MACPA Gives Tax Tips For Small Businesses

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants).

Tax reform is affecting everyone, from the individual taxpayer to large and small businesses alike. There are many items in the new law that became effective January 1, 1987, and many small businesses will have to adjust to them, even if that date is not the beginning of their new tax year, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs.

It is hard to accurately predict what the overall affect of tax reform will be on small businesses, but now is the time to anticipate these affects and plan for the future.

One advantage of tax reform for the small business will be the overall drop in tax rates. Under the old law, corporate tax rates hovered as high as 46 percent. Under the new tax law, this top rate has dropped to 34 percent. Also, individual rates are now lower than corporate rates which may encourage many small business owners to make some decisions about their corporate structure.

Since the individual rates are lower than corporate rates, many small businesses will find that it will be advantageous to switch to an S-corporation structure where the income of the business is taxed to the individual owners.

S-corporations offer the same legal advantages of corporations, but usually, they do not pay taxes. The shareholders pay taxes at their individual rates on their share of the company income.

Filing for S-corporation status is relatively simple. It requires filing Form 2553 with the IRS. However, there are several restrictions which could prohibit some corporations from making the switch. S-corporations are allowed only 35 shareholders and all must be U.S. citizens or residents. Also, corporate shareholders are not allowed and neither are company-owned incorporated subsidiaries. They can also offer only one class of stock and they cannot file for change of status after the fifteenth day of the third month of their new fiscal year.

Many states do not recognize the special status of S-corporations and tax them at the higher corporate rates. And now, under the Tax Reform Act of 1986, all S-corporations, as well as partnerships, have to adhere to a calendar year unless they can prove that they have a "substantial" business purpose for having a different taxable year.

Another change in the tax law that will be important to small business is the change in the election to expense business property. The new law also repeals the investment tax credit for property placed in service after December 31, 1985, except for property covered by transition rules. In addition, the tax law modifies the Accelerated Cost Recovery System by providing more accelerated depreciation for revised classes of assets. The new expensing limit allows business owners to deduct up to $10,000 of personal property placed in service during the year. For every dollar of qualifying investment in excess of $200,000, however, the $10,000 limit is reduced by one dollar.

As mentioned earlier, one of the biggest changes in the tax law for small businesses is the drop in corporate tax rates. But, figuring the actual tax liability for the first year may be a bit confusing.

The new, lower tax rates become effective July 1, 1987. For businesses that have a fiscal year-end after this date, blended rates will apply. To figure the actual tax dollars they owe, these businesses will have to figure their taxes twice, once under the old rates and once under the new ones. Then, they will have to figure the number of days they operated under each set of rates, divide it by 365 (number of days in a year) and multiply that number by the rate. It isn't simple, but required. However, it is likely to save small businesses some money.

Retirement plans may also have to be revamped to reflect new, more liberal minimum coverage and participation standards for qualified plans. These rules are generally effective for plan years beginning after December 31, 1988, and are likely to cost small businesses more money.

A possible alternative is a 401(k) deferred compensation plan. The IRS is required by the new law to establish a prototype plan by May 1, 1987, for businesses to adopt. This will allow the employee to contribute as much as $7,000 annually to the plan while still allowing the employer to contribute in excess of this amount.

These are only a few of the changes in the Tax Reform Act of 1986 that small business owners need to be aware of to effectively plan for the future. They will also have to reevaluate their book-keeping and accounting procedures and revamp their travel and entertainment budgets. Every small business should have a good professional support group to help it operate efficiently. Now is the time for small business owners to talk to these professionals and to make some important financial decisions for the future.

Michigan's History

On March 3, 1875, only three years after Yellowstone National Park became the country's first national park, Congress established Mackinac Island National Park, making it the nation's second. Twenty years later, when the federal government turned the fort and park over to Michigan, the island became Michigan's first state park. Today many visitors can relive Michigan's stirring past, which has been recaptured in the island's many restored buildings.

Fort Mackinac, originally built by the British in 1779, represents a history of the conflicts and struggles between the British, the French, and the colonial Americans. The American Fur Company trading post was an important headquarters for the business that created the John Jacob Astor fortune. Other buildings are historically interesting: The Beaumont House, City Hall, Biddle House, Mission Church, and the Geary House. The Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, the largest summer hotel in the world, celebrates its centennial this year. No automobiles are permitted on Mackinac Island, and travel to this dreamland from the past is by ferry. For ferry rates and admission prices to historic sites, contact the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432/YES, or 1-800-722-8191 (TDD).

