An Explanation

Manchester Enterprise
February 25, 1886

Freedom, February 22, 1886

Editor Enterprise: Allow us a space in your column to defend our school in district No. 7, township of Freedom.

As is generally known Will Reed was engaged to teach the winter term of four months. He can into the school an entire stranger; we believe he came with the intention of teaching a good school, but the first day the scholars formed the opinion that the school would be a failure. He seemed ignorant of how to take hold, and told the scholars he had never been in a district school and did not know how to manage; but it was hoped as time passed on it would turn out alright, but much to the regret of the district, matters grew worse until two months had passed, when he gave up the school.

The parents and scholars join in wishing him success if he undertakes to teach again, but would advise him when taking a school to enquire as to the advancement in books of that school and to never make use of temper or slang in school again.

After being without school a week, Herbert Reed, his brother, came to finish the term. If he came with good intentions he had a queer way in showing it as it appeared his sole object was to have trouble with the older scholars and to try to have them turned out; but they would not allow themselves to be drawn into difficulty by him. He even went so far as to send them home, and from their classes without the least reason, to which the scholars will testify. Whether he wanted them out because he found himself deficient in their studies, we know not, but it was plain that he had something in view. Algebra had to be laid aside; he told the grammar class to diagram sentences; Had nothing to do with grammar, and in arithmetic he was nowhere. But the school went on until the fourth week, when, as he entered the school house, he claims he found the stovepipe taken down and his books scattered about the room, but as the windows were nailed down with two nails in each window, and an investigation showed that the sash was neither marred or the snow disturbed on the sills, we cannot see how anyone could get in without entering at the door, and the lock is not broken nor can it be taken off from the outside. It is evident who ever entered must have a key. He went to see the officers and told them he did not care to teach where he was served that way, and they told him he might as well quit for the children were not learning anything. Consequently we are without school again.

There seems to be false reports concerning the conduct of the scholars, such as boys drawing knives on teachers, and threatening to fight and throw teachers out of the school house, and causing more or less trouble and that some of the girls do just as they please, that no teacher ever could manage them, and many other rumors which we know to be the basest falsehoods, as the school has always had the name of being orderly and easily managed, which can be proven by several teachers that have taught the school term after term.

Hoping that the school will hereafter bear the name it had before and deserves of being one of the best district schools, if not one of the best in the county, we remain

Yours Truly,
TAXPAYERS.

Historic District Study Concludes

by Becky Doyle

Following two years of research and writing, the Manchester Historic District Study Group has presented its final draft to the Village Council.

Letters explaining the proposed ordinance, boundaries and goals have been sent to property owners within the tentative boundaries, and reactions have been generally favorable with some reservations.

"I don't see how it can hurt," said Harry Krauss, of Krauss Pharmacy. "What good are they (the downtown buildings) if we just let them go?"

While there is still a great deal of work to be done before the Council adopts the ordinance, including public hearings, the proposal states that any improvements made to the exterior of a building within the district would have to remain within guidelines that are designed to maintain the turn of the century motif.

Buzz Dean, owner of Corky D's and other property within the proposed district, voiced some concern about restricting business owners, saying, "We have not agreed with everything that has been handed to us by the village. I don't necessarily want it to be another Frankenthum."

Only future remodeling and new construction would be affected if the proposal were to be enacted. Existing buildings would not be required to change to conform to the code, and interiors would be exempt.

The proposal has been unanimously approved by the Planning Commission and is endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce. It is expected to be on the Village Council agenda sometime after the first of the year.

7 SHOPPING DAYS TIL CHRISTMAS

NCA Team Appointed To Evaluate MHS

Rod Morrison, Principal of Manchester High School, today announced that the North Central Association Michigan State Committee has appointed the team members who will be visiting Manchester High School on February 23rd, 24th and 25th. The team of members will be chaired by Mrs. Bonnie Riutta, Assistant Superintendent with the Brighton Area Schools.

NCA teams are composed of educators who volunteer their time and talents to help member institutions study and appraise the quality of their programs.

Principal Morrison explained that "NCA membership requires every school to undergo a complete evaluation once in each seven year cycle. The evaluation includes a comprehensive self-study by the school, then by a review by a team of outside educators." After the team's visit, the staff will consider the recommendations made by the team and the recommendations that resulted from the school's self-study. The staff will devise a schedule of steps toward improving those areas.

