N.H.S. Raises Funds

Al Strieter, Jennifer Barnard and Stewart Stover.

The Manchester High School chapter of the National Honor Society (N.H.S.) recently held a SAVE-A-SWEETHEART CAMPAIGN sponsored by the American Heart Association (A.H.A.). The N.H.S. students sponsored a dance February 5, with a Black and White theme to help emphasize the importance of not smoking or starting to smoke. Seniors Kris Miller and Tracy Day were co-chairpersons of this event. The chapter was able to raise four hundred fifty dollars for the American Heart Association. President Jennifer Barnard, along with Director of Student Services, Al Strieter presented the check to American Heart Association representative Stewart Stover.

To become a member of the National Honor Society a student must first have a Grade Point Average (G.P.A.) of 3.25 or better in the fall of their junior or senior year. These students are given a packet of information, informing them of the selection process and various forms they are to fill out for each member of the selection committee. These forms must then be returned by a specific due date. The selection committee consists of five teachers from different contest areas, including the high school counselor. The National Honor Society advisor is not a part of the selection committee, however, coordinates the efforts of the selection committee. Students are judged on the basis of four equally important qualities. These principles are scholarship, leadership, service and character which the National Honor Society was founded upon.

The Manchester N.H.S. chapter is a very active organization sponsoring several activities throughout the year such as Senior Citizen's Chore Day (Fall and Spring), Annual M.H.S. Blood Drive, tutoring services, Save-A-Sweetheart Campaign and the Muscular Dystrophy Association Shamrock Campaign.

Registration Continues

Any girl or boy, 5-16 years old, interested in playing in an organized ball league this summer should complete the registration form available at the local school offices, to be eligible for the upcoming team drafts. The leagues start with Pee-Wee Tee Ball for youngsters 5-7 years old and continues up through traveling leagues for 13-16 year old boys and girls. We hope to have youngsters registered and placed on teams by the end of April, so practice can begin in May.

Parents with questions concerning the registration process or league play should contact Jim Fielder at 428-7150 after 4:00 p.m.

Post Office Adds Retail Hours

The cost of mailing a First-Class letter will rise to 25-cents beginning Sunday, April 3, but Detroit General Manager/Postmaster John M. Horne urges customers not to wait until the last minute to make their new stamp purchases.

To assist customers, post offices in the 480, 481, 482 and 483 Zip-Code areas will remain open two additional hours on Thursday, March 31, and Friday, April 8 from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

"We have ample supply of the new 'E' stamps available for sale at all post offices, stations and branches," Horne said. "The stamp has a postage value of 25 cents, the new First-Class rate, and will remain on sale until we receive new dominated postage that conforms with the new rate. Also, we have a good supply of one-, two- and three-cent stamps that can be used with customer's existing stocks of 22-cent stamps to meet the new First-Class rate."

The increase for First-Class Mail represents a 13.6 percent rise while the cost of second-class mail (magazines, newspapers) will rise 18.1 percent, bulk regular third-class will go up 24.9 percent and parcel post will increase 14.8 percent.

"In the three years since the last rate increase, the Postal Service, like most businesses, has experienced rising costs on many fronts—operations, transportation, supplies, labor and health and retirement benefits," he explained.

"For example, our delivery network has expanded rapidly since 1985 to reach a growing number of businesses and households created in the strong economy. Nationally, we're delivering to some seven million more addresses, which requires putting 12,000 more letter carriers on the streets each day," Horne said.

Recreation Task Force

The monthly meeting of the Recreation Task Force met at the home of Bill and Diane Schwab March 10th.

Task Force committee Pete and Kathy Hampton have organized two successful Mount Brighton ski trips. January 23, 41 skiers boarded the bus and had a wonderful experience. February 27th, approximately 50 young people, some first timers, exposed themselves to fun, fresh air and falls. The Task Force appreciates the efforts of the Manchester School staff that help make activities such as this a new experience for many of our youth. Patti Swaney reported Manchester Day Camp will be

Bloodmobile Report

When the Red Cross Bloodmobile came to Manchester March 21, the area greeted it with a turn-out of 155 units of blood from the 164 donors who responded. It was a very successful day; well over the original quota of 120 that had been raised to 150 when registration ran high.

