Board Chooses Theme For 1985 Fair

The Manchester Fair Board has chosen "Summertime Memories" as the theme of the 1985 Manchester Fair. The theme, which is changed each year, is most utilized by the floats, but is also considered by the merchants when designing their booths.

The Board felt that the theme allowed a wide range of possibilities for the float entrants and would be an appropriate one for the Fair.

Fair dates this year are August 20-24. Make this year's Fair one of your best "summertime memories". Say "yes" when someone asks you to volunteer your time or talent for the Fair. It will be an experience you won't forget!

Letters To The Editor

This is a copy of the answer that I received about the letter that I wrote to the Board of Commissioners in January 1985.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Ekin: I am writing in response to your letter dated January 7, 1985, regarding the condition of the roads near your residence.

Our office has forwarded your letter to Mike Anderson of the County Road Commission and have discussed your concerns with him. Mr. Anderson's staff have investigated the conditions of the roads near your home, and he agrees that some road repairs are necessary, but that a solution will require joint funding on the part of the Road Commission and your local community.

Mr. Anderson has met with Road Commission staff and they are attempting to find a solution to the problems you have expressed. We will apprise you of information from the Road Commission on this matter as it is made available to us.

Sincerely,
June Komar
Assistant Controller/Administrator

I personally called or asked at least ten or twelve different people that live in this area and asked them to write—most agreed they would but as I'm told, only two other complaints came in—why didn't you write? You can see what happened about the famous tree when enough people hollered, so why aren't you doing the same about the roads?

Also we have paid our taxes as well as a lot of others. I'm sure, where is that money and where is it going to be spent or has it already been given to some other place? Why not go along with the suggested help and get us some gravel or fix these roads? It also was suggested to me that if the help offered is not taken advantage of, that it will be lost to us and we will continue to suffer.

Other counties seem to have a workable solution to their road problems, so why can't we? So come on people, do your squawking as I have and maybe the ones who are holding the purse strings will get sick of hearing from us and do something about our problems. They did it for the tree.

Thank you,
Margaret Ekin

Painting To California Show

Ardella Swanberg has been honored most recently with the acceptance of her painting, "Tuloumne Meadows", into "Watercolor West", the seventeenth such exhibit held at the Civic Cultural Center in Brea, California.

The painting is the result of an evolution of style in which she maintains her confident use of color, but softens it and contrasts the hues with hard edges made with resist. "Tuloumne Meadows" captures an expansive evening scene with shadowy mountains in the background and a glimmering river, meandering through muted tones of meadow grass in the foreground. Though muted, the latter contains an engaging variety of color: drawing in one's eye for a closer look.

Swanberg applies layers of color wash and resist, one on top of another, building the scene by painting and masking. The result: a silk-screen-like vision, glowing from within with a vitality not seen in serigraphy. Though initially appearing simply stated, its complexities beacon one into the scene where the viewer identifies with personal experiences of quiet meadows.

For those not fortunate enough to travel to California, take time for a look at her work at one of several area art fairs including those in Ann Arbor and Manchester this summer. "Watercolor West" will be held at the Brea Civic Cultural Center, Brea, California from April 26-June 7.

Federal Tax Credit For Dependent Care Employment-Related Expenses

Caregivers, spouses, in-home services, and adult day care providers should know that a select provision of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 (P.L. 97-34) is the dependent care tax credit for non-institutional services. Beginning in 1982, a taxpayer who maintains a household for a physically or mentally disabled dependent or spouse may claim a tax credit for employment-related expenses. Employment-related expenses include expenses for the care of the disabled dependent or spouse and expenses for household services which are necessary for the taxpayer to remain employed. Expenditures made for out-of-home non-institutional care, if the dependent spends at least eight hours a day in the taxpayer's home, are covered under the credit provision. Dependent care centers must be in compliance with all state and local regulations for the taxpayer to count such expenditures as qualified expenses.