Scoliosis Association

The Lenawee-Monroe Unit of the Scoliosis Association of Michigan will hold its next meeting, Thursday, April 9, at the Milton C. Porter Center, Adrian, at 7:30 p.m. Marilyn Pinheiro Ph. D. will give a brief overview of recent scoliosis research. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

The Lenawee-Monroe Unit is a support group which provides an opportunity for scoliosis patients, and their families and friends to discuss scoliosis (the sideways curve of the spine). The group also promotes public awareness and school screenings. For more information please call Dorothy Heinlen at 313-529-3038 or Renata Snyder at 517-423-3184.

Brooklyn

Manchester Enterprise
April 15, 1987

Last Saturday we paid a flying visit to the village of Brooklyn, and found it one of the most lively, enterprising and thrifty towns in the state. Its locality is actually picturesque and lovely. It is situated on the Raisin River which furnishes a splendid water power, and adds much to the beauty of the village. The village has quite a number of business houses of different branches and all seem to be doing a good trade. There are four churches in the place, and also a new school house which has just been completed at a cost of about fifteen thousand dollars. The building stands in a beautiful and commanding site.

The people are a little feverish on the railroad question, and are rejoicing in the hope, whether forlorn or not I can't say, but hope not, of securing the route of the Ypsilanti & Hillsdale road via Manchester and Brooklyn. The town, with the help of the railroad would almost, if not quite, double itself in two years. For agriculture, horticulture and manufacturing, this place could not be surpassed by any in the state. The land in the vicinity of Brooklyn is rolling, neither too flat, nor too broken, and is of the richest, most alluvial and productive soil. The price and terms for farm lands are reasonable and accommodating. The prospects for a large yield of wheat were never more flattering in the history of the country.

The country about Brooklyn is thickly settled, and the land is owned by wealthy and generous farmers who have worked hard and long to make it what it is. We notice on our way that several farmers are preparing to build, either barns or dwelling houses, and among them is Edmond Dorr, who is now getting out the timber for a new house.

We are always pleased to see improvements going on in the Rural districts, but we cannot see why the farmers do not take more interest in the railroad matter. Should the proposed route via Brooklyn be secured, the farmers in that vicinity will surely reap a large benefit there from, and should therefore take hold of this matter and help to build up their villages into cities of distinguished note.

Hit or Miss

The other day we were informed by a supposedly reliable publication that a new millionaire was created in these United States every 29 minutes. We thought about this for a few minutes and then sat down in front of the TV to await developments. We couldn't see why we couldn't be the next one if we so desired but time marched on and upon checking our watch we found that 39 minutes had passed since we started to time our waiting for developments but nothing happened. We thought that perhaps something might have happened so we waited another ten minutes but still nothing occurred. I appealed to my wife for help but she said that I had no appreciation of the mathematical problems or statistics or probabilities involved. That was a terrible thing to say about me.

Then she started to laugh and I asked what she was laughing at. She replied that she was laughing at a creulous chap sitting there waiting for something to happen while it will not be time for Dr. Ruth for another forty minutes. (By the way we also read that the TV station at Colorado Springs, CO had signed up to show Dr. Ruth at 9:00 a.m. was not popular. That was just not the time for the good Dr. They would have to cancel or change the broadcast time).

Then as she turned to leave the room she remarked "Did you ever stop to think of the odds predey for someone who has never bought a ticket?" And so I reluctantly gave up the whole idea as 47 minutes had already passed since I started to keep time. I guess the professor who started the whole thing must have been wrong—dead wrong!

Did you note what a heck of a time George Washington has in getting his birthday time set? George was actually born on February 11, it is said, then they changed the calendar to the Gregorian reckoning in 1752 and this made his birthday come on February 22. This seemed to be well established. Then the U.S. Government established President's Day also to be known as Washington-Lincoln Day and so now George's birthday falls on any date between February 15 and February 22.

Another interesting news note that you may have missed is the one about the mother from Moody, Alabama where the mother has been charged with a felony when she hit a principal with the same paddle that he had used to spank her son. The sheriff said the women was charged with second-class assault after the assistant principal was hit with the same paddle that was used to punish her son, a second grader. It was said that the boy came home and told his mother that the principal had paddled him. His mother went to school and asked to see the paddle. She took the paddle and went home with it. The next day she returned to the school and hit the principal twice on the head with it. Mother will be arraigned in court shortly.

