School System Honors Its Retirees

Pictured above are retirees: Roger Marrison, Maxine Frey, Ruth Goodell, and Joan Berry. Congratulations and Best Wishes to all of you!

Over a hundred people gathered at the American Legion Hall last Friday evening to honor four school employees who are planning to retire in the near future.

Maxine Frey, Administrative Assistant, with twenty-four years of dedication to the school district will be retiring July 18.

Roger Marrison, Vocal Music and Instrumental Music teacher, who has been part of the school system for the last twenty-six years will be retiring at the end of the current school year.

Joan Berry, Payroll/Bookkeeper, with twenty-nine years of experience with Manchester Community Schools will also be retiring on July 18.

Ruth Goodell, Middle School Secretary for the last twenty-four years, will be ending her career on June 20.

These four employees represent over 103 years of commitment to our school system. They will be missed, but not forgotten for their loyalty and dedication.

Federal Foods For June

Federal Surplus Foods will be distributed in Manchester area Friday, June 20, at the Manchester United Methodist Church, 501 Ann Arbor Street (M-52), from 10 to 12 noon. We are expected to have Cheese, Butter, Flour and Rice this month.

New recipients in the area may call 428-8852 for the guidelines for eligibility for Federal Foods.

Make Plans For the Fair

The Manchester Fair, planned for August 19-23, still has plenty of room for exhibitors in the merchant's tent. The tent is a good way for local businesspeople to promote their products and services and to meet potential customers. Charities and service organizations have also found the merchant's tent a good place to advertise their work and drum up support. Craft people can also sign up for space and so can anyone with a penchant for merchandizing. Past years have seen everything from plants to jewelry to candles offered for sale to people strolling through the fair.

Rental fees start at $30 for a 10' x 10' space for the entire five days of the fair. Kathy Richardson, who is in charge of the tent, would like to remind everyone that the earlier they sign up, the better. To put your name down, call Kathy at 428-8474.

The Fair Book, with a complete listing of events, exhibits, and premiums, will be coming out in July. It will be mailed to previous exhibitors and available as well as at many local businesses.

More This and That!

Feeling the need to get away from it all? The gas shortage really makes planning a vacation difficult. Well we gave it a little thought, took a look at the winter sunshine coming through the dirty windows, listened to the children bickering, and made a decision. We would escape. Florida was out of the question, they have no gas at all and we could spare only three days anyhow. One of the college sons came home for the weekend to supervise the bickering and away we went.

With enough gas to get to Windsor, we carefully checked to see if Canada had plenty of gas. Never mind the weather. The sun shone and the roads were clear. Plenty of gas we were assured. The price a little high I thought, and asking about this got confusing. "Isn't sixty cents a gallon alot?" I said.

There is a certain sort of condescending look on a husbands face when he knows about things that women don't understand. "You have to remember, that there are five quarts to a gallon here, so it isn't really that bad," he says.

Down the expressway we went, prepared for freedom and lovely peace. Found it too. Miles and miles of it. Flat land with snow glaring and so cold. Having made this trip in the summertime we had pleasant memories and it was surprising to find the same land looking so desolate.

Hoping to find a pleasant small town to have lunch, we chose one called Rodney, which seemed to hold some promise and finding a restaurant which housed a marble soda fountain with the old high stools and a Scotsman, MacDonald by name to give us food, we ordered fish and chips. The chips turned out to be french fries.

Onward to Niagara Falls, which we had not seen in wintertime. It's beautiful and breathtaking. And so cold.

The shops are open and imports are available, making shopping fun, even if you are not buying alot. Korean and Japanese dolls, cunningly fashioned of wood. Steel and hammered brasswork from countries with exotically oriental names. Italian painted wood with muted pastel colors

Band Boosters

April 23, 1986

The meeting was called to order by President Sallie Anderson at 7:00 p.m., in the High School Library. The reading of minutes was cancelled since there were none from the last meeting, and all business has occurred since then. The following report was supplied by Treasurer, Jan Waldron:

We have in our accounts at this time: Checking - $19.50; Savings - $23.38; Scholarship - $830.55; Uniform - $1184.30.