Under prior law, services outside the home qualified only if they involved the care of a child under 15 years of age. Under the new law, taxpayers may claim a non-refundable credit of 30 percent of qualified expenses if their adjusted gross income is less than $10,000. For taxpayers with income above $10,000, the credit is reduced by one percent for each additional $1,000 of adjusted gross income until an adjusted gross income of $28,000 is reached. Taxpayers with adjusted gross income in excess of $28,000 are provided a minimum 20 percent credit toward qualifying expenditures. The maximum amount of qualifying expenses is $2,400 for one dependent or $4,800 for two or more dependents. Many service providers in the State of Michigan are beginning to advise their clients of this source of financial assistance. While the amount of reimbursement is minimal, the funds could be used to pay for day care and other in-home services. Services under most respite care model may qualify for this tax credit.

Remember, the tax credit is for employment-related expenses for care of a dependent. Please call the Detroit tax-assistance office at either 1-800-424-1040 or 237-0800 or consult your local tax consultant.

Sitting indoors and gazing out on a dreary landscape dotted with snow and dreaming of summer days and among other things of owning a private island where we might retire temporarily from the trials and tribulations of this world, we happily perused an advertisement in a Sunday daily listing a considerable number of islands for sale in many locations around the world, truly a poor man's dream. A German firm who specialize in selling islands issues a magazine "Islands" which is most interesting. It lists many islands for sale. Among them are: High Island, off the coast of Ireland. There is no house there but there are remnants of a hermitage lived in by monks 1,400 years ago, a shaft remaining from the copper mining tried there in 1885 and the muddy spring that became a wishing well.

Many private islands have residences, though — some as lavish as any in Beverly Hills.

Like the castle on Castle Island, off the coast of Brittany. In the spirit of author Richard Halliburton, Mr. Fessler spent the night there alone. "That was like something a 12-year-old would do," he said. "It was frightening—too much space and too little happening."

The German who owns it, Dieter Cathman, has other homes, as does Prince Sharam Pahlevi Ria, nephew of the late Shah of Iran and owner of D'Arros, an island in the Seychelles with another large residence.

homes—probably would have appalled 19th century philosopher and naturalist Henry David Thoreau, who idealized islands and living "the life of a solitary man" with minimum luxuries. But, Mr. Fessler observed, "Most (sellers) want $1 million for an island no matter what the size."

Ironically, he said, "everyone living on an island seems to have a video machine," but island living can be cheap. As Deanna Conti, 37, a weaver who has leased living quarters on the island of Timana off Australia for 19 years, told him. "If things are too bad, I can always go out and get oysters or open a coconut. I can always catch a fish."

Island owners are not paupers. They are generally people like the late actor William Holden, author James Michener and entrepreneur Malcolm S. Forbes. Clyde Cairns, a vice president of Merrill Lynch Realty in Beverly Hills, Calif., said, "They are wealthy, idiosyncratic types looking for peaceful, unspoiled arenas less threatened by a nuclear attack."

Mr. Cairns was lured to the South Pacific 18 months ago to handle an island owned by actor Raymond Burr, which sold (after Mr. Cairns had the listing) to a California spiritual group for $2 million. Now Mr. Cairns is handling several islands in Fiji ranging in price from "a few hundred thousands," to Mago, a 5,400-acre cattle ranch and copra plantation at $10 million.

Mago is owned by one man, he said but many private islands are owned by companies.

Like Amway, which paid $7 million in cash several years ago for Peter Island (in the British Virgin Islands.) For years, New Yorkers were urged in advertisements to "Come to Peter Island and do what you've always wanted to do—nothing!"

James Phelps Retz, vice president of Greenwich, Conn.-based Previews Inc., a subsidiary of Caldwell Banker, told of the Amway sale, adding, "To my knowledge, the island is now used for corporate purposes like entertaining." The seller was a Norwegian shipping tycoon named Torolf Smedvig.

For 50 years, Previews has handled what Mr. Retz termed "some of the most unusual and expensive properties in the world." He estimated that Previews "has handled and sold probably several hundred private islands within the past decade alone."

