

The Microwave Way

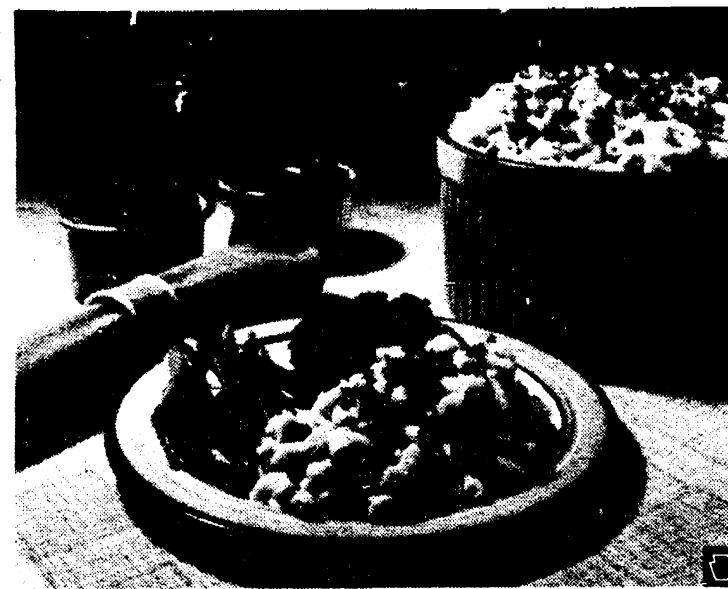

In today's households, macaroni is a staple... and macaroni and cheese is an American classic.

But, note Whirlpool home economists, even classic recipes need a little sprucing up to satisfy hungry appetites and offer variety. With today's concern for more fiber and less fat, cholesterol and sodium in our diets, some of the old stand-bys need upgrading.

One "upgraded classic" is Hofstra Macaroni Souffle. Created by the nutrition staff of the Hofstra Health Dome, a nonprofit health center known nationally for its "Enlightened Eating" program, this recipe is included in Whirlpool Corporation's three-part Nutrition for Fitness and Health brochure series.

Hofstra Macaroni Souffle combines whole-wheat pasta—high in fiber and energy-producing carbohydrates—with low-fat cottage cheese and yogurt—rich in calcium for strong teeth and bones. The addition of honey and raisins gives a touch of natural sweetness while crunchy Grape-nuts™ are sprinkled on top.

HOFSTRA MACARONI SOUFFLE
(Total cooking time: 28 min.)
2 cups uncooked whole-wheat elbow macaroni

- 3 eggs, separated
 - 1 tbsp. margarine
 - 2 tbsp. honey
 - 1 lb. low-fat (1%) cottage cheese
 - 1 cup low-fat yogurt
 - 1/2 cup raisins
 - 1/2 cup Post Grape-nuts™ cereal
- Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain. Combine macaroni, 3 slightly beaten egg yolks, margarine, honey, cottage cheese and yogurt. Fold in raisins and 3 stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour mixture into lightly greased 2-qt. casserole. Sprinkle top with Post Grape-nuts™ cereal. Microwave 6-7 minutes at HIGH. Reduce power to ME-DIUM (50%) and microwave 9-11 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Serves 8.

Babies Don Holiday Hats

Sporting a holiday hat made for her by Dexter senior citizen volunteers is three-day old Katie McConnell of Manchester being held by her mother, Lorri McConnell. Seniors from the Dexter Senior Center made enough red, green and white holiday hats for all the babies born in December at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor at the request of the hospital's volunteer department.

A Movable New Year

The time of the flooding of the Nile to the Egyptians was the beginning of the new year. The New Year was celebrated in Europe at different times anywhere between Christmas and March. When the Gregorian Calendar was introduced in 1582, January became the first month of a new year.

New Year's Breaking

The noise of crockery breaking is added to the rest of the New Year's din in some Italian homes, as old household goods are thrown out to make room for new ones.

Hit or Miss

by farley

A group of educators have recently been checking over the history books that are being used in our schools and colleges and after reviewing the "history" books used in other countries they suffered a very profound shock for many of those books had little or no relationship with those that our school children are familiar with.

They learned that there is no such thing as "World history" as taught in most classrooms. The stuff taught is merely a look at the world from the viewpoint of the country you happen to be viewing it from.

If we look at British textbooks for example, we would be surprised to learn how little the American Revolution played in their viewpoint. It was merely a nuisance that interfered with the British-French relations of that time and it occupied only a paragraph or two in their accredited textbooks.

We also learn that Pearl Harbor was only a minor incident and the Japanese kids learn much more about the Hiroshima bombing than about the sneak attack that started the war. In Japanese history all wars begin with sneak attacks of one magnitude or another.

It has often been said that if you only know your own language you don't know it in the same way. If you know only the history of your own country (usually distorted) you don't know it. Most countries are not challenged say the researchers. For example we have little knowledge of the decades of suspicion in which we have been held by Central and South America.

Anyone who writes a boastful biography of anyone or anything is taken to task for so doing but seldom is a nation that composes that kind of a "history" challenged nor condemned for their vanity nor their short sightedness. It is called "patriotism".

