Athletic Boosters Request Your Help

The Manchester Athletic Boosters need your help.

The Booster Club will be operating the food tent at the Manchester Fair this year. The profit from this endeavor will go toward completion of the Athletic Complex behind the Methodist Church.

In the past, our fund raisers have depended on cash outlays from you, for raffle tickets, hockey games, pig roasts, etc. This time we aren't soliciting

Spring Is Here Beware Of Fraud

It is spring time again and the Flim-Flam people are on the move again. If any vendors approach homeowners regarding driveway repairs, roof repairs, or furnace repairs, please use caution and make sure they are legitimate. If you have any doubts call the Police Department at 971-3911.

money, but rather, some of your time. We need as many volunteers as we can get to assist us in this endeavor.

We would like to have a first class facility of which Manchester can be proud. Our children and grandchildren will benefit from this project for years to come.

Whether you are a student, parent, grandparent, senior citizen or all of the above, we really need your help.

Should you be able to donate some of your time during Fair Week, it will be appreciated by the Boosters and especially the Youth of Manchester.

If you can help in the food preparation, serve food, clean tables, act as a gofer or whatever, please attend the food tent meeting on April 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School.

Please contact any booster member if you have any questions.

Last Thursday, March 28th, the members of the high school faculty and a number of bus drivers and custodians took part in a cardiopulmonary resuscitation program. The inservice was led by high school Health and Physical Education instructor, Mary Knudsen and American Red Cross representative Dave Dryer.

All high school staff members learned procedures for rescuing unconscious victims by using cardiopulmonary resuscitation. After viewing a movie and learning the basics, faculty members then practiced on eight different "Resuci-Annie's" supplied by the Washtenaw County American Red Cross. Faculty members then answered questions on a written test. As a result, all high school faculty members will receive a card indicating that they are certified to perform CPR.

Rod Morrison, high school Assistant Principal and Athletic Director co-ordinated the program and stated "One never knows when an emergency situation might arise where CPR could save a life. Even at school one of our students could become injured. It's important for all of our staff to know when and how to use CPR."

Drug Abuse Still A Problem

Drug abuse is still a problem in our community. The Manchester Police Department has arrested 6 individuals for driving under the influence of liquor this year. One way to combat this serious situation is to increase community awareness and understanding of alcoholism and drug addiction.

Terry Dunivin, a drug counselor from Ann Arbor, will be coming to the Middle School gym on April 24, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss alternatives to alcohol and drugs. Following his presentation there will be an opportunity for the audience to direct questions to a panel of local individuals active in prevention and intervention. This meeting is sponsored by the Manchester Substance Abuse Awareness Committee.

S.A.A.C. recently completed the "Parents Guide for Successful Teen Parties" which is being mailed to parents of all Manchester students in grades 5-12. If you did not receive a booklet, you may pick one up at the Middle School office free of charge. Stand up and be counted as one who will help to stop the abuse of drugs and alcohol. Attend the meeting on April 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Editorial

Manchester Enterprise
March 17, 1881

In conversation with a Bridgewater farmer a short time since we asked him how it was that he marketed his grain at Clinton, while he lived nearer Manchester. His reply was "Because we have better roads to Clinton." Upon inquiry we find there is a general complaint against the strip of road just east of Soulsville. The river encroaches upon the road on one side, and the railroad passes close by on a high embankment on the other side, making it a dangerous place for one to meet a train, and many is the man who has been thrown into the river by his horse getting frightened at the cars. The road across the river bottom for many rods is overflowed during high water, and when it freezes the traveling is somewhat dangerous, as well as very unpleasant. There are two bridges to be crossed, one over the river and a smaller one over a sluice which like all bridges are constantly getting out of repair. These things combined makes this piece of road the worst we know of in this vicinity. The commissioner of highways of this town has done what he could, at a reasonable expense, to make the place safe, but it is far from what it should be and it will take hundreds of dollars to put the road in good shape, and much more to keep it so. The expense of building and repairing bridges is a heavy one upon the taxpayers, and every means should be taken to lessen them. In looking the ground over we have come to the conclusion that the better way will be to abandon that road near the Morgan store in East Manchester, to near the east bank of the river west of Jas. Weir's house. Then lay out a road beginning west of James Weir's house, keeping north of the river and passing west in front of the old Owen farm, striking Saline street near G. O. Allen's residence, thence along Duncan street, which is the one that runs in front of Granger's grove, and past the Universalist church. If it was thought advisable a street could be laid out, diagonally across Granger's grove, connecting with Jefferson street at the corner opposite W. H. Pottle's residence. This route would do away with the expense of the two bridges, escape that dangerous place, and would be no longer than the old one. We hope the township officers will look the ground over and investigate the matter, for we believe it will save money to the town and increase its trade.

