Recordkeeping 101

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

Suppose, for some reason, you needed to know how much you paid to have your kitchen remodeled. Are you the type of person who could walk to the right closet, open the box marked "1984" and pull the contract out of the envelope marked "Home Improvements?" Or would you find yourself first rummaging through the unmarked files in your desk, then checking in the box where you stuff paid bills, before finally remembering that you were using the contract as a bookmark in that murder mystery you never finished.

Keeping good records doesn't have to be time consuming and you don't have to save every check you ever wrote "just in case." The Michigan Association of CPAs says the key to efficient recordkeeping is knowing what to keep, where to keep it and for how long. The following is a summary of some of the important areas of recordkeeping.

Family Personal Records - Including birth certificates, marriage certificates, divorce papers and separation agreements, citizenship or naturalization papers, passports, social security cards and military service records. These items should be kept indefinitely.

Insurance Policies - Including life, disability, mortgage, automobile, homeowners or tenant insurance policies. It's a good idea to hold on to policies for a few years after they are cancelled in case you have to prove your coverage in the event a delayed claim is filed against you.

Tax Records - Not only the tax returns themselves, but supporting documents must also be retained. Under normal circumstances, the Internal Revenue Service can go back three years for auditing purposes. But the IRS has six years to challenge a return if they have reason to believe that a taxpayer has failed to report more than 25 percent of the income stated on the return. CPAs advise you to keep for six years, all documents that support tax deductions or are related to your tax return, including cancelled checks.

Investments and Bank Records - Including stock and bond certificates, buy and sell orders, statements, cancelled checks and the like. Again, any of these items that support income, expenses or deductions on your income tax return should be retained for six years to be on the safe side. Other bank statements and cancelled checks should be kept for a year or until you're sure that you won't need them to prove that you've paid a bill.

Records of Debts - Including first and second mortgages, equity, personal and auto loan agreements. Keep a record of paid-off loans for a number of years as proof of payment.

Property Record - Including deeds, title papers and surveys. Property records should be kept indefinitely. You should keep a copy of the title of ownership for your car, boat or other property for six years after you sell it.

Home Improvements - Keep records, receipts or contracts for the cost of all home improvements. These costs increase your home's cost basis and can reduce the capital gains tax when you sell.

Employee Benefits and Retirement Plans - Booklets explaining medical coverage and other benefits and records on pension and profit-sharing plans should be kept as long as you have benefits due.

Family Health Records - Includes immunization information, dates and details of operations and hospitalizations. This information should be kept indefinitely and your children's records should be given to them when they are grown.

Will - You should have your lawyer keep the original of your will, while you keep a copy at home. Clearly indicate on the copy where the original may be found. If you should make a new will, be sure the old one and all copies are destroyed.

By now you're probably wondering just where you're going to put all these papers. Papers that are very valuable or difficult to replace, such as birth and marriage certificates, property deeds and titles and stock and bond certificates belong in a safe deposit box.

A safe deposit box is, without question, the most secure place to keep important papers and small valuables. Most banks rent safe deposit boxes on an annual basis and if used to store income-producing property, such as bonds or stock certificates, the rental fees may provide you with a tax deduction. It's a good idea to make a list of the contents of your box and keep it at home along with copies of the documents in your box.

In many states, a safe deposit box is sealed upon the death of the owner. If this is the case, don't put your will or life insurance policy in your safe deposit box. To check on the law in your state, ask your banker or attorney.

If, for some reason, you cannot rent a safe deposit box, a fireproof strongbox is probably the next best thing. Be sure to purchase a box that is fire resistant.

The papers you keep at home can be divided between current records and inactive records. A filing cabinet, inexpensive cardboard file box or accordion file would work fine as a storage vehicle for current documents. This is the place you should keep recently paid bills, bank statements, insurance policies, credit card information and the like.

An inactive file can hold older papers, such as old insurance policies, back tax returns and cancelled bank books that are seldom referred to. You can label this box with its contents and store it away on a shelf somewhere.

CPAs advise that if you would like more information on record-keeping, the Consumer Information Center stocks a free pamphlet, Keeping Family/Household Records. For your copy, send to Consumer Information Center, Dept 199K, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Competes At Notre Dame

Hillary Wiedmayer was one of 18 members of the Chelsea Baton Corps who competed at the 22nd Annual American Youth on Parade World/National Twirling Championships held at Notre Dame University, July 21-25, 1987. The contestants came from all across the U.S. and all had placed 3rd or higher in their respective states' twirling finals at AYO.P.

