The methodology is effective, relatively easy to learn, and can be readily utilized in a person's normal living and working environment.

In Systematic Stress Management™ you will learn:

- How to determine your present level of stress and reduce it.
- How to identify the causes of stress in your life.
- How to relax your mind and body within seconds.
- How to recognize erroneous, self-defeating thoughts and replace them with realistic, relaxing beliefs.
- How to organize your life and use your time more effectively.
- How to appropriately express yourself.
- How to avoid illness through proper nutrition and fitness.
- How to communicate effectively.
- How to handle occupational and family stress.

The BACKYARD NATURALIST

By Craig Tufts, National Wildlife Federation

The Attraction of Grasses

Think of "landscaping grasses" and most of us picture an expanse of manicured green lawn. But there are many other kinds of grasses that can be used in place of shrubs or perennials: tall, graceful, murmuring grasses that look great all-year round (with once-a-year cutting); some that can be plucked to make dry-grass arrangements; and, as a bonus, most are highly attractive to wildlife (especially to birds and butterflies) for both food and shelter.

Meadows and prairies are primarily grasses. The grasses lie thick under the showy meadow wildflowers—sort of like the noodles under a colorful pasta sauce (though I admit that image may have occurred to me in one of my hungrier moments). At any rate, the flowers give the whole mass flavor and character, while the grasses give a meadow substance and structure.

Whether your yard can accommodate a meadow or just a spot or two of decorative grasses, here are some native kinds to consider:

- Switch grass (Panicum virgatum): A tall (4 to 6-foot), dense-stemmed grass that hisses and rustles pleasantly in winter winds. It's a good soil binder, and is often used in erosion control work. Its dense growth makes it good wildlife habitat and its large seeds attract a wide variety of sparrows. Its bleached blond winter color enhances a landscape.
- Big bluestem (Andropogon gerardi): Another tall (4 to 6-foot) grass, a mainstay of midwestern U.S. prairies, and as excellent a forage for cattle as it once was for buffalo. Its early-summer first leaves are blue, but its flowering heads are deep purple. Its texture is quite delicate.
- Indian grass (Sorghastrum nutans): Another tall grass, and one in colorful but subtle bloom in early to mid-August. It sprouts readily in full sun in good warm soil. It forms a dense clump, thereby lending itself well to individual plantings. A fascinating side-feature: the dried seeds wriggle and writhe, jump and twist when moistened with water—probably a help to these light seeds in reaching the soil through dense, unburnt prairie thatch.

• Broom sedge (Andropogon virginicus): A relative of big bluestem, it is intense pinkish-orange in winter, spectacular against new-fallen snow. Its tiny seeds are relished by a number of sparrow species.

If you'd like to seek out some native grasses available for landscaping you'll find a good resource in Grasses, an Identification Guide by Lauren Brown. There's still time this winter to harvest some seeds from nearby meadows or to order seeds from a nursery or mail-order house that sells grasses, as species or within mixtures. Why not give grasses a try?

Manchester Chamber Of Commerce

Post Office Update

Jim Scully presented the program at the January 14, 1987 meeting of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce. Jim said local people would like to keep the Post Office in the downtown area and liked the present location.

He reviewed the history of the present post office. The Post Office was started in June 1959 and built by K of C members with local help. The U.S. Postal Service had a 20 year lease from 1959 to 1979, followed by several extensions. In 1985 the Postal Service expressed an interest in changing locations.

Concerns cited by the Postal Service as reasons for change were: traffic problems, parking space, possibility of patrons driving into the river, and the need for 4,000 square feet of space. The K of C sought to address each of these concerns. They learned that the accident rate around the Post Office is the lowest in the Village. The K of C Hall and kitchen are 3,900 square feet. The members hired Hobbs and Black, a well known architectural firm in Ann Arbor, to develop a plan to convert the hall and kitchen into a post office that would be an efficient facility for mail flow and fit into the Turn-of-the-Century theme of the Village.

The architects obtained a set of specifications from a recently completed post office of similar size, which they used to design structural modifications, prepared drawings, and a book. The proposal was submitted to the Postal Service in March 1986.

