Careful Planning Can Ease The Stresses Of A Spouse's Death

The death of a family member brings a whirlwind of anguish and grief. Never is this more true than when the death is of a spouse. Survivors are often ill equipped to deal with the consequences of a spouse's death; pressing financial and practical matters seem somehow insignificant and overwhelming all at once. Suddenly, you're confronted with unfamiliar tasks at a time when your inner resources are at an all-time low.

The Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you prepare for the possibility of a spouse's death far in advance, when your wits - and your spouse - are still with you. Your first priority should be writing wills. These critical documents guide survivors on subjects ranging from the distribution of assets, to guardianship of children, to an individual's preferences in funeral arrangements.

Funeral arrangements may be the hardest topic to discuss with your spouse, but an open discussion and mutually arrived at decision can save a spouse from having to rapidly plan heart-wrenching funeral arrangements in the earliest period of mourning when grief and time pressures are most debilitating.

When writing a will, assess your current financial situation and also project the future value of assets. If your estate is worth more than $600,000, you should consult a tax specialist to prevent your estate from being unnecessarily depleted by federal and state estate taxes. Even if your assets are considerably less, you may be able to insure a faster less complicated transfer of property by creating a living trust and deeding a house or other assets directly to your spouse. Alternately, property that is jointly owned - for example, your house - will automatically pass to your spouse without any drawn out legal proceedings. An attorney will be able to explain the benefits and drawbacks of both living trusts and joint ownership.

In addition to a will, you should draw up a letter of instructions - a simple list of instructions related to an individual's financial and legal status. Unlike a will, a letter of instructions is not a legal document; you can type it yourself, or write it long-hand if you prefer - but make sure that it is comprehensive and easily read and understood.

Include important phone numbers of lawyers, accountants, and doctors. Document employee, veteran and Social Security benefits; pension and profit-sharing plans; insurance policies and their beneficiaries; union membership; savings and checking accounts; investment holdings such as IRA accounts to mutual funds; and any valuable collectibles. List all potential creditors, including credit cards, the bank issuing your mortgage, and the issuers of any other outstanding loans. Note the location of such important items as your birth certificate, marriage certificate, divorce papers, Social Security card, safe deposit keys, income tax returns and the will itself. Finally, if you have purchased a cemetery plot, list the amount paid and the deed number.

Second only to the emotional devastation of a spouse's death is the blow dealt to the financial security of the surviving spouse. Sometimes, due to unforeseen complications such as a family dispute, assets cannot be distributed for many months. In these cases, the immediate benefits provided by a life insurance policy can save a family from suffering unnecessary financial hardship.

For most middle-income families, life insurance is one of the most important types of financial protection available. The amount of life insurance you should carry depends on how long you must provide for your heirs as well as on many other assumptions about the future. No two cases are alike. A good financial planner can provide meaningful help in determining the amount suitable for your situation. Remember, even if the surviving spouse is still capable of paying an average living expenses, the generally tax-free proceeds from the policy can make it far easier to keep up with mortgage payments or finance a child's education.

Social Security benefits are another source of income for widows and widowers whose spouses contributed the required amounts to Social Security during their working years. To collect these benefits, you must be 60 or older or at least 50 and disabled. If you have in your care a child under 16, or a disabled child of any age, you are also eligible. To estimate how much you or your spouse can expect from Social Security, call your local Social Security office and ask for a copy of Form 7004 (request for statement of earnings). Don't wait until retirement or your spouse's death to check both of your records, especially if either spouse has held a number of part-time jobs or changed jobs frequently. If you wait too long and then detect an error, you may have passed the time limit on correcting your earning records.

Since three out of four women outlive their husbands, women should take special care to prepare themselves for the possible death of a spouse. Actively participate in planning your family budgets, learn about your husband's benefit and pension plans and establish your own credit if you haven't done so already.

Preparing for a spouse's death may not be pleasant, but it is highly recommended. A tax specialist can offer further advice on providing for your spouse and minimizing the tax liability of death benefits and inheritances.

A heated knife blade will cut through fresh bread more easily.

