Manchester Street Fair and Sidewalk Sales Saturday, August 10th

Art and craft lovers, joggers, walkers, pancake breakfast enthusiasts, Barber Shop Quartet devotees and bargain hunters will converge on downtown Manchester this Saturday, August 10, for the annual Manchester Street Fair.

The festivities, sponsored by the Manchester Art Guild, with support from area organizations and businesses, begins with a 10K run/walk and a pancake breakfast from 7:30 - 11:30 a.m.

Beginning at 9:00 a.m. and ending at 6:00 p.m., two fairs will take to Main Street: a juried art

Search Committee Proposes Timetable For Selection Of Village Manager

A timetable has been established for the review of applications and interviews of candidates for the position of Manchester Village Manager.

The Special Committee appointed by Village President John Hinkley will review all applications received as of August 16, 1985, comparing applicants qualifications against the statement of job description and desirable qualifications for the position.

The highest-ranked applicants will be requested to come to Manchester for interviews between August 17 and August 25.

After these screening interviews have been completed, the Committee will narrow the field of candidates, and the finalists will be interviewed on September 3.

The interviews will be open to the public as required by law.

It is hoped that an appointment can be recommended to Village Council on September 16, 1985.

fair of select artists selling paintings, photography, pottery, wood sculpture, fiber art, baskets, and more; and an arts and crafts show with handmade items of all sorts.

Interspersed throughout the day will be heritage craft demonstrations and the entertainment of Barber Shop Quartet sponsored by the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce and First of America.

Ongoing activities will include the usual sidewalk bargains of area businesses and a collectables sale by the Manchester Historical Society at 102 W. Main Street. In addition, that same group will open the Blacksmith Shop on East Main Street for a delightful glance at Manchester's past.

The Manchester Art Guild, along with help from supporters, will use proceeds from the Manchester Street Fair to provide awards to promising high school senior art students.

September 9 Date For Special Election

At a recent meeting the Manchester Board of Education took action to adopt a ballot resolution to be placed before the voters at the special election scheduled for September 9, asking for permission to levy 4.6 additional mills.

The timeline for the proposed millage is one year. The reading of the ballot proposition indicates that the revenues produced by this millage would be used to provide transportation services along with other general operating programs.

The intent of the millage is to maintain current academic programs. Two additional programs are scheduled for the 1985-86 school year. The first would provide special education services at the elementary level. The second would provide an Agri-Business class at the high school for 9th and 10th graders. The administration has advised the Board, however, of extreme difficulty in locating a teacher for this program.

Fifth Annual Manchester Mill Run

On Saturday, August 10, 1985, the Fifth Annual Manchester Mill Run will be held. The race, fun run/walk is being held in conjunction with the Manchester Street Fair. All proceeds will be donated to the Manchester Senior Citizens, Manchester Athletic Boosters and the Manchester Band Boosters.

The race starts downtown and finishes at the historic Manchester Mill, located on Main Street. Check in time is from 7:30

8:15 a.m. at the Mill. There will be a 10K, 2 mile race and 2 mile fun run/walk. All races will start at 8:30 a.m. The registration fee of $4.00 includes a free pancake breakfast at the K of C Hall. Breakfast will be served from 8:30

Northern Michigan

Manchester Enterprise August 15, 1901

As Viewed By A Citizen Of Manchester

Petoskey, Mich., Aug. 12.

Editor Enterprise: — The northern part of Michigan as seen from the car window is a desolate country. From the time we enter the pine country 'till we reach Petoskey there is not a single thrifty farm. To one unused to this country, the dismantled forests and sterility of the soil make one feel lonesome.

It fills him with pity for both the forests robbed of their grandeur, and for the farmer struggling with his stumpy farm for the mere pittance it yields him for his labor. The farmers of Manchester are kings, the humblest of their dwellings are palaces, compared with the farmers along the G.R. & I. railroad.

As we near Petoskey, the road runs for miles and miles through an unbroken forest of maple.

A trip into the country south and east from here showed me that there are some farms that look thrifty, but the farmer has had a hard time farming in this semi-mountainous country. It sometimes costs more than the crop is worth to harvest it.

These farmers keep a good many cows and sell their milk in towns. They fat no stock to sell. Keep just hogs enough for their pork. Most of the oat crop is yet

Mr. and Mrs. L.V. Kirk Parade Marshalls

Watch the Fair parade this year for some very special people. The Fair Board has asked L.V. (Chic) Kirk and his wife Florence to serve as Parade Marshalls this year.

And rightfully so, since it could be said that Mr. Kirk was responsible for the first Fair in Manchester.

That was in 1942, says Mr. Kirk, when appliances and machinery were painfully hard to come by. He began a display of water heaters, water softeners, hay dryers and GE appliances in the school that summer. GE even sent someone out to demonstrate the new ovens at a "Cooking School". It was so well received that he did it again the next summer, and in 1943 his goods were joined by those of the schoolchildren, who had set up displays "all up and down the halls," he said.

By the following summer they were joined by local businessmen, who set up booths that extended about 50' out the back door of the school building.