There are two important aspects to the K of C proposal. They would use private funds to make the construction and site changes such as leveling and extension of the parking lot and the property and building would remain on the Village tax rolls. The only response they have had to the proposal is that the Postal Service would prefer to build new. The Postal Service has an option on the property across from the Township Fire Hall. Some residents have expressed concerns about traffic problems and patron safety at a post office in that location during fire runs.

Answers to some questions from the audience: The Postal Service uses Federal funds and can put the Post Office where it wants; the desires of village residents do not have to be considered. Investigation of sites and recommendations are made by a private consultant to the Postal Service. Saline has a renewal for a 3-year lease because no better location has been found. Manchester is now on an automatic 1-year renewal lease. President Mark VanBogelen announced that the program for the February 11, general meeting will be an update on the Manchester Industrial Park.

Fatal Accident

Manchester Enterprise December 10, 1986

But three weeks have passed since the Enterprise was called upon to record a sad and fatal railroad accident, which cast a gloom over our quiet village. To-day we are compelled to note a similar accident, which occurred almost at the same place, and proved fatal to one of our young and promising citizens. Lawson W. Leap, aged 24 years, was employed as breaks-man of the accommodation or freight train, and while in the act of climbing a car to adjust the breaks, at our station on Tuesday morning last, his foot slipped and the wheels crushed his left leg above the knee. Drs. Lynch and Selfe were called and the unfortunate sufferer was removed to his residence. The engine immediately proceeded to Jackson and returned with Dr. Chittock, who, assisted by our Physicians, amputated the limb. Mr. Leap lingered until half past five O'clock and expired. He leaves a mother and two sisters, also a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely death. He was a sober, industrious, unassuming young man, the main support of a widow mother and young sister. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Wm. Tilley, at the Baptist Church to-day, and was listened to by a large concourse of citizens.

As soon as the accident became known, a subscription was circulated and liberally signed, to defray the expenses of the unfortunate young man. Conductor Curtis and his associates rendered all assistance at their command. This train is indeed unlucky. We understand that eight persons have lost their lives by it during the last year, and Mr. Curtis barely escaped death, while coupling cars last Spring. Mr. Leap was upon the train that crushed Bertie Doty, also upon the train that ran over Mrs Fox at Tecumseh, and it seems strange that he should meet his sad fate after so much warning. The bereaved friends have the warmest sympathy of our citizens, also the officers and employees of the road, who are ever ready to extend aid to relieve those who suffer by these accidents. "In the midst of life we are in death."

Looking For 1986 History

Each year since 1983 the Manchester Area Historical Society has made a video tape of local Manchester history. In addition to special events such as Donna and Irv Gill's retirement party, we have taped major portions of annual events such as Canoe Races, Chicken Broil, parades and graduation. We aim to include the major events important each year.

If you have a slide you think might be appropriate, please call John Swainson, Tom Walton or Howard Parr. A committee will finalize the content of the 1986 tape.

Videos for past years are available from the Historical Society for use by local organizations. The 45-55 minute VHS tapes can be scheduled on our equipment at the Blacksmith Shop or taken out for use on a VCR of your choice.

On January 17, we went to the Lydia Mendelsohn Theatre in Ann Arbor and saw the play by Shakespeare called "King Richard the Second". Which was produced by the National Theatre of Great Britain Education Department.

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 3, at 2:00 p.m. at Emanuel Church. Our speaker will be Mrs. Howard Parr. Her topic will be on the Biography of Stevens Tom Mason, "boy" governor of Michigan.

"Letter To The Editor"

I was gratified to read Becky Doyle's column concerning the closure of Double A Products. Although the plant closing will bring change, this type of journalism can have a significant effect upon the direction and quality.

A series of articles would articulate details and subtleties. Our citizens are going to experience what thousands of other people have or will experience. Long term coverage by the Enterprise will connect this story to our community. With the passage of time, regular reports will offer your readers a forum for expressing personal feelings. Citizens will learn of the success and failure of their friends. It will encourage open discussion and nurture support. It might possibly communicate ideas which will help those most affected.

Becky has an intuitive writing style and is a practiced listener. She has the ability to lay out the facts clearly, and headline a story to attract attention. Her interest in the future of Manchester will enable the Enterprise to provide a service to the community not available from city newspapers.