Of Previews' clients, he said, the single common denominator is wealth. Of the island owners, he said, "I tend to believe that they will always be someone interested in privacy."

"It would help a property to sell if the owner is of celebrity status," Mr. Retz explained, "but it's often impossible to divulge because of security reasons and because a lot of people enjoy their privacy."

Such is the case, he suggested, with what he called "the first private island to be placed on the market in San Francisco Bay over the past 50 years." It's listed at $4.25 million.

One family has owned it for 50 years. "That's not unusual," Mr. Retz remarked. "Norman Island (in the British Virgin Islands), supposedly the island Robert Louis Stevenson used in "Treasure Island", has been in one family for 200 years."

That's one reason their prices are high. Norman Island is now listed with Previews for $5.6 million. "Historically, private islands are among the most unique and sought-after real estate," he said, "and there are very few desirable ones available."

Warm-water islands in the Caribbean and the Bahamas are most popular, he said, but value is determined by water supply ("Is it rainfall or well water?"; accessibility ("A remote island in the South Pacific will be lower in price because of location"); government ("Few if any are politically independent, though at least one, Rattlesnake Island in Lake Erie off Port Clinton, O., has its own post office and postage stamps) and safe swimming water ("You don't want to have a shark problem like that in the Barrier Reef in Australia.")

Some people want to own islands in cooler climes, though. Virginia McIntire, a Beverly Hills real estate exchanger, had a client who owned and lived on one for 30 years in the St. Lawrence River.

Murray Sobel, also of Beverly Hills, said, "Some want islands in Nova Scotia or at the mouth of the St. Lawrence River. Doug Judson, who traveled with evangelist Billy Graham for 10 years owns a number of islands. Like that."

"Up around Washington, outside Seattle, there are some islands that are often exchanged for something down here in California," Mr. Sobel said.

Californians also buy islands up there, said Mr. Retz. "The rationale?" he asked. "Accessibility."

Like Tavern Island in Rowayton, Conn. Once owned by the late theatrical producer-songwriter Billy Rose, it is five minutes from shore and an hour from Manhattan.

"What is the perfect private island?" he asked. It's 15 minutes away—easy to reach, even before buying, he said.

"I've heard of some scams," he said. "After all, say I tell you I have an island for sale in the middle of the Indian Ocean. How do you know for sure that the island even exists unless you go there?"

Emanuel Church Installs Christian Education Director

Emanuel United Church of Christ in Manchester, was pleased to receive Miss Martha Heinrich as its new Christian Education Director. A Service of Installation was held during worship on Sunday, March 17, 1985, conducted by the Pastor, Rev. Robert B. Macfarlane, and Emanuel Church Council President, Mr. Glenn Buss.

Miss Heinrich is a life-long member of Emanuel Church, a substitute teacher in the Manchester Community Schools, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heinrich of Granger Street in Manchester.

This position continues Emanuel Church's commitment toward the positive upbringing of Manchester's youth. Pastor Macfarlane commented to the congregation, "Every parent needs to realize that Sunday School, while a cornerstone of a child's Christian maturity, is only a supplement to the teaching and role-modeling, and Christian influence which occurs daily in our homes, in our schools, and in our leisure time."

Emanuel Church School takes place on Sunday mornings, before family worship, from 9:10-10:15 a.m. If you wish further information, you are welcome to stop by the Church Office, which is open weekdays from 9-3 p.m., or call 428-8369.

Representative Walberg To Speak At Iron Creek Church

The separation of church and state is probably one of the most misunderstood legal concepts of our day. Are we to understand that our forefathers intended each to be isolated from the other? Which one of us can honestly claim that the votes we cast in any given election are not based in part on our religious convictions - regardless of the fact that our religion may be Christian, Atheism, or even Humanism?