Principal Morrison called evaluation "a difficult but productive task. It's the kind of thing we all should do with our own personal life-plans every now and then."

The North Central Association, the nation's largest regional accrediting association, is a voluntary league of 5,000 schools and 900 colleges and universities within the 19 states served by the NCA. The Association works with the individual schools to improve the quality of education through a continuous process of evaluation and accreditation.

Chapel Fund Continues Successful Route

Dave Prohaska, a member of the Chelsea Lions Club and Rita Collins, sister of Jim Versailles, present Kathy Batell, Chaplain of Chelsea Community Hospital, with one of four braille books of the New Testament donated in memory of Jim Versailles. The Chelsea Lions Club raised money in Jim's memory and purchased the braille books for the Hospital's new Chapel.

Chelsea Community Hospital's campaign to raise funds for the construction of the new Chapel continues along its successful route. Just over $22,000.00 of the $30,000.00 goal has been raised. Over six hundred gifts have been received contributing to this amount. The campaign, which began on Sunday, October 18, designated Hospital Chapel Sunday, has involved clergy and churches from the Hospital's entire service area. In addition, individuals, businesses, industry and service organizations have been invited to participate in this campaign. Of particular interest to a number of donors are memorial opportunities such as chairs, artwork, and amenities to furnish the Chapel. Some memorial opportunities still exist. To date, seventeen churches have contributed in a joint effort towards the purchase of an altar for the Chapel.

Chelsea Community Hospital employees have been particularly responsive in contributing to the development of the Chapel. Reverend Kathy Batell, Chaplain and Campaign Chair, stated that renovation and construction of the area for the new Chapel is expected to begin around the first of the year. The campaign will continue until the goal is reached. For more information about the Hospital Chapel or Chapel campaign, contact Reverend Kathy Batell at the Chelsea Community Hospital.

Is your pet overweight? Just as with humans, this may be a sign of too much food, too little exercise, or a metabolic disorder. Obesity can shorten an animal's life and make it more susceptible to disease. Monitoring weight is an important element in regular veterinary care. Presented in the interest of better pet care by:

IRS Changes Rules Again!

The Internal Revenue Service this fall again changed the rules on how income tax is handled for generic commodity certificates issued as part of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) loans. But, according to Michigan Farm Bureau's agricultural economist, Robert Craig, this time the changes make sense.

"Last year, the word was you have additional profit to be taxed when you redeem a CCC loan. Now, you don't report that profit, but take it as basis in the certificate and report your gains as taxable income when the grain is sold," Craig said.

"The face value of the certificate received from government programs is always taxable the year you receive," he said. "If you sell that certificate to someone, that amount is also taxable income."

Concert At Emanuel Sunday, December 20

A pre-service concert will be heard at Emanuel United Church of Christ on Christmas Sunday December 20 at 8:40 and 10:10 a.m. A sampling of the Christmas music to be heard includes "purer Nobis Nascitur" by Jacob Van Eyck played by Eberhard Gerlach, "Ding Dong Merrily on High" played on the hammer dulcimer by Laura Lehman. A recorder ensemble will play a collection of English, Austrian and German carols. Some of the carols to be performed are: "There is a Flower Blooming" by Praetorius, "Coventry Carol," and "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen." The recorder ensemble includes: Laura Lehman, soprano, Don Callard, alto, Kelly Posey, tenor and Eberhard Gerlach, bass.

Laura Lehman formally studied cello, harp piano and violin. She taught herself many instruments: recorders, guitar, dulcimer, and other folk instruments. She is employed as a medical records secretary and quality assurance director for the Washtenaw Council on Alcoholism in Ann Arbor. Her career goal is to be an ordained minister in the Methodist Church. She received a B.A. in Studies in Religion, May 1987, from the University of Michigan.

Kelly Posey received a B.M. in flute in 1985 from the University of Michigan. The tenor recorder which she is playing today is loaned from the Stearns Collection at the University of Michigan. She is currently a library science student.

Don Callard is a librarian at the University of Michigan and performs at Academy of Early Music concerts in Ann Arbor and has recorded on the Froufrou label. He has recently contributed two articles on early Manchester to Family History Capers.