News From Senator Lana Pollack

State Senator Lana Pollack (D-Ann Arbor) Wednesday introduced a new bill to establish a state-subsidized prescription drug coverage program for Michigan's low-income senior citizens. The new bill, which has the support of the Governor, is identical to one being introduced in the House by state Representative Thomas Mathieu (D-Grand Rapids).

On Monday, the Governor vetoed a senior citizens prescription drug bill because there was no money to pay for it. "There's a crucial difference between the vetoed bill and this new legislation that will make it possible for the Governor to sign this bill into law once the Legislature approves it," Pollack said. "This new bill is tied to other legislation that will help provide the funds necessary to pay for this program," she added.

According to Pollack, the new bill will not take effect unless bills levying a tax on smokeless tobacco products and closing tax loopholes on railroad property also becomes law. The Governor has indicated those bills could provide approximately $20 million in financing for the seniors prescription drug program.

Under the terms of the bill vetoed by the Governor, low income seniors 62 and older would have qualified to participate in the program. According to the provisions of the Pollack-Mathieu legislation, senior citizens will have to be at least 65-years-old to participate. Furthermore, the new legislation will require seniors to pay higher co-payments and permit the state Office of Services to the Aging (OSA) to decide on what deductibles are required. The original bill called for a co-payment of $5.00 or 50 percent of the cost of each prescription, whichever was less. "These provisions are necessary for effective cost control so that the program remains feasible," Pollack explained.

As with the vetoed legislation, the new proposal requires senior citizens to meet the following additional criteria:
- If single, have an annual income of not more than $9,000; if married, not more than $12,000.
- Be ineligible for Medicaid.

- If single, have assets totaling not more than $15,000; if married, not more than $20,000, excluding one's primary residence, a car, a burial plot, a prepaid funeral plan, personal possessions and household furnishings, and life insurance policies.

Bridgewater Townhall Listed In State Historical Register

The Michigan Historical Commission is pleased to announce that the Bridgewater Township Hall, Washtenaw County, has been listed in the State Register of Historic Places. The Bridgewater Township Hall is a simple, one-story, front gable-roofed, clapboard building, now sheathed in shingles. It has plain-raking cornices without returns, and rests on a stone foundation. A wooden hand-capped access ramp now frames the building's exterior. Interior space arrangements have been modernized to reflect the building's use as a township hall and meeting room. Type "B" designation is suggested. Bridgewater was first settled by Colonel Daniel Hixon after whom the township was first named Hixon in 1832. George Howe, in whose home the town organization took place in 1833, became the first township supervisor and had it renamed after Bridgewater

Mobile Home Issue Still Undecided

by Becky Doyle

Village Council voted Monday to send back to the Planning Commission for further study the issue of the proposed mobile home park request for rezoning a parcel of land from agricultural.

In sending the issue back to the Commission, the Council requested study of three points. First, that the petitioner's request for rezoning a 7 acre parcel be considered, instead of the recommended 4 acres that came before the Council with the Planning Commission's approval.

Bob Raymond, the engineer for the developer, said that after a closer examination the portion of land which is unusable because of a Consumer's Power easement is closer to the 7 acre figure and they would need that much to build the 108 units which they consider to be the minimum economically feasible.

Council also asked the Commission to consider "our concerns for their input for appropriate boundaries" to the park, and whether the portion on the north side of the easement which is presently zoned for mobile home

Austin Road Bridge was officially open for traffic Monday, June 6. The completion and opening of the bridge is six weeks ahead of schedule according to F. W. Des Autels, Washtenaw County Road Commission engineer. Construction on the bridge began on March 14, 1988, by Argersinger-Morse Construction Company of Ann Arbor who was the successful bidder. Cost of the project was $196,432.46. Washtenaw County applied for critical bridge funding for the in 1986 and was awarded funds as a "Critical Bridge Project" in October 1986. 90 percent of the monies were from federal and state funds with the county supplying the other 10 percent.

Churches Denied In Business District

by Becky Doyle

The Village Council voted Monday to deny the request for a conditional use in the business district as a church. The request had been made by the Conquering Faith Fellowship that churches be added as a conditional use within the downtown business district.

