Manchester Plastics Carnival for United Way Sunday, October 6th

Manchester Plastics' approach to the United Way Drive is to have fun while contributing to a worthy cause...and they are doing just that!

With Employees' contributions and pledge cards already turned in to their Captains at work, plans are in full swing for a United Way Carnival at Carr Park on Sunday, October 6th from 12 noon to 4 p.m. to raise money for the Drive.

The Hindsight Band, featuring Brad Frey, (who is also employed as Production Control Clerk at Manchester Plastics), and his fellow band members: Paul, Brad, and Marty Myers and Benny Herrera are donating their fine musical talents to the United Way Fund-Raising Company Event.

The Carnival will feature key employees in a Dunk Tank, (donated by the Men's Club), and a Bingo Game from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. put on by Morgan Kern of the American Legion, who in addition to donating his time and talents, is also donating tables and chairs from the American Legion for use at the park. There will be Pie-throwing, Smash-the-Car, a Bake Sale and Carnival Booths and Games for kids and adults alike.

The David Wing Carnival from Jackson is donating a Moon Walk, Kiddie Ride, use of his ticket booth, a game, and other concessions, such as cotton candy, pop, caramel apples, and so forth. All proceeds from the sale of tickets for the Carnival will be donated to United Way, compliments of the Employees of Manchester Plastics, Inc. and all of the above who are donating so

Safety Programs For Children

Manchester Police and Klager school will be working cooperatively to present two safety programs for elementary children.

This week Police officers will speak to assembled students about a variety of safety issues including stranger safety and what to do in emergencies when at home alone. The "Officer Friendly" program reminds children of steps they can take to insure their own well being.

On Thursday, October 10th at 3:05 in the Klager gym, an after school program will be made available for parents and children. This will include basic information about abduction safety. Parents will also have an opportunity to get a copy of their child's fingerprints to keep on file at home. All community members are invited to participate.

generously of their talents, time and equipment.

In addition to the above, The United Way Committee of Employees at Manchester Plastics have been busy planning and organizing other fun, fund-raising activities in the Company for the remainder of the month - activities such as raffles of gifts donated by vendors and others for the United Way Drive, bake sales, drawings, games and so forth. The Committee members at Manchester Plastics are: Jody Wilson, Erma Arnett, Mark Kelley, Dale Hathaway, Cliff Hanson, Sandy Bivins, Mari Koebbe, Ginger Risner, Gary Zeller, Jerry Braun, Rick Richardson, Marie Hale and many other behind-the-scene employee-supporters of the United Way Campaign.

The enthusiastic support of the Manchester Plastics' Company and Employees for the Manchester United Way Drive is an example of people uniting in the spirit of giving and definitely fulfilling the promise of this year's campaign slogan to: "Continue The Drive In '85"...and Manchester Plastics, Inc., as in previous years, is giving generously, doing it in fun and in style!

Educators Speak At State Math Conference

The Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics Conference being held at Jackson Community College on October 3-5, will feature four Manchester educators as speakers.

Klager teachers Teddy Groeb and Janice Little will do two presentations, one a workshop on measurement and comparison for primary teachers and second a section describing their successful "One Hundredth Day of School" activities.

Judy Mann, a Manchester resident who now teaches in Napoleon, will present a workshop on Place Value concepts and also assist other educators at the Mathematics Laboratory.

JoAnn Okey, Principal of Klager Elementary, will speak to state principals about supervising effective mathematics teaching and lead workshops on patterning and graphing. Mrs. Okey also serves as the exhibit chairperson for the conference.

Conferences are an excellent opportunity to share expertise and glean new ideas to improve instruction for children.

A New And Novel Industry In Sharon

Manchester Enterprise
February 3, 1981

Ed. Enterprise: - A few days ago I unexpectedly ran into a shop for the manufacture of wooden shoes, and the sight was so novel that a brief description of what I saw may be of interest to your readers.

These shoes were not of the coarse, bungling kind, that at times adorn the feet of some aged Teuton, where the "hollow of the foot makes a hole in the ground," but well-shaped, sized, and regulated as to rights and lefts. The inside is as smooth as a leather boot, and the whole as white as the wood from which they were made. The artist informed me his shoes were all made from bass wood, and one man could make eight or ten pairs in a day.