You have supported past editors of the Enterprise with regular reprints. Through them, your readers create images of life during the last century. Quality journalism will insure that your tenure will be supported by future editors. Keep up the fine performance.

Gratefully Yours,
 Bill Kwolek

Search Begins

The Office of Services to the Aging (OSA) has begun its search for the 1987 Michigan Project Independence Award Nominee. This annual honor, the third such tribute, is awarded to one Michigan senior service program whose services best enhance and promote the dignity and independence of the seniors it serves. The area from which nominations are being accepted this year is mental health under the categories of prevention, supportive and treatment services. Two mental health service programs may be nominated by each of the 14 local Area Agencies on Aging, according to a criteria set forth by OSA. The up-to-twenty-eight nominees are then evaluated by a select review committee comprised of aging network representatives. The winner will be honored on Senior Power Day, May 12th, and will be highlighted in a feature story in A.I.M., (Aging in Michigan) a bimonthly magazine published by OSA. The deadline for submission is February 12, 1987, 5:00 p.m. Mental health agencies interested in being considered for nomination should contact their local Area Agency on Aging.

Senior Citizens News

For those of you who like Michigan wintertime, this below zero stuff is 'right up your alley'. I do like the pretty sunshine, though, and as Adena used to do, sit next to the south storm window with it beating in on you. We will survive!
 To warm up, come and try exercise in the fellowship hall at Emanuel at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday. Also on the 29th, macaroni and cheese au gratin will taste good. Then stay for bingo.

 Saturday, January 31: The van will leave the Center at 5:30 p.m. (to allow time for a meal first) for Chelsea travelog "Mexico East, Land of the Mayas". Call Rubena Boelter, 428-8655, for your reservation.
 Tuesday, February 3: More of this great exercise starting at 11 a.m. Noon lunch will be chicken a la king on biscuits (Jan's always making these delicious treats). Then adjourn to the Center and help with sewing projects and good fellowship.
 On Thursday, February 5, after exercise at 11, and soup and sandwich bar for lunch, all seniors with a February birthday are asked to be present for your birthday bash. Lunch is free to those who are 65 or over and born in February. There were 11 January-born seniors at their party—come on February folks and try to beat that number! We all had such a good time and the cake was delicious.
 Helen Knickerbocker asks that you bring volunteer hours to the Center very quickly so that she may send them in. Also, don't forget we are still in the Bill Knapp program which gives us bonus points toward needed items for our Center. Anyone can ask and receive them when paying your bill at Bill Knapp's, and return them to any senior or to the Center.

Nongame Wildlife Fund Program Offers Bluebird Workshops
 In a continuing effort to improve the nesting population of bluebirds in Michigan, the Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) Nongame Wildlife Program this winter will host free public workshops on the construction and placement of bluebirds nest boxes.
 The how-to sessions, run by private volunteers, are scheduled to be held in 17 cities during January, February, and March.
 The first 50 families arriving for each of these workshops will be given free, ready-to-assemble nest box kits for bluebirds. Nail-and-hammer plans for building bluebirds nest boxes and nest box plans for other species also will be provided to participants.
 The workshops are being sponsored by Michigan's Nongame Wildlife Fund, which is funded through direct contributions or state income tax donations. The workshops are part of the statewide "Homes for Wildlife" program launched in 1985 by the fund to overcome the serious shortage of nesting sites in Michigan for cavity-nesting birds.
 Featured at each workshop will be a film entitled "Bluebirds... Bring Them Back"; a step-by-step demonstration on how to build a bluebird nest box, and a field trip to pinpoint prime habitat for bluebirds. Other types of cavity nest boxes favored by kestrels, owls, wood ducks and other species will be shown.
 The state's nesting population of bluebirds has dropped nearly 90 percent during the last 50 years, reported Bob Hess, who heads the DNR's Nongame Wildlife Program. This sharp decline, he explained, is traced to a loss of natural nesting sites (cavities in

Beware Of Thin Ice!

Sheriff Ronald J. Schebil would like to take this opportunity to remind Washtenaw County citizens of the unpredictable dangers they may encounter when venturing out onto frozen lakes and rivers.
 It is not uncommon for waters in this area to be only partially or very thinly frozen due to the fact that many lakes are spring or river-fed. The thickness of the ice varies greatly and an area that may appear to be sufficiently frozen to support the weight of an individual can, in fact, be dangerously weak and hazardous.
 With the unseasonably warm winter weather we have periodically been experiencing, it is advised that every necessary precaution be taken while attempting to travel across frozen lakes or rivers.

