Lifeline Comes To Manchester

In the first crucial moments of an emergency, Lifeline can be the vital connector between an aged, ill or disabled person's call for help and the arrival of emergency assistance. Residents of Manchester now have the opportunity to enjoy this independence and peace of mind with the purchase of ten Lifeline units from the proceeds of the 1968 Manchester Chicken Broil. Mrs. Vera Schaible was responsible for initiating dialogue between Chelsea Community Hospital and the Chicken Broil Committee. Mrs. Schaible is the recipient of the first Chelsea Community Hospital Lifeline in Manchester.

In a medical emergency one touch of the subscriber's portable button activates the electronic unit attached to the home telephone. The telephone automatically signals Chelsea Community Hospital's Emergency Room response center. Trained staff then call a designated person, neighbor, relative or friend, who in turn, checks on the subscriber within minutes.

Lifeline is available for a monthly rental fee of $15.00. There is no installation charge. To request a Lifeline unit, or obtain more information, call the Social Services Department of Chelsea Community Hospital 478-1311, extension 262.

Optimist Tri-Star Football Contest

The Manchester Optimist Club will hold a Tri-Star Football Contest on October 4, at 1:00 on the new Football Field. The program tests the skills of contestants in three of the basic skills of the game - place-kicking, passing, and punting.

Kids will compete in six age groups, 8 through 13, against youth only of their own age. All that is needed to compete is a pair of gym shoes. Football spikes and boots are not allowed.

There will be trophies awarded to the first three winners in each age group. Every contestant will also receive a memento scorecard and a Tri-Star Patch.

Entry blanks are available at the Middle School office and Klager office or at the contest site on the day of the competition.

Elementary School Open House Night

Thursday, September 25th, will be Open House evening for Klager Elementary students. Open House is a wonderful time for elementary students to share their pride in their class and school with their parents. Teachers and parents also have an opportunity to meet and discuss the coming school year.

Nellie Ackerson Kindergarten parents and children will gather at 6:15 to 6:45. Klager students and parents will meet from 7:00 to 8:00. To make this a special evening for the children, it is requested only elementary age children attend.

Hit or Miss

by Farley

I think that perhaps we should start off this episode with a very timely sign that was reported seen in a Toledo cocktail bar which read "Try Our Autumn Special for the autumn season. Drink one and you change color; drink two and you fall to the ground."

In our mail this morning there was of course, several addressed to "Occupant", most of which we pay very little attention to but this one was artistically adorned down in the corner with the startling sentence "find your ideal mate through our services." A pal of mine also told me that he received a similar letter but he thought that he had better destroy it before his wife noticed it and accused him of sending in for it.

Of course my curiosity was whetted and so I opened it and read the enclosed letter. It went on to say, "It's sad but true that many of us have never found the totally satisfying relationships of our dreams." The letterhead we noted, read from "Great Expectations". However, I want "Great Expectations" to know that I am not in the market for an ideal mate. I don't know how they obtained my listing as "occupant" and I am now perfectly satisfied. I don't know if my loyal canine comes under the heading of an ideal mate, but we both seem real satisfied at present at least.

I am told that these mistakes are made by a computer which seems nowadays to be blamed for most everything that misfires. We have even heard of a dog who received a very personal letter inviting him to purchase life insurance or to invest in mutual funds.

Anyhow, reading further, I find that on page two I will find a questionnaire which I am to fill out carefully, together with one stating my preference for the mate I am seeking. Returning these, I will be evaluated and I will be sent a list of those from their files which might conform to my demands. Then in the comfort of your "relaxed privacy" you can select the ones that you wish to meet and fall in love with.

They tell me that this however, is better than hanging around the singles bars in the larger towns and viewing the miscellaneous collection of misfits one usually finds there. All of which makes me think back to the good old days of yore.

One writer on the subject of romance remembers that in the movies of the 30s and 40s boy met girl by accident and they fell in love but they found many things in the way of their romance. But after many trials and tribulations, they triumphed and lived happily ever after and all of the viewers of the film left the theater in a happy and romantic frame of mind.

Or in those 30s they could have dashed madly to catch a street car in the rain and gaining the platform of the car, the man would proceed to zip up his raincoat and catch the woman's sleeve. She would be very annoyed at first but then would laugh at his discomfure and... boom, they were in love.

In another screen presentation, we remember that she was sent out by her boss to get wine for

M.H.S. Students Attend Drug Intervention Workshop

Several Manchester High School students recently participated in the "Reach America" youth project of the National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth. Responsible Educated Adolescents Can Help (Reach) America stop drugs, was a two day seminar held at the Jackson Community College Potter Center.

Kim Lockridge, Tim Golding, Linda Milkey, John Korican, Allan Carson and Kim Davis have now been trained to answer questions about drugs, present lectures, demonstrations, and skits to younger students. These students are prepared to participate in drug prevention activities in elementary, junior high and high schools.

High School teacher, Judy Miller, accompanied the group during the September 11-12 training and feels it will have a positive impact on the school and community. "The Reach America youth program is not a one-shot, one-time program," according to Mrs. Miller. "It is designed to give specific, concrete prevention activities that can be initiated immediately after completion of

This year your Manchester United Way is calling on area residents in a different way - a letter in the mail rather than a knock on your door. Over twenty volunteers worked to prepare envelopes for the October 1st mailing. Please be as generous this year as in previous years. Help reach the goal of $40,000.00. When your letter arrives, "HARVEST THAT GOOD FEELING - GIVE."

Health For All

Rare Pneumonia Always Strikes After Heart-Lung Transplant

A recent study shows that 100 percent of heart-lung transplant patients suffer from a rare "opportunistic" pneumonia that takes advantage of people with weakened immune systems. It is the number one killer of patients with acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS).

But, doctors say that this lung infection can be detected at an early stage - even before symptoms appear - and can be successfully treated with antibiotics.

Irvin L. Paradis, M.D., of the University of Pittsburgh and the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Pittsburgh, presented the results of his study at the Annual Meeting of the American Lung Association and its medical section, the American Thoracic Society. Dr. Paradis said that two-thirds of his transplant patients were diagnosed as having pneumocystis carinii pneumonia before any signs of illness appeared and before x-rays showed any abnormalities in their lungs. The infection was easily detected in lung washings obtained by a simple diagnostic technique called bronchoalveolar lavage (BAL). Pneumocystis is a common microorganism that rarely causes illness in humans.

