Editor Enterprise:—In a previous letter I said, "I doubt if there is a man living who saw Manchester before I did." Upon reflection it has occurred to me that possibly Nelson Ockrow did, certainly as soon as myself. I think that it was in the summer of 1882 that I was in the woods where the Junius Short farm now is when I saw a wagon loaded with Wheat drawn by two yoke of oxen and driven by "Nelse," who was a handsome, tall negro about 18 years old. His employer was Oliver Kellog, Esq., and he was on his way to Tecumseh to mill.

I had never seen a negro before and knew no more of ethnology than a modern republican now does and supposed that he was a black white man, a colored caucasian. But Nelse knew better than that and claimed an ancestry and a name of his own, not a name of some white southerner, but the same that his family bore in the old country.

Notwithstanding his strangeness to me, the lone forest, his clarion voice and prodigious whip, I remember that I was not in the least afraid of him for Nelse, like all good men, was kind to children.

This, as you know, was in the township of Bridgewater, named by my father, George Rowe, from Bridgewater in Oneida county, New York. He was the first supervisor of the town when it included Manchester and I do not know how much more, probably Sharon and Freedom at least.

It was a beautiful country then. The annual fires kept the bushes down and the summer grasses covered the hills and plains; game abounded and the cattle of the pioneers thrived exceedingly.

The first winter we were there there was a camp of Pottawatamies near, I think on section five Bridgewater.

Yours with respect,
John C. Rowe

Mr. Howe evidently knows more about the early pioneers than he does of the present generation of citizens. He is not aware that Nelse "has gone to that place where all good niggers go" and that his good wife has followed after. If Mr. Howe thought this a beautiful country then, we wish that he could see it now.—Editor Enterprise.

many of them. However, I don't think so. I don't think that I am capable of directing my reader's conclusions regarding for instance their religious prejudices nor their political leanings. We have just hoped herein to provide a bit of food for thought or to provide for our readers a bit of a story that would provide for them a laugh or two and we all know what we need nowadays is something that will provide us with something to laugh about.

There are nowadays a large group of social and political activists who find hard to accept or reject or to recognize that you have to save yourself before you hope to save the whole world and that religious folks find it hard to believe that no individual salvation is possible without deep social commitments.

Sidney Harris, the columnist, recently, said that "Television, having greed as its goal, offers the public just what it thinks the public wants to see and that blaming that medium for excessive violence is making it a scapegoat for our very immature tastes." Then too, observing the acts and attitudes and presentations of some of the "born again Christians" who are much in the public eye, it is his impression that they need to be born again once at least before they get the whole thing right.

Socrates said that knowing is incomplete until it is accompanied by doing for self-knowledge that is accompanied by doing nothing is merely resignation and not reformation.

Letter To The Editor

Lt. Governor Martha Griffiths turned down an opportunity to debate her Republican opponent, State Representative Colleen Engler, saying that she did not wish to participate in a "girlie show."
 Republican gubernatorial candidate William Lucas, stated that "to call a debate on the issues between two lieutenant governor candidates who happened to be women a 'girlie show' is outrageous. For Martha Griffiths to demean herself this way is one thing, but to demean all women leaders and those who strive for leadership is quite another. She has an outmoded view of women's role in society and politics as window dressing. If that's all she thinks of the important position she holds, she should get out of it and make way for a woman who will make more of it."
 Thanks Bill, I couldn't have said it better myself!

Manchester Township Library
 Annual Report 1985-1986

Steady is the by-word of the Manchester Township Library. Circulation was down slightly from 1984-85, possibly because of parent preoccupation in the fall with school transportation. The level of new registrations and borrowing from interlibrary loan were almost the same.

SERVICES
 Contractual agreements for service were signed with Bridgewater, Freedom and Sharon Townships and copies forwarded to the state. Penal fine money was thus received in 1985, for these three areas. The non-resident fee was changed to $10 per family.

ACTIVITIES
 The Library's annual book sale was held on August 10. Pre-school story hours were conducted for 10 week sessions in the fall and spring. Fourteen children attended the Summer Reading Club program on September 14, at the Blacksmith Shop. Margaret Goodrich spoke at the Klager and Middle Schools teachers meetings in September to foster better communications and relationships with the teachers. Several classes from Klager visited the library during Children's Book Week in November. Various other classes came to the library throughout the year. A fine free week was held June 2-7, with 69 overdue books returned. Margaret Goodrich visited Klager School in June to encourage children to join the Summer Reading Club.

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT
 Manchester Township contracted with Kleinschmidts to install new gutters, downspouts, additional storm windows and insulation for the library building which was 119 years old in 1986. In October a crew of staff and volunteers cleaned and pruned around the building. An oak table was relocated from the basement to the Historical Room. Graffiti on the walls and woodwork has become a problem in the Periodical room and plans to refurbish it have been formulated. A second electric typewriter was donated, allowing one to be used in the office.

COLLECTION
 Purchase of an additional shelf unit allowed a small rearrangement of the children's area and reference shelves to give children a little more room. A grant to film all back issues of the Manchester Enterprise was applied for under the Michigan Equity Program. Although the application was turned down, funds were received from Manchester United Way and promised from the Manchester Area Historical Society toward accomplishing this project. Copies of the records of the Oak Grove Cemetery have been made so that they be available to patrons doing genealogical research.

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES
 Margaret Goodrich has served as a member of the video and collection development committees of the Huron Valley Library System. She attended a new director's workshop on library service on old buildings in April in Coldwater.

STAFF
 Staff members Sharon Day and Rosemary Hamilton both resigned in August 1986. Dorothy Davies was then hired as the new adult aide. Both Priscilla Hasel-schwerdt and Dorothy Davies attended a workshop on helping the patron get information as part of staff development. All of the staff are to be commended for their devotion to the library and their responses to patrons beyond basic service requirements. 1986-87 should be another year of continuing good service and strengthening the book collection. Respectfully submitted,
 Margaret Goodrich

High Speed Computer Balancing and New Valve Stems

The regular monthly meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society was held on Monday, October 20, at the Blacksmith Shop.