He was just filling an order from Chicago for 100 pairs, and has quite a trade with Milwaukee and other western cities. He has also regular customers scattered over this state. A child was playing "horse and cart" with one that seemed to be larger than the others; it contained a head of cabbage, two potatoes and the bottom of a glass lamp. I was told this was for Charley Sanford, and he could not complete the pair until a fresh supply of larger timber was received.

Our manufacturer is very cautious about working in the presence of strangers, and how he manages to dig out the inside of the shoe, and leave no mark of chisel, gouge, or knife, is a mystery.

Bloodmobile October 14th

Donating blood to the Red Cross is a Manchester tradition. Since 1951, Red Cross Bloodmobiles have stopped at Manchester one, two, three and four times a year depending upon the emergency needs of area hospitals. During these 34 years a total of over 7800 pints of blood have been collected for the South-eastern Michigan Regional Blood Center, where it is typed, classified and checked for virulent diseases before being brought back to the 6 area hospitals as needed.

"October 14, we are expecting to welcome the 8000th donor at the clinic," says Marja Warner, chairman of the day. Knights of Columbus Hall will host the Open Clinic at 106 E. Madison Street, (next to the Post Office) from 12 to 6 p.m. The Altar Society of St. Mary's Catholic Church is furnishing the Canteen and assisting Beta Sigma Phi Sorority with the Nursery for donors by jon Gross ran for the conversion and knotted the score at 8.

It was Homecoming Night and Queen Leslie Duncan and a large crowd saw quarterback Rob Smith toss 19 yards to Bill Broucek for the game-winning touchdown.

In the first quarter the Comets stunned the Dutch by rambling 69 yards on a pass play. The extra point kick never got off the ground as the center hiked the ball poorly. Their kicker picked up the loose sphere and lofted it into the endzone for a good 2-point conversion, 0-8.

We finally got going in the second quarter and with 5:31 left until intermission, Rob scored on a one-yard run. Halfback Ken

There was no scoring in the third quarter of play, but at 9:02 in the final stanza, Rob hit Bill for the clinching 6 points. For the remainder of the game Hanover Horton struggled to go ahead, but key interceptions by Scott Gross and Bill Broucek sealed off the airways, while Tom Neff, Andy Royle and Matt Mazurek blocked their ground game.

Halfback Ken Gross had his biggest night as a Varsity member motoring for 138 yards.

Our JV football squad was also victorious, 8-6, when they played Hanover Horton on Thursday.

Some time ago we wrote a column about Women's Lib, making a bit of fun about it and confessing our ignorance about it, maintaining that my wife and I had had no personal contact with it; that we shared and shared alike whatever we had and went without whatever we didn't have and that we shared each other's tastes in most all things except perhaps yogurt and sauerkraut and that we enjoyed discussing all things with each other and in doing most all things together. LOCAL BIRCH LEADER CONDEMNNS CHINA PACT

"How has the United States become a second-rate power in less than two decades? How have the Communists meanwhile become a superpower? By our leaders making suicidal deals such as this one with our enemies," says Louise Rickert, Chapter Leader of the Washtenaw Chapter of the John Birch Society. Rickert was referring to a pact approved by President Reagan on July 23, that will make available to Red China as much as $12 billion worth of nuclear technology.

"After the so-called Sino-Soviet split, our leaders did the same thing for Moscow," Rickert says. "Claiming the rift proved that the Soviets were 'mellowing', the United States poured vast amounts of credit and high technology into the Soviet Union. Our leaders said aiding Moscow was in the interests of peace. But, thanks to our help, the Soviet Union has become the most advanced military power and the foremost threat to world peace today."

Mrs. Rickert added: "Instead of learning a lesson from this suicidal folly, our government is determined to compound its error." She notes that our current policy of aiding Red China is still premised on the notion that Peking and Moscow are bitter enemies. "Justifying the Administration's pledge to supply Peking even with military aid, Defence Secretary Weinberger referred to China as our 'ally' against what he called our common enemy, the Soviet Union. But Peking emphatically denies it is allied with the U.S. against Moscow. In fact, right while it was signing the nuclear pact with the U.S., Red China struck a $14 billion trade pact with Moscow. And, on July 22, Peking announced it will teach Russian to the Chinese masses to cement Sino-Soviet ties." Rickert says, "Red China and the Soviet Union are inseparably found together in a common conspiracy to impose Communism on the entire world. Giving aid and comfort to either tyranny is morally wrong and strategically suicidal."