State Representative Tim Walberg, will be addressing these questions and more this Sunday morning, March 24, at the Iron Creek Community Church of Manchester. He will be speaking during the morning service at 10:00, and will be holding an open-forum at 11:15 a.m. Mr. Walberg is an outspoken opponent of legalized abortion and a strong supporter of the homeschooling movement in Michigan.

The church is located at the intersection of Sharon Ho" w and English Roads just southwest of Manchester.

Bloodmobile Report

183 men and women were donors for the free-to-all Red Cross Blood Program on Monday when the Bloodmobile was hosted by Manchester United Methodist Church. Only 4 deferrals due to the flu virus going around, plus a dozen or so calls from people registered and due to illness is average for such clinics. Details will be in next week's Enterprise.

Good Smelt Season Predicted In State

When sportsmen hit the streams with their buckets and nets for the annual smelt run this spring, they should find a repeat of 1984's productive year along Lake Huron and generally better results in the Upper Peninsula, reports the AAA Michigan.

The hundreds of tributaries of Lake Huron traditionally provide the state's best smelt dipping, especially the East Branch of the Au Gres River in Northeast Lower Michigan.

Department of Natural Resources officials rated the 1984 season good to excellent along Lake Huron and predict similar results for this season. Since many beaches are private, fishermen should check if permission is needed before heading out.

In Southeast Michigan, the St. Clair River system in St. Clair County usually has the earliest runs of the year and annually good results come from Algonac south of M-29 north to the foot of the Blue Water Bridge in Port Huron.

Smelt action is not as heavy along Lake Michigan, although

Good Smelt Season Predicted

Deer Lick and Brandywine creeks south of South Haven generally provide good results. DNR officials in the U.P. predict generally better results off Lake Superior in the western section.

Best smelt runs this spring should be in the second and third weeks of April in the Lower Peninsula. Strongest U.P. runs should be from the third week of April into early May.

Smelt runs usually occur between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m. in water temperatures of 40 to 45 degrees, but good runs sometimes occur on dark days.

The small silvery fish, a delicacy when broiled, pan fried or deep fried in batter, first was planted in Michigan waters in 1912. Ten years later, anglers started catching them.

The annual smelt run has grown into a spring ritual among Michigan's sportsmen. Age is no factor and the sport doesn't require fancy equipment or a lot of expertise.

The AAA's 1985 Smelt Guide lists 63 smelt hot spots, including Point Pelee National Park and the Wheatley area southwest of Detroit, both in Canada.

Extended hours from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. have been set at Point Pelee from April 12-28. Park officials expect an average to poor season after several years of slower runs.

Smelt dippers are allowed to use hand nets up to one-half mile upstream from any river mouth from March 1 to May 31 south of M-72 and from April 10 to May 31 north of M-72. Large dip nets up to 9 feet square are allowed by permit only on some streams.

Additional regulations are noted in the DNR's 1985 Michigan Fishing Guide, available where fishing licenses are sold.

"Youth Drinking And Driving: Whose Problem Is It?"

Washtenaw community leaders from all walks of life met Monday, March 18, at High Point Cafeteria, Washtenaw Intermediate School District, to discuss teenage drinking and driving in an attempt to examine this serious issue and look for solutions.

The first of its kind, "Youth

Drinking and Driving: Whose Problem Is It?", is a conference of representatives from business, government, law enforcement, service clubs, licensed establishments, media, health, education, youth and parents. Over 100 people are expected to attend, representing the ten school districts located in Washtenaw County.

The conference format will encourage participants to share information on youth drinking and driving, generate community action ideas, and identify a network of persons interested in searching for solutions.

"We believe if everyone worked together," stated Barbara Hower one of the conference coordinators, "we can make an impact on this problem. Youth drinking and driving is not only a police problem or the responsibility of the school. The solution lies with the entire community."

"Each community is different," explains Hower. "Representatives are encouraged to take back ideas in solving this problem to their individual towns and develop a plan that will work for them."