Since the building in question had already been rented to another tenant, Reverend Ray Robichaud had told Planning Commission that the reworded petition was no longer suitable and that he wished the original petition to be considered.

The recommendation of the Planning Commission was that the use be allowed under the condition that the church would be in an existing building and only if the property in question was on the border of another zoning district.

Bill Kwolek read a statement recommending that Council adopt the reworded amendment to the zoning ordinance. He urged Council to consider the reworded petition as a take.

Mary Kallewaard also read a prepared statement concerning the right of a municipality to designate the use of land that lies within its borders.

Council passed a motion to deny the original petition with Kwolek dissenting. Kwolek made a motion that the reworded amendment be adopted. The motion died for lack of support.

Band Takes Trip To Washington D.C.

On Wednesday, May 18th, 10:00 p.m. the high school band boarded their buses and set off for a twelve hour trip to our nation's capitol. The first few hours the students were coming off the walls with anticipation, but gradually things quieted down and they slept between each stop. Boy did they sleep—standing up, sitting down, on each others shoulders, even stretched out on the floor in the aisles. Walking back to the restroom was like a 15 minute walk through a mine field. The buses rolled into the Twin Bridges Marriott Hotel at about 10:00 a.m. Thursday morning. The students had two rooms and 45 minutes to freshen up for a full day at the Smithsonian Museum complex. After the museum tour it was on the buses again and back to the hotels where they checked in and prepared for the performance of the National Symphony Orchestra at the Kennedy Center. Andrew Litton was guest conductor and Christopher Parlening (Classical Guitarist) was guest soloist with the orchestra that evening. The following day the band visited Arlington National Cemetery and the Vietnam Memorial. They also had a performance at the Washington Monument that turned out to be just a little bit wet (remember guys?) Well that didn't dampen their spirits; they showered and took off for a performance of the musical "Annie" at the West End Dinner Theatre. Dinner and musical were fantastic. A tour of the Washington Monument at night followed. That night no one slept - even the chaperones hung out until all hours of the evening. On their final day the band toured the National Cathedral and the Foreign Embassies on their way to the Kennedy Center for lunch on the top floor; a room with a view. Following lunch they

The gardens and I are getting to know each other quite well, as we spend so much time together giving and receiving a drink. I shudder to think what our water bill will be! Graduation parties were such fun and I loved watching the policemen with 'poetry in motion' while directing traffic on the corner yesterday, it's a surprise to run a stop sign with their help.

Today, June 9, is Jan's special surprise indoor-picnic (she has not given out the menu as yet). My imagination runs wild trying to guess, so let's all turn out and see. Farmers Market Needs You!

Manchester Farmers Market which takes place every Saturday during the harvest season may disband unless interested people contact Market organizers. In the midst of the farming community it seems that there are not enough participants to set up a table and sell their produce.

Participation in Farmers Market means a commitment of at least 3 of the 6 Saturdays between July 16 and August 20. In the past the people who have sold their produce, flowers, and baked goods have felt that the patronage of the Manchester citizens has been very reliable and each year the number of customers has increased.

It would be very sad to see this age old tradition of Saturday Morning Market Day become a thing of the past. Anyone that thinks that they may have enough fresh produce from their gardens to sell and share with the community should call Patty Swaney, 428-9902. This may be the opportunity for young "future farmers" to earn some cash!

Area Runners Compete

On Saturday morning, May 28th, as the sun started to heat up the Dexter-Ann Arbor area, five Manchester runners stepped up to the 2 mile race starting line to await the 8:00 a.m. start signal. Thirteen minutes and twenty-two seconds after the starting guns blast, the first Manchester runner crossed the finish line. All five Manchester runners finished the race in the following order from a finishing field of 211. Alton Gehring, 13th place, 0:13:22; Amy Major, 40th place, 0:15:26; Kristin Houch, 42nd place, 0:15:28; Holly Major, 123rd place, 0:18:31; Lynn Marshall, 124th place, 0:18:31.