The drawings for the 1987 Calendar are finished and the calendar should be ready for sale in early November. The show and tell period was very interesting with a great variety of items brought in to share. Among the items were a tack puller used once a year to remove the carpet which was taken outdoors, beaten, and put back down over a fresh bed of straw; a World War II toy airplane made of pressed cardboard; a lard pail from Hanewald's Market in Manchester; a cookie cutter used for a device to crimp the edges of filled cookies; oxen shoes; an original Brown Bess musket made in about 1760 and brought over by the British. Hazel Walker told us about the Ladies Arbiter Aid Society which was organized in Manchester on March 14, 1907. She has the original roll book and will see the results of a years efforts. The most visible is the construction of the sanitary/stormwater separation system. I'd also like to report the following:

1. In the last year we have moved on a list of grant eligibility for the treatment plant from 34 to 4. This was accomplished by applying for a special rural set aside. As part of the process we had to develop an innovative treatment plant design. During the fall of last year I did a world-wide computer search of all available technology. We submitted a proposal that was accepted by the DNR.

Manager's Corner

Approximately one year ago today I accepted the task as Village Manager. At that time I was encouraged to write an article to let people know what was going on around town. I felt that much of what I cared to accomplish was speculation so I decided to wait until it was self-evident there was something to pass on to the public in the way of information. For me, it seems like we have worked very hard to get to the beginning, or a place that I feel comfortable organizationally. Our main goal has been to position the community for success without changing the character of this lovely small town. Over the next 60-90 days you will see the results of a years efforts. The most visible is the construction of the sanitary/stormwater separation system.

2. There is considerable interest in developing senior housing in Manchester. Many sites are being considered by developers.

3. Costs at the Transfer Site have escalated enormously. This led to a fee for dumping. The Village is considering free garbage pickup. This could be on a trial basis to see how it progresses.

4. Financial management - We have taken steps to make progress in the reporting and management of finances. In addition to computerization, we are investigating pooled investments. To improve the Village's credit rating, we have implemented an annual audit among other items. The Transfer Site is now being reimbursed on a monthly basis. There were times in the past when the reimbursement could take 100-120 days.

5. Industrial Park - Once the question is fully investigated, reasonable people see that to offset debt some added tax base is needed. In this area a careful approach is being taken. The SEV on an acre could be $30

6. Contracted Services - A number of services are contracted and being considered for contracting. With the tort crisis affecting our insurance rates, I am proud to say that we have seen no increase in our insurance rates this year.

7. Future - Manchester residents are increasingly involving themselves in a community wide future event. The purpose of this project is to actively engage all interests to participate in forming the future of Manchester. There will be a community-wide "Convention - Town Meeting" on December 6, 1986. More to come on that but all are welcome.

Summary: We have made much to report now. Each of these areas that I have touched on will be covered in the near future. You will be called on to participate. Special Note: A public thanks to all public employees for their courage and enthusiasm in these new areas. They make it happen: Connie, Sue, Mary, Louis, Gary Ed, Mike and Brad...Thanks!

Varsity Football - Jason Van Deven zig-zagged 148 yards Friday.

Dutch Hold Off Warriors 22-15

by Jon

We bussed into Grass Lake on their Homecoming Night and left victorious. This win leaves us 4 and 1 in the Cascade Conference. East Jackson defeated Napoleon Friday, which puts the three of us in a deadlock for first place.

Again, for the third straight week, our first offensive play worked wonders. Jason Van Deven ran off right tackle for 78 yards. Although he did not hit paydirt, Ken Gross scampered across 2 plays later for the TD. Ken also ran for the 2-point conversion, making the score 8-0. Jason did get his TD shortly thereafter as he motored in from the 19. The 2-point conversion came on a pass from Tom Mann to Jon Kempfer, leaving the tally 16-0. From this point on the Warriors got tough offensively and defensively, scoring 2 touchdowns, giving them 15 points. We did spring Bart Rickelmann for a 48-yard TD run in the 3rd quarter to give us a 7 point cushion. Grass Lake made a late charge and had possession on the 11-yard line. Ken's interception in the endzone ended the Warrior's hopes for victory.

Two big runners for the Dutch tonight were Jason with 148 yards and Bart with 103 yards.

JV Footballers Remain Undefeated

by Jon

Behind Jamie Darrow's two TD runs, conversions by Greg Lee, Dave Beck and Eric Creech, we dumped Grass Lake 32-0. This win wraps up the Conference Title.

Dutch Trivia

The answer to last week's question is Dan Plesic.

This week's question pertains to girls basketball. Who is this player?

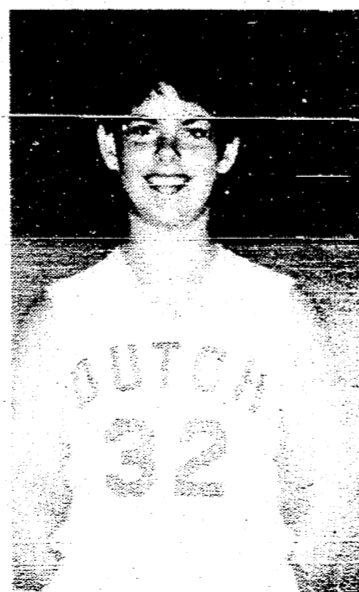

Girl's Basketball

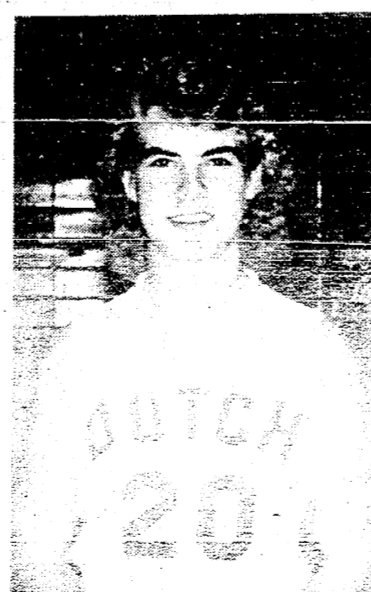

by Jon

On Tuesday night, we trekked to Hudson and our JV's won but our Varsity lost.