There turned out to be nineteen gallon donors by the time all the lists were checked. Do let the coordinator, Claire Reck 428-8852, know if your name is missing on this list. The highest pins were for 4-gallons - five of them: Arie Knul, John Bihlmeyer, Daniel Monahan, David Ahrens and Jack Lockridge. Eight 3-gallon badges went to: Robert Padley, Richard Marsh, David Goodrich, Christine Brown, Marjorie Scully, Michael Schlosser, Ron Fielder and Dr. Bruce Bates. There were two 2-gallon pins for: Jeffery Schaffer and Martha Wenk, and four 1-gallons to Clayton Fritz, Michael Mazur, Gary Anderson and John Savage.

As is the custom the five major industries in Manchester responded by sending donor employees on company time. Johnson-Controls had 22 donors, Vickers-Double A had 10, Manchester Stamping Corporation, 9 with Pinnacle Engineering and Manchester Tool and Die 3 each.

Thanks to the recruiters, seven of the dozen churches in the area accounted for 111 of the total number of donors: Bethel United Church of Christ, 20; Emanuel United Church of Christ, 30; Faith Community Church, 5; Iron Creek Community, 2; Manchester United Methodist Church, 19; Saint Mary's, 30; and Sharon United Methodist, 5. There were 13 men and women who gave for the Manchester Blood Bank.

It takes a lot of volunteers to operate the Bloodmobile along with the professional staff from the Southeastern Michigan Blood Services Center. When Manchester United Methodist Church hosted this clinic Mrs. Vada Ridge was Chairman-of-the-Day. Her staff included: Pat Post, Mrs. William Hanks, Mrs. Hazel Walker, Mrs. Herman Boelter, Mrs. Delbert Ludwick, Alfred Sannes, Mrs. Jean Wheeler, Mrs. Norma Dennis, Mrs. Floyd Mahrie, Mrs. Vickie Hanson, Mrs. Alfred Sannes, Mrs. Nellie Uphouse and Mrs. Ruth Oates. Posters and signs were made and put up by Mrs. Ben Creason, Mrs. Don Fowler and Tom Walton.

John Swainson Michigan Week Chairman

The appointment of former Governor John B. Swainson as State Chairman of Michigan Week 1988 has been announced by Ernest C. Browne, Jr., President of the Board of Trustees of the Greater Michigan Foundation. The 1988 celebration will take place May 20-28 and will be the state's 35th. Michigan Week is sponsored annually by the Greater Michigan Foundation, a non-profit civic organization dedicated to educating Michigan's citizens about the state's historical, cultural and natural attributes.

John Swainson, a Manchester resident, is currently President of the Michigan Historical Commission. Mr. Browne said about Swainson's appointment: "The Foundation is delighted that Governor Swainson has agreed to accept the 1988 Michigan Week Chairmanship. John works unceasingly with citizens in all parts of Michigan to encourage various civic projects. We are privileged to have his support."

Jan, Cindy and helpers are serving roast leg of lamb on Thursday noon this week. Come early for exercise, stay for bingo at 12:30 and keep your spirits up thinking up that neat little April Fools surprise for a friend. The best one may be arriving an hour late for church on Sunday if I forget to set the clock ahead (and on Easter, too). Have put it in red ink on the calendar. Enjoy Easter with friends and family.

On Monday, April 4, you'll need to go along aqua-cising to work off all those goodies the bunny brought. Let's get in the swim, the bus leaves at 10. Give our driver, Howard Parr a ring at 428-9233 and try something entirely different. We say 'we needed that' after each session, come along.

Tuesday, April 5: Oven fried chicken is featured at noon lunch. Center activity which follows will be cutting blocks for lap robes, but come over for some fellowship if that's not your bag.

