Should Couples File Jointly Or Separately?

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

On St. Valentine's Day, more marriage proposals are made than on just about any other day of the year. And, when a man and a woman decide to get married, they have many details to think about. Usually, how they decide to file their income tax is not one of them. But come tax time, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, they have a decision to make.

Most married couples file jointly because, by doing so, they reduce their tax bill more so than if they were to file separately. The tax rates for married couples are lower and there are many tax benefits to filing jointly that both are not available to separate filers.

By filing a joint tax return, married couples are entitled to the two-earner deduction (which will be phased out in 1987). IRA deduction for a nonworking spouse, the credit for the elderly, the earned income credit or the dependent care credit. For the maximum deductions, all totaled, these benefits could provide a substantial tax savings.

By claiming the two-earner deduction, a married couple can shave up to $1,500 off of their tax bill. This deduction is worth 10 percent of the salary of the spouse who earns less, up to $30,000. This, too, will no longer be available under the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

Married couples where only one spouse works are entitled to take a deduction for the additional contribution allowed for an IRA. In this situation, the working spouse can contribute as much as $2,250 to an IRA and the couple may divide it between their accounts in anyway they wish, as long as not more than $2,000 goes into one account.

The credit for the elderly is also available to married couples who file jointly. If one spouse is 65 or older or under 65 and permanently disabled receiving disability income, he or she may qualify for a credit worth up to $1,125 on the joint return. Married couples filing separately who are married and living together or who lived together for part of the year, are excluded from this credit.

Married couples with dependent children who earn less than $11,000 a year are also entitled to the earned income credit as long as they file jointly. This deduction is worth as much as $550 for couples who qualify.

One other credit that is available to couples who file jointly is the dependent care credit. Couples who hire a babysitter or a housekeeper to care for a dependent so that both can work outside the home in 1986 may qualify for a credit worth as much as $720, $1,440 for two or more dependents.

All of these credits and deductions are not available to couples who file separately. Also, one-half of the Social Security benefits received by a spouse who files separately are subject to tax, regardless of their amount or the amount of other income. When a married couple files jointly and receives Social Security benefits, they are allowed to have other income and still have their benefits remain tax free, as long as they do not exceed certain income limits.

Still, couples may elect to file separately. One reason to file separately is if both husband and wife have separate incomes and one spouse has substantial medical bills. In this case, medical expenses that exceed five percent of this spouse's adjusted gross income are tax deductible in 1986. If the expenses are great enough, they can reduce his or her tax bill considerably.

Couples who choose to file jointly must be married.

Separated or divorced couples may still have to file jointly depending on certain circumstances. If you were married on December 31, 1986, consider yourself married for the entire tax year. If your spouse died during 1986, you may still file a joint return.

Separated couples may file returns as though they are not married as long as they did not live together at all in 1986. In this situation, one spouse may file as a head of household as long as the couple's dependent child lived with him or her for more than six months out of the year. If you were divorced in 1986, you cannot file a joint unless you remarried within the same year.

Under most circumstances, married couples who choose to file separately will pay more taxes. However, due to other factors, these spouses may find it beneficial to file this way instead of jointly. In doing so, it is important to note that if a couple files separate tax returns and then decides that they would like to amend their return, they have three years from the due date to file an amended, joint return. But remember that if a couple files jointly, they cannot amend their return to file separately.

When filing separately, each spouse must take responsibility for his or her own income, deductions, exemptions, credits and liabilities. If one spouse itemized his or her deductions, the other spouse must itemize as well. When filing jointly, each spouse is liable for the tax on the other spouse's income.

If you were married, separated, divorced or widowed in 1986, you will have to make a decision as to the best way to file your income tax return. If you feel you need more information to properly file your return, contact a CPA or the IRS. Both are good sources of information when it comes time to sorting through your financial information.

Fire And Robbers In Manchester Cafe

In Absence Of Proprietor And His Family, Manchester Restaurant Is Robbed And Fired

Manchester Enterprise
December 18, 1924

Fire of an unknown origin made a good start toward destruction of the Manchester Cafe, owned by F. Geers, located in the small brick building owned by John Wuerthner, on the north side of Exchange Place about midnight Saturday night. Prompt action, however, made the loss small, with a hole about two feet in diameter burned through the ceiling and floor above. The occupants had two large rugs badly burned besides damage to furniture, etc., from chemicals and smoke.

Raynor Haeussler was returning home from the store when he discovered the blaze in the ceiling of the front room of the restaurant. Summoning several citizens who were nearby, they dragged the chemical cart of the fire department there and extinguished the blaze without alarming the sleeping villagers. None of the Geers family was home during the night, all having gone to Jackson about nine o'clock Saturday evening, as they sometimes do, their Saturday night and Sunday trade being very light at this time of year. A light fire was burning in the restaurant, also on in an upstairs room, but it cannot be conceived how fire could originate from either, neither from electric wiring, which passed some distance away. Mr. Geers explains that the place was robbed after they left and it is thought the thieves set the fire. From a showcase in the restaurant were taken a punchboard, a camera, field glass, cigarette case and other articles belonging with the punchboard. There was also missing one of two red candles, which was found upstairs. The punch board was found under a bed upstairs. The visitors also took time to devour a pumpkin pie from the cupboard. Upstairs the shade from a dresser lamp had been thrown on the bed and the electric bulb was taken.

