

Death of Henry Goodyear

all will sympathize with me in my loss. Your friend in sorrow.

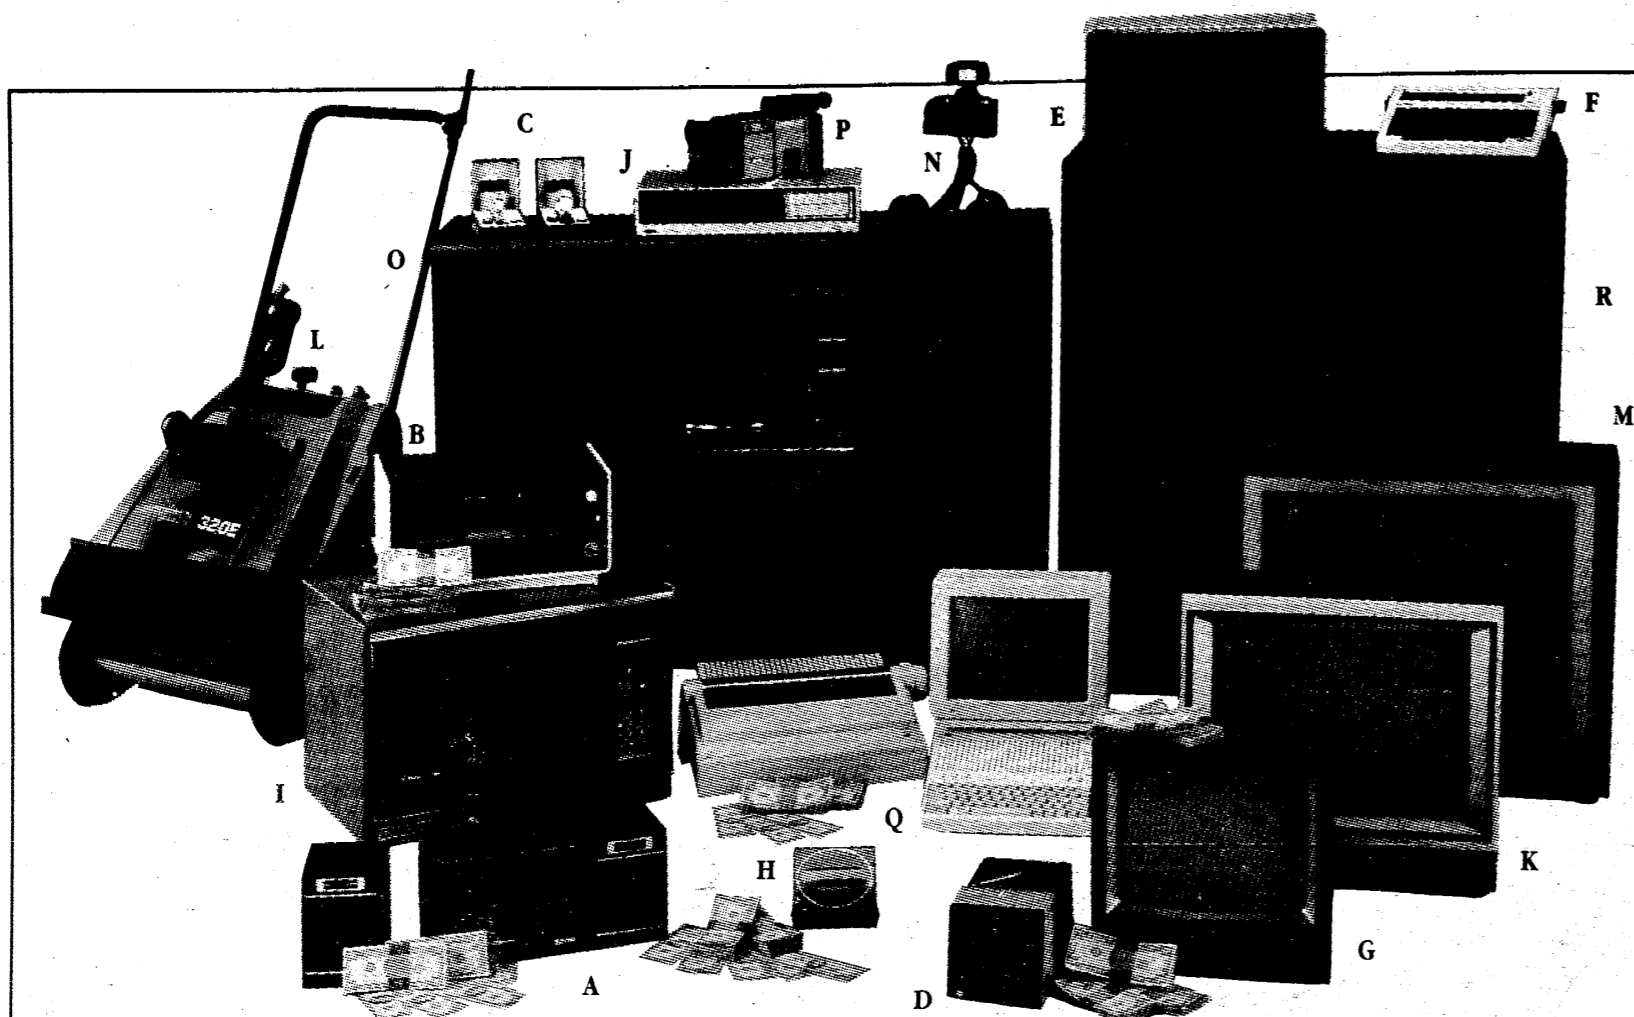

E. Goodyear."

The remains arrived here by express last evening. They were not expected until this afternoon, and but few were aware of their arrival. They were taken to Lockwood's undertaking rooms, from which at 1:30 this afternoon they were carried to Oak Grove Cemetery, followed by many old friends and neighbors of the deceased, and deposited in the vault to await interment. The business places were closed during the services.