On Thursday, the Dutch posted another victory. Our Little Dutch won their 15th straight game, 30-20. Our Varsity also won, 41-20. We had solid scoring from four girls: Dawn Bracy had 12 points, Kim Lockridge had 11, Tracy Schuler had 6, and Rocky Weber had 7.

Manchester Village Planning Commission

Regular Meeting
September 9, 1986

CALL TO ORDER

The Regular Meeting of the Manchester Village Planning Commission for September was called to order by the Chairman at 7:35 p.m. in the Council Room of the Village Hall. Commissioners present: Kwolek, Lowery, Smith, Kalleward, ex-officio commissioners Naimowicz, Hinkley, and Marshall. A quorum was present. (Commissioner Davenport entered during the reading of the minutes).

APPROVAL OF AGENDA

The Secretary asked that the agenda be altered to list Old Business item #11 as "R-1B Setbacks for Lots under 90 ft. Frontage and Irregularly-shaped Lots," since this was the way that item had appeared in the agenda published in the MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE. The agenda was approved with this alteration on a motion by Lowery, supported by Smith, carried unanimously on a voice vote.

MINUTES OF REGULAR MEETING OF AUGUST 12, 1986

The Secretary read the minutes aloud. Naimowicz asked that a clarification be made under the heading of "Communications": included among the ordinances adopted by Council in July were some ordinances which had previously been in effect in the Village but were somehow eliminated during the compilation of the revised Code. The minutes were approved on a motion by Lowery, supported by Davenport, carried unanimously on a voice vote.

The Chairman asked for information from ex-officio members concerning the following items covered in the August minutes: 1) Had the letter been sent to Mr. Donnellon? Yes, and his application has been filed with the Clerk. 2) Would the replacement of upgrading of the 18" sewer section mentioned in relation to the site plan for East Main Duplexes be necessary? Naimowicz said it had been determined that it would be necessary, and Rural Housing Corporation had committed to upgrade it and would be submitting drawings of the proposed work for review by the Village. 3) Will the Village staff retype the policies as adopted at the August meeting and distribute them? Naimowicz said that they could handle that task, and also announced that a meeting to review and draft procedures for zoning and building matters would be held on September 11. 4) Could we obtain clarification of the exact arrangement contained in the court order concerning Mr. Hendley's property adjoining the East Main Street well, in which an area can be counted for density of development but is not subject to the full tax rate? The Secretary will find and distribute a copy of the court judgment.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following were noted: 1) Letter giving dates of the first two Planning/Zoning training sessions, September 23 and November 25. 2) Letter from Mr. Robert Hejna concerning use of the building at the rear of 103 East Main for office space on the first floor and residential use on the second floor (both permitted uses). 3) Letter from Barry Johnson, County Public Health Engineer, concerning the East Main Street duplexes proposed by Mr. Hendley. 4) Chairman's record of phone call from Mr. Hendley on August 13. 5) Chairman's memo to Village Manager and President requesting Planning Commission participation in amending the sign ordinance. 6) Memo to Councilmen Limpert and Zaborowski inviting their participation at the September 9, Planning Commission meeting for discussion of amending the sign ordinance. REQUEST FROM PUBLIC TO ADDRESS THE MEETING There was no response to the Chairman's call for requests to address the meeting. NEW BUSINESS - SIGN PERMIT APPLICATION, DOUBLE A PRODUCTS CO.

The Chairman called for consideration of this matter out of the regular order of business as a convenience to the applicant. Bob Mann, Facilities Engineer, reviewed the information contained in the application. He noted that the sign would not actually be mounted on top of the roof, but would be affixed to the roof overhang, rising approximately 5' over the flashing. The Secretary confirmed that the size of the proposed sign conforms to the requirements of the Village Code for the R-3 District. The Chairman asked if anyone had found anything out of order in the information contained in the application. Davenport made a motion that the sign be approved as presented in the application. The motion was supported by Lowery and carried unanimously on a voice vote.

NEW BUSINESS - SITE PLAN REVIEW, JOHNSON CONTROLS

This item was also taken out of regular order as a convenience to the applicant. A motion was first made by Smith, supported by Lowery, to accept the applicant's request for a combined preliminary and final site plan. This motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

Mike Corby of Hobbs & Black, architects for the project, was present along with Robert Morris of Johnson Controls. Corby presented a drawing of the proposed project and reviewed information contained in the application: An addition of 40,570 sq. ft. to the manufacturing area on the west (an assembly area for large blowmolding machines), an addition of 2,100 sq. ft. to the office area on the east, and a net addition of 30 parking spaces. There will be some regrading of land to the south of the building. The architects will be taking a close look to determine if any stormwater retention area is required, but none is shown on the drawings at present.

COMMISSESIONERS ASKED SEVERAL QUESTIONS: What is the intended use of the canopy area at the northeast corner? Storage of large metal bases for machines. How would such an addition affect the site plan? Not much; water flows to the northeast and under M-52. Have there been any problems of water collecting on the south side of the building? There were problems in the past, but the area has been tiled and no further problems have occurred. Will new jobs be provided? Yes, 35.

Commissioners noted the September 5, letter from McNamee, Porter & Seeley recommending approval of the site plan but requesting that calculations be provided relative to increased stormwater flows. Kwolek also pointed out to Mr. Morris the Village engineers' comments concerning fire protection water flows. Smith made a motion that the Commission recommend Council's approval of the site plan. The motion was supported by Lowery and carried unanimously on roll-call vote.

Kalleward asked if problems concerning lighting the Johnson Controls sign had been corrected. Zoning Inspector Lowery said that they had been corrected. Smith commented that the improvements made to Johnson Controls to the green area at the corner of M-52 and Austin Road were a good addition to the area.

