man who would make his life successful and command respect. But when the ambition to secure wealth absorbs every other interest, and the mind can look no higher than the day-book and ledger, it becomes as dangerous to the man himself, to his family and to society, as the ambition for power among the European aristocracy which has shown such terrible results in history. Hundreds of young business men in New York, are dwarfing their social nature, and utterly neglecting all the higher aspirations of life, by incessant toiling, early and late, day and night, in search of gold. They neglect their wives for the sake of giving them the means to live in luxury; they see little or nothing of their children, because they are providing for their children's future. As if fine silks and jewelry could compensate a wife for the loss of a husband's society, his smiles, his presence. As if a few thousand of dollars more or less, at a future day, could supply the lack of early domestic joys, and the delightful memories of home and the kindly training of his children. This neglect of the sacred duties of domestic life has become almost as much a vice among our over-worked businessmen as the gambling and dissipation of our idle and fast society. It is a serious matter, and a young man, ambitious in his new and prosperous business will do well to guard himself against becoming too deeply absorbed in the chase for gold. We do not speak of the avaricious man, the miser, the grasper after gold, the usurer. We speak of the generous, the open-hearted, men who spend their money freely for themselves and their families; but men who, nevertheless are crushing all the nobler attributes of the soul in the struggle to satisfy their business ambition.

It is a universal complaint among young business men "they get no time to read," they "cannot keep up with the literature of the day," they say—"no use—business, you know—business." If they do not spend the whole evenings at their counting-rooms, they are too much exhausted when they come home, to read or think, as well as to enjoy themselves with their families. The mind, as well as the social nature, is allowed to be overgrown with weeds—utterly neglected for the one all absorbing object—wealth.

Citizens, Businesses, Employees, Help Boost United Way Thermometer

The generosity of the citizens of Manchester, of the people who work in Manchester, and of the various companies and entrepreneurs doing business in Manchester is helping the United Way campaign progress steadily toward its goal of $33,180.

The employees of the Manchester Schools have been highly supportive in their response to the campaign. The School Employees Division was the first of the seven campaign divisions to complete its solicitations, and turned in contributions totaling 111% of its campaign goal!

Klager students and volunteer parents conducted a sale of cupcakes during several lunch periods throughout October. Klager principal JoAnn Okey reported that a total of $169.13 was raised and donated to the campaign.

Comerica Bank and its employees has maintained its tradition of high level support. Manager Jack Zaborowski reported 100 % participation by employees, along with Comerica's corporate contribution.

With only a few of the Rural Division captains yet to report, it appears that the rural campaign will top its projected goal of $3,318.

The success of the campaign depends on all of us in Manchester. If you have not yet been contacted, you may make a contribution by mailing a check to: Manchester United Way, Box 192, Manchester, Michigan 48158. Remember that your contribution to United Way is tax deductible. Then keep your eye on the thermometer on Comerica's Main Street window and watch the temperature rise. MANCHESTER SHARES BECAUSE MANCHESTER CARES!

Hit Or Miss

by farley

"On this world stage," as Shakespeare noted, "we mere players all have our exits and our entrances.

Some come on stage pretty much as equals, being born with bawling entrance lines, but some do manage to ring down that final curtain and take the last bow before life's dimming footlights with a rather memorable exit line," says a recent article by one columnist.

John Barrymore, as might be expected, played to the gallery rather than the attending physician when told that the end was at hand.

"Die? I should say not, dear fellow," he grandiosely raged against the inevitable dark from his sickbed. "No Barrymore would allow such a conventional thing to happen to him."

But there was always this sibling rivalry among the Barrymores, and brother Lionel had the better curtain speech

Other service projects planned this year are the annual Red Cross Blood Drive sponsored by the NHS at the High School and a visit to Mott Children's Hospital.