Varsity Volleyball

by jon

Sara is in her third year of high school and this is her first year on the Varsity Volleyball squad. She is a good alternate hitter and blocker combination. She is very dedicated to practice, having started in early October with pre-season skill reviews. Sara has had seven perfectly served matches this year, while maintaining a 3.42 grade point average.

Dutch Surprise Trojans

by jon

It was a typical David and Goliath matchup here Friday night as undefeated, League-leading E.J. visited. Unfortunately, Goliath won this round, 51-49.

In the opening period of play, the score bounced back and forth several times, but a late rally by E.J. put them ahead 14-11. We came clawing back to outscore them 14-9 to hold the halftime advantage, 25-23. In the third stanza, the Trojans caught up to knot the score 35-35. After 4 minutes of play we found ourselves down by 7 points, but wouldn't surrender. We mounted a comeback which fell short by 2 as the final buzzer sounded.

Tom Mann was high scorer tonight as he hit for 19. Bart Rickelmann and Brad Uphouse combined for 19 points, 10 and 9 respectively.

Cascades Conference happenings Friday night: East Jackson (6 and 0) vs Manchester (1 and 4), 51-49; Vandercook Lake (3 and 2) vs Hanover Horton (2 and 3), 63-46; Napoleon (2 and 3) vs Michigan Center (1 and 4), 65-60; Brooklyn vs Grass Lake (3 and 2), 62-49.

Our Little Dutch had their win streak snapped by East Jackson, 75-68.

Notice

The bleachers at Manchester High School will be taken out on Saturday, January 31, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Installation of the new bleachers will begin on Monday, February 2.

Dutch Spiker Teams Split

by jon

In the first contest of the week, we visited Vandercook Lake. Our JV squad just couldn't get on track. Our Varsity girls revived their winning ways by downing the Jayhawks 16-14, 15-7. Amy Bragg had a big night, scoring 8 points on 12 for 12 serving and 14 for 15 spiking. Renea Drouare followed with 10 for 10 serving and 15 for 16 spiking. Rockie Weber posted a perfect night spiking 5 for 5 and 15 for 15 sets. Jennifer Barnard also had an unblemished evening with 10 for 10 serving and 12 for 12 sets.

Star material: Amy Bragg, Renea Drouare, Jennifer Barnard and Sarah Samonek.

Thursday night we welcomed the Warriors from Grass Lake. We captured the first game easily, 15-4. Grass Lake rallied to win the second, 5-15. The deciding game went into overtime before they won, 16-18. Sara Samonek led all scorers with 8 points, serving 10 for 10. Other perfect servers were Jennifer Barnard with 13 for 13, and Rockie Weber with 11 for 11. Both Renea and Amy had identical spiking stats with 13 for 17. In the setting department Jennifer had 24 for 25 with 4 assists.

Star material: Rockie Weber, Jennifer Barnard, Sara Samonek and Dawn Leach.

M.F.S. Holiday Report

The Manchester Family Service 1986 Christmas report show slightly less help needed than last year. There were 80 households to serve in 1986 with 196 individuals. Out of this number 85 were children and 40 senior citizens.

The annual Christmas Shop at St. Mary's Catholic Church was December 8, one week before Christmas. Individuals and families meeting the low income standards set by the government received their food or clothing orders, picked up their boxes of groceries, a new gift for each child in the family and their Federal Surplus Foods. Besides this there was the used clothing, household items, toys and shoe shop where they could pick out many needs. The shop items were furnished by sixty five families in the area.

The grocery boxes were made up from the canned and packaged foods collected by the school children the first two weeks in December. The Leadership Class at the High School brought in a pick-up load of supplies. The Middle School figured the value of their collections and totaled $504.68 worth of groceries. The Klager School surrounded their Christmas tree with the traditional gifts and produced a bountiful supply to add to the total which came to over 2500 items. Part of the collection also came from the United Thanksgiving Church Service, the Manchester Methodist Church, Emanuel United Church of Christ and individuals.