The uniform account reflects the cleaning bill and deposit funds that will be returned to students when uniforms are turned in. The outlook for future spending is guarded at this time, so we will necessarily hold off buying uniform bags for now. There is no doubt that we will have to turn down students for Blue Lake Scholarships this summer. We discussed a few criteria in such an event. The feeling is that we should accept students who have not attended in the past first, and the older grades before the younger since they will have more chances in the future (the younger). We saved $190 by paying for the towels in advance. The students sold 1000 towels.

Old Business: The new uniform hats and piumes are in along with the uniforms. We will leave them boxed for now since they seem well protected. We will have to decide how to organize the closet space and where to store the old uniforms. We are asking the students to fill out a form of their measurements, and Band Boosters will then be able to assign the largest number of best fitting uniforms per student rather than have them try on so many. The data sheets that came with the uniforms will make this possible. It will be important to save this information for subsequent years.

The High School trip to Chicago is set and last minute changes are verified. Students are to be at the High School at 5:30 a.m. We have asked that they bring one nice outfit for dinner and the theater, bring reasonable snacks for the bus and notify parents that we will return about 10:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 27th. Two lunches and one dinner is all each student will need to pay for on their own. Sasha Froelisch will photograph the trip.

New Business: We discussed possibilities for future trips. If we are able to make enough money there are excellent trips that Jan has found. The possibility of the Band playing on one of these trips was discussed and there are two good choices in Washington, D.C. and in Florida. Both are feasible.

The group then discussed fund raisers. Sue Fielder has volunteered to find sponsors for our cushions to be sold soon. We are also seriously considering a spaghetti dinner with entertainment provided, of course. A good time would be for homecoming week. The idea is to find a few good fundraisers that create a larger fund and have less, hopefully, small profit-makers. The meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Nancy Houck, Secretary

Seminar Teaches Young People Responsibilities As Citizens

More than 230 high school students are registered for the 23rd annual Young People's Citizenship Seminar, sponsored by the Michigan Farm Bureau and county Farm Bureaus throughout the state. The seminar, June 23-27, at Olivet College, will help the students better understand their responsibilities as U.S. citizens and give them the opportunity to apply the theories they've learned in their economics and government classes.

The students will participate in political campaigns and have the opportunity to run for offices including state senator or representative, county sheriff, prosecuting attorney, drain commissioner, treasurer, register of deeds, clerk, precinct delegate and state supreme court justice. In addition to "political party" rallies and caucuses, the students will "vote" in primary and general elections.

They will also learn about people and governments around the world and the American free enterprise market system. Speakers will include: State Senator Dick Posthumus (a former participant); Dr. Jack McEwen, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service; Dr. Steven Small, Oklahoma Christian College; Dr. John Furbay, internationally-known author/lecturer and world traveler; Stefan Humphries, world champion Chicago Bears; Robert H. Rowland, Enterprise Square USA; Bruce Hanks, distant relative of Abraham Lincoln; Marie Schultz, Ukrainian refugee and naturalized American citizen; and John C. Hertel, Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Participants have been selected by county Farm Bureaus, in cooperation with local high schools, based on their leadership abilities and interest in learning more about their country.

Participants from Manchester include Tracy Becketl, Kerri Bristle and Tricia Horning.

I have been told several times recently that I was backward or merely old fashioned depending on whether the accuser wanted to be critical or charitable. They have seen me adding sums with a pencil and a piece of paper rather than with a calculator. I have been outraged because my phonograph which plays my 78 records has been said to be unrepairable. I prefer rat trap cheese to brie. I have not sampled sushi nor tofu. I have never been divorced. I have lived with the same woman for 32 years and enjoyed every one of them. But I insist that I am a modern man - a man of the 80's but I am not sure that I can cope with what they have done to the dashboard on the modern car. I hate it.