Football Liftathon Big Success

The Football Liftathon project at the high school has been completed with very positive results. The Liftathon was able to generate $1,322.75 that has been turned in to the Athletic Boosters for the field development fund. We want to thank all the people who supported our liftathon so generously, and the players and coaches that participated in the project. It is this cooperative spirit that made this activity a success. Thank You!

Depending on where they live, Americans have different ideas about the location of that fabled area of the country called the "Midwest," says a study.

People as a whole are shifting their ideas about that region westward into the Great Plains states, the study shows.

James R. Shortridge, a professor of geography at the University of Kansas, says that a survey of 1,941 college students nationwide indicates that the Middle West is as much an idea as it is a place.

A reference to the Midwest conjures up pictures of farms, small towns, and friendly people, he says, and as the reality of these images moves farther west, so do people's ideas of where this region of the country is located.

Most Americans now say that the Midwest is a tight central region that includes Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota, and

Manchester High School Welcomes German Students

Emanuel Church was the sight of a very warm welcoming dinner last Monday night, April 1st for a group of exchange students from Hildesheim, West Germany.

Manchester High School for the last two years has been involved in the student exchange program sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Every spring a group of students and a faculty advisor from Germany stay with families in the Manchester Community for three weeks. The other half of the exchange is completed in June, after school is out when a group of Manchester High School students and faculty advisor, Susan Davis fly to Hildesheim again for three weeks to stay with families.

Manchester High School was one of the few high schools from the state of Michigan involved in the program last year. This year however, the exchange has gained popularity and a number of other high schools have enrolled.

Board member Bill Broucek began the potluck dinner with a blessing. After dinner, welcoming remarks were made by Board of Education president, Earl Horning. The Faculty Advisor from Germany, Mr. Karl Zimmer presented Manchester Community Schools with a plate, depicting a home built in Hildesheim in 1623.

At the dinner, program co-ordinator Susan Davis thanked all the families for opening their homes and hearts to these fine young people. She also thanked Sharon Hunt for co-ordinating the welcoming dinner and Emanuel Church for hosting it.

"I'm so thankful that Susan Davis is willing to take the enormous amount of time necessary to co-ordinate this fine, fine program" stated high school principal Bill Bushaw. "Our world is growing smaller every day" continued Bushaw, "and this is a way for our young people to understand the importance of global education."

During their stay the students from Germany will be touring the Wayne Auto Assembly Plant, the Community of Manchester, and the Chrysler Proving Grounds. They will also be taken to watch a Tiger Baseball game on April 11th.

In the future Detlef would like to join either the Army or the Air Force; then he would like a career in some field of agriculture. Detlef has had many exciting experiences in the U.S., one of which was a fishing trip in Frankfort with his host family, the Brouceks. (Interviewed by: John Curley)

Annette enjoys both classical and modern music with her favorite singer being Billy Idol. Her favorite subject in school is math. When asked what she likes the most about the U.S. she said that she likes the feeling of freedom, the cars, the houses and especially the people. Her future plans include studying ecology in Germany or perhaps living in America for a year. Her host student is Renee Yeutter.

Vera Von Ilten

Vera Von Ilten, age sixteen, lives in Gestorf, West Germany. While there she enjoys horseback riding, wind surfing, tennis and going shopping. in the U.S., Vera responded, "Seeing the Rocky Horror Picture Show!" Her host student is Beth Fahey.