The Surgeon General has reported that life expectancy has improved in the United States over the past 75 years for every age group except one. The exception is the 15-24 year old American whose death rate is higher today than it was 20 years ago. And the leading single cause of death for this age group is drunk driving.

Recent statistics indicate that 44 percent of all fatal, alcohol-related crashes that occur at night are caused by drivers age 16-24, yet this group accounts for only 22 percent of all licensed drivers.

"In 1984, Washtenaw County had 21 young people between the ages of 16 and 25 lose their lives in alcohol related crashes," said Deputy Sheriff John Hittler, another of the conference coordinators.

Sponsors of the county-wide conference are the University of Michigan School of Education, the Washtenaw County Health Department, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

Also still available are wildlife packets suitable for wildlife food and cover. Packets have an assortment of 50 trees and shrubs, including: Autumn Olive, Honey-suckle, White Flowering Dogwood, Austrian Pine, Blue Spruce, European Larch and Tulip Poplar.

All seedlings are offered on a first-come, first-serve basis, while quantities last. Manchester Cooperative Preschool Laurie Chapman, Sonja Peters and Sarah Cooper listen in circle time.

On April 1st, Manchester Cooperative Preschool will begin pre-registration for the 1985-86 school year.

Next year, there will be two Monday - Wednesday - Friday classes for four-year-olds - one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Two three-year-old classes - one in the morning and one in the afternoon - will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

To keep costs down, parents in a cooperative preschool must donate extra time and effort. Parents must work as teacher's aides about once a month, bring snacks, do laundry, buy supplies, or prepare educational materials. If both parents work outside the home all day, other arrangements can usually be made to fulfill the work assignment.

Certified teachers work with preschoolers in classrooms in the Emanuel Church basement. A scholarship program is available for families who cannot pay the tuition fee.

To register your child, or to get information on a possible class for 2 1/2 year-olds, call Sue Staples after April 1st at 428-8203.

Three-year-olds Katie Okey, Johnny Gialanella and Erika Kornow make false teeth out of jello boxes.

Teacher Karen Meyer helps Amber Reed with her project.

Dental Assistant Elizabeth Reed explains "Healthy Teeth are Happy Teeth" to the three-year-olds in Karen Meyer's preschool class.