The U.S. Military in 1940 wanted a candy that wouldn't melt in the hand no matter what the climate was and so Forrest Mars and Bruce Marries created one, and called it by the initials of their last names.

Historical notes indicate that the Iroquois Indian men were committed by their own law to plan or stop any war if their women so insisted, and yet they called them uncivilized.

A wild turkey prefers to walk but it can really fly and it can do something other birds can't. It can take off vertically.

Spiders are not insects. Insects have six legs. Spiders have eight.

Among the South Pacific Islanders known as Micronesians one working person is expected to support the whole family and a check up showed that there were an average of nine members to a family.

Vehicle licenses are nothing new. Chris Columbus had to pay such a tax in 1604 to get a license to ride a mule.

Few things are more precious or rare than getting a bill that is less than the estimate.

In spite of constant change civilization maintains a balance of sorts. While there are fewer horse thieves there are more politicians.

Emanuel Choir To Sing Easter Choral Concerto

On Palm Sunday, April 12, at the 10:30 a.m. Service of Worship and Rite of Confirmation, the Adult Choir of Emanuel United Church of Christ in Manchester, will perform Johann Pachelbel's Easter choral concerto, "Christ lag in Todesbanden" ("Christ Lay in Grim Death's Prison"). They will be accompanied by a string ensemble from the University of Michigan, and harpsichordist, Avis Spike. Soloists include Marie Garlick, Sheryl Adrion and Alice Swanson. The work will be conducted by Dr. Marijim Thoen, organist/choir director.

The Easter choral concerto, "Christ Lay in Grim Death's Prison," by Pachelbel is based on Martin Luther's hymn by the same title. The hymn has seven verses and describes the dramatic battle between the forces of life and death. The hymn tune can be heard in the three choral verses in long note values while the rest of the choral parts are heard in faster note values.

In performing Pachelbel's choral concerto, Emanuel's choir will be expressing the profound faith in Christ's resurrection in a melody much older than Luther's. Martin Luther was notorious in "borrowing" other tunes and altering them to suit himself. His hymn "Christ Lay in Grim Death's Prison" has its origins in the Middle Ages. It was entitled "Victimae Paschali" ("To the Paschal Victim") and was sung at the Easter sequence in the Roman rite in 1050. The text of "Victimae Paschali" describes the triumph of Christ over death. The people were so moved at hearing "Victimae Paschali" that they created a "folk hymn" to be sung in their own language to be sung after the Latin "Victimae," "Christ ist erstanden" ("Christ has Arisen"). Luther borrowed the two Easter melodies and merged them into his "Christ Lay in Death's Strong Grasp."

In medieval times it was common practice for a unique liturgical drama to take place on Good Friday and Easter Sunday. On Good Friday the priests and church people would process to an isolated field and the priests would bury the host (representing Christ's body). On Easter Sunday a procession would return to the field, retrieve the host and march to the cathedral. They would knock at three doors of the cathedral, the first two doors would remain locked. When they knocked at the third door it opened and the people were admitted (symbolic of Christ's arising from the grave after three days). In the service, the sequence "Victimae Paschali" was sung by the choir when the host was raised by the priest. The people responded by singing "Christ ist Erstanden" ("Christ is Arisen").

Sign Up For Michigan Youth Corps

Applications for the 1987 Michigan Youth Corps, which will attempt to do something no other state has ever done—provide a summer job to every 18-21 year old who needs a job and wants to work—will be accepted at hundreds of locations throughout Michigan beginning April 1, Governor James J. Blanchard announced.

For the fifth consecutive summer, the Youth Corps will provide jobs and work experience to unemployed 18 through 21 year olds in all 83 Michigan counties. Applications will be taken beginning April 1, with work projects starting June 1. The program ends September 30.

Applications are available at all Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) offices, Michigan Employment Security offices, Department of Social Services (DSS) local offices, community colleges, colleges and universities.

The DSS also will mail 60,000 applications directly to the homes of public assistance clients who are eligible for the Youth Corps.

Youth Corps jobs give workers a chance to earn approximately $1,000 over the summer at $3.35 an hour. This year, all Youth Corps workers will receive employability skills training geared toward individual needs. Special services will also be provided to Youth Corps participants who are high school drop-outs.

Under the leadership of the Youth Corps Opportunities Group, a special advisory panel appointed by Gov. Blanchard to advise the Youth Corps, a job placement assistance program will be expanded. Called the "Employer Honor Roll", Michigan businesses will guarantee job interviews to all persons who successfully complete the program. In 1986, 16 businesses participated in the Honor Roll.

