What Manchester Needs

Manchester Enterprise September 7, 1986

A Rest Room For Out-Of-Town People, A Tie Shed For Horses, Among The First

In order to hold the patronage of people living within a certain radius of Manchester, the merchants should do everything they can to make it convenient, easy, pleasant and profitable for them to come here to do their marketing and trading. A whole lot of genuine friendship should go with it.

The mail order houses in the big cities are the business ghosts of the country merchants. They send out their seductive catalogues telling about their goods and the parcel post and rural delivery make it easy for country people to trade with them. Merchants should more thoroughly advertise their goods in the Enterprise, then the country people will not say, "I didn't know you kept it."

Every effort should be put forth to improve its highways. Although many come to town in autos, a large proportion still drive horses. A tie shed should be provided for their accommodation.

A public comfort station centrally located, large, comfortable, sanitary, with rest room well warmed should be provided at once.

More public drinking fountains and watering places for horses should be erected.

Regulations for parking autos so not to interfere with or frighten horses driven by ladies are among the necessities.

During the busy summer season when farmers have no time to come to town during the day, if business places are closed on certain evenings, arrangements should be made for their accommodating the farmers who have broken a machine, or are in immediate need of something, to keep in touch with him and fill his order by rural mail next morning.

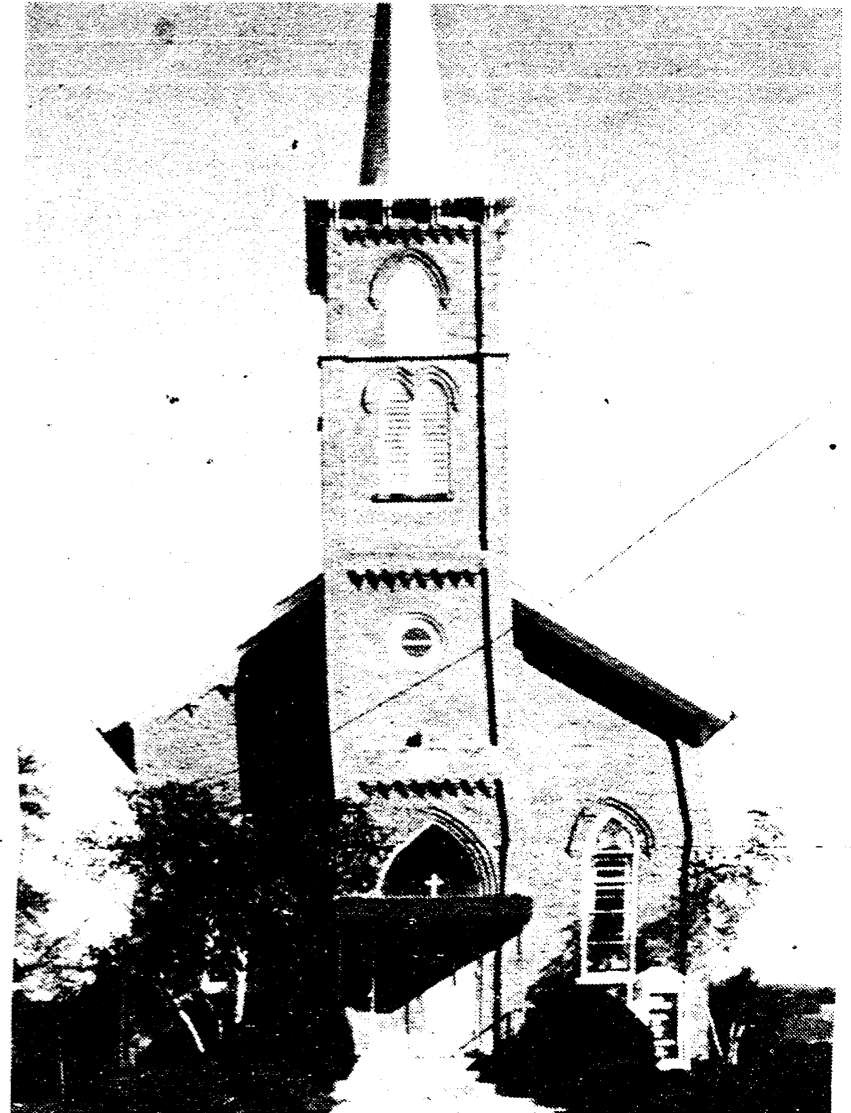

There are many other ways to help and even build up ones business, that are worth trying.