Eberhard Gerlach is a mathematician. He used to teach at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, Canada. Since 1971 he has been an Associate Editor for the journal Mathematical Reviews, whose editorial office is in Ann Arbor. In his free time he is an early music enthusiast. He plays recorders (and other Renaissance wood winds) and sings in the Early Music choir at the University of Michigan.

Special music will be presented during both services on December 20. Each service will begin with a professional: "The Babe of Bethlehem" sung by harpist, Laura Lehman. Psalm 19, "The Heavens Declare the Glory of God" will be sung by soprano, Sheryl Adrion and accompanied by harp. The offertory will be variations on "What Child Is This?" played by Don Callard, recorder and Marijim Thoene, harpsichord.

Emanuel's choir will sing Michael Praetorius's cantata, "Born Is a Child in Bethlehem" and will be accompanied by recorder ensemble and harpsichord. The work is an exciting portrayal of the birth of Christ. It is written in "concertato style" of the high Renaissance. A trio, comprised of Marie Garlick, Sheryl Adrion and Jeff Schmidt, sing in dialogue with the choir. This dialogue grows in intensity and excitement as the work progresses and ends in the joyful chorus, "Praise Him with singing O all ye Christians." The cantata will be conducted by Dr. Marijim Thoene.

The service will conclude with harpist, Laura Lehman playing "Silent Night."

Letter To The Editor

Music filled the air Monday night at the Christmas Concert held at Manchester High School. The program opened with the high school Brass Ensemble. They were great, very special. The program opened with the high school Brass Ensemble. They were great, very special and looked so sharp in their band uniforms. Then came the Middle School Band. They have a good size band. They were splendid. They looked like a burst of sunshine in their gold sweaters. Followed by the sixth grade band, they were outstanding featuring a woodwind section looking so smart in their yellow sweaters. Last but not least the Manchester High School Band. "The Greatest." They were so sharp and polished in their uniforms. The room was full of love and pride for all those students, you could feel it in the air. I wish the whole town could get so full of the Christmas Spirit and pride for these children that they would give them a place of their own where they can eat and rap like so many adult places they have in this town. These children are the future of Manchester. I am sorry to say I did not see or hear the Manchester Marching Band, but so many, many special people told me with pride how you received standing ovations from the crowd at your last three games. WOW! All I can say is when your hot, you hot, and that's what we have got, One Hot Marching Band. We are so proud of you.

Wrestling Report

by Dan Jordan

The Big Dutch have just finished a week full of wrestling. Although things could be better, we are happy with the results of the competition.

On Tuesday the team traveled to Napoleon. Wrestling a 4-way, including Jonesville, Stockbridge and Columbus Central, the team took their lumps. On Thursday, on Maroon turf, the Dutch hosted the Aggies of Dansville along with Clinton and Whitmore Lake. Manchester lost to Clinton and Dansville and beat the Trojans of Whitmore, 42-36.

The Young team split up on Saturday sending only 5, more experienced wrestlers to the Morenci Invitational. With some great efforts, Co-Captain Bud Ball placed 4th. Mark Fenelon won the tournament and has a perfect 13-0 record. After watching the tape, the younger team wrestling in Stockbridge at a J. V. tournament, looked very good. Gary Eversole took the young team and must have gave them raw meat on the trip up. Thanks for taking the team Gary and send a bill for the beef.

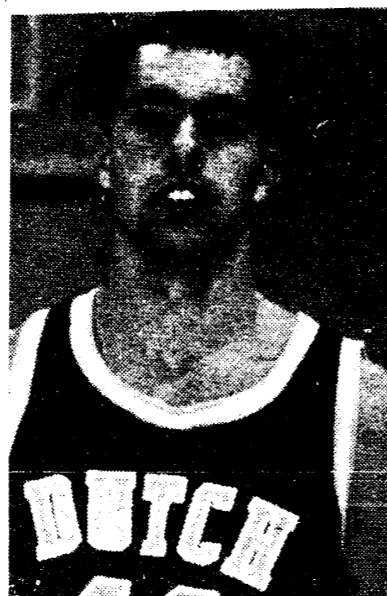

The team travels to Lincoln on Thursday and will break for Christmas after that. On January 6 the team hosts the Jayhawks of Vandercook. Come give the team a look.