Several years ago they substituted those flashing red lights for those little gauges that told you what was going on in various parts of your car. They told you how your battery was doing; how your oil supply and pressure was doing; and whether or not your engine was running cool, calm and collected or if it had a fever or was thirsty.

Then while I was still driving my Willys-Knight many years ago, some educated engineer who spent a couple of weeks in Europe getting really educated came along and stuck half the Congratulations to Michelle Schaible and Ryan Roberts who were the first two students in Mrs. Savage's class to learn the names of all fifty states by memory.

At the first of the year Mrs. Savage made each child a small laminated map of America to keep at their desk. In addition, at least once a week, the entire class recites the names of all the states from the big USA wall map.

We stop to say "hi" to Angelo Petrino's grandparents in Boston, Massachusetts and Suzanne Lowery's cousins who live in Menasha, Wisconsin, as well as Mrs. Savage's son John who lives in Chicago, Illinois.

THIS'LL HELP YOU
KEEP YOUR COOL
THIS SUMMER.

This brochure tells you how a heat pump can save you cash—year-round.

A heat pump keeps you cool through a high-tech adaptation of an old reliable appliance—your refrigerator. A refrigerator cools by moving heat from inside the refrigerator to the outside. The more heat moved outside the refrigerator, the colder it gets inside. In the summer, the heat pump works the same way.

By removing heat and humidity from your home, the heat pump provides energy-efficient central air conditioning. And because it provides cool, clean air free of dust and pollen, a heat pump can make a healthy difference in your home.

Get the Heat Pump brochure. It's available from Consumers Power Company or any of these local heat pump dealers:

How a heat pump saves you cash in winter.

In the winter, it reverses itself to gather heat from the outside air or ground water and moves it inside to comfortably heat your home.

By moving heat, instead of making heat as other conventional furnaces do, the heat pump can reach efficiencies in excess of 180%. Energy savings from a heat pump can range from 15% to 45% of your present oil or propane heating costs.

Estimates based on a typical family home at energy prices effective March, 1986.

Volunteers Do Make A Difference

High School Leadership Class student Ami Bragg volunteers her time to hear Micah Jefferson and Suzzane Lowery read aloud.

Klager has been blessed with more than one hundred parents and friends who have donated their time and talent to enrich the school experience for our children. Over 800 hours were logged in the Volunteer Sign-In Book in the office. We know that many other countless hours were spent on behalf of Klager children. We especially want to recognize three volunteers who each worked more than 120 hours in various rooms: Elsie O'Dell, Betty Schneider and Rosemary Bentschneider.

Puppeteers To Present Program at Church

The Seed SAC & Company, a team of puppeteers from Spring Arbor College, will present a program at Manchester United Methodist Church, Monday - Friday, June 23-27, at 9:11:30 a.m.

Seed SAC & Company features a partnership between five Spring Arbor College (SAC) students and a cast of lively puppets sharing the Word of God (the Seed). Their presentation offers a wide variety of ministry which includes music, drama, story-telling, clown ministry and a full Bible School program. The main feature of their repertoire is a musical entitled, NAAMAN, based on the biblical story. Seed SAC's program is appropriate for churches, schools, camps, and Vacation Bible Schools. Young and old will enjoy and benefit from seeing biblical truths dramatized by muppet-type puppets.

combined with gilt. Lots of delft were in the Holland shop, bracelets and china, with that special blue they are so famous for. Lots and lots of Eskimo and Indian products from Northern Canada. Woolen clothing from Scotland. The Waterford glassware and Royal Doulton China.

Plenty of gas too. So I said (having been doing some thinking meantime) "Listen, I don't understand this. If we have four quarts to a gallon and they have five quarts to a gallon, then it's still a gallon and it's the same gallon and the same amount then the price is still sort of high."