Federal Foods Distribution

Federal surplus foods will be distributed in the Manchester area October 23, at the Manchester United Methodist Church between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 p.m.

Sharon United Methodist Church Historical Site

The Michigan Historical Commission has listed Salem Church (Sharon United Methodist Church), Sharon Township, Washtenaw County, in the State Register of Historical Sites.

Help Name That Group

The Sharon Society was organized March 22, 1874, by Rev. Edward Weiss with 17 members. On January 25, 1876, they decided to build a church on Rowe's Corners, land which Gilbert Rowe had purchased from the government in 1831. The Rowe family is buried in the cemetery west of the church.

Through the years the church has served the community. Today, it's illuminated steeple points the traveler to God. The brick structure, with its stained glass windows, is typical of the churches of that era. Salem was the first name of the church and is written above the front doors in stained glass. The congregation is dedicated to the preservation of the building. Recently the brick walls were tuck-pointed and the stained glass windows are being replaced.

Sharon United Methodist Church is located on the corner of the Manchester-Chelsea Road (M-52) and Pleasant Lake Road north of Manchester.

Changes In '87-88 Hunting Rules

New rules regarding mandatory hunter education, licensing hunters who hunt with dogs, and shining, head the list of major changes in hunting rules for Michigan's 1987-88 hunting seasons.

Shining or the use of artificial lights for locating wildlife, will not be permitted starting this year during the entire month of November. From December 1, 1987, through October 31, 1988, shining is banned from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Beginning January 1, 1988, all hunters who were born after January 1, 1960, will be required to complete an approved hunter education class and produce proof of completion or produce a previous hunting license in order to purchase a license for the 1988-89 hunting season.

Currently, only those between the ages of 12 and 16, are required to do this.

Beginning immediately, all persons must have a valid Michigan hunting license to participate in any way in pursuing a game animal with dogs during the open season for hunting that animal with dogs. In the past, only the person shooting the animal was required to have a license. This rule does not apply to persons participating in field trails.