Summits and treaties will never, say researchers, achieve even a minimum of amity and understanding. Young people must be given a perspective that is world-wide. If we willfully misinterpret the past we can't comprehend the present.

One researcher asks "Where were you in 1957?" That was the year they remember that Friez Wankel brought out his rotary engine. Frank Sinatra brought out a record of "All the Way". Ford brought out the Edsel. Two killers in a New York barber shop gunned down Albert Anastasia of Murder, Inc.. Middleweight Sugar Ray Robinson whose descriptions more than any other one in history included the phrase "pound for pound". He won, lost and won his title and 1957 was the year that the high brass heartlessly sold the last of the carrier pigeons owned by the army.

Senior Citizens Annual Report

The Annual Report of Secretary, Arlene Walter, was presented at the Senior Citizen's Annual Meeting held at the Center on December 9, 1986. The Council suggested it be used as much as possible to publicize the activities of Manchester Senior Citizens. The report covering the fiscal year October 1, 1985 through September 30, 1986, follows.

The Manchester Senior Citizen's Council held 12 regular meetings, one special and the Annual meeting during the fiscal year.

During the year, 4 guests were invited to the Council meetings. A representative from the Huron Valley Ambulance Service and Life Line Support System, Dr. Okey, representing the "Mill Run", Dawna Stockwell and Jan Barbour interviewed for cooking the Senior Citizen's noon meals.

There were approximately 1,359 visitors at the Center during the year.

The bus and van, combined, traveled approximately 3,837 miles and carried approximately 875 passengers. Programs for the year consisted of blood testing, flu shots, mystery excursions, shopping trips, sewing activities, visits to the Saline Home, the Chelsea Methodist Home and Cedar Knoll, card parties, social pot lucks and the appreciation luncheon for the teachers.

A new stove, refrigerator and coat rack were purchased for the Center -- also a copy machine and a calculator.

A bridge group was granted use of the Center.

The Life Line Support System was made available in Manchester with money given by the Manchester Chicken Broil. The Senior Citizen's Council is the sponsoring organization.

Due to the retirement of Ethel Weir, a new cook, Jan Barbour, was hired to cook the Senior Citizen meals.

The Senior Citizen's news was placed in the ENTERPRISE and the bi-monthly newsletter along with PRIME TIME was mailed to all area Senior Citizens.

Re-Elected Chairman

The Hon. John N. Kirkendall, probate court judge of Washtenaw County, Michigan, was re-elected to a second one-year term as chairman of the National Kidney Foundation in December at the organization's 36th Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C. As chairman, Kirkendall is responsible for the overall administration and business affairs of the Foundation, for volunteer leadership and public relations, and for the raising of funds. He presides at the Annual Meeting of the Foundation and at all meetings of the Trustees and Executive Committee.

In accepting his re-election, Kirkendall said that he is looking forward to the challenge of another year as chairman. "Important advances have been made in the fight against kidney and urological diseases, and the opportunities for the ultimate cure and prevention of these diseases have never been greater," he said.

Red Cross Needs Young People

The American Red Cross Washtenaw County Chapter, a United Way Agency, needs young people ages 10 through 12 for a youth program which will begin in mid January. The program will be service oriented and will provide a great opportunity for young people to have fun while providing Red Cross service to the community. The exact nature of the program is currently being developed by the advisors. Adults who would like to provide input for the program development are invited to call Ruth Beyer at 971-7436 or Chris Visel at 973-2753.

The youth group will meet once a week for 2 hours at a time to be determined. Parents and interested youths should call Ruth Beyer or Chris Visel.

Skeletons Found In Irish Hills

Steam Shovel On Trunk Line Road Digs Up Human Bones And Indian Relics

It is well known that what was known in the early days as a stage route between Detroit and Chicago was originally an Indian trail. Early settlers knew that, in fact saw Indians traveling the route, and men and women yet living have often listened in fear and trembling to the recounting of exciting adventures with the red men.

It is probable that along that trail the remains of many an Indian were buried. And it may also be possible that remains of white men and women were likewise buried in more or less secluded spots.

Some of them may be those unearthed by workmen in the Irish Hills district, about two miles east of Cambridge Junction, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Indian relics also found would indicate that the bones were those of Indians buried perhaps a century ago.

Leland Brighton, foreman of the steam shovel gang, made the first discovery. As the huge shovel arose from the ground he detected what his quick eye told him was a human bone on the shovel. Work was halted and two leg bones were found. This prompted a further search in the locality and within the space of a rod and a half the skeletons of what might have been a woman, two children and six men were uncovered. As all were found facing the sunrise, known to be an Indian burial custom, the workmen came to the conclusion that they had indeed found an old Indian burial place. But none of them were able to judge conclusively by the skulls, which were, however, well preserved, whether they were really those of Indians or white people. In one the teeth were said to be in almost perfect condition, showing the lustre of the enamel.

Relics found with the bodies would indicate they were Indians. There was a tomahawk, a stone hammer with oval shaped head, arrowheads, strings of beads, three metal kettles, two basins, one of wood and the other of metal, pewter table and tea spoons, a pipe of red clay and a bottle painted red and green. The bodies of the people apparently had been wrapped in blankets, as pieces of heavy material of different colors, and armulets of metal inscribed with characters and punched with holes where they had been attached to clothing were there.