With that same sort of look on his face I was told "You just don't understand."

The American side of the falls has collapsed rather badly and while pretty in it's way there is no doubt that the Canadian falls have been favored by Nature and only become more impressive as the years go by. The mist rising, spreads over the immediate area and each tree and twig has a coating of thick frost, so heavy one is amazed to think that the spring will find them alive and blooming.

Back indoors to get a view from warmth. Let's try the Skylon, the tower with the revolving restaurant at the top. The elevator is on the outside and a very smooth quick trip it is too! I know, because I held my breath the whole way. While husband is hearing about the suicides from this tower, and because I don't want to hear the story, I've been thinking again. I know how to cope. One has only to think it through. So I ordered American fries. "What you mean" the waitress says, "Is that you want Cottage Fries?"

Well of course, when the potatoes arrived, they were chunks. Potatoes quartered and warmed and sprinkled with what must have been paprika, for they were red. Undaunted and game to the last round, I shook my head and began to think again. This was easy for the blizzard had begun and the five hour drive home was such to keep my eyes closed and leave the driving to that man who knows so much.

But there was plenty of gas. Privately I still thought that something was wrong. If I take a pie and cut six pieces and another pie and cut eight pieces, then certainly I got more pieces, but it was the same pie. When I shyly and in a very humble voice tried to use this to explain my ignorance, it turned out that there are SIX AMERICAN quarts to an Imperial gallon. Well!!!

The college son maintaining vigilance over the disorder at the Homestead, seemed in good form and receptive to conversation. "Tell me," I said, "About this difference in quarts and gallons."

So he did. The thing is, you see that he is my son and has not learned to use that smug expression when talking to the woman who raised him. "The problem as I see it Mother," he says, "Is that you should get the amounts memorized. There are four American quarts to an American gallon, Five American quarts to an Imperial gallon. The Imperial gallon is used there. However, when you need a tankful, it would be easier to order eight Imperial gallons, which is a firkin. You just drive right in and say "Give me an Imperial firkin please."

So you see a college education is of great value and travel is truly broadening. Bigger potatoes and fatter gallons. Higher prices too.

Credit Practices Rule

A recently adopted Federal Trade Commission rule changes some of the regulations governing credit transactions.

The "Credit Practices Rule" prohibits many creditors from including certain provisions in consumer credit contracts; requires creditors to provide a written notice to consumers before they co-sign obligations for others about their potential liability if the other person fails to pay; and prohibits one method of assessing late charges.

The rule states that credit contracts no longer can include language that requires the debtors to waive their rights to a court hearing, give up their state-law rights to keep certain personal belongings, permit the debtor to agree to automatic wage deductions, or require the debtor to use as collateral certain uniquely personal items (such as a family Bible or household pet).

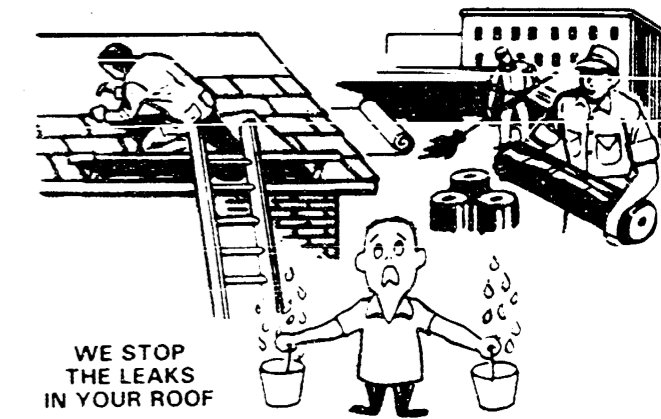

The new rule also requires that all co-signers of a loan be given a notice that explains the responsibility they are taking on. The rule further states it is now illegal for a creditor to charge late fees simply because the debtor has not yet paid a late fee previously owed. This now banned practice is called "pyramiding late fees."