"After that it got too big," he recalls. "They had to move it over to the school grounds about 1945 when they added the carnival, farm equipment and animals and booths for the hand-work and baked goods."

There was only one time Mr. Kirk recalls in those early years when things didn't exactly come out as he had planned. He and his wife had passed out tickets at one of the Fairs (about 1950, he thinks) for small appliances that he was offering as door prizes. Of the seven prizes, five were claimed by his competitors!

Other than that surprise, things ran smoothly in those early days of the Fair.

"It's all the people working together that make it come out right," says Mr. Kirk. "It's the same way now, whether it's an ice cream social or the Chicken Broil or something else. The people here get together and make it work."

"The Carrier" Is Here

Swan Productions, the Ann Arbor based film company, is shooting scenes from their feature horror film "The Carrier" next week in downtown Manchester. Main Street will be closed between Clinton and Adrian streets from late Saturday, August 10th through late Thursday, August 15th. Film crews plan to be shooting all day Monday through Thursday and on Tuesday and Wednesday nights as well. Television and newspaper reporters from around the state will be covering the action on Wednesday the 14th.

Swan is still looking for extras to appear in the film and hard-working volunteers to help out with traffic, sets, and props.

Inquiries regarding these positions can be directed to the Swan location office at 428-8502 or 428-8509. The producers are also looking for any pre-1959 automobiles in any condition to feature in the film. Owners can respond at the same number.

20th Century Club Presents Library Donation

Janice Little presented a check on behalf of the 20th Century Club for $475 to Manchester Township Library which was received by Olg Nickels (center) and Margaret Goodrich (right).

This was made possible by club members and community support through bridge marathon, card parties and donations.

Mrs. Richard C. Fielder

The bridegroom's mother wore a purple silk crepe gown of floor length, and her flowers included a white corsage trimmed with lavender ribbon.

Mary Carey was the organist for the church ceremony and the vocal soloist was June Turnbull.

The newly married couple was honored at a buffet dinner for approximately 300 guests at the American Legion Hall in Manchester, following the ceremony.

Mary Frances Fielder and Susan Detting cut and served the wedding cake.

Following a 10-day wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Toronto, Ont., and the eastern coast, the couple will make their home in Clinton.

Both the new Mrs. Fielder and her husband are members of the faculty at the Manchester Middle School.

Mary Ann Detting and Richard C. Fielder repeated their marriage vows before the Rev. Fr. Raymond Schlinkert at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Manchester, in a 6:30 p.m. ceremony, Friday, July 5, 1985.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Detting of Dexter and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fielder of Manchester are the parents of the bridegroom.

Wearing her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin fashioned with lace yoke trimmed in tiny seed pearls and Cathedral train, the bride chose a fingertip-length veil falling from a Juliet cap.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Larry (Lynn) Wagner of Dexter served as her sister's matron of honor.

Her floor-length gown was of burgundy satin styled with lace yoke and she carried an arrangement of white roses and burgundy carnations.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Patrick Fielder of Manchester, to serve as best man.

Guests were seated by the bride's brother, Michael Detting of Grand Rapids, Curt Fielder and Craig Fielder, both of Manchester, brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Detting chose a floor length gown of periwinkle blue silk trimmed with seed pearls. Her white floral corsage had a contrasting blue ribbon.

We will begin working on the Fair Float Tuesday, August 13. We will meet daily from 11:00-5:00 at Ami Bragg's house.

Contrary to popular belief, bulls cannot see red—or any other color. It's movement that attracts their attention.

A camel can go without water for almost a week, and without food for much longer.

Hunter's Choice And Landowner Deer Permit Applications Available Now

Application forms for Hunter's Choice (either sex deer) and Landowner Limited Hunter's Choice deer licenses for designated areas in Michigan are available now, report Michigan's Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Wildlife Division personnel.

DNR studies show Michigan's deer herd has increased, setting the stage for an outstanding hunt this Fall. Over-winter deer losses were minimal and fawn recruitment excellent.

The number of Hunter's Choice licenses issued this Fall will be determined by the Natural Resources Commission at their August 8, 9, meeting in Escanaba. Hunter's Choice applications and a guide diagramming available deer management areas may be obtained at any DNR District and Regional Office; DNR's Information Services Center, Box 30028, 7th floor Mason Building, Lansing; 48909 and through licensed dealers. Deadline for application is September 24.

Hunter's Choice licenses will be valid for use during the regular firearm season from November 15-30, and during the muzzleloader firearm season, December 6-15.

A Hunter's Choice license and a valid firearm deer license allows a hunter to take a deer of either sex within the area/season specified on the license.

The Landowner Limited Hunter's Choice license and a valid firearm deer license authorizes the hunter to take a deer of either sex on their own lands, on adjoining private lands (with owner's permission), or on lands leased by the permit holder, lying within the area/season specified on the license.