The Geers and family returned home about 5:30 Sunday evening, but found everything in such disorder they returned to Jackson to spend the night, returning here Monday morning.

Health-O-Rama

Project Health-O-Rama, a series of free health tests and health information, will be in Washtenaw County March 26 - April 5.

Project Health-O-Rama is sponsored by Washtenaw United Way, United Health Organizations, WXYZ-TV/Channel 7, and Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan. There are 100 sites in Washtenaw, Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Lapeer, Monroe, and St. Clair Counties. Over 8,000 volunteers contribute their time and talent to make Project Health-O-Rama possible. Last year almost 55,000 individuals took the tests in the eight-county area.

Test will be conducted at six locations in Washtenaw County. Each site will offer the following free tests or services: blood pressure, vision, height and weight, counseling and referral, glaucoma, hearing, a health hazard appraisal, and health education literature. Two optional tests carry nominal fees. The take-home colorectal screening kits cost $3.00; the blood panel of 21 tests costs $8.00. Individuals taking the blood panel test are advised not to eat for four hours prior to the test. Special tests and services at some of the sites include: skin cancer, sickle cell anemia, oral/dental screening, pulmonary function, podiatry, stress tests, grip tests, nutrition counseling, and medication counseling (bring your prescription and non-prescription medications). The average participant will obtain services worth $100 to $150 for only a nominal fee.

For participants with severely abnormal test results, the Health-O-Rama staff will make follow-up phone contacts about 2-3 months after the Project. Project Health-O-Rama is not intended to replace a visit to the doctor.

The following is the schedule for Washtenaw County Health-O-Rama sites:
Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main, Chelsea, MI, Saturday, April 11, 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.
Saline Community Hospital - Wellness Center, 400 W. Russell, Saline, MI, Wednesday, April 8, 8:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Hit or Miss

by farley

I saw the other day in an Ohio weekly that I see now and then what I thought was very pertinent dissertation concerning the forth coming village election written by Mrs. Schreiber, the Cloverdale correspondent of the Continental News-Review. Their problems seem to be similar to ours and this was her message to the townfolk.

"To the people of Cloverdale: This is the time of year when you will be required to elect Council Members and a Mayor. So it is your chance to get someone new on the Council. Since you are always complaining about what they do on Council you seem to think there are those who can do better."

"Here's your chance to try. Think the matter over and decide whether to run for a position thereon. You have the next few months to think the matter over and get out your petitions. Talk to those on the Council, and find out what they have to do. And if you think you can do a better job than those on the Council, decide to run, but if you don't do anything constructive about it and neither do you vote, be very quiet until the next election time for these offices".

We were told the other day about the chap who went into a bar at noon and ordered two drinks in separate glasses and proceeded to down them in alternate gulps. He then departed but several days later he came in again and repeated the performance. The bartender was curious and asked "What goes on here?" The chap explained "My best buddy and I always had a drink at noon but he's been transferred to another town, but we made a vow to always drink together - me here, him there."

A few days later the chap came in and ordered only one drink. After he drank it the bartender asks "What happened?"

"Oh, I'm on the wagon" the man explained.

Two men were discussing their wives. One fellow said that every time he and his wife got into an argument she got hysterical.

"You mean hysterical, don't you" said his pal.

"No hysterical, she keeps bringing up the past."

Somebody the other day dug up records showing that in Oswego, New York in 1916 was 25 cents for having a tooth pulled and $1.25 for delivering a baby.

Bloodmobile Results

Thanks to the Manchester Community another Annual Spring Red Cross Bloodmobile was a success. The clinic saw 155 individuals, had six deferred for minor illnesses and collected 149 units of blood. Thanks go to Marja Warner chair-person-of-the-day and all her staff. The donors were well scheduled and everything ran smoothly.

The number of gallon donors increases with the years. A 6 gallon pin was earned by Elizabeth Gonyer this time while Ronald Panches earned a 5 gallon pin. Shirley Roller, Ronald Goodrich and Gary Brokaw all earned 4 gallon pins. Rev. Evans Bentley, Mark Rutherford, Fredrick Strobe, Robert Burkhardt and Debbie Reinhart earned 3 gallon donor pins. James Way, Steven Barker, Ronald Davis and Michael Walter all earned 1 gallon donor emblems.

Fern Strang was a leader from 1954 to 1960, sometimes without help, for 26 girls. Women in Manchester still recall what a wonderful leader she was. Judy Wilson was assistant leader to Fern for two years.