At the vault Rev. W. B. Pope, of the M. E. church, read a passage of scripture and made some appropriate remarks, a male quartet rendered the Lord's prayer, and another beautiful piece of music, then the remains were laid tenderly away.

It is a singular coincidence that the building, Goodyear hall, which he erected and intended to stand as a monument to him, and from which his remains were this day carried to their final resting place, should this night receive another name.

We intend to give our readers further particulars, etc., next week.

Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon

Bike-A-Thon Chairman, Rita Burkhardt, today asked Manchester residents and surrounding areas to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon slated for May 21.

Rita said this ride honors Brian, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "With every turn of the wheel, riders become 'Spokes'-men for all the kids with cancer, like Brian." Rita said, "This ride is a vital part of the fight against childhood cancer at St. Jude. Riders are really needed. They make or break a Bike-A-Thon."

Manchester Area Historical Society

Tall ships, brigs, and barks - rounding Cape Horn 100 years ago - 21 voyages across the Atlantic - three ship wrecks. The Manchester Area Historical Society invites all to come hear Professor Helen Hill share the experiences and adventures she discovered in her grandfather's journals about sailing on the open seas in the 19th century. Her grandfather's journals began when his voyages began - as a lad of fourteen. And he continued with his journals and his journeys throughout his life as a seaman from New England.

It is spring - time to dream of travels and adventures! Come to the Manchester Area Historical Society meeting this coming Monday, April 18th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Blacksmith Shop at 324 East Main, and hear the tales of long ago and far away at sea.

You needn't be a member of the Manchester Historical Society to attend - ALL are welcome!

Tornado Alert System

When a Tornado has been cited in the area, Washtenaw County will set off the Torando Alert System which will be a 3 to 5 minute siren - residents should take cover immediately. An all clear signal will not be used - Civil Defense recommends that citizens tune to a local radio station (W.A.A.M. 1600) for an "all clear".

High School Students To Be Honored

Students from metropolitan Detroit high schools will be honored at the 1988 Project Graduation rally, March 22 at Masonic Temple. The students will be praised for their efforts at combatting teen drinking and driving.

Project Graduation is a year-long campaign that discourages teen drinking and driving. The rally kicks off the most visible period of effort - prom and graduation season - when teen drinking and driving are at record levels.

Students, nominated by their schools, will receive on-stage recognition at the rally for advancing the Project Graduation message to their peers. Honored from Manchester is Jacqueline Davis.

Reading Group Focuses On Family

Socializing after the discussion are Don Fowler, Nancy Sipple, and Prof. Spencer Bennett.

Some very provocative issues were discussed on the topic of "the contemporary family" at the last meeting of the Manchester Township Library's Reading and Discussion Series. The meeting was held Thursday, April 7th, at the Blacksmith Shop, and about 25 people attended. The speaker was Professor Spencer Bennett of the History and Religious Studies Department at Sienna Heights College.

The group had been reading the novel ORDINARY PEOPLE by Judith Guest. Professor Bennett began with an interesting analysis of the work, both as literature and especially as it represented the family in American history.

The following points were brought up and discussed: a) The inclination to make children self-sufficient at an early age. This was not always the case in American culture. b) The father's opportunity to be a role model for his son is not as visible as it has been in the past. And c), the institutionalization of family roles, e.g., the caring for the old and sick being turned over to nursing homes.

The group, which has met three times (and always with a few new and welcome faces), really delved into the theme this book presented which coincided with the theme of the Reading and Discussion Series: Seasons in the Contemporary American Family. We were not all in agreement, and the discussion was full, varied, and sincere.

We appreciated Prof. Bennett's insights and the questions he presented which led to the spirited discussion.

At our next meeting, this Thursday, April 14th, we will discuss three short stories,

Dedicated Their Hall

Manchester Enterprise
 March 7, 1889

On Thursday evening, February 28th, the Manchester Workingmen's Society dedicated their new hall and gave it a new name, that of Arbeiter hall, and what has long been known throughout the land as Goodyear Hall will hereafter be known by the new name.

For several days previous a number of workmen had been busily engaged, under the direction of Fred Marty, in decorating the hall with flags, bunting, etc., and the effect was such that when the doors were thrown open and the people came in, like the Queen of Sheba they held up their hands in astonishment and admiration and exclaimed-how beautiful.

It was a little after eight o'clock when Mr. Schmid, president of the society, called the meeting to order and announced the first musical selection which was a four-handed piece on the piano, by Prof. Kempf and Mr. Kemper of Ann Arbor.

The dedicatory speech made by Mr. G. P. Suky, of Ann Arbor was delivered in his most eloquent manner and the audience spell-bound at his graceful flow of rhetoric.

The double male quartette from Ann Arbor sang several very pretty songs and the audience cheered them every time they appeared. The gentlemen all had good voices which harmonized nicely.

Miss Jacquemain of Detroit played a few pieces on the piano. She is a fine player and showed her perfect understanding of music in the faultless execution of difficult parts. She responded to an encore.

