Hit or Miss

by farley

Lately many columnists are featuring poetry in their efforts and so I suppose we should follow their example so here goes:

If a bad buy is a lemon
Why is something good the berries?
How can people go bananas,
When life's a bowl of cherries?
If the false are rotten apples
Why's a peach someone true blue?
That for these there are no raisins
Is my melancholy view.

Raising kids takes patience,
At least that's what we hear;
But like canoes they're easily controlled,
When paddled from the rear.

When father caught me smoking
We didn't have a shed
For private conversation
Like "Whomp" and "Get to bed"
No, father chose the high front porch
Where all the kids could see
As sin paid full wages
For my depravity
So read ye well my children
On the package got by stealth
"Warning, Cigarettes are injurious to health."

Thermometer's aren't the only things
One soon ascertains
That are graduated with degrees
Without any brains.

My wife has a curious habit
When going out for the night
"She'll say "I won't be a minute"
Which is usually right.

Four little words
To gladden a heart....
Not "We'll be in touch"
But "When can you start?"

If you have never done hard work
You really shouldn't knock it;
For the man who rows the boat
Has no time to rock it.

On a special day in May
She has breakfast on a tray
She's warned she must not lift a hand
For the whole day is schedule planned.

Mom promises she will obey,
Then prays for strength to last the day.

A pat on the back and some praise today
Could possibly mean a raise in pay
Don't build up your hopes, it's just an indication
Of overtime work
With no compensation.

The Chicken At The Chicken Broil

by Amy E. Little

Consider the chicken you'll be eating this third Thursday in July—then enjoy it.

And there is plenty to see and enjoy at the Manchester Chicken Broil on July 17th. Once again more than 500 volunteers will join together to serve approximately 14,000 chicken dinners to waiting masses of people from around the country.

Entertainment will be provided by the Ypsilanti Community Band, horse and buggy shuttles are available and run from outlying parking areas to the athletic field and more than a few political supporters will be handing out brochures to diners waiting in line for their chicken dinners.

All this is old news to past chicken broilers. They have heard and listened patiently while the amount of coleslaw has been converted into tons, butter converted into miles and salad dressing into gallons. What they haven't heard about however is the chicken.

even though the chicken is the main attraction of the broil, his background has never been revealed, until now.

The chickens are taken to Moran Poultry Company in Galesburg, Michigan where they are processed. Galesburg is located on the western side of the state. Moran processes 10,000 chickens which yield 20,000 chicken halves. These chicken halves are graded and then many are eliminated to achieve about 14,000 uniform chicken halves. Each chicken half will weigh approximately 16 to 18 ounces before broiling.

After processing, the chickens are transported to Manchester by a refrigerated truck. Upon arriving at the athletic field the chicken halves are placed on the four flaming pits. Each pit holds approximately 1,500 halves and cooking is staggered between the pits to insure a steady flow of broiled chicken to the waiting diners.

The chicken is broiled for approximately two hours and repeatedly basted in butter to achieve a crispy, golden-skin and an inside that is tender and juicy. The chicken is served in assembly line fashion and covers about half of an average size plate, more than enough for one hungry diner.

And now that you have considered the chicken before the 33rd Annual Manchester Chicken Broil—take time out to enjoy it on July 17th.

Young Astronauts Letter Puts Judge On Cloud Nine

A first grade student from Dexter's Copeland Elementary School is the second place winner of the Young Astronaut Council's National Language Arts Essay contest.

Laura Pettit's entry of a "Letter to a Young Cosmonaut" won second place in the Trainee Division for first through third graders across America, according to Congressman Carl Pursell, who announced the award today.

Laura's letter comments on the accomplishments of both the United States and Soviet space programs.

"You must be proud you were the first ones to send a person into space," Laura wrote to the young cosmonaut.

"We were the first ones to go to the moon so we put the American flag on the moon. This makes us proud," she wrote.

"I am extremely impressed with Laura's insight. Her letter is an example of the type of attitude which must prevail if our two nations are to peacefully coexist," Pursell said.

The Young Astronaut Program is a national educational program for elementary and junior high school students designed to promote the study of science, mathematics and technological subjects.

The program was initiated to assist teachers in bringing high quality, timely and easy-to-teach materials into the classroom.

Entries for the essay contest were written earlier this year and winners from individual chapters were sent to Washington for judging.

Awards were given for first, second and third places in each of three divisions - Trainee Division for first to third grade, Pilot Division for fourth through sixth grade, and Commander Division for seventh through ninth grade.

Pursell was cosponsor of a bill calling for the Treasury Department to strike a medal commemorating the Young Astronaut Program. President Reagan signed that bill - the Young Astronaut Medal Act - on May 12, 1986.