The Youth Corps is the largest state-sponsored summer youth employment program in the nation. It has provided more than 73,000 summer jobs since it was established by Gov. Blanchard and the legislature in 1983.

Breast Cancer Awareness

Once again, during Breast Cancer Awareness Week, women are being urged to use all methods of early detection of breast cancer. That includes mammography, breast self exam and physician exam.

This year, during the Third Annual Breast Cancer Awareness Week, the theme is knowledge, confidence and peace of mind. The use of mammography, a low-dose X-ray of the breast, will be emphasized.

In the United States, only about 19-25% of all women who are eligible for mammography have mamograms. In Washtenaw County, while the percentage is higher, only 28% of those eligible have had even a single mammogram.

Mammography is at least 85% effective in finding extremely small changes in the breast, before they can be felt. If the changes are cancerous, early treatment often means less extensive surgery and less breast tissue removed. Mamograms are so effective that the American Cancer Society says, "Now breast cancer has virtually nowhere to hide."

Mamograms are recommended once when a woman is between age 35 and 39, once a year or every other year for women age 40 through 49, and yearly for women 50 and over.

While only 20% of breast lumps are cancerous, it is important that they be found early, when treatment is most likely to be successful. Almost 90% of women diagnosed with breast cancer early, before it has spread, will be fully recovered five years after the cancer is found.

Two other techniques, monthly breast self examinations and regular physician examinations, are also effective at finding breast changes early. For the months and years between mammograms, they give women peace of mind.

Breast self examination can be learned and practiced monthly in one's own home and at no cost. A good time to learn how to do a self exam is during a regular physician exam. A good teacher is the doctor or the nurse.

Breast cancer is an important issue for women, their partners and their families. Since 1 in 10 women will develop breast cancer, families and friends as well as doctors and nurses need to give positive messages about breast cancer, especially early detection and early treatment.

To celebrate Breast Cancer Awareness Week, a number of activities, including low-cost or free mamograms, presentations for the public - including men's groups - and instruction in breast self examination are being sponsored by local health care providers.

KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH YOURSELF CAN SAVE YOUR LIFE.

Breast cancer. One in ten women will get it this year. About 130,000.* Fortunately, when it's diagnosed and treated early, the cure rate is almost 100%.*

Right now, early detection is as close as your fingertips - breast self-examination. When done properly, every month without fail, it can save your life. It's that effective.

At Saline Community Hospital, we offer the MammaCare self-exam training technique. With it, you can feel a tumor the size of a pea. Then it's very curable. Without it, a tumor may be the size of a golf ball before it's felt. Then it's fatally dangerous.

Don't wait. MammaCare is taught in an easy 90-minute, one-to-one session with a registered nurse. For our free brochure, or to schedule an appointment, get in touch with us at (313) 429-1555. We'll show you how to keep in touch with yourself.

The results can be lifesaving. Women's Health Services

Engagement Announced

Terry and Mireille Gantert of Jackson are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter Michelle Anne to Mark Charles Guenther, son of Theodore and Mildred Guenther of Manchester. The couple met as students at Michigan Technological University where they both graduated with a B.S. in mechanical engineering. Michelle is employed by General Motors in Lansing as a reliability engineer. Mark is employed by Thetford Corporation in Ann Arbor as the CAD system supervisor. A November 28 wedding is planned.

Right To Control Own Medical Decisions

The House Judiciary Committee approved a bill which would permit an individual to make a legally binding declaration authorizing the course of his/her treatment in the event he/she becomes unable to communicate their wishes due to a terminal illness.

"This bill is a simple recognition that people have the right to control their own medical decisions," said the bill's sponsor, Representative Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), who is Chair of the Judiciary Committee. "I think the committee's approval shows that this is an idea whose time has come."

The bill permits a person to make a voluntary written declaration either before or after being stricken with an illness. A person could complete a form or write his or her own declaration. He or she could choose to receive all measures to prolong life, or to receive an experimental or non-traditional course of treatment, or to refuse all medical intervention except that necessary for comfort.

The decision to make such a declaration would be entirely voluntary, and no one could force a person to have such a declaration. The declaration could be revoked by the patient at any time.

The bill now goes to the full House for further consideration.

Soil-Testing Scam

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley issued an alert to Michigan farmers warning them of a potential soil-testing scam. In a letter to the Editor of the Michigan Farmer Magazine and to Frank Brewer, Assistant Director of the Cooperative Extension Services at Michigan State University, Kelley advised farmers to be wary of a "radionics" machine, also called a "psychotronic tuner," that may be marketed in the state as a soil-testing device.