Thursday, April 7: Exercise at 11 (again Howard displays his talents by accompanying the marchers on the piano, thanks). This is Birthday Bash Day in honor of all you who were born in April. Call 428-8359 the day before, or before 10:45 on Thursday to the kitchen at 428-7630 to make reservations. April folks 55 and over are urged to come and enjoy your free meal, this is your birthday party, please come for ham loaf, cake and bingo which follows.

Looking ahead: Seniors will leave by bus at 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 9, for Chelsea Hospital's yearly Project Health-O-Rama. Free health screenings are available on most check-ups, although blood panel chemistry, colo-rectal kit and a new one, pap smear have charges. You must be 18 years or older and no advanced registration is required. They caution that health screenings do not take the place of your annual doctor visitation. For further information you may call 475-3935.

Chore Day by members of the National Honor Society for needed help to seniors will be held on Saturday, April 16, beginning at 9:00 a.m. Call Rubena Boelter at 428-8655 to be listed for your chores to be done. These kids do a great job.

When Will The Forsythia Blossom?

Kimberly DeVries and Kenny Bordine, students in Mrs. Savage's 1st grade at Klager School, are anxiously waiting for the forsythia to blossom.

On Monday, March 21, Mrs. Savage brought some forsythia from her yard. In Science, the children learned that the forsythia is a very pretty yellow spring shrub, but that it is too cold yet for the buds to open outside. By bringing the branches inside the buds can be forced to open.

Hospital Offers Health-O-Rama

Project Health-O-Rama will be offered at Chelsea Community Hospital again this year. It will be held on Saturday, April 9, 1988, at the Hospital from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

A variety of free health screenings will be available to adults age 18 and over. A number of health professionals from the Hospital service area will be assisting in the free screenings. Screenings will include: height and weight, vision, blood pressure, hearing, pulmonary function testing, breast exam, nutrition and medication counseling. In addition, glaucoma screening will be offered by Dr. Cheryl Huey; oral/dental screening will be offered by Drs. Sally Stommen, David Swan, Clare Warren, Ron Biedron, Bruce Bates, and Barb Wher; skin cancer testing will be offered by Dr. Charles Ellis. Colo-rectal screening kits will be available for $3.00. A blood panel chemistry will be offered which includes screening for protein, cholesterol, clacium, diabetes, gout, kidney disease, liver disease and anemia for $10.00. Those interested in blood panel chemistry should fast for four hours before the test. Prostrate and testicular examinations will be offered by Dr. Leonard Wolin. Pap smears will be available for $5.00. Health screening counseling and summary will be provided by University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea physicians and Drs. Steve Yarows and Martin Gleespen.

Project Health-O-Rama is a community service which encourages participants to recognize the need to assume responsibility for their own health. It is sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, Channel 7 WXYZ-TV, and United Health Organization. People with abnormal test results are referred to their health care provider to receive further evaluation. Health screening is not meant to replace a physical examination by a health care provider. It is, however, good medicine to use a screening test so that if a condition is developing, there may be a chance to detect and treat it early.

No advance registration is required. Take advantage of this special event offered by Chelsea Community Hospital. For more information, call 475-3935.

Anniversary Cookbook Spans 75 Years

This illustration of croquettes appeared in an ad dated 1926, a time when it was fashionable to shape croquettes into cones before deep frying them. The updated recipe below calls for shaping the croquette mixture into patties for pan frying.

In celebration of the 75th anniversary of the first pure corn oil, the makers of Mazola oil have produced a 32-page cookbook titled, "75 Years of Good Eating." Recipes in the book are based on Mazola ads and cookbooks throughout the years. A free copy of this culinary keepsake will be available with a purchase of the oil at supermarkets in September. Or send 50¢ for postage and handling to Anniversary Cookbook, Dept. MA-C, Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.