The location of the find was near what was long known as the Allen farm, later owned by Herbert Watkins, son of the late L.D. Watkins. The farm is now occupied by Sylvester Marr, and the bones and relics can be seen at the residence by those who may be curious to look upon them.

From the spot, looking south across Wolf lake, can be plainly seen a grove where several years ago were taken up what were claimed to be the remains of Tecumseh, one of the famous chiefs mentioned in history. They were shipped away to some museum, but no evidence was found to prove the claim. It had been supposed that Tecumseh had been buried in Canada.

people in America who could not afford to buy a car were the very men who made them. About a week after this startling announcement, Ford revolutionized the manufacturing world by developing the new assembly line technique. Instead of having workers move around the assembly line, Ford designed the assembly line to move in front of the worker, cutting production time for one automobile from 12.5 hours to 93 minutes. Today, much of the genius behind Henry Ford is displayed in the Henry Ford Museum of Dearborn, Michigan. For further information, please contact the Michigan Travel Bureau at (1-800-5432/yes).

The Special Meeting of the Manchester Village Council was called to order by President Hinkley at 8:04 a.m. Present: Hinkley, Limpert, Reinhart, Becktel, Marshall, Harris and Naimowicz. Also in attendance: Glenn Primrose.

The Special Meeting was called at the request and expense of Mr. Glenn Primrose, 11300 Phal Road, Grass Lake, Michigan. Mr. Naimowicz introduced Glenn Primrose who presented the following proposal to Council:

Upon obtaining described property (southwest corner of South Clinton and Main Street) I would donate the pump island and service drive area to the Village of Manchester for use as off street parking. As a result the Village agrees to:

1. Remove donated property from the tax rolls.

2. Remove and dispose of all fuel storage tanks.

3. Resurface entire parking area (concrete or blacktop). Note: Tank removal and lot restoration must be completed by May 1, 1987.

4. Maintain parking lot in good working condition (resale and/or repair yearly).

5. Provide five reserved parking spaces directly in front of building for use of our customers during normal working hours.

6. Provide a method of access to the three exiting service bays if future competition dictates addition of a automotive repair facility. Note: I have no plans, nor desires, to exercise the option.

Discussion followed. Council refused to take action at this time because of the lack of information provided and because of the general consensus of council that this item should have been put on the agenda for public notification. Council asked Mr. Primrose if he would like to be put on the January 5, 1987, agenda - He declined.

Naimowicz updated Council on the fund raising for the Industrial Park. Council asked Naimowicz to send letters out to all Village residents asking for donations.

Michigan's Public Downhill Ski Guide

Skiers will find new condominiums and improved snowmaking capabilities highlighting improvements this winter at Michigan's downhill ski areas which have spent at least $20 million to upgrade facilities, reports AAA Michigan.

About 40 percent of the state's 49 downhill skiing facilities have made improvements since last winter, with at least eight lodges taking major steps to upgrade snowmaking.

Most of the condominium development will be found in Northwest Lower Michigan. The Homestead Resort at Glen Arbor has built 53 slope-side condominiums as the centerpiece of its $8 million building boom.

Thirty-six one-and-two bedroom suites have been added in a $5 million expansion at Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs. Boyne Mountain at Boyne Falls spent $4 million to remodel 38 hotel suites and to boost snowmaking capacity 20 percent.

At Crystal Mt. near Thompsonville, six new condominiums have been added and meeting facilities have been expanded. A 30 percent increase in snowmaking is set for Otsego's Bittersweet, which also widened and lighted two ski hills.

Near Buchanan, Ski World (known as Royal Valley last season) has increased snowmaking capabilities 65 percent, built a new expert racing slope and added 1,200 sets of rental equipment. Near Gobles, Timber Ridge's lodge has been tripled and snowmaking has increased 10 percent. Charlevoix's Mt. McCauba has doubled its snowmaking capacity.

In Southeast Michigan, three new advanced intermediate slopes and a 20 percent jump in snowmaking and a new ticket office head $1.2 million in work at Milford's Alpine Valley. Mount Brighton has invested $500,000 to double its lodge to 50,000 square feet and add 800 sets of rental equipment.

Riverview Highlands has erected a new ski lift at its Gangplank slope which was widened as part of a $100,000 project. A 1,400-foot run with a 290-foot drop is new at Mount Holly.

Skiers who prefer Northeast Lower Michigan will find that 52 hotel rooms should be complete by December 1, at Sylvan Resort near Gaylord where a new expert slope has been added in a $500,000 expansion. The cross-country lodge at Hanson Hills near Grayling has been expanded and skiers will find redecoration at Snowsnake near Harrison.