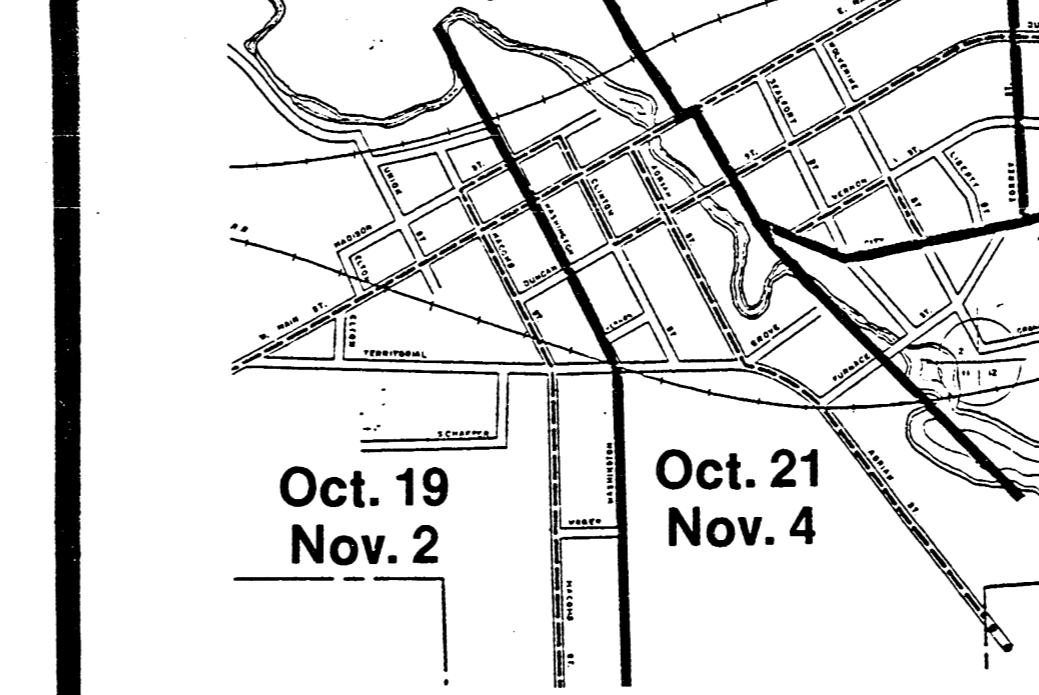

There are several other important changes this year. Hunters should consult their 1987-88 hunting and trapping guides for more specific details.

The muzzleloader deer season is December 4 through 13 in Zones 1 and 2, the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower Peninsula, while it is December 11 through 20 in Zone 3, the southern Lower Peninsula.

Bear Hunters are now required to turn in their kill validation tag when they register their bear at an authorized Department of Natural Resources bear registration station.

The beaver and otter trapping season in the Upper Peninsula runs from October 25, 1987, through March 31, 1988. The season has been shortened in response to reduced complaints about beaver damage.

Although it is not a change from last year, firearm deer hunters are reminded that it is illegal to purchase a second firearm deer license until September 25, the day after LEAF PICKUP - Manchester's first annual Leaf Pickup Program begins next Monday October 19. Two pickups are scheduled for each part of the Village. Officials ask residents to scatter leaves in the gutter and wet them down. Brush, logs and stones should not be mixed with the leaves because they can damage sweeping equipment. Cars with catalytic converters are susceptible to fires if parked over dry leaves, and owners should park them with caution. Poor weather may effect the schedule. If crews complete a day's work early they will move to the next section but will return on the scheduled collection day. For updates call 428-7877 or see Gary Wiedmayer.

Programs Offered

Chelsea Community Hospital will be offering two education programs the week of October 19. Standard First Aid - Multimedia System is designed to provide fundamental principles and skills in first aid using filmed demonstrations, practice sessions and a programmed workbook. The class will be Wednesday, October 21, from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital. Registration is required by calling 313-475-1311, ext. 196.

Decision Due

The U.S. Secretary of Agriculture must decide soon whether government purchases of milk products will exceed 5 billion pounds of milk equivalent in 1988, a level that will trigger a 50 cent drop in the support price. Michigan Farm Bureau dairy specialist Kevin Kirk predicts that the decision will be a close call and that it could influence supplies for the next several years. "Milk production is increasing and will definitely exceed the gain in commercial sales during 1988," Kirk said. "The supply-demand balance, however, still looks quite favorable for 1988, so there is some question which side of the 5 billion pounds the government purchases will fall. But if the nation's dairy resources continue to build during the year, the industry will again be on a merry-go-around with a significant build-up of Commodity Credit Corporation purchases in 1989." Kirk said several factors point to the eventual buildup in government purchases.

"Cow numbers are showing strength. The number of animals being held for replacements was up on June 1, from the previous year. The milk-feed price ratio looks favorable for next year which will lead to strong production per cow. These factors indicate that the nation's milk supply could soon be back in a relatively large surplus state," he said.

"The Department of Agriculture is faced with a tough choice. If it looks like 1988 purchases will be close to 5 million pounds, the buildup might be overlooked, but if the department is concerned about the longer range level of purchases in 1989 and 1990, then the support price may be dropped by the allowable level," Kirk said.

Andrew Schook was the 1st Place winner in the 3rd/4th grade division of the Arborland Spelling Bee, October 10, 1987. We're proud of you Andrew!

Money Management

Do You Know What You're Worth?

(Prepared by The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants)

The Jones up the street seem to live like millionaires. They've got a new Mercedes in the driveway of their brand new house. And they always seem to be going out to dinner or on vacation. They must be wealthy.