Although she attends Dexter schools, Laura, 7, is a resident of Strawberry Lake Road, Whitmore Lake.

Youth Named State 4-H Award Winner

David Weidmayer, 17, of Ann Arbor, was named Michigan's 1986 wood science project award winner June 19 during 4-H Exploration Days at Michigan State University.

Weidmayer, the son of Milton and Janet Weidmayer, competed against other 4-H wood science project members from five Michigan districts and was selected the state's top 4-H wood science member by a panel of judges and specialists.

"It's quite an honor to be named a state 4-H project winner," says Terry Boone, Washtenaw County Extension 4-H youth agent. "Only a small proportion of 4-Hers ever accomplish this achievement."

Weidmayer is a member of the Townline Workers 4-H club and has completed a variety of wood science project activities, including making a bookshelf, dog house and a magazine rack, and refinishing a dresser and a nightstand.

A seven-year 4-H'er, Weidmayer has also participated in several other 4-H project areas, including dairy judging, horticulture and the Teen Leader Association, through which he traveled to Washington, D.C., and later to Kentucky as part of a 4-H member exchange visitation.

As one of Michigan's state award winners, Weidmayer may be eligible to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago this December and compete against other wood science winners from across the country for national honors.

News From The House of Representatives

Legislation lowering the Michigan income tax rate to 4.4 percent was introduced today in the Michigan House and an area lawmaker who co-sponsored the bill said it is needed to offset an expected state windfall generated by the proposed federal income tax reform.

State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Ann Arbor) said House Bill 5702 would lower the current 4.6 percent income tax rate to 4.4 percent effective January 1, 1987.

"All the signals indicate that the federal tax reform will be enacted by the end of the summer. If the changes are made, it will broaden the tax base and increase Michigan taxes. By passing this bill we can prevent this and effectively keep our rate the same," Mrs. O'Connor said.

"Failure to pass this bill would mean an estimated windfall of $150 million to the state treasury. I'd rather see this money go directly to the people of Michigan," O'Connor added.

The bill has been co-sponsored by 50 other legislators and O'Connor says prospects for passage of the legislation look encouraging.

"We've got bipartisan support for this bill with several Democrats signing on as co-sponsors. Two days ago the governor endorsed this concept and I think this bodes well for its eventual enactment."

"Any federal tax reform would not put an additional burden on Michigan taxpayers and that's why this bill should be passed swiftly once the federal legislation is finalized," O'Connor concluded.

Named To Dean's List

Ronald Allen Milkey of 4754 Fletcher Road, Manchester, is among the 872 students included on the dean's list for the winter semester to the 1985-86 academic year at Western Michigan University.

To be eligible, students must have compiled at least a 3.5 grade point average (on a scale of 4.0 going all A's) in at least 14 hours of graded class work.

Fireworks Are Dangerous!

Every Fourth of July, many children, and adults as well, are seriously burned or injured while playing with fireworks.

According to Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates, over ten thousand people were treated in hospital emergency rooms last year for injuries associated with fireworks. Forty-two percent were under 15 years old.

To help Fourth of July celebrants have a safe and legal holiday, the Michigan State Police offer some guidelines and precautions.

The only fireworks which may be sold legally at the retail level and used by the general public are restricted to: toy paper caps, snakes, toy smoke devices, toy trick noise makers, wire sparklers (size #14 or less), fitter sparklers, and both cone and cylinder fountains.

Any other fireworks are illegal for sale and use unless proper permits are obtained from the local governing body. Fireworks which send a projectile into the air, spin, whirl or emit an audible report (excluding toy paper caps and trick noise makers) are illegal. Local jurisdictions may have more restrictive ordinances. Contact them for more information.

Fire Marshall officers stress that caution should be used and offer several safety precautions:

Make sure fireworks are legal for use by local ordinance and state law:

Check for manufacturer's label and instructions for use on all fireworks - illegally manufactured fireworks rarely have either;

Provide adult supervision and don't allow very young children to handle fireworks;

Light only one device at a time; Ignite fireworks outdoors and away from buildings and combustible materials;

Don't try to re-light or handle malfunctioning fireworks. Soak them in water and throw away.

Don't attempt to alter or use fireworks in a manner not intended.

If you have questions on the safety or legality of any fireworks, contact any State Police post or local police or fire department for assistance.

How A Small Community Came To See The Light At The End Of The Tunnel.

A few years back, the roof practically caved in on the people of this small mining community.

The mine had been shut down. Putting half the town out of work. And taking away a livelihood that had been a way of life here for decades.

Considering that miners all across America were struggling with all the same kind of problems, there did not seem to be even the slightest ray of hope left to the town.