Kelley's Consumer Protection Division became aware of the matter when information was forwarded from the Kent County Prosecutor's Office where this device was involved in a prosecution for practicing medicine without a license.

"Agriculture," Kelley said, "is an important Michigan industry and critical to the nation. After last year's aberrational weather, the last thing our farming community needs is to become the victim of agricultural quackery. This device was examined by a professional engineer and determined to be useless."

In a letter signed by Peter J. Kelly, President of Interdimensional Sciences, Inc., P.O. Box 167, Lakemont, Georgia, the apparent distributor of the machine, it was indicated, "You may be interested in learning that our emphasis has shifted entirely to agriculture -- we will no longer teach about the use of these units in balancing the etheric energies in human beings."

The letter was forwarded to the Attorney General with other materials by the Grand Rapids Police Department. Included was an investigative report by a professional engineer, Paul G. Gray, in which he concluded, "Construction equipment does not meet professional standards. There is no doubt in my mind that the device is fraudulent."

Kelley has asked the Cooperative Extension Service to provide a warning to farmers through their statewide communications network and the Michigan Farmer Magazine to publish a warning to their subscribers.

"If approached," Kelley said, "by someone either selling the machine or offering you services involving the use of this machine to improve your crops or to determine what nutrients are needed in the soil, you should contact my office right away. The device doesn't work and I don't want to see someone harvesting ill-gotten gains from our agricultural community."

"Even a stopped clock is right twice a day. After some years, it can boast of a long series of successes." Ebner-Eschenbach

Pledge Cards Available For Car Wash

You can support a good cause and at the same time contribute to some good clean fun and an honest day's work for Middle School students--by signing a pledge card for the Free Car Wash scheduled for April 25.

A penny a car is all that the kids request--though of course, larger pledges are very welcome. If you have not yet been contacted by a Middle School student, you are invited to pledge by calling the Middle School office at 428-7442.

And, pledge sponsor or not, plan to come out for a free car wash in the Emanuel Church parking lot between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday, April 25.

Highway Bill

Congressman Carl D. Pursell, R-Mich., offered these comments after voting to sustain President Reagan's veto of the Highway Bill (H.R. 2):

"I voted in agreement with the President for three main reasons," Pursell said.

"First, the $87.5 billion bill the President vetoed is a budget buster. While there are desperately-needed essential items included, there also is a record number of nonessential, private interest pork barrel projects."

"Second, the President didn't simply veto the bill - he put an administration proposal on the table which has trimmed the fat. His bill will save an estimated $5.4 billion - a substitute which can't be over looked when we're facing a $150 billion annual deficit."

"Third, by eliminating the pork projects we can return to a process which allows the states to determine their own projects. After all, the money is formula money and the states - not than the U.S. Congress - should decide on their own projects," he said.

"Let there be no mistake, I strongly favor passage of a Highway Bill - but it shouldn't be held hostage by Congress' insatiable appetite for pork."

"There's no reason Congress can't send a 'clean' bill to the President - he's promised to sign it within the hour it's received".

"The Democrat leadership of the House put emergency funding for the homeless together in less than seven days and the same can be accomplished now with the Highway Bill if the leadership truly wants to pass the new bill," Pursell said.

Michigan's History

It was a warm spring Sunday, in 1906. Reverend W.J. Cady of the First Congregational Church in Benton Harbor, Michigan, led his congregation out of the church sanctuary into a nearby orchard. The strong sweet perfumes of spring blossoms filled the air. There, the believers bowed their heads and blessed the flowering trees. They thanked their Creator for the beautiful blossoms and asked for a bountiful harvest.

Today this ritual has become a spring tradition in southwest Michigan and opens the annual Blossomtime Festival, which centers on Benton Harbor and includes 35 surrounding area towns. From April 26 to May 3, townspeople will ceremoniously bless the blossoms in the apple, cherry, peach, plum, pear, and apricot orchards. The festival also includes a beauty pageant with Miss Blossomtime, a fashion show, carnivals, farm tours, and an elaborate Floral Ball. A grand parade through Benton Harbor and St. Joseph closes the week-long celebration. For more information contact the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432/YES, or 1-800-722-8191 (TDD).

Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon

Bike-A-Thon Chairman, Rita Burkhart, asked Manchester residents to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon slated for May 16th, with a rain date of May 23, to be held at the Manchester Fire Hall.