Don't be too sure of that, says the Michigan Association of CPAs. Lifestyle is not always a reflection of wealth. Mr. and Mrs. Jones may owe a substantial amount of money on their new car and home while sinking even more money into vacations and dinners that add nothing to net worth. And net worth is the ultimate measure of wealth.

You, on the other hand, may owe only a small mortgage on your house, your car is paid off and you've got a nice little nest egg in the form of an IRA, savings accounts and some stocks and bonds. In short, your net worth is probably much more than the free-spending Jones'.

WHAT IS NET WORTH?

Simply put, net worth is the difference between what you own and what you owe. For example, if you recently bought a $200,000 home, but owe $180,000, the house contributes only $20,000 to your net worth. On the other hand, if you own a $100,000 house and owe only $5,000 on it, the house contributes $95,000 to your net worth.

To calculate your net worth, add up the market value of all of your assets: home, car, bank accounts, investments and retirement assets. From this, subtract your liabilities: mortgage, car loans, consumer loans and the like. The figure you come up with is your net worth. But what does it tell you?

Net worth is, in effect, a snapshot of your financial standing at any given time. As such, it is most useful when compared to other "snapshots" taken at different times. The comparison allows you to gauge your financial movement - are you accumulating wealth or losing it? If your financial goal is to reduce your debt load and build up assets, a semi-annual or annual net worth calculation will let you chart your progress.

This is not to say you won't be able to learn anything from your first net worth calculation. On the contrary, it creates a benchmark against which all future calculations will be measured.

Let's assume you've calculated your net worth and to your horror, you discover not only are you worth nothing, you actually have a negative net worth. Should you worry? Not if you are young and still paying off student loans in addition to taking on debt to pay for a new car and new furniture and all the other things required for setting up an independent household.

Remember, after all, most of us will build up net worth the way our parents did - slowly through savings. As a result, younger people tend to have a much lower net worth than older, established people. In fact, the federal government estimates half of people below the age of 35 have a net worth of less than $6,739.

CPAs recommend, however, that you should be saving at least five percent of your net income. If your savings account doesn't reflect that, you should consider boosting the amount you save.

Your net worth also allows you to identify financial problems so you can move to solve them. If, for example, your liabilities outstrip your assets and you have the negative net worth cited earlier, you may need to cut back on credit card purchases. Conversely, if the bulk of your assets are in the stock market, you may want to diversify to reduce your risk exposure.

If you are nearing retirement, you may want to move your assets to investments that generate dividend payments to supplement your retirement benefits. For example, if you and your spouse live in a large home with no children present, you may want to sell it and either move into a smaller, less expensive one or perhaps even rent an apartment. This may free up some of the equity you've built up in your home and allow you to use it for investments.

And if you are over 55, you may be able to exclude up to $125,000 of the profit from the sale of your home from your taxable income. The $125,000 exclusion has some limitations and you may take it only once, so be sure to check with your accountant.

Whatever the case, the Michigan Association of CPAs recommends you begin to monitor your financial health by calculating your net worth. If nothing else, you may discover you're better off than you thought you were.

Our Lady Dutch met a non-league foe Monday, the Hudson Tigers. It was a very hard-fought contest which saw the score knotted at 42 at the end of regulation. Unfortunately, Hudson outscored us in overtime to depart victorious, 48-46. Vanessa Salyer led our scorers with 10 points.

On Thursday night, we hosted the Napoleon Pirates and sailed to an easy 48-27 win. Renea Drouare led all scorers, hitting for 21 points. We now have 6 wins and 4 losses on the season.

Varsity Buries Jayhawks

by jon

On Friday, we bused to Vandercook Lake and behind the four TD's accumulated by Scott Gross and Steve Samonek, we won easily, 30-6. This now improves our overall record to 5 and 1. Essentially this contest was over after one quarter of play as Scott motored in from 13 yards out. Jason VanDeven toed the P.A.T. to make the tally 7-0. The second quarter belonged to Steve as he ran for two touchdowns. We did not score in the third stanza, but in the final quarter, Scott scored from nine yards out and Jason followed later with a 26-yard field goal. Our hats go off to Steve Samonek who zoomed for 163 yards.