In transplant patients, immunosuppression is a necessary addition to surgery so that the patient's immune system will not reject the new organs. Patients who have undergone heart-lung transplant are at a continued risk of opportunistic infections because they must take cyclosporin, an immunosuppressive drug, for the remainder of their lives. Heart-lung transplants are an experimental procedure that have been performed at fewer than 10 health centers worldwide. Of the 100-150 transplants performed to date, 36 have been at the University of Pittsburgh since 1982. "The majority of these patients are young adults with primary pulmonary hypertension who have at most a few years to live," Dr. Paradis said. Of the 36 patients operated on at the University of Pittsburgh, 19 survived the postoperative period with resumption of a near-normal life. Four of these patients died later, two of pneumocystis infection. Twelve patients have been monitored by periodic BAL, and although infection occurred in all of them, only four developed the typical symptoms of pneumonia with abnormal x-rays. The remaining eight either had no symptoms or mild upper respiratory tract disease. In one patient, the infection disappeared without treatment. Many of the patients are treated out of the hospital, and about one half are now taking antibiotics regularly to prevent future infection.

The American Lung Association of Michigan is dedicated to the control and prevention of all lung disease and some of its related causes, including smoking, and air pollution. If you would like further information on lung diseases, contact the ALAM at 408 Seymour Avenue, Lansing, MI 48933, or call toll-free at 1-800-292-5979.

Operation HEMP, a Michigan State Police effort to eliminate marijuana planting in the state, is in full swing, officials report. Last year, more than 141,000 plants were destroyed as a result of the cooperative effort which involves participation from other law enforcement agencies as well as the public. D/F/L. Roy Vernier, project coordinator, explained that the best and cheapest way to prevent marijuana from reaching the streets is to stop it at the source. The State Police recognize the difficulty in identifying and apprehending individuals involved in this illegal activity. The public is being asked to assist. If a citizen has reason to be suspicious about property that may be used for growing marijuana, he or she should call the State Police Operation HEMP toll free number 1-800-236-HEMP.

Month Long Fire Safety Campaign

Beginning in mid-September, WDIV-TV joins Michigan McDonald's Restaurants in "Plan to Get Out Alive," a month-long fire safety campaign. The public service program culminates with a home fire drill on Wednesday, October 8, which will be broadcast live during "News 4 at 5:00 p.m."

"Most people have learned how to exit their schools or offices when there is a fire, but not their homes," said Henry Maldonado, WDIV-TV program manager. "Since 80 percent of all fires occur in the home, we realized a need for more knowledge about how to escape home fires."

"Plan to Get Out Alive," anchored by News 4 weathercasters Brian Teigland and Mal Sillars, creates awareness of the need for fire safety planning and provides specific procedures and advice for families.

As part of its "Plan to Get Out Alive" effort, WDIV-TV is airing public service announcements, editorials, news segments and special reports. The station is providing specific tips on what to do in case a fire breaks out in the home. Viewers will also be informed of a pamphlet available at local McDonald's restaurants which provides fire safety information and instructions for planning a home fire safety drill. The campaign, supported by the Michigan Fire Chiefs Association, creates awareness of National Fire Safety Week, October 5-11.

DOES YOUR CHILD HAVE SCOLIOSIS?

Most parents are loving and have a deep concern for their children's health. Even so, many parents wouldn't have any idea how to answer the question: Does your child have scoliosis? We shouldn't be too critical of our unknowing parents however, for scoliosis, "the UNSEEN CRIPPLER," is very difficult to detect in its early stages.

Without proper detection techniques, scoliosis can remain unnoticed until it has progressed to near crippling proportions and can last a lifetime.

The term scoliosis refers to the lateral curvature of the spinal column. In fact, when the spinal vertebrae move laterally (to the side) they most often rotate or turn as they do so. This results in the true terminology of "ROTARY SCOLIOSIS." Most doctors simply use the term "scoliosis" for the sake of simplicity.

The deep concern for children is caused by the fact that research shows most adults who have scoliosis developed this disease between the ages of 4 and 10. Of the 10,000 adult subjects tested, nearly 80% had rotations in some area of their spinal column and 80% to 90% are female.

The next question a person might ask is: If so many people have scoliosis, why isn't it more well known? The answer to this question lies in four simple facts:

Fact One: When a scoliosis is being formed there is usually no immediate pain involved. As a result, the individual is often unaware that a problem exists.

Fact Two: Unfortunately, the majority of people do not get regular monthly check-ups for their family or for themselves. Sadly, this means that early detection is hampered.

Fact Three: Since there is no pain involved, children don't often complain, and general examinations are not usually directed to scoliosis detection, people believe all is well.

Fact Four: Until recently, little attention was given to spinal care, and the formation of spinal abnormalities. People are now becoming more aware of the need for spinal care. With recent passage of spinal care laws, and mandatory spinal check laws for school age children, we can only believe that many children will be spared the agony of adult scoliosis.

However, unless we remain attentive to the need for scoliosis detection, many children and adults will develop this crippling disease.

Fortunately, not all cases progress to the disabling stages of Kyphosis (hunchback) or Lordosis (swayback). Rather, many cases stay in the area termed "functional scoliosis."

Sadly, without treatment, the "functional" cases may advance to a crippling stage without warning. This often results in a variety of physical problems such as respiratory and mobility difficulties, and could even cause a shortened life expectancy, due to the impingement of nerves supplying energy to vital organs.

As today's health care environment begins to touch on the causes, progression and treatment of scoliosis, chiropractic patients will be encouraged to know that doctors of chiropractic have been diagnosing and treating scoliosis patients for nearly 100 years. They are clearly the experts in this field.

Chiropractors, as pioneers of spinal research, have done much to pave the way for proper diagnostic and treatment techniques. This research has uncovered a wide variety of diseases directly related to, but not previously linked to, the various forms of scoliosis.

Most doctors of chiropractic agree that the best time to detect scoliosis is when the child is in the most vulnerable years (4 to 10 years of age). For this reason, we suggest that if you are not bringing your children for regular monthly chiropractic adjustments, that you start soon. Scoliosis can be corrected through regular chiropractic adjustments.

Don't let your children suffer needlessly. Remember, scoliosis can cripple.

In many cases, the first signs of back problems are ignored - largely because people don't know how to recognize them. And back problems, like all health troubles, are most easily handled early. Here's a simple check you can make with your children: examine them carefully to see if one shoulder is higher than the other, or look closely at the hem of your daughter's skirt to see if it hangs crooked. Either one calls for a professional - examination from your chiropractor. If there's any doubt, have the condition examined. A few minutes now can mean a lot to your child's health in years to come.

signify how, intuitively, we recognize that our lives are influenced by time and season.

Now scientists are finding evidence to support the poets. For example, are you:

- * A "morning person," brimming with energy and accomplishing mountains of work while others are still ungluing sleepy eyes?
- * A "night person" who comes alive when the rest of the world takes to bed?
- * An insomniac who awakens in the wee hours and tosses and turns thinking about your troubles?
- * A "seasonal depressive" who is downcast in winter?
- * A frequent traveler, discommodated by jet lag?
- * A shift worker who is thrown out of sync every time your job schedule is rotated?