(Interviewed by: Kevin Creech)

Karl Zimmer

In Hildesheim, where Karl lives, he teaches Latin and history to students between the ages of 12 and 20 years. Karl Zimmer enjoys reading historical novels and adventure stories for pleasure. Also, he enjoys the sports of surfing, tennis and badminton.

Karl's mother, father, two brothers and one sister live in Germany. Another sister is a teacher in England. Herr Zimmer says that he enjoys everything in America: the people, the food, and the land. Most of all he admires the independence and freedom of our people. The most outstanding moment of his visit was the fantastic welcome that the faculty gave him and his students. He said that all the attention was very nice. He is staying with Susan and Tom Davis. (Interviewed by: Renee Yeutter)

Survey Of 1984 High School Graduates

Manchester High School graduates of the class of 1984 will be mailed a survey during the first week of April. In the on-going effort to improve schools, information from recent graduates is vital to the evaluation process. The information gained will provide the school district with an accurate picture of what graduates are actually going, provide input for planning and improving educational programs and give schools a better understanding of students' needs. Bob Miller, survey coordinator, states that a report based on the data and comments will be available by late fall. Information from the class of '83 has been distributed to the high school office and guidance staff.

$$$MONEY MANAGEMENT$$$

IF THE BUCK STOPS, BE PREPARED

Ken is a 37 year-old single father who has learned about life's harshest realities: His wife died a year ago in an auto accident. Her death changed Ken's perspective on life. For the first time he thought about his own mortality and about how his boys would manage if something were to happen to him.

"Before my wife's death," says Ken. "I always thought that really terrible things only happen to other people." Nobody likes to think about life's tragic twists, but good sense demands some preparation for managing life's risks, says the Michigan Association of CPAs.

"Risk management" begins with a three-step exercise that you can use to help lessen your exposure to risk. A risk management strategy dictates the types and amounts of insurance you may need, and it coordinates risks with investment, estate, retirement and tax planning.

IDENTIFY THE RISK - Like Ken, many people don't even think about risks to which they are exposed. Some people say to themselves, "That'll never happen to me." Others simply refuse to think about the darker side of life. A simple way of identifying your risks is to ask yourself some "what if" questions: What if I were injured seriously on the job tomorrow? What if my family had to pay the mortgage without my income? How much income will I have if I become temporarily or permanently disabled? In Ken's case, the major risk he identified involves how his children would be cared for in the event of his disability or death.

MEASURE THE RISK. Some risks are easy to measure. For instance, if you owe $50,000 on your mortgage, you could buy a $50,000 mortgage life insurance policy. In the event of your death, the balance remaining on your $50,000 mortgage would be paid from the mortgage life policy proceeds, and not from money you have put aside for the support of children or parents. Similarly, a 50-year old woman who annually gives her 75 year old father $10,000 may want to purchase an annuity policy that would provide $10,000 a year and name her father as beneficiary. Should the woman die before her father, the policy ensures that his income would continue.

In Ken's case, several risks should be measured: the income needed in the event of his death for the health, comfort, support and education of his two boys. For Ken's children, a $250,000 life insurance fund may be ample to maintain their current lifestyle. In most cases, CPAs say, the cheapest way to fund this is with a term life insurance policy.

LIFE INSURANCE - There are two basic types of life insurance: term and whole life. With a whole life policy, you typically pay a fixed premium every year. These policies contain a savings feature which means the policy has a cash value available for your use. If you close out a whole life policy before you die, you are entitled to the "cash surrender value" of the policy. The basic difference between whole life and term insurance is a term policy has no cash surrender value. Premiums on a $100,000 term policy are lower than those for a whole life policy that provides the same $100,000 death benefit. Term life is insurance only; it has no cash surrender value. Each policy has its place depending upon the needs of an individual.

Insurance companies offer many varieties of term and whole life policies. For instance, a term policy may have a variable or a fixed premium. Thirty-five year-old Ken, who as a smoker pays a higher premium than a non-smoker, would pay an annual premium of about $500 for a $250,000 term policy.

