Adding Up The Cost Of Owning A Car

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

Forget the sticker price. Ignore the ads. To figure the true cost of owning a car, you will have to do a lot more than just comparison shop.

If you are like most people, you probably decide how much car you can afford by estimating the amount of your annual loan payments plus the cost of insurance. According to the Michigan Association of CPA's, this method of calculation may land you in a financial ditch.

To find out how much your car really costs, add up all your operating expenses, including both fixed and variable costs. In simple terms, fixed costs are those that remain the same whether you drive the car across country or just across town. Variable expenses are trickier to estimate, since they can soar or plunge depending on the type and amount of driving you do.

FIXED COSTS

In most cases, fixed costs fall into four basic categories: depreciation, insurance, loan interest and loan principal. The Hertz Corporation reports that these auto expenses increased an average of 5.5 percent in 1987. Let's take a look at the specific items that can drive the cost of owning a car way beyond your initial expectations.

Depreciation is the amount by which a car's value falls during a specific period. Keep in mind that you car's value falls more rapidly in the early years and levels out after approximately four years. Using estimated average depreciation rates, a car's value generally falls about 32 percent in the first year. The specific depreciation rate for your car may differ, but will follow roughly the same pattern. Depreciation is important to consider, if you are planning to trade in or resell your car.

Insurance can represent more than 20 percent of your car's total operating costs, depending on such factors as the age of the car, the car model, the amount of your deductible, your driving record and the type of area in which you live.

For a new car, you will need collision and comprehensive coverage in addition to liability insurance. Michigan's no-fault statute also requires medical coverage and loss of income benefits, which adds to the cost of the insurance. Again, older cars are less expensive to insure - in many cases, you can choose to forgo collision coverage entirely. There are other ways to trim the expense of insurance. Choosing a four-cylinder family model over an eight-cylinder sports car can save you several hundred dollars annually.

Increasing your deductible (the amount of money that you must pay before the insurance kicks in) can also shave hundreds off your annual premium charges.

As with any other product or service, shop around for the best deal. Find out what discounts your insurance agent offers. If you are an older person, drive your car fewer than 7,000 miles a year, move to a less congested community, change your commuting patterns or regularly park your car in a garage, you may be eligible for lower rates. If you need to insure your teenage children, make sure they complete a driver's education course. That single step could save you up to 25 percent of the insurance costs.

Loan interest is a cost of car ownership that few people considered in the past, perhaps because the interest provided a much-needed tax deduction. Unfortunately, you can no longer get the same mileage out of automobile loan interest. In 1988, such interest is only 40 percent deductible, with that figure plunging to 20 percent in 1989 and to 10 percent in 1990 and zero in 1991. As a result, interest (which can easily add up to several hundred dollars a year) is once again an important item to factor into your car's financial bottom line.

Loan principal is a car's sticker price plus sales tax and minus your down payment. On a car with a sticker price of $10,000, four percent sales tax adds $400 down, your loan principal is $8,400. The higher your principal, the higher your monthly payments. Once you've paid off the loan principal and interest, the cost of maintaining a car generally drops by a substantial amount.

CPAs say that it may pay to hold onto your car a year or two after your loan payments cease. During that period, deposit into a savings account an amount equal to your monthly loan payments. In this way, when it comes time to buy a new car, you will be able to make a larger down payment and avoid incurring an unnecessary amount of non-deductible interest. Remember, too, that the interest rates you pay on loans are bound to be at least a few percentage points higher than what your savings account earns.

VARIABLE COSTS

Variable costs include registration fees; maintenance and repair costs; replacement parts; gasoline and oil; and parking.

Registration fees represent only a small percentage of the cost of owning a car, but you should still budget for them. Included in this category are charges for vehicle registration and inspection.

Maintenance and repair costs are difficult to estimate, but national averages range from about $160 for a 1-year-old car up to about $600 for a 10-year-old car. Several publications, such as Consumers Reports, offer information on the repair records of specific models.