- * Sexier in the spring?

Setting the Standard

Some names set the standard for quality.

In every field, there is one name that stands out. Generally, it's because the people behind the name care a great deal about what they do and know how to do it well.

McAuley Health Plan sets the standard for health care coverage.

The growth of McAuley Health Plan in Washtenaw and western Wayne counties in the last two years has been remarkable. People are switching to McAuley Health Plan because it offers the doctors, the hospitals, and the service they want.

Experience counts.

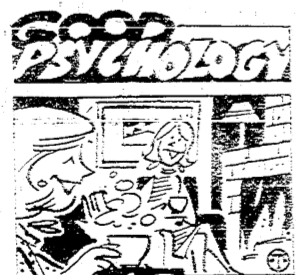

Running a health plan takes good people, and we have some of the best. Many have years of health care experience working with other plans across the country.

We have used that experience to provide the kind of service you need. Our members pay no annual deductible and are covered for routine as well as emergency care by local physicians and hospitals they know and trust.

Just as important, the people of McAuley Health Plan work hard at making care easy to get. Paperwork has been virtually eliminated so you can just concentrate on staying well.

It's surprising for a relatively new health plan to talk about setting the standard when there are a number of older plans around.

But then, McAuley Health Plan is surprising a lot of people these days.

Days when you're not at work may provide just the right time to indulge yourself a little. Afternoon tea in a posh hotel may be the latest rage. You can do the same thing at home. It's a gracious way of entertaining, and it can also be inexpensive. Perhaps more importantly, it can be an easy party to prepare. So call up your best friends, bake a few fine cakes and cookies, and give yourself and your friends an entertaining and relaxing treat around a cozy hearth. A pleasant chat may revitalize you all for whatever work lies ahead.

Council Proceedings

[Reprint from August 7, 1986, issue of The Manchester Enterprise.]

Approved Minutes
Public Hearing
July 22, 1986

A Public Hearing with the Manchester Village Council, Manchester Township, Sharon Township, Bridgewater Township and Freedom Township was held July 22, 1986, at the Manchester High School Auditorium.

The Village Manager, Dan Naimowicz, called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. Present: Douglas Parr, Eugene Mann, John Savage, Leonard Dayss, H.E. Fraumann, Wendell Reinhart, Larry Becktel, Ted Tapping, Walter Hieber, Karen Weidmayer, Gary Wiedmayer, James Hansen, Willard Blumensauer, Ruth Blumensauer, Clarence Fielder and Dan Naimowicz. This hearing concerns increases in operating costs, fees, rules and regulations in the operation of the Transfer Site.

Naimowicz opened the meeting with the statement that yesterday our vendor raised our fee for services 36% without any notice what-so-ever, effective immediately.

Fielder: Does the Village have an open contract?

Naimowicz: Yes - we have the right to bid out at any time.

Becktel: Have we solicited for any other bids?

Naimowicz: Bids are being prepared. We are also trying to find other ways of managing the transfer site.

Wiedmayer gave the following report:

TRANSFER SITE USAGE
April 17th - July 19th (14 weeks)	1008
Bridgewater Twp'nshp.	1008
Freedom Twp'nshp.	795
Manchester Twp'nshp.	1195
Sharon Twp'nshp.	1064
Manchester Village	2345
Total Usage	6407

Naimowicz: Every 16 weeks there are about 6000 visits. The first quarter of this year the cost of the transfer site was about $34,768.00. Just with the rate increase alone, the cost for the next quarter will be around $52,000.00, and we are expecting another rate increase by the next quarter. At this rate we will be $40,000.00 over last years cost by the end of the year.

Savage: We collect $25,000.00 a year in taxes for Sharon Township and pay $16,000.00 a year for the Transfer Site alone, no way can Sharon Township continue paying the present rate plus an increase.

Parr: Our Township is the same way.

Reinhart: How do you feel about charging?

Becktel: Have we investigated contracting the running of the Transfer Site out?

Naimowicz: Yes - there are two or three vendors interested.

Fraumann: Are we required by law to take care of garbage and trash?

Naimowicz: No.

Naimowicz stated that the Supervisors recommended the Townships and Village should not pay according to population but according to use. The Village, being the largest user needs to come up with alternatives, such as maybe providing garbage collection. The Transfer Site is not licensed for "garbage" just "solid waste". Naimowicz reports that based on the contractors observation the Transfer Site is taking in about 1/3 garbage; Eliminating garbage would cut costs immensely.

Fraumann: Could we have mandatory separation?

Naimowicz: It could be written into the ordinance.

Naimowicz, on behalf of the Supervisors, made the recommendation that this service could no longer be provided without charging and asked for everyone's opinion. Schedule of fees was discussed.

Tapping: How fast could we put a fee schedule together and put it into effect?

Naimowicz: Possibly by September 1, 1986.

It was of general concession that charging to use the Transfer Site was inevitable. The only thing left to do was to adopt a fee schedule, publicize and pass a Transfer Site Ordinance as fast as possible.

Motion by Fielder, supported by Blumensauer, to adjourn at 7:47 p.m.

Washtenaw County Residents Can Attend Craft Workshops

Washtenaw County adult and teen leaders are invited to attend a 4-H visual arts and crafts workshop, October 3-4, 1986, at Kettunen Center, the state's leadership training facility in Tustin.

"The purpose of the workshop is to provide an opportunity for leaders to refine their skills and learn new arts and crafts techniques to teach to other 4-H leaders and members," says John Evert, Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Agent.

Visual arts sessions will include art and architecture, as well as basic elements of art. Participants in the workshop can choose to attend several sessions on such crafts as candlewicking, clay sculpturing, glass etching, drawing and matting and framing pictures.

How To Get The Loans You Need

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants)

Are you applying for a loan soon? Advance planning, a carefully filled out loan application and a good banking relationship can tip the odds in your favor, says the Michigan Association of CPAs.

Before you talk to a loan officer about a personal loan, it might be smart to review your credit report, especially if you have ever been delinquent in paying bills. Find out from the bank which credit-reporting bureau it uses. Contact that bureau and ask for a written copy of your credit report. The fee for such a report will be about $8. Any blemishes, such as late payments or unpaid balances, could hinder your chances of getting a loan.

If you find any creditor's complaints in the report, contact those creditors and discuss paying any remaining bills. Your objective is to have them withdraw their complaints, leaving your credit report in good order.