The Toy and Doll Shop from which the parents of each child and teen-ager on the list could select a new gift was furnished by many individuals. With special gifts such as 6 of the 7 Santa Bears from Ann Walton; a large pound puppy and two large bears made by Mary Blossom from material furnished by Sally Marshall of Ben Franklin Store; a Cabbage Patch Doll, toys, jewelry and games from the John Sahakian family - whose children shared their Christmas with the shop for the needy; games, watches, toys, candy and books from Mrs. Barry (Dianna) Bates and many many more.

Cuddly animals and tiny dolls were made by Mrs. Robert Pratt so each tiny tot found theirs in their grocery boxes with candy and chocolate Santas.

Specific donations were made by Abtrex Industries of Inkster again this year with large turkeys for the twenty-two larger families on the list. Chrysler Proving Ground Employees donated a third of the food bill for the entire project. Twenty ten dollar food orders at IGA were donated by Dianna Bates. A dozen households in south-west Washtenaw County but outside the Manchester School District were financed by the Manchester Unit of the Salvation Army.

VOLUNTEERS are the key to the whole project. Sparked by the board members, men and women from all the churches, Senior Citizens, service groups and the area worked two days and evenings carefully packing 80 marked grocery boxes; unpacking bags of clothing, toys, household articles and putting them on display tables and hangers until it all looked like a tremendous bargain day display. Then on Thursday, volunteers helped guide the clients through the maze to be sure they got everything from Federal Foods to Christmas Orders. Transportation and trucks are always needed and Manchester Tool and Die, the Manchester Jaycees (John Vecchione) and Russell C. Smith (retired) have always been ready to help.

This annual activity is possible because of a host of anonymous donors and helpers and a community spirit, typically Manchester. Monetary gifts came from the following sources to complete the program: Abtrex Industries, Inc., American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Barry Bates, Bethel Adult Fellowship, Bethel Banking Is One Of Life's Necessities. The Experience Should Be A Good One.

You flip a switch and the lights go on.

Start your car and go your way. Day in and day out, so long as things work like they should, you never give them a second thought. It's the same with banking.

You, along with the rest of us, fully expect your bank to work right. The first time. And every time. From our point of view, that isn't an unfair expectation.

In fact, living up to that is the best explanation of how and why we run First of America Bank the way we run it.

So in nearly 200 communities across the Midwest, our bankers are reminded that, even though they're part of a major bank company, they should play a major role in the community.

They're encouraged to make loan decisions locally. Which has made us one of the region's biggest lenders.

They're given all the resources of a big bank company to draw on, so they can offer customers a more resourceful bank.

And, since our bankers are asked to handle customer matters on a local level, they're as accountable to you as they are to their bank.

It's made us not only one of the Midwest's biggest bank companies.

It's made us one of its most dependable companies. Something that's as good for you as it is for us.

FIRST OF AMERICA.
We're Community Banks First.

Teachers Present In-Service Program

Teachers Mrs. Groeb and Mrs. Little prepared for their Birmingham Teacher In-Service Program.

At the request of Birmingham Schools, three Manchester educators presented a half day mathematics inservice to Birmingham staff members. Mrs. Janice Little, Mrs. Teddy Groeb and Mrs. JoAnn Okey spoke to an assembled group of more than one hundred kindergarten, first and second grade teachers. The teachers were interested in investigating the manipulative based mathematics program called "Mathematics Their Way." The program has been successfully used in Manchester Schools for several years.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Henry's 1st grade class

Klager students are studying ways of working together and respecting others. Mrs. Williams, and first graders from Mrs. Henry's class, have met together to examine cooperative learning, self-esteem, respect for others and conflict resolution. Through sharing her special counseling expertise Mrs. Williams encourages students to develop their social skills. She helps them to become aware of the fact that they choose their behaviors and to look critically at the consequences. Through this process of awareness and sensitization they become able to make better choices in their work and play relationships.

Am I Willing To Take These Risks

As a neighbor, am I willing to report instances of child abuse or neglect? To guide an alcoholic to seek help?

As a parent, am I willing to risk others' anger by communicating my observations about a young person in trouble with drugs? Hear concerns others may have for my own child? Work with other parents to set up social guidelines for our teenagers?