"Protect Our Children"

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley and State School Superintendent Phillip E. Runkel announced the start today of a comprehensive "Protect Our Children" program for parents and children to learn about preventing child abduction.

"The Protect Our Children program was developed during the last few months to heighten awareness in the schools and homes of our state about how to prevent child abduction," Kelley said. "While the numbers may vary on just how many children are abducted each year, this program is designed as a preventative measure encouraging parents and children to sit down and discuss the matter together."

"This is an educational program," Runkel said, "it is not intended to scare anyone. It is intended to remind parents and children that child abduction is a serious matter, one that should be discussed. The more that both parents and children learn about prevention, the better off we all are."

The program developed by the Office of Attorney General, in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Education, will enable children in both public and non-public schools to obtain the brochure, take it home and discuss it with their family.

"The brochure is very readable for parents and understandable for children," Runkel explained. "The points made are oftentimes common sense, but this is one of the first of its kind to put that much information in one package. I believe it is a must for all families in this state with school age children."

"As the chief law enforcement officer of this state, the Attorney General's Office is often called in after the fact. This program is designed to do something before tragedy strikes," Kelley said. "The brochures and posters are available to any interested individual or group by contacting the Attorney General's Office or their local school."

Klager School News

Kathleen shows her monarch butterfly "Spotty" resting in the bug cage her dad built for her.

My Monarch

by Kathleen Baran

One day my dad took me to the woods to look for a monarch caterpillar. I found three, but kept the biggest one. I found it on a milkweed plant which is what they eat. I brought it home in a little bug box. The next day it was in the V shape. That means it is ready to spin its chrysalis. The next day it was in its chrysalis. It took a week to turn into a butterfly. When I woke-up it was still in its chrysalis, it was see-through. After I came home from church it was out of its chrysalis. When it came out of its chrysalis, its wings were all crinkled up. It took a few minutes to pump, then it flowed from its body to its wings. I named him Spotty because it had spots on the outside of its wings. I let it go at school.

Note: Kathleen brought her monarch butterfly to class at Klager school. The children all had an opportunity to get a close view of this beautiful butterfly. At the end of the day Spotty was released from his cage. He flew in circles over the class as if to say "good-bye" then he rode the air currents up and away over the school.

Chapter I Educational Assistance Program

Lots of exciting things are happening with the Chapter I Reading Program this year.

This program is funded by Chapter I money from the State and is in addition to regular classroom instruction. We are now going to offer tutorial assistance in Reading and Math by four Chapter I tutor aides. The aides will be Sandi Kwolek, Marilyn Schulze, Sarah Laskowski and Kay Schook. Approximately 50 students will be able to receive additional reading or math assistance two times weekly from the Chapter I tutor aide.

It is hoped that by strengthening the special skills of math or reading the student will find other classes easier and school will be a place where he or she can enjoy success.

Major Hunting Rule Changes For 1985-86 Seasons

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Law Enforcement Division staff reminds hunters to keep abreast of hunting changes for the 1985/86 seasons. These changes are noted in the 1985-86 Michigan Hunting and Trapping Guide that can be obtained from all DNR Offices and license dealers throughout the state.

Hunters may not hunt with firearms on ANY lands during daylight hunting hours from August 15 through March 31, 1986, unless a hat, cap, vest, jacket, rangear or other outerwear of highly visible color (hunter orange) is worn and is visible from all sides. During the firearm deer season ALL hunters, including archers, must comply with this rule. This law does not apply, however, to those hunting waterfowl, bobcat, crow or wild turkey, nor to bow hunters seeking deer or bear during the open archery season.

New hunting hours for 1985-86 are set to begin one-half hour before sunrise and end one-half hour after sunset. Exceptions to this rule include migratory birds and turkeys (see 1985-86 Waterfowl and Turkey Guides for specific hunting times).

Artificial lights (hand carried or on person) may be used during September 1 - March 31, by a hunter carrying an unloaded gun while following dogs and at the point of kill for taking raccoons (treed), opossums, skunks and foxes during the open seasons on those animals.

Small game hunters should note that season or yearly bag limits have been taken off rabbits, squirrels, pheasants, ruffed grouse and sharp-tail grouse; however, daily and possession limits remain the same as last year.