For more information about the Credit Practices Rule, write to Federal Trade Commission, Credit Practices Division, Washington, D.C. 20580.

In a continuing effort to fight auto theft, the Michigan Department of State will accept only complete title transfer documents for processing beginning June 1, 1986. Branch office employees will verify that the back of the title is completed. This includes the name, address and signature of the purchaser. The odometer (mileage) statement, the date of sale, the selling price and the current address and signature of the seller will also be required.

"We are trying to minimize inconvenience to our customers by publicizing this policy change," said Paul Charette of the Department of State's Office of Public Information. Charette warned that if you are purchasing a motor vehicle, watercraft, camper or mobile home, make sure the seller completes the back of the title.

Previously, the Department accepted title documents when the signatures were complete.

State Police Announce Operation Hemp

The Michigan State Police have announced plans for the implementation of Operation HEMP, a marijuana eradication program. Col. Gerald L. Hough, department director, said the department has received a $45,000 grant from the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) to continue the program begun in 1984.

According to Robert DeFauw, the regional director of the DEA, Michigan ranked tenth of the 50 states for seizure of cultivated marijuana plants and ninth for seizure of total plants (cultivated and ditchweed) in 1985. Nearly 141,000 plants were destroyed with an estimated street value of $140,567,000 and 69 arrests were made. Marijuana was seized in 52 of the 83 counties in the state with the largest number of plants reported in St. Joseph, Allegan, and Cass counties in the southwestern tip of the state.

D/F/Lt. Roy Vernier, project coordinator, explained that all law enforcement agencies are being notified of the 1986 implementation and are being encouraged to join in this cooperative law enforcement effort to combat the cultivation of marijuana. The public is being asked to assist by reporting any suspected planting. A toll free hotline-1-800-555-HEMP-is provided for this purpose. In 1985, 501 tips were received on the hotline.

Manchester's Autistic Program

"We are in the infancy stages of programming for the autistic child. We are now where we were 50 years ago with mental retardation."

That's the opinion of Dr. Henry DeYoung, director of special education for Region V, which includes Dexter, Chelsea and Manchester school districts.

Manchester is home to one of the county's four classes for the autistic. The Manchester program for children 3 1/2 to 9 years old and a classroom for autistic children ages 5-9 in Willow Run are new. They join established programs for elementary age students at Northside Elementary in Ann Arbor and a secondary program for students 14-25 years of age at Ann Arbor Pioneer High.

Michigan Special Education Rule 340.1758, which outlines the requirements of classroom programs for the autistic impaired, says programs consisting of one classroom for the autistic shall not have more than five students in a classroom if the average student-to-teacher-and-aide ratio doesn't exceed five students to one teacher and one aide. A classroom with three or more students must have one aide.

Structured routine, emphasis on language development and parent involvement are key components of area autistic programs at the elementary level. Richard Darga, who teaches the Manchester program, has four students from Manchester and Dexter. Two are autistic, a third is visually impaired and the fourth is neurologically impaired.

Darga's room is divided into specific work areas for music, art, audio-visual activities, reading and time-out.

"We have tons of routine. We do essentially the same things every day," Darga says. "Programming helps the kids."

Darga does some reverse mainstreaming by bringing regular education students into the class for art projects. Darga's students regularly share recess with other students attending Manchester's Luther C. Klager Elementary School and are included in some regular education class activities.

Parents in the Manchester program come to school once a week to work with the children - not their own. Darga says it gives the parents an opportunity to see how he works with the students and he gets ideas from the parents.

"We share our goals," says Darga, adding "The parents are dedicated, really inspiring."

Darga's students are high functioning. One 6-year-old, Kevin, reads 150 words by sight and is starting to work on phonics.

Kevin's mother is pleased with the Manchester program.

"The teacher knows Kevin so well. He is so relaxed and trained to work with these kids. Kevin in turn is relaxed so he can learn. He's real eager when he goes to school. We see real progress."