Lucille Williams was a Girl Scout from 1932 to 1935, and a Brownie Leader in the fifties.

Marie Knorpp was the assistant leader for Lucille's troop.

Nancy Althouse (not pictured) was a leader in 1951-53. Since her retirement in 1984, she has been an enthusiastic Brownie leader. Nancy recalls meeting in the Arbeiter Hall.

These ladies were guests at our Flag Ceremony, Promise Circle, balloon release, and party with cupcakes and ice cream, held by our current Girl Scout Troops, from five-year-old Daisies on up. Girl Scouts from all over the country rededicated themselves at 4:00 p.m. (in their time zone) on our 75th Anniversary. At Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., our Huron Valley Council was represented by four patrols of 8 girls and 2 adults each. It was exciting to be a part of such a national event. One of our Manchester balloons has since been returned from New York State. Wonder how far the others went?

Balloon Travels Long Distance

Joelle Armentrout is showing her letter received by Bonnie Brock from Scotie, New York. On Thursday, March 12, the Girl Scouts of Manchester did a balloon release to honor our 75th Anniversary. On Friday, March 13, Miss Brock found Joelle's balloon. She sent her a nice letter saying she too was once a brownie and did many fun things. Joelle is a member of troop 650. The girls will be bowling this week to finish their Sports and Games try it badge.

Letters To The Editor

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

As a member of the Manchester area, who has children in the Manchester High School that are both involved in the sports program, I say it is about time someone in the administration took a stand for what is right. The policy was there and they enforced it. It's not like the individuals involved didn't know the consequences if caught. They played the game and lost.

I certainly do not know where the parents that condone "drinking parties" in their homes are coming from. They should look into a few things before allowing this type of behavior to take place. Don't they realize that by allowing minors to indulge on their property they are liable for civil litigation and could also be prosecuted under state statute for aiding and abetting a minor, plus the possibility of starting a young adult into a life of alcoholism?

I am really thankful for parents and kids that will not condone this type of behavior in their homes or elsewhere. As I think back over the past few years, I can't help but remember all the young people Washtenaw County has lost in traffic accidents, many of these were directly related with alcohol. It certainly concerns me, especially with senior prom and graduation coming up in the next few months.

Let's not try and pick the system apart, but rather back it up. I believe they have the interests of our teenagers at heart. Thank you.

A Concerned Parent,
Ken Beasley

Early Saturday Morning the Manchester High School Band left for the Band Festival at Columbia Central in Brooklyn.

There was tension in the air but they're so grown up they don't show it. This is the big festival and the feelings shown on the parents faces was so sincere. It seemed to make everyone friends.

There were 13 bands listed to play. Our performance was at 8:45.

Waiting in the auditorium you could almost hear the parents deep breathing and saying "please".

The band played with such confidence and pride you knew they were the greatest. Thank you Miss M. Hurbes.

Came sight reading test. After their music the judge spoke to them. He was the toughest judge I had heard in four years.

A SNAKE TO MAKE
by Peter Hamilton Kent

This big boa may be the slickest snake you'll ever see.

Here's what you'll need:

- 20 big plastic cups (1 or 2 colors)
- 10 feet of thick yarn or twine
- 9 large beads or empty thread spools
- hammer and nail
- strong glue (Aleene's "Tacky" Glue and Slomom's Sobo glue work well)
- about 12" of stiff wire
- colored paper for tongue and eyes

Here's what you do:

- With the nail, make a hole in the center of the bottom of each cup.
- Cover the rim of each cup with glue. Wait until the glue has dried a little bit and is very, very sticky. Then stick the cups together in pairs as shown in the drawing.
- Make a big "needle" out of the wire by bending one end to form a small loop. Then thread it with yarn or twine.
- Make sure the glue holding your cups together has thoroughly dried. Then, with your threaded wire needle, string the cups together with a bead or spool between each pair of cups.
- Cut a forked tongue out of colored paper and glue it to the snake's face.
- Cut out paper eyes and glue them on too.

"For Parents Only"

Marilyn Schultz, Karen Ellsworth and Mary Nobschisch share teaching ideas to use with catalogues. Eleanore DeLiscia, Phyllis Meranuck and Sharon Anderson are busy trying out the new ideas.

A special parent workshop was held at Klager last week, to answer parents question "How can I help at home?"

Karen Ellsworth, fourth grade teacher researched the question of parents working with their children at home and found:

- 87% of children's lives until 18 years of age are spent with parents, only 13% at school.
- The factor most highly related to reading success was having mother regularly listen to a child read.
- Children in a parent tutoring program had higher reading scores than those who did not participate.
- Greater parent involvement is related to higher achievement.
- Participation of both parents, especially fathers in such activities as reading to the child, relates to better reading readiness.

Said Ellsworth "Children follow the example of their parents. Children learn from imitating the people around them...reading is taught by example many times a day indirectly. All these things indicate to a child that reading has a purpose and is used regularly in daily life."