For rabbit hunters, a new statewide season was established from September 15 - March 31, for squirrel hunters a much longer season exists, running from September 15 - January 1, 1986, statewide.

Additional changes in the 1985-86 hunting season include bears being protected in the Upper Peninsula (Zone 1) during the November 15-30 firearm deer season. Bear baiting restrictions this year also prevented bait stations from being established prior to August 27 or after October 31, in the U.P. and October 7 in the northern Lower Peninsula. Bait can only be placed on the ground now and no containers can be left in the woods.

Hunters should note that all trapping has been banned in the Sleeping Bear Dunes and Pictured Rocks National Lakeshores.

Smoking's Detrimental Impact On "Killer Cells" Increases Risk of Lung Cancer

Recent studies show cigarette smoke to be a major cause of defects in the lungs that may increase the chances of developing lung cancer. Though all the specific details of the process have not been discovered, cigarette smoke seems to decrease the effectiveness of the "killer cells" within the lung that are a major natural defense against lung cancer.

David N. Weissman, MD, of the Tulane University School of Medicine and the Veteran's Administration Medical Center in New Orleans, LA, said "The activity of natural killer (NK) cells, an important and necessary part of the immune system that kills cancer cells, may be below normal in smokers' lungs".

Dr. Weissman carried out an experiment using NK cells that were separated from blood. When these cells were mixed with lung cancer cells, the cancer cells were destroyed.

He then obtained lung samples from smokers and nonsmokers. These samples contained alveolar macrophages, specialized lung cells that digest foreign substances such as bacteria. Alveolar macrophages also lower the activity of NK cells.

"When we added alveolar macrophages to a mixture of NK cells and cancer cells, we found that fewer cancer cells were destroyed by the NK cells," Dr. Weissman said.

In these experiments, macrophages from the lungs of smokers and nonsmokers had the same effect of lowering NK cell activity. But smokers have many more alveolar macrophages in their lungs because these cells tend to collect in lung tissue as a response to swelling caused by smoking.

"This local increase in the number of alveolar macrophages may cause more blockage of NK cell activity in the lungs of smokers," Dr. Weissman said. "The result would be a critical defect in one part of the lungs' defense against cancer."

For more information about smoking and lung cancer call toll free 1-800-292-5979 or write to the American Lung Association of Michigan, 403 Seymour Avenue, Lansing, Michigan 48914.

Housing Bureau For Seniors

Field Sanitation Rules Not Needed

William Brock, Secretary of the U.S. Department of Labor, recently announced that the federal government would postpone a decision regarding the implementation of a proposed OSHA field sanitation regulation for 18 months. Thirteen states already have such regulations, not including Michigan. During this 18 month period, OSHA will be looking to see whether additional states will impose regulations that require farmers to provide access to toilets, handwashing facilities and drinking water.

Since Michigan is a large employer of migrant farm workers and because it does not have a state field sanitation regulation, it is likely that state officials will begin efforts to pass a regulation. Already, the Michigan Agricultural Labor Commission is seeking comments regarding its feasibility.

It is absurd for anyone to believe that farmworkers in Michigan do not already have access to sanitation facilities while at work. Farmworkers work under the exact same conditions as farmers and their farm families. Sanitation facilities are available at the on-farm living units that are provided for farmworkers, at the farm headquarters and, in many cases, portable toilet units provided by farmers right in the fields. When it comes to sanitation facilities, farmworkers have access the same way as employees on road repair/construction crews, traveling sales representatives and others whose worksite is "in the field" and not in a fixed place.

Unquestionably, everyone should have reasonable access to sanitation facilities whether they are at work or not. But imposing a regulation, in absence of data to support its need, is a breach of the public's trust in government and only serves to perpetuate the mistrust between the people and their government officials.

The hummingbird is the only feathered bird able to fly backward.

Apple cider is furnished to the Canteen by Alber's Orchard and orange juice by the American Legion Auxiliary, along with Red Cross cookies. Double A Products, Hoover-Universal, Manchester Plastics, Manchester Tool and Die, Pinnacle Engineering and Manchester Stamping Corporation schedule their employees to help keep a constant flow of donors. Thirteen churches in the area schedule reservations through their recruiters and there are three drop boxes with registration cards at the banks - Comerica, 1st of America and Great Lakes Federal - one at Baker's Dozen and another at IGA A&B Market. Manchester area has 330 men and women gallon donors ranging from one through six gallons each. Farmers Are Asked To Make Nomination For The ASC Committee

"Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice by October 28, to be on the ASC Community Committee ballot," says Lori Ruhlig, County Executive Director.