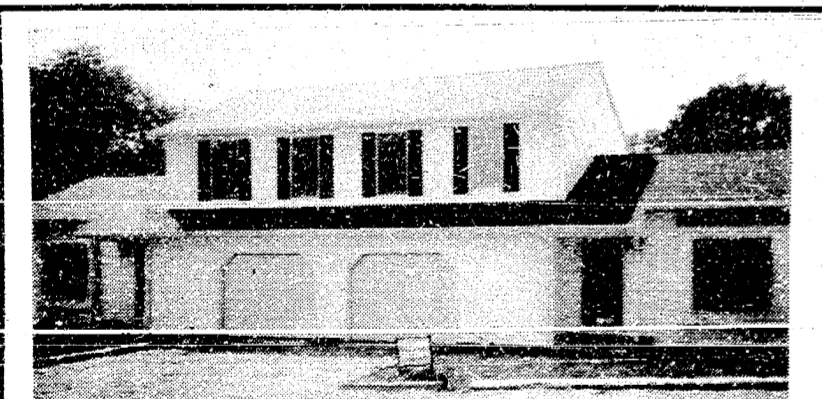

Replacement parts are likewise hard to estimate since you never know how much work your car may require in any one year. Reserve a minimum of a few hundred dollars as a contingency against the need for new spark plugs or a new battery.

Gas and oil costs, on the other hand, can be calculated quite easily, even if you don't save receipts. To estimate your gas costs, divide the amount of miles you drive annually by your car's average miles per gallon (MPG), then multiply by the average cost per gallon of gasoline. For example, if you drive 10,000 miles a year and your car averages 20 MPG, you use approximately 500 gallons a year. At $1.10 a gallon, that come to $550 per year.

Parking can be a substantial expense for people living in cities. Calculate how much you pay to travel to and from work over the course of one year. You may be surprised at how quickly those parking fees add up.

When you total all your expenses, you may suddenly view the slightly rusted family car in a new light. The Michigan Association of CPAs recommends that you carefully consider the costs of car ownership before deciding to buy a new car.

"You Miss School - You Miss Out"

Students returning to school from summer vacation will be greeted by a special promotion at Manchester High School. The "You Miss School - You Miss Out" program has been initiated at MHS in an effort to emphasize the importance of attending school on a regular basis.

While attendance hasn't really been a problem at MHS, there are some students that need additional motivation and need to recognize that good attendance will increase academic achievement. "Our effort will focus on making school a habit," said Rod Morrison, Principal. "Research shows that the single greatest factor contributing to student achievement is attendance at school."

Alcohol Research Center To Open

Calling Alcoholism one of America's most misunderstood illnesses, Congressman Carl D. Pursell today opened the nation's newest Alcohol Research Center at the University of Michigan.

"This center - one of 11 across the country - will study how alcohol interacts with the aging process and develop methods for early diagnosis and treatment in older individuals," Pursell said. "Problems associated with aging and with alcoholism represent two of the largest public health concerns affecting the State of Michigan and the country."

"The center's research is especially important in light of two major health trends in this country: the rapidly expanding elderly population and the increasing recognition that alcoholism as a disease interacts with other illnesses," the congressman said. The center will be funded through a five-year, $7.5 million grant from the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. U-M requested Pursell's assistance in obtaining the funding when it became questionable in 1987.

The Pioneers

Manchester Enterprise March 24, 1887
Where They Came from - Where They Lived - How They Lived, and made the "Wilderness Blossom as the Rose."
EARLY DAYS IN BRIDGEWATER
A Series of Sketches written expressly for the Enterprise Sketch Number One.
"In the days when we were pioneers, Fifty Years Ago."