Dutch Rally Falls Short

By Jon

Last Tuesday our Men's basketball season got under way as we met the Clinton Redskins.

The first period belonged to Clinton as they outscored us

Co-Captain Tom Mann High scorer with 19

10-16. In the next eight minutes, we fought back, outscoring them by four points, to trail by just two points at the intermission, 32-34. Things fell apart in the third stanza as the 'Skins added 18 points and we were silenced with nine. This left the tally at 41-52. We had only one period left, so our rally started. Unfortunately, time ran out before we could overtake them. The scoreboard read Clinton 67, Manchester 64.

Tom Mann led all scorers as he hit for 19, and Bryan Barnard popped for 13.

Our Little Dutch were victorious as they edged Clinton 71-68.

Senior Citizens Dinner

Brian Lantis and Mrs. Ethel Wheeler agree that the dinner is delicious!

Mrs. Ethel Brown is one of the first to sign the guest book at the Senior Citizens Dinner at Klager School.

Klager's third and fourth graders and their families were hosts and hostesses at the Senior Citizens Dinner.

Guests were entertained as children performed portions of their Christmas program. Then everyone got the "Grand Tour" of Klager school. Finally, dinner was served. The event was coordinated by Mrs. Mary Kuyda Shaw, Mrs. Carolyn Supers and Mrs. Holly Porter.

The month of December is a busy time of year for Santa's elves and the elves in Mrs. Groeb's first grade and Mrs. Little's second grade. Children had a busy afternoon at centers as they made gifts, decorations and other Christmas items.

Santa's Elves Are Busy

Elves Eli Bragg and Mikey Meranuck put the finishing touches on their hanging decorations.

Pursell Receives Award

A "Friend of Agriculture Award" was presented to Congressman Carl D. Pursell during the recent Michigan Farm Bureau Convention in Grand Rapids.

In recognition of his continuing efforts on behalf of farmers and his 100 percent voting record on farm bureau issues during the 99th Congress, Pursell was the honored guest at the AgriPac breakfast.

"It indeed is an honor to be recognized by the members of the Michigan Farm Bureau - I have appreciated their support and input on the important issues facing agriculture," Pursell said. "I truly believe that farmers are the backbone of this nation... they exemplify the entrepreneurial spirit and hardworking values upon which America was founded.

"I count it a privilege to be considered a Friend of Agriculture," the congressman said. "I have worked hard to protect the interests of farmers throughout my district, including bringing in Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mizell earlier this year to personally see the drought damage to many of the crops."

The annual Michigan Farm Bureau Convention was held on December 2-4. Almost 1,000 persons attended, including many from the Second District counties of Branch, Jackson, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Bread will retain its original quality for two to three months if left in the wrapper and stored in the home freezer.

Turkey Good Buy This Holiday Season

Unlike last year, turkey supplies for the upcoming holiday season are abundant and that will mean lower prices for consumers. Government statistics indicate the nation will enter the Thanksgiving-Christmas season with about three pounds of turkey in cold storage for every American - the highest ever. Retail prices are projected to be from 10 cents to 15 cents a pound below last year's prices.

Poultry consumption has steadily increased over the years and producers have expanded flocks in an effort to satisfy the demand.

Money Management

Simple Family Budgeting Can Keep You From Seeing Red

If even the thought of drawing up a family budget sends shivers down your spine, take heart. Budgeting seems to have the same effect on most people. But, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, following a few simple steps can make planning your budget much easier and less stressful.

The first thing to remember is you shouldn't try to put together a complete budget in one sitting - or in one day. Completing an accurate budget takes time. If you try to do it all at once, you're likely to get frustrated or tired, or both, and give up. Take your time.

Don't try to do it all yourself either. Your spouse and your children can, and probably should, pitch in. If you and your spouse don't normally share in the financial management of your family, now is a good time to start. In addition, your spouse will be able to gauge more accurately some expenses you don't normally handle, such as food shopping or car repairs.

Getting your children involved can be a good way to teach them the importance of money management and perhaps teach them the value of a dollar, especially if they see their clothing or entertainment expenses have consistently been higher than yours.