SALMON OR TUNA CROQUETTES

|--|--------------------------------------|
| 1 can (1 1/2 oz) salmon or 2 cans (7 oz each) tuna, drained and flaked | 2 tablespoons lemon juice |
| 2 eggs, slightly beaten | 3 tablespoons finely chopped parsley |
| 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, divided | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1/2 cup finely chopped onion | 1/2 teaspoon pepper |
| | 1 cup corn oil |

In medium bowl, toss together salmon or tuna, eggs, 1/2 cup of the bread crumbs, onion, lemon juice, parsley, salt and pepper until well blended. Shape into 4 (about 3/4-inch thick) patties. Coat with remaining 1/2 cup bread crumbs. Place on waxed paper-lined plate. Refrigerate 1 hour. In large skillet, heat corn oil over medium heat. Add patties. Cook, turning once, 10 minutes or until browned. Drain on paper towels. Makes 4.

WE HAVE THE LATEST IN 4 WHEEL ALIGNMENT EQUIPMENT.
6 IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT WHEEL ALIGNMENT

- Extend tire life
It's happened to almost everyone: buy a set of tires, and before long one or two tires are wearing out before the others: On today's cars, this applies to the rear tires as well as the front tires. The most common cause of unusual tire wear is improper alignment. Over the years, a properly aligned vehicle can save hundreds of dollars in tire wear.
- Spot problems early
A suspension system inspection is an inherent part of the wheel alignment operation. This gives the mechanic a chance to spot worn parts that would affect vehicle alignment. It also gives him an opportunity to spot small problems before they become big, costly ones.
- Ensure safe driving
A periodic four wheel alignment makes sure your car handles properly and, more importantly, provides an opportunity for inspecting the suspension system for defective parts. In some ways, the safe driving aspect may be the most important benefit of wheel alignment.
- Stretch fuel mileage
Fuel mileage increases as rolling resistance decreases. Proper wheel alignment sets all four wheels parallel which, in turn, assures minimum rolling resistance. This plus proper tire inflation provide top efficiency for maximum mileage.
- Improve handling
Does your car pull to one side, does the steering wheel vibrate, do you have to constantly move the steering wheel to keep your car traveling straight ahead? These and other handling problems can generally be corrected by four wheel alignment.
- Get a better ride
Proper alignment helps the front and rear suspension systems do their job. With all the system components in proper relation, road shock is efficiently absorbed, so the vehicle is more stable, and you get a smoother ride.

Pets

If your pet is overweight, it could simply be due to too much food and not enough exercise. On the other hand, it could indicate a metabolic or other disorder. Your veterinarian can evaluate weight at the animal's next examination. Presented in the interest of better pet care by:

Young Authors

Proud authors, Tiffany Ridenour, Aaron Millheim, Andrea Colatskie, Jenny Messing, Suzanne Lowery, Lea Taddonio, Stacey Burmeister and Sarah Ahrens share their books with the 1st graders in Mrs. Gregerson's room.

The students in Mrs. Mary Kuyda Shaw's third and fourth grade classroom recently completed their own books. Each book followed a pattern, such as the old classic, This Is The House That Jack Built. Students illustrated each page in their books also.

Reducing Deficit Is Shared Responsibility

The federal deficit and the entire budget process was on the minds of not only the group of 125 Michigan farmers who came to Washington, D.C. to discuss that issue, but their Congressmen as well. During breakfast meeting discussions between Michigan Farm Bureau and county Farm Bureau legislative leaders and members of Michigan's Congressional delegation on March 15, U.S. Representatives told the farmers that reducing the deficit was a shared responsibility.

"The budget process is a disaster and needs enormous reform," said Congressman Carl Pursell. "The Congress cannot physically discipline itself to a timetable to get 13 appropriation bills on the President's desk by October 1. That's really the gravity of the situation and I hope the next president will vow to never sign a continuing resolution again, because it was a disaster for the nation. The continuing resolution which we voted on at 1 a.m. on a Sunday morning included that disastrous diesel fuel issue that you're upset about."

Congressman Bob Traxler said that the federal deficit reduction has to be a responsibility shared by Congress, the president, and the people of the United States. He pointed to a nationwide poll which surfaced the federal deficit as the major issue facing the United States. The poll also found that a majority of the respondents wanted neither budget cuts nor increased taxes to reduce the deficit.

"If the Congress is confused, it's because we're following the people," Traxler said. "Some-where out of all this confusion, we have to find a way because we cannot continue to do business as we have in terms of that deficit."