While consumers are advised to shop around for the best deal possible, individuals should consider seeking loans from banks they now do business with and hope to do other business with in the future. This helps build a good relationship with a bank. Make an appointment to talk to your banker or a loan officer. During the meeting, explain what the loan will be used for. Your banker will tell you what kinds of loans might be appropriate, such as a term loan or a line-of-credit loan.

Now it's time to fill out a loan application. Do this with great care. List all your assets, such as a home or car, as well as certificates of deposit, mutual funds, stocks or other investments. Don't rush. A hastily completed or sloppily filled out application will create a negative impression. You must present yourself on paper as carefully as you would present yourself in person. You may want to have a CPA assist you by reviewing your application and, if needed, by helping you prepare a personal financial statement.

Any potentially complicated items on the application should be clarified. If your income is low but you will receive a raise in two months, attach to your application a letter from your employer about the raise. Too many consumers leave items blank and balk at giving loan officers full financial information. Your loan officer will pay careful attention to your

Freeway Travelers Aid Rest Area Maintenance

A toll-free telephone number is helping the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) do a better job of maintaining the 78 rest areas along Michigan's 1,800-mile freeway system.

Callers are reporting everything from abandoned cars to lack of restroom supplies to threatening situations where police help is requested. Details bearing the number 1-800-454-8787 have been posted since May 1, in lobbies, telephone booths and on restroom mirrors at roadside rest areas, including all 11 welcome centers on major state highways.

"We have not been inundated with calls," said Robert A. Welke, MDOT's assistant deputy director for highway operations. "And that's a good sign, because it means we're doing our job." The toll-free number is hooked to a message center which logs calls and makes a daily report to MDOT, which then follows up each reported problem.

"Most calls are productive," said Welke. "They identify a weakness in our system - maybe there's a plumbing malfunction, or lights are burnt out or there's broken glass in the parking lot. The calls are referred quickly to an MDOT maintenance crew."

Since the Department's first three-month operational report, Welke noted there has been some healthy competition among the state's nine district maintenance crews. "Every crew wants its rest areas to look the best," he said. The Department had a total of 721 calls in three months, approximately twice as many calls per day on the weekends as on the weekdays. About half the callers were male, but two-thirds of callers reporting a "dirty" rest area were female.

Message center employees have been instructed to relay all personal safety concerns directly to the appropriate police agency. Welke said the new toll-free number has helped the Department identify where it needs to spend money. "We're proud of Michigan's

180-Day Ruling

The "180-day ruling" regarding petition drives will not derail the Citizens Liability Action Committee in their drive to limit trial lawyers' contingency fees via a constitutional amendment, according to G. William Sefton, CLAC press secretary.

"We are going for a proposal on the 1988 ballot," Sefton notes, "and we have until November 3rd to submit our petitions. If the 180-day ruling stands up - as it very well may - it would void the signatures we acquired before May 3rd. But all the rest, plus the ones we get in September and October, would be good. Voters who signed in March and April are being asked to do it over."

Nearly 4,000 citizens have circulated petitions for the Committee as of August 30, Sefton reports, and have been re-supplied with petition forms. "Assuming the 180-day ruling might knock us clear back to 140,000 good signatures," he observes, "we have the arithmetic to generate more than enough additional voter names in the time now remaining."

The CLAC proposal would limit contingency fees to 33 1/3% of the first $200,000 of any award for wrongful death or personal injury, and to 5% of any additional amount with the balance going to the plaintiff. In the case of a $1,000,000 award, for instance, the attorney would receive $106,866, plus expenses, instead of $338,333, plus expenses. The plaintiff would receive $693,333, less expenses, instead of $666,666, less expenses.

Distribution centers for petition forms and related materials have been established throughout the state, Sefton advises. Any citizens desiring to sign or circulate petitions can call 1-800-562-0562 toll-free for information.

Dutchmen Golfers Win

by jon

We chalked up our first win of the season by clubbing Sand Creek, 171-206. Rob Gillow was a medalist with 42.

JV Footballers Roll On

by jon

Our Little Dutch remain undefeated through three outings by crushing East Jackson, 22-6. Bryan Barnard took over quarterbacking duties for the injured John Korian, and did an admirable job. Bryan completed only two of eight passes, but with power runners, who needs to go to the air. Allan Carson motored for 113 yards, as Jamie Darrow plowed for 75 yards. In the scoring department, we had Jamie with two touchdowns, David Wigard with one TD and an extra point, and Allan with an extra point.

Girls Basketball Squads Fall

On Tuesday night we traveled to Pantherland to meet Addison. In the first contest of the evening, our Little Dutch came up short losing 39-42. Nikole Reinhart was our high scorer with 18 points. The Varsity contest, unfortunately, was no contest, as we went down 33-71. Dawn Brady was high scorer with 8 points.

Dutch Girls Face Hanover Horton

by jon

Our JV Basketball squad posted their first win by a score of 42-29. We had solid scoring from Nikole Reinhart with 18 points, as Linda Milkey hit for 14. The Varsity weren't as lucky, as Hanover won 44-34. Vanessa Salyer popped for ten points, while Sherry Rickelmann had 8 points and fourteen rebounds.

Varsity Footballers Sneak By East Jackson

by jon

On Friday, we opened our Cascades League campaign by edging the Trojans 9-8. Coach Jim Fielder commented after the game, "I think it was a total team effort on our part...I was very proud of everyone." E.J. scored first with a 6 point TD and a 2 point conversion to lead 8-0. Our quarterback, Tom Mann sent the sphere skyward and Scott Gross snared it in the endzone for 6 points. The Trojans fumbled the ensuing kickoff but recovered to move out of the endzone. The entire second half was all Dutchmen, as Bart Rickelmann's 28-yard field goal put us ahead, 9-8, and our defense stonewalled them.

Meet Engler and O'Connor In Manchester

A coffee honoring Republican candidates Colleen Engler and Margaret O'Connor will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. October 3, at the Manchester Township Hall. Engler is running for Lt. Governor and O'Connor is running for re-election to the Michigan House (52nd District).

Jane Talcott, Manchester, Chair of the Washtenaw County Republican Committee, which is sponsoring the open house, said she hoped people from several townships neighboring Manchester would come to the informal event. The township hall is located at 275 S. Macomb Street in Manchester.

Talcott said the coffee would provide an opportunity for people to meet and talk with both candidates in a relaxed atmosphere. "It's just a neighborhood coffee session," she said.

Mission Reach Out

Local United Methodists will participate in an intensive program to acquaint themselves with missions October 4-9.

Mission Reach Out will present global needs, introduce missionaries who have served in all parts of the world and give church members an opportunity to learn more about what United Methodists are doing in the area of missions.

More than 80 mission interpreters will participate in Mission Reach Out, a 6-day event involving more than 90 percent of the Ann Arbor District's 73 churches. The Ann Arbor District is a geographic rectangular area bounded on the east by Livonia, on the west by Jackson, on the north by Flint and on the south by the Michigan-Ohio border.