DISABILITY INSURANCE - In addition to life insurance, you may want to cover the risk of becoming disabled. The chance that you will suffer a disability that prevents you from working between the ages of 20 and 50 is far greater than the chance that you will die, insurance experts say. CPAs recommend that most working people have disability insurance that will provide them with about 60 percent of their normal monthly income. Ken, who earns about $3,000 a month, for instance, would want to get disability insurance to provide him with $2,000 a month. This type of policy would generally cost from $600 to $800 a year, depending on how soon you want payments to begin after you are disabled.

Insurance planning is a major aspect of risk management. You may want to tap the expertise of a CPA to help you identify, measure and manage risk. "Bringing a CPA in to the risk management process holds an insurance agent accountable to a professional who knows money and who can objectively evaluate your insurance needs based on your total financial picture," says Ben Baldwin, an insurance advisor. Because a CPA has advice to sell, not products, you are discouraged from purchasing more insurance than you may actually need.

Judges were volunteer community members and employees of local businesses. Without their assistance a project of this size would have been impossible. Judges were: Jim Anderson, Double A Products; Hyder Ali, Karl Domeier, Bob Gillow, Terry Woods, and Jim Wiethoff, Hoover Universal; Astrida Panches and Kathy Schick, Manchester High School science teachers; Carol Buss, student nurse; Ted Tapping, retired teacher and principal. Bridgewater Township Board Meeting

The regular meeting was called to order March 18, 1985, at the Bridgewater Township Hall, by Supervisor Parr. All Board members present including three electors.

Secretary's report was read by Clerk Weidmayer, approved as read.

Harold Bersuder, Treasurer, presented the bills to the board for their approval. Andy Poet made the motion that we pay voucher 1384 thru 1370, supported by Marvin Breitenwischer. Board passed.

Old Business:
Summer Tax collection was discussed. Negotiations are now finalized and collections are set for a 3 year contract being $4.00 first year, $5.00 second year and $6.00 third year, this is for school districts in Washtenaw County.

Fire ordinance discussion held. Supervisor had a comparison on expenses of roads and fire calls from 1979 thru 1984. Results stated that fire calls have been increasing more than road maintenance in cost. Roads upkeep will have to decline if the township wants both services. At the Annual meeting a decision on a proposed ordinance will be made.

New Business:
Harold Bersuder, Treasurer, presented the proposed budget. Board discussed changes. Budget will be completed and presented at the Annual Meeting. Hall rental on the building was discussed. Andy Poet made the motion supported by Marvin Breitenwischer that receptions for residents of this township pay a $100.00 deposit on the hall. This deposit will be returned when the hall is left in the condition that it was rented out. Small meetings, etc. are still as before.

Supervisor Parr advised the board that a letter was sent about the Federal Revenue Sharing. Board members were encouraged to write letters to the Congressmen and Senators about saving the Federal Revenue Sharing payments to the townships.

Harlin Fraumann reported: Zoning permit issued to Keith Nickert to build a home on Ernst Road.

Planning Commission meeting, had two occupancy requests for temporary structures while building a permanent housing. They are Terry Straubel and Rudolph Weirick. Permission was given, with outlining conditions listed in Planning Commission Board minutes. The Planning Commission will decide on residences in May on the Scott Nelson site.

March 30, 1985, Annual meeting used for Budget and proposed collection for fire calls. April Board meeting be used for Building inspections and procedures.

A complaint was filed with the Supervisor concerning debris on residents property. The complaint was turned over to the Zoning inspector, Harlin Fraumann to follow through. Harold Bersuder made the motion to pay the Zoning Inspector the same as the other inspectors; $15.00 per inspection and mileage. Andy Poet seconded and Board passed.

Huron Valley Ambulance letter was presented. Letter showed the response time on calls. Board felt reassured that we are given excellent coverage with the latest response time being about 9 minutes.

Being no further business before the Board, Andy Poet made the motion and Marvin Breitenwischer seconded, that we adjourn; the meeting was adjourned.