"It's going to require an understanding and a willingness on the part of the American public to say we're all part of the problem, we must all be part of the fair and equitable solution. With that understanding, there will be the political will. There is already the desire," he said.

Describing the budget reconciliation as "nothing but pain and agony," Traxler reminded the farmers that another billion dollars will be coming out of the agricultural budget in 1989. "I don't know where it's going to come, but it's going to come, because we're directed and mandated to do that," he said.

Congressman Bob Davis also called attention to the need for a partnership in tackling the budget deficit problem.

"It must be partnership between Congress and the people back home recognizing that you can't continue to ask us, as your elected officials, to do more for you and then on the other hand, expect us to balance the budget," he said. "It is important that we spread that message throughout the country. Without a partnership between the people back home and those of us who serve you here, we will never be able to balance that budget."

Manchester Recreation Task Force

August 9th, 10th and 11th, at Carr Park. The theme is Back to the Future. Manchester Recreation Task Force is working with Huron Valley Girl Scouts to sponsor this camp. More information and registration are forth coming. Scholarships will be available for children who are in need of financial assistance to attend camp.

Rob Gillow reported that the Sportsman Club are preparing for clean-up of the archery range May 1st.

Manchester Recreation Task Force will organize a booth for the Street Fair August 13th. Leonard and Lucile Bruner will develop a questionnaire to be used in the booth.

The Task Force wants to be on record stating the discouragement of the use of alcohol at community organized activities.

Manchester Recreation Task Force will participate in the Manchester Community Fair Parade. Rob Gillow will check on the possibility of sponsoring the Dunk Tank at the Fair.

The Task Force meetings are open to the public. Several volunteer positions are available to anyone interested in and willing to help with co-ordination of recreational activities for our community enjoyment.

How should we use our gazebo in the park? Carr Park, how, when and what? How about Family Nights? Family Camp? Maybe? Community Band? How creative can we be?

Next meeting is April 14th. Come and bring/make/meet a new friend. For more information call Bill or Diane Schwab; 428-8976; Leonard or Lucile Bruner, 428-8605 or Peter or Kathy Hampton, 428-7272.

Farmers Speak-Out To Congressmen

The 125 Michigan farmers who are in Washington, D.C. this week as part of Michigan Farm Bureau's annual grassroots lobbying mission, hosted their U.S. Representatives at a breakfast on March 15. In his greeting to the Congressmen, Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie made it clear that the farmer delegation came to the nation's capital not for financial aid, but for opportunities to strengthen their industry.

"Traditionally when Farm Bureau comes to town, what we ask for is an opportunity to visit with you about how we can make our industry better, how we can make the climate we operate in, and the markets we function in, more equitable," Laurie told the members of Michigan's congressional delegation. "We come to visit with you about how we can make the rules and regulations that guide us fairer and how we can be a stronger part of the total economy."

"This is the difference between us and some of the other folks that share the transportation into town when we come to visit. Many of them come to Washington to ask for direct financial aid. We came to talk about issues like the diesel fuel tax that really puts us into a more uncompetitive position. We came to talk about issues like environmental questions, because we find ourselves being confronted daily with new concerns by environmentalists who don't understand what agriculture is all about and then try to give us rules and regulations that we find impossible to function within.

"We came to visit about issues like the trade discussions and the GATT negotiations where agriculture is a key player and issues dealing with labor, an important agricultural commodity. No one is more concerned about the people who work for them than our farmers. Because they work side-by-side with these people, they want to pay them well, they want to give them the opportunities that they get as part of the labor force in any other occupation. The uniqueness of our industry gives us the opportunity to hire some people who need work while they're training and preparing themselves for perhaps something better in their industry.

"These are all issues that we're concerned about and they are issues you can help us with. They are issues that if we develop proper solutions, we can make agriculture an even stronger part of the U.S. economy, the Michigan economy, our local economies, and just make our communities a better place to live," Laurie said. Laurie told the Congressmen that the farmers in Washington, D.C. represented the members "back home" in their respective counties and that part of their responsibilities was to share the response of their elected representatives with county Farm Bureau boards and Community Action Groups.