The district's 22,000 members, including children, contributed more than $908,000 to missions in 1986.

During Mission Reach Out mission interpreters will meet with church members in large and small groups, at worship services, church school classes, youth group meetings, potluck suppers, community service club meetings and other special events.

United Methodist Churches in the Ann Arbor District include: Adrian First, Ann Arbor Calvary, Ann Arbor First, Ann Arbor Glacier Way, Ann Arbor Korean, Ann Arbor West Side, Azalia London, Belleville First, Blissfield Emmanuel, Blissfield First,

P.T.O. Plea For Help!

The playgroud in the heart of our fair city is in dire need of help. The Manchester Elementary PTO is forming a task force to look into what improvements could be made to the Middle School Playgroud. The PTO is extending a plea to the community members for assistance. Excavation experts, landscape professionals, people with creative ideas, and concerned citizens with lots of elbow grease are desperately needed to volunteer some time to this project. Those who are interested in helping us enhance this playgroud in the middle of our village, please contact one of the schools and leave your name or contact Kathy Donnellon at 428-9122.

Junipers: Cover and Food For Wildlife

Most of us gardeners have favorite plants; landscape designers do too. With me, favorites include the junipers, an incredibly diverse group of ground covers, shrubs and trees. Some are native to the U.S. and many have been introduced from Europe and Asia—especially those commonly used in landscaping.

For gardeners interested in attracting birds, junipers are truly a plant for all seasons: they outstrip most other bird-attracting plants in providing cover and food. As evergreens, they're excellent nesting sites and year-round places for birds to hide from predators. Many produce abundant fruit over a long period of time; most set their fruit in March and April; some (like the eastern redcedar) mature their fruit the same year. The fruit is ready to eat in August or September and holds for 5 to 8 months, often well into the next fruiting period—considerably longer than the one- or two-week period most other berry-bearing shrubs and trees offer their wildlife-attracting produce.

Among the native U.S. junipers, the eastern redcedar, Juniperus virginiana, provides food regularly for at least 20 or 30 (and I suspect possibly 60 to 70) species of birds. A long-lived, sun-loving tree, this "cedar" prefers well-drained soils but can tolerate a wide range of soil pH. It does support a fungus (cedar apple rust) which can damage apples, mountain ash and other plants in the rose family, but its assets outweigh its drawbacks. Similar juniper species serve the south-

Pointers For Parents

Home Movies: 1986-Style
My, how they've grown! That's what many a parent says after watching home movies of the kids, years—or maybe even months—after they were filmed. The magic of a home movie captures precious, once-in-a-lifetime moments with a vividness still photography can't match.

Home movie making just got easier.

Used to be that taking and showing home movies was a difficult and cumbersome task. Most home movie cameras available recorded only images, not sound. To show the films, you needed a projector and a movie screen. These days, filming and showing home movies is much easier. RCA's newest major product, the lightweight camcorder, replaces the expensive and frustrating delays of buying and processing home movie film with convenient and economical VHS tape with sound. The new "Pro Wonder" model from RCA, which is compatible with all VHS format VCRs, lets you check your tape simply by watching a replay through the viewfinder monitor. If you don't like it, rewind and reshoot.

It also frees you from the bother of setting up a movie projector and screen. Just pop your tape into any standard VHS VCR and watch it on TV. My, how they've grown... and so has the technology behind home movies.

Indoor Air

Is your home polluted? Fact is, indoor air pollution levels are often 10 times those of outdoor levels. That's especially troublesome since most people spend up to 90 percent of their time indoors. Good reason, say experts, to take a look at the air filters on your central air conditioning and/or home heating system.

Indoor air pollutants include cooking smoke and grease, aerosol sprays, tobacco smoke, animal dander, household cleaners and more. One way to get rid of them is with air filters that operate efficiently. There are three types of filters, according to the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute (ARI): standard filters, media filters, and electronic air cleaners. Air filters trap particles so small they are measured in microns (one micron equals one 25,400th of an inch; a human hair is about 100 microns thick).

For a free brochure on air filters, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: ARI, Dept. F-2, 1501 Wilson Blvd., 6th Floor, Arlington, VA 22209.

Biological Clock

has a sleep time? Chronobiology: "It's Your Circadian Rhythm at Last!"

These situations and many others are believed to reflect both the normal operations and some familiar disruptions of our biological clocks. Chronobiology is the field of science and medicine that explores the many bodily changes governed by the hours and the seasons.

Our bodies have internal rhythms that make us sleepy at night, allow us to awake alert in the morning, cause us to grow hungry at mealtimes, and produce low body temperature in the middle of the night that rises to a high point in the daytime. A variety of hormones ebb and flow like clockwork. Nearly every function of the body exhibits a 24-hour pattern. As one team of researchers put it: "Our biological rhythms make each of us a microcosm of the geophysical world."

The link to the outside world in creating these bodily rhythms may be quite specific. Investigators are finding, for example, that exposure to light can reset the biological clocks that regulate many body functions. Light or dark falling on the eyes transmits messages to the pineal gland of the brain, orchestrating a great variety of hormonal activities. These hormones affect sleep, hunger, sexual desire, moods, temperature, alertness, thinking... indeed, almost everything.

Many experiments with animals indicate that changing the duration of light in their environments or eliminating the pineal light/dark regulator puts them

1986 Driving Costs Near 6-Year Low

Motorists will spend $3,573 this year to own and operate a new, intermediate-size automobile, $28 less than in 1981 and $74 below last year. The AAA Michigan chart shows it now costs 23.8 cents per mile to operate a car, the second lowest total in the last six years and only .3 cent more than in 1984. The major reasons for the drop in operating costs from 1981 to 1986 include: reduced gasoline prices, more fuel efficient vehicles, lower interest rates and increased tire longevity. Operating costs are based on a 1986 Chevrolet, 6-cylinder (173 cubic inch) Celebrity 4-door sedan with standard accessories, automatic transmission, power steering, power disc brakes, radio, cruise control and rear window defogger, driven 15,000 miles and financed over four years. This and other information is included in the 1986 edition of AAA's "Your Driving Costs" booklet available free to members.

Seasonal Depression — For one form of depression April is the kindest month. Psychiatrists have identified a type of winter doldrums — genuine depression, but not of suicidal proportions — that occur in winter and disappear in spring. Termed seasonal affective disorder (SAD), it may be a result of diminished light in winter. Many SAD victims get better when they go south during the winter to latitudes that are more spring-like.