In Dexter 1288 nervous runners paced under a warmer sun on the exposed Shield Drive starting at 8:35 a.m. As the starting gun blasted this small swell of humanity surged forward to start their trek back to Ann Arbor 13.1 miles away. Three Manchester runners finished this race along with 914 males and 190 females. Our runners finished as such: Charlotte Major, 24th place, 1:38:49; Scott Evilsizer, 672nd place, 1:51:02; and Roger Kappler, 680th place, 1:51:27.

Congratulations to all 27 Manchester runners. This is quite a sizable group from our community. The runners finished in good standing - we're proud of you. Good luck in your future races and runs.

Area Task Force

The Manchester Recreation Task Force is a separate organization from the Summer Recreation Program.

Summer Recreation is a 6 week program using school facilities. Jim Fielder is co-ordinator for that program.

The Manchester Recreation Task Force is a group of interested community people who meet monthly to plan activities for residents of the Manchester area. Activities have been planned mostly for school age residents. There are many ideas shared for summer. More people are needed to volunteer some time to help with these activities.

The regular meeting will be held, Thursday, June 16th, 8:00 p.m. at the home of Bill and Diane Schwab, 116 Beaufort Street. Volunteers are always welcome. For more information concerning the meeting, activities, time involved, etc. call 428-8976 or the Manchester Community Resource Center 428-7722.

Townhall Listed

in Oneida County, New York. On April 17, 1856, township records noted "...a vote to raise $250.00 in addition to the $300 already raised to complete the township hall." The first annual meeting of Bridgewater Township occurred in the nearly completed hall on April 7, 1857. Twenty-five years later, this log building was replaced by the present clapboard and shingled building completed in 1882. Bridgewater Township Hall has historical significance as the site of civic government in rural south central Washtenaw County since 1882.

Wins Third In Modeling Competition

Hillary Wiedmayer, 11, placed third in the modeling competition of the 1988 Miss Majorette of Michigan pageant held May 28th at Rochester High School. The Miss Majorette pageant is the second largest competition in the state sponsored each year by the National Baton Twirling Association, second only to the State championships held in the fall.

In the 10-12 year old modeling division in which Hillary competed against 13 contestants from across the state, the girls were judged in appearance, gracefulness and technique, modeling skills, poise and personality, and interview.

Hillary and Jennifer Fleck, 10, along with other members of the Chelsea Baton Corps will be competing in various divisions at the American Youth on Parade National Baton Twirling competition held at Notre Dame in July.

Pursell Seeks Seventh Term

Saying "tough times demand proven leadership," six-term Congressman Carl D. Pursell announced his bid for re-election today.

"Over the course of the past 12 years, people in Michigan's Second District have come to depend on effective representation in Congress - there's no reason that should change now," said Pursell, a Plymouth Republican.

"In today's increasingly complex and competitive world, voters rightfully demand proven leadership in their representatives. That's why I am announcing my plans to seek a seventh term in the United States Congress," he said.

"I intend to run on my continuing record of support for lower taxes, reduced government spending, security for the elderly, and equal opportunity for all Americans to pursue their dreams of prosperity, education and health."

"I also intend to stand on the proven results of my ability to successfully represent the interests of the Second District in Washington. Federal programs of importance to our district continue to be supported as a result of my ongoing work," Pursell said.

Since his first election to Congress in 1976, voters continue to return Pursell of office by wide margins. He serves as a senior member of the influential House Appropriations Committee and was elevated to the position of Deputy Whip in 1987. Prior to his election to Congress, Pursell served as a state senator and county commissioner.

DNR News

Timely fishing information can be picked up during Michigan's third annual Free Fishing Weekend, June 11-12, at two special information stations organized by the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and Transportation (DOT).

The Free Fishing Information Stations will be located at the DOT's New Buffalo Welcome Center in Berrien County and the Clare Welcome Center in Clare County. DNR fisheries biologists and DOT personnel will staff the stations and provide fishing materials from noon to 10 p.m. on Friday, June 10 and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, June 11.

The New Buffalo Center lies on the eastbound side of I-94 at the Michigan/Indiana line, the Clare Center lies north of Clare on US-27, with both north- and southbound access. Banners and signs will be posted along the highway and at the centers to direct the public to the stations.