OLD BUSINESS - STATUS OF ZONING AMENDMENT, ARTICLE 27, SECTION 5.365

Marshall reported that it would be on the agenda for the next Village Council meeting. OLD BUSINESS - REPORT ON ZBA ACTION It was reported that Johnson Controls received a dimension variance for a sign larger stated in the Code. Also, the fence at Clinton and Duncan Streets is to be moved back to a point in line with the house; the ruling being that the line of the existing house will be setback. NEW BUSINESS - LETTER CONCERNING BUILDING BEHIND 103 E. MAIN

The Chairman reviewed points contained in the letter from Mr. Hejna. Off-street parking has been provided for the regular uses, and during once-weekly group counseling appointments the municipal parking is available. Smith recommended that the Historic District Study Committee contact Mr. Hejna to let him know about their activities. Davenport will follow up on this.

Bridgewater Township Board

Planning Commission
October 13, 1986

The meeting was called to order at 8:05 p.m. by Gerald Marion, Chairman, at the Bridgewater Township Hall.

Present: Gerald Marion, Chairman, Karen Weidmayer, Gabriel Dull, Deanna Becklehamer, Mark Iwanicki, Victor Mann, Louise Fraumann. Attending: Harlin Fraumann, Zoning Inspector.

The minutes of the meeting of September 8, 1986, were approved as read. OLD BUSINESS

Carla Woods, who had requested a Conditional Use Permit to live in a temporary structure while building a house, has withdrawn her request.

The request for a Conditional Use Permit by Alvy Payne for permission to live in a temporary structure while building his home, was reviewed. One condition has not been fulfilled; that of supplying a $1000.00 performance bond, or $1000.00 in escrow.

The Zoning Inspector, Harlin Fraumann, reported on a clarification of information from Barry Johnson, Water Specialist in the Washtenaw County Health Department, who said that Business or Industry Zoning should not be permitted in Fragile lands areas nor Recharge Areas. Mr. Johnson stated that Single Family Residents on 2 acres with septic tanks should find this adequate protection from groundwater contamination. There is a need to control Home Occupations in these areas, as these could use chemical substances which could cause problems.

The question of Private Roads and Private Drives in our township was discussed and will be the topic of our next Township Planning Commission meeting on November 10, 1986, at the Township Hall, as well as definitions. The placing of temporary housing structures on property before applying for Conditional Use has been noted and this practice has been referred to the Township Board for their consideration. It was moved and seconded, Mann & Becklehamer, to ask the Board to look into the placing of a trailer on the Weirick property on Fisk Road. Vote Unanimous.

The next meeting will be November 10, 1986, at 8 p.m. at the Township Hall. The meeting was adjourned at 10:15 on motion of Victor Mann and Louise Fraumann.

Respectfully submitted,
Louise Fraumann, Secretary

the intensive form of warm and unless we learn that we must know just what it means to love the people that we do not like there will be no peace in the world. Tolerance always breaks down under pressure.

"Religious fundamentalists," says Harris, "are stubborn to reject the basic outlines - as if one could not believe in God, a God who created human life through a lengthy process of trial and error as well as by the wave of a magical wand."

"Information is not always knowledge any more than a phone book is a communication system - knowledge is a common understanding which connects with information and without it it can be counter productive."

The main personal reason that I have never tried to present my personal views on such subjects is that I have never found anyone whose mind had been changed by an argument along those lines. Most of them seem to strengthen the conviction of those who already agree and strengthen the opposition of those who don't.

Lord Byron once said, "It is easier to die for a woman than to love her."

One Commencement speaker once said, "I'm going to tell them that the world is theirs. That ought to scare the hell out of them."

The Dutch once believed that if a stork built its nest on the roof of your house, it meant the best of luck.

Harley's Happenings
by Bob Buckeye

THE GREAT GIVEAWAYS ARE ANGLING FOR THE GULLIBLE PUBLIC

"The American people like to be humbugged. So said Phineas Taylor Barnum, America's most famous showman, more than 100 years ago. And, judging by the remarkable offers I receive almost weekly in the mail, Americans still are most gullible.

Like this special invitation: "You're very lucky. Our computer picked you today to qualify for the Vacation of Your Dreams, a free mystery gift and up to $50,000,000 in cash prizes.

"This special letter is not going to everyone. Only to lucky people chosen by our official computer. In just two weeks, I may pick up the phone and call you to announce that you have won a million dollars."

Or the promise of a new Mercedes:

"I have enclosed an entry to our most recent contest promotion. When you play, you can receive an expensive new Mercedes 190 E if your contest solutions have the highest score. Additionally, R. A. Harley, if you check off your answers to the questions in our mini survey (your answers are valuable), you can collect $25,000 extra in cash. Just complete and return the mini survey within 72 hours. If you can't use the Mercedes, you can collect $50,000 all cash instead.

"Enclose $2 if you're including the survey with the contest entry. Enclose $3 if you're not including the survey with your entry."

Another sort of contest is the tie-breaker, multi-tiered variety. The letter sent to me said:

"Congratulations! You are tied for our $10,000 first place prize in our brand-new contest.

"Your name was selected from a computer list of people who have either entered sweepstakes or contests...or enjoy doing business by direct mail. Your tie-breaker will be sent to you in a few short weeks absolutely free."

To stay in the running, you need to purchase some contest aid, such as a list of words to continue in the game. Anyone who is literate will tie a second time. A new entry fee will be necessary and there will be subsequent tiers and entry fees. In my letter the word list was offered for $5.00.

Then there is the Sweepstakes Giveaway.

"Congratulations! You have been chosen to receive a consolation prize in the $10,000,000 Sweepstakes Giveaway. The enclosed $200 credit voucher is yours and may be applied toward the purchase of one of these products: A five-piece matched luggage set; a zig-zag sewing machine and a 19-inch color TV."