Rita said this ride honors Jamie, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "With every turn of the wheel, riders become spokes men for all the kids with cancer, like Jamie. Rita said, "People willing to give time to create more time to children crying for help stimulates a better event and raises more money for the hospital. Riders are really needed. They make or break a Bike-A-Thon."

Sponsors donating a sum for each mile completed are enlisted by riders. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate. Those who raise $25 receive a certificate and a St. Jude T-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a barrel tote bag, a T-shirt and a certificate. Pick up sponsor forms at your schools, church or Manchester IGA.

Contact Rita Burkhart at 428-8083 for details on riding or sponsoring a rider.

ORVs Causing Severe Damage

An all-out law enforcement effort is underway by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to stop the devastation of State Park, State Recreation Area and Wildlife/Game Area lands caused by the illegal use of Off-Road Vehicles (ORV).

"The problem is getting out of control, especially on State lands in southern Michigan," said DNR Parks Division Chief Jack Butterfield. "Park rangers and law enforcement officers are authorized to, and will cite anyone caught riding ORVs on these lands."

Driving ORVs in non-designated areas in Michigan is a misdemeanor with a penalty of up to 90 days in jail and/or a $100 fine.

DNR officials report illegal ORV activity in these areas has stripped and eroded vegetative land cover, disrupted wildlife and jeopardized pedestrian safety.

The only State Park with a designated ORV area is Silver Lake State Park in Oceana County, according to the Department. All other State Park, State Recreation Areas and Wildlife/Game Areas are off limits to ORVs.

"There's no reason for ORV damage to occur on these protected lands when the State maintains over 1,600 miles of trails for ORV use on State forest land in northern Michigan," said Henry Webster, DNR Forest Management Chief.

Groomed woodland trails have been set aside by the DNR for ORV use on state forest land in the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula, said Webster. An additional 1,240 acres are open to ORV use at the Motorsport Area in Roscommon County, he added.

A list of ORV trails are contained in the Michigan Cross Country Cycle Trails guide, published annually by the DNR. Guides are available at all DNR offices or DNR's Information Services Center, PO Box 30028, Lansing, 48909/517-373-1220.

Attends Seminar

Steve Halchishak has returned from Indianapolis, Indiana where he completed a three day "Real Estate at Auction" seminar sponsored by the National Auctioneers Association.

The seminar included presentations by auction and tax experts. Topics included: Multi-Parcel Selling; Residential Real Estate at Auction; Residential Real Estate Appraisal; 1986 Tax Reform Act; Auction Promotions; and Distress Sales.

Steve conducts auction sales in the Michigan and Florida area and will utilize his real estate at auction training at future auctions.

Tea bags were first used in 1904, when Thomas Sullivan, a New York City coffee and tea merchant, sent his customers samples of tea in small silk bags instead of in the usual tin containers. The customers began to order tea leaves in bags after finding that the drink could be brewed easily with them.

Homeowners Eligible For Tax Refund

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants).

Owning a home is an expensive proposition in today's economy. But remember, a house is more than a home in many instances; it is an investment. The Michigan Association of CPAs wants to share some tax tips with homeowners to help them make the most of their investment when filing 1986 tax returns.

Specific tax deductions which may be available to homeowners include mortgage points, home equity loan interest and real estate taxes. These can save tax dollars for many homeowners if they meet specific criteria.

Mortgage points may be deductible on your tax return. If, in 1986 you paid points on a loan to buy your principal residence, not an additional home, you may be able to take a full deduction on your tax return. To qualify for this deduction you must meet three criteria:

The loan must be secured on your principal residence.

Points must be a common practice in your geographical area.

The points you paid cannot exceed the average fees for loans in your area.

If you refinanced your home or if you purchased a second home, you may be able to take a partial deduction. In this case, each point is equal to one percent of the amount borrowed and is usually amortized (gradually deducted) over the life of the mortgage. For example, if you secured a 30 year mortgage each point is deductible to the extent of one-thirtieth of the fee paid in 1986. Depending on the amount borrowed and the number of points paid, this can add up.

All homeowners are eligible for the mortgage interest deduction. When you take out a mortgage, your monthly payments may include principal payments, interest, fire insurance and taxes. Of that payment, interest and taxes are deductible. At the end of the year, your bank will send you a statement of precisely how much interest and taxes were paid over the year. Don't forget to deduct this interest and taxes on your tax return.