The ASC Community Committee election will be conducted from November 22, to December 2, by mail ballot. There are 14 ASC communities in Washtenaw County and 4 ASC communities in Wayne County.

ASC committees are responsible for managing federal farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals, Lori Ruhlig said. Washtenaw-Wayne County farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers have received petition forms by mail and are now submitting them to the county ASC office.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose.

Tables That Talk To You

This series of stories spotlights the manifest products of Michigan's farms, forests and factories — the products proudly stamped "Made in Michigan." Watch for them when you shop, and "Buy Michigan-Made!" This week's story: "Tables that talk to you."

By Paula Blanchard

I confess that I have this thing for butcher block tables.

I am captured by their exquisite beauty, particularly when they are done in my favorite wood, pale red oak. When I see one, I seem to hear this voice saying, "Paula, you don't just want this table, you need it!" And it's not just me. I took one to Japan recently for a Made-in-Michigan trade exhibition and it drew crowds of people just like me. The Japanese may be inscrutable, but I could tell that many of them were hearing that same voice.

As a result, the manufacturer — Michigan Maple Block Company of Petoskey — has sold a lot of its butcher block tables in Japan. The people in Michigan's trade office in Tokyo also liked the table at the exhibition. They liked it so much, in fact, that they kept it for their office, where it continues to draw admiring glances.

The company — its mill has operated along the banks of the scenic Bear River for 100 years — is the nation's oldest and largest producer of butcher block products.

Butcher block products are, by definition, an artful assembly of many pieces of wood. But they become something more — an inseparable homogenous mass — as they go through the company's patented "Wood Welded" lamination process. The special glue that bonds the pieces is not just dried — it is bombarded with super high-frequency sound waves that magically "weld" the glue to the wood, and vice versa, producing an inseparable seam.

Virtually all of the wood used in Michigan Maple Block products comes from the abundant hardwood forests of northern Michigan. And they use a lot of it — about 12,000 board-feet a day, enough for 1,300,000 board-feet of finished butcher block a year.

The company's foremost product is the classic butcher block table — the big, heavy kind you see in meat markets — that is made of hard maple slabs laminated with the end-grain up. They may not be pretty, but chances are they will last forever.

The firm also produces a range of other butcher block products, in both red oak and maple, which are constructed with the edge-grain up, to let the delicately shaded graining show off. They include industrial work benches, cutting boards, shelving, bakers' tables and as mentioned earlier, those beautiful designer tables for the home and office that make you hear voices.

In any case, let's keep making it — and buying it — in Michigan.

U of M Professor To Speak On "Aging Process"

Charles M. Wiley, M.D., Professor of Public Health Administration at the University of Michigan, will speak on the aging process at a program which will initiate the sixth year of health education programs geared to senior citizens at Saline Community Hospital.

Dr. Wiley, whose chief areas of interest are the aging process and health promotion and disease prevention for the geriatric population, will be the first speaker in a series of programs for which the focus will be the aging process. The programs are open to all seniors and are free of charge.

The theme for the first program will be "Autumn Is A Beautiful Time of Life: An Overview of the Normal Aging Process". The session will be held Wednesday, October 9, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Hospital Blue Room.

The Senior Health Education Programs are held the second Wednesday of the month in the hospital. They are open to all seniors and are offered free of charge.

Free blood pressure readings will begin at 10:30 a.m. The hospital cafeteria is open after the program to seniors who may wish to purchase lunch there.

Saline Hospital To Hold Video Conference On Head Trauma

Saline Community Hospital has been designated as an open site for the receiving of a National Video Conference on the topic, "Head Trauma: Managing Memory Through Cognitive Rehabilitation". The video conference is a production of the American Rehabilitation Education Network (AREN), an outreach program of Harmarville Rehabilitation Center, Pittsburgh, PA.

It will be held Tuesday, October 15, from noon to 4 p.m. in the hospital's Wellness Center at the corner of Ann Arbor-Saline Road and East McKay Street. The session will be open to health care professionals from throughout the area and families of head injury patients.