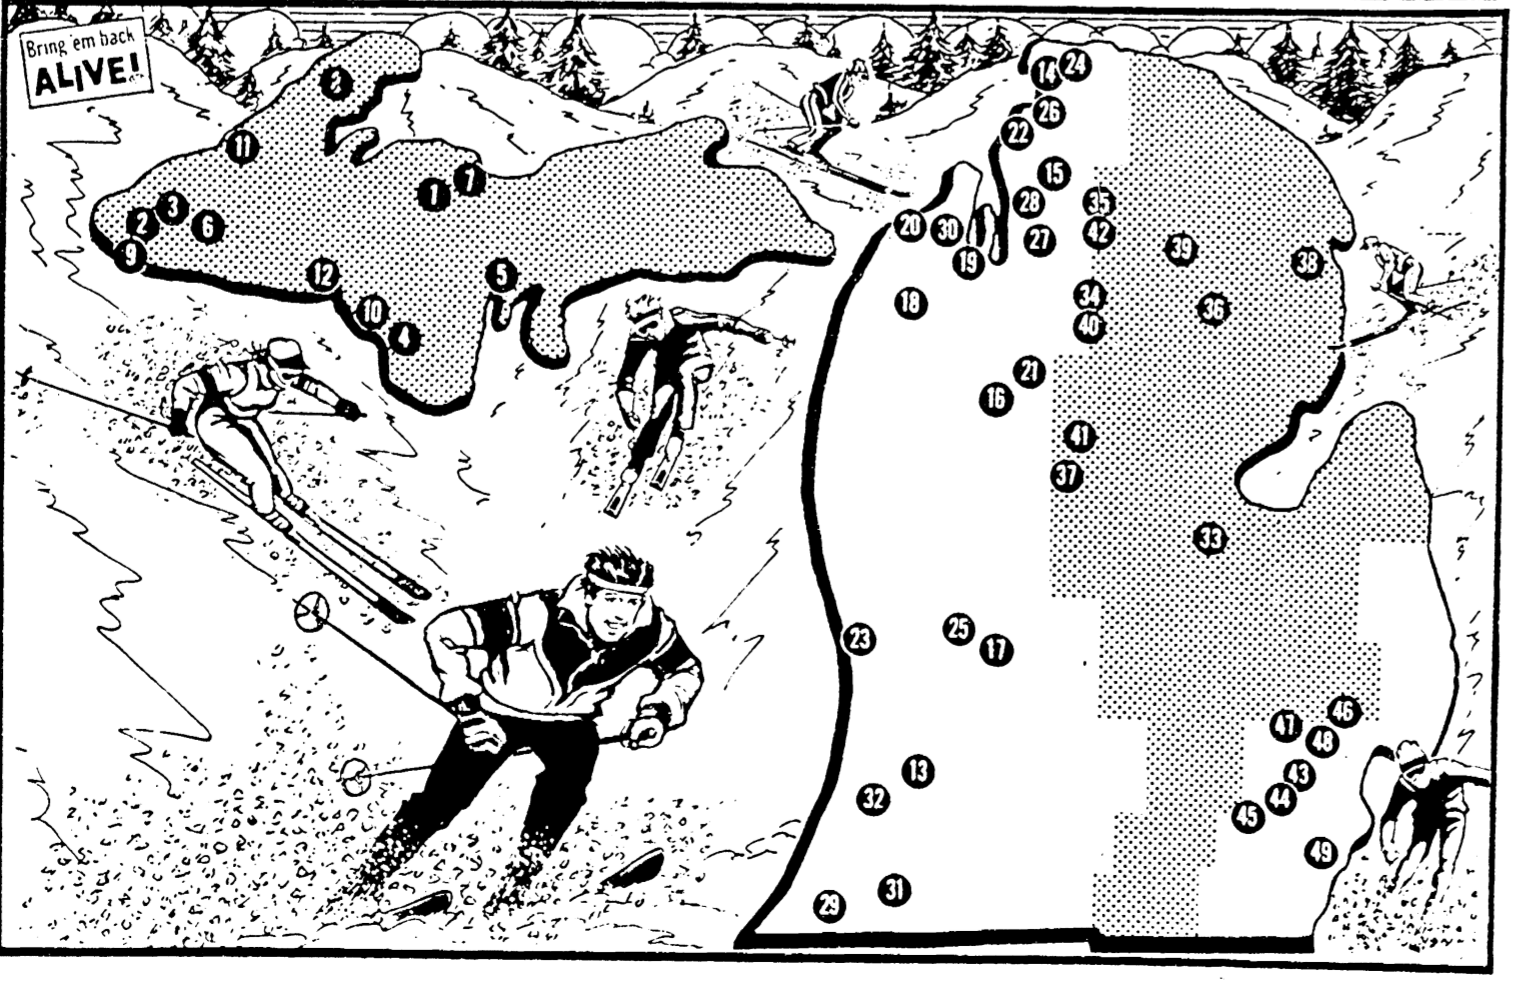

The Upper Peninsula's Big Powderhorn, near Bessemer, has replaced a lift terminal and added a slope side sun deck at the Alpen Inn. Improved grooming and 30 percent more snowmaking will be available at Iron Mountain's Pine Mountain.

Two snow guns and advance and intermediate ski runs highlight $200,000 worth of upgrading at Marquette Mt. A new lift on the bunny run and expanded cross country trails will be available for skiers at Ski Brule and Ski Homestead near Iron River. A cross country ski trail has been added at Mt. Zion near Ironwood.

A list of lift prices and amenities at all of Michigan's downhill ski areas can be found in AAA's Michigan 1986-87 ski guide. Included this year is Mount Crampian near Oxford, which was closed but hopes to re-open this season. Two ski areas listed on last year's guide, Mt. Mancelona near Mancelona and Tyrolean Ski Resort near Gaylord, have closed.