Various competitive divisions were held during the week including modeling, solo baton, flag baton twirling, dance twirl teams and collegiate half-time corps. Each competition was divided by contestant age & twirling class.

Hillary competed in modeling, solo baton, flag baton and fancy strut. Her placings were 18th in solo baton, 14th in flag baton and 12th in fancy strut against the nationwide competitors in her age/class. Hillary competed at the '87 championships as a 9 year old novice twirler.

Unemployment Compensation Now Taxable

Due to a change in federal tax law, all unemployment compensation received after 1986 is fully includable as income.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 repealed the former provision which allowed a limited exclusion from gross income for unemployment compensation received by individuals whose income did not exceed certain amounts.

Individuals who receive a substantial amount of unemployment compensation in 1987 may need to adjust their withholding allowances to make estimated tax payments. If they do not do this, they may not have enough income tax withheld to cover their tax for the year.

Contact the Internal Revenue Service at 1-800-242-1040 for additional information.

Militia

Manchester Enterprise
July 22, 1989

It has been fully demonstrated during the late civil war, that a well organized and equipped militia is of the utmost importance, not to the General Government only, but to the State itself, being relied upon as the main national defense against foreign invasion and civil war, and to defend the State against hostile attacks on its borders, to maintain the enforcement of its laws, when necessary, and to guarantee peace and protect the lives and property of the people.

The State of Michigan, of all others of the union, should not be lulled into a state of security, as the idea of security was fully exploded during the progress of the rebellion, as a lesson has been taught by experience, and at a great cost, and it is necessary in the time of peace to prepare for war, and that this maxim should be adhered to at all times.

The national defense of the Republic, aside from the navy, consists of a small standing army and its militia.

The Militia, when well organized, equipped and disciplined, offers the most acceptable and safest guarantee for National defense and domestic peace. It does not invite a desire to assume the offensive, yet it is ever ready for the defensive. It creates no special military organization, nor does it engender distinction between citizen and soldier, nor antagonistic interests and aims between the people and the army, no false pride or selfish motive which seeks hostility only to obtain fame and military advancement. It merely guards alike the life and honor of the nation and the independence and liberty of the citizen, without exhausting or diminishing the industrial resources of the country.

It has been proposed and noticed to the Enterprise, that a militia company be organized in this village in accordance with an act of the Legislature of the State of Michigan, passed at its extra session of 1862. Already some action has been taken in this direction, meetings have been called and bills were posted last week calling a meeting on Friday evening last, for the purpose of establishing a uniform corps and electing officers.

We have called these meetings with a view of enlisting the interest of the business men of our community in this project, (the only one, I may say, that will not tap them), and we should be happy to feel and see that more interest was being taken by the citizens generally. Will they not come in at our next and future meetings, and at least express a willingness that said company should be organized in Manchester?

Manchester Invited to Showing of "The Carrier"

Swan Productions is proud to present the first showing of "The Carrier" Sunday, August 16, 1987 at the Michigan Theater in Ann Arbor at 12:30 p.m. in the afternoon. This is a private showing for investors and the citizens of Manchester in our appreciation for all your support. There will be no admittance fee. However, we do require that all persons interested RSVP by August 12, 1987, to be put on a guest list. Please RSVP only for yourself and family members. Due to limited seating, only the first 1,000 reservations will be accepted. No additions will be made to the guest list after August 12, 1987 and only those people on the guest list will be admitted (no substitutions, please). Guest must bring identification showing Manchester residency. Minors without identification will be allowed entrance only with a parent or their legal guardian that is a resident of Manchester. Though the Film has not received a rating as of this showing, we believe the film will most likely receive an "R" rating. Parental discretion is advised. Casual attire is suggested.

Swan Productions is very excited to offer this showing to all the citizens who helped us so much. We regret the strict entrance procedures, but a free first showing of the publicized "Carrier" will be difficult to manage and we want to insure the residents of Manchester will enjoy their afternoon. RSVP by calling Swan Productions at 769-2881.

150 YES MICHIGAN

A celebration of what was and will be.

On August 16, 1775 years ago, General William Hull, Brigadier General in Command of the Northwest Army and Michigan Territorial Governor, surrendered Detroit to the British without firing a shot. After the humiliation of being paraded through the streets of Montreal, Hull was paroled by the British on the condition that he take no further part in the war.