James Crampton was born in Spalding-Lincolnshire, England, July 23, 1799. On February 3, 1826 he married Elizabeth P. Wishlad. They landed in New York Dec. 30, 1830, and stayed in Albany until the arrival of spring. May 15, 1831, they arrived in Detroit, and in Clinton five days later, and going to Bridgewater. Mr. C. built a kind of tent of poles covered with bedclothes, on the south side of that little rut just south of the present dwellings of Thos. VanGieson and William Gadd. They remained in the tent until a log cabin was built north of the Bridgewater mill pond.

In those days provisions were scarce; some wheat had been sown in 1830, but harvest time had not arrived, and in 1831 before harvest Crampton in order to obtain some wheat, went to Lodi plains, procured a small grist, stayed the first night where Clinton now is, next day went to Adrian to get his grain ground on the third day arrived home.

This journey was made by an ox team. When this small supply was gone they had to fall back on the green wheat. It was cut, and when dry enough, was shelled and boiled and eaten with milk, until harvest, some two or three weeks.

For pillows they procured shavings, and their spring mattresses during several years, were composed of straw. In '32 the Blackhawk war called out the scattered male population, and Crampton among the rest. At that time General Brown, of Tecumseh, commanded the expedition. The campaign lasted only about three weeks. While Crampton was on the warpath, Mrs. Crampton planted corn.

The Crampton household heard of a settler that had come into the vicinity, and on one of those quiet mornings, when silence settles down on the primeval forests like a benediction of heaven. Crampton and wife started out to find the new comer; they found him on the river bank where Soulesville was afterward located, and his name was Soules. In the fall of '30 Jacob Gilbert came in and located where Justice Watson now owns. Those early park benches and kiddie swings for Carr Park.

Michigan Author Series At Library

The new Fall series of the enjoyable Reading and Discussion program has been scheduled by the Manchester Township Library. The first discussion meeting will be held Thursday, October 6th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main Street.

You will recall, late last spring this group met about every two weeks to discuss, with a University lecturer moderating, a book which all had been reading. This "group", by the way, included anyone and everyone who enjoyed reading a good book and then sitting around and talking about it. No registration is necessary - no one is REQUIRED to talk. Some just came and enjoyed listening to the discussion. Some came to every single meeting; some could not make it. In other words, please consider coming, knowing that the program is flexible, and you are welcome to simply enjoy yourself.

The Manchester Township Library received a grant from the Council for the Humanities and the Michigan Library Association to organize this series and to make it possible to bring in distinguished lecturers to lead the discussions.

The topic of this Fall's series is "Michigan Authors," and the first selection which is scheduled to be discussed in two weeks is THE DOLLMAKER, by Harriette Arnow, who, until her recent passing, lived in Ann Arbor. If you know the story from the movie - please still read the book, and join the discussion. Of course, we're all aware of how books and movies differ - and this instance is no exception.

The meetings last about an hour and a half, and it's rather cozy on cool nights to sit in the warm light of the Blacksmith Shop talking about books.

The lecturer for the first book is Agnes Perkins, a distinguished professor emerita from Eastern Michigan University. Although Prof. Perkins is most often known for her writings on and anthologies of children's poetry and fiction, she is equally well known as an experienced, intriguing, and insightful lecturer. What she will bring to THE DOLLMAKER should be good, hearty discussion.

Other stories to be read and discussed in this Series are THE LOON FEATHER by Iola Fuller, on October 20, with the discussion led by Manchester's own Martha Stoner; Hemingway's NICK ADAMS STORIES on November 3rd; and finally, GALES OF NOVEMBER: THE SINKING OF THE EDMUND FITZGERALD will be discussed on November 17, with the author, Robert J. Hemming, leading the discussion. All these books are by Michigan authors, are excellent stories, and will be discussed with outstanding guest lecturers.

Making Tortillas

Esmeralda Cantu, an Aide at Klager, mixes another batch of tortillas.