Mr. Worsch of Jackson sang, and Mr. Kemper played several excellent pieces, but the musical part of the entertainment was entirely too short, being curtailed in order to give place to some reading which were not very well understood.

After the concert a large portion of the audience remained to either participate in or witness the dance. Everything passed off with perfect decorum and all appeared to enjoy the occasion.

About 12 o'clock a supper was served in the front room on the second floor, of which a large number partook. Other refreshments were served as a matter of course, but we have not heard of any disturbances resulting therefrom.

The dance and frolic lasted until sunrise when the last went home with the word "Arbeiter" ringing in their ears.

The affair was a perfect success

Senior Citizens News

As a fill-in guest writer for T.V. during her Florida vacation, the first thing I probably should do is something horrendous which will make everyone wish she hadn't gone away. Thus, I think I'll entitle this article "The Writes of Spring". (She would have known the rite word to use, but I don't right enough to know the difference.)

I have enjoyed seeing many facets of spring this week. Bluebirds came to our new boxes and slowly and carefully looked them over but as yet have not settled on our spot for their new nest. Maybe we only saw the scouts who come ahead to locate new homes—we might even be too eager this first time around with the boxes. The martins haven't found our new martin house yet, either.

One of our grandsons came out to the farm and brought half a dozen of his school friends for a camp out. They broke out the rowboats and took them out on the lake. The report was that the Canadian geese had nested and were setting on their eggs already. Every log sticking out of the water was covered with mud turtles warming themselves in the sun or whatever they do while they are sitting there all day. The fish didn't bite too well, but suckers were trying to swim the overflow at the dam and could be had for the taking.

On Tuesday morning one of those "crazy" kids went swimming—stayed in fifteen seconds or so, but it still makes my old feet cramp to think of him in that frigid water. Don't know why, though, we used to swim in that same creek water in March and thought if warm enough. We didn't stay in very long, either, as I remember and usually didn't bother to tell Mom we had been swimming.

Even though everything seems to try to speed us up in the Spring, take time to participate in Senior activities this week. Chore Day, originally scheduled for the 16th has been re-scheduled the following Saturday. So there is still time to sign up for help from our National Honor Society members that day. Some are getting help with yard work, windows and the like. Call Rubena to get on the list—428-8655.

Rev. Hayden Carruth will make our clergy presentation on the 19th followed by Chop Suey for lunch. Thursday the meal will be ham following an informal exercise period at 11:00.

Community Resource Benefit Banquet, April 20

Have you purchased your tickets yet to the Benefit Banquet for the Community Resource Center? Wednesday, April 20, at 7:00 p.m., the Dining Room of Chelsea Community Hospital will be host to a marvelous evening of a Surf & Turf Banquet, preceded by music and Hors d'oeuvres, and followed by entertainment. Manchester thanks Chelsea Hospital exceedingly for its tremendous gift to benefit Manchester's unemployed people.

Major Businesses in Manchester are responding well to being Major Sponsors, and putting their financial backing up front to support the efforts of the Community Resource Center. Ticket sales, and further information, can be handled through the Center's office at 122 W. Main Street, or by calling 428-7722, Monday-Friday, 9-4 p.m.

Manchester citizens realize that with the work of the Employment Counselors for the laid-off Double A workers, the health of the Manchester community - both families and business - is enhanced. As we depend upon one another, let us support the efforts of those helping to find our people jobs.

Banquet Steering Committee members Dave Little, Dick Kuntz, Tom Gorney, and Rev. Bob Macfarlane hope, through business sponsorships and individual tickets, to help underwrite the work of the Center for the foreseeable future. Also benefiting from the Banquet will be the Manchester Social Service agencies which are now housed at the Center, including Manchester Family Service, Chamber of Commerce, Manchester Recreation Task Force, United Way, and newly opening in a couple of weeks, a cooperative counseling center sponsored by the local Churches, which is a satellite of the County-wide Interfaith Counseling Service. The Steering Committee thanks all who take the time and commitment to help in any way, and look forward to seeing you at the Banquet.

"As Parents Grow Older"

Are you concerned about understanding and coping with your aging parents? Chelsea Community Hospital is offering a six-session course to help deal with concerns faced by adults with aging parents. This course is entitled "As Parents Grow Older". Discussion topics include: Understanding Psychological Aspects of Aging, Coping with Chronic Diseases, Communicating with Parents, Making Decisions about Living Arrangements, Using Community Resources, and Dealing with Feelings about Aging and Aging Relatives.

This course will be held at Chelsea Community Hospital, Social Work Group Room, 7:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday evenings beginning April 20, 1988, and continue through May 25, 1988.

Admitted To Honor Program

Eastern Michigan University admitted 126 new students into the University's Honors Program.

EMU's Honors Program, which currently has more than 600 members, provides a challenging alternative curriculum for students with superior academic abilities. To qualify for admittance to the program, each student is evaluated on his or her grade point average, standardized test scores, personal essays and letters of recommendation from teachers and counselors.

In addition to offering students an alternate program of study, the Honors Program provides smaller classes, early registration, special library privileges, maximum computing access and special social and cultural activities for its members.

Heidi Lee Huber from Manchester has been admitted to EMU's Honors Program.

McAuley Honors Area Volunteers

Hayden Carruth, Jennifer Faulhaber, Tim Golding, Heather Mick, Nalee Park and Christa Spork, all of Manchester, will be honored for their volunteer service by Catherine McAuley Health Center at a recognition banquet April 14 at Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor.