Problem was, just like the miners could not afford to go much longer without work, the company could not afford to reopen the mine. Much less run it profitably enough to keep it up and running, as it had before.

But when the state of Michigan got the miners and the mining company together, people saw things in an entirely different light.

So when they figured out a way to reopen the mine, we pitched in to help figure out a way to finance it.

Today, the mine is open again. The miners have gone back and reclaimed their jobs.

And even though there's still some hard work ahead for everyone concerned, the entire town is beginning to see a much brighter future for itself.

At First of America Bank, we take special pride in what this one small community achieved just by digging deep inside themselves for answers.

Not just because we're bankers. But because, more importantly, we're part of the community, too.

FIRST OF AMERICA.
We're Community Banks First.

Pertussis Vaccine Urged For Infants

Attention, new and expectant mothers and fathers: Make sure your new bundle of joy gets vaccinated against pertussis (whooping cough) shortly after birth.

The use of pertussis vaccine has been the subject of controversy in recent years because of associated severe neurological consequences seen in a small number of children.

In a study presented at the recent Annual Meeting of the American Lung Association... the Christmas Seal People... and its medical section, the American Thoracic Society, Michelle Howenstine, M.D., of the Indiana University School of Medicine in Indianapolis, said that pertussis is a severe and sometimes fatal bacterial infection of the respiratory tract.

"As with any drug or biological product, the risk of use of this vaccine must be weighed against the benefits," Dr. Howenstine said. "I certainly believe that, because of the possibility of death or permanent lung damage in youngsters who acquire pertussis, the use of the vaccine is justified." Pertussis infection produces violent coughing spells (usually accompanied by the distinctive "whoop" sound) that leave the child gasping for breath, often followed by episodes of breathing cessation (apnea). The mortality rate is highest among infants under six-months of age.

A vaccine for the prevention of pertussis that is 90 percent effective has been routinely administered to infants, along with protective agents against diphtheria and tetanus, for over 30 years - pertussis "P" in the familiar "DPT" injection.

For further information about lung disease, write the American Lung Association of Michigan at 403 Seymour Avenue, Lansing, MI 48933, or call toll free at 1-800-292-5979.

Senior Citizens News

Just when we pant for breath, our summer weather turns cool again. It's yo-yo once more, and don't our moods swing, too? Thursday, July 3, features Walking Club at 10:30; sack lunch with a surprise dish at noon; bingo at 1:00 and men's golf. On the 4th, enjoy the festivities at Carr Park with family and friends. Pause and salute the great lady in the harbor who is 150 years old. Maybe the kids will share a sparkler to help celebrate.

Attached to our recent Newsletter is a questionnaire concerning non-credit classes through the Emeritus Program at Washtenaw Community College. The classes would begin in the Fall and continue for 10 weeks. There are a variety of subjects offered with other courses which you may signify as wanted. Please fill out this sheet and return to Manchester Senior Citizens Council, P.O. Box 31, Manchester, MI 48158. It is important that you do this soon so schedules can be set up. Remember, these are offered to our group for all those over 60. Call Rubens Boelter (428-8665) for a copy if you don't have one. Never too late to enjoy learning.

"Swim-A-Cross"

How would you enjoy swimming laps and competing for prizes while helping your community? Why not participate in the American Red Cross "Swim-A-Cross" which will be held July 14-22 at many local participating pools.

Swim-A-Cross is a major special event for the Red Cross. Swimmers raise funds with pledges from their friends, neighbors and relatives for the laps they swim at any of the pools participating in Swim-A-Cross. The funds raised will support Red Cross programs such as First Aid, CPR and water safety courses; and swimming and lifesaving certification. The prizes awarded to those swimmers who collect the most pledge money or enlist the most number of pledging sponsors include: A weekend trip for two to Toronto and a three month health club membership for Adults; and a ten speed bicycle and a portable stereo radio for youth.

Volunteers are needed to swim laps, make pledges, and help stage this year's Swim-A-Cross. If you would like to participate in any of these roles, please call the Red Cross at 971-5300.

Traffic Detour Advisory

Construction has begun on upgrading Interstate 94 Freeway from the US-12 I-94 interchange to just west of the I-94/Rawsonville Road interchange in Washtenaw County, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) said today.

Initial work is on Wiard Road and US-12 in preparation for use as the westbound I-94 detour route in late 1986. Traffic is slowed on those two sections.

The work on Wiard Road and US-12 is expected to continue for the next three to four months. When completed, westbound I-94 will be closed and traffic will be detoured onto northbound Wiard Road and westbound US-12. This detour will be in effect for 18 to 24 months.

Eastbound I-94 will remain on the present I-94 corridor.

The total two-mile project is not expected to be completed until the fall of 1988.