Nearly 10,000 people passed through the two welcome centers last year during the June weekend, according to DOT officials.

For additional fishing information, call the DNR's 24 hour fishing hotline at 517-373-0908; the line offers weekly updated fishing conditions and fishing hotspots throughout the State. For more information on Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend, contact the DNR's Fisheries Division at 517-373-1280.

This is an olympic sized pool which features two water slides, a high and a low board, basketball goals, and a snack bar. There are lockerroom facilities, and 4-6 lifeguards on duty at all times. Youngsters must be at least 7 years old and know how to swim or be accompanied by an adult. The cost is $1.00 per swimmer. No cut-offs, and hair that touches the shoulders requires a bathing cap. A bus will leave from the Middle School at 12:00 noon and return at approximately 3:15 p.m. The last swim date will be July 18th.

Instructional Swimming - There will be a two week instructional swimming class offered for children at the pre-beginners, beginners, adv. beginners, and intermediate levels. Tickets can be ordered by picking up a form from the school offices or by calling Jim Fielder at 428-7150.

Our Daisy Girl Scout Troops of Manchester (the five-year-olds) had their "bridging", or graduation to Brownie Girl Scouts, at Carr Park on Tuesday, May 17. Families of the Daisies enjoyed a potluck at 6:15. Brownie members of Troop #274 joined them for a ceremony at 7 p.m. First, the girls said their Daisy poem and the Girl Scout Promise. The girls sang, "Make New Friends" as Nancy Peters and Sally Abbott, assistant troop leaders, pinned year pins on the girl's blue smocks. (These are stars with blue disks behind them.) Each girl in turn was led over the bridge hand-in-hand by a Brownie. Then each Brownie gave her Daisy a REAL daisy. Leaders Cheryl Davis and Sue Staffeld gave ending Daisy certificates to each girl, then shook hands with each Daisy who was "flying up" to the Brownies. To close, the girls sang the Brownie Smile song.

Troop 675 were Adrienne Davis, Arienne Chartrand, Danielle Croghan, Ellen Supers, Sara Cooper, Kari Binder, Meghann Way, Sonja Peters, Lauren Adler, Laura Chapin, and Amber Reed. In the fall, these girls will be a part of our Brownie Girl Scout Troops in Manchester. The girls in Brownie Troop 274 who assisted were, Demi Brady, Amanda Pierson, Jessica Miller, Michelle Barker, Lisa Arnsdorf, Danielle Funk, Elisabeth DeShano, Megan Wilson, Alexis Panches, Megan Kennedy, Sarah Gere and Lori Lee Anderson.

This summer, our scout troops have a number of enjoyable activities planned. Each troop plans to visit the pandas at the Toledo Zoo. Juniors will be going camping. Some of the girls will be attending Day Camp on August 9-11. (This is open to ALL Manchester girls and boys ages 5-12, not just Girl Scouts.) Some will be going to Camp Linden for a week of fun in the sun. This has been a busy year for our Scouts and their leaders, and they are looking forward to the next year of scouting.

headed for yet another musical performance. This time it was "Cats" - immediately following "Cats" it was back to the Kennedy Center for a performance of "Sheer Madness" - a murder mystery that included audience participation. Manchester High School was even mentioned as part of the actor ad-libbing during the second half of the play. Well a final visit to the Jefferson Memorial, a few scrambles on the grass and it was on the buses for 12 hours.

It should be noted that there were three other high school bands at the Marriott at the same time Manchester was there. The other three groups were constantly a problem, but not Manchester. The hotel complimented them on the way they handled themselves during their stay. The bus drivers and our tour representative also felt that they were one of the finest groups that they had worked with and that they would take us back anytime! Congratulations Manchester High School Band on your obvious level of class and a successful trip.

PEOPLE WHO BUY DIFFERENT HOMES SHOULDN'T BE LOCKED INTO THE SAME MORTGAGE ARRANGEMENT.

Not everyone fits in a three-bedroom-ranch world. After all, if everyone's tastes were the same, you'd never see an English Tudor between a French Colonial and a Cape Cod.