Those desiring to participate may register by telephoning the Saline Community Hospital Speech Therapy Department at 429-1522 or 429-1524. Marilyn Koster, M.A., CCC, is speech pathologist.

Vehicle Donated To County

The Washtenaw County Chapter American Red Cross signed over a recreational vehicle to the Washtenaw County Central Dispatch to be utilized by county law enforcement and fire agencies as a multi-purpose vehicle primarily for use as an emergency and disaster communications command post.

David McAllister, Second Vice Chair for the Washtenaw County Chapter Board of Directors, handed over the title of the vehicle to Ron Schebl, Washtenaw County Sheriff. The recreational vehicle will now reside at the Washtenaw County Service Center. The recreational vehicle was donated to the Washtenaw County Chapter three years ago by Chrysler Proving Grounds in Chelsea for use as an emergency first aid and disaster relief station by the Chapter. Due to its size the Chapter is turning it over to the County for its use in larger scale disaster and emergency situations.

The Chapter hopes to replace the vehicle with two smaller vans equipped for first aid and disaster use.

The Washtenaw County Chapter American Red Cross is a United Way member agency.

Hit Or Miss

valiantly to live up to all the rules and regulations but haven't been sure that we were doing just the right thing and now comes columnist Art Buchwald to express his views on the subject. I don't think he will chastise us if we quote him somewhat. He says:

"Just when I get my male chauvinist pig feelings under control the new fall fashions are released and I'm back right where I started out from."

"The latest trend we are told is towards the pajamas look with see through fabric placed in areas that you are not supposed to see. The backs are bare and in many cases the midriffs are exposed."

"One has to assume that these clothes wouldn't be designed if the manufacturers thought that the women wouldn't buy them. And if this is the case where do we men who have been trying to stop thinking of women as sex objects stand?"

"It is a terrible dilemma and one I don't think that the women's lib people are facing up to. I went to a high class dinner party not long ago all prepared to behave as a perfect liberated male. I was going to treat my dinner partners as human beings that had minds of their own and opinions on the subjects of the day that should be listened to."

"The person on my right was wearing a black net sheer scarf wrapped in such a way that its black neckline plunged down to heaven knows where. The blouse was held up by two tiny straps that looked as if they would break at any moment."

"The one on my left was wearing what appeared to be a sheer scarf wrapped in such a way that her breast pushed up and out half way across her soup plate."

"Now you have to admit that it's pretty difficult to discuss a President's tax plan when you're faced with this kind of situation."

"My heart said 'These women have brains. Find out what they're thinking', but my eyes kept wandering down to areas other than their heads."

"They reminded me of the remark that Red Skeleton said once when a guest star appeared on one of his programs. He stood and looked at her intently and when she said 'What's the matter Mr. Skeleton', he replied, 'Lady you pretty near got into that dress not too far, didn't you?'"

"I sincerely wanted to discuss the Geneva Arms talks and the trade deficit with the person on my right but all I could think of was what might happen if one of those tiny straps broke while she was reaching for a piece of roast lamb from the tray?"

"I then turned to the person on my left to get such evil thoughts out of my mind. I was going to ask her what she thought about the situation in Nicaragua but I noticed that the scarf that she was wearing had shifted and that there was more of her cleavage showing than when she had sat down. I was so ashamed of myself because I forgot all about myself and Nicaragua which I'm sure she would have been delighted to talk about."

"I turned back to the person with the two itty bitty straps. She had her back to me all the way down to her lower spine and it just didn't seem to be the right time to talk about food stamps."

"Now I pondered, how can I show those people that I am interested in their minds when I have so little to work with. As I looked around the room I noticed that all the men seemed to be having the same trouble. We were trying to make up for years of injustice and ignorance in our male attitudes toward the opposite sex and that they were doing everything to thwart it."

"God knows we have all been sinners and most men are trying to change their attitudes towards women but when you have nothing but bare back and cleavage to stare at during dinner how can any man keep his mind on Henry Kissinger?"

So now Athur, let's us all proceed to worry less about Men's Lib and worry more about treating the feminine gender with compassion, consideration and romance.