Be with us Friday as we host Grass Lake. Congratulations go to our Little Dutch as they downed the Jayhawks 20-0!

Tanning And Tanning Salons Can Be Hazardous To Your Health

In a Doonesbury comic strip of a few years back, Zonker, the tanning fanatic, was told that his skin had a pre-cancerous look to it. Had Zonker been a real-life character, the observation might well have been true. While our society continues to admire the tanned body, the fact is that tanned skin is injured skin, not healthy skin, as devotees of the beach and the tanning salon believe. It is the ultraviolet rays of the sun and the sunlamp that cause the skin to tan. These rays stimulate special cells in the skin—to release melanin, which is the skin's darkening, protective pigment. In fact, then, tanning is the skin's way of protecting itself.

There are a number of adverse effects of the skin's exposure to ultraviolet rays. Some unwanted effects, such as skin cancer and early aging of the skin, are usually the cumulative effects of life-long exposure...or, more accurately, overexposure. More acute problems, such as eye damage, can occur from just one unprotected exposure to a tanning lamp. Skin cancer, I might note here, is the most prevalent form of cancer in this country, with more than 400,000 cases a year.

Ultraviolet radiation comes in two forms: UVA and UVB. UVB burns and tans more slowly, but the rays penetrate more deeply.

Tanning can be damaging to the skin whether it's done at the beach, under a sunlamp at home or in a commercial tanning salon. Indoor tanning has become increasingly popular in the United States, and its popularity is not limited to northern areas or to winter months. Indeed, much of the indoor tanning is done in sunny climates and in the summer by tan worshippers who can't make it to the beach as often as they would like.

Sunlamps used in indoor tanning salons usually are UVA and sometimes are touted as being "safer than sunlight." The claim is inaccurate. Like ultraviolet radiation from sunlight, UVA radiation poses acute and long-term health hazards. UVA radiation may appear safer because it works more slowly on the skin, but because it penetrates more deeply, its effects may not be so readily seen. Moreover, almost all tanning devices also emit some UVB radiation.

There is evidence that a combination of outdoor and indoor tanning may be especially harmful to the skin because UVA radiation from indoor lamps augments the harmful effects of outdoor exposure.

Eye damage is another important concern. Burned corneas and retinal injury can result from indoor tanning if protective eyewear is not used or if used improperly. Cataracts can be another consequence of repeated unprotected exposure to UV radiation.

The Food and Drug Administration, which inspects and regulates tanning devices requires prominent display of a label that warns users of the dangers of UV radiation. The FDA also requires that eyewear that absorbs UV radiation be worn. Manufacturers of the tanning devices must supply that protective eyewear.

Another FDA stipulation is that a recommended exposure schedule be provided in a tanning salon, along with a statement of the time it may take before skin-tanning appears. There also must be a timer that can be set according to the exposure schedule and a control that allows the user to turn off the device at any time.

Whether tanning indoors or out, people who take certain types of medications, such as antibiotics, birth control pills and tranquilizers, may become extra-sensitive to UV radiation and receive serious skin burns and rashes when tanning. These people - indeed, anyone who is unsure of the side effects of his or her medications - should consult their physicians before exposing their skin to UV radiation for extended periods of time.

Moderation in tanning, as in most other things, is the best rule for the majority of tanning enthusiasts to follow. Prolonged exposure, repeated over the years, can bring real problems in later life.

Consumer Rights

What are a consumer's rights when overcharged by a computerized checkout?

The Michigan Consumers Council's "Item Pricing Law" tipsheet has the answers. It describes Michigan's Item Pricing Law and the remedies available to consumers who are overcharged by an electronic scanner at a computerized checkout.

Specifically included is the penalty formula for consumers who are overcharged by a scanner. The formula allows consumers to receive the difference between the scanner's price reading and the price stamped on the product, PLUS ten (10) times that difference, in an amount not less than $1.00 or more than $5.00.

For example, a box of raisins marked at $1.69 is read by the scanner as $1.99. Under the penalty formula, the consumer is entitled to receive: $1.99 (the price read by the scanner) minus $1.69 (the price stamped on the box); $30 (difference in the prices) plus $3.00 (ten (10) times the difference). $33.00 TOTAL PENALTY TO BE PAID TO THE CONSUMER.