These six Manchester volunteers are among 700 Catherine McAuley Health Center volunteers who donated a total of more than 49,000 hours of service over the past year in 110 different service areas. "The value of their precious time and caring cannot be measured," says JoAnne Desmond, director of Volunteer Services. "Their help and concern add a special dimension to the Health Center." These dedicated volunteers represent just a few of the many volunteer opportunities available at Catherine McAuley Health Center. Volunteers deliver flowers, work on patient units, provide care and assistance for patients undergoing chemotherapy, act as tour guides, make initial visits to patients in the name of Pastoral Ministry and much, much more.

The Barns of Michigan

On display at the Sleeping Bear Dunes Visitor Center

The National Park Service is pleased to announce "The Barns of Michigan," a showing of fifteen watercolor paintings by Manchester artist Nancy Feldkamp. The show opened April 1, at the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore Visitor Center and will continue through most of the summer. The barns pictured are all real buildings constructed at different periods of Michigan's history and reflect the wide variety of style used by the carpenters who erected them. These men were often very skilled craftsmen who had a natural aptitude for architecture, a talent no longer applied to anything as simple as a barn. Many of Michigan's barns are unofficial landmarks and an enterprising Sunday driver with a good road map can find the barns in Mrs. Feldkamp's exhibition (locations and a brief history are listed with each painting), except for one. This barn, already in sad shape, has recently collapsed.

Its loss underlines the concern of the show's patrons, Walter and Wendy Meagher of Ann Arbor and Oxford, England. After arriving in this country and noticing many of our fine old farm buildings, they realized how quickly the venerable wooden structures were disappearing. New barns are often not even built of wood and are strictly functional. The Meaghers commissioned Mrs. Feldkamp to search out, photograph, and paint a representative group of the best remaining old barns, and the current exhibit is the result. Plans are to show the collection at other exhibition spaces after this first display has concluded.

Nancy Feldkamp lives on a farm outside Manchester where she and her husband have raised five children and many generations of cows and sheep. Their own old wooden barn still stands though it was not painted for the "Barns of Michigan." Mrs. Feldkamp is a member of the Ann Arbor Women Painters, the Chelsea Painters, and the Michigan Watercolor Society and has often shown her work in the Ann Arbor area.

"The Barns of Michigan" is on view at the Sleeping Bear Visitor Center, Highway M-72 in Empire, Michigan, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. weekends throughout the spring. Summer hours are 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. seven days a week.

DNR News

Nearly 20,000 turkey hunters will take to the woods this spring during the 1988 season. Thanks to the continuing growth in the wild turkey population, hunting licenses were issued to 19,952 applicants - an increase of more than 3,200 licenses issued in 1987. Two mild winters and good nesting seasons doubled wild turkey numbers. This year's preliminary count in the hunting areas totaled 30,379 turkeys.

"The population is at an all-time high" said John Urbain, Forest Game Bird Specialist. "I'm expecting another record harvest if the spring hunting weather is good."

Several thousand hunters not selected in the recent drawing are eligible for leftover permits in certain areas, reported Urbain.

About 8,300 people are eligible to purchase the 308 leftover licenses which will be sold on a "first-come, first-served" basis.

Beginning at 9:00 a.m., April 13, the licenses are available at certain DNR field offices, during regular working hours, as follows: Gaylord, 42 available permits; Allegan, 139 available permits; Crystal Falls, 58 available permits; Crystal Falls, 69 available permits.

Spring wild turkey hunters are reminded that the DNR would like to collect wings and certain measurements from wild turkeys at DNR checking stations. This information will be used to improve wild turkey management. As a token of appreciation, hunters will receive a "Michigan Wild Turkey Management" patch.

Boy's Track

CLINTON MEET:

The Boys Track Team opened their season last Tuesday with a loss at Clinton 87-50. Brad Uphouse won 3 events: High Jump 5'6, Long Jump 18' 4-1/2 and 440 Dash, 54.6. Mike Brokaw won the 100 Dash in 10.7 and was nudged in the 220 for 2nd place in 24.2, although having the same time as the Clinton Runner. "Home field advantage I suppose". Freshman Jamie Winzenz won the 2 Mile in 11:41.0, and placed 2nd in the Mile with an outstanding 5:05.0 clocking. Newcomer Mike Stidham took 2nd in the Shotput with a heave of 38' 7-1/2. Matt Knul tied Brad in the High Jump at 5'6. Nick Miller ran 2nd in the 880 Dash with a good early season time of 2:15.0.

WHITMORE LAKE MEET: We came home Thursday only to lose to a talented Whitmore Lake team 95-33. Strong winds had their effects on our team today. But, we managed a few bright spots! Mike Brokaw got 2 seconds in the 100 Dash (11.5) and 200 Dash (24.2) both personal best. He also helped us win the 400 Relay in 49.7 (Dwayne Archibeque, Allan Carson, Robb Gonyer were the other members). Carson was 3rd in the 100 Dash (12.1) for a personal best. Brad Uphouse had 3 seconds High Jump 5'6, Long Jump 15'4-1/4, 400 Dash (57.1), all great efforts considering the wind. Nick Miller won the 800 Dash in 2:23.0 and took 3rd in the 1600M in 5:15.8. Mike Stidham threw the shotput 40'8 for 3rd place and a personal best. Brian Weidmayer took 3rd place in the 3200M in 11:51.1 after being ill for a week, he did a nice job.