The guide shows that lift tickets for weekend skiing range from $3 to $20 daily, with the high $2 less than last season.

 NUMBER ONE WORLDWIDE

Infectious Mononucleosis

Infectious mononucleosis, or "mono," is a mysterious, uncomfortable illness that most often affects teenagers and young adults. The typical symptoms—sore throat, fever and swollen glands—usually disappear within 1 to 3 weeks. There is no specific treatment, and complications do not commonly occur.

The Epstein-Barr virus (EBV) causes most cases of mono in the United States. Children in many parts of the world are exposed to EBV at an early age, but rarely have symptoms, and develop immunity to later EBV infection.

In countries with modern sanitation and less crowded living conditions, people generally are not exposed to EBV until late adolescence or early adulthood. Then, when they are infected, they develop symptoms. Although anyone at any age can get mono, 70 to 80 percent of all known cases in the United States occur between the ages of 15 to 30.

Mono has been called the "kissing disease," because the virus infects the salivary glands and has been found in the saliva of patients. Kissing or sharing drinking glasses or beverage cans may spread the virus, but transmission is very hard to trace.

A mono patient is probably infectious for some time before symptoms appear, and it may take weeks after exposure for a susceptible person to develop symptoms. A person with mono symptoms is not highly contagious and does not need to be isolated. Household members or college roommates are at only slight risk of being infected.

The illness usually develops slowly, and early symptoms are vague: fatigue, headache, chilliness, puffy eyelids, loss of appetite. Later, the patient has a sore throat, fever of 101° to 105°, and swollen lymph glands, especially at the side and back of the neck, but also under the arm and in the groin. The spleen is enlarged in 50 percent of patients, and the liver in 20 percent. Rarely, there is jaundice (yellowing of the skin) or a rash that lasts 1 to 2 days. Weakness and fatigue may last for a month or more.

Other, more serious illnesses can cause similar symptoms, so it is important to rule those out through laboratory tests. An inexpensive blood test, known as a mono "spot test," can be performed in a physician's office in less than 3 minutes. Spot tests are generally accurate and can eliminate the need for more extensive tests or for hospitalization.

The doctor may also order a white blood cell count and a screening test for certain atypical white blood cells that characteristically show up in mono infection. A series of blood tests called

Fighting High Blood Pressure Is A Never-Ending Struggle

Holidays are a time for eating, traveling, and general revelry. But for people with high blood pressure (hypertension), these activities can interfere with the treatment of their condition.

If you are hypertensive, here are a few pointers provided by Marion Laboratories to help you through the holiday season:

- Be on the alert for sodium, which is plentiful in common holiday and party foods, such as dips, mixed nuts, crackers, gravies, sauces, pickles, and buttered popcorn
- When traveling by airplane or boat, ask your travel agent in advance to arrange for low sodium meals
- Don't forget to take enough hypertension medication to last the entire trip
- Because weight gain is linked to increases in blood pressure, avoid gaining weight, especially if you are already overweight.

Hypertensive Guests

If you are entertaining hypertensive guests, you can adjust your menus to avoid foods they shouldn't eat. Avoid serving salted or smoked varieties of meats such as bacon, ham, and canned fish.

Healthy beverages to offer guests are juices and carbonated and mineral water. Check the label before you buy — some carbonated waters, such as seltzer, are salt-free. Another option is to serve no-salt-added or reduced-sodium tomato juice. Some vegetable juices are now available without added salt.

The American Heart Association recommends poultry and fish, and cooking with polyunsaturated vegetable oils. Use low-fat milk and skim milk products when possible.

Ask Questions

According to Dr. Sowers, director of The Hypertension Division at the University Health Center, Wayne

State University, Detroit, "Holiday gatherings are good times to ask elderly family members if they have had their blood pressure checked recently." The chances of developing high blood pressure increase as we age. Dr. Sowers noted, with nearly half of those over 65 years old suffering from the disease.

If they are being treated for hypertension, are they satisfied with their treatment? Are they following the doctor's instructions?

If they are not taking their medicine, find out why. Ask about side effects — the most common reason for not taking anti-hypertensive medications. If side effects are a problem, suggest that they ask their physician about switching to a different type of hypertensive medication. There are several new drugs with fewer side effects.

"A lot of interest has been generated by one new group of drugs: the calcium channel blockers," Dr. Sowers said. These drugs work by inhibiting the flow of calcium into the heart, which reduces its activity. This class of drugs is currently being investigated for use in lowering blood pressure.

The calcium channel blockers not only appear to reduce hypertension in many patients, but clinical trials also suggest that they do so with fewer side effects than other hypertension drugs. Fewer side effects mean the hypertensive person is more likely to follow his or her prescription, and get the full benefit of the medication.

"While hypertension remains one of America's most serious diseases, giant strides have been made towards reducing the lives of people with high blood pressure," Dr. Sowers noted. "To reduce the risk of hypertension damaging your heart and other organs, it is important to stick with prescribed diets, exercise regularly, control weight, stop smoking, and take your hypertension medication." Even on holidays.

Have A Problem With Your Major Appliance?

Do "The Four Step!"