Hull was tried by court martial on January 3, 1813, for cowardice, neglect of duty, conduct unbecoming an officer, and treason. He was convicted of all charges except treason and sentenced to be shot. President Madison commuted the sentence and Hull retired to his home in Massachusetts.

The first steam powered boat to sail the Great Lakes, WALK-ON-THE-WATER, arrived at Detroit on August 27, 1818, carrying 29 passengers. Passage from Buffalo to Detroit cost $15.00 and could be made in the miraculously brief time of two-and one-half days (in good weather). For another $20.00, one would continue to Mackinac.

Steamships became a chief means of transportation for Michigan settlers. From April 1 to May 12 in 1830, 2,400 settlers landed at Detroit. During one week in May of 1831, there were more than 2,000 arrivals.

The first Michigan woman to go aloft in a balloon, Gertie Carmo, died on August 25, 1892, at the Detroit Exposition (now the Michigan State Exposition and Fairgrounds). Carmo was thrown from her trapeze when the balloon failed to clear a nearby building. This tragedy mirrored a similar event during the Detroit Exposition of the previous year.

On August 29, 1891, John Hogan, an aeronaut from Jackson, Michigan, died after falling 100 feet while performing on a trapeze attached to a balloon.

On August 30, 1905, the legendary Ty Cobb played his first game for the Detroit Tigers. Cobb, then 18, helped Detroit win pennants in 1907, 1908, and 1909. He was the first player inducted in baseball's Hall of Fame, and set more than 25 major league records during his career.

Ransom E. Olds demonstrated a gasoline-powered vehicle in Lansing on August 11, 1896, and formed the Olds Motor Vehicle Company on August 21, 1897. Between 1900 and 1904, more than 12,000 Curved Dash Oldsmobiles were produced. The popular and lightweight (650 pounds) vehicle could be purchased for one dollar per pound, causing bicycle sales to plummet. Bankrupt bicycle manufacturers such as the Dodge Brothers looked for more profitable ventures.

Ice Cream Sensations

It's a snap to create homemade ice cream novelties, especially when you use the ever-popular "M&M's" Plain or Peanut Chocolate Candies. The following recipes offer a beginning point for creating ice cream sensations.

ICE CREAM CUPS

- 1 1/4 cups chopped "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
- 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 1/2 gallon favorite flavor ice cream, softened

Place candies in shallow pan; freeze. Combine graham cracker crumbs and butter. Press into sixteen cupcake-paper lined muffin tins; chill 30 minutes. Quickly stir frozen candies into ice cream; scoop into prepared muffin pans. Loosely cover with foil and freeze until firm, about 6 hours. Serve, if desired, with chocolate sauce. Makes 16 servings.

CRUNCHY PARFAITS

- 1 1/4 cups "M&M's" Peanut Chocolate Candies or 1/2 cup Plain Chocolate Candies
  - 1 quart favorite ice cream
- Into parfait glasses, alternate candies and ice cream. Serve immediately. Makes about 6 servings.

COLORFUL ICE CREAM SANDWICHES

- 1/2 cup margarine or butter, softened
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 1/4 cup light brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
- 3 pints favorite flavor ice cream

Beat together margarine, peanut butter and sugar until light and fluffy; blend in egg and vanilla. Add combined flour, baking soda and salt; mix well. Stir in "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies. Shape dough to form 1 1/4-inch balls. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet about 3 inches apart; flatten each cookie to 1/4-inch thickness. Sprinkle, if desired, with additional candies. Bake at 350 for 10 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Remove to wire rack to cool completely. For each ice cream sandwich, spread a scant 1/2 cup ice cream onto bottom of a cookie. Top with second cookie; pressing together lightly. Wrap individually in foil; freeze. Makes about 14 sandwiches.

THE INVOCATION Manchester Sesquicentennial Day July 16, 1987

Our fathers' God, to Thee, Author of Liberty, Of Thee we sing! And to Thee also, we lift our praise this Sesquicentennial Day in Manchester, Michigan, giving thanks to You for these 150 years of Statehood as a part of the United States of America, and for our Village of Manchester and the surrounding townships.

We cherish Your gifts - of rolling countryside and its scenic beauty, of rich farmland in which to harvest the fruits of solid labor, of gentle waters from the River Raisen from which we receive energy for industry and a steady current for recreation.