Ignition Interlock Devices Become Law

Beginning today Michigan's Secretary of State will be adding court-ordered "ignition interlock" restrictions to driving records of some motorists convicted of operating under the influence (OUIL) of liquor or controlled substances, as required by new law.

A possible condition of a restricted driver's license, the in-car breath analyzers "lock up" the ignition and prevent a vehicle from being started if the driver's breath indicates more than 0.02 percent by weight blood alcohol level. For comparison, a 0.10 percent by weight blood alcohol level constitutes a drunk driving offense.

The new law requires the Secretary of State to set standards for ignition interlock instruments, certify acceptable models, and record this restriction on driving records.

Although judges have been ordering the devices for alcohol offenders - about 100 are already in Michigan vehicles - this marks the Secretary of State's first involvement in recording and certifying them.

Because the ignition interlock restriction will be part of a driving record on the Secretary of State's computer network, police will have access to the information and will be able to enforce use of the instruments.

"Ignition interlock" breath analyzers are attached just below the dashboard, like a C.B. radio or cassette tape player. The restricted driver must blow air into the instrument to start the vehicle.

If the analyzer detects 0.02 percent by weight or more blood alcohol level, the car will not start and the driver may not try again for 15 minutes.

Michigan-certified interlock instruments will record all attempts to tamper with or circumvent the device. The manufacturer must report all tampering attempts to the court.

A label will be affixed to each instrument that warns it is a misdemeanor for anyone other than the restricted driver to blow into the mouthpiece. If convicted, the offender faces up to a $5,000 fine and/or six months in jail.

One company is currently leasing ignition interlock devices in Michigan for approximately $540 for six months. This must be paid in full by the offender whose only other option is to surrender his or her license.

Before interlock devices may be sold in Michigan they must be certified by a testing laboratory which is using specifications developed by the Department of State to evaluate instruments.

It is expected that two or three competitive interlock devices will be certified and available in April. However, interlock restrictions are already being posted to the offender's driving record where ordered by the court.

Four other states currently have either passed or implemented laws authorizing ignition interlock devices: California, Oregon, Texas and Washington. A pilot program in California has been underway the longest.

Scoliosis Meeting April 14th

The Lenawee-Monroe Unit of the Scoliosis Association of Michigan will meet Thursday, April 14, at the Milton C. Porter Center, Sutton Road, Adrian, at 7:30 p.m. A videotape of post-operative scoliosis patients at Cleveland's St. Luke's Hospital will be shown. The tape focuses on how these patients deal with the various aspects of their scoliosis treatment.

The Lenawee-Monroe Unit has been a support group, for six years providing an opportunity for scoliosis patients, their families, and anyone interested to discuss scoliosis (the sideways curve of the spine). It has also encouraged school screenings.

Because of anticipated changes in the Scoliosis Association of Michigan, this support group may no longer function. If you are interested in having some input into the future of the local unit, please attend the April 14th meeting. For more information please call Dorothy Heinlen at (313) 529-3038 or Renata Snyder at (517) 423-3164.

6 important facts about wheel alignment

- Extend tire life
It's happened to almost everyone: buy a set of tires, and before long one or two tires are wearing out before the others. On today's cars, this applies to the rear tires as well as the front tires. The most common cause of unusual tire wear is improper alignment. Over the years, a properly aligned vehicle can save hundreds of dollars in tire wear.
- Spot problems early
A suspension system inspection is an inherent part of the wheel alignment operation. This gives the mechanic a chance to spot worn parts that would affect vehicle alignment. It also gives him an opportunity to spot small problems before they become big, costly ones.
- Ensure safe driving
A periodic four wheel alignment makes sure your car handles properly and, more importantly, provides an opportunity for inspecting the suspension system for defective parts. In some ways, the safe driving aspect may be the most important benefit of wheel alignment.
- Stretch fuel mileage
Fuel mileage increases as rolling resistance decreases. Proper wheel alignment sets all four wheels parallel which, in turn, assures minimum rolling resistance. This plus proper tire inflation provide top efficiency for maximum mileage.
- Improve handling
Does your car pull to one side, does the steering wheel vibrate, do you have to constantly move the steering wheel to keep your car traveling straight ahead? These and other handling problems can generally be corrected by four wheel alignment.
- Get a better ride
Proper alignment helps the front and rear suspension systems do their job. With all the system components in proper relation, road shock is efficiently absorbed, so the vehicle is more stable, and you get a smoother ride.

Watching Over IRAs - The Finer Points of Individual Retirement Accounts

Remember the good, old days when you could trim your tax bill simply by contributing to an Individual Retirement Account, affectionately known as IRA? Well, Congress decided to do a little trimming itself and, in the process, snipped off IRA's wings. The new IRA is still an excellent means of building retirement funds, but tax reform and a roller coaster economy make watching over earthbound IRAs a little more complicated than in the past.

First, the good news. You still have until April 15, 1988 to make a 1987 contribution. Will you be able to claim the deduction? As Shakespeare once wrote, there's the rub. According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, tax reform has returned the IRA to its original purpose: providing a retirement fund for lower-to-middle-income Americans.

IRA DEDUCTION RULES
If you and your spouse did not actively participate in a retirement plan at work for any part of the taxable year, an IRA will still work its old deduction magic. You can contribute and deduct up to $2,000 or 100 percent of your earnings, whichever is less. If you have a working spouse earning at least $2,000, you can deduct an additional $2,000; a non-working spouse uses the allowable deduction by $250.