Optimistic About Diesel Fuel Tax

Director of the American Farm Bureau Federation Washington office, John Datt, told a group of Michigan farmers meeting in the nation's capital March 15, that he is optimistic that legislation repealing the diesel fuel excise tax for on-farm use will be passed by April 1.

"Our goal was to have 218 members of the House of Representatives and 51 in the Senate by March 15, who would co-sponsor legislation to repeal the diesel fuel tax provision that was passed last December as part of the budget reconciliation," Datt told the members of the Michigan Farm Bureau delegation.

"We have achieved our goal.

We're hopeful that by next week, given this majority of the House and Senate, we will have bills through both houses. We're optimistic. We think we've got better than a 50/50 chance that by the first of April, we'll have legislation passed that will repeal the diesel fuel tax provisions for on-farm use."

Datt urged the Michigan farmers to encourage co-sponsorship of their representatives who had not yet done so and to ask those who were co-sponsors to talk to other members of the House leadership to make sure that action is taken on the issue.

"We must have action before April 1, because the Internal Revenue Service has said 'this is a law that we can't do anything about delaying,' so we must do something in terms of legislative action," Datt said.

Unless action is taken before April 1, farmers will have to pay the 15 cent per gallon excise tax on their diesel fuel purchases and then file for a refund or credit later. It is estimated that this will be an annual $420 million collection from farmers nationwide. When the Michigan farmers arrived in Washington, both of their Senators, Levin and Riegle, and nine Representatives, Davis, Henry, Kildee, Pursell, Schutte, Traxler, Upton, Wolpe, and Carr were already co-sponsors for the repeal legislation.

Sweet Syrup Signals The Coming of Spring

Even though the robin is Michigan's state bird, to those familiar with the change of seasons here, it is not the surest harbinger of spring. The annual tapping of the sugar maple tree is an absolute guarantee that winter is on the way out and spring is advancing day by day.

It's the combination of warm days and frosty nights that triggers the annual flow of sap that gets, somehow, from the maple tree to the breakfast table. Maple syrup season, which is often referred to as "the beginning of the end of winter," whirrs into Michigan in March and April each year.

Nearly 1.6 million gallons of maple syrup are produced in the United States annually—almost all of which comes from states in the Northeast and Midwest. Michigan, which produces nearly 100,000 gallons of syrup annually, ranks third to fifth among maple syrup producers, depending upon the weather.

Maple syrup-yielding trees are found virtually throughout Michigan. Clusters of maple trees (known as "Sugarbushes" in the industry) are found wherever heavy soil exists. This means you might find a sap-yielding maple tree right in your own backyard.

The thick, rich substance is dear to the hearts of many Michiganders because of its history as one of the oldest agricultural crops in the state.

Since the discovery of this sweet commodity by native Americans—and then the pioneers, who used maple tree sap to make sugar—Michiganders have found hundreds of ways to utilize maple syrup: in cookies, candies, ice-cream toppings, cakes, and in its traditional role as waffle and pancake topper, to name a few.

Though the season does not promise to be an easy one for dieters, maple syrup has remained one of the most popular natural food products. The syrup contains no additives, no preservatives, and is 100 percent pure!

While many outdoor enthusiasts look forward to the season as a signal of the start of spring, and while connoisseurs look forward to the natural sweetness of syrup, others love the excitement involved in tree-tapping. Hundreds of amateur tree-tappers take to the forests or parks, with bucket and sap-tapping manual in hand. They join an army of professionals who produced more than 100,000 gallons in Michigan last year.

A single maple tree may yield a total of 10-12 gallons of sap each season, but the sap must be boiled down taking 35-40 gallons of sap to produce 1 gallon of maple syrup.

Festivals and tree-tapping demonstrations are held in honor of the maple syrup season. Two of the best known are at Vermontville and Shepherd, April 22-24. The annual "sap runs" are celebrated with parades, art shows, food festivals, carnivals, contests, and tree-tapping demonstrations. At Sheperd, stagecoach and helicopter rides are a special added attraction. The two festivals have been around for a combined total of 78 years.