The National Honor Society is one of the oldest and most prestigious organizations for high school students.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that can be attained a high school student. It is awarded not only with a high level of scholarship, but also by continued on page 2

The final list of students is then submitted to the entire faculty for approval. President John Swainson at 7:45 p.m., on Monday, October 15th, in the John Schneider Blacksmith Shop Museum. There were, approximately, 30 members and guests present. Visitor Richard Mulcare's welcome was particularly memorable, as he won the 50/50 drawing later in the evening.

President Swainson reported that our 1985 calendars are now ready for distribution and maybe picked-up or delivered by calling Loring Ebersole on 428-9246.

As the winter months are approaching the discussion turned to the unheated "1983" room at the rear of the blacksmith shop. Since our financial situation at the time of the building renovation during the summer of 1983 did not permit us to install heating in the "1983" room, an unvented gas heater will be tried on a temporary basis.

Tim and Joyce Armentrout were thanked for the entrance light they donated. Tim stated it is a street light formerly installed in Manchester around the 1940's.

An interesting group of blacksmith tools were donated by Ardis Scheid, some of which were originally used in the shop. President Swainson reminded the members that this is a good time of year to donate or loan items for display in our museum building.

Treasurer Hazel Walker reported a checking account balance of $1,551, in addition to a $1,000 time deposit certificate. The 1984-1985 list of paid-up members is currently being developed.

We are very happy that Mary Blossom has agreed to serve as refreshment chairperson for the

by jon

Tom Lockridge eludes a tackler.

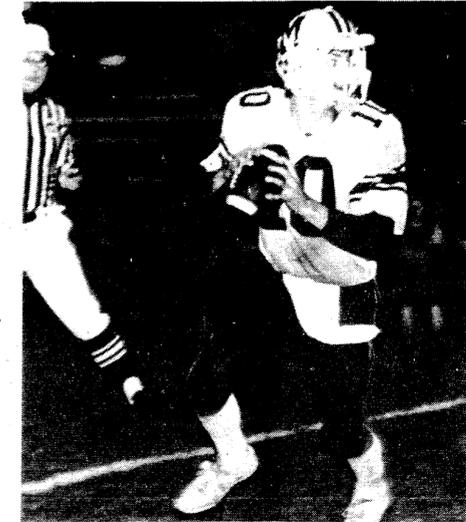

Marshall, Michigan, was the site of the opening round of this areas state playoff which pitted our Mighty Dutch against the Cougars from Lansing Catholic Central. The powerful cougars put together 4 long time-consuming drives as our quickness and speed enabled only one scoring drive. This left the final tally 28 to 6 in Lansing Catholic's favor, allowing them to advance to Round Two.

We kicked off, but after their initial first down they passed, only to see Mike Agin intercept. Shortly thereafter, Pat Ridenour tossed to flanker Van Talcott and Van was stopped at the Cougar 20 yard line. The following plays saw their defense come alive--so we punted. Pat smacked the sphere perfectly and it rolled out of bounds at the 1 foot mark. Lansing Catholic ripped teams all season by power running and they proved this here. The power sweep to the left was awesome as they marched 99 yards 2 feet to score the game's first points, 7-0.

The second quarter got going and they rambled and passed when they needed to drive 69 yards making it 14-0. With about 4 minutes left till the intermission, Mike took the pigskin left and squirted thru the first wave of tacklers. He turned on the afterburners and crossed their goal from 61 yards away. We faked the extra point kick and Pat threw to Bob Bunney but Bob just couldn't reach it, 14-6.

Halftime was here and our marching band put together another excellent show!

In a way the beginning 5 minutes of the third quarter were similar to the opening stanza. The Cougars had possession and their man was hit hard and he coughed up the ball. Our defensive back, Bill Broucek, pounced on the sphere giving us control at the 49. It was third and long when Pat spotted Tom Lockridge down the middle, Tom snared the pigskin and zoomed to the Cougar's 22 yard line. We failed to advance so Mike set up to kick a 38 yard field goal--it was long enough but just wide.