The program focused on developing strategies to teach throughout the day using catalogues, newspapers, games, cooking and many other activities.

"On The Job"

These second grade students in Mrs. Little's class are very proud of their afternoon "on the job"! Thanks to Wayne Hamilton from Manchester Stamping the children were able to assemble some small automobile parts. The team consisted of Lea Taddonio, Plant Superintendent; Foreman, Pam Preston, Landon Burkhardt, Jason Miner. Inspectors, Steven Rieske, Stacy Mann, Jayna Nickert, Ryan Fielder, Shelby Gardner and Ralph Brooks, also custodian Joelle Armentrout plus the 16 workers who assembled 551 parts in a half hour. Who knows maybe one of these parts will be in your next car!!!!

Super Saturday Program

The Cake Decorating Class, led by Nancy Bihlmeyer, getting ready to practice on small cakes.

Starting February 21, 1987, the Community Education Department sponsored a four week Super Saturday Program. Twenty different classes were offered and more than 200 children participated. The children learned cake decorating, jug band music, art techniques, gymnastics, woodworking, how to make ooey-goey and much more. Much of this program's success can be attributed to the enthusiastic community members who were willing to help or teach a class. The Super Saturday Program was truly a learning experience for the students as well as the staff.

With the coming of spring, we are anticipating a large enrollment in our spring soccer program. Mark Ball will be coaching this Saturday morning activity and as always we welcome the help and participation of parents.

New Members Inducted

Twenty-three students working toward teacher certification at Adrain College in Adrain, Michigan, have been selected for membership in the Lambda Upsilon chapter of the Kappa Delta Pi national honor society. The new members were initiated at a banquet held March 15, on the Adrain College campus.

Membership in Kappa Delta Pi is open only to juniors and seniors who have demonstrated excellence by achieving a 3.0 grade point average in their college studies. Invitations are also based on a commitment to education as a career and a professional attitude which assures the member's steady growth in the field of education.

New members from this area include James Krzyzaniak, a junior majoring in elementary education. A 1983 graduate of Manchester High School, he is the son of Richard and Shirley Krzyzaniak of Manchester.

When Preparing Return, Take Time, Avoid Errors

Filing a Form 1040, 1040A or even the 11-line Form 1040EZ can be an ordeal if prepared in haste at the last minute.

Through the years IRS has seen a trend in filing practices. Some taxpayers file as soon as they receive their tax return packages and Forms W-2 and interest information notices. Others prefer to wait until the last minute when running shoes are a necessity to ensure timely filing before midnight on April 15th.

However, those who wait until the last minute might find that preparing their returns earlier—even if only a week or a few days earlier—could make a big difference. Preparing the return over a two or three week period will lessen the chances for mistakes as taxpayers will be more relaxed and take more time in completing the form and appropriate supporting schedules. Taking time in preparing an income tax return will reduce the possibility of making errors, and can help taxpayers discover credits or deductions for which they qualify and might have otherwise missed.

Of course, many file close to the filing deadline because they must wait for certain necessary forms like Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, or Form 1099-INT, Statement for Recipients of Interest Income.

The Internal Revenue Service advises these taxpayers, if they do receive their statements by January to contact the employer or payer to request that the form be issued.

Taxpayers who still have not received their Forms W-2 by February 15 should call the IRS toll-free telephone number for their area. When contacting the IRS, taxpayers will be asked to provide the employer's name, address and employer identification number. Having the necessary information available on the first contact IRS adds, will prevent the need for taxpayers to call again.

Those waiting for Forms 1099-INT should note that they should not attach this form to their completed return. All that is required is the payee information from the forms; so if the taxpayer has kept accurate records, can get the information from the issuing company, he or she can file without having received the form.

The important thing to remember about filing a federal income tax return is to file by April 15 and ensure the correct postage is affixed to the envelope. Thicker returns, IRS advises usually containing over four items (Form 1040 and three attachments), require extra postage. Returns which are sent back to taxpayers for additional postage will not be considered timely filed tax returns even if they were originally mailed on April 15th.

Owe No Income Tax? File to Get Refund

Filing a tax return may be a good idea for some taxpayers even if they are not required to do so, the Internal Revenue Service said. Many low-income workers—like students, retirees and part-time employees—are entitled to receive a full refund of the federal income tax withheld during the year but they must file a return to get it.

Taxpayers should check their Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, to see if any income taxes were withheld. If taxes were withheld and no tax is owed, filing a tax return is the only way to recover the money.

WES MICHIGAN

A celebration of what was and will be.