Consumers who believe that they have been overcharged should:

1. Save both the package and the cash register receipt.
2. Show both items to the store manager within 30 days of purchase and point out the overcharge. The Item Pricing Law gives the store two days in which to settle the matter using the penalty formula.
3. If the store tries to give the consumer less than the penalty amount, the consumer may sue the store in District or Small Claims Court. Consumers who win their suits may receive $250 plus up to $300 in attorney's fees if an attorney was hired for the case.

Free copies of the one-page "Item Pricing Law" tipsheet are available by writing or calling the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, Lansing, MI 48933; telephone (517) 373-0947.

WHEN THE SNOW FLIES WILL YOUR CAR BE WINTERIZED?

Inspections of the Cooling System are Crucial to the Engines Health

FOR ONLY $29.90

COMPLETE INSPECTION INCLUDES:

1. Flush Cooling System
2. Check Operation of Thermostat.
3. Test Battery and Charging System.
4. Clean Battery Cables.
5. Inspect Radiator Cap, Belts and Hoses.
6. Fill System With Up to 2 Gallons of New Antifreeze.

Unfortunately, most car owners don't realize that cooling system parts should be replaced before they fail. Like heart attacks in people, car heart attacks can often be prevented with regular inspections of the cooling system.

Today's cars operate at higher engine speeds with more equipment under the hood, smaller engine compartments, and reduced radiator size. So the cooling system - particularly the thermostat, which constantly opens and closes to regulate coolant flow - is under a lot of stress. In fact, the cooling system removes twice as much engine heat as the exhaust system.

Paid Land Diversion

Farm Bureau wants the U.S. Department of Agriculture to add a paid land diversion and advanced deficiency payments to the recently announced 1988 feed grains program.

"We are requesting a paid diversion similar to the program option in 1987 which offered corn growers a $2 per bushel payment for idling 15% of their base acreage, in addition to the normal setaside requirements," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "We still have tremendously large carryover supplies in feed grains. In corn alone, we will have 4.5 billion bushels at the end of the marketing year. That's three to four times more carryover than is needed."

In program details announced last week, USDA established a 20% acreage reduction requirement for corn, sorghum, barley, oats and rye growers to be eligible for government loans and other program benefits. The loan rate for corn has been set at $1.74 with a corresponding $1.65 loan rate for sorghum. The 1988 target prices for corn and sorghum have been set at $2.97 and $2.82, respectively. Loan rates have been cut 5% from 1987 levels, while target prices have been cut by 2%.

Almy said Farm Bureau is also seeking a 40% advanced deficiency payment at the time of signup. "The advanced payments have become an important source of financing needed to meet planting expenses," he said. "We're asking the Secretary of Agriculture to continue making payments available in the form of generic certificates."

Announcement of final program details may not be made by USDA until after Nov. 20, because of Congressional stalling on federal budget legislation, Almy said. "That's the deadline for meeting the Gramm-Rudman deficit targets and if Congress fails to cut spending enough to meet the targets, automatic cuts in all programs would have to be made," Almy said. "The Secretary of Agriculture has said that such an occurrence would negate any prior agreements made on farm program signup."

Childhood Asthma

John Lowenbergh, M.D. and Nancy Lowenbergh, R.N. will be the guest speakers at the October 14, meeting of the Family Asthma Program as they discuss the subject, "Helping Children Cope with Fear and Panic." The Family Asthma Program is a free educational and social program for parents of asthmatic children which is made possible by the generosity of volunteers and Christmas Seal sales. The purpose of the program is to provide useful information to reduce the frequency and severity of asthma episodes in children.

The meetings are held the second Wednesday of every month and feature a different topic and guest speaker. Meetings take place in the personal office of Mr. Tom Monaghan, Domino's Farms Prairie House, 30 Frank Lloyd Wright Drive, Ann Arbor, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. For further information, please contact the American Lung Association of Michigan at (313) 995-1030.