Lansing Catholic just took the ball and rolled down the turf and at 3:38 it stood 21-6. After the kick and some plays, we sat at their 45 when Pat hit Mike and he scampered down the right side lines to their 10. There was 1:41 left in the third quarter when Mike motored to their 2--I saw a striped shirt stop the play before the ball popped out. Unfortunately the other Zebras said it WAS a fumble, therefore, Cougar ball. We did stop them--forcing a punt, but we couldn't move.

Lansing Catholic did it again as they took control on their 11 with 8:38 left and just ate the clock.

They crossed our goal at 2:54 ending the scoring 28-6.

Mike posted 118 rushing yards as Pat completed 6 of 11 passes for 108 yards. The Cougars had 2 main weapons; quarterback Dave Hudson threw 12 hitting 10 for 174 yards and half-back Jon Tellier steamrolled for 154 yards. These two guys totaled all but 24 of Lansing's offense.

After the contest, we held our heads high, showing our CLASS. You receive no trophy for not winning, so we could've left the field for our locker room. We didn't--we knelt and watched the Cougars get their reward, then we wished them well for the next week. I am Proud to be part of this squad. There was a super article written about this in the Ann Arbor News.

Deserved Congratulations go to our Head Coach, Jim Fielder for being Ann Arbor News "Coach Of The Year."

Many thanks go to Tim Schuler and Paul Heinrich for their photographic help this season.

Preschool To Hold Auction-Bazaar

Karen Meyer's 2½-year preschool class displays some of the items for the auction-bazaar.

All over Manchester, Santa's elves are getting ready for the Manchester Cooperative Preschool Auction-Bazaar. You can check out the elves' work and get a head start on Christmas shopping at Emanuel Church Hall this Saturday, November 17, from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon.

Handmade dolls, teddy bears, care bears, or a hat-and-mitten set would make the perfect present for that special child on your list. Or how about a wooden doll cradle with a matching bed set? A new Cabbage Patch premie with adoption papers will be auctioned off to the highest bidder—you could get a real bargain.

All kinds of Christmas decorations will be on sale to dress up the house for the holidays. You'll find handmade tree ornaments, pine cone and straw wreaths for the front door, and silk flower arrangements for the dinner table.

Preschool elves who aren't so "crafty" have donated personal or professional services for the fundraising auction. The highest bidder at the auction will receive a voucher to be redeemed at his or her convenience from one of our preschool families. Some of these services include: A complete homemade lasagne dinner, preparation of income tax returns, writing a job resume, home care visits by a registered nurse, babysitting, and horse riding lessons.

There will also be some slightly-used items up for sale like a G.M. Love Seat, a sofa, children's furniture, a picnic table, and a 6-drawer dresser with mirror.

Free babysitting, coffee and refreshments will be provided for your convenience. Weather permitting, we'll have pony cart rides for children for a small fee.

All proceeds from the bazaar-auction help fund the preschool's education and scholarship programs; so not only will you find some great bargains, you'll be supporting a good cause. Plan on arriving by 9:00 a.m. to get the best selection of bazaar and bake sale items. The auction will begin at 10:00 a.m. For more information, call Nancy Peters at 428-7792.

Saline Hospital To Launch Annual Appeal

"A real time scanner, which creates images of internal body organs and tissues through the use of sound waves, is one of the pieces of equipment which Saline Community Hospital hopes to purchase with funds raised during the annual appeal this year," William Lavery, hospital administrator, announced.

"The appeal will be launched November 19, and this year we need more than $150,000 for the purchase of equipment including the scanner, new electric beds and other patient furniture, two anesthesia machines, and surgical equipment consisting of a gastrointestinal scope and uretroscope to name a few," he noted.

Letters of appeal will be mailed to residents of Saline, Milan, Manchester, Clinton, Dundee, and outlying areas as part of the appeal.

"The real time scanner can be used for many purposes," Dr. Raymond J. Whiteman, Chief radiologist, noted.

"Ultrasound, widely used as a diagnostic tool, can be used in diagnosing heart disease. It can identify and locate atherosclerosis, aneurysms and blood clots. It can also monitor many potentially dangerous heart problems, such as malfunctioning heart valves or thickening heart walls," Dr. M. Ali Khan, director of the Non-Invasive Laboratory, added.