It is highly unlikely that it has ever rained cats and dogs during the month of April, but it is evident that April has traditionally showered Michigan with an abundance of memorable events. There was no raining on Joseph L. Hudson's parade as he held a grand opening for his boys, mens, and furnishings store in a leased space in the Detroit Opera House on April 2, 1881. By the 1920's, Hudson's became the third largest department store in America and his continued success is evident with 18 stores in Michigan today. The Flint Journal joined in the flight for a "fly-less Flint" on April 16, 1913, by offering a 25 cent reward for each 1,000 dead flies brought to the newspaper. With a population that nearly tripled in a decade, Flint experienced problems with sanitation and flies. The Flint Journal stated "the angel of death mounts the back of every fly", however, the Flint Journal has no records indicating that anyone ever sought the reward. Robins and apple blossoms are a spring tradition and what better month than April for Michigan to adopt them as the official state bird and flower. On April 8, 1931, as a result of a contest held by the Michigan Audubon Society, the robin became the official state bird. The blossoming apple trees and the world-wide reputation of the Michigan apple prompted the legislature to adopt the apple blossom as the official state flower on April 28, 1897. It only took James Jackson Jeffries (250 pounds) 55 seconds in round one to knock-out John Finnegan (180 pounds) in one of the world's first heavyweight title fights held in Detroit on April 6, 1900. Was it the prestige of the $15,000 purse that pitted Michael Phelan (New York) against John Seereiter (Detroit) on April 12, 1859, in the first world billiard match held in Detroit. Perhaps no one will ever know, yet it was Phelan that came away a rich man that day, defeating Seereiter 2,000 to 1,904 to take the hefty purse. Michigan has been showered with many April happenings. These are just a few, here is the rest of the roundup:

Traffic Slowdown Advisory

Traffic at the intersection of M-50 and Ann Arbor Road in the city of Dundee (Monroe County) was slowed for intersection and curb and gutter replacement beginning Monday (March 9), the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) stated.

Intermittent lane closures are in effect during daytime hours only. One lane of traffic is maintained in each direction at all times.

The project is scheduled for completion by mid-June. State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Ann Arbor) said she is reintroducing a bill (H.B. 4034) that would require AIDS testing before a marriage license could be issued if the physician believes the person is at "high risk" for AIDS.

Under the bill, the physician would have the responsibility for determining whether or not the individual is in a high-risk population. It is estimated that only three percent of the Michigan population is considered to be high-risk. The bill requires the written consent of the person to be tested before the test may be conducted. The bill includes a provision for the counseling and education of those who test positive for the AIDS antibody. It also stipulates the information obtained must remain confidential between the physician and the marital couple involved.

Choosing Sunglasses

Having the right sunglasses for outdoor sports can make a big difference in performance, says the president of the Michigan Optometric Association. "If you don't wear sunglasses or have an inadequate pair, glare can sometimes be so blinding you literally can't see what you're doing," said Dr. Paul K. Douglas. "You'll also tire more easily. Squinting takes a lot of energy."

The various types of sunglasses have different advantages, so it pays to match your sunglasses with your sport," Dr. Douglas said. "Your optometrist can advise you about non-prescription as well as prescription sunglasses and special sports eyewear like ski and swim goggles."

Basic to all sunglasses should be lenses that are industrial-strength impact-resistant, block out 75 to 90 percent of light and have maximum ultraviolet (UV) protection. Medium or dark gray tints do not interfere with color perception, an important consideration in many sports, such as golf and hunting. Some people, however, prefer green or brown tints.

Polarizing sun lenses are good choices for water sports, tennis, biking and jogging because they combat glare reflected from water, sand and roads.

Photochromic or light-sensitive lenses may be the choice for those who encounter changing lighting conditions, such as skiers, golfers and hunters. These lenses get darker or lighter depending upon the amount of available light.

Tinted lenses with a mirrored, metallic coating are designed for intense glare and work well with both water and snow sports.

"Be sure to ask your optometrist to recommend sunglasses with maximum UV protection," Dr. Douglas said. "You can't tell by looking if a lens has it but it can help prevent the development of a type of cataract."

Wise Investment

Calling it a "wise investment in our future," Congressman Carl Pursell testified in support of the Michigan Wilderness Bill (H.R. 148).

Based in the belief certain amounts of land should be preserved in their natural state, this bill seeks to designate some 92,000 acres of Michigan land (primarily in the Upper Peninsula) as wilderness areas. If enacted, 11 areas would be incorporated in the National Wilderness Preservation System. "This proposal would set aside as wilderness a fraction of one percent of our state's land area. Just as we encourage careful development in some areas, we should set aside other areas for preservation," Pursell said. Pursell co-sponsored the bill in February and testified on its behalf again on Thursday, March 19, before the House Interior Committee's Subcommittee on Public Lands and National Parks.

65 MPH Speed Limit

Six votes were the difference between a limited 10 mph increase in the national speed limit and leaving it at 55 mph. By a vote of 217 to 206, the U.S. House cleared the way to allow states to set a 65 mph limit on rural stretches of the interstate highway system.

"The question of raising the speed limit in rural areas really is a safety question," Congressman Carl Pursell of Michigan said. "And as such, I voted no to help save lives on Michigan highways."