If your dishwasher just stopped washing or your oven refuses to bake, it's time to do the "THE FOUR STEP."

No, this isn't a new dance—it's the logical and common sense thing to do when one of your appliances stops working.

STEP ONE—Stop everything and read the use and care booklet.

Yes, admit it, that's the book you've been avoiding since the day you bought the appliance! While you're doing that, also check the plug and fuses, pilots and controls. You just may find the answer to your problem.

If not, go to STEP TWO. Call the local dealer where you bought the appliance or a reputable local service agency, trained and equipped to handle appliance service problems.

If you still have your problem, it's time for STEP THREE. Contact the manufacturer or brand-name retailer of your appliance. You should find the address and phone number in the use and care booklet. Most companies now have 800 numbers, so the call is free.

If your problem persists, then go to STEP FOUR. Write MACAP—that's the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel.

This is important! When you write MACAP, be sure to include:

- * your name, address and a daytime phone number,
- * the type of appliance, brand, model and serial number,
- * the purchase date and price of your appliance,

* the name, address and phone number of your local dealer or service agency,
* copies of all letters you have written or received about your complaint,

* copies of all service receipts (including those within warranty where you did not pay for service), and
* a clear description of your problem and what you think is a reasonable and fair solution.

One last important bit of information—MACAP only handles complaints about clothes washers and dryers, dehumidifiers, dishwashers, food waste disposers, freezers, microwave ovens, ranges/ovens, refrigerators, room air conditioners, trash compactors and water heaters.

You can write to MACAP at 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, IL 60606. Be sure to ask for a free brochure that tells you how to resolve your appliance problem and use MACAP.

Free Trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving ten free trees to people who become Foundation members during January, 1987.

The free trees are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America.

A Sugar Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Pin Oak, White Pine, Red Maple, Birch, American Redbud, Silver Maple, Red Oak, and Colorado Blue Spruce tree will be given to members joining during January.

These trees were selected to provide benefits every season of the year: lovely spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors, and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds, according to the Foundation. The six to twelve inch trees will be shipped postage paid with enclosed planting instructions at the right time for planting this spring. The Foundation makes its spring shipments between February 1 and May 31, depending on the local climate and this year's weather.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give the ten free trees to members contributing $10 during January.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to TEN TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by January 31, 1987.

Your IRA after the new tax law...
Just as valuable as ever

If you are not covered by a company pension plan, the new tax law still allows you to tax-deduct all your IRA payments. Considering that—plus the fact that our IRA pays such high interest and guarantees a lifetime retirement income—an annuity from FB Annuity Company is still your best choice for an IRA.

Making your future a little more predictable.

Money Management

Municipal Bonds A Safe Place To Put Your Money Even After Tax Reform

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants)

With the passage of the 1986 Tax Reform Act, many taxpayers are finding it necessary to learn more about where to invest their money to avoid paying higher taxes. There are still a number of tax-deferred and tax-free investments available that taxpayers can take advantage of now, as well as under the new tax law. If you are looking for a way to save money for the future while earning tax exempt interest, perhaps you should consider municipal bonds, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs.

What is a bond? It is a loan you make to a corporation, to the federal government or to a state or local government in exchange for the return of that money, plus interest, after a set period of time. This money is usually needed to fund a particular project for which the issuer cannot secure the funds at a lower cost. In the case of municipal bonds, the money could be used for projects such as new roads, sewage systems, beautification of the town and so on.

In comparison to investing in a particular stock where the return relies on the success of the corporation, the rate of return—known as the yield—on a bond is set when you buy it. Currently, the yields on municipal bonds are relatively high compared to many other investments, which means a good return on your investment.

Why should you consider municipal bonds? Because the interest is exempt from federal taxes—and from state and local taxes if you buy bonds issued by the state in which you live. If you have a sum of money that you feel you can leave in an investment for five to ten years, using it to purchase a bond will give you one of the highest rates of return with a minimum amount of risk. Because of this, municipal bonds are one of the best investments available right now.

To compare the yield on a municipal bond to taxable investments, use this easy formula. Subtract your current tax bracket from 100 and divide the tax-free yield by this number. For example, if a municipal bond has a yield of 8 percent and you are in the 38% tax bracket, divide 8 by 62 and you will see that you will need a yield of approximately 13 percent for the other investment to be competitive with the municipal bond. There aren't very many other investments available with such high, after-tax yields.

How safe is your investment in a municipal bond? Every bond you buy is rated by its risk. Bonds issued by the United States government are considered the safest investments in the world. Keep in mind, a high rating is not a guarantee of a high return on your investment. It is merely a measure of worthiness on the credit of the issuer.

A good rating would be an A, AA or AAA (the highest). A lower rating would be a B, BB or BBB. You may find that yields may be higher on bonds with lower ratings, sometimes known as junk bonds, but you run the risk of problems such as having your interest payments deferred or possibly losing principal because the issuer hasn't been able to raise enough money to make the payments.

How do you buy a bond and how do you collect your return? Municipal bonds are usually sold in $5,000 units, but they can be purchased in smaller parts for as little as $500 to $1,000 through a mutual fund. They can either be issued in registered or bearer form. If they are registered, they are issued in your name and the interest is mailed directly to you. If they are in the bearer form, they do not have your name on them and interest is collected by redeeming attached coupons on a specific date.