In Benzie County, maple syrup makers are busy at work producing syrup for Michigan Maple Syrup Week, March 20-26. Here, the maple trees are blessed, special activities are begun, and visitors are able to enjoy some of their favorite maple-syrup goodies.

And although we tend to think of maple syrup in terms of breakfast, festivals, and parades, it's serious business to many Michigan farmers and economists: the source of $25 million for the Michigan economy last year.

Pursell To Co-Chair

Congressional delegations from the seven finalist states vying for the proposed Superconducting Super Collider (SSC) are forming a task force to bolster support for SSC funding.

In a letter to key members from the seven delegations, task force co-chairmen Carl D. Pursell, R-Mich., and Richard Durbin, D-Ill., have called for a March 23, meeting to outline strategy. "Despite the importance of this project to our nation's scientific and technological leadership, members of the House Appropriations Committee will be under great pressure to cut the President's SSC request to meet the deficit reduction targets established by the Budget Summit Agreement," the letter states.

"We believe it would be helpful if key members of the House from these states met to coordinate their efforts to assure that this proposal is given a high priority by the House Appropriations Committee," the letter states.

The President has requested $363 million for the SSC in FY 1989, according to Pursell, who is a member of the House appropriations subcommittee which oversees SSC funding.

"Unfortunately, the Department of Energy hasn't done a real good job in convincing members of Congress about the merits of this project," he said.

"As a result, congressional support dwindled when the list of finalist states was announced and likely will dwindle further once a final site is selected," Pursell said.

In a recent appearance before Pursell's Subcommittee (Energy & Water Development), Energy Secretary John Herrington agreed that his department needs to do a better job of salesmanship if it intends to see SSC funding.

"Much of the emphasis has been placed on the site selection process rather than the benefits of the project," Pursell said. "As I told Secretary Herrington, my fear is we will end up with a site to build the SSC and no funds for construction."

Money Management

The Audit Lottery

You finger the envelope gingerly - not quite sure what to do. You already got your refund check. Yesterday was your birthday, but it's not likely the Internal Revenue Service is sending you a birthday card. Should you open it now or wait for your spouse to get home? Curiosity gets the best of you. You sit down in your favorite chair, open the envelope and read the letter. Then, like every other taxpayer who has ever received an audit notice, you ask, "Why me?"

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, your chance of being selected for an audit depends a lot on how your financial profile compares with that of other taxpayers with similar income and deductions.

The greatest bulk of audits are selected through a computer screening process called DIF - that stands for the Discriminant Income Function system. The DIF is a computer program of mathematical formulas which is designed specifically to select those returns that are most likely to contain tax errors. The DIF compares your deductions, credits and exemptions with the norm for taxpayers with similar levels of income, and assigns points to certain entries on chances of being audited. Returns are then screened by IRS examiners and those that have the highest probability of error are selected for audits.

There are certain risk factors that increase your chance of being audited. By far, the most likely item to trigger an audit is a claim of losses through a tax shelter the IRS considers abusive. In fact, if you have invested in such a shelter, you might as well start preparing your defense.

Generally speaking, the larger your income, the better your chance of being chosen for an audit. (Taxpayers with income over $50,000 are more likely to be audited, probably because this group is more likely to claim the kinds of questionable tax write-offs the IRS is on the lookout for.) Taxpayers whose occupations cause them to get paid mostly in cash also have a better than average chance of being audited.

Claiming deductions that are higher than the average for those in your income bracket is likely to raise a red flag at the IRS. For example, if you make $30,000 a year and claim a $5,000 deduction to your favorite charity, the IRS may very well be skeptical, yet the same deduction made by someone earning $120,000 a year may go unnoticed. If you have deductions that may seem out of the ordinary to the IRS, some tax experts recommend you attach documentation to support your figures.