The speed limit resolution was tied to the final version of a $87.5 billion, 6-year spending authorization to complete the interstate system. Although the proposal next goes to the Senate, the House was seen as the major barrier to 65 mph.

"I have been a strong supporter of the 55 mph limit because it saves lives - our highway statistics bear out that point," Pursell said after the vote. "I could have considered 65 if it was coupled with a mandatory national seatbelt law. But, without the seatbelt provision, I think 55 still makes the best sense," he said.

The Senate plans to incorporate the speed limit change into the highway bill and send it as a single package to the President.

Lowering Cholesterol

March is National Nutritional month, a great time to think about ways cholesterol can be reduced on our food choices.

Lowering total cholesterol involves adopting a diet low in fats and cholesterol. Since saturated fats (generally solid at room temperature) tend to raise blood levels of cholesterol, it is best to eat less of these fats. Saturated fat is found in meats, poultry skin, non-skim dairy products and processed foods made with coconut, palm and palm kernel oils, vegetable shortening and hydrogenated vegetable oils.

Whenever possible, substitute polyunsaturated liquid vegetable oils (corn, safflower, sunflower, soybean and sesame oils) for saturated fats. Polyunsaturated oils in your diet help lower cholesterol levels in the blood. Eating less cholesterol (no more than 3 egg yolks per week, avoiding organ meats) reduces the blood cholesterol level as well.

Increasing dietary fiber helps lower blood cholesterol. Beneficial fibers are found in oats (regular oats and oat bran, but not wheat bran) dried beans, carrots, and fruits containing pectin, such as apples and concord grapes. Losing weight will also reduce the cholesterol level.

Many of the methods used to lower total cholesterol also lowers the beneficial high density lipoproteins (HDL's). An HDL raising exception is exercise. Adopting a program of regular aerobic exercise is wise. Mono-unsaturated oils such as olive oil in the diet may also raise HDL levels in the blood.

Smelt Runs May Peak 2 Weeks Early In State

Peak spring smelt runs could start as much as two weeks earlier than normal due to unseasonably warm temperatures in late February and early March, reports AAA Michigan.

Smelt generally begin spawning runs into parent streams when the water temperature reaches about 42 degrees and that could kick off one of the earliest dipping seasons.

Smelt action should peak the first three weeks of April south of a line from Grand haven to Port Huron with the season's earliest runs expected in the St. Clair River system. Activity should peak in the middle two weeks of April in Central Lower Michigan while results should be best from mid-to-late April in Northern Lower Michigan.

Upper Peninsula smelt runs should be strongest from mid-April to early May.

The 65 most productive state waters are listed on AAA Michigan's 1987 Smelt Guide, which includes two Canadian sites - Point Pelee National Park and the Wheatley area, both along Lake Erie.

Point Pelee tentatively will be open from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. April 17-25 for smelt dipping. Those dates will be changed if conditions warrant. No cars will be allowed to enter the park after 10 p.m.

Smelt dippers suffered through a disappointing season last spring in Michigan, but Department of Natural Resources field officials expect an improved 1987 yield.

Smelt mostly run 6 to 8 inches and provide best action between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m. or on cloudy days. Besides a fishing license, the items needed for smelt dipping are a net, bucket, warm clothes, waders and a flashlight. Smelt dipping is relatively inexpensive and appeals to a variety of outdoor enthusiasts. According to the Travel, Tourism and Recreation Resource Center of Michigan State University, nearly one-fourth of Michigan residents and more than 7 percent of non-residents who fish in this state will dip for smelt.

Michigan's smelt regulations are unchanged from 1986. Dippers may use hand nets up to one-half mile upstream from any river mouth south of M-72 from March 1 to May 31 and north of M-72 from April 10 to May 31. Large nets up to nine feet square are allowed on some streams by permit only.

Dippers should remember that many beaches or stream banks may be private property and permission to dip should be obtained from the owner. Regulations are listed in the 1987-88 Michigan Fishing Guide, which is available free at all DNR field offices and places selling fishing licenses. A 1987 fishing license is required after March 31.

MACPA Lists 20 Tips To File Your Tax Return

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

Every year, filing your income tax becomes more complicated. Over the past 12 months, taxpayers have heard more information about their income taxes, as compared to recent years, because of the Tax Reform Act of 1986. But many will be glad to know that this year, for the last time, they can still file under the old rules, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs.

Here are 20 tax tips to refresh your memory on the old tax laws.

1. The 1986 Tax Reform Act will have virtually no effect on this year's tax return.

2. The IRS provides copies of old returns for $4.25 a piece.

3. Single individuals should itemize their deductions when they exceed $2,480. Next year this will rise to $2,540.

4. Married couples who file jointly should itemize their deductions when they exceed $3,870. This will rise to $3,760 on your 1987 return.