Board minutes subject to board approval.

Karen Weidmayer, Clerk

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT

A message to people who think they can't afford an IRA.

You know you need it, but you just don't have the extra money. If that's the case, we can give you same day financing of $1,000 to $4,000 at an excellent 14.9% annual percentage rate so that you can open an IRA at Comerica. Having an IRA pays off in more ways than one:
First, it's a tax shelter.
Second, it will help provide financial security when you retire.
Third, the interest on your Comerica loan is also tax-deductible when you itemize.

Book Review

Thomas Merton. No Man Is An Island. New York: Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., 1955. 264 pgs.

I had originally intended to present this book at the beginning of Lent. It is now the end of Lent and frankly, it is still only about half read. Yet if Merton is appropriate for a Lenten meditation, he is no less so in any other season. To the soul whose journey toward God extends from Ash Wednesday to Holy Saturday evening, Merton would be of no use at all regardless of when he is read.

One does not read this book in two or three sittings from cover to cover and it might be well to even skip some chapters while reading others two or even more times. The theme that pervades the entire book is quite simply that we cannot know our true selves until we immerse ourselves in the ultimate reality of God, the source of our being. Only in a complete, loving surrender to God do we attain real freedom and happiness.

Because this has been a particularly hectic season I needed to be told that "There are times...when in order to keep ourselves in existence at all we simply have to sit back for a while and do nothing...We must first recover the possession of our own

Association Of Machine Knitters And Designers Formed

The re-possession of our own being cannot come to us without prayer for "we make ourselves what we are by the way we address God." Thus, only when we confess our dependence on God do we discover our true selves. Obviously Merton is not talking about the mechanical mouthings we often call "prayers" but that deep interior prayer which "speaks to Him without knowing what it is saying because God Himself has distracted the mind from its words and thoughts."

Merton's last chapter on "Silence" should not be missed. By silence he means the root of our interior lives, that part of us which is Love and Good, in short, that in each of us which is God. "If I cannot distinguish myself from the mass of other men, I will never be able to love and respect other men as I ought." Or to put it another way, without solitude, it is impossible to love others since I haven't yet found and thus loved myself.

Merton is a Catholic of course but his thought is as pertinent to non-Catholics as that of Buber, Tillich or Bonhoeffer to Catholics.

Waterloo Natural History Association Spring 1985 Schedule

Spring is here and the WNHA invites you to take part in the following weekend programs. All programs are free to members and the general public. Most programs begin at the Nature Center parking lot; other programs begin elsewhere in the Waterloo Recreation Area where state motor vehicle permits are required, including Nature Center.

If you would like to volunteer to give weekend programs, or if you would like to see other programs offered, please feel free to call Holly Hartmann at 769-0681. Your feedback on programs that you attend is also appreciated.

April 13 - Night of the Amphibians!

Join Carol Strahler and Almuth Tschunko for an evening of musical madness - the calling of spring peepers, chorus frogs, wood frogs, leopard frogs, American Toads, and more! Bring a flashlight and expect to take part in the hunt...be prepared to get your feet wet. The program begins at 7 p.m. from the Nature Center parking lot.

April 19 - Night at Portage Lake

Naturalist and story-teller Carol Methner invites you to a program featuring campfire tales and the stars of spring. The 8 p.m. program begins at the Portage Lake Campground Ranger Station.

April 20 - Bog Walk

Ron Frenette is your host for a tour of one of the Waterloo Recreation Area's prized locations, the floating bog. The early spring flowers should be abundant and beautiful. Both 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. programs begin from the Nature Center parking lot.

May 4 - Warbler Walk

They're back! Join Nick and Leslie Parsons for a thoroughly enjoyable search for returning warblers. Some binoculars will be available to borrow if you don't have your own. This two-hour walk begins at 10 a.m. from the Nature Center parking lot.

May 5 - Bog Walk

The floating bog is a wonderful place to note the advancement of the seasons, and especially in the spring. Join Glen Williams for a beautiful springtime tour, beginning at both 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. from the Nature Center parking lot.