Under the Tax Reform Act of 1986, taxpayers are going to face restrictions on many of the investments they currently have in their portfolios. Many who were planning to invest for the first time are going to have to reassess their financial goals. For those taxpayers who have found that they will be restricted or excluded from the tax deduction for contributing to an IRA, for taxpayers who will lose the benefits of placing investments into a trust for a child or for anyone who wants to save money for the future, municipal bonds offer a low-risk, tax-free investment opportunity.

Fee Hunting Considered

It's not unusual for a Michigan farmer to lose $20,000 to $25,000 a year in potential income due to crop damage by deer, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson. To deal with this problem, Nelson said a program known out West as "fee hunting" is now being considered in Michigan. In many western states, ranchers charge a fee for allowing hunters on their land. The fee is negotiated between the landowner and the hunter.

"It seems to me that if a sportsman is willing to spend several thousand dollars traveling to the Western states to hunt, he just might be willing to spend several hundred dollars and stay in Michigan to hunt," Nelson said. Nelson said fee hunting would ensure sportsmen a place to hunt while at the same time providing farmers some compensation for the income loss caused by deer consuming and damaging their crops.

Senior Citizens News

You wait so long and then the holiday season goes by so quickly, but there is always something new in January to occupy your time. You who have never attended one of our senior meals and are over that magic age of 55, should try them. They're delicious. Call the day before to 428-8359 for a spot and come to Emanuel's Fellowship Hall on Tuesday and Thursday noon for a reasonable meal which is guaranteed to fill you up. This week on Thursday, ham loaf and escalloped potatoes will do the trick and you can enjoy bingo following.

Thursday, January 15
Sauerkraut dinner at noon (did you have it on New Year's Day?). Always good and you appreciate it more than we? Bingo will follow this great meal.
For those of you who have asked about exercise program, it will begin on Thursday, January 22, at 11:00 a.m. It will be held twice a week -- on both Tuesdays and Thursdays. Come join the class and work up an appetite while helping that body find out it has muscles and joints.
Looking ahead: On January 19, a shopping trip to Adrian is scheduled. Local home visits to shut-ins are planned for Friday, January 16. More on this next week.

people who have clinical and laboratory evidence of such infection.

As scientists learn more about the EB virus, more questions arise—about how the virus behaves in different people and in different parts of the world, and about other conditions besides mono that are associated with EBV infection. Eventually, researchers expect to develop a vaccine, which, while not useful for people who have already been infected, would protect those not yet exposed to the virus.

For single copies of the publication, Mononucleosis, write to Mononucleosis, NIAID, NIH, Building 31, Room 7A32, Bethesda, MD 20892.

Eye On Safety

HOME HOBBYISTS FACE VISION HAZARDS

Warning to hobbyists and do-it-yourselfers: Threats to eyesight have been found in home workshops throughout the nation. Often, the home hobbyist does better in making repairs than in protecting his sight. Eye protection, through the use of impact-resistant safety goggles, is essential for all eye hazardous tasks. If any chemicals should ever get into your eyes, flush them with water immediately and continue for 15 minutes, holding eyelids open. Contact your doctor immediately. You'll find that more and more hardware stores are selling safety eyewear for home hobbyists these days.

Here are some activities where eye protection is especially important:
1. Using power tools. For a free booklet about protecting your eyes when making repairs, send a SASE to your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016.

2. Drilling. Fragments of metal, wood and broken drill bits can fly with blinding speed.

Cards of Thanks

I want to thank all my friends and neighbors for their cards, visits and prayers while in the hospital and while home recuperating from my surgery.
A special thanks to my family and relatives and Fr. Schlinkert for their constant prayers and moral support.
Russell J. Aiuto Sr.

In loving memory of our sister, Iva L. Nortley, who passed away 3 years ago January 7, 1984. The people who knew Iva are richer by far. Her friendship shown bright like a beautiful star. She seldom complained for it wasn't her style. Instead you would see her with a warm friendly smile. She made our lives happy because she would care. Now Heaven is richer because she is there. It's always so sad when a life like hers ends. And she will always be missed by her family and friends. Loved and sadly missed by Bessie, Arlene, Richard Nieces and Nephews

Since the beginning of this program two years ago over $800 has been raised to help finance our many youth projects and activities. Without the support of these businesses we would be less effective in serving the youth of our community. We truly appreciate their civic spirit.
Manchester Optimist Club

On behalf of the staff and third and fourth grade students at Klager. I'd like to thank everyone who helped make our Senior Citizen Dinner a success on December 12. The students enjoyed being able to share the Christmas spirit with our local older citizens. A grand time was had by all.

Smokeless Tobacco Risks Cited

A government panel issued one of the strongest warnings to date against smokeless tobacco yesterday, saying the use of snuff and chewing tobacco endangers health and increases the risk of mouth and throat cancer. The panel of experts, convened by the National Institutes of Health, also warned that smokeless tobacco may cause gum recession in the area of the mouth where the product is held and thick white patches of gum tissue that can turn malignant. Studies show male snuff users were nearly four times more likely to contract oral cancer, it said.