We appreciate and give thanks for the people of this State and of this community, for the indigenous Native Americans, and for the pioneer families. Prosper our people now, we pray: give them love in their families, warmth in the neighborhoods, character in their schools, respect in their government, pride in their past, hope for the future, and faith in their God.

Bless now O God, this Gazebo, symbol of our commitment to the ideals of community, and the strength of our heritage. So may we be faithful on this Sesquicentennial Day in Manchester, and in all the days beyond, for we pray in Your holy and precious name. Amen.

The Rev. Robert B. Macfarlane

We have the latest in 4 wheel alignment equipment
6 important facts about wheel alignment

1. Extend tire life
It's happened to almost everyone: buy a set of tires, and before long one or two tires are wearing out before the others. On today's cars, this applies to the rear tires as well as the front tires. The most common cause of unusual tire wear is improper alignment. Over the years, a properly aligned vehicle can save hundreds of dollars in tire wear.
2. Spot problems early
A suspension system inspection is an inherent part of the wheel alignment operation. This gives the mechanic a chance to spot worn parts that would affect vehicle alignment. It also gives him an opportunity to spot small problems before they become big, costly ones.
3. Ensure safe driving
A periodic four wheel alignment makes sure your car handles properly and, more importantly, provides an opportunity for inspecting the suspension system for defective parts. In some ways, the safe driving aspect may be the most important benefit of wheel alignment.
4. Stretch fuel mileage
Fuel mileage increases as rolling resistance decreases. Proper wheel alignment sets all four wheels parallel which, in turn, assures minimum rolling resistance. This plus proper tire inflation provide top efficiency for maximum mileage.
5. Improve handling
Does your car pull to one side, does the steering wheel vibrate, do you have to constantly move the steering wheel to keep your car traveling straight ahead? These and other handling problems can generally be corrected by four wheel alignment.
6. Get a better ride
Proper alignment helps the front and rear suspension systems do their job. With all the system components in proper relation, road shock is efficiently absorbed, so the vehicle is more stable, and you get a smoother ride.

Drug Education Bill Signed

Legislation comprising a major part of the House Democratic Anti-Drug Program will be signed, appropriating several million dollars for expanding Michigan's drug education efforts in grades K-12.

Earlier this year, Representative Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), Chair of the House Judiciary Committee, introduced a bill allocating over $4 million to expand upon the "Michigan Model" for Comprehensive School Education, commonly referred to as the "Michigan Model," which covers grades K-8. Bullard's bill extended this program to include grades 9-12 as well.

"I am very pleased that the program I suggested will be signed into law and that the funds will be appropriated," stated Bullard. "Education on the actual effects and dangers of various mind-altering substances, including alcohol, is one of the most effective ways to prevent drug abuse," Bullard continued. "Offering drug education and prevention programs in our schools beginning at the earliest possible age and continuing through the high school years helps to stop narcotics abuse problems before they have a chance to start."

A total of $6.1 million is included in the Department of Education budget for drug education and prevention programs. Thirty percent of this money - $1.8 million - is allocated to the Governor's initiative to use for intervention-oriented and broad-based drug programs. The remaining $4.3 million is available for drug education programs in local and intermediate school districts and consortiums.

"Treatment programs and law enforcement are important, but must be part of a comprehensive approach emphasizing drug education," said the Ann Arbor lawmaker. "I am very pleased that Michigan's youth will be able to have an effective drug education program for the next school year."

Take Heart In The Kitchen

There are many confusing messages in the media about diet and heart disease; messages exhorting us to take Omega 3 oils, avoid red meat, give up eggs, use olive oil, etc. Learn the facts about diet and heart disease at a public program, Take Heart in the Kitchen, presented by Marion Prince of Cooperative Extension Service. Ms. Prince is an Extension Home Economist and Registered Dietitian.

Participants will learn about the role of dietary fat as a risk factor for heart disease and understand the difference between cholesterol and saturated fat, and how they contribute to serum cholesterol. They will see foods that have "hidden fat" and substitute foods that would constitute a more healthful diet. There will be light snacks served. The program will be held August 11 and again on August 25, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Cooperative Extension Service Building at the County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw. There is a $5 fee to cover cost of food; pre-registration required, call 971-0079.

Funds Awarded For Senior Nutrition

The Area Agency on Aging Region 1-B (AAA 1-B), serving the older adults in Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St.