Respite Care

You may not be familiar with the term "respite care," but Millie's mother is. Millie is a young woman with cerebral palsy. She lives with her mother who attends night school. Millie needs round-the-clock assistance, yet three nights a week her mother must be away at classes. Aware of the problem, neighbors from the local church have organized themselves to share their dinner hours on a rotating basis, with Millie. Sometimes, the meal is brought already prepared; sometimes, the neighbor comes in and cooks for Millie. If the routine varies, the result is always beneficial—Millie has dinner with a companion three nights a week while her mother is in school.

Respite care is any form of assistance that substitutes temporarily for the continuing care that a family or family member is providing for a chronically impaired child or adult, like Millie, in the home. Respite care gives family caregivers a break.

There is nothing new about the concept of respite care. Friends and neighbors always have pitched in to help families care for their chronically ill loved ones. Today, however, this traditional way of caring and sharing is being made even more effective by volunteer groups—by church, community and civic organizations—that are developing and refining the kinds of services and programs that families can count on when they need a respite from their care-giving responsibilities.

Two types of services especially suited for volunteer caregivers are "Sitter/Companion" and "Co-Op" programs. Sitters usually care for children, while companions assist older persons and the elderly. Both are recruited and trained by a sponsoring organization, which also matches the trained volunteers with families that need respite services.

A Co-op is a group of families, usually a dozen or fewer, who trade respite services with one another. Co-op programs once were utilized almost exclusively by parents of developmentally disabled children. More recently, they have been organized for families with frail elderly members. Although co-op members trade services for services among themselves, volunteers or volunteer organizations can play important roles in organizing programs and assisting with their operations.

There are many other ways of organizing and providing respite care services. All are similar in at least one respect, however, which is that they enable a caregiving family to take an occasional break from its responsibilities to an elderly family member, a developmentally disabled child or a mentally retarded individual. An evening at the movies, a meal away from home or even a trip to the shopping mall can give the members of a caregiving family a much-needed lift, allowing them to return home to their family responsibilities feeling refreshed and renewed.

Is respite care available in your community? There can be no overstating the importance of services and programs that permit impaired persons to remain in their own homes, surrounded by their families. The benefits to those persons, and to other family members, as well, are incalculable. At the same time, serving as a respite care companion can be very rewarding to the volunteer. By helping others, you help yourself, in more ways than you may presently be able to realize.

So, why not donate a little of your time and abilities, either by participating in a respite care program or helping to start one in your community? To get you started, Project Share, at the direction of the Department of Health and Human Services, has published an extensive "How-to" manual on setting up a voluntary respite program for family caregivers. For information on ordering this manual, and for other materials on respite care, write to Project Share, P.O. Box 2309, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

The Cancer People Are Beginning To Talk About

With President Regan's colorectal surgery, people in Michigan are becoming more aware of the second leading cancer killer in the U.S.

For the last year and a half, the American Cancer Society in Michigan has been conducting an intensive Public Education program on colorectal cancer. In 1984, the American Cancer Society here in Michigan reached almost 40,000 people with messages on prevention and early detection of colorectal cancer.

Leif Suhrland, M.D. and President of the Michigan Division, American Cancer Society states that "If everyone over 50 had check-ups for colorectal cancer, the cure rate could go from 44% to 75%." "In fact," he added, "President Reagan's recent operation, early detection of the problem, and the subsequent media attention will do a lot to help both doctors and patients to add a colorectal exam in their annual checkup—especially if they're over 50."

Already, in 1985 the American Cancer Society has reached 59,548 people, alerting them to the need for a colorectal check-up. The theme regarding cancer of the colon has been "THE CANCER NO ONE TALKS ABOUT." With the surge in interest caused by President Reagan's operation the phrase, thankfully, will have to be revised.

Gleaning Credit Bill Introduced

Farmers who allow gleaners in their fields and orchards after harvest to collect leftover vegetables and fruit for charity may be eligible for a credit on their state income tax, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Robert E. Smith. A bill has been introduced in the Michigan Legislature to extend the gleaning credit law for another three years.

"The gleaning credit law says that anyone who wishes to contribute these leftover vegetables and fruit to gleaners for a worthy cause or charity can take a credit on his or her state income tax, equal to 10% of the wholesale value of the product that is gleaned," Smith said.

"It is estimated that there are millions of pounds of good fruits and vegetables that go to waste each year that could be used for this purpose," he said. "The donated commodities don't interfere with the market because most charitable organizations can't afford to purchase the products."

The "Star Spangled Banner," was written in 1814, but did not become the national anthem until 1931.

Ask MESC

Question: I recently received a notice from MESC saying that they were paying unemployment benefits to an individual and charging my account. Well, this individual never worked for me. How can I get this corrected?

Answer: Occasionally, the wrong employer's experience account will be mistakenly charged. This occurs when the claimant's former employer is incorrectly identified or a transposition is made in recording the employer's account number.

To correct the problem, immediately contact the MESC office that made the unemployment benefit payment. The notice you received about the payment identifies the MESC office that made the payment and lists the office address on the reverse side.

The office staff will make the correction and you will be informed of the credit on a future notice.