Cooperative Extension Service

When Esau sold his birthright for a quote "Mess of Pottage" as told in the Bible, he couldn't know that people centuries later would value the same food.

The "Pottage" was lentils, one type of legume; doctors and nutritionists are recommending we eat more legumes. Esau may have eaten them for hunger, but modern advice is for health.

The Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring a public program "Sweep Out Cholesterol, Lower Your Risk of Heart Disease - Eat Legumes" on Tuesday, October 20, from 7:30 - 9:00 p.m. The program will be at the Cooperative Extension Service Building in the County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw. Cost is $5.00 to cover food, and reservations are required - 971-0079.

Participants will learn how legumes like lentils contain a type of fiber that lowers the bodies cholesterol, if used in conjunction with a modified fat diet.

Cooperative Extension Service

programs are open to all without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap.

Conveniently Homemade

Tasty Treats

Parents are constantly on the lookout for economical and convenient ways to feed the troops. Afterschool and between-meal snacks take on a whole new meaning when youngsters share kitchen detail.

These easy, no-bake treats require only willing hands, a blender and loaf pan. Older children can improve their math skills by measuring ingredients for the Purple Cow and Banana Orange shakes, while younger ones prepare the graham crumb mixture for the Fruit 'N Nut Blocks.

Both recipes feature Royal Gelatin and Royal Instant Pudding & Pie Filling, and should satisfy your platoon's appetites until chow time.

BANANA ORANGE SHAKE

(Makes 4 servings)
2 cups cold milk
1 (3 3/8-ounce) package Royal Instant Vanilla Pudding & Pie Filling
1 cup cold orange juice
1 banana, halved

In electric blender container, combine milk, pudding mix, orange juice and banana. Cover and blend at low speed for 1 minute or until smooth. Serve immediately.

PURPLE COW SHAKE

(Makes 4 servings)
2 cups cold milk

1 (3 3/8-ounce) package Royal Instant Vanilla Pudding & Pie Filling
1 cup cold canned grape punch
In electric blender container, combine milk, pudding mix and fruit punch. Cover and blend at low speed for 1 minute or until smooth. Serve immediately.

FRUIT 'N NUT BLOCKS
(Makes 1 1/2 dozen)
1/4 graham crackers, finely rolled (about 1 cup crumbs)
1/4 cup margarine or butter blend, melted
1 (6-ounce) or 2 (3-ounce) package(s) Royal Orange Gelatin

1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup pineapple juice
3/4 cup diced dried fruit mix
1/2 cup walnuts, chopped
18 walnut halves

In small bowl, combine graham cracker crumbs and margarine or butter blend. Press half the crumb mixture on the bottom of 9x5x3-inch loaf pan.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; stir in pineapple juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in fruit mix and chopped walnuts. Pour mixture over prepared crust; sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Press walnut halves into crumbs. Chill 3 hours or until firm. To serve, cut into 18 pieces.

County Historical Society

Helen F. Gilbert, Plymouth author of TONQUISH TALES, will talk about local and state Indian history at the Washtenaw County Historical Society meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 18, at the Ann Arbor American Legion, 1035 South Main. It is open to the public.

Ms. Gilbert grew up along Tonquish Creek near Northville and used to wonder who Tonquish was. After a career in journalism and teaching, she started following up her childhood curiosity about Indians and writing a column in the Plymouth OBSERVER-ECCENTRIC.

She published the second volume of TONQUISH TALES last December. Tonquish was a chief of a small band of local Anonquian Indians, sometimes signing treaties as a Potawatomi, sometimes as a Chippewa.

She has done much of her research in Ann Arbor where she once worked.

Wrestling Clinic Announced

The University of Michigan MedSport will sponsor a wrestling clinic on Wednesday, October 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fitness Center at Domino's Pizza World Headquarters. The clinic will focus on wrestling issues with speakers to include:

- *Members of the University of Michigan Wrestling Staff.
- *Steve Fraser, 1984 Olympic Champion Greco Roman Wrestling.
- *Kirk Trost, 1986 Big Ten and NCAA Wrestling Champion.