Clair and Washtenaw Counties, has recently awarded funds for older adult nutrition services for their new fiscal year, beginning October 1, 1987 and ending September 30, 1988.

The AAA 1-B Board of Directors awarded a total of $344,016 to the Washtenaw County Community Services Agency for the provision of congregate and home delivered meals to county residents age 60 and over.

78th Freeway Rest Area To Open

Michigan's 78th freeway rest area will open to traffic next month along eastbound I-69 near Lapeer.

It will provide a break for freeway travelers in a park-like setting on a 68-acre site in the rolling farmlands of Lapeer County. Like other rest areas on Michigan's freeway system, the new facility features a modern restroom building, picnic tables and grills, telephones and an information plaza providing directions for highway travel and information on emergency services and various recreational attractions.

The $1.2-million facility provides parking space for about 60 cars and 24 trucks. A companion center on westbound I-69 west of Capac is partially completed and will open to traffic late next year.

Another rest area nearing completion is on northbound US-131 near Morley in Montcalm County. It will be the only one on the northbound freeway north of Grand Rapids.

Batting helmets were introduced in major league baseball by the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1941.

Woodlots Can Help Cash Flow Now And In Future

A properly managed woodlot can provide farmers with an additional income source for today and the future.

"Don't look at the woodlot as a quick financial fix where it is plundered for a few thousand dollars and forgotten," says Melvin Koelling, Michigan's State University resource specialist. "Look at the woodlot as a way to produce a sustainable income now and into the future."

The first step in making the woodlot part of the farm enterprise is to have the trees assessed by a professional forester. The forester will make an inventory of the timber to be sold to determine what the overall condition of the woodlot is and help farmers determine the total worth of the woodlot.

Many farmers have sold harvest rights to their woodlot well below the market price because they didn't know how much the timber was worth. Farmers can contact their local Cooperative Extension Service, ASCS of DNR office for a list of professional foresters in their area.

With the help of the forester, the farmer can implement a management plan to improve the productivity of the forest. This plan may likely include the harvest of mature (ripe) trees and the removal of trees that don't have the quality needed for logging operations. It is just as important to remove poor quality trees as well as mature trees to make room for future growth. These poor quality trees can be used to improve the cash flow of the farm operation by cutting them into fuelwood, plupwood, or fence posts. Removal of these trees can be scheduled around busy seasons on the farm.

To help the farmer get the most from the trees sold, the forester will determine the total amount of board feet ready to be harvested. This helps the farmer negotiate a better price from the timber and offsets the costs of hiring a consultant. Research shows that when a professional forester is involved, the farmer earns more, and will have more trees left for future growth when compared to harvests made without a forester. By leaving more trees behind for additional growth, the farmer can set up a program to harvest every 5 or 10 years.

Woodlots in southern Michigan, if properly managed, can annually produce about 300 board feet of new timber per acre. Once stocking of the woodlot has been regulated, based on a harvest every 5 years, a farmer can earn an average $50 to $60 per acre from the woodlot each year, depending on the species harvested. Unlike field crops, a woodlot requires only a small amount of input to produce a high value crop.

Farmers can also schedule the harvest of a woodlot around their cash flow needs. Unlike other farm commodities which must be harvested when ripe, mature timber stores well on the stump and can be left until additional cash is needed to offset a crop failure or low commodity prices.

After making the decision to sell the mature trees, farmers should contact several logging firms for competitive bids on the trees. This often results in a higher return from the same number of trees sold. Contact local Cooperative Extension Services offices for information on current timber prices and names of timber buyers who service the area.

Before entering into an agreement to sell, the farmer should have a well-written contract that spells out exactly what will be done and how payment should be made. The contract should clear the farmer from any liability if anyone gets injured during the logging operation. Don't take a chance on a verbal agreement and a handshake.

The contract should also specify the location of temporary roads for harvest equipment, payment for unmarked trees that were mistakenly cut or severely damaged, and who is responsible for clean-up of tree tops, rut repair and erosion control. Sample copies of timber sale contracts and publications on marketing timber are available from your local Cooperative Extension Service office.

Farmers may be tempted to harvest the trees themselves and pocket the additional cash, but this may not be a wise decision. Logging can be dangerous work and a farm insurance policy may not cover such accidents. Some lumber mills refuse to buy timber from anyone who is not fully insured because of increased liability risks.