With over 160,000 active covered employers in the state, many employers are bound to have similar names. To avoid potential confusion and assure proper charging, you should give your laid off employees a copy of our "Notice to Employees" (MESC form number 1711). This notice is available from MESC and identifies your correct name and mailing address.

If you have a question for MESC, send it to "Ask MESC," 7310 Woodward, Room 505, Detroit, MI 48202. Unfortunately, it is not possible to answer or acknowledge each letter. We do, however, read them all and print those of most general interest.

Agriculture In Action

Commodity Futures and The Farmer

The Commodity Futures Trading Commission is hoping to put farmers' minds at ease about futures trading by working with the exchanges in establishing a better audit trail. Kalo Hineman, the only farmer member of the CFTC, says he doesn't think there's a lot of wrongdoing in the market that affects the price of his wheat, but he can't really prove it to his farmer friends.

What is needed, according to Hineman, is a computerized system of time sequencing trade down to a minute or fraction of a minute. In this way, CFTC investigators could examine computer records to determine if a trader exceeded speculative position limits during a day, or if a floor broker traded for himself ahead of a customer, for example.

At an American Farm Bureau Federation Futures and Options Conference recently, Hineman conceded there may be some funny business in the market, but it usually takes the form of a squeeze by which someone is trying to drive up prices.

As a CFTC commissioner, Hineman sees market sensitive data that he says could probably clear up a lot of suspicions about price manipulation, but we'll never see that information. From what he can tell us, Hineman indicates the big companies do not act in concert. They often appear opposite one another or even on both sides of a market.

Over the centuries, many Pacific cultures have contributed to what we know as Hawaiian cuisine. The most notable Island feast, a luau, is well known worldwide. Traditionally, it features a kalua pig steamed in an underground oven as the main attraction — in Hawaiian, kalua means baked underground. Although still popular in Hawaii this method of cooking has certain limitations for the mainland cook! In our adaptation we've substituted a boneless pork shoulder (Boston butt), cut lengthwise. To give authentic flavor, it's marinated in naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce and liquid smoke. Made from soybeans and wheat, and brewed over time, naturally brewed soy sauce is an all-purpose seasoning that enhances the flavor of the pork, adding a richer, meatier taste. Although baked in the oven, the liquid smoke provides a hint of the traditional outdoor cooked flavor quickly and easily. To complement your kalua pork, serve a bowl of fresh seasonal fruits and a cool and refreshing tropical beverage.

KALUA PORK ROAST
 3 pound boneless pork shoulder (Boston butt)
 1/4 cup Kikkoman Soy Sauce
 1 1/2 teaspoons liquid smoke

Cut pork in half lengthwise. Place pieces in large plastic bag. Combine soy sauce and liquid smoke; pour over pork. Press air out of bag; tie top securely. Turn over several times to coat pieces well. Refrigerate 8 hours, or overnight, turning bag over occasionally. Remove from marinade and place in shallow baking pan; cover with aluminum foil. Bake at 350°F. 30 minutes. Discard foil; turn pieces over. Bake 1 hour longer, or until meat thermometer inserted into thickest part registers 170°F. To serve, cut across grain into thin slices.
 Makes 6 servings.

20th Annual Championship Rodeo

Dodge Ram Tough Trucks and the Saline Jaycees present the 20th Annual Budweiser Championship Rodeo August 9, 10 and 11th at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds in Saline.

The professional rodeo is sanctioned by the International Professional Rodeo Association (IPRA) and is expected to draw contestants from all over the United States to compete for over $12,000 in prize money and championship points.

Each rodeo performance will include six approved contests: Bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, saddle-branch riding, cowgirls barrel racing and bull riding as well as a calf scramble for the local youngsters.

In addition to the competitive events the rodeo features comic relief provided by the rodeo clowns. This year's specialty acts feature John Gilstrap of Greenville, S.C. Gilstrap tours nationally during the winter months with the nations largest producer of indoor coliseum rodeos.

Rodeo clowns and the show's opening pageantry provide color and comedy while the professional rodeo contestants and award winning rodeo livestock provide the wild-west action.

For each of the last thirteen years the rodeo has been produced by the award winning J Bar J Rodeo Company of Clare, Michigan. Four-time Runner-up Rodeo Producer of the Year, the J Bar J Rodeo Company has won 17 IPRA championship awards in the last thirteen years for their outstanding animals. In four of the last six years J Bar J bulls have been named Bucking Bull of the Year as chosen by the cowboys themselves. This year J Bar J features the Saddlebranch Horse of the Year and the Bucking horse of the International Finals Rodeo for 1984!

Color, comedy and fast paced action make professional rodeo excellent family entertainment. Family priced, Rodeo is one of America's fastest growing spectator sports. Proceeds from the annual rodeo go to the Saline Jaycees.

Friday is WCXI Radio night at 8 p.m., Saturday is WWWW Radio night at 8 p.m. and Sunday is McDonald's FAMILY DAY at the rodeo at 3 p.m.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for children and are available at all Ticket World locations and in Saline: Lodi Food Mart and at Citizens Bank and Trust, or tickets are $1 extra at the gate. Sunday, FAMILY DAY, children (12 & under) tickets are only one dollar ($1) with a coupon available at ALL Ann Arbor area McDonald's.