It's also important to have the family discuss and set financial priorities - the objectives of the budget. You may want to set aside money for a vacation home in the mountains while your spouse wants to enlarge your existing home.

When setting your financial objectives, don't forget to protect your children's future. Make sure you have adequate insurance - both life and disability. Losing a parent or spouse is catastrophic enough; your family shouldn't have to worry about money as well.

You shouldn't forget to protect your home and valuables either. A proper insurance policy can also help avoid a catastrophic financial loss.

And don't overlook your future. If your employer has no retirement plan or an inadequate one, budget IRA contributions for both you and your spouse. Depending on your situation, the IRA contributions may be tax deductible. Your golden years should be just that, golden.

Once you've got your budget down on paper, take a critical look at it. Have you budgeted any spending money for you and your family? If not, you are probably deluding yourself, especially if you normally keep "walking around" money in your pocket. Unless you can get used to not having it, you might as well budget for it.

Take a close look at your debt level as well. Are you spending more than 10 percent of your net income on consumer debt? If so, you may want to put away the credit cards and delay buying that new car until you pay off your existing debt. And the combination of rent or mortgage costs and debt payments generally shouldn't exceed 35 percent of your monthly salary. So if housing costs are high, your other credit costs should be kept low.

Make sure you make a provision for saving money. After all, that's one of the goals of the budget. Many financial planners recommend you save at least five to 10 percent of your income. In the future you may find you can actually save more.

You've made out the budget, defined the objectives and did it all with your spouse and the children. What's next? Well, you should try your budget on for size for a month or two. To do that, keep track of virtually every dollar you or your family spend. While that may sound both drastic and difficult, it is necessary.

Except for certain fixed costs like rent, mortgage payments and car payments, all of your budget figures are estimates. As such, they need to be tested for their accuracy. For example, you may not have accounted for the cost of your lunches at work or the occasional family trip to the pizza parlor.

Once you get used to it, recording daily expenses should only take a few minutes. You can make it even easier if you get receipts for everything you buy. And make sure your family is involved here, too. They probably all spend money and will need to keep track of it.

Don't worry about small change; round off all figures. An unaccounted dollar or two is not going to wreak havoc on your budget. The same is true if you forget an item here and there.

At the end of the month, CPAs recommend you compare your budget with actual expenses. You will invariably have expenses which were under or over-estimated. Adjust your budget accordingly and retest it for another month. If the actual and budget figures are a close match, congratulations. Your budget is firmly established. You should, however, periodically review the budget to make sure it reflects your current financial condition.

200th Carpool Lot Opened

Michigan has opened its 200th carpool parking lot. The state leads the nation in the number of public carpool lots. All but a few are operated by the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

The 200th lot is located at M-52 and Pleasant Lake Road in Washtenaw County.

Previously, cars were parking on the shoulder of the road, adjacent to a church. Upon request from the church, the township supervisor and an adjacent property owner, a lot with 15 spaces was constructed on church property. It provides for more orderly parking and also corrected the shining of headlights into a neighbor's home.

The lot was constructed at a minimal cost by the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Financial Aid Program Available

Each year the Manufacturers Bank of Saline supplies Manchester High School with a free computer program called S.N.A.P. (Student Need Advisory Program). This easy to use program will calculate accurately what a family will be expected to pay for a year of college for their son or daughter. This program follows the financial aid form of the College Scholarship Service. S.N.A.P. takes 20-30 minutes to run and requires no previous computer experience. It runs on

Greetings to All

Financial Aid Meeting Wednesday, January 13

For parents of seniors or college students it is once again time to begin thinking about filling out financial aid forms for college or vocational or technical school. This can be a very complex and time consuming process. To help parents with these forms a workshop will be held in the high school study auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 13, 1988.

All aspects of the financial aid process will be explained including the few significant changes from last year. A film strip will be presented which will show the different types of financial aid. The financial aid forms will be given out as well other written information. There will also be a discussion on guaranteed student loans and other types of loans. This meeting is open to both parents and students.

Christmas Meal

Chelsea Community Hospital will once again be offering a traditional Christmas meal to the patients and staff on Christmas Day. On Friday, December 25, 1987, all patients will be invited to bring a guest to the Hospital for either the noon or evening meal, compliments of Chelsea Community Hospital.