"The equipment would permit a full range of ultrasound applications such as abdominal and obstetric exams, gynecological, pediatric, cardiac survey exams, and small parts scanning," Dr. Whiteman noted.

When using sound, studies can be made of the heart and blood vessels, the abdomen with all its organs, and the pelvis.

Older type scanners required that patients lay still for a rather extended period of time while a transducer was passed back and forth over the area being examined and a still image was obtained for study. Some tests took approximately an hour to perform.

Real time scanners, while presenting motion pictures of the organ, tissues or whatever part of the body system is being studied, also shorten exam time significantly.

Real time scanners, in presenting organs, etc., in motion, give medical personnel opportunities such as studying the heart in motion, the chamber size of the heart, wall motion and damage which may have occurred. Diagnostic procedures which are currently performed with present equipment can be performed with more ease, comfort and accuracy.

The real time scanner is also a portable unit, giving medical personnel the option of studying a patient in such areas as the Intensive Care Unit, without having to move him or her to another site for testing.

Mrs. Judy Cook of Saline, director of development for the hospital, noted that contributions during the appeal are received from as far away as Alaska, Arizona, Florida, and North Carolina, although the main thrust of the hospital's support comes from individuals, businesses and industry in the hospital's service area.

"The long distance contributions are from people, who have in some way or another, been involved with the hospital and have been impressed to the point that they wish to make contributions," she said.

The annual appeal is conducted by the Annual Support Committee of the Development Council of the hospital.

Triumphs And Tragedies In History Contest

Would-be writers, actors and artisans are invited to submit entries by either an historic paper, project, performance or media presentation on the theme: Triumphs and Tragedies in History. The subject may be either Triumph or Tragedy, or both, depending upon the experience of the participants; the perspective of historians; or changed circumstances with the passage of time. For example, the destruction of Pompeii when Mt. Vesuvius erupted was a tragedy for the people caught unaware, but excavating a civilization preserved in lava was a triumph for archeologists almost two thousand years later.

The topic selected may focus on any aspect of local, regional, national or world history; however, the relationship of the entry to the theme must be explicit. The contest is divided into two divisions; Grades 6, 7 and 8 form the Junior Division and Grades 9 through 12 are in the Senior Division. Depending upon the category, students have the opportunity to compete as a group or as an individual. Judging takes place regionally during March or April, with regional winners competing June 11-15 at the University of Maryland.

As there are a few changes in the rules regarding the contest, students and teachers are asked to contact the region coordinator, or the Michigan State Coordinator, the Detroit Historical Society, 5401 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, MI 48202 for the 1984-85 changes.

In this region made up of the counties of: Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne, the regional coordinator is Dr. Sarah Gravelle, University of Detroit, 4001 West McNichols, Detroit, 48221.

All Ages Can Receive Special Help

Julie Porter, 3, practices her "w" sound with speech teacher Mrs. Sue Ermler. Manchester Schools offer early intervention programs for young children who are delayed in their speech development.

Not all children have to wait until they are five years old to enter the doors of Manchester Community Schools. Some very special children who are having difficulty developing speech and/or language can begin working on these skills early. Early intervention in this area can help prepare a child for their eventual entry in school.

Children who have a Speech/Language Disorder may have difficulty learning their speech disorder, such as a hypernasal quality related to a cleft plate or language learning difficulties related to a hearing loss.

Services for these children are available from birth in the state of Michigan, although most children do not begin until they are preschool age.

If you have any concerns about a particular child or if you would like further information about Speech/Language disorders call: Sue Ermler, Speech/Language Pathologist for Manchester Community Schools at Klager Elementary School (428-8322).

Discovery Toy Rundraiser

The Children's Center of Chelsea Community Hospital is sponsoring a Discovery Toy Demonstration on Monday, November 19th, from 4:00 - 5:00 p.m. in the Hospital's dining room.