Which is why, at First of America, we offer almost as many mortgage loans as there are homes to choose from. And one of them is sure to fit your needs.

Maybe you're looking for a traditional 15 or 30 year mortgage. We've got those.

But we also have 15 and 30 year loans with rates that adjust annually. So each year, your rate is among the best in the market.

Then there's our 3 or 5 year balloon mortgages. Or, a bi-weekly payment arrangement that lets you pay off your loan quicker, and could save you thousands in interest.

Ask your realtor for more information. Or stop in to one of our branches.

We could be the key to a mortgage that's as individual as the home you finance with it.

USDA Special Provisions Announced

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will authorize emergency haying and grazing of conservation reserve (ACR) and conservation use acreage to counties suffering from drought, Congressman Carl D. Pursell announced today.
 "Because of the prediction of no rain for the next 10 days and the fact Michigan farmers are halfway through their first hay harvest, severe forage shortages are expected. Counties should complete their haying and grazing applications immediately," Pursell said.
 The USDA will determine eligibility on a county-by-county basis, and haying and grazing will be allowed for any consecutive five-month period between April 1 and October 31 in counties found to be suffering from a 1988 natural disaster adversely affecting pasture and forage crops.
 "Farmers interested in applying for this emergency program should contact their county ASCS office immediately," Pursell said.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
 A Public Hearing will be held before the Manchester Village Planning Commission, beginning at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 14, 1988, in the first floor meeting room of the Village Hall, 120 S. Clinton St., on a proposal to rezone a parcel of land owned by Manchester Plastics, Inc. from AG (Agricultural) to I-2 (General Industrial). The land is generally described as being immediately to the west of the existing Manchester Plastics facility at 500 W. Madison St., and bounded on the north and south by former railroad rights-of-way. A map showing the exact location and other pertinent information, is available for inspection at the Village Hall during regular business hours. Anyone wishing to comment on the proposed rezoning but unable to attend the Hearing, may submit written comments, which will be read aloud at the Hearing. Written comments should be addressed to: Secretary, Manchester Village Planning Commission, 120 S. Clinton St., Manchester, MI 48158, and should be received no later than 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 14, 1988.

Public Notice

In Accordance To The Requirements Of The Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments Of 1986, The Village Of Manchester, As Your Water Supplier, Is Providing This Information To Help Educate You On The Possibility Of Lead In Your Drinking Water.

There's a growing public concern about lead in our environment, the Village of Manchester recognizes the importance of their customer's awareness on this public health issue.

"Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard."

THE PROBLEM WITH LEAD

Lead is a soft toxic metal known to be harmful to human health if inhaled or ingested. Lead accumulates in the body and its potential for harm depends upon the amount of exposure. Low levels of lead exposure can cause subtle biochemical changes.

"EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women."

There are three potential sources for lead to accumulate in the body; food consumption, airborne pollutants and the third potential source is from your drinking water.

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly."

The water provided by the Village of Manchester is substantially lead free. Our lead level is within the EPA's requirements and will remain in compliance even after the new rules are instituted.

YOU SHOULD KNOW

Although the water the Village of Manchester provides has no presence of lead - the opportunity for lead to leach into your water supply is still possible.

Typically, lead gets into your water after leaving the Village well. The most likely source of lead contamination is in the home or residence plumbing system.

The most common cause is corrosion (a reaction between the water and the lead pipes or solder).

"Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

1. If your home or water system has lead pipes, or
2. If your home has copper pipes soldered with lead, and
- If the home is less than five years old, or
- If you have soft water, or
- If the water sits in the pipes for several hours without use."

IN THE HOME

Up to the 1900's it was common practice, in some areas of the United States, to use lead pipes for interior plumbing. Galvanized and then copper pipes replaced lead pipes, however, lead solder was used to join these copper pipes.

You can tell if lead pipes are in your home by scratching the pipe with a house key or screwdriver. Lead is a dull grey metal. Lead is soft enough to be easily scratched and will become shiny when scratched. You should be particularly cautious if you see signs of corrosion (frequent leaks, rust colored water, stained dishes or laundry).