Health Center Seeks Senior Volunteers
William Wheeler Named Citizen Of The Year

Catherine McAuley Health Center is looking for volunteers over the age of 60 who would like to use their skills and experience to help others.

After a training session sponsored by Catherine McAuley Health Center and The University of Michigan's Turner Clinic, these volunteers will become peer counselors. They will help their senior citizen friends and neighbors cope with some of life's frustrations, obtain medical information and care and access other community services.

Peer counselors meet once a month for training and to volunteer their time in whatever way their skills and capabilities allow.

To volunteer or to request more information, call the CMHC volunteer office at 572-3016.

Wildlife Workshop

Where: Pioneer High School, Ann Arbor, 601 W. Stadium Blvd., across from the U of M football stadium; we will meet in the west cafeteria.

When: Thursday, August 8, 1985, 7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Guest Speaker: Glen Dudderar, Wildlife Specialist, Michigan State University; assisted by Bill Casello and Dave Stapp, IPM Scout.

Topics: Plantings and techniques for attracting wildlife, strategies and materials for controlling wildlife without chemicals, slide presentations on urban wildlife, field study in the outdoor laboratory at Pioneer High, questions and answers on any wildlife subject.

Cost: $2.00 to cover refreshments and publications.

This meeting is offered to both homeowners and commercial growers. We welcome children, depending on their maturity and interest, of course, but a 10 year old would enjoy our program immensely.

William Wheeler of Webberville has been named Citizen of the Year by the Webberville Business and Professional Association. This is the first time the association has made this award which is designed to recognize outstanding community contribution by an individual.

A plaque recognizing this contribution will be presented August 7 at an invitational dinner and "Roast" sponsored by the association. Public open house is planned for August 11, at the Webberville High School gym, from one to four o'clock during the 3RD Annual Cornfest.

Wheeler has been a teacher of agriculture at Webberville High School since 1966. While much recognition came to him during this time for his contribution and work with Future Farmers of America (FFA) and various professional and community organizations, the Citizen of the Year Award particularly recognizes Wheeler's record in producing outstanding students from the ranks of his high school agriculture courses. Forty eight of Wheeler's students have been named FFA State Farmers, 42 of them at Webberville. From his

Higher Shipping Costs Could Nullify African Relief Efforts

If the maritime industry is successful in its attempt to increase the requirement that 50 percent of food aid moving from the United States must be carried on U.S. flagships, much of this nation's fundraising efforts for drought-stricken Africa could be nullified, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"It's unfortunate that at the same time worldwide efforts are underway to raise funds for African food relief, lobbying efforts are underway that would raise the cost of shipping that food," Almy said. "An amount equal to the money raised at the recent Live Aid Concert could be lost to higher shipping costs if the increased levels of the maritime industry is lobbying for are approved."

Almy said that Farm Bureau will strongly oppose any effort to increase the 50 percent requirement.

Last February, a federal court ruled that the Cargo Preference Act covered all government-sponsored ocean cargoes such as food aid and blended credit. Farm Bureau charges that the requirement adds more than $50 to the cost of a ton of grain.

"We would prefer that agricultural exports be exempted entirely from cargo preference and that subsidies for the maritime industry not come out of the U.S. Department of Agriculture budget."

APPLE-TUNA-AND-PASTA SALAD

Makes 4 main-course servings

1 cup spiral-type pasta, cooked, drained and rinsed with cool water (about 2 cups cooked pasta)

1 5/8 or 7-ounce can water-packed albacore tuna, drained and coarsely flaked

6 cherry tomatoes, quartered or 1 medium tomato, cut into wedges

1 1/2 New Zealand Granny Smith apples

1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley

1/2 cup chopped sour pickle

1/2 cup diced red onion

Dressing

1/4 cup vegetable oil

1 tablespoon white wine vinegar

1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard

1/4 teaspoon white pepper

1 medium garlic clove, pressed or minced

For dressing: Combine all ingredients and mix well; set aside.

Combine pasta, tuna, tomato, pickle, onion and parsley in medium-sized bowl. Core apples but do not peel; chop or dice and add to bowl.

Add dressing and toss gently but thoroughly.

Cover and chill several hours to allow flavors to blend.

CHOCOLATE DIVINITY

2 1/2 cups sugar

1/2 cup light corn syrup

1/2 cup water

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 egg whites

2 squares (2 ounces) bitter chocolate, melted and cooled

1 teaspoon vanilla

1 cup chopped pecans

In a saucepan, combine the sugar, corn syrup, water, and salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Reduce the heat and cook without stirring until the temperature on a candy thermometer reaches 248°F — the firm-ball stage.

Just one minute before this temperature is reached, beat the egg whites on a large platter until stiff.