May 11 - Spring Wild Edibles

This program is always popular, and for good reason! Come along with wild foods specialist Tom Jameson on a foray in search of springtime wild edibles that can be turned into main dishes, snacks and teas. Meet in the Nature Center parking lot by 1:30 p.m. and bring a knife and a sack to take home samples of your discoveries.

May 12 - Mother's Day Wildflower Walk

Give your mother the best bouquet of all - a forest full of beautiful spring wildflowers. Bring mom on a nature walk through the beech forest with Dorothy Blanchard, beginning at 2 p.m. from the Nature Center parking lot.

May 18 & 19 - Spring Time Warmup: Campout at Green Lake

Join Carol Strahler and Holly Hartmann for a weekend of outdoor fun at Waterloo's rustic campground. Activities will feature a night hike, an early morning bird walk, and more! Bring your own equipment and supper; breakfast will be provided for $1.50 per person. Reservations are required by May 13; call Carol at 475-9444 or Holly at 769-0681.

May 19 - Bog Walk

Host Almuth Tschunko leads an interpretive tour of the floating bog in mid-spring; bring your cameras! Both 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. programs begin from the Nature Center parking lot.

June 1 - Fishing Clinic

Although the catch isn't guaranteed, novice anglers are sure to have fun! Veteran fisherman Cliff Markle will cover finding natural baits, finding the fish, how to catch them, and how to clean and prepare them. This is a participatory program, so bring equipment if you have any; a license is required for persons over 16 that actually will be fishing. Meet at Cavanaugh Lake Park at 3 p.m.

June 1 - Full Moon Walk

Around Green Lake, this is the turtle moon! Join Holly Hartmann and search for egg-laying turtles and other night life at the Green Lake Campground beginning at 9 p.m.

June 2 - Early Morning Bird Walk

Rise with the sun and experience the early morning beauty of Portage Lake, and remember, it's the early birdwatcher that sees the birds! Both beginning and advanced birdwatchers are invited; a limited number of binoculars are available. Meet Holly Hartmann at the Portage Lake Campground Ranger Station at 7 a.m.

June 8 - Getting to Know the Wildflowers

Join hosts Nick and Leslie Parsons at the Nature Center parking lot for a tour of Waterloo's beautiful spring wildflowers, from 10 to 11:30 a.m., featuring orchids. A wildflower photography session will follow for those interested.

June 15 - Insects

Join Greg Ruch and explore the fascinating world of insects. Expect to participate in capturing and identifying a variety of common insects. Meet at the Nature Center parking lot by 2 p.m.

June 16 - Celebration of Spring Bird Walk

Almuth Tschunko leads this foray in search of birds that are establishing territories, nesting, or fledging. Join her at the Nature Center parking lot at 3 p.m.; a limited number of binoculars are available.

June 23 - Habitat Walk

This program is especially for children (and their parents). Carol Strahler and her animal companions teach why animals live where they do. The program starts at 1:30 p.m. from the Nature Center parking lot.

June 29 - Bog Walk

Join Dorothy Blanchard for a guided walk along quiet woodland trails to the floating bog. Learn about trees, flowers, local animals and a variety of interesting natural history facts. The program begins at 2 p.m. from the Nature Center parking lot.

Beware Of Some Children's Stickers

LSD-permeated stickers shaped like blue "Tattoo" stars or square ones with favorite children's characters have been reported to be circulating in the west Michigan area, warns the Michigan Sheriffs' Association (MSA).

Law enforcement agencies in the western part of the state have verified the availability of these potentially dangerous stick-ons, according to MSA Administrative Director Sharon Rimek.

Rimek says the tattoo, called "Blue Star" is a small sheet of white paper containing blue stars the size of a pencil eraser.

"Each star is impregnated with LSD and can be removed from the paper to be placed in the mouth," she explains. "The drug also can be absorbed through the skin, simply by handling the stars."

Rimek describes the paper tabs with children's characters as looking like postage stamps in size and come five one-inch stamps to a page, packaged in red cardboard with a picture of Mickey Mouse on the box.