25 years ago,
The Lord saw fit,
To take you home
with him.
But little did he realize,
Our sorrow would not end.
But one day when it is our turn for God to call us home.
We'll know that you'll be waiting,
So we won't walk alone.

Microwave Beef Loaves Cook Quickly

One of the most adaptable meats for microwave cooking is ground beef. For best cooking results in the microwave oven select a lean-to-fat ratio from 70 to 80 percent lean meat. The higher the percentage of lean the lower the calories and fat content of the finished product.

Cooking individual beef loaves in the microwave oven can cut total cooking time to six to seven minutes, as in Micro-Quick Beef Loaves. For even cooking, arrange them in a circle on a microwave-safe baking dish. Also, rotate the cooking dish 1/2 turn midway through cooking.

After cooking, allow the finished loaves to stand for about five minutes. Vegetables can quickly cook in the microwave oven during the beef loaves standing time. Serve the individual loaves with a healthful topping made with yogurt, chopped cucumber and onion, dill weed, and garlic seasonings.

MICRO-QUICK BEEF LOAVES

Preparation time: 10 minutes
Cooking time: 6 to 7 minutes
Standing time: 5 minutes
1 pound ground beef
Yogurt-Dill Sauce*
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
1 small onion, minced
1/4 cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon horseradish
1/2 teaspoon each dill weed and salt
Paprika

Prepare Yogurt-Dill Sauce. Combine ground beef, bread crumbs, onion, milk, egg, horseradish, dill weed and salt, mixing lightly but thoroughly.

Today's new microwave techniques help to create nutritious meals in minutes like Micro-Quick Beef Loaves topped with Yogurt-Dill Sauce.

Divide beef mixture into 4 equal portions and form into small loaves. Arrange loaves in circle in microwave-safe baking dish. Sprinkle each loaf with paprika. Cover with waxed paper; microwave at HIGH 3 minutes**. Rotate dish 1/2 turn and continue cooking at HIGH 3 to 4 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. Serve with Yogurt-Dill Sauce. 4 servings; 311 calories per serving.

Note: Cooking times are based upon a full power output of approximately 650 watts. If your microwave oven has a lower or higher power wattage than 650 watts, cooking times may have to be adjusted. Consult your oven manufacturer's instruction book.

*YOGURT-DILL SAUCE
Preparation time: 5 minutes
1/4 cup each seeded and chopped cucumber and plain yogurt
1 teaspoon minced onion
Combine cucumber, yogurt, onion, dill weed, garlic powder and salt, if desired. Yield: Approximately 3/4 cup.

Barbecue enthusiasts who have tired of the same old grilled fare will be captivated by tantalizing "Teriyaki Glazed Kabobs." Zucchini, apple, mushrooms and tender boneless beef combine for a lively taste that's enhanced by the breezy basting sauce. A savory blend of Kikkoman Teriyaki Baste & Glaze, garlic and marjoram, the sauce is simply brushed on the kabobs as they grill. The "just-right" consistency and delicate sweetness of the teriyaki baste and glaze makes for deliciously easy barbecuing - and grilling takes only 10 minutes. Steamed rice and red and yellow bell pepper slices complement this easy, yet elegant meal.

TERIYAKI GLAZED KABOBS
1/4 cup Kikkoman Teriyaki Baste & Glaze
1/4 clove garlic, pressed
1/2 teaspoon marjoram, crumbled
2 medium zucchini
Boiling water
1 large apple
1 1/2 pounds boneless tender beef steaks, each about 1 inch thick
16 medium mushrooms
8 skewers, each about 12 inches long

Combine teriyaki baste & glaze, garlic and marjoram; set aside. Cut each zucchini in half lengthwise, then crosswise into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Cover with boiling water; let stand 5 minutes, covered. Drain and cool. Core apple; cut into 16 pieces. Cut beef into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Thread beef, mushrooms, apple and zucchini pieces alternately on skewers, leaving space between pieces. Brush thoroughly with teriyaki baste & glaze mixture on each side (for rare), or to desired doneness, brushing occasionally with remaining teriyaki baste & glaze mixture. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pointers On Pets

Heartworm and hookworm are no laughing matter. Every year thousands of dogs die or are seriously injured from problems caused by these parasites.

According to animal disease experts, heartworm and hookworm diseases are a national problem. They have been detected with increasing frequency throughout the United States and even in Canada. Warm weather and increased pet travel help carry these parasitic diseases to new areas every year.