5. Itemized deductions include unreimbursed expenses for medical and dental care, interest payments, state and local taxes, sales taxes, charitable contributions, casualty and theft losses and certain job and investment costs. Next year, some of these will be eliminated while others will be restricted.

6. A married working couple can deduct 10 percent of the lower-paid spouse's earned income up to $3,000 - which can reduce a couple's tax bill as much as $1,500. This is the last year you can take this deduction.

7. Sharp increases in annual income may qualify you for income averaging, a formula that gives you a tax break. This will be impossible to take advantage of after this year.

8. If you pay someone to care for a child or another dependent while you are at work, you may qualify for a tax credit of up to $720. $1,440 for two or more dependents.

9. If you moved to be closer to the old rules, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs.

10. If you contributed to a political campaign in 1986, you can get a tax credit of up to $50 ($100 on a joint return).

11. Even if you do not itemize deductions, you can deduct fully charitable contributions made in 1986. Under the new tax law, this deduction will only be available to those who itemize.

12. If you donated to charity more than $500 in furniture, clothing or other non-cash items, you must file a new IRS form - 8283.

13. If you donated to charity more than $5,000 in non-cash contributions or more than $10,000 in nonpublicly traded securities, you must also report it on Form 8283, but you need to have it signed by a qualified appraiser and the recipient of the donation.

14. You can contribute to an IRA until April 15, 1987, and lower your 1986 tax bill while saving for retirement. Many people will find that, because their income exceeds set limits, they will not be able to make a tax deduction contribution to an IRA for 1987.

15. You can contribute up to $2,000 of your 1986 earnings to an IRA and twice as much if you are married and both you and your spouse work. Married persons - when only one spouse works - can contribute up to $2,250. This will remain true, but will also be restricted.

16. Even if you apply for an extension to file your return, there are no extensions to the IRA contribution deadline.

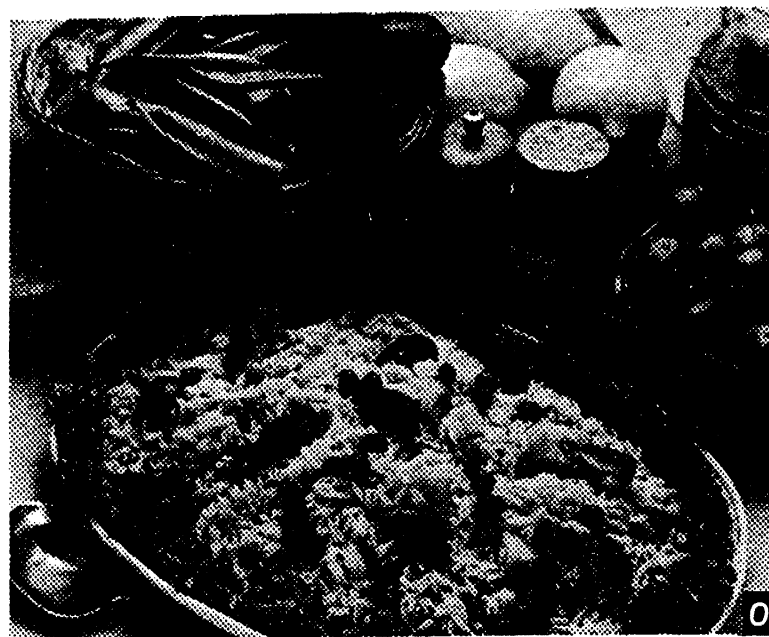

17. You can contribute to an IRA even after you begin making withdrawals, as long as you have earned income or receive alimony and are under age 70½.

18. Custodial fees for IRA or Keogh accounts are deductible if they were paid with funds outside the account. Next year, this will be part of your miscellaneous deductions.

19. You can get a four-month extension for filing and incur no late payment or filing penalties, if you pay at least 90 percent of your 1986 tax bill by April 15, 1987. But, you will have to pay interest on any taxes you owe.

20. You can still claim a deduction for the cost of hiring a CPA to prepare your tax return. This is true under the Tax Reform Act of 1986 as part of your miscellaneous deductions. Those that exceed two percent of your adjusted gross income will be deductible. However, even if you don't qualify, you might find it well worth the money.

Curry Powder Creates An Unusual Rice Salad

The rice salad pictured above has several advantages over ordinary salads: It can be prepared ahead of serving. It can be served at room temperature (making it suitable for potluck suppers). And it has the lovely scent and exotic flavor of an Indian curry. The curry powder, a blend of many spices, is sautéed first in oil to smooth and mellow the spices before adding minced onion and lemon juice to the dressing.

RAINBOW RICE SALAD WITH CURRY

- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 3 cups hot cooked white rice (unprocessed)
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas, thawed.
- 1-1/4 cups cherry tomatoes, quartered
- 1 cup peeled cucumber cut in 1-inch chunks

In a small bowl combine onion and water; set aside for 10 minutes to soften. In a small skillet over medium-low heat heat oil until hot. Add curry powder, salt and black pepper; stir until curry is golden, 1 to 2 minutes. Stir in onion and lemon juice. In a large bowl combine rice, peas, tomatoes, cucumber and curry mixture. Serve warm or chilled on lettuce leaves, if desired.