If you or your spouse are covered by a retirement plan, the deductibility of your IRA contribution is based on your adjusted gross income (AGI). How do you know if you are an active participant in a qualified retirement plan? The simplest response is check the information box on your W-2 form or ask your employer. Don't make assumptions. If your employer's pension plan says that you are eligible for coverage, then you are considered an active participant. In fact, even if you changed jobs and your current employer doesn't offer a retirement plan, the IRS still considers you an active participant if you were eligible for coverage at your previous job for any portion of 1987.

Participants in retirement plans do not necessarily lose the IRA deduction. Married couples with an AGI of $40,000 or less and singles with an AGI of $25,000 or less are still entitled to the full deduction. Once your earnings exceed those limits, however, your deduction whittles away. For every $1,000 in income over the ceilings of $40,000 and $25,000, you lose $200 in deductions. The deduction is completely eliminated for married couples with an AGI greater than $50,000 and for singles with an AGI greater than $35,000.

WITHDRAWALS
If you suspect that the change in the rules for depositing money into an IRA affects the rules for taking it out, you're exactly right. Previously, withdrawals from IRA accounts were taxed as ordinary income. Clean and simple. If you don't make a nondeductible contribution, the rules remain the same. But the game plan changes as soon as you make a nondeductible IRA contribution - because these funds have already been taxed.

From now on, distributions from IRA accounts will not be taxable only to the extent of nondeductible contributions. To insure that you will not be taxed on withdrawals of funds that have already been taxed, you have to inform the IRS of any nondeductible contributions by attaching Form 8606 to your federal tax return. As an additional safeguard, you should maintain a personal record of all nondeductible contributions made between now and the time you receive the entire sum of your IRA funds - in other words, for life.

Most of the other rules governing IRA withdrawals remain intact. Unless you are permanently disabled or die, any withdrawal of IRA money before age 59 1/2 will suffer a 10 percent penalty tax in addition to any regular tax due. On the other hand, you must begin withdrawing funds from all IRA accounts no later than April 1 of the year following the year in which you turn 70 1/2.

PUTTING IRAs TO WORK
Most investment experts still recommend post-reform IRAs as a vehicle for retirement savings. Despite your instincts that say "it ain't so," the tax deduction is not the only reason why IRAs have long put a gleam in taxpayers' eyes. Individual Retirement Accounts still enable you to accumulate dividends, interest, and capital gains that are tax-deferred and, thus, compound faster.

More than half of all taxpayers invest their IRAs in a bank certificate of deposit (CD), perhaps because of convenience and security. But CDs often pay lower interest rates and may not keep pace with inflation over the long haul. Other investments options include money market accounts, mutual funds, stocks, annuities, and bonds.

In the ominous light of Black Monday, the day the stock market dropped 508 points, you may hesitate to invest an IRA in anything but a cash-equivalent account. In this case, money market accounts and Treasury notes may yield a higher interest rate without a marked increase in risk. Mutual funds can also be a good choice for investors whose retirement is 20 or 30 years away - a conservative, diversified, no-load fund will often result in a much healthier nest egg for your retirement years.

Whatever investment option you choose, keep an eye on how your IRA is performing. If you are unhappy with your IRA's return, don't sit by and watch potential income waste away. If you have thousands of dollars in a mutual fund that's floundering, switch to an investment with a more consistent record of success. Remember that you can make as many direct transfers between IRA trustees or accounts as you deem necessary. If, however, you actually withdraw your IRA funds and close your account, the transfer is considered a rollover (you are allowed one a year), and must be redeposited in a qualified IRA account within 60 days. If you miss the 60-day deadline, the amount withdrawn will be taxed and, if you are under 59 1/2, will also be subject to a 10 percent early-withdrawal penalty.

In spite of the withdrawal penalties and the tax-deduction restrictions, IRAs remain one of the most widely recommended tools for building a retirement nest egg. The Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you compare the tax advantages of IRAs with those of other tax-deferred or tax-free instruments before making a final investment decision.

Your IRA after the new tax law...
Just as valuable as ever

If you are not covered by a company pension plan, the new tax law still allows you to tax-deduct all your IRA payments. Considering that - plus the fact that your IRA pays such high interest and guarantees a lifetime retirement income - an annuity from FB Annuity Company is still your best choice for an IRA.

Making your future a little more predictable.

SUPERCONDUCTING SUPER COLLIDER

Surveyors are expected to begin this week to set the precise location of the proposed Superconducting Super Collider (SSC), working day and night and using some of the oldest and newest marking devices available.

If Michigan is selected as the site for the $4.4 billion U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) research facility, the 53-mile oval accelerator will be built between Stockbridge and Onondaga, straddling the Ingham-Jackson county line.

According to Jim Miller, manager of the surveying team, the preliminary research to identify old landmarks on maps has begun. These include section boundaries established as early as 1815 when Michigan was part of the original Northwest Territory, explained Miller of Gilbert/Commonwealth Inc., the Jackson firm hired by Michigan for site locating and property acquisition.

"Initially, we're going to be looking for monuments placed by the National Geodetic Survey about 50 years ago," Miller said. "These were typically placed on the highest point in an area and located about five or six miles apart."