Kevin's family became aware there was a problem when at age 2 Kevin didn't show normal language development. "At first we thought he might have been deaf. When there were other people in the household, Kevin would disappear. It was too much language, too much activity for him," Kevin's mother recalls.

Now that Kevin is getting the help he needs, his mother says, "It has taken a lot of strain off us."

Those who work with the autistic derive much satisfaction from their work. Diana Macfarlane, an aide in the Manchester class, says, "In a large class you don't get to know everyone. Here there is time to work with one child at a time. There are special friends here."

Macfarlane, a former substitute and nursery school teacher, says of the experience, "It is priceless."

Free Boating Day Announced

The Michigan State Waterways Commission has designated June 14, as Free Boating Day as a part of the State's kick-off of its Sesquicentennial Celebration.

DNR Director Gordon E. Guyer says daily mooring fees, ranging from $7.50 to over $25.50, at the 11 State-owned and operated harbors and the daily launching fees at 26 State public access sites were waived by the Waterways Commission. The mooring fee is determined by the size of the boat.

"A total of 184 mooring slips and 92 broadside moorings will be available at no charge," said Guyer. Free parking will be available for 2,153 car/trailer units and 613 cars with the use of 99 ramps. Cars are normally charged $1.50 and car/trailers, $3 per day.

Director Guyer said, "We hope the recreational boating public throughout the State will take advantage of this opportunity and enjoy the Department's facilities. Michigan recreational harbors are located at Eagle Harbor, Copper Harbor, Little Lake, De Tour, Mackinac Island, St. Ignace, Hammond Bay, East Tawas, Au Gres, Port Austin, and Lexington. The fee waiver is the first of several actions the DNR Waterways Division has planned in support of the State's 150th Birthday Celebration. Waterways Division Chief Keith Wilson says some 165 local units of government which have received Waterways Commission grants have been invited to take similar action and waiver fees at their boating facilities on June 14. The Division will also fly Sesquicentennial Flags at all State harbors throughout the boating season.

WCC Begins Setting Up Manchester Advisory

Leaders representing a variety of groups in the Manchester area met with Washtenaw Community College president Gunder A. Myran and WCC Board Member Tony Procassini last Thursday morning to discuss ways in which the College can provide additional services to the community.

The meeting is a first step in setting up a permanent advisory committee in Manchester of Manchester citizens who would then work with the College. They would provide information about course needs, Manchester concerns and the like.

Those attending the meeting included Judy Fahey, Jim Mann, Nancy Sande, Barb Price, Robert Macfarlane, Rubena Boelter, M.E. Uphaus, Helen Braun, Daniel Namowicz, William Bushaw, Elvira Vogel, Don Limpert, Mark VanBogelen, Neta Mills, Marilyn Clark, Diana Sloat, and Ginny Fielder.

Preparations Underway For Chicken Broil

All over Manchester, volunteers are starting the summer countdown to our 38rd Annual Chicken Broil. This year's extravaganza is set for July 17, when traditional chicken dinners will be served from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. Over 14,000 hungry diners are expected to attend.

Manchester's clergy and members of the Weather Committee are working already to guarantee a repeat of last year's perfect weather.

So, mark July 17, on your calendar and plan to invite all your friends and relatives over to Manchester for a delicious dinner, great entertainment and an old-fashioned small town good time.

Tickets will go on sale soon at banks and businesses throughout Manchester. Advance tickets will be $4.00. Tickets purchased at the athletic field gate on Broil Day will be $4.50.

Senior Citizens News

Isn't it continually blowing hot and cold? Our windows are getting more exercise just going up and down; and me, too, as they have just been painted. Herman is thinking about replacing his garden with a miniature golf course as he is fighting garden bugs both on top and under the earth. But we agree that it is fun and challenging plus all the exercise we get.