Another remarkable offer: "Congratulations! You've been selected to receive a three-person power motorboat as part of a nationwide test marketing survey. Don't delay! You've got 48 hours to claim your boat. All you need to do is pay a $159 freight charge."

What a bargain! It sounds too good to be true. So you send the $159 freight charge, and the motorboat turns out to be an inflatable raft with a battery-operated motor.

You've just paid in full for your prize, plus shipping, and then some.

Next we receive the Million Dollar pitch. "You may have just won One Million Dollars in cash. Six personal prize claim numbers have been registered exclusively in your name. No one else has any of your numbers. If DB3646KLI is the grand prize winner and you return it in time, we will be sending checks payable to you in your own bank or any bank you choose. To be specific, you'll receive a new check for $40,000 every year for 25 years, and you'll collect One Million Dollars in all."

From a club in Florida:

"Good news. You have been selected to receive a vacation offer in fabulous Florida. Please call this number toll free within five days to get complete details on how to claim your vacation."

So I am inclined to look twice at letters offering me the deal of a lifetime. After all, my name is Tucker, not Sucker.

During the Middle Ages, hand-written newsletters kept groups of nobles and business firms informed of recent events.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS

Halloween can have the sort of scary spirit your youngsters enjoy—while not giving you a ghost of a cause for fear—if you follow a few safety tips:

Make sure Halloween make-up is hypo-allergenic.

• Costumes: These should be made of non-flammable material. Use reflective tape to make trick or treaters more visible. Use only hypo-allergenic make-up such as that in PAAS kits. These safe makeup kits let a child use his imagination to create his own look. Unlike masks, they don't obscure vision. The kits can help make dozens of different looks.

• Treats: Safe treats could include strips of stickers, gift certificates to a local fast food restaurant, or trading cards. Novelty stores offer inexpensive, safe items and of course, store-wrapped treats are a good choice.

• Trick or Treating: If children will be out after dark, be sure each has a flashlight. Young children should be with an adult. Make a trick-or-treat map for your children outlining exactly where they should go.

Combine peanut butter with a little honey. Makes a great sandwich spread for raisin bread or peanut muffins.

Do You Know How Your Retirement Plan Works?

Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

Many people don't fully understand what their retirement plan offers other than money for "golden years". Now is a good time to review your company's retirement provisions to understand what kind of coverage you have, when you can expect payments and what you can do to help ensure your financial security during your retirement years.

To help you understand your plan, the Michigan Association of CPAs outlines the essential characteristics of the four major retirement plans: defined benefit, defined contribution, deferred compensation and profit sharing.

Defined Benefit pension plans provide a promise to pay participants benefits over a period of years after retirement. The benefits are determined by such factors as the individual's age, years of service and total wages earned. As a participant in this plan, you accrue benefits payable at a predetermined time in the future. Your benefits are funded by employer contributions which can fluctuate depending on statistics of the life expectancy of participants and investment computations.

Defined Contribution plans require individual accounts for each plan participant. The amount you will receive from the plan depends upon your employer and employee contributions, the income, expenses, gains and losses credited to your account.

Under a defined contribution plan, the contribution rate is generally determined by the participant's salary, profits of the employer or both.

When a participant retires or withdraws from the plan, the amount allocated to the participant's account represents his or her accumulated benefit and it may be paid to the participant or used to purchase an annuity. In contrast to defined benefit plans, the amount of benefits a participant will ultimately receive is determined until the time of distribution.

As a participant, you benefit from successful investments by the trustees, but also bear the risk of investment loss, according to CPAs.

One example of a defined contribution is a money purchase plan. Here, your employer's contributions are based on a definite formula, irrespective of profits. Usually the employer's annual contribution is a fixed percentage of your compensation. For example, the plan might provide that each year your employer will contribute on your behalf 10 percent of your compensation for that year.

A Profit Sharing Plan is when a company agrees to make a contribution, at its discretion, out of profits. Amounts contributed to the plan are invested and accumulate tax free for eventual distribution to participants or their beneficiaries either at retirement, after a fixed number of years or upon the occurrence of some specified event such as disability, death or termination of employment.

Unlike a defined benefit plan or a money purchase pension plan, contributions are based on a percentage of profits. If the employer has no profit in a given year, no contribution could be made for that year unless the plan provides for contributions from prior retained earnings. A good example here is a stock bonus plan. As a participant, you are given the option of receiving your benefit payments in the form of company stock. Just as in profit sharing plans, it's up to the employer to decide each year how much, if anything, he or she wants to contribute.

The fourth retirement plan is called Deferred Compensation. The easiest way to explain this plan is to describe one of its more well-known options, the 401(k). This is a deferred payment plan in the form of a salary reduction agreement where your savings dollars are deducted from your gross income and your interest is tax deferred. Depending upon the percentage of your annual salary that you elect to contribute to the plan, your employer may also make a contribution. Since this varies from plan to plan, it is wise to consult with your employer to find out exactly what they offer.

Benefits may not be distributed until you retire, become disabled, die or reach age 59½. Earlier distribution is possible, but only in certain hardship cases. Many of the above mentioned plans provide vested benefits, those that are available to an employee at retirement even if he or she leaves the company's employment before the age of retirement. Vesting occurs after you have worked for your employer a prescribed period of time.

Which is the best plan? Your employer chooses a plan according to certain objectives, the amount of money the company can contribute and the ages of those who choose to participate or who automatically are covered. Chances are your plan incorporates an investment feature which, if managed well, will enhance your retirement plan. CPAs suggest you find out what the investment policies are, what the fund's track record is and vesting provisions.

Also ask if the fund's investment performance is audited. You'll have greater confidence in an audited report of your plan. A summary that explains your plan in detail should be available from your employer.

Bloodmobile News

Thanks to the 162 people who came to donate blood, the South-eastern Michigan Regional Blood Center supply of blood has been increased by 158 pints of blood.