One treatment has been to fool the body into thinking it's a different season. Norman E. Rosenthal, M.D., of the National Institute of Mental Health, has been exposing winter depressives to very bright, movie-set type lights for several hours, morning and night, to lengthen the days of fall and winter. Many depressions have abated.

Other Types of Insomnia — Some types of insomnia are related to our biological clocks, others are not. Older people tend to take naps during the day and can't sleep through the night. Scientists find that older body clocks seem to speed up. Perhaps they run so fast that they can't synchronize with a 24-hour day. Shift workers, such as policemen and firefighters, who get switched from days to nights, as well as those who moonlight on second jobs, also tend to have sleep difficulties. Both groups have biological rhythms out of tune with their schedules.

There are also many other causes of insomnia, unrelated to biological rhythms. Doctors can manage many of these or refer patients to sleep disorder specialists.

Jet Lag Calls for Readjustment — Those traveling to different time zones must adjust to the new times for night and day, then must readjust once they are home. The strategy to prevent problems depends on the trip. Someone going to a different time zone for a brief stay should avoid adjusting to the local time. If one is to be in the new setting for a couple of weeks, it's best to adjust quickly. Get involved in its schedule. Be exposed to its light and dark. Delay going to sleep in order to get in step.

Travel in a westward direction is easier for most people's biological clock adjustments than travel to the east. Traveling west means longer days, which is what our bodies want anyway. Then, by denying oneself some sleep, it's easy to fit into local patterns.

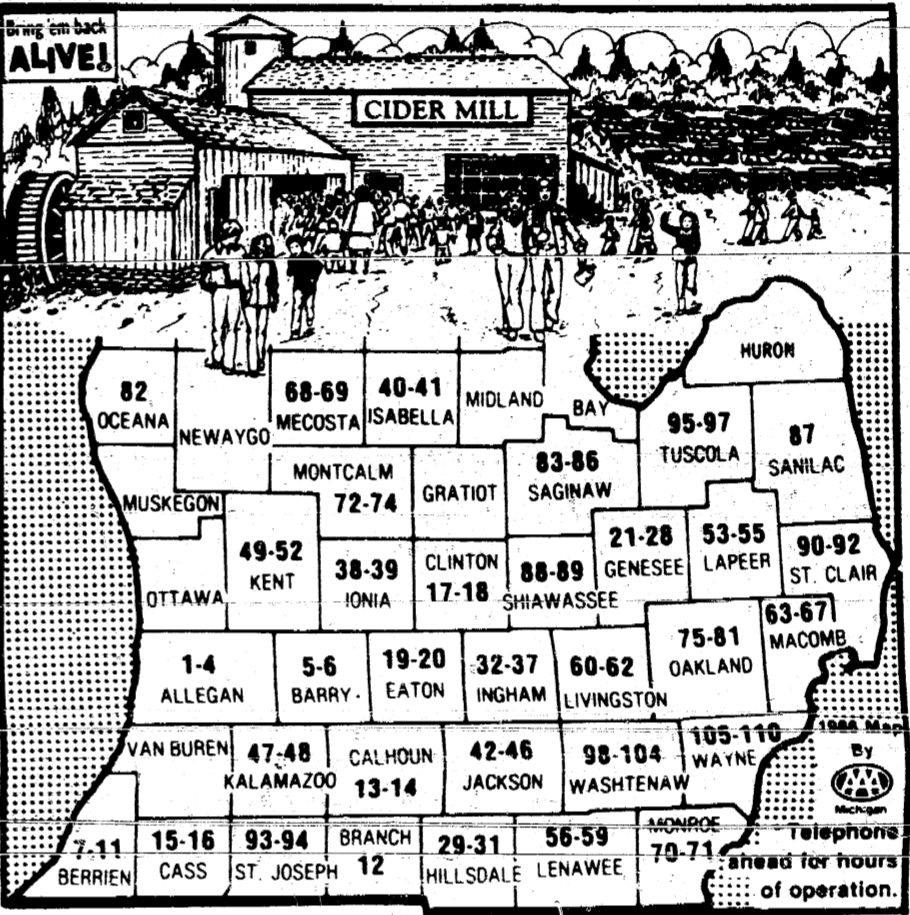

Traveling eastward means shortening the day. This can be both difficult and stressful. Among the remedies being tested are short-acting sleep medications taken for a few nights. Recent studies have

Cider Sipping Season Offers Family Fun

Michigan's tantalizing blend of ciders ranging from tangy to sweet, combined with outdoor activities for the whole family, will beckon thousands of visitors to AAA Michigan this fall, reports AAA Michigan.

"The opportunity to enjoy crisp autumn air, savor a glass of apple cider and bask in a kaleidoscope of trees splashed in red, yellow and orange are exciting autumn treats for everyone to enjoy," stated AAA Michigan Travel Services Manager James Drury.

"Prices are up only a few cents over last year and health-conscious families know that fresh apple cider is low in sodium and relatively low in calories," Drury added.

This year's apple crop is one-third smaller than last year due to spring frost damage, but the quality remains very good.

Some 700 million pounds of apples are expected to be plucked from Michigan trees this year, with the state producing 10 percent of the nation's apple crop. Only Washington and New York harvest more apples.

The most abundant Michigan apples are Red Delicious and Jonathan, but other popular varieties include Ida Red, Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Rome and Northern Spy.

A number of new varieties, including the Empire — a cross between the Red Delicious and McIntosh — are increasing in popularity, Drury noted.

Cider mill visitors will find that cider averages $2.40 per gallon, 3 cents more than last year. Prices range from $1.50 to $3.50. A dozen doughnuts averages $2.30, 1 cent higher than last year, with prices from $1.60 to $4.

There are 110 mills listed on AAA Michigan's 1986 Cider Mill Guide — 10 more than a year ago. Many of those listed offer such family activities as hay wagon and train rides, apple butter making, arts and crafts fairs, pumpkin carving, animal petting zoos, music, craft demonstrations and baked goods. Pick-your-own apples and pumpkins also are featured at some mills.

Most mills also allow visitors to view pressing operations and provide special tours and demonstrations. Visitors should call ahead for pressing dates and times and a schedule of other activities.

The newsline's two-to-three minute recorded messages provide the latest information about hunting season dates, such as the early September 3-5 goose season this year, hunting license costs, deadlines, tips, safety, rule changes and hunting conditions in the State.

In addition, the newsline provides tips on or locations for finding mushrooms, wild berries, wildflowers and other plants in season. Information on bird migrations and other general news about the State's wild animals and birds. The recorded messages are updated once a week.

Genco welcomes ideas for additional information the public wants to receive through the WILD newsline program. Call him with comments and suggestions at 517-373-1263, or write him, care of DNR Wildlife Division, Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909.

It's native domestic burgandy, without any breeding, but I think you will be amused by its presumption."