The meal entrees will include honey baked ham, stuffed chicken breast, yams, dressing, broccoli with hollandaise sauce, and an assortment of desserts and beverages.

The noon meal will be served between 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. and the evening meal will be served between 5:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Chelsea Community Hospital wishes to share the joy of the Holiday Season. While no one wants to be hospitalized during this time, the sharing of a meal may help to brighten the spirits of those who are.

"Tie One On" Suggested By The Season

There are big plans by Michigan law enforcement to "tie one on" this holiday season.

In an effort to keep the importance of driving sober on the minds of Michigan drivers, law enforcement agencies from across Michigan will join Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) in a holiday campaign to discourage drunk driving. This idea is to tie a bright red ribbon to the antenna or door handle of each patrol car during the Christmas and New Year's holiday season, indicating to other drivers that drunk driving is not acceptable behavior.

"If a driver plans to tie one on this season, we hope this is what they use," said State Police Director Colonel Rich Davis.

"The ribbons will serve as a reminder to motorists that drunk driving is a serious offense, one which all Michigan law enforcement agencies are trying to combat." Ribbons will appear on patrol cars from now until January 2, 1988.

Alcohol continues to be involved in nearly half of all fatal traffic crashes in the state. Last year, more than 800 people were killed in state alcohol-related traffic crashes.

The county Sheriffs are also taking an aggressive approach to the campaign. "Any program which helps stop drunk driving has the support of the Michigan Sheriffs' Association," said Bud

Of all the beautiful legends, of all beautiful verse, of all stories told in all the life of the whole world, there is no tale so wondrously beautiful as the story of the Christ-child. Every man and every woman must recall those long-ago, faraway days when first the story was told them, the story of the little babe in the manger, of the star of Bethlehem, with its rain of fire, the shepherds, the wise men and the doings of the angels. And with this memory come back other memories, mental visions of those whom we loved and who have passed away; of all the sweet joys of childhood, when the world was a playground instead of a workshop; of fond dreams and childish disappointments. Christmas day is a time when we must pause on the journey and rest by the wayside, sparing the golden hours for reverie and tasting the sweets of generosity and tender charity.

By all manner of judgement and beliefs we must concede that, so far as doing good is concerned, all days should be Christmas. To bestow neckties on Dec. 25, and cross words all the other 364 days of the year is to be like the common sinner who cheats his neighbor during the week and prays most energetically on the Sabbath. It isn't the gift, it's the love and thoughtfulness that prompt it. The woman who gives because she feels it a duty is practising deceit, and belittling herself! If one wishes not to bestow a holiday remembrance let one at least have the courage of one's feeling and sentiments and be true and honest about it. No human soul wants a present that is given grudgingly.

According to our way of thinking it is a beautiful thing that once a year, one may have the privilege of doing something nice for those to whom one is devoted.

The pleasure is so great that on Dec. 26 one should decide to put a little of the Christmas spirit into daily existence.

Perhaps you don't know it, but it is true nevertheless that the more you give the more you will have. There is certainly some great, wonderful power that takes away from those who are grasping and selfish, and who helps along all those whose hearts swing true.

There is such a keen pleasure in doing for others that it inspires one to work, to greater endeavor and to better purposes and higher ambitions. What is there in other earthly things half so satisfying?

The woman who buys pretty clothes has the satisfaction of looking at her reflection in a mirror, but the satisfaction is as shadowy, as flitting, as unreal as the vision she beholds. The woman who fills her house with beautiful furnishings rejoices for a certain time and then the beautiful things lose in interest. The woman whose bank account grows with the years knows that she is safe from poverty, but you can't get any more heart warmth out of a bank book than if it were an icicle.

Let me tell you something. It is in her heart that you will find genuine contentment. No matter what horrible anxieties she has suffered, what dreadful troubles she has dragged wearily through, what pain and cares have been hers, she is the one who knows the calm, sweet comfort that comes when she looks out into a gray sky and realizes that she has done good for some one, that she has brought a smile to quivering lips, a light to discouraged eyes, life to a heart without hope.

She doesn't have to wait until Christmas. Every day is that-and