The clinic held at the Manchester United Methodist Church on October 18th ran very smoothly thanks to the chairman of the day Vada Ridge and her staff. Her staff that assisted the professional nurses that come from the regional center were: Prescraener - Gladys Uphaus; Registrars - Hazel Walker and Pat Post; Pack-Table - Amanda Schable and Robena Boelter; Escorts - Eibel Wheeler and Shirley Reinhart; Observer - Marion Cresson, LPN. The canteen was chaired by Margaret Sannes and her helpers included Marie Knorpp and Dorothy Mahrie. Others who had an important part of the clinic were Norma Dennis who assisted the donors, Robert Lowery, Robert Armentrout, and Alfred Strang who drove the donors from Double A to the bloodbank and then returned them to work.

Nursery attendants were Gail Kuzelman, Cheryl Hamilton, and Marsha Chartrand. Lorraine Mahrie who picked up posters. And a special thanks to Claire Reck who contacted the industries and also made posters and kept track of the gallon donor cards.

Credit must go to the Albers for the Cider and apples and the American Legion Auxiliary for the orange juice, and the United Methodist women who furnished the Canteen.

The number of gallon donors increases with the years. A 6 gallon pin was earned by Jerry (Buck) Kirk this time while 3 gallon pins went to Dennis Gisting, Pat Sahakian, Becky Doyle and Len and Lucy Bruner, while nearly the entire troop, 29 out of 32 girls, participated. The Fall Walk is an excellent opportunity for the girls to have fun, exercise, fresh air, and an introduction to our Huron Valley Girl Scout Camp, a beautiful setting.

Saturday, October 11, was a beautiful day for the Annual Fall Walk at Girl Scout Camp Linden. Seven carloads of Manchester Girl Scouts enjoyed hiking, a sing-along, a sack lunch, and especially crossing the Monkey Bridge. Adults who participated were the troops leaders of Troop #696, Marilyn Knouase and Julie Messing, Jim Kruse, Sue

Public Hearings will be held on Tuesday, November 11, 1986, beginning at 8:00 p.m., in the Council Room of the Village Hall, 120 South Clinton Street, before the Manchester Village Planning Commission for the purpose of hearing comments on the following proposed amendments to the Village Code:

1) Amendment to Chapter 51 (Zoning), Article 27 (Amendment Procedure), Section 5.365 (Findings of Fact Required), which would create a new Subsection (6) in the list of facts to be specifically considered when a zoning amendment or zoning district change is proposed; (6) the possible effects of the most intensive land use permitted in the requested zoning change, regardless of whether the person requesting the rezoning has represented that a particular use will be made.

2) An amendment deleting exemptions for certain fences from height and placement requirements, which are now listed in Chapter 51 (Zoning), Article 3 (General Provisions), Section 5.37(1) (Exemptions from Area, Placement and Height Requirements and in Chapter 51 (Zoning), Article 24 (Supplemental Regulations), Section 5.305 (3) (Bulk Regulations); and creating a new Chapter of the Village Code to be entitled "Fences," which creates definitions, restrictions, and regulations, and requires a permit for the erection of fences within the Village.

Comments should be made in writing and submitted to the Manchester Village Planning Commission, 120 South Clinton Street, Manchester, Michigan 48156. Written comments must be received no later than 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 11, 1986.

CHIROPRACTIC
WINNING EDGE!!

Competition is the American way. It is the foundation for the free enterprise system and it is the basis for many of our recreational activities.

Americans are raised in an environment of competitive athletics. Though it is true that not all persons become active professional or even part-time athletes, a majority of our population competes in some form of athletics during their lifetime.

Athletes are in need of regular chiropractic care from grade school through the professional ranks.

Our bodies are designed to be precision instruments. Like any other finely tuned piece of machinery, all the parts must work together properly for optimum performance. Competitive athletes, whether it be in football, hockey, golf, tennis or whatever, put an enormous strain on the body and spine.

Well-run athletic programs often employ the services of a team trainer or masseur to aid in relieving sore muscles and joints. Many also provide the services of a medical doctor for assistance in the area of first aid.

However, regardless of whether we are talking about a youngster playing kickball at school, a high school senior playing football, or a professional track star, athletes NEED chiropractic care.

The sudden, often violent, jolts and twists the body undergoes can cause the bones (vertebrae) in the spine to move, causing cervical pressure (subluxation) and thus affecting the body functions.

In well-conditioned athletes, the move may be slight and the discomfort minor, but rest assured this type of injury can have a long-term effect.

Should the injury go undetected, it may be noticed in the athletes' performance. Any change in overall ability, enthusiasm, or energy could be directly related to a spinal subluxation.

Athletes from virtually every walk of life keep chiropractic as a much needed ally to peak physical fitness.

Such world renowned figures as Arnold Palmer and Jan Stephenson (golf), Mohammed Ali (boxing), and Bruce Jenner (Olympic Decathlon) have attested to the positive benefits of regular chiropractic care.

Simple spinal adjustments can mean the difference between competition at your very best and a painful reminder of what might have been. Call our office for a spinal analysis.

GET THE CHIROPRACTIC EDGE AND BE THE BEST YOU CAN BE!

ASK THE DOCTOR

Q: I am a varsity football coach at a large high school. Recently one of my best players suffered a neck injury that seemed to be of the type that would keep him out of play for the rest of the year, yet he only missed a week of practice. When I questioned him, he mentioned that he had gone to a chiropractor, and that the doctor had said he had a whiplash type of injury and "simply" adjusted the bones in his neck. He had a release from the doctor saying he could play. Is this possible?

A: Dear Coach: This is not only possible but is actually a regular daily occurrence in all chiropractic offices. Inasmuch as a doctor of chiropractic or "doctor of causes" goes to the source of the problem, recovery time is shortened. This is especially true in conditioned athletes. "Chiropractic" and "sports injuries" go hand in hand. Most professional teams plus the Olympics and many colleges and high schools have doctors of chiropractic as their team doctor. Traumatic injuries, especially to the spinal column or skeletal system, if not cared for correctly with specific chiropractic adjustments, could result in weeks, months or even years of subsequent braces, pain, medication or inability to perform activities normally because of ongoing pain. It is recommended to have regular chiropractic check-ups for any contact sport. Proper spinal alignment assures athletes of playing to their full potential with a minimum of spinal stress.