As a counselor, teacher, or coach, am I willing to risk a young person's anger by telling parents my concerns about her/his chemical use? Risk losing a key team player's talents by intervening in his/her use of drugs? Help a young person living with an alcoholic parent better understand alcoholism—and try to find ways to help the alcoholic and the family?

As a merchant, am I willing to sacrifice a sale by refusing to serve someone who is drunk or high?

As a clergyman, am I willing to learn all I can—and urge staff and congregation to learn about chemical dependency? Confront a congregant or fellow member of the clergy on his/her drinking?

As a lawyer, am I willing to use my defense on a DWI charge as leverage to persuade the driver to have a chemical dependency evaluation and, if needed, to seek treatment?

As a pharmacist, am I willing to express my concern to physician or family member when I see multiple prescriptions or harmful combinations of drugs prescribed from different doctors?

As a physician, psychiatrist, dentist, or other health professional, am I willing to consider a patient's health as it relates to chemical abuse or to help intervene if abuse has become dependency?

As an employer, am I willing to set up an employee assistance plan to provide help for alcoholic employees on every level? Establish norms for appropriate use of alcohol during the business day? At office parties?

As an employee, am I willing to support an intervention to help an alcoholic co-worker at any level?

As a host or hostess, am I willing to refuse a drink to someone who has had too many? Provide non-alcoholic drinks too? Send an intoxicated guest home by cab?

As a friend or family member, am I willing to confront the drinking or drug use of someone close to me?

As a teenager, am I willing to risk the anger of a drug-using friend or of my group, in order to get help for that friend by going to a parent, counselor, or other adult who understands the problem?

Above all, as an individual, am I willing to risk looking at my own use of drugs, including alcohol and prescription drugs?

Positive risk-taking begins with me!

The 4-H Experience

Competition is a normal and healthy part of life. It begins when small children first learn basic games and continues to develop as they do.

When it rises to extreme levels, competitiveness in young people may be more harmful than helpful. According to 4-H program leader Lowell Rothert, 4-H programs seek to promote competition between young people in an atmosphere of cooperation and caring.

Competition influences how children and adults approach their goals. It may exist as competition against self, when a person seeks to better his or her past performance; competition against others, whether individually or as part of a team; or competition against a set standard or level of competence.

4-H programs work with all forms of competition but also encourage members, leaders and parents to work together to accomplish tasks.

"We emphasize competition as only one part of the whole 4-H experience," Rothert says. "Parents and leaders should also place as much value on learning, growing and working together."

For instance, the 4-H shooting sports program allows young people the chance to learn how to use firearms safely and responsibly as well as an opportunity to test their skills and compete against others and against themselves. Rothert cites the program as an excellent example of competition coupled with learning and cooperation.

Healthy competition can and does help motivate young people to accomplish goals and develop feelings of self-worth, Rothert says. And 4-H programs seek to reward not only winners, but hard workers as well.

"4-H tries to reward everyone who participates," Rothert says. "We want to give kids something tangible to take away from a project in addition to the non-tangible feeling of accomplishment."

For more information about 4-H contact the Washtenaw County 4-H Office, or call 973-9510.

The New W-4 Form

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants).

Under the new tax reform act, all taxpayers will be required to file a new W-4 form with their employer to determine the amount of tax dollars to be withheld from their pay. Technically, taxpayers have until October 1, 1987 to file the new form. But for many, it will be wise to file the new form as early as possible so that the proper amount of tax dollars are withheld from their pay, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs. If a taxpayer is found by the IRS to have paid too little in taxes through withholdings, he or she could be subject to penalties.

The new form and instructions run four pages, including a worksheet with 21 items to compute withholdings, making it twice as long as the old form. Even though the form is twice as long, many taxpayers will be able to provide the necessary information by filling in the first five lines. Single individuals who don't itemize deductions and who don't earn income other than from wages, and one-income couples who also don't itemize or receive outside income will be able to skip the remaining 16 lines on the form.

The first five lines of the worksheet look very similar to the old W-4 Form. The first line directs taxpayers to claim themselves as an allowance. The second line is for the "special allowance."