Discovery Toys offer educational toys to parents of children from birth to 8 years, and 8 years to adult. The toys are presented with information on the developmental stages of children. Through the efforts of the Discovery Toys consultant, a proper match is made between the skill level of the child and the Discovery Toy. It is unhurried, informative, and one-stop shopping for learning devices not found in regular toy stores with no pressure to buy. The toys in the line are selected by educators and parents and subsequently, tested by children. All are reasonably priced and guaranteed for quality.

Klager Students Vote

Pollsters Edna Marshall, Shayne Arhens and Jean-Paul Cartier are on duty as Sharon Goodell registers to vote at Klager. Katie Speiss and Nana Parks await their turn.

Lucas Millheim casts his ballot.

Klager school children came to the polls in great numbers on November 6, 1984, to cast their ballots for President of the United States.

The voting set-up was organized by Mary Lowery's and Millie Grantham's third grades. Children from those grades manned the polls. They checked each child's name off a master list; had the voter sign a register and then handed him a ballot. The voter then went into the booth, voted secretly and placed his ballot in the ballot box. Of the 271 ballots cast, President Reagan received 219 votes and Walter Mondale received 52.

Manchester Celebrates American Education Week

High School Physics teacher Mrs. Kathy Shick observes while Jeff Horning gives his mouse-trap driven car a trial run.

SCHOOLS ON MAINSTREET

In honor of American Education Week, Manchester Schools will host the third annual Schools on Mainstreet Project.

The entire community is invited to join students and staff at The Mill on Saturday, November 17, between 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 Noon.

The festive event will include student and class displays, computer demonstrations, band music and samples of student work from all three Manchester Schools.

Among the refreshments will be apple cookies baked by the Manchester High School home economics class and apples donated by the Manchester Education Association.

This is an ideal opportunity to meet Manchester teachers and students. See for yourself what is happening in our schools.

Middle school teacher Mr. Wes Gall and members of his woodshop class preparing their special display.

School Employees Exceed United Way Goal

Once again the employees and students of the Manchester Community Schools have exceeded their United Way contribution goal. Students and employees have joined together to meet their goal by 111%.

This record breaking contribution by the school district was strongly praised by Superintendent of Schools Gene Thompson. When asked for his thoughts regarding the record breaking contribution Thompson replied, "Our employees and students feel a part of the total Manchester community. We have attempted to indicate our feeling of participation by contributing more than our fair share. I am extremely proud, once again, of all employees who participated in the program and went out of their way to show the Manchester community that we care."

WINDOW DISPLAYS

Again this year, local area merchants have generously donated window display space to the schools. Throughout American Education Week displays of student work and projects are prominently placed. This week you can enjoy a stroll down Main Street and get a glimpse of school at the same time.

At Klager, Mrs. Savage and Matt Herman discuss the Family Graph their class will display at the Mill.

Schools Delay Reproductive Health Curriculum

The Superintendent of the Manchester Community Schools Gene Thompson, has advised that curriculum development work for the middle and high school levels in the area of reproductive health will be delayed for one year. The Board of Education approved a fourth grade curriculum in the Spring of 1984. That curriculum is being utilized in the schools.

Thompson stated that there were several reasons for the planned delay. The illness of a key staff member was cited as an important factor. In addition Thompson stated, "We also want to take time to reform the committee with the guidance of the Board. It will also take some time after the committee is in place to attempt to build into the proposed curriculum the feelings we gained during community discussion last spring. For example, I have come to believe that not only should the curriculum have a strong section which helps students make decisions, it should also have a very clear statement that we as public school educators and as a community believe that sexual activity between teenagers is not in their best interests. We should be clearly saying that such sexual activity is inappropriate."

"It will take time to develop the type of consensus necessary in order to present a balanced curriculum proposal to the Board. I felt that with the many important projects we have underway during the 1984-85 school year that it was best to reschedule the Reproductive Health Project. We will be certain to advertise widely when we plan to come to the Board with recommendations regarding the committee development. This is important work. I want to be certain that we do it right."

