enterprise and traditional American values and fighter against wasteful government, State Representative Margaret O'Connor has announced that she will seek re-election to a fourth term as the 52nd District's O'Connor said. legislator in the House.

O'Connor, whose last three terms have been dedicated to demanding fiscal responsibility in the State Legislature, is recognized by both parties in the Legislature as being an expert on the budget. More than any otherlegislator she knows how money is being spent and where reductions are possible. Her "Pork Barrel of the Week" awards have called attention to examples of the blatant disregard for taxpayer's money which is so prevalent in over spending. O'Connor was everyone.

Widely regarded as Michigan's cited by the Michigan Conservastaunchest proponent of free tive Union as the legislator most careful with taxpayer's money.

"I believe that most Michigan residents would be absolutely appalled by the total lack of fiscal restraint displayed by their elected officials at the state level,"

"In my past three terms, I have been guided by two forces, the first being the will of my constituents. The second is the Jeffersonian principle - government which governs least. governs best."

A proponent of deregulation and privatization of government. O'Connor believes that the state and federal governments should do only what the private sector cannot do. She also believes that the "excessive taxation" of Michigan's citizens is damaging Lansing. She knows taxes can be and is restricting the state's reduced if control can be secured economy to the detriment of

"In a free enterprise system, the government does the worst financial planning of all," she said. "If people are allowed to keep their money, their investments in our state will provide a strong financial base which will improve all our lives and upon which we can experience significant growth," O'Connor said.

In a display of personal financial restraint, O'Connor spent approximately $5000 winning her last election, while her defeated opponent spent close to one hundred thousand dollars.

As testimony to the efficiency and effectiveness Rep. O'Connor brings to her office, House Speaker Gary Owen has not felt it necessary to provide her with a legislative aide, apparently feeling she does as much without an aide as other house members do with

A Lodi Township resident. O'Connor previously served on the Lodi Township Board, the Lodi Township Planning Commission, the County Board of Commissioners and the County Planning Commission.

They were composed and performed at El Escorial, an immense, grey stone monastery called by the Spanish, the eighth wonder of the world.

The special music in the rest of the service will be from the New World, music composed by Americans. The service will begin with a prelude, "A Gladsome Hymn of Praise," performed by Emanuel's bell choir. This hauntingly beautiful melody will be repeated by the choir as thev sing it during their processional.

The famous Shaker song, "Simple Gifts," will be sung by Alice Swainson and Sherly The choir will sing Adrion. What is an Insect Allergy?

Insect allergy simply means that exposure to an insect brings about an overreaction of the immune system in a sensitive person. Most often, exposure involves a sting or bite. In most cases, insect allergy might be called more correctly insect sting allergy or insect venom allergy, since the allergic reaction is usually not caused by the whole insect but by the venom that it in-

The salivary secretions of biting insects (such as mosquitoes, flies, lice, and fleas) or the irritating substances left on the skin by some crawling insects may lead to sensitivity, but it is the stinging insects that are generally the most dangerous.

The Hymenoptera or "membrane-winged" insects are the only insects that sting, and only a few of the stinging Hymenoptera-honey bees, wasps, hornets, yellow jackets, and ants-cause serious allergic reactions in man. Of these five, reactions to the yellow jacket and the bee are the most common.

Plan Event To Raise Funds For Athletic Fence

If you want to taste charcoal broiled chicken at its finest. salted, buttered with well-done meat under a crisp toasted skin, bring your family and your friends to the Manchester athletic field, anytime after four o'clock. Thursday, August 12.

This open-air feast, sponsored by the Exchange Club with the help of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, is no amateur affair. It's worth coming to, just to watch the expert Michigan State College cooks in action. For some time, Michigan State has specialized in developing the chicken barbecue. Their equipment consists of two-sided grates to permit the turning of 40 or 50 chicken halves at one time. Part of the chicken will be roasted over metal half-barrels containing glowing charcoal. Part will be done over special long ovens. The staff will be prepared to serve up to 400 meals per hour, and service will last for almost four hours.

Special chickens have been ordered and each serving will consist of a 14-ounce half. The chefs have developed barbecuing to a fine art. Butter is not applied until the chicken is almost done. The roasting is done slowly over an hour to finish the cooking.

Tables will be set on the athletic field and kept clean and ready for guests as fast as diners finish their meals. The menu, in addition to chicken is potato chips, relishes, buttered buns. In case of rain, cooking will be done on the playground under a tent, and service will be in the gymnasium.

The state college technique for preparing barbecued chicken has ecome nationally famous. In many communities the college has serviced as high as 1500 guests and making them all happy. Many ovens will be in operation on the Manchester athletic field and hot chicken will be coming off the grates at the rate of hundred every quarter hour.

Cost of the feast is only $1.50 for adults and .75 cents for children half portions. All profits will be toward the debt on the athletic field fence, for which the Exchange Club has signed notes. The Jaycees are running beverage and ice cream stands