The Geodetic monuments are poured concrete with brass identification plates on top. Miller said the surveyors will contact property owners to seek permission to enter their land to find the monuments, and then select eight of them for further use.

The next step will involve night work in the field during the first or second week of May. A radio transmitter/receiver will be placed on top of each monument. Signals from a Global Positioning satellite passing overhead will be used to identify exact latitude and longitude, and to establish new points of reference that will set the boundary of the SSC ring.

"This 'translocation technique' is the same system being tested for use in automobiles and airplanes to give precise locations to the driver or pilot," Miller explained. The method is faster than traditional surveying techniques and avoids the need to clear vegetation for clear line-of-sight.

Miller said the satellite work will take from two to four hours at each monument, and must be done at night when the satellite is in the correct position. He said property owners and residents would be notified when surveyors would be out working late, and that surveyors would have photo identification cards.

Senators Focus On Economic Issues

Both Senators Carl Levin and Don Riegle focused on the economic problems facing the United States and agriculture specifically during a breakfast meeting March 17, with a group of 125 Michigan Farm Bureau members in Washington, D.C.

Senator Levin, a co-sponsor along with Riegle of legislation that would repeal the diesel fuel excise tax for on-farm use, said the 15 cent per gallon collection from farmers amounts to the federal government.

"It makes no darn sense," Levin said. "It's unfair. It's forced borrowing from you. It's one of those bureaucratic nightmares that we get into once in a while around here where the citizen gets short-changed for no legitimate reason. Your being short-changed right now unfairly without any rationale that I can justify. Hopefully, we're going to end that situation so we don't borrow that money from you without interest and then return it to you months later."

Levin also discussed the 1985 Farm Bill which is up for review. "Farmers have enough uncertainties without the uncertainty of an ever changing farm bill," he said. "Basically, I think we ought to leave it alone. People who want to change that farm bill have a real burden of proof to carry. We shouldn't change the rules again unless there is some overwhelming reason that requires us to do so. I think that's the least we can do for you."

Senator Riegle gave the Michigan farmers an update on the Trade Bill, which is in Conference Committee. He reported that the Riegle-Danforth amendment endorsed by Farm Bureau has a good chance of being part of the new trade law.

The amendment and alternative to the Farm Bureau-opposed Gephardt provision in the House bill was "designed to take down the unfair trade barriers in an orderly way," he said, "so that we're able to get into those foreign markets and sell on a fair basis which is good for everybody."

Riegle also discussed the presidential election and said that "no matter who gets elected and no matter what the party label, we have got to work together. The Congress and the president with good will and a sense of what

Most Children Outgrow Adverse Reactions To Food

Following a prolonged diet restricted in foods important for growth and development need not be the fate of children who experience adverse reactions to food, reports the Dairy Council of Michigan.

In a study recently published in the medical journal, PEDIATRICS, 480 children selected from the general pediatric population were followed from birth to 3 years of age. Forty-three percent of these children had symptoms suspected of resulting from foods such as milk, eggs, soy, peanuts, chocolate, or corn, reported Dr. Allen Bock, an allergist in Denver, Colorado and the author of the study.

However, most of the children's food-related complaints were not confirmed by objective tests. This finding supports the general belief that adverse reactions to food tend to be overestimated.

The most striking findings of the study, according to Bock, are that "the majority of adverse reactions occurred during the first year of life and had resolved by the third birthday."

The finding that most children outgrow adverse reactions to food means that the symptom-causing food may only have to be omitted from the diet for a brief period. Bock cautions parents, however, that regular reintroduction of foods should be carried out under the guidance of a physician. It is important that children meet their nutrient needs by consuming a variety of foods from each of the four food groups - the milk, meat, fruit-vegetable, and grain groups, says the Dairy Council of Michigan. If any offending food must be temporarily eliminated from the diet, every effort should be made to meet the nutrients supplied by that food from other foods in the same group.

Charlotte Major Receives
Special Invitation

Many of us know Charlotte Major as a local Manchester resident who has been a nurse for several years with Dr. Monty Okey and many of us also know that Charlotte has been very active each spring in the Manchester Mill Run. But a lot of people are not aware that Char is an avid runner who ranks 5th among women runners in her age group (40-44) in Michigan and 25th over all women runners in Michigan in the 1/2 Marathon and the Marathon.

Because of this distinction, Char has been invited to participate in the 8th Annual Moscow International Peace Marathon on August 13th.

Char has been asked to travel with the United States team for this Soviet-American Sports Challenge. She will travel as an "Athlete Citizen Ambassador" of the United States. What an HONOR for a Manchester resident!

The trip takes place from August 7th thru the 21st, 1988, and will include stops in Helsinki, Finland and Moscow and Kiev, U.S.S.R.

Bike-A-thon
Sponsors Sought

Riders for the Saturday, May 21, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels for Life Bike-A-Thon are asking Manchester and surrounding area citizens to pledge a contribution for each mile they ride.

"Every mile our bikers go earns money bringing us closer to a cure for cancer. The life-saving study of childhood cancer at St. Jude has become critical to children all over the world", said Coordinator Rita Burkhardt.

"Let's show we care. Help this cause", Rita said, "your generous pledge encourages riders."

The ride starts at the Manchester Fire Hall at 9 a.m.; registration at 8:45 a.m. "If you haven't been asked to sponsor a rider, but are interested, please call 428-8083 and a rider will contact you."