Thursday, June 12, the Walking Club meets at 10:30 (this is fun exercise). The regular exercise class has stopped for the summer - we will save our energy for the tomatoes. At noon, Helen says baked pork chops are on the lunch menu. Men will be golfing, also.

On Friday, June 13, the Ella Sharp picnic has been cancelled. Tuesday, June 17 - Clergy presentation program at 11:00 will be led by Pastor Engelman. The last meal for this season at Emanuel for Senior Citizens features 'Cook's Choice', come and see what Mary has cooked up for you. There will be cards, crafts or some other surprises on hand following lunch.

Thursday, June 19 - Walking Club at 10:30, sack lunch and bingo at the Center and men's golf.

Looking ahead to Monday, June 23 - Leave the Center at 9:00 on a shopping trip to Briarwood, instead of Plymouth.

'We're sorry to hear of all the broken bones in our area. We extend get better soon wishes to these folks: especially Ethel, who has broken her wrist. We appreciate the hard work you have done, thank you.

Men - don't forget to contact Ted Tapping if you wish to golf on Thursdays. Also Tuesdays and Thursdays, all come to the Center for sack lunch and activities together. You will also be brought up to date on all other things going on with seniors this summer. Summer hours at the Center are Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday from 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. To call for information - 428-7181. Or you may call Rubena Boelter, President (428-8655), or Helen Braun, Trip Coordinator (428-8966).

Cards of Thanks

I would like to thank my family, friends and Rev. Carruth for their prayers, cards, phone calls, and gifts while I was in the hospital and since I returned home. It was really appreciated.

Wendell Reinhart

The family of Pauline Kensler wishes to extend a warm thank you to all the relatives and friends who through the kindness of your hearts and thoughtfulness of your gestures have helped us through a very difficult and sad period of our lives.

We especially want to remember Rev. Robert Macfarlane, Ron Jenter, the Manchester Fire Dept. and the serving ladies of Emanuel United Church of Christ.

We are grateful to have your love and support at this time.

Sincerely,
The Family of Robert Kensler

Now you have to find the right button and push it a few times. Now your left foot is stuck with nothing much to do.

When you turn on your windshield wipers now and want to wash the windshield you have to find the right button and then I can never remember whether you push or pull that button to activate the washers. These were only a few improvements to be made to automobiles I was told and so I bid goodbye and traded old faithful for one which was computerized and I thought of course that that would be great - just think a car that had an electric brain which took over and made the car operate just right. But then I became totally disgusted with the computer - disgusted when it told me "Buckle your seat belt, close the door, your lights are on" and besides the instrument panel looks like a fireworks display with lights of many colors - blue and red lights with flickers of yellow. It beeps, chimes, tings bells and flickers. I wonder how many folks have run plumb into something while watching the display on their dash.

I think too that this outfit plays games. For instance when I push my cooler button - out comes a blast of hot air. A friend of mine has a car that tells you what the temperature is outside the car, how much gas you have and how much you are guzzling. It's just like playing a video game.

But besides playing games sometimes all this dies quietly and completely dies leaving this marvel dead in its tracks. Eventually a wrecker came and hauled the gleaming corpse away and after a lengthy post mortem it was decided that a dingus connecting the computer had become disconnected causing this marvel to die in its tracks.

I guess maybe we made another mistake when we bought this last car. We had purchased several cars previously from the same dealer in the rather small town where we live and during the recent recession he closed up shop and retired to more fertile fields. When we needed a bit of maintenance, we of course, took it to one of the other sales and service garages in town and were greeted with a blank stare and were told that they didn't service anything but the makes which they sold and we had to take it to an independent garage for service which we did and they too claimed not to have great knowledge of our particular make. After three tries to three repair garages, we finally found relief but it was a tough struggle.

Our only other choice to get service was to take it to a qualified sales and service agency which had the equipment to tackle what proved to be a rather complicated problem which was some 20 miles away and hope that it could be settled in three or four days. In the mean time I guess we were supposed to ride our broom.