- *Members of the University of Michigan MedSport Medical Staff.

Topics for the clinic include conditioning/training, weight cutting, drills, injury prevention and motivation.

The MedSport Wrestling clinic is open to high school coaches, athletes, parents and interested members of the general public. Admission is free and no pre-registration is required.

Questions should be directed to Julie Gazmarian at MedSport, 313-763-7400.

Directory

A directory of businesses, services, and industries in the Manchester area is being prepared by the Chamber of Commerce. The name of the business, address, phone number, type of business and a contact person (if desired) will be included. Any business not on the present Chamber of Commerce mailing list may be listed by phoning Jim Mann (428-8388) or Ann Pat Wolf (428-8380) by October 15th. There is no charge for the listing.

The brochure, which will be in a convenient 6" x 9" booklet form, will be used to encourage the use of local businesses and services. It will be made available to new or prospective residents or businesses.

Janice Little and Teddy Groeb, teachers at the Manchester Klager School.

Janice Little and Teddy Groeb have been as great.

According to Little, the children take a poll at the end of the year and their favorite day has always been 100th Day. This is quite an accomplishment when you consider Christmas parties, Field Day and Fun Run are included.

Little & Groeb's first and second graders are already counting and anxiously waiting for their 100th Day of school this year.

Council To Choose Interim Manager

by Becky Doyle

Village Council will choose an interim manager from four candidates on October 21. The successful applicant will replace present Village Manager, Dan Naimowicz, while he is on extended sick leave.

Carl Willoughby has seven years of experience as Village Manager in Dexter. He stated that he will continue to look for a long-term position if he is hired, however, and had several prospects.

Harvey Weatherwax, a self-employed consultant and carpenter from Western Michigan, has had experience in management in Kalkaska. Although it has been some time since he has been involved in local government, he said he sees this position as an opportunity to re-enter the field.

Pamela Hartwig, a local attorney, also expressed interest in the position. Although she has no experience with government management, her practice has involved her with several situations that have familiarized her with the mechanisms of local government.

Employees working outside of Manchester are reminded to designate your contribution to Manchester's United Way. "Go Dutch!" "Let's Give Much!"

Railroad Meeting

Manchester Enterprise
February 4, 1869

Pursuant to a call of the Railroad committee an adjourned meeting of the citizens of Manchester and vicinity was held at Palmer's office last Saturday evening. The Committee went to Detroit and reported that they were led to believe the road would be built from Ypsilanti, via Manchester, if the people along the route would lend their aid by subscribing liberally, and unless they did the road would pass through Clinton or Tecumseh.

There was a fair representation of the business, professional men and mechanics of the village, and farmers from the several townships adjoining, present and there appeared to be an earnest determination on the part of all present to secure the route if earnest efforts can secure it. The meeting was called to order by Hon. J.D. Corey, chairman of the Railroad Committee, after which Mr. Reynolds made a report of the action of the committee. Mr. H. Goodyear made a few remarks relative to increases in valuation of all property along this line. Mr. Palmer showed up the superior advantages of this route over any of the proposed routes, and entreated the capitalists to open their pocket-book and give liberally of the stamps in a few words explained why they were able to pay higher prices for grain at Chelsea and other places on the Central road last fall, than they did, or could pay at this place, for shipment. Mr. Reynolds made a motion that when the meeting adjourns, that it be until Saturday afternoon, Feb. 6th, at 1 o'clock, that was adopted.

The subscription, which had already reached several thousand, was greatly enlarged by new subscribers and doubling some of the old ones. Committee was appointed to circulate the subscription paper, and it is thought that $75,000 can be raised without difficulty. The meeting was a very harmonious one and all are awake.

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday, February 6th at 1 p.m. at Goodyear's hall. The people from the country, and neighboring towns are requested to be present and participate.

Our Ann Arbor friends are very earnest in their endeavors to have a road built from that city to Manchester, entirely independent of all companies, and we understand from reliable sources that the lending money men of that place are pledging sums of money for that purpose. The project looks feasible. Come out to the meeting on Saturday and hear what is to be said about it.

Let the house be filled to overflowing.