There are certain other deductions that the IRS likes to examine. Cash charitable contributions and large casualty losses attract the attention of the IRS because they are difficult to prove. Depreciation and bad debts are also likely targets because the IRS feels that taxpayers often don't understand the technicalities involved. Claims for what the IRS considers unreasonable business and entertainment expenses might also generate some unwanted correspondence.

The IRS also looks carefully at the returns of taxpayers who file Schedule C for unincorporated businesses, particularly if that is the primary source of their income.

And last, but not least, illegal tax protest can almost guarantee you an appointment with your local auditor.

Computer-selected returns account for about 75 percent of all returns audited. The remaining 25 percent come from other sources. Your return may be selected for examination because of a related audit. If your business partner or ex-spouse is being audited, this could direct the IRS to your return.

Some taxpayers are audited as a result of a special IRS target. If the IRS feels that a particular area of tax law is being abused, they are inclined to review the returns of affected taxpayers. A deduction for a home office was a recent target of the IRS.

Your selection of a tax preparer may also have a bearing on your chance of being audited. Should the name of the preparer you select be on the list of questionable preparers, you may have to defend the numbers on your return.

In the last few years, the IRS has become much more efficient at matching information returns filed by employers, banks, dividend-paying corporations and government agencies with the amounts reported on taxpayers' returns. An inconsistency is likely to set off bells and sirens at the IRS.

Perhaps the most dreaded of all audits, at least in terms of time and trouble, are those conducted under the Taxpayer Compliance Measurement Program (TCMP). The TCMP is a statistical measurement tool the Internal Revenue Service uses to establish a profile of the prevailing practices of taxpayers. The program attempts to determine a reasonable range of deductions for taxpayers with certain incomes. This information is then used to design the DIF computer formula which screens returns. In fact, in reality the TCMP is probably more like a census than an audit. It is conducted once every three years and generally involves some 50,000 taxpayers. The taxpayers selected are chosen entirely at random and represent all income levels.

While other audits generally examine only a few items, TCMPs scrutinize the taxpayer's return and require line-by-line accounting and complete documentation. By complete, we mean complete. If your filing status indicates you're married, you will be asked to produce your marriage license. If you show three dependent children, the IRS will want to see a birth certificate for each.

If you are unlucky enough to win the audit lottery, you may want to work with a tax professional who can help prepare you for the audit itself.

School Reminds Parents About Tornado Procedures

As tornado season approaches, the Manchester Community Schools would like to remind parents and students of the procedures which will be followed in the event of tornado danger.

The United States Weather Bureau has divided tornado signals into two classifications. The first is called a tornado WATCH. This watch is issued where tornados may occur during the next several hours. The size of the average tornado WATCH area is approximately 100 miles wide and 300 miles long. The second signal is defined as a tornado WARNING. This means that a tornado has actually been sighted in the area or that its presence has been detected by radar.

If a tornado WATCH is broadcast before 1:30 p.m. all children will be sent home. If the tornado WATCH is broadcast after 1:30 p.m. the children will be dismissed at their regular time.

If a tornado WARNING is issued, students will not be dismissed from school. If the tornado WARNING remains in

Yesterday morning Ida Aichele received a letter from Mrs. Goodyear from which the Enterprise is permitted to make extracts as follows:

Dorp, Logan Co., Neb.
Feb. 24, 1889.

Dear Friend: Your welcome letter received. Mr. Goodyear's troubles are over.

"He has been sick ever since last October. He worked to hard in having and taking care of cattle; took cold and came down with Rheumatism and terrible cough, got better and went to work some again; then he had chills and fever and several other complaints, which set in so that he has been a great sufferer. At five minutes to one o'clock on Sunday morning, the 24th, he died. I have been up with him over six weeks most of the time, and not undressed in a long time, so I am nearly worn out."

"I did not give him up until two days ago. He seemed to think he would get well again, but could not talk to us on the last day and night. Very often said he would soon see dear Ettie, and said he could see her calling him to come to her, and charged us over and over again to send him to Manchester to be buried with her. We shall have him sent there, and hope our dear friends will do the best they can for us. I am not able to go myself, and I cannot tell yet how we shall manage. I am nearly worn out."

"Love to you all, knowing you