TO MINIMIZE EXPOSURE

You can minimize exposure to this potential problem for you and your family if you:

Flush each cold water faucet by allowing the water to run until the water is as cold as it will get. Do this whenever water has been sitting in pipes for more than a few hours (such as overnight). This usually takes about 2 minutes. Flushing is important because the water that comes out after flushing has not been in extended contact with lead pipes or lead solder that may be in your household.

(Flushing water may be used for non-consumption purposes such as washing dishes, clothes or other household tasks; it need not be wasted).

Never cook or consume water from the hot water faucet. Hot tap water can contain higher levels of lead because lead dissolves more easily in hot water. It is especially important to avoid using hot water from the faucet when preparing baby formula.

If you need hot water for consumption or cooking, draw water from the cold tap and heat it on the stove or in the microwave. Use only thoroughly flushed water from the cold tap for any consumption.

It is now a federal law that all materials used for repairs or newly installed plumbing be lead-free. Make sure you check with your plumber before any work is done.

The water provided by the Village of Manchester is in compliance with current and proposed future U.S. EPA lead level limitations for safe drinking water.

It is our concern that our customers are not misled by commercial groups offering expensive services to solve a possible problem which can be handled by common sense. The Village of Manchester wants its customers to know the facts.

For additional information, contact the Village of Manchester, at 120 S. Clinton Street., Manchester, Michigan 48158, or the U.S. EPA. The U.S. EPA has a toll free hotline dedicated to this subject -- 1-800-426-4791 -- and they have also prepared a booklet on this issue.

This information has been approved by the U.S. EPA and meets EPA's lead public notice requirements.

After the Honeymoon: Financial Advice for Newlyweds

When the honeymoon is over and you come back to earth - and your credit card bills - don't despair. Your financial future can be solid, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, if you lay the groundwork for your financial security right from the start.

In the excited rush to select wedding gowns and reception halls, couples often ignore the impact that marriage can have on their finances. Especially when both partners work, marriage may mean a major overhaul of financial responsibility.

First, you need to re-examine your tax liability. If you both work, marriage may elevate you into a higher tax bracket. Since recent legislation eliminated the so-called marriage penalty deduction for federal tax returns, two-earner couples no longer get a special deduction for spouse's income. Many married couples will still pay less tax by filing jointly but, in certain circumstances, filing separately may actually reduce your total tax bill.

Besides taxes, the most fundamental responsibility newlyweds face is setting up a household budget. Start by sitting down together and discussing your short- and long-term financial goals.

If both of you work, decide on how you want to manage two paychecks. Traditionally, married couples merge income in one checking or savings account. Today, some couples opt for separate accounts, with each partner taking responsibility for particular expenses. For example, the husband may pay mortgage and utility bills while the wife takes care of all household expenses. Others choose to set up one joint account for their mutual living expenses, while keeping two other separate accounts for individual use, such as hobby expenses.

Once you have determined your priorities and agreed on a way of handling a two-paycheck household, list your monthly and yearly expenses; make sure that you include such fixed costs as rent or mortgage payments, insurance premiums, automobile and educational loans, utility bills and commuter expenses. Don't forget to add in the amount you hope to save each month. If you really want your budget to be feasible, include estimates of variable expenses, such as those for entertainment and travel. If both of you love to ski, by all means, budget for a few trips - even if that means trimming your expenses in another area. Remember, if your budget is too rigid, you probably won't stick to it.

Next, calculate your combined income, including any dividends or interest payments that you receive on a regular basis. If you cannot meet all of your expenses, including your savings goal, it's time to look at your finances - and budget - more realistically.

In trimming costs, don't overlook duplication of credit cards. If you and your spouse have many of the same charge cards, consider eliminating those with higher interest rates or annual fees. Just make sure that you retain at least one card in each of your own names so that you both have a credit history to rely on in case of a divorce or a spouse's death.

Another factor that many newlyweds overlook is redundant benefit policies. If both spouses work, there's a good chance that each partner is covered by some form of employer-sponsored health and life insurance. If this is the case, compare your benefit policies carefully. Read the fine print and ask your company representatives to explain all aspects of coverage. If your employer's policies are free or inexpensive, you may want to keep both policies active - especially if your benefit plans can supplement each other. In such cases, you may be able to submit a claim at one spouse's insurance company, and then ask the second company to reimburse you for any expenses not covered by the first plan.