Other screen writers have used many variations on the theme. There's the confusion when he has rented a small apartment but she's rented it first and when he arrives, she's in it and it's the only apartment left in town. He then persuades her to let him share it but you know how that one will turn out.

"What", asks one writer, "would life be like without what we call 'cute meets'. Without the hope that, for those who are looking for their ideal, might meet one day their true love. But I don't really believe that it will be realized by fourth class mail addressed to "occupant". I certainly don't want to discourage anybody from trying it. Again, we in the small towns are lucky to have all the opportunities that we do to meet and make friends and to enjoy a normal social life of the kind that we do.

Hints For Homemakers

NOSE KNOW-HOW

The nose knows: Just as pleasing odors can enhance a home's atmosphere, mal-odors can sabotage it. Fortunately, unpleasant odors can be controlled—and there are ways to make any room radiate a scent that complements its decor and creates a mood to match a season, time of day, or activity.

Some odor beating ideas you can try:

- Toss it: Find the source of the smell and remove it as quickly as possible.
- Dry it: Most bacteria will not grow without moisture. A dehumidifier takes water out of the atmosphere and condenses it.
- Wash it: Cleaning a moldy area thoroughly with detergent, or household bleach can also prevent the growth of bacteria and resulting odors.
- Blow it: Odors are the result of airborne molecules. Ventilate the area where they occur.
- Deodorize or freshen it: Use an air freshener, such as Glade Light, the newest addition to the Glade line of air fresheners, to keep rooms smelling fresh and clean. A fast-acting burst of fragrance can enhance the atmosphere of any room with just a hint of scent.
- Contain it: The best way to prevent odors from developing in the refrigerator or on kitchen shelves is to keep items tightly sealed in a container or with plastic wrap.

A fast-acting burst of fragrance can enhance any room in the house.

INTRODUCE
The Mobile Toter System

IT'S EASY TO USE! Keep your Mobile Toter in a convenient place for loading. Then on collection day, just roll it to your curb. Even loaded with a week's accumulation of trash, it rolls easily and there's no lifting.

IT'S ATTRACTIVE! The smartly shaped, subtly colored Mobile Toter replaces those unsightly 20-gallon trash cans. The tough shell and cover keeps stray animals from spilling your trash and never dents or rusts.

LARGER VOLUME! - 90 gallons.

IT'S MORE SANITARY! The Mobile Toter has a tight, latching-lid that keeps trash and odors locked inside and animals locked out. It's easy to periodically hose out the Toter.

IT'S ECONOMICAL! Just dump the trash directly into the Mobile Toter. You'll save on expensive plastic trash bags — and won't have to buy or repair a trash can ever again.

IT GETS YOU BETTER SERVICE! Trash pickups will be quieter because the Mobile Toter doesn't clank or bang. Collection people like it because they don't have to handle trash directly — risk cuts — or lift heavy cans either! And incidentally, the Mobile Toter is great help in collecting leaves or in other yard work.

...AND, now you can have the convenient Mobile Toter collection system at your home.

Helping Your Child
Q. How can I help my child with their homework?
A. By "not" doing it for them. What you can do is make sure they have the time, the place and the inspiration for doing it themselves.

• See that they have a desk or table in a quiet room with good light and no distractions.
• Keep good research sources handy and encourage children to read and investigate.

• Set a good example. Try to use proper English when speaking or writing. Show your children you enjoy learning new things; reading books, newspapers and magazines.
• Take an interest in what goes on in school. Ask your children about their days there. Attend school plays and recitals your children are in, parent-teacher conferences, school board meetings and Parent-Teacher Association meetings.
• Review with them their homework before it goes to school and their schoolwork when it comes home. Help them see where something may have been done better—and where something was done just right.
You can get free brochures with more tips on helping your children get the most from school by writing to:

The Ultimate Truth In Lending.

To anyone who's never done it before, applying for a loan can be a bewildering experience. All those questions, calculations and telephone calls make borrowing seem so confusing. Actually, it's quite simple. Even logical. And to prove that point, First of America Bank is offering The Borrowing Book—a straightforward explanation of how loan officers make up their minds. In it you'll find the questions bankers ask when you apply for a loan. You'll read about the importance of debt-to-income ratios and credit reports. And you'll learn about the wealth of loans available from First of America Bank. Everything from car and boat loans to private lines of credit and bank credit cards.

For personal loans and the whole story behind them, come to your nearby First of America Bank office and get The Borrowing Book free. The plot isn't much, but it could have a very happy ending.

Jill R. Schaffner, daughter of Jan D. and Ann D. Schaffner of 5733 M-52, Manchester, has been officially accepted into the U.S. Military Academy's Corps of Cadets as a new member of the class of 1990 during the annual acceptance parade.

The parade followed six weeks of rigorous basic cadet training at the West Point, N.Y., academy. Training in military customs and courtesies, drill and physical conditioning, tactical exercises and the firing of weapons introduced the basic cadets to military life with special emphasis on leadership, duty, honor and country.

The academy is a four-year educational institution graduating men and women to serve as career Army officers. In addition to military training, the academy offers athletics and an academic curriculum which includes basic and engineering sciences and the social sciences and the humanities.

Fuzzy Bear Serves "Petit Dejeuner" To First Graders

Volunteering To Lose All

Donating a few hours of time to a favorite charity could cost you everything you own.

Volunteers increasingly are being exposed to lawsuits which conceivably could cost them their homes or other personal assets. As a result, the volunteer spirit in America is faltering - the latest victim of the uncertainty and fear associated with liability exposure.

"Unfortunately, many organizations are having a tough time keeping volunteers protected," said Rep. Carl D. Pursell, a cosponsor of HR 5196 - the Volunteerism Protection Act of 1986.

"Either organizations can't get coverage at any cost or, if coverage is available, they can't justify the huge outlays," said Pursell, R-Plymouth.

"While it is true that few volunteers have been successfully sued, the tendency for lawyers to name everyone in sight as a defendant and the increasingly unpredictable nature of our tort system have led insurance companies to withdraw from the market." Consequently, volunteers are withholding their services. The American Society of Association Executives recently found 60 percent of its members report problems recruiting volunteers for association boards because of liability fears.

"This problem is prevalent in all types of groups - professional associations, universities and colleges, local governments, local Y's, social service agencies, foundations, school boards, chambers of commerce and others," Pursell said.

"The solution I have endorsed calls for exempting unpaid volunteers from personal civil liability, except in cases of willful and wanton misconduct."

"HR 5196 would encourage states to adopt such exemptions. States which don't, would have 1 percent of their social services block grant money withheld."

"Eleven states already have enacted some legal immunity for volunteers and this bill draws from the best of all 11 state laws," the Congressman said.