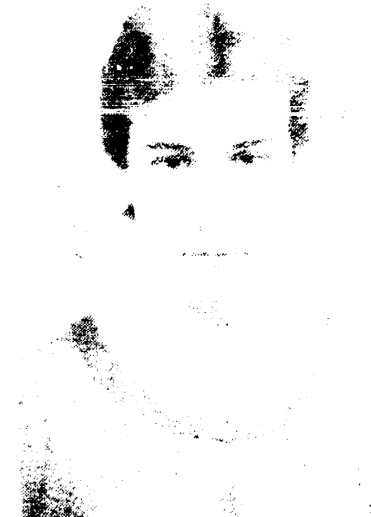

They may sneer slightly at you but down deep in their cotton pickin' little hearts they are still starved for a bit of good old fashioned romance. We are all built to love and be loved so why try to change the inevitable. Most of us menfolk love our womenfolk deeply for just what they are and most of us wouldn't dare to change'em one itty bit, so there.

I took a poll among a group of my friends of the masculine persuasion and I found that 99% of them agreed with me and the one who didn't, had treated his wife so badly of late that she had recently taken her offspring and packed up and gone home to mother and he deserved all the misery that he was enduring, so there...

Study Suggests Beneficial Effect Of Vitamin D On Blood Pressure

Lois D. McBean, M.S., R.D. Nutrition Information Specialist Dairy Council of Michigan

Nutrients such as sodium, potassium, calcium, and magnesium have been suggested to influence blood pressure. Vitamin D may be yet another dietary constituent involved in blood pressure regulation.

Consuming too little vitamin D is linked with high blood pressure in women, according to a recently published study. "This is the first report of a significant relationship between ingestion of vitamin D and blood pressure", claim the authors, Mary Fran Sowers, Ph.D., and her co-workers at the University of Iowa.

When women, particularly younger women 20 to 35 years of age, consumed less than 400 I.U. of vitamin D/day - the current Recommended Dietary Allowance for this nutrient - their blood pressure was much higher than that of women whose vitamin D intake met this recommended level.

Vitamin D is provided by exposure to sunlight (vitamin D can be formed by the action of ultraviolet light on a vitamin D precursor in the skin) and diet. Only a few foods, however, supply vitamin D. One of these is fortified milk. More than 98% of all milk in our country is fortified with 400 I.U. of vitamin D/quart. Fatty fish such as swordfish and mackerel, eggs, and liver are other dietary sources of this vitamin.

Nutritionists recommend that intakes above 400 I.U. of vitamin D/day be avoided due to the potential toxicity of excess amounts of this vitamin.

How vitamin D exerts a beneficial effect on blood pressure is unknown. The Iowa scientists speculate that vitamin D's action on blood pressure may be explained by its role in calcium metabolism. Increasing calcium intake has been shown to lower blood pressure in a number of scientific studies. And vitamin D is known to increase the absorption of dietary calcium and, along with a hormone, regulate blood calcium levels.

Just recently, University of Wisconsin researchers Nancy E. Johnson, Ph.D., Everett L. Smith, Ph.D., and Jo. L. Freudenheim, M.S., reported that increasing calcium intake during a four-year period lowered blood pressure in women with high blood pressure or hypertension. Blood pressure dropped in the hypertensive women who, in addition to receiving medication, increased their calcium intake by 1500 mg/day. In contrast, blood pressure actually rose in the medicated hypertensive women who did not increase their calcium intake.

Based on the findings from the above studies, it may be advantageous in terms of blood pressure control, especially for individuals with high blood pressure, to increase intake of dairy foods. Fortified milk, for example, contains not only calcium but vitamin D - two nutrients thought to lower blood pressure.

Michigan's Packed With Choices For Fall Color Fans

The curtain is going up on Michigan's fall color extravaganza for a six-week run staged for hikers, bikers, boaters, festival goers and, of course, motorists, reports AAA Michigan.

This year's autumn showcase begins in mid-September and early October in the Upper Peninsula and northern tip of Lower Michigan. Trees should wear brilliant hues of magenta, gold and orange from late September to mid-October south of Mackinaw City to north of a line from Ludington to Standish.

The best time for color viewing should be early and mid-October in the lower peninsula's mid-section, south of a line from Ludington to Standish and north of a line from Holland to Port Huron. Fall color should peak in southern Michigan in mid- and late October.

Full color enthusiasts can choose traditional or off-beat ways to see the state's autumn beauty.