Both conditions can be diagnosed by a licensed veterinarian through microscopic examination of a blood sample or laboratory tests. Treatment can be long and difficult for the pet.

The ideal solution to heartworm and hookworm disease is PREVENTION. It's far easier to give your healthy dog excellent protection throughout the high-risk fall months

We invite you to come in and see the largest selection of invitations and announcements for your wedding. Many elegant styles, accessory items, and personalized stationery to reflect your personal taste.

The Work-At-Home Alternative

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

What person who has nudged along in rush hour traffic day after day hasn't dreamed of working at home? No clock to punch. No office politics to contend with. And, no daily commute. As appealing as that may sound to you, the Michigan Association of CPAs cautions that home-based businesses, like all other business ventures, have their own set of rewards and perils, many of which have to do with your personality. And starting a home-based business, say CPAs isn't all that different than starting any other business. In fact, to do it right, you'll want to do all the same things you would do if you were starting any other business.

First, let's look at the bright side. Many home-based business owners are quick to cite the freedom and flexibility they have. If you're the type that works best in the late evening hours, you need only walk down the hall to execute that absolutely brilliant idea that strikes you at 11 p.m. Starting a business at home requires less capital, allowing you to test a business idea with a minimum investment. And it should come as no surprise that many people decide to start a business at home because that's where their children live. The home-based business provides the compromise between work and family responsibilities that many parents with young children are seeking.

As good as this may sound, there are some serious drawbacks you should consider before starting a business in your home. Are you a self-starter and creative problem-solver? In a home-based business, you are alone at the top, there is no boss to oversee when you get started and whether you stay on track. By the same token, ask yourself whether you're a self-stopper. People who work at home sometimes have a problem letting go of their work and tending to other personal or family matters. They find it difficult to ignore a business problem that is sitting in the next room.

The isolation of working at home presents a problem for others. They miss the opportunity to gather by the water cooler to bounce ideas off colleagues. To succeed at working at home, it also helps if you're the type of person who is not easily distracted. It can be difficult to concentrate on business when you know the kitchen is a mess and the lawn needs to be mowed. And both you and your family must be willing to sacrifice some of your personal space. One craft designer admitted that for two years her family couldn't eat off the dining room table.

The major drawback that concerns many established home-based workers is the fact that they are just not taken seriously. Somehow they lack legitimacy in the eyes of others, regardless of how much they're earning or how successful they may be. Often even family members and friends who know you work at home don't take your work seriously. They think nothing about stopping by your home to chat - something they wouldn't dream of doing if you were off in a corporate office somewhere.

If working at home seems like it would suit you, the first thing you'll have to do is decide on a product or service. The best kind of business for you is based on your own knowledge, skills and interests. Do you like shopping? Traveling? Gardening? Foreign languages? Although the fastest-growing segment of home businesses is the area of computer data and word processing, almost any business can be done out of the home. There are bridal consultants and calligraphers, elderly-care specialists and children's entertainers, investment counselors and messenger services - all run by entrepreneurs working out of their home.

To get started, no matter how big or small you see your business idea, get a business plan down on paper. Your local library can provide you with hundreds of sources to guide you through this important exercise. Writing a business plan helps you to organize your thoughts and focus on your objectives.

In brief, you'll want to open your business plan with a description of your product or service and the market you hope to attract. You should identify the competition and why you think people would prefer to buy from you. Questions like how much space, equipment and supplies you'll need will have to be addressed. And, of course, the financial needs of your business and how you plan to finance them will need to be included.

Don't overlook the need to consult with professionals. You might first want to check with local officials regarding licensing, zoning and other regulations that may apply to your business. You will have to decide what legal form (sole proprietor, partnership, corporation) your business should take.

A certified public accountant can help you determine how to set up your books and recordkeeping systems as well as how to select the appropriate tax status for your business. You will also need advice on the complexities of home office tax deductions. This is an area where the Internal Revenue Service is very strict. But as a general rule, to take a tax deduction for using a part of your home for business, that part must be used exclusively and regularly as: 1. the principal place of your business, or 2. a place where you meet or deal with your clients or customers in the normal course of business.