Did you sell your house in 1986? If so, you may also have elected to pay off your mortgage. If you did and were charged a prepayment penalty, the good news is it is totally deductible on your tax return. However, if within two years you bought a new home which was less than the cost of selling your other home, you will have to pay taxes on any realized capital gains. The cost of any home improvements you made in 1986 can be used to reduce the gain. If you're over 55 and meet certain requirements, you can elect to exclude up to $125,000 of gain.

Another deduction available to homeowners is for the interest paid on a home equity loan in 1986. Based on the market value for your home after subtracting what you owe through any outstanding mortgages, this money can be used to finance anything. After August 16, 1986, you cannot deduct interest on loan amounts exceeding the original cost of your house plus any improvements, except for medical and educational purposes.

Depending on your personal financial situation, these and other deductions could save you a substantial amount on your tax bill. If you need more information on deductions available to homeowners, contact a CPA. He/she can give you more detailed information to meet your specific needs.

Painless Heart Distress Worries Doctors

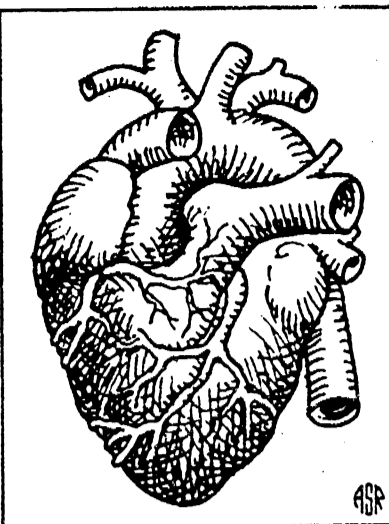

Nearly 2,000 heart specialists gathered in New Orleans earlier this year to gain information about the most recent advances in the treatment of heart disease.

Among the many subjects discussed over the four-day meeting was newly discovered evidence that many people suffer heart distress without knowing it. The condition is called "silent ischemia," and it is worrisome to doctors who have long relied on chest pain as a significant diagnostic clue in the diagnosis of heart disease.

Chest pain or angina pectoris is a signal that the heart is not getting enough oxygen-rich blood to perform a given work load. This blood-starved state of the heart is called ischemia. It occurs when the arteries are constricted by buildups of fatty plaque or by temporary spasm of the smooth muscles that line these arteries.

Several groups of drugs are available to treat angina. The oldest among these are the nitroglycerin products. Another group are the beta blockers, which work by slowing the heart rate to reduce its work load. Among the newest drugs that were discussed at the New Orleans meeting are calcium channel blockers, such as Cardizem (diltiazem HC1). The calcium channel blockers work by relaxing the coronary arteries so that more blood is delivered to the heart.

Many doctors consider the calcium channel blockers the most exciting new drugs to come along in the past decade, mainly because they have been shown to reduce the number of angina attacks in patients.

Other subjects discussed at the meeting ranged from improved surgical procedures to open blocked arteries to the latest diagnostic tools for detecting heart disease and evaluating the status of the heart after a heart attack. Among the most exciting new developments: medical intervention while the patient is in the process of having a heart attack with the goal of saving as much healthy heart muscle as possible.

Many of these high-tech approaches to heart disease captured the imagination of the audience. But as the doctors return home from the American College of Cardiology, they know that effective management of chest pain and ischemia will remain one of their primary challenges, because it can also help their patients lead longer and better lives.

Neck Pain

A "Pain in The Neck" may be something more personal and painful than "that disgusting fellow sitting over there."

And, "Pain in The Neck" may be more serious than a sudden temporary pain. Pains in the area of the neck may be a signal from tortured nerves that some parts of the body need prompt attention.

The Chiropractor has been prepared by study and training to spot the cause of neck pains and is skilled in removing the cause of the pain.

Whatever the cause of the neck pains, some part of the Nervous System is involved. The Chiropractor, with modern scientific methods and equipment, locates the cause and takes steps to correct the difficulty.

Through gentle adjustments at the hands of a competent Chiropractor, the spinal column is aligned and the Nervous System is attuned, enabling the body to cure itself from within and bring lasting relief from the aggravating pains.

Don't take a chance with a neck pain. Let your Chiropractor remedy the trouble...before it can become serious. Another Life and Health article from the office of:

The Story Of The Easter Rabbit

Manchester Enterprise
April 12, 1986

Once more the Easter Rabbit has arrived to fulfill his annual mission. Only a day his merry reign will last, and then such is the inexorable decree, he must return to the abode where Santa Claus, fairies, brownies and other mysterious friends of little folks hold goodly company.