Among the most favored pastimes is touring the state by car. Motorists and hikers may wander through more than 8 million acres of state and national forest land to see vivid fall displays. Sugar maples turn brilliant golds and red maples are noted for bright red leaves. Aspens are drenched in brilliant yellow while oaks become light brown to russet and sumac trees glow nearly iridescent red.

Local parks and several scenic gardens in the state, such as Midland's Dow Gardens and Kalamazoo's Nature Center, also are choice spots for color viewing.

In Southeast Michigan, the Huron-Clinton Metroparks' nature centers schedule special programs relating to fall color. Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock hosts an autumn canoe tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. September 22, 28-29 and October 6, 12-13. Fall color cruises aboard a paddleboat begin at 10 a.m. October 12 and 13 at Kensington Metropark near Brighton.

U.P. vacationers may see the fall color show while on the Pictured Rocks Cruise departing from Munising at 1 p.m. September 21 - October 10.

In northern Lower Michigan, gliding along the Au Sable River near Oscoda for a color tour via open or enclosed paddleboat is an option September 28 - October 20. Sailings on Lake Charlevoix at Charlevoix are scheduled on the Beaver Islander October 5 and 12 and on the Star of Charlevoix daily through October 13.

Those who want a light or heavy aerobic exercise may go biking. Michigan Bicycle Touring of Kingsley sponsors weekly and weekend tours.

Several communities are sponsoring festivals and other special events which offer good opportunities to see fall color.

The U.P.'s events include a Pumpkinfest in Bessemer, October 11-12.

West Michigan activities include Kalamazoo College's Octoberfest, October 4-5; the Viking Color Festival, Cadillac, October 4-13; the Red Flannel Festival, Cedar Springs, October 5; a Color Tour/Art Show, Frankfort, October 5-13; the Heritage Hill Home Tour, Grand Rapids, October 6-7; an Apple Festival, Bangor, October 11-14; the Sixth Annual Apple Festival, Charlevoix, October 12-13, and the Four Flags Apple Festival, Niles, October 20-22.

East Michigan travelers may enjoy a Pumpkin Festival in Caro and Tuscola County, October 3-6; the Heritage Days Festival and Fall Harvest Day, October 4-6, Alpena; a Fall Color Tour, Houghton Lake, October 5; self-guided color tours of Gladwin County, October 5-6; the King Salmon Derby on Lake Huron at Tawas, Oscoda and Harrisville through October 6, and a Kite Festival, Mackinaw City, October 12.

Among Southeast Michigan activities is Dearborn's Octoberfest, September 27-October 6; Greenfield Village's Autumn Harvest Festival, Dearborn, October 4-6; Fall Harvest Day at Ella Sharp Museum, Jackson, October 6; an Apple Festival, Museum of Arts & History, Port Huron, October 20, and the Octoberfest at Trapper's Alley in Detroit's Greektown, October 25-27.

published by the Michigan Council for the Arts includes such attractions as "A Variety of Talents, Work by Michigan Artists", "Contemporary Serigraphy" and "Winter Weeds". Funding and display will need to be considered.

The Manchester Art Guild is a non-profit organization with the goal of nurturing and supporting the arts within the community, especially through the encouragement and networking of artists and craftspeople within its ranks and through the schools with an annual award of a gift certificate for art supplies to a talented high school senior art student. It welcomes new friends and members at any time.

New Information On Licenses For All First Time Applicants

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin announced today that beginning October 1, all new (first time) driver licenses and personal identification cards issued to individuals under 21 years of age, will carry the words "Under 21" above the photo.

Austin said that a new law requires the Department of State to add the language to all new license and identification cards issued on or after October 1, 1985.

The change is part of an overall state effort to help identify and prevent individuals under 21 from purchasing alcoholic beverages, drinking and driving.

Currently, most driver licenses are valid for a four-year period, however, Austin said that all first time licenses issued beginning October 1, 1985, will be valid until the individual's 21st birthday. Regardless of age, individuals under 21 obtaining a license for the first time must now renew at age 21.

First Fall Meeting

Come join the Manchester Art Guild's first meeting of fall this Tuesday, October 8. It will be held at Frank's Italian Pizza and Sub Shop in Manchester, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Besides welcoming new friends, artists and craftspeople, the group will evaluate the August Street Fair which it sponsored and will plan future meetings and activities.

Some possibilities for this year's schedule include taking advantage of "Michigan Touring Arts Attractions." This directory