Surplus Food Distribution

Iron Creek Church Hosts Guest Speaker

Ten years ago Pastor Joseph Smith left the Jenison Bible Church, Jenison, Michigan, to become the director of the Independent Bible Missions. This organization is responsible for founding and establishing fundamentalist churches all over the country for the Independent Fundamental Churches of America (I.F.C.A.).

The Jenison Bible Church was founded by Pastor Smith and has since become an independent church with over 300 members and is itself a great supporter of home and foreign missions.

Pastor Smith will be speaking in the morning service of the Iron Creek Community Church this Sunday. He will be sharing the work of I.B.M. as it applies to the 18 mission works here in Michigan alone.

The service begins at 10:00 a.m. The church is located at Sharon Hollow and English Roads, southwest of Manchester.

Hit Or Miss

when his time came: "Well, I've played everything except a harp."

Instead of leaving the last paragraph to the obituary writers, playwright and short story genius William Saroyan telephoned The Associated Press with his exit lines five days in advance of the final curtain: "Everybody has got to die, but I have always believed an exception would be made in my case. Now what?"

In the War Between the States, the Confederates seem to have come to a more memorial last bivouac than the Yankees.

"Strike the tent," said Robert E. Lee in a brilliant and concise bit of final phrasing.

Thomas "Stonewall" Jackson, dying at Chancellorsville from an errant bullet fired by one of his own soldiers, provided inspiration for a future Ernest Hemingway title: "Let us cross over the river and rest in the shade of the trees."

Ulysses S. Grant at the end could only murmur "water", while George B. McClellan sent his last words to his wife: "Tell her I am better now."

"Mehr Licht!" - "more light," pleaded the poet and dramatist Johann Wolfgang Goethe, who once summed up the meaning of life, no matter how lonely, in these lonely words: "To know of someone here and there whom we accord with, who is living on with us, even in silence - this makes our earthly ball a peopled garden."

The quality of light, as much as life, seems to be a concern of writers in extremis.

"Turn up the lights: I don't want to go home in the dark," were the last words of William Sydney Porter, known by his pseudonym O. Henry.

Gangsters at the end, whether engaged or caught in their felonious little plans, have been known to spit out fade-away speeches worthy of a closing slot in a James Cagney movie.

Arthur Fleigheimer, sometimes appearing on the police blotter as "Dutch Schultz," had a kind word for the police commissioner when his last ravings were recorded by police stenographers after rival gangs shot him up in a Newark, N.J., restaurant: "Look out for Jimmy Valentine, for he's a friend of mine." Then, according to novelist William Burroughs, the Dutchman waxed philosophical: "So many good ones, and so many bad ones...that's what you get for trying."

Some, at the final exit, seem to be making an entrance onto the stage of another world.

"I see Father! I see Mother!" rejoiced Harvard President Charles Eliot when he died at 92.

"So here it is at last, the distinguished thing," mused Henry James, like a character in one of his own novels.

Brother William, the psychologist-philosopher, also had arrived at a definite place: "It's so good to get home."

Sir Walter Raleigh took a cavalier attitude toward his executioner on the chopping block: "What dost thou fear? Strike, man."

Finally, among final words, there is the puckish actor Edmund Gwenn: "Dying is easy. Comedy is difficult."

Bus Fleet Receives Excellent Grade

proud of Howard Poley, Rusty LeFurge and the entire staff of drivers. Working as a team the drivers are able to make an early detection of any problems and are able to assist Howard with the diagnosis of the problem. I believe, too, that our drivers have a special pride in their vehicles. They work hard at keeping the fleet as sound and safe as possible. It is impossible for me to say too many good things about Howard Poley's work. He is a dedicated school employee who works long hard hours. For example, recently we experienced some vandalism in the middle of the night. Rusty and Howard were in working on the fleet at three o'clock in the morning in order to put the buses on the road. As a result of their hard work, we did not miss one minute of school that morning."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor & Parents of students riding busses to school

In reference to our letter in the Enterprise of October 25, 1984, please be advised that although the problem is not completely resolved a workable solution is in progress. Thank you for your continued support.