Manchester Village Planning Commission

Regular Meeting
February 19, 1985

The regular meeting of the Manchester Village Planning Commission for February was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Chairman Alber in the Council Room of the Village Hall. Members absent: Kwolek, Stautz, Smith. A quorum was present. The agenda was approved as presented, by acclamation. Minutes of the Regular Meeting of January 15, 1985, were approved as corrected. The Commission reviewed the forms submitted by Thomas K. Ellis concerning his petition to Council for a Conditional Use Permit and his appeal to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance from the off-street parking regulations of the Village Code. An associate of Mr. Ellis was present but did not wish to make any statement. Mr. Ellis was not present. Leeson compared Ellis' application for the Conditional Use Permit under the Code section listing "professional medical offices", with the case of Dr. Hwang, who received a Conditional Use Permit in 1978, under the same Code section. He stated that eleven parking spaces were provided, off-street, in the Hwang plan. It was noted that the former church sanctuary, which Ellis proposes to convert to medical offices, adjoins an office building. After further discussion, Commission members agreed that (1) Ellis' proposal is similar to Dr. Hwang's in that it would put medical offices next to residential buildings, but (2) Ellis' proposal is very different from Dr. Hwang's in that no provision is made for any off-street parking. (under the Village Code, "medical and dental clinics" require one space for each 100 sq. ft. of floor area plus one space for each employee.) Without a plan for off-street parking, the Commission did not feel able to recommend granting the variance. Lowery introduced discussion of problems regarding construction at Ellis' building without a building permit. He made a motion, seconded by Leeson, that Council seek enforcement against Mr. Ellis. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote. Russell Widmayer, Owner of residential property immediately to the east of Ellis' property, stated that a medical office would present no problem in the neighborhood, but since all the other neighbors on both sides of Main Street were residences, there would be no parking other than in front of people's homes, which could be a problem. The Secretary read aloud a letter received from Jim Mann, whose office is in the building adjoining Ellis' building. The letter stated that medical offices would be a suitable neighbor, but pointed out that the present offices use the lot at the corner of Madison and North Washington, plus angle parking spaces on Main Street. He suggested that if the Township were to convert some of the Library's back yard into parking spaces, then the parking congestion on North Washington would be less. The meeting was recessed at 8:00 p.m. for a Public Hearing. It was reconvened at 8:33 p.m. The Commission discussed Gerald Mann's petition for rezoning of the back end of his property at 102 West Main Street. Walton stated that he wanted to be fair to Mann, since the space had been used commercially for some time, but that more study of the matter would be appropriate. Grossman noted that the space had been used as auto storage and service for a very long time. Joseph Marshall, a property owner in the audience, asked former Village Assessor Wendell Reinhart whether the Village would get more tax revenue from a new office building on the site or from commercial use, or residential. Reinhart said that it was not possible to give a definite answer without having actual buildings to compare, i.e. the amount invested in the building. A motion was made by Lowery, seconded by Grossman, that the Planning Commission recommend to Council that Gerald Mann's petition for rezoning be granted (rezoning the back portion of 102 West Main Street from C-1 Office to C-2 General Commercial). The motion was carried on a voice vote, three "aye" and two "no". Under Committee Reports, Walton reported that he had attended the last Chamber of Commerce meeting and would be pursuing the possibility of a Clean Up Campaign with the Chamber. Also under Committee Reports, the proposed regulations for backyard storage buildings were reviewed and it was agreed to forward them to Council for consideration and setting of a Public Hearing. The Sign Permit application of Frank Furnari was reviewed. A motion was made by Kallewaard, seconded by Lowery, that the permit be denied because the sign did not meet all requirements of the Village Code. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote. The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 p.m. on a motion by Grossman, seconded by Walton, carried unanimously on a voice vote.

There was discussion of the possibility of having the Planning Commission develop more specific guidelines for signs in the Village and also aesthetic guidelines for other buildings. John Schaible, Village Trustee, spoke from the audience in favor of trying to come up with some such guidelines. A proposal from Abrams Aerial Survey Company to furnish a new aerial view of the entire Village was reviewed. The Commission decided that the proposed cost was too high, and that there should be an attempt to obtain a new aerial view through other channels—specifically, the County—before accepting a commercial bid. Paul Alber, Chairman, announced that he would be resigning from the Planning Commission because he would be moving outside the Village. A motion was made by Leeson, seconded by Lowery, that a notice be placed in the Enterprise announcing the vacancy on Planning Commission and requesting people interested in being considered for appointment to furnish their names and qualifications to the Village. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote. The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 p.m. on a motion by Grossman, seconded by Walton, carried unanimously on a voice vote.

husband, Orin A. Wait.

Third, I give, devise and bequeath to my said husband's sons, Gilbert and Eugene Wait, the sum of one hundred dollars, payable at the arrival of said sons to the age of twenty-one years, provided, however, and this bequest is made on the express condition, that neither of said two sons shall to their twenty-first birthday, contract the habit of the use of intoxicating liquors in any of its forms, or use tobacco in any of its forms, or drink said liquors as a beverage to any extent whatever, or use tobacco in any manner or form, each to affirm upon their honor before the probate court their abstinence of said liquors or tobacco; but the use of the same by one of said one shall not deprive the other of his legacy if he abstains from said articles. I further give and bequeath to said Eugene Wait and Gilbert Wait or for their benefit and use the sum of seventy five dollars per year if and while they attend the Kalamazoo Baptist College, if they so elect, and provided further that said sons or either of them shall attend said college before the arrival at twenty-one years of age.

Fourth, it is my expressed desire that after satisfying my said first bequest, that there shall be erected to my memory a suitable tombstone; and that if after satisfying said first and second bequests above, and the erection of said tombstone, there shall be insufficient assets to liquidate all other bequests herein made, then if any sum remains the bequest shall bear a pro rata amount to the whole sum so remaining.