If, however, the cost of one spouse's health insurance plan is excessively high or if his or her coverage is generally insufficient, you probably would do best by electing to cover both partners under whichever benefit plan is more comprehensive and less expensive.

Once you have reviewed the benefits supplied by your employer, you may want to consider purchasing additional insurance. Remember that marriage, almost inevitably, makes partners somewhat financially dependent on each other. To protect yourself from the potentially devastating effects of a spouse's disability or death, make sure that you have adequate insurance on both your lives and your home.

Ask yourself how much insurance you need, as well as how much insurance you can afford. In making decisions on insurance plans, always balance your needs with your resources. Weigh the strengths and weaknesses of different types of policies. Cash-value policies, for example, are like whole life or universal policies. While these plans enable you to accumulate savings, they may cost considerably more than another type of policy - such as term insurance. Consider, too, your need for disability insurance, which provides you with an income should you or your spouse be unable to work because of sickness or injury.

Homeowner's insurance, and its equivalent for renters, protects your home and its contents. The amount of coverage you need depends on the replacement cost of both your home and your personal possessions. Again, before you make a decision on a policy, study your particular situation and honestly assess the degree of protection needed. If you rent an apartment and your furniture came from an uncle's basement, you may not want, or need, insurance of this type. Don't ignore the financial responsibilities that marriage brings. CPAs suggest that you start building for your future now by making financial planning an integral part of your family life.

The last thing you need now is a problem with your homeowners insurance.

Home, sweet home. Sometimes it's difficult to keep it that way. And the problem with homeowner's insurance is you never know how good it is until the roof caves in. Then it can be too late. A Homeowners policy from Auto-Owners offers you replacement cost coverage on your home and personal property. Some homes qualify for optional Guaranteed Home Replacement cost coverage. And the great news is...this one encompassing policy may cost you less than the coverage you have now because Auto-Owners offers several discounts and rating advantages. There's no place like Auto-Owners when it comes to Homeowner's protection. Just ask your "no problem" agent!

35th Annual Chicken Broil

We are fast approaching our 35th Annual Chicken Broil. Let's consider for a moment - everything that has been said for the last 34 years about cooking and eating our wonderful world renowned Char-Broiled Chicken. It has been written about so many times that we thought you might like to see some of these articles of yesteryear and attest to their validity. This article is from 1968. In the future publications you will see articles from 1954, 1960, 1973, 1978 and 1983. See you at the 1988 Broil. Reprint July 1988 by Carolyn Ahrens

Word has already been spread, or most likely after fourteen years of sponsoring the most popular event of its kind in Michigan, no one needs reminding that the 15th Annual Charcoal Chicken Broil is upon us. On Thursday, July 18th at the Athletic Field, 3,500 golden brown chicken halves will be ready for the first serving at 4:30 p.m. Over 10,000 guests are expected again this year and already the 28 committees are preparing for the state-wide event. Although the ladies are only to relax and enjoy the evening, they might give a helping hand by sending out, by the 13th of July, the postcards received in the mail. Remind your out-of-town friends and relatives of our goal - the youth who benefit from the proceeds - the delicious charcoal broiled chicken - and the side attractions of exhibits and a softball game. Co-chairman Ludy Klager reports that there will be designated parking at high school and Double A Products with shuttle service to and from the Athletic Field. This will relieve some of the traffic congestion and parking facilities at the Field. Tickets are now available from the workers or may be purchased at the gate for $1.50, the original price fourteen years ago. Last year's profits of over $4,700 along with some of this year's profits will total a $6,000 pledge to the high school for track facilities. The Prebroil Party for the men workers will be held at Carr Park on Thursday, July 11 at 6:00 p.m. Any man who has not been contacted by letter and wishes to help may contact Dan Boutell or Rollie Grossman. Ted Tapping is in charge of student help and any boy who would like to help may contact Mr. Tapping. These boys must register with him, the committee stressed. You will be most welcome.