Taxpayers are allowed to claim a special allowance if they meet any one of the three following conditions: If they are single and hold only one job; if they are married, have one job and their spouse is not employed; or if they have a second job or their spouse has a job where neither income exceeds $2,500.

The third line directs taxpayers to take a deduction for their spouse unless he or she can be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return. The fourth line allows taxpayers to enter the number of dependents they can claim other than their spouse. And the fifth line is a total of the first four lines. At this point, many taxpayers will be finished.

Taxpayers who have income of $950 or more from a working spouse, hold more than one job or earn nonwage income will be required to continue and complete the entire form to correctly calculate their withholdings.

Taxpayers with itemized deductions, tax credits, adjustments to income or deductions for age or blindness should complete the entire form for extra withholding allowances, although it is not required.

To properly complete the worksheet, these taxpayers will find that many of the calculations from their 1986 tax return will be helpful.

In the next 16 lines, taxpayers will use information such as their adjustment to income, itemized deductions and tax credit to claim additional allowances. By following the instructions accompanying the worksheet, taxpayers should have little difficulty figuring their withholding allowances.

After completing the new form, many taxpayers will find that they will be able to claim approximately the same number of withholding allowances as they did under the old law. At the same time, many people will also find that they will have less tax withheld because of the changes in the tax law.

Some taxpayers will end up reducing the number of withholding allowances they claim because several of the tax benefits that allowed for extra withholding allowances, such as IRA contributions and sales taxes, will be restricted or eliminated under the new tax law.

On the whole, most taxpayers will find that they will probably be able to claim approximately the same number of allowances while having their withholding taxes reduced.

For taxpayers who hold more than one job, they will have to decide whether or not to claim all of their allowances on one job or to claim some one each job. However, they may not claim the same allowances more than once. Taxpayers who are in this situation might find it wise to claim all allowances on the W-4 form for the higher paying job and claim zero on all other jobs.

Whatever your tax situation, be sure to read the instructions thoroughly. If you find that it is too complicated to do yourself, you're not alone. A CPA will be able to help you calculate your withholdings so you can avoid tax problems in the future.

20th Century Club

The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Michael Scully with Mrs. Richard Schmidt as Co-Hostess.

The program given by Mrs. Robert Nickles, was a book review of "The Northern Lights", by Charles Hyde. The old light houses of Michigan and the life of the lighthouse keeper was most interesting.

The February meeting will be held at Emanuel Church Hall on February 10.

Soak cup apple pieces in salted water for ten minutes. They'll remain crisp longer and won't turn brown.

Michigan's History

On January 26, 1847, four Kentuckians and a deputy sheriff were searching Marshall for the Crosswhites, a black family who had escaped from Kentucky years earlier. Both black and white Marshall residents spirited the Crosswhites to safety in Canada and then threatened to tar and feather the Kentucky hunters. This incident helped Congress pass a strict Fugitive Slave Law on February 13, 1855, prohibiting the use of county jails for the detention of escaped slaves and directing county prosecuting attorneys to defend the runaways if necessary. The old federal Fugitive Slave Act had allowed arrest and imprisonment of runaway slaves in any state where they were found. Today, visitors to the Museum of African American History in Detroit will relive this and other experiences of blacks in Michigan. For further information, please contact the Michigan Travel Bureau.

Tree Seedlings Offered

The Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District announces its annual tree and shrub seedling sale for 1987. Orders for planting stock will be accepted until April 13, 1987 on a first-come, first-serve basis while supplies last. Seedlings will tentatively be distributed on Saturday, April 25, 1987 at the Washtenaw County Road Commission garage.

Planting stock available this spring includes: Austrian Pine, Red Pine, White Pine, Colorado Blue Spruce, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, Douglas Fir, European Larch, Red Oak, Tulip Poplar, Black Walnut, Imperial Carolina Hybrid Poplar, Silky Dogwood shrubs and Emerald Crownvetch seed.

Wildlife Packets, an assortment of 50 evergreen and hardwood trees and shrubs for wildlife habitat plantings; and tree planting bars, a sturdy tool for planting seedlings, will also be available. Prices are reasonable for all tree and shrub seedlings which are two years old and range in size from three to eight inches tall.