Q: My neighbor told me that she was going to take her daughter to a chiropractor for a check-up before she started back to school. She told me she wanted to get her spinal integrity checked. Do chiropractors do check-ups and what is "spinal integrity"? I don't understand what could be wrong with her since she's only 10. Isn't that too young for a back doctor?

A: Dear Neighbor: Chiropractors do perform "check-ups". They are called spinal analyses. "Spinal integrity" is making sure that the spine and all of its articulations are working normally, which will allow the child to play and grow at a normal rate. Many spinal disorders are not detected or corrected early enough. Also, many spinal disorders have no early warning signals, such as pain, until in the later steps of degeneration, for example scoliosis (spinal curvature). Therefore, for these reasons and many more, which you can discuss with your chiropractor, have regular spinal check-ups for all children. With physical activities, jolts, jars and falls, spinal alignment is at best difficult to maintain. Monitoring a child's spine is just as important, if not more important, than monitoring a child's dental or orthodontic problem. Remember, it takes time to straighten both growing teeth and a growing spine. Both must be properly aligned for good health.

Pre School Visits
Local Fire Station

Fire Prevention Week was observed by the Manchester Cooperative preschoolers. Before visiting the fire station, they made pictures of fire engines, read books, and talked about it. Then on Thursday, they visited the fire station to see the real fire engines and meet the people who drive them. The teachers, Eloise and Linda, have lots of field trips and activities planned for their classes. They will be having Halloween Party and wearing their costumes next week. Late they will visit the Library to learn how it is run and who runs it. Shortly after their visit, the teachers will open The Teddy Bear Library at school where the children will learn to explore books on their own.

Johnson Controls Harvests That Good Feeling

Johnson Controls, Plastics Machinery Division, is proud of the support which it is generating for United Way of Manchester. Last year was the first year that the company sponsored a campaign among its employees. They encouraged all employees to participate, regardless of the amount they could afford, by allowing them to pledge through payroll deductions. They also matched all employee donations. At the completion of the campaign they had met and surpassed their goal at 182%.

Kim Horning, campaign chairman for Johnson Controls, said that he sees a lot of enthusiasm for this year's campaign. Their dollar goal has been set at 10% above the amount collected last year, but their real goal is directed toward obtaining 100% employee participation. They have designated about 35-40 captains again this year who are responsible for personally contacting the employees in their respective departments. The captains are encouraged to use their own ingenuity in conducting their campaigns. To support their efforts and to add some friendly competition, campaign boards have been posted around the plant giving the percent of participation by department. These are updated daily.

Ed Hunerberg is captain for the engineering department again this year. His approach is to encourage pledging a little bit each week, rather than trying to make a one time contribution. His approach is apparently successful because he has one of the largest groups of employees and was one of 17 captains who obtained 100% participation last year.

United Way of Manchester thanks John Barth, General Manager of Johnson Controls, Plastics Machinery Division, for the company's support, and thanks Kim Horning, Ed Hunerberg, and all the other captains and contributors whose time, efforts and generosity will help make this year's campaign a success. IT'S A FACT!

Over 130 million cars are registered in the U.S. Many of these cars can be cared for through a warranty program offered at more than 1,600 Shell Auto Care dealers across the country. The written 4,000-mile, 90-day warranty covers tune-ups, brake service, wheel balancing and alignment and air conditioning repair. The U.S. share of world registration of cars, trucks and buses has actually declined since 1950 when the figure was 69.8 percent to 35.9 percent today.

Announcing A Workshop On Cocaine In Our Schools

In the past few months, there has been tremendous attention paid to the use of Cocaine and Crack in our schools. There has been as much misinformation as there has been information. Many questions remain:

How is Crack different? Is there a Crack crisis? Is it really affecting the schools? How can educators and parents respond to the current cocaine situation?

To respond to this need, the Catherine McAuley Health Center Chemical Dependency Program, the Substance Abuse Programs at Ann Arbor Community School and the Ypsilanti Community School District are sponsoring a workshop for educators and parents on COCAINE AND THE SCHOOLS.

Featuring Steve Hnat, Cocaine clinician at Catherine McAuley Health Center Chemical Dependency Program. Also presenting will be Neil Carolan, Director of Chemical Dependency Programs at Catherine McAuley Health Center.

The program will be held at the Education Center Auditorium at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital on Monday, October 27, 1988.

The program will run from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. with ample time for questions and answers and refreshments to follow.

There will be no registration and the workshop is free of charge.

charge.

If you have questions about this presentation, please contact Neil J. Carolan at 672-4303.

TODAY'S WOMAN

The Homemaker

According to one estimate, the average weekly cost would be $335—at the very least—to hire someone to handle all the daily chores of the average homemaker.

Because the homemaker receives no wages, her concerns for financial security are indeed a prime reality.

An increasing number of homemakers are purchasing insurance for themselves.

In order to better understand the changing needs and attitudes of today's homemakers, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company interviewed women across the country.

Among the main reasons cited by the homemakers for purchasing insurance:

- "I run the house, and I know I'm indispensable."
- "Of course I should be insured. What would my husband do with the children? The house? He still has to work. It seems just as important that my role in the family be covered as well as his."

- "If I died while my children are in school, it would cost my husband a fortune to hire someone to play homemaker and babysitter. It would cost him plenty to do all that carpooling, too."

How to influence an 18-year-old.

MUSIC. Discuss current trends with your son as his stereo blasts away at full power. Drop the following names: "The Boss," New Edition, Rush. The rest of the time just mumble.

SPORTS CAR. So what if he can't pronounce Porsche? Give in and buy him a sports car. That will get his attention.

SPORTS. Gain his undying love by repairing the garage basketball backboard and adding overhead lighting for night games.

NEW THREADS. You've heard of "Dress for Success?" Well, today it's "Dress to Excess." Close your eyes and buy him a new wardrobe.