Pour half of the syrup mixture over the beaten whites, slowly, beating constantly until blended. Cook the remaining syrup to 272°F — the thread stage on the candy thermometer. Add the hot syrup mixture to the first mixture, 1 teaspoonful at a time, beating well after each addition with an electric beater. After the last addition, beat about 5 minutes. Add the melted chocolate, vanilla, and nuts. Beat until the mixture loses its gloss and holds its shape when dropped from a spoon — about 5 minutes more. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto wax paper.

Makes 1 1/4 pounds.

Milan Centennial Underway August 10th

This restored North Street residence will be one of six homes featured on Milan's Centennial House Tour on Sunday, August 18.

Nine days packed with community activities will get underway here on August 10 as residents kick-off a festive one-hundredth birthday party marking the town's incorporation as a General Law Village.

Milan is proud of its history which began in 1830 when John Marvin built the first log house in a wilderness near the Saline River on what is now West Main Street.

The first village council meeting was held March 26, 1885 with N.C. Putnam as village president. A re-enactment of the signing of the charter was held earlier this year.

Today, Ronald E. Weber is serving his third term as mayor of Milan which now numbers 4,200 residents. It has spread into both Monroe and Washtenaw counties. Nearly 50 employees are required to operate the police, street, water and sewer departments in addition to the sewage treatment plant, city offices and library. A 30-man volunteer fire department serves Milan and its adjoining areas. Officials look to a current $12 million wastewater treatment plant expansion to open doors to the city's future growth and development.

Activities on Saturday will begin with a Rotary Club pancake breakfast followed by what is expected to be Milan's largest parade at 1 p.m. Then, at 3 p.m. firemen representing more than a dozen departments from Washtenaw and Monroe counties will square off in a lively waterball contest. A chicken barbecue will follow in scenic Wilson Park with a Kangaroo Kourt and street dance closing out the day's festivities.

Activities officially begin on Sunday, Heritage Day. A Masonic Lodge home cooked breakfast is slated from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. followed by a promenade and afternoon home tour of six historic houses and the old Union Church, constructed in 1866. The structure has been used by innumerable denominations and currently houses the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. All of the homes, with one exception, are located within a three block area of the Centennial Headquarters on Tolan Street where tour tickets may be purchased.

A Sunday afternoon ice cream social set on the spacious lawn of the Hack House at 775 County Street, will be given by Milan's Historical Society. Activities there will include old fashioned games, several performing musical groups, historical exhibits and tours of the beautiful 10 room white frame home and out buildings acquired by the Society in 1980.

Full and half day industrial tours will highlight the city's industry on August 12. Plants open to tours include Milan Screw Products, Owens-Illinois, Precision Devices, Samuel Bingham Company, Bimac and the Federal Correctional Institution. Tourists must sign up in advance and bus transportation will be provided. (The F.C.I. tour is restricted to adults 18 and older.)

Monday's other activities will include a basketball tournament and the opening of an historical pageant which will run for five consecutive nights in Wilson Park. Pre-pageant entertainment will begin at 7:45 p.m. each evening.

Tuesday, Pioneer Day, will feature a snowbird picnic in the park. The summer picnic counters a gathering of Milan's winter vacationers held each year in Florida.

Wednesday's Agriculture Day will be filled with farming activities and a homemaker fair with a garbage can dinner at the Dick Versham farm on Willow Road beginning at 5 p.m. Sport and Recreation Day is set for Thursday, August 15. Fishing and horseshoe contests are planned and a demonstration of horsemanship will be given by the 4H Easy Riders.

Friday is designated as Youth Day and will be filled with games and contests for children and teens. Free health check-ups, a sheriff's department safety program and a picnic lunch at the American Legion are planned for the youngsters. A teen dance with a local disc jockey is set for 9 p.m. Also scheduled for Friday is a Civitan chicken broil.

Saturday will be filled with markets - farmers, flea and arts and crafts. A nationally noted quilt show will be held at the Wabash Street fire station. A fun run and boating activities will fill the afternoon.

More picnics, games and sports are planned for Sunday, August 18, the celebration's final day. Sanford Road Park will be the setting for model plane flying. Then, at 6:30 p.m. a time capsule will be buried at the Wilson Park War Memorial followed by a sunset Ecumenical worship service and closing of the Centennial celebration.

More information about events, schedules and locations is available from Centennial Headquarters at 106 Tolan Street, or by calling (313) 439-7575.

Fall Tree Sale Announced

The Board of Directors of the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District has announced the District's Annual Fall Tree Seedling Sale. This is the sixth time this program has been offered to the citizens of Washtenaw County in addition to the annual Spring Sale.

The purpose of the tree sale is to offer landowners seedlings for conservation uses which include, reforestation, soil erosion control, wildlife habitat, windbreaks, and aesthetic purposes.

Five species will be available: Austrian Pine, White Pine, Norway Spruce, Colorado Blue Spruce and Douglas Fir. Orders with payment in full will be accepted until Friday, October 4, 1985. Trees can be picked up on Wednesday, October 9 and Thursday, October 10 at the Soil Conservation District Office, between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

For more information and to obtain order forms, contact the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor, 1/2 mile West of Zeeb Road, Telephone (313) 761-6721.