Fifth, I give, devise and bequeath after the satisfaction of the aforesaid bequests, to my husband Orin A. Wait, and Charles M. Fellows, my brother, all residue of estate so remaining of what ever description of kind soever, or wheresoever situated, share and share alike, to their heirs and assigns forever.

Sixth, I hereby nominate and appoint by brother, Charles M. Fellows, executor of this my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I hereby set my hand and seal the 27th day of October, A.D., 1886.

Emeline M. Wait. (LS)

The will was signed in the presence of A.F. Freeman and Josephine-L. Shaw.

Programs Set For Safety Conference

Over 60 programs will cover practically all facets of safety in the home, the workplace and on the road as the plans for the 55th annual Michigan Safety Conference are put in place.

It will be held April 23-24 at the Lansing Civic Center and is prepared to draw upwards of 3,000 safety-oriented persons.

The specific divisions putting on specialized programs in safety include chemical, industrial, construction, fire, health care, insurance, occupational health nurses, office, public utilities, traffic, professional and safety, education and training.

Professional trainers, speakers and panels make these presentations using all the modern techniques of movies, slides and live demonstrations, including the proper way to suspend a work platform.

There will be programs in proper respirator use, carpal tunnel syndrome, preventing crane boom failures, substance abuse, safety belts, air and water quality, back injuries, rehabilitation and physical fitness, just to name a few.

More than 80 safety, health and security exhibits of the latest equipment and services will also be on display.

The Michigan Safety Conference is one of the few groups which utilizes all the space and facilities of the Civic Center for its program of two big days.

Cleary College's President's Honor List

Students from more than 40 southern Michigan communities have been named to Cleary College's President's Honor List.

To be honored a student must earn a 3.5 grade point average while taking at least two classes for a minimum of six credit hours.

Students at Cleary, an independent business college, attend classes at the school's Washtenaw and Livingston branches.

Local students named to the President's Honor List include Pamela Post of Manchester.

Maple Sugar Harvest At Cobblestone Farm

The coming of spring was eagerly awaited by Michigan's early settlers who looked forward to the end of winter's isolation and the beginning of the maple sugar season. Traditionally the work of men and young boys, the sugar harvest was an opportunity to escape the confines of their homes and camp out in the dense woods. The work was tedious. Wood had to be chopped, the fire kept going and sap collected several times a day. Evenings were spent around the campfires where stories were told late into the night.

The Cobblestone Farm will recreate this special time of the year on Sunday, March 24 and 31, from 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m.

I would like to thank all my family and friends for their cards, calls, and well wishes while in the hospital and since my return home. They were all appreciated.
Fred Heinrich

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to all who sent cards and visited me while I was in Saline hospital. It is a very warm feeling to know so many care.

Special thanks to Dr. Khan, the nurses at the hospital who were so kind, Rev. Carruth, Rev. Macfarlane and Barry Cantrell for their prayers and visits. Words do not say what the heart feels.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT

A message to people who are about to open an IRA elsewhere.

Don't do it. Come to Comerica. More people open IRA's at Comerica than any other bank in Michigan. And there's good reason.

First, we pay a better rate than most major banks and savings and loans in Michigan. Second, we offer an unusually wide selection of options. For example, with a self-directed IRA, you can have access to a selection of mutual funds professionally managed by Fidelity. Or purchase individual stocks and bonds. Long term fixed and variable rate deposit options are also available. In other words, we can arrange the type of IRA you want.

Third, if you haven't the extra cash for an IRA, we can finance it for you at an excellent 14.9% annual percentage rate. And remember, when you itemize, the interest on your loan is tax-deductible.

So there it is: high interest, a wide range of options and financing if you need it. Call 1-800-292-1300 for information or visit your nearest Comerica office.

You might say it's in your better interests to do so.

There's a reason...