With joyous anticipation eager eyes have watched for his appearance at the confectioners windows, how many busy little hands have constructed nests of moss and twigs for his reception, this generous little guest! Ah, indeed, the Easter Rabbit has won the hearts of all, and bides fair to vie even with the venerable Christmas saint in popularity.

And now he is here, and has no doubt, responded most graciously to all requests and has filled the nests and pockets of the child world to overflowing with his gayly colored gifts.

But who is the cheery stranger, at whose modest knock the doors of palace and hut alike are opened with a hearty welcome? We merely know he is a German descent, but his true origin and significance time has hidden from most of us, and to lift the veil we must wander back thousands of years into the very heart of the Fatherland.

It is still winter; lakes and streams are housebound, and the snow seems loath to withdraw its glistening mantle from the bleak and dreary fields. Yet in the heart of the Pagan mother is joy; she has heard to-day the note of a songbird and has seen the willows stretch forth their silver hooded buds; there is no doubt Ostara, the goddess of spring is on the way. Gladly she hastens home with the good tidings, gathers her children around her and whispers to them:

"The hara of Ostara has been here, little ones. Do you know what that means? We must prepare for the Osterfestival. Father is already in the forest, gathering wood for the fire that shall greet the kind goddess at her arrival."

"But how did the little hare know, mother dear?"
"Ah, my child," said the mother smiling, "there was no need of it. My grandsire told me the story of Ostara's hare when I was not older than thou art now. Listen to me, little ones, and I will tell you what he said."

"Long, long year ago, when the earth was still young, a fearful winter visited this land. Ice and snow would not cease, and man and beast perished from cold and hunger. Ah, how grieved the gentle goddess Ostara was when she looked down from on high and beheld the misery of her children! Well she knew that before long her reign would begin, and grass and flowers spring up wherever her foot touched the ground, and the air became fragrant with her breath. But, alas! hope had died within the hearts of the people, and she longed to comfort them.

Oh, for a fleet messenger who would spread the news of her coming over the sorrow stricken land, tell the buds to come forth, and the birds to build their nests and lift their voices in a chorus of

Farm Bureau Delegates Visit Washington

Michigan Farm Bureau leaders Diane Horning (left) of Manchester and Margaret Gyde of Whitmore Lake attend a "legislative breakfast" with their Congressman, Rep. Carl D. Pursell, R-Plymouth. Farm Bureau members met with legislators in Washington last week to discuss their concerns and the agenda for the 100th Congress.

We have recently made a very important discovery. There are no old dogs any more. After reading the ads in the many coupon sections of the Sunday papers and watching the ads on the TV for "Senior Dogs" but no old dogs any more. On the sack containing Sunny's favorite food was the message that the contents were tailored for "Senior Dogs" older dogs were out and Senior Dogs were in. I don't know whether or not Sunny understands the significance in the milestone of her life or not as she stands before her water dish with ears slopping into it nor does she know that she is too the product of another trend? Nobody grows old nowadays in America so how can the dogs.

Sunny has spent all of her life in a purely American pattern. She is a member of a popular American breed which originated in Spain many years ago and whose ancestors were sent to England as a gift to the royal family and who became one of the most popular canines there.

She entered our lives when her mistress who bred and raised Cocker Spaniels who were eligible for AKC registration, passed away and we sort of adopted her.

She evidently has enjoyed living here with us and became the pet of all of us and evidently thought that she would retire gracefully and be allowed to age gracefully. Her blond hair has become grayer and her disposition is more congenial than in her younger years. Early in life she

Manchester Community Fair Plans New And Exciting Things

Fair Board members have been working hard to bring new and exciting things to the fair. As of now, we have two new ideas being planned. In the Livestock Department there will be an Open Class Dairy Cattle Show. There are only three classes slated at this time, so we will see what the future holds. Any questions concerning the Open Class Dairy Cattle, please contact George Macomber, Jr. or John Hamilton.

An All Terrian Vehicle Pull (A.T.V.), three or four wheel pull. How does that sound? This is something new to this area, which should draw a lot of interest. Hook up to a weight transfer machine and down the track they go. There will be one class for children 8-12 years of age, and three classes for adults, 13 years and over. More details and rules will be made available at a later date.

Remember, this is a Community Fair, so any ideas and comments are greatly appreciated. Sometimes it is hard to know what to do if we don't hear from you, the Community. Let's make the Manchester Community Fair "Michigan's Biggest Little Fair".