POST OFFICE. The post office isn't really an influence, it's a destination—within a month of every male's 18th birthday. Here he must register with Selective Service. However, some young men put off registering, and a few decide not to register at all. That's why we're making this direct appeal to you. We need you to help influence your son to register—and to do so on time. You see, registration is the law. And, it's required for federal student loans, federal employment and job training benefits. Don't let a young man you know miss out on any federal or state benefits. Make sure he knows about registering with Selective Service. A complete registration list saves our country six vital weeks in mobilizing our manpower in a national emergency.

SELECTIVE SERVICE REGISTRATION. It's Quick. It's Easy. And it's the Law.

A public service message of this publication.

Village Planning Commission

OLD BUSINESS - MEMBER COMPENSATION

Naimowicz reported on attorney Travis' information concerning member compensation: that compensation, including ex-officio members, is at the discretion of the President and Council. Smith made a motion, supported by Daverman, hat compensation of all members, including ex-officio members, be recommended to Council. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

OLD BUSINESS - FORM FOR CERTIFICATE OF NONCOMPLIANCE

There was discussion of whether the policy for enforcement of the zoning code should be adopted immediately by Council, or included with the Administrative Code which the Village manager will be presenting for Council adoption at the end of September. This will be decided by Council. The proposed form or Certificate of Noncompliance was reviewed.

Marshall suggested that a copy of the appropriate portion of the code be furnished along with the Certificate. There were recommendations that this be a 4-part form, with copies for the property owner, the Village permanent file, the Zoning Inspector and an active "tickler" file which would prompt reinspection at the end of 90 days. There was a recommendation that business cards be provided for the Zoning and Building Inspectors, and identification cards or badges for Public Works employees.

OLD BUSINESS - REGULATION OF SATELLITE DISH ANTENNAS

The 30-page report from the American Planning Association having just been received this late, a motion was made by Lowery and supported by Daverman that the matter be tabled until the next Regular Meeting of the Planning Commission. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

OLD BUSINESS - REGULATION OF SOLAR COLLECTORS

Daverman reported that the County Planning Commission staff has no information to offer on this subject. Naimowicz introduced discussion of protection of solar rights of property owners, in addition to regulation of collectors. It was agreed that the matter would be removed from the agenda and referred to the Historic District Commission when it is organized.

OLD BUSINESS - REVISION OF FENCE REGULATIONS

Commissioners reviewed the proposed application form and the proposed amendment to the Village Code concerning fence regulations. The amendment should include language deleting the section of Supplemental Regulations which presently deals with fences. After discussion concerning the definition of "fence", it was decided to leave the definition as originally drafted in the proposed amendment. There was discussion of possible fees which could be set by Council for application and inspection of fences. The Commission's recommendation will be for a minimal fee; perhaps $5.00.

A motion was made by Daverman that the Commission recommend that Council adopt the proposed code amendment and the application form set a fee of $5.00 and have the entire new amendment published in the ENTERPRISE. This motion was supported by Lowery and carried unanimously on a roll-call vote.

OLD BUSINESS - DEFINITION OF "ACCESSORY STRUCTURE"

There was discussion of definitions proposed and presently included in the Village Code, in relation to garages, swimming pool "changing houses", children's play structures, storage sheds, and other uses. It was recommended that the height limitation for garages be reduced; perhaps to 15 ft. It was suggested that the number and types of structures permitted on lots be spelled out according to specific districts; this led to discussion of the previously-proposed project of dividing the R-1B residential district into two districts - one to serve "older" portions of the Village and one for "newer" developments with larger lots.

OLD BUSINESS - LIQUOR LICENSING

Marshall described how a deletion from Chapter 114, Section 8.173 of the Village Code could create a requirement that an applicant for a liquor license come before Council. He stated that he intended to introduce this proposal to Council. Kwolek, Smith and Kallewaard expressed personal support for the proposal, but it was agreed by Commissioners that the Commission could not properly make a recommendation on the matter, being outside the proper scope of Planning Commission activity.

OLD BUSINESS - R-1B SETBACKS FOR LOTS UNDER 90 FT. FRONTAGE AND IRREGULARLY-SHAPED LOTS

The Chairman submitted a list of proposals for consideration of definitions and stipulations concerning the problem.

OLD BUSINESS - PROPERTY INSPECTION ORDINANCE

After a brief discussion of the reasons for developing a housing code, to cover items not contained in the building code, there was a motion by Smith, supported by Lowery, to table the matter until after the September 23, training session. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

NEW BUSINESS - SWIMMING POOL ORDINANCE

There was discussion of whether or not this matter fell under the scope of Planning Commission activity. After agreeing that it would be interpreted to be so, recommendations were made that swimming pools be covered by application and zoning inspection, and a minimal fee, as previously recommended for regulation of fences. A motion was made by Smith, supported by Lowery, to inform Council that the Planning Commission supports development of a swimming pool regulation ordinance, with a permit and zoning inspection required, and a minimal fee. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

NEW BUSINESS - WEED CONTROL ORDINANCE

After discussion, a motion was made by Lowery, supported by Daverman, that the Commission recommend that Council adopt a weed control ordinance. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

OTHER NEW BUSINESS

Smith introduced discussion of whether or not precedents existed in other areas to limit land use for multi-family residential to a percentage of total land in the Village. There was further discussion of nonconforming uses within the Village and conditional uses granted by Council. The Chairman discussed his memo of September 3, concerning cataloguing nonconforming uses and establishing a notification procedure to be used when these properties are offered for sale.

A motion was made by Daverman, supported by Smith, that Council adopt the substance of the Chairman's memo as a policy. The motion was carried unanimously on a voice vote.

Smith raised the question of formulating a similar policy concerning conditional uses. He will draft such a policy for discussion at the next Regular Meeting.

ADJOURNMENT

The meeting was adjourned at 10:58 p.m. on a motion by Smith, supported by Kallewaard, carried unanimously on a voice vote.