"Volunteers long have been the backbone of this nation. Without the work of volunteers, America wouldn't be what it is today."

"We should not have to fear placing our family assets at risk when we donate our time and talent without compensation to serve our communities and charitable organizations," Pursell said.

The proposed legislation was referred to the House Committee on the Judiciary and currently is awaiting action in the Subcommittee on Monopolies and Commercial Law.

Court Awareness Program

Judge John N. Kirkendall of the Washtenaw County Probate

Court is launching a "court awareness" program for all county residents. "Even though the Probate Court is one of the oldest services of the judicial branch of government," Judge Kirkendall said, "it is least understood by a majority of our citizens. To aid in correcting this situation, I am beginning a number of public tours which will include oral explanations of the work of the Court and a brochure giving a summary of court services."

Invitations are being sent to targeted groups most likely to have some involvement with the court such as young people and senior citizens. Judge Kirkendall noted that the Probate Court has jurisdiction over youth who have been abused, who are delinquent, who are mentally ill, neglected, who are parents or guardians because the parents are deceased or otherwise unable to care for them or who may be developmentally disabled.

"An early knowledge of the assistance available from this Court may directly aid one of our young people," Judge Kirkendall added, "and I also hope these visitors will spread the word among their peers who may be in need of us." Senior citizens also have many questions relating to the estate division and the program will deal with these questions as well.

"When Governor Blanchard appointed me to the vacancy on the Probate Bench, I made a commitment to expand public knowledge and awareness of the Court," Judge Kirkendall observed, "and I believe this new program will contribute much toward this goal."

Groups or individuals wishing to take part in this "court awareness program" may call the Judge's office at 994-2476 or write to Judge John N. Kirkendall, P.O. Box 2000, Ann Arbor, MI 48107.

Monthly News SEPTEMBER 1986 SOMETIMES WE HAVE TO SAY "NO" There are occasions when people ask us to refill certain prescriptions and we have to turn them down. This is not done without a good reason, however. PRESCRIPTION REFILLS CAN BE LIMITED When doctors order prescription medications for their patients, they usually include instructions to the pharmacist concerning refills. This is how they control the treatment period for each of their patients. Pharmacists must follow these refill instructions and may not exceed the number the doctor has ordered. VARIOUS LAWS GOVERN REFILLS ALSO In addition to the doctor setting a limitation on prescription refills, certain local and national laws place similar limitations on how long a prescription may be refilled. Under the law, some prescriptions cannot be refilled under any circumstances—even if the doctor requests it. WHAT CAN BE DONE ABOUT ALL THIS? Sometimes, depending on the patient's ailment, and the type of medication being used, it is necessary to make a new appointment with the doctor. Then he can decide whether or not he wants to continue the medication or change to another drug. Other times, it is possible to telephone the doctor to find out if he wants to follow the same line of treatment and renew the patient's prescription. WE FOLLOW YOUR DOCTOR'S ORDERS Whenever we are faced with an expired prescription, we will let you know. And, if it is feasible, perhaps we will be able to check directly with your doctor to find out what he wants to do about it. Cards of Thanks

Thanks Al, Terry and Tony for finishing the roof. Curt

Dear Ike Kappeler: The Village Council would like to express appreciation on behalf of the entire community for the many hours you voluntarily spent on the care of the roses in Kirk Park. Without your expertise and the time you spent on planting, fertilizing, pruning, spraying and watering, our roses would not look as beautiful as they do. We were sorry to hear that you would no longer be able to care for the roses. You will certainly be missed. Sincerely, Manchester Village Council

I wish to thank all of my friends and relatives for their prayers, cards, flowers and get well wishes during my three hospital stays this summer. Also special thanks to Rev. Michigan's new Official Transportation Map is making its debut as part of the state's 150th birthday celebration.

The map is one of the Michigan Department of Transportation's projects for the state Sesquicentennial celebration, which began in June and will continue through 1987.

It is the most up-to-date map of Michigan available and can be obtained from the department at no charge. The Michigan Travel Bureau has begun distributing them as part of an effort to encourage travel in Michigan during the Sesquicentennial year.

The cover photo has a historical theme and shows a sentry in early American military uniform standing atop a parapet at old Fort Mackinac, overlooking Mackinac Island village and harbor. The official Sesquicentennial logo is prominently displayed.

The map guides travelers along the 9,500-mile state highway system, on primary county roads and the major thoroughfares of the state's metropolitan area.

It also shows locations of airports having lighted runways at least 3,000 feet in length, intercity bus terminals, both commercial and recreational harbors on the Great Lakes, ferry routes, freeway rest areas and roadside parks on the state highway system. Locations of rail passenger lines and stations and rail freight lines are included.

The new map can be obtained, free of charge, at numerous locations, including all MDOT district offices and welcome centers. Other distribution points include state police posts, district offices of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, local chambers of commerce, municipal government offices and regional tourist associations.

The Department of Transportation will mail maps to individuals upon request. Requests should be made on a post card (not in a sealed envelope) providing the name, address and zip code of the requester. Post cards should be mailed to: MAPS, Michigan Department of Transportation, P.O. Box 30060, Lansing, MI 48909.

This Moment In Michigan's History

The Garfield Inn in Port Austin, Michigan, is named after the 20th U.S. President, James A. Garfield - and for good reason. The Inn is an Empire-style mansion built in the 1830s and owned by Charles and Maria Learned. As a close friend of the Learned's, President Garfield, then a U.S. Congressman, used the balcony of the Learned's home to present a stunning speech on behalf of the Presidential bid of Ulysses S. Grant.

Registered as a National Historic Site, today the Garfield Inn accommodates guests in its nine-room bed and breakfast style lodging facilities. For more information on Michigan's historic inns, call the Michigan Travel Bureau at 800-5432-YES.

One scene in the 1979 romance film "Somewhere in Time" featured the Round Island Lighthouse, situated between Mackinac and Bois Blanc Islands of Michigan - perfect backdrop for the 1912 era on which the movie centers.

Today this lighthouse, thanks to the efforts of area preservationists, stands as a reminder of the days when Michigan's schooners and side-wheelers plied the lakes, and lighthouse keepers and life boat stations kept their lonely vigil at isolated outposts.

News From Your Representative

The Michigan House recently overwhelmingly approved a 10-cent deposit on wine cooler bottles, while the Senate is expected to act similarly next week.

State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Ann Arbor) said the rising popularity of wine coolers has made clear the need to include the containers in the bottle deposit law that took effect in 1978.

"I could find no one who opposed wine coolers being included with pop and beer containers when I went door-to-door on the issue," the lawmaker said.

Upon final legislative approval, the bill will be sent to the governor for his signature. The law would become effective June 1989.