If you live in a house with 2000 square feet of living space and the area you use as an office measures 200 square feet, you are entitled to deduct 10 percent of certain expenses of maintaining your home. To be deductible, the expense must be related in some way to the part of your home used for business. Examples of these expenses are real estate taxes, mortgage interest, rent, utilities, insurance, repairs and depreciation.

Those expenses that benefit only the part of your home you use for business (like painting or repairs) are fully deductible. The tax laws governing home office deductions are complicated and closely scrutinized by the IRS so be sure to consult with a knowledgeable tax professional.

It has often been said that anyone can start a business - the hard part is staying in business. CPAs suggest that if you give careful thought and planning to starting your home-based business, you stand a better chance of succeeding. And, if anyone tries to minimize your business because you work at home, remind them that the President of the United States does too.

Out-Placement Services For Double A Employees

During June and July close to a hundred employees of Manchester's Double A Valve and Pump Plant received assistance in "out-placement." Four hours of seminars were held with several groups of hourly and salaried employees, covering the subjects of job seeking skills, applications, letters, resumes, job search strategies and job interviews. Upon completion of the seminar, each employee had the experience of a personal structured job interview and evaluation.

The South & West Washtenaw Consortium prepared and conducted the seminars which were led by the Consortium Job Placement Coordinator, Bob Miller. Consortium Asst. Superintendent, Dave Mieras with Special Needs Coordinator Diane Skinner, arranged and conducted the job interviews with several volunteers from the community including Manchester Schools Superintendent, Ron Niedzwiecki. The Consortium's vocational-technical education programs for the school districts of Manchester, Milan, Chelsea, Dexter and Saline. Key on-the-scene people who contributed to the success of the initial program were: Fred Pettit, Distributed Products Manager, Double A; Ken Moull, Local 2190 President; and Diana Parr, Human Resource Office, Double A.

Several other people and organizations are involved in the planning for continuing services to the former employees of Double A. This Double A Task Force includes: Kay Ford, Executive Director of the Private

Local Officer Gets Automobile Thief

Man Who Escaped From Manchester Jail Last Week Is Captured Near Napoleon.

Manchester Enterprise August 4, 1987

After having his liberty for a week following escape from the local jail Oliver Rogelski, who is said to be from Saginaw, where he stole the auto he was driving here, was captured about 11 o'clock Tuesday night two miles west of Napoleon while driving away from here with his wife and child, the capture being made after Constable Lee Davison had shot the fugitive in the lip and left wrist. He was then landed in the jail at Jackson.

The bad man had been the cause of a lot of excitement last week after walking out of the local jail by means of a key that had been left within his reach, and though he remained in this vicinity several days he eluded capture.

Joshing of Deputy Sheriff Henzie has subsided this week, but as the escaped one had a wife and child in town it was thought he would return. Tuesday evening Roland Widmayer reported to Constable Davison that he had seen Rogelski drive west out of town accompanied by his wife and baby. Accompanied by Justice of the Peace Roy Blythe and A. H. Mead, the officer took up the chase and west of Napoleon overtook and crowded the fleeing car to the roadside. As Davison approached the car Rogelski pressed a revolver to his chest and as Davison backed away the fugitive ran around the car. As he kept on running after called on to halt, Davison fired.

Rogelski was dressed up in a new suit and looked so tidy that his pursuers were in doubt as to his identity when they drew close to him. The coupe he was driving was stolen from C. R. Dustin, an employee at the gravel pit in Tecumseh. Mrs. Rogelski and her child were brought back here.

Several hours after the capture relatives of Rogelski drove here from Saginaw, although they had not heard of the capture. They were highly indignant because he had stolen the clothes he wore and other personal property from members of the family, and they seemed not at all sorry that the officers had found him.

It is claimed Rogelski has a long prison and reformatory record.

More excitement was added to the trip of the posse of three when on their return they found two bootleggers sleeping in their cars just west of town. The cars were loaded with 32 cases of beer and an extra case was found under the hood beside the motor. The two were brought to town and next morning were taken to Ann Arbor.

Local Student Wins Office In Mock Election

Linda Milkey (left) of Manchester, who was sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, was elected to the position of precinct delegate in a mock election held during the 1987 Young People's Citizenship Seminar. The 24th annual seminar was sponsored by the Michigan Farm Bureau and political scene and encouraged the county Farm Bureaus throughout the state. Congratulating Milkey was James Brickley, Michigan Supreme Court Justice. Before presenting awards to the 25 students who were elected to various offices, Brickley commented on the current