"This is not a safe alternative to cigarette smoking," said Dr. Brian MacMahon, panel chairman and professor of epidemiology at Harvard School of Public Health. "The panel believes that the public should be warned that the use of smokeless tobacco, particularly snuff when started in childhood, increases the risk of oral cancer."

The group-made up of physicians, dentist, psychologists and a consumer specialist--was convened partly in response to alarm over increased use of smokeless tobacco among young people. As many as 10 million Americans use smokeless tobacco with 3 million of these users being less than 21 years old," the panel said.

Boy Dies

Manchester Enterprise November 19, 1986

It becomes our duty to record a sad accident, which cast a gloom over the village on Saturday last. Bertie Doty, a frank, generous and open-hearted lad, born and raised in this village, a son of Geo. W. Doty, and about twelve years of age, joined his companions in their Saturday or Holiday sports. It appears they proceeded to the cider-mill where they enjoyed themselves a short time and proceeded, with a son of Mr. Pulemus, to his residence. Bertie proposed they should go to East Manchester and meet the freight train from the south. The engineer slackened speed, as usual, to cross the bridge, and Bertie succeeded in boarding the train, and laughed at his companions, who were obliged to walk home. The train arrived and was switching a car, and Bertie was jumping from the top of one car to another, not being aware that the train was broken, he precipitated at the break. The brakeman saw the falling boy and endeavored to catch him, but failed, and the wheels passed over the body, severed one leg and shockingly mangled the other. He freed his body from the track and conversed rationally with those who went to his assistance. His father was apprised of the accident and soon arrived to see his unfortunate boy. He spoke his name, "Bertie," and as soon as the boy saw his father he exclaimed, "O, Pa, will you forgive me." Kind friends prepared a stretcher and conveyed him home. Dr. Selve was called, and the engine brought Dr. Chittock from Jackson, but they could give poor consolation to the bereaved parents. He retained his senses and asked forgiveness of his mother. He lingered until 7 o'clock, entirely free from pain, and expired in a sweet sleep. Everyone feel that they have lost a young, but noble friend, and deeply sympathize with his parents. The funeral sermon was preached at the M.E. Church, by Rev. J.C. Wortley. A large procession of citizens paid a last and just tribute to a noble boy. Conductor Curtiss and his men deeply regret this accident, and we sincerely hope they will positively prohibit boys from the depot ground hereafter.

Thanks to all of you who have expressed your appreciation for the poetry which we included in this column a few weeks ago. We were glad to learn that so many appreciated poetry of such high caliber and so may we include this week one more poem which we greatly appreciated which was submitted to us by an admirer I guess:

INSTEAD

Just a line to say I'm living That I'm not among the dead Though I'm getting more forgetful And am messed up in the head. For sometimes I can't remember When I stand at the foot of the stairs If I must go up for something Or if I just came down from there.

So if it's my turn to write you There's no need for getting sore.

I may think that I have written And I don't want to be a bore. So remember that I love you And I wish that you were here But now it's nearly mail time So I must say goodbye dear. Then I stand beside the mailbox With a face that's really red For instead of mailing you my letter I have opened it INSTEAD.

A friend of mine tells me that he has not been until lately, a great television fan but along some time in February he inadvertently ran across and watched several TV commercials placed therein by the various auto dealers. Which featured George Washington and Abe Lincoln shooting off cannons and jumping about and waving their arms like addicted break dancers or the ones that had folks dropping out of upside down pickups.

It's Campbell Soup Time!

Manchester Middle School is collecting labels to be exchanged for Audio-visual equipment. The collection period ends on February 15, 1987.

Please save labels for all Campbell soups, "V-8" juices, Swanson canned and frozen foods, all Franco-American products, Recipe dog food, Mrs. Pauls frozen foods, and Vlasic pickle products.

You may send the labels to any Manchester school to be sent to the Middle School or give them to any Middle School student or deposit them at the local I.G.A. Thank you for helping us again.

These commercials were used to sell Japanese automobiles, but I hope they were not Japan's idea of civilization in America. But with the success these products have had here, my friend says that they might well be right. But he says that they only induced him to strive to convince him that he wasn't an imbecile. Come to think of it, I have noted that week after week and month after month dealers must sell at rock bottom, slashed or reduced prices. Because by their stupidity they have overloaded their showrooms and their lots with far too many cars. If this is really the case shouldn't they be admonishing their purchasing department? Why sob to us, we didn't do it and if this has been going on week after week and month after month, they shouldn't scream at us while these buyers for them are sitting around in their offices all kinked up and oblivious to what's going on around them. Isn't it time they did something about it and not ask us for help?

Historical Society Meeting January 19

Michigan became the 26th state admitted to the Union on January 26, 1837. Governor John B. Swainson, Honorary Chairperson of the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission, will describe Michigan's early history and the events leading to statehood at the next meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society.

Please join us on Monday, January 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Blacksmith Shop, 324 East Main Street, to hear this interesting talk.

"No-Use" Resolutions

One of the primary tasks of the National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth (NFP) has been to persuade other national organizations to publicly denounce all use of drugs and alcohol by young people. The umbrella parent group took a major step in that direction, with two groups (National PTA and Lions International) are on record as opposing "responsible use" by young people.