The purpose of the District's tree program is to assist landowners in obtaining planting stock at low cost for reforestation, windbreaks, erosion control, and wildlife habitat improvement. Order forms containing information on available species, site preference, uses and prices can be obtained by contacting the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District at 6101 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor, MI 48103-9598. Telephone: 313-761-8721.

Hit or Miss Twenty-One

We were talking the other day with a gal who, some weeks ago, was laid off at her place of employment and finally decided that she had to apply for food stamps but she is a bit confused at some of the restrictions set down for their use. We had heard of these but had not paid much attention to them. We noted that therein it says that stamps cannot be used for food goods, alcoholic beverages, soaps and detergents, and paper products, paper towel, tissues, etc. Must be the chaps who drafted the rules were mad at some of those providers. We can understand the alcoholic beverages bit but the paper products restriction is confusing to say the least. There are some paper products that it seems to me are a necessity, or perhaps there are substitutes.

What is a normal personality? Students of the mind debate it. One definition says "Normal" is the absence of neurosis, but some contend that an individual without a neurosis is like a hot dog without mustard.

It has been asked "What man in American history has had the best eyesight on record?" This has been claimed for two well known folks—Chuck Yeager test pilot and baseball's Ted Williams.

"Twenty-one" a boy no longer, You have reached your manhood's start: And in life's unceasing drama You must take an active part. Do not fail, the world is watching For the progress you will make, In your failures, or success They an earnest interest take.

Though you meet with threatened dangers, Little help the world will give, But remember, life's one battle, Is by honest toil to live. You will meet new trials daily, But be ever brave and firm, And let "Onward" be your motto: Truth, and virtue, be your aim.

Though you strive for wealth and station, Labor hard for empty fame, Let your record without a stain, And when fame and fortune favor, And wealth comes to your command, To the poor-all those who labor, Ever lend a helping hand.

For you, too, have toiled and struggled, Ere you won an honest name, And the honest fellow-laborer Sure your sympathy can claim. Should he ask for your assistance Render all the aid you can, And in each, and every dealing, Be ye true to God and man.

Then, when cares of age o'er take you, And your year's are fleeting fast, You can calmly wait the future, And with joy review the past. You can note the happy changes, Time has wrought, since years began, You can see the good accomplished. Since yours numbered "twenty-one".

Luncheon Concludes United Way Campaign

United Way Board President, Diana Macfarlane; Luncheon Co-sponsor, Monty Okey; Campaign Chairman, Ted Stautz

On January 13, 1987, the United Way Board of Directors, the 1986 Campaign Chairman, the several Division Chairs, and their key campaign workers were treated to a luncheon at the K of C Hall. The luncheon was sponsored by Drs. Virginia Johnson and Monty Okey.

Approximately 50 guests were present as Board President Diana Macfarlane thanked Campaign Chairman Ted Stautz for his leadership in the highly successful campaign, in which more than $50,000 was collected for local and state agencies supported by United Way. Stautz then presented and thanked each of the Division Chairpersons: Residential, Susan Mann and Mark VanBogelen; Schools, Ron Niedzwiecki; Industrial, Ron Fielder; Business, Becky Doyle; Outside Business, David Little; Organizations, Janice Little. Ron Fielder noted that each of the eight corporations which compose the Industrial Division met or exceeded their goals for the campaign. Four of the corporations, Johnson Controls, Manchester Plastics, Manchester Stamping, and Manchester Tool and Die received citations for obtaining participation by 100% of their employees. Manchester United Way and its member agencies thank all of these people and all of the citizens of Manchester whose contributions helped to make the 1986 campaign one of the most successful ever.

Vocational Education Week

Building America's Future
"Building" may lead one to think of Building Trades and the vocational program presently constructing a contemporary ranch house over-looking Brookside Golf Course near Saline. But fifteen additional vocational programs serve junior and senior high school students from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline. Building America's Future, the theme for 1987 Vocational Education Week, suggests a future of satisfying and skilled employment for students acquiring vocational skills, and infers that America's economic future will be effected by a skilled and educated work force. Students from Agribusiness to Electronics and Cosmetology to Health Occupations believe in "Building America's Future." Several activities will highlight Vocational Education Week. Machine shop owners and employers of machinists in the South & West Washtenaw Consortium area of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline are invited to an open house of the Automated Machine Technology program at Saline High School, February 11, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Students