The year 1934 saw the production of an immensely strong synthetic fiber later patented under the name nylon. It was first used as bristles for toothbrushes.

NOTICE

The regular meeting of the Manchester Community Schools Board of Education scheduled for August 19 has been cancelled.

The rescheduled meeting date will be posted at another time. The date has not yet been set.

Northern Michigan

to green to harvest. Rye is standing in the shock waiting to be drawn.

I saw one small field of wheat that was yet to green to cut.

By talking with some of the farmers, I learn that when the farmer of Manchester is ready to start the plow his brother farmer up here is snow bound. Most of the corn in this section is but an imitation of that at home.

The corn in the sandy land is a poor imitation of nothing.

Last Tuesday Mr. Gish, a noted deer hunter, took me to Oden for a tramp through the forests. Two or three miles out from Oden are some deserted cabins the only sign of civilization we saw 'till we reach Conway. We climbed a hill from which we could see the bay, Petoskey and the surrounding towns. It seemed as though we might take a run and jump and land right in the bay while in reality it is ten miles away. This country made me think of what the Irishman said, "A country in which the hand of man had never set foot, bedad." There were no roads, no paths except the ones made by the deer as they go from one feeding place to another.

Of course most of the marketable timber is gone, but there still stands some fine trees, as a moment of what the forests once were. Wherever fires have swept over the country there has come up in their wake acres and acres of rasp and blackberries.

Last Wednesday I went with a party from here to Topinabee. A trip over this inland route is one full of enjoyment. The twin screw steamer Topinabee leaves Oden at 8:15 a.m. We go across Crooked lake, then into Crooked river the crookedest navigable river in the world. The ever present joker may well say that while going one meets himself returning. As we round the Devil's elbow it really seems as if we met ourself returning. It is perhaps a part of the novelty of the trip to watch the engineer as he operates his engines as the boat makes those sharp turns. The channel of the stream is narrow and the boat if allowed to get out of it would be grounded.

The scenery along this river is the same the red man saw when he stalked his game along the banks. No mark of habitation is visible. The howl of the wolf made the forest echo a few nights ago, so the paper here said. But the day I was on the boat we heard no wolf though one of the party claims to have seen some on the shore.

As we enter Burt lake we see to our left the old moss covered church erected by Pere Marquette. The Indian village is now gone, they having lost this property through failure to pay taxes. The land was bought for taxes and the Indian village burned. The state has recently restored this land again to them. So the last of the Ottawas will come back to live again on the banks of Burt lake.

Nine miles across Burt lake then we reach Columbus landing. This is a beautiful resort place with its shady nooks, gushing fountains and waterfalls. A place where one would forget for a while the hurry of the work-a-day world. These people all come from Columbus, Ohio. No one is eligible to live there except he lives at Columbus.

A little way from Columbus is the old fashioned village Indian River. Indian River is five miles long, the scenery is more beautiful than that along Crooked river. From Indian river we go into Mullet lake the largest inland lake in the state. Across this beautiful land and Topinabee is reached in time for dinner. There is a large hotel where the wants of the inner man are supplied.

An hour and a half here and again we board the steamer, retrace the morning's trip and reach Petoskey in time for supper.

Those who have traveled extensively tell me this is the only trip of its kind on the American continent. It surely is a very enjoyable trip.

I had the pleasure the other day of meeting Oscar Talcott of Cheboygan who is a cousin of Mrs. Blosser. We had a very enjoyable visit at the dinner table.

J.M. Lamb.

Applications Available For Seven Private Sector Business Reps

The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners is scheduled to consider applications for seven Private Sector Business representatives to the Private Industry Council of the Washtenaw County/City of Ann Arbor/Livingston County (WALTEC) at the September 4, 1985, session of the Board at 7:00 p.m. in the Board Room, Administration Building.

One page resumes should be addressed to the lead business agency in your area, i.e. Chamber of Commerce. Those resumes received by August 19, 1985, will be submitted to the Board of Commissioners for their consideration in September, 1985.

SOUP-ER CAMPSITE SUPPER

For Fishermen — as well as the stay-at-homes — here's a flavorful recipe idea from the Lipton Kitchens.

Simply season trout or other freshwater fish inside and out with convenient instant onion soup mix. As the fish cooks, it takes on a delightful onion flavor. For an interesting complement, serve with a tasty tomato sauce easily prepared at home. Just combine instant tomato almonds in a small plastic bag and tuck in with the supplies. At the campsite add boiling water to the sauce ingredients, and instantly you have a rich, flavorful tomato sauce to enhance your prize catch!

For a great addition to your cookbook collection, send for the colorful new 32-page cookbook, "Cooking With Ease...Recipes from Lipton® Cup-a-Soup™," full of time-saving meals and quick tips. Just send your name, address and zip code along with $5.00 to cover postage and handling (checks made payable to Thomas J. Lipton, Inc. — no stamps or coins please) to:

Cooking With Ease, P.O. Box 7861-MR, Clinton, IA 52736. Please allow 6 to 8 weeks for delivery.