Black Walnut On The Farm

M. A. C. Specialist Favors Growing At Least A Few Trees On Every Farm.

Manchester Enterprise
December 18, 1924

Old fashioned folks on the farm have always enjoyed an occasional evening in the winter cracking hickory nuts and walnuts, eating apples, popcorn and doughnuts, and sipping from a dipper of cider.

Generally they gathered 'round the kitchen stove or sat in front of the fireplace, if they happened to have one. The open hearth fire lighted the room as well as warmed it, giving a cheer on a cold or stormy night that was sure to engage the family in cheerful conversation.

And this brings to mind the days spent in the late fall days roving the field, hillsides and valleys in search of nuts. Oh boy, what fun we had. And speaking of this brings to our attention the growth of nut-bearing trees.

There are places on almost every farm where such trees should be planted and grown. It is nothing at all to raise such trees and they grow quite rapidly, and besides furnishing a supply of nuts, the timber, especially walnut, is extremely valuable.

R. F. Kroodma, forestry specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College, advocates the planting of black walnuts. He says, "bury the nuts, shucks on, as soon as they drop from the tree in the fall, put two nuts in each hole about one and a half inches deep. If you fear that animals will dig them up, store the nuts in a damp, cool place until spring with alternate layers of nuts and sand that can be kept damp, especially in the spring."

There are out of the way places that make ideal locations for a walnut grove, or plant them along the fence. They make a good shade and present a fine appearance.

While talking about walnuts, why not experiment in growing English walnuts? There are some bearing trees in Michigan and the nuts are of good size and fine in flavor.

Chestnuts can be grown here, and in fact are, but not to any extent. But, walnut timber is in demand and the trees are almost sure to grow when other things will not. However, the best success is assured on rich, moist well drained land.

Manchester Community Fair

The warm weather is coming and its time to get out the gardening tools. Just think how big the squash could be by fair time. Don't forget when you plant your garden to put in a little extra so that you can take some to the fair and show your friends and neighbors what you can do. As always, there is plenty of room in the exhibit tent, so plan on bringing lots of produce. Along with the produce bring all the arts and crafts you have been working on this winter, the woodworking, sewing, knitting and photography.

The Manchester Community Fair will be held August 25 - 29, 1987. So be prepared to enter your projects at the fair. The next Fair Board Meeting will be held on Monday, April 13, 1987, at 8:00 p.m. in the basement of the Emanuel Church. Please feel free to attend.

The program will also offer special Lenten Organ Music played by Fred Vipond, Helen Norman (Organist at Manchester Methodist), and Laurie Blumlein (Organist at Christ Our King Lutheran in Ann Arbor), as well as Bell Choir Music from Emanuel Church.

This fine yearly ecumenical worship unites Manchester's worshippers as they share together of the Apostles' Creed, "I believe in the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting". Save the date of Wednesday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. at Emanuel Church.

Thy Presence Kneeling" by Nick Strimple sung by Manchester Methodist Church Choir and directed by Millie Gillies.

In addition to the anthems sung by individual choirs, there will be three Lenten anthems which will be sung by all of the choirs. They will be "Ave Verun" by Mozart, "Thou Knowest Lord, the Secrets of Our Hearts" by Purcell, and "Lord Remember Not Our Offences" by Purcell.

Reflecting on the texts of the crucifixion taken from the Gospels will be the following anthems: "Jesus our Lord is Crucified" by David Paxton sung by the Sharon Methodist Church, and directed by Sharon Miller; "He Was Wounded for Our Transgressions" by Craig Courtney sung by St. Mary's Catholic Church, and directed by Fred Vipond; "Out of the Deep" by Mozart sung by Emanuel's Choir and directed by Marjijm Thoenes; and "Father in Strange indeed are the things that folks will do to get their names remembered as having done something important. All you have to do to prove this is to take a look at "Guinness World Book of Records".

Wrote John Milton a long time ago, "Fame is the spur and the desire of glory clings even to the best men longer than any other passion".

Most men desire to leave their footprints on the sands of time not willing to recognize that the tide comes in sooner or later and sweeps these footprints clear away.

Probably a thousand or even ten thousand years from now (which is only a minute of eternity) fellows like Darwin or Newton will only be remembered dimly if at all if this little planet is still populated by beings with the gift of memory.

I don't think that by then the chap who got into the Book of Records will seem very important nor will the one whose record says he crawled 23 miles or so on his hands and knees, seem so very important.

I would rather be remembered for just a few years by living people such as good parent, a good neighbor or friend or an upright citizen.

We have many impressive buildings with their donors names carved into them but these names have been forgotten by all those