"They are brightly colored with pictures of Superman, Mickey Mouse and other Disney characters, plus other favorite images like butterflies, clowns, etc.," Rimek adds.

"Anyone having information about these stickers should contact their local sheriff or other law enforcement agency immediately," Rimek urges.

Missouri, the report says. "The vernacular region has shifted westward," Professor Shortbridge said yesterday. "Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., lie near the region's heart."

Professor Shortbridge said in a telephone interview that people began developing the myth of the Midwest as the true heartland of America about 1890.

"The East, which had been considered the core of values, was perceived as being full of foreigners who had strange religions and values," he said. "The 'true America' was then thought to be in the rural Midwest of the day, where people worked hard, practiced Jeffersonian democracy, and upheld 'traditional' values."

Since the beginning of this century, the Middle West traditionally has been described by social scientists and writers as the 12 states extending from Ohio westward through Kansas and northward to the Canadian border, he reports in the Annals of the Association of American Geographers.

But the 1980 survey distributed by college professors to undergraduate students in 32 states, along with other data, indicates that the eastern part of the region is no longer considered the rural area that is an important part of some Americans' perception of the term Midwest.

Images of industrial centers such as Detroit and Cleveland no longer fit the traditional perception of the Midwest as the peaceful, friendly agricultural heartland, Professor Shortbridge says. Chicago, often considered the capital of the Middle West, was included as part of the region by fewer than half the survey participants, he added.

Those surveyed from such traditional Middle West states as Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota still strongly considered themselves midwesterners, the report says. But this opinion was not shared by people from the periphery of the country.

"For northeastern, southerners, and westerners alike, the Middle West was focused on the central plains, usually in south-central Nebraska," the report says. These views, combined with those from residents of the Great Plains, create the dominant image of where today's Midwest is located, it says.

The area east of the Mississippi River that once was considered part of the Midwest is "a region in need of a name," Professor Shortbridge said. "Midwest" might serve as a new label, he said.

A Magistrate in 19th Century Victoria, B.C. - Matthew Baillie Begbie - made a name for himself as a Solomon of sorts. One of his typical judicial decisions settled an inheritance dispute between two brothers over who was to get the farm. Said the judge: "You, James, will divide the farm into equal parts. You, John, will have first choice."

In three different reports from kindly clients this week, I've been told: 1. Daniel Boone was born in a log cabin he built himself. 2. Many motorists tend to drive much too close to the cars behind them. And 3. Queen Victoria loved to sing duets all by herself.

Name Collectors gathered what they believe to be the 7 most unusual women's first names found in metropolitan telephone books. 1. Chlorine, 2. Dewdrop, 3. Facsimile, 4. Larceny, 5. Mecca, 6. Twitty, and 7. Zippa.

Q. Why do supermarkets always put the milk at the back of the store?

A. Can only tell you that milk is about the most frequently purchased product, and shoppers have to walk past a lot of enticing shelves to get to it.

Man is the only animal without a nature-made defense against the elements. No fur, feathers or thick hide. The only animal that needs clothes is man. A bear or bird or horse so naturally naked wouldn't stand a chance, what? How cunning of man to grow up and grow old in this ridiculous condition. Man has the longest life span of all mammals.

Consider the spinster, the widow and the divorcee. At age

45, the statistical probability that a never-married woman eventually will marry is almost zero. Yet a divorcee at that age is just as likely to get married again as is a 39-year old widow or as a never-married woman of 30.

According to the pest controllers, mice love chocolate.

Q. Don't some men in Japan continue to work after age 65?

A. Not just some, but 45 per cent of them do.

The state with the most national parks - eight - is Alaska, I'm now told. Not Utah with five. Not even California with six, as I thought it was.

There is a small - quite small - body of people who think your color preferences characterize you. People who like green - they say - tend to be good listeners. Blue - thoughtful hesitators. Red - movers, doers, touchers. Orange - lively talkers.

The pilgrims in 1920 set up a communist community at first. Lasted several years. Didn't work for them though.