FISHERMAN'S PRIDE 2 envelopes Lipton® Onion Cup-a-Soup™ 2 trout or freshwater fish, cleaned 2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs 1/4 cup butter, margarine or oil Instant Camp-Style Tomato Sauce*

Sprinkle 1/2 envelope instant onion soup mix inside each trout. Mix remaining envelope instant onion soup mix with bread crumbs; coat trout. In large skillet, melt butter and cook trout, turning once, 10 minutes or until fish flakes. Serve, if desired, with Instant Camp-Style Tomato Sauce. Makes 2 servings. *Instant Camp-Style Tomato Sauce:

In small plastic bag, mix together 1 envelope Lipton Tomato Cup-a-Soup, 1/4 teaspoon dill weed and 1 tablespoon slivered almonds. To serve, blend with 1/2 cup boiling water.

Hit Or Miss

by Farley

Extra, Extra - We have just ascertained from a friend of ours an absolutely foolproof way of winning the Michigan Lotto. He tells us that he has a tape recorder at home and that he takes a paper plate and divides it into sections and numbers them from 1 to 40 then puts it on the empty spindle of the tape recorder and turns on the machine and what numbers come up to a mark on the spindle when he stops it are the ones that he plays.

The most astonishing things happen in Washington D.C. The other day the members of one of the committees in charge of eliminating some of the unnecessary items therein came across one totaling $16,000 for the translation of the contents of Playboy each month into Braille for the use of the sightless folks of the nation. Now we're glad to see that the government is trying to help the unfortunate of the country but just how the contents of Playboy can be translated into Braille is too great for me to understand - how about you?

And then there is the tale of the woman who down in Virginia, sued an athletic supply store for $850,000, saying that she was falsely arrested for shoplifting a basketball. She claims that she was in the store looking for exercise equipment and did not swipe the basketball - that she was merely some eight months pregnant.

Michigan residents want Governor Blanchard to do much more than lower taxes. He received many more than 100,000 letters from residents of the state. They covered a wide range of subjects. One woman mailed in some samples of catsup asking that he have them tested for narcotics.

Another insisted that allowing zoo animals nibble on folks lawns would cause less air pollution than that caused by the use of lawn mowers.

And still another asked that the governor order her neighbor leave the state forever.

Donna Kaufmann, director of communications usually sends these writers who seem serious, polite letters of response. She says that "Not everyone is nuts. They like to vent their frustrations by writing someone in government."

Obviously names can't be used herein but we have been assured that this tale is true. The subject of the tale sometimes imbibes a bit too much 'is said and so becomes somewhat obnoxious so the other day his companions left him in the bar and went off without him. He solved the problem by marching down the street and ordering a large pizza to be delivered to his home. He then talked the delivery boy into taking him along on the delivery trip.

One ten year old was recognized as a genius and he recently attended a luncheon in Detroit and was asked to add up all the numbers from 1 to 100. It took him eight seconds. How? He knew each pair of numbers - plus 100, 3 plus 99, 90, and so on down to 50 plus 51 equalled 101. So he just figured 50 times 101 and came up with the answer 5050.

We were told the other day about the gal who was an ardent baseball fan who was invited to a luncheon in Detroit where she met Mark Fidrych the former baseball pitcher who was known as "The Bird" and Jim Campbell, president of the Detroit Tigers.

Campbell revealed that Fidrych who was an overnight sensation, never had an agent to represent him and that the Tiger Organization had offered him a six year contract. Pitcher Fidrych turned down the offer because he felt that his pitching arm would never be the same again and remarked that Mark was remarkably honest compared to many baseball players.

A year or so ago we wrote an article about the resurgence in interest in Teddy Bears which were a major part of many children's lives and from that time on we have noted that interest in Teddy Bears has seemed to increase steadily. The latest evidence of this fact was the note that on Saturday, July 20, at Lapeer, Michigan, where they observed Teddy Bear Day with a day long observance - with games and contests, a Teddy Bear Wedding and with prizes awarded in many categories. For example the oldest one was 75 years of age and the largest one was six and a half feet tall. Hurray for Teddy Bears, may they live forever.

Some people seem to be lost in thought because they find themselves in a very strange place.

Just sitting there you are moving in at least four directions; around the earth's axis, around the sun, around the Milky Way and off with the galaxy into space. How come you're not dizzy - or are you?

New System Installed At State Department For Hearing Impaired

A new system to answer telephone inquiries from deaf individuals or individuals with a hearing impairment has just been installed by the Department of State, Secretary of State Richard Austin announced today.

To obtain information, an individual must first have access to a tele-communications device (TTY) for the deaf. Many such devices are now located in private and public facilities throughout the state.

Individuals desiring information on vehicle registration, titling vehicles, voter registration, automotive repair, location of branch offices, elections, and other department services may dial (517) 322-1477 through their telecommunications device for the deaf. The Department of State Information Services Section (Hours 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.), receives the information on a screen attached to a telecommunications device located in the Motor Vehicle Division in Lansing.

Answers to the inquiry are then sent on the wire to a screen on the caller's telecommunications device.