Each rider gets a lap card at registration and every time riders pass the checkpoint, we punch the card. At the end of the ride, we check and sign it to show that the rider earned what the sponsor pledged. Riders return to sponsors to collect the pledge.

Riders can get sponsor registration forms at school offices.

Even if you can ride only one hour, please come. It's fun, there will be refreshments and you will be helping St. Jude's Children.

FFA Host Basketball Game

On April 21, Manchester FFA will challenge Saline FFA at the Middle School in Manchester. The game starts at 7:30 p.m. All parents and friends are encouraged to attend.

Store Front
Church:
Another Public Hearing

Village Council passed the ball back to the Planning Commission after a public hearing last Monday to hear again the request of the Conquering Faith Fellowship to use a building in a C2 commercially zoned district as a church.

Planning Commission Chairman Bob Daverman presented the recommendation for the amendment to Article 12, which read as follows, to the Council:

General Commercial District (C2) - Conditional Use.

14) Church; only when provided in an existing building on a lot immediately bordering an adjacent zoning district.

Village Council, however, accepted this as a tentative recommendation only and passed a motion returning the issue to the Planning Commission for further study. Mayor Kallewaard's motion asked for more fact finding, another Public hearing and that the wording of the proposed amendment be published the required amount of times prior to that hearing.

This will be the third Public Hearing on the issue.

Federal Food Distribution

Federal surplus foods will be distributed in the Manchester area this month on Friday, April 22 from 10 to 12 noon at the Manchester United Methodist Church, 501 Ann Arbor Street.

For further information call Manchester Family Service, 428-8852 or the Community Service Agency in Ann Arbor, 994-1650.

Mayor Appoints Committees

At a regular meeting of the Village Council Monday, Mayor Kallewaard appointed Larry Becktel as Mayor Pro-Tem and Terry Harris and Ted Tapping to the Finance Committee.

The Public Works Committee appointments were Larry Becktel and Wendel Reinhart, and the Ordinance Committee appointees are Joe Marshall and Bill Kwolek.

The return of committees will most likely make things in the Village run a little smoother, spreading out some of the responsibilities of day-to-day business of the village and keeping the meetings at Council shorter. This was in evidence Monday, as the meeting adjourned shortly after 8:30 p.m.

In addition, because the Village no longer has a Village Manager, the committee members will act as officials for those tasks formerly assigned to Dan Naimowicz.

Bands Receive Top Rating
In District Festival

This year the High School Band received a superior rating of I in District Festival and keeping right up with them the Middle School Band received an I also.

To help us prepare for festival we had three guest conductors come to work with us. Russ Reed, Director of Orchestras from Eastern Michigan; Don Schleicher, Assistant Director of Bands from the University of Michigan; and John Whitwell, Director of Bands from Steven F. Austin University of Texas.

These students from the Middle School Band will be participating in Solo/Ensemble this coming Saturday. Kathy Nosbisch, Krista Sahakian, Sharon Fielder, Darian Davies, Susan McGuire, Michelle Strock, and Molly McGinn.

Many students from the High School Band participated in Solo/Ensemble this year. Clarinet Octet: Jacqueline Davis, Dayna Hock, Alicia Haeussler, Lynn Marshall, Dawn Wenk, Beth Gilbert, Vicki Warner, and Heidi Beasley. Brass Quintet: Ryan Weigel, Craig Houck, Cheryl Blumenauer, Benji Winzenz, Amy Fielder, Staci Williams, Jackie Miller, Melanie White, Jamie Hall, Rob White, Cara Cox, Julie Hamilton, Melissa Hawk, Lynn Marshall, Alicia Haeussler, Jacqueline Davis, Dayna Hock, Amy Fielder and Laurre Fielder. All of these Band students received good to superior ratings and deserve congratulations. Those Band students receiving an I at Solo/Ensemble were asked to go to State Solo/Ensemble. Amy Fielder, Rob White, Melanie White, Jacqueline Davis, Julie Hamilton, and Jackie Miller. From these people who were asked to go to State Solo/Ensemble, Jackie Miller and Rob White were asked to attend the Youth Arts Festival Band. This is a group who is composed of 150 of the top Band students from the state of Michigan. Both the Middle School Band and the High School Band deserve congratulations on their hard work this year.

Fund Drive

Lambda Nu Sorority is starting a "Fund Drive" to raise $3500 to send Char Majors to the 8th Annual Moscow International Peace Marathon in Moscow, U.S.S.R. on August 13th.

Any individual or group interested in contributing to this fund may do so by making a check payable to Lambda Nu/Char Major and mailing it to Lambda Nu Sorority, P. O. Box 62, Manchester, MI 48158.

Full payment for this trip is due by June 7, 1988. Any questions or further details may be directed to Deneine Schabile, 428-7422 or 428-8583.

We're all really proud of Char and hope these funds will be raised to send her on her way!

Student Of The Month

Connie Zimmer, a junior at Manchester High School, has been selected as Student of the Month for the Manchester Optimist Club for April. Connie is the daughter of Kathy and Fred Zimmer of Manchester. Connie has been in cheerleading for 3 years, played volleyball for 2 years, played softball for 3 years, and been on the honor roll for all three years in high school. She is secretary for S.A.D.D., and this year was inducted into the National Honor Society. She is on the prom committee and is the junior class treasurer. In addition to all of this, Connie received the academic award her freshman year and is active in her church youth group at St. Mary's. Connie plans to attend college here in Michigan. We are proud of Connie, her parents, and wish her the best in the future years!