A bowl of flour, a scoop of shortening, a pinch of baking powder, a dash of salt plus a little water and you have the ingredients for tortillas, one of the basic foods of our Hispanic friends. Each classroom at Klager Elementary had the opportunity to observe Esmeralda Cantu and Lydia Hernandez demonstrate the mixing, rolling and frying while the children sampled the final product. In celebration of Hispanic Heritage Week, the children are studying the culture of the Hispanic Americans.

Senior Citizens News

Another rainy Monday morning. Remember when we washed clothes on Monday regardless of the weather because it was the day we did it? And Tuesdays we ironed, Friday we cleaned and Saturday was baking day. Can't remember what we did on those other two days, I guess we were busy. I still have my wringer washer in the basement and please don't ask why (I just keep things in case I may need them - a regular pack rat!). Why not pack yourself off to the Thursday, September 22nd senior meal at Emanuel dining room at noon for some of Jan's BBQ chicken? It is good as are all of her meals that are served on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and stay for bingo.

8, that is not on our calendar. Seniors plan to attend the Pumpkin Fest and its 10 a.m. parade in South Lyons. Time of departure will be announced and you may make reservations with Helen.

La Leche League

The Advantages of Breast-feeding to Mother and Baby will be discussed at the next meeting of La Leche League on September 27, at the home of Marsha Chartrand, 208 S. Clinton, at 7:30 p.m.

For further information about La Leche League or about meetings, or for help at any time, please call Marsha Chartrand, League leader, at 428-8831.

Varsity Girls' Basketball action - Vanessa Salyer shoots.

By Jon
In the first game on Tuesday evening our JV squad lost for the first time this season to Stockbridge. High scorer Jackie Ahrens hit for 8 as Joanne Kemner had 5. The final tally was 29-34.

Our Varsity Girls' woes continued as Stockbridge was victorious 49-33. Linda Milkey, Sarah Corwin, and Vanessa Salyer each had 6 points. We hosted new league member Addison on Thursday and both our squads went down. In the Little Dutch contest, Nikki Eastman popped for 8 points, while Melanie Ball and Joanne added 6 each. At the conclusion the scoreboard read 35-54. In the Varsity battle, we played probably our best game of the season as 10 players scored, but Addison's exchange student from Hungary spelled doom. Judi Lendvay gunned for 32 points, mostly in the first half, to lead her team to victory, 87-57. Our scorers were Linda Milkey and Stacey Wilde with 9 points each.

Manchester Township Board

Proposed Minutes: Special Meeting "Truth in Taxation" Hearing September 12, 1988

Meeting called to order at 7:33 p.m. on the above date with Board members Mann, Lentz, Uphouse, and Widmayer in attendance. Absent: Macomber. Also present: Tom Fidge, Michael Schlosser, and Doreen Birnie.

Supervisor announced that we must have this hearing by law, to enable us to levy 1.16 mills instead of 1.15 mills. The additional millage will generate approximately $28,655. Mr. Fidge and Ms. Birnie had no problems with the millage request. Mr. Fidge does not approve of the millage request for the roads.

Moved by Uphouse, supported by Widmayer, to hold a special meeting on September 19, 1988, at 8:45 p.m. to adopt or reject the proposed millage increase. All yeas, carried.

Dutchmen Annihilate East Jackson

Friday's Varsity game against East Jackson.

By Jon
Our Varsity Football squad hosted the East Jackson Trojans on Friday night and compiled 400 yards in total offense to bury the Trojans 60-7. Mike Brokaw had a big night as he rushed for 129 yards. Both teams were rather tentative in the first quarter of play with us leading 7-0. The explosion hit in the 2nd stanza as we scored 5 touchdowns for 33 points. First of all, we had Mike rambling in from 5 yards out, then we went to the air as Tom Mann tossed 8 yards to John Korican. Next it was Jason VanDeven's turn as he scampered 25 yards to pay dirt. Tom then tallied with a 12-yard run. Mike led us into halftime by

Manchester Area Historical Society Recreation Task Force

The Manchester Area Historical Society held it's annual meeting at the Blacksmith Shop on Monday, September 19, 1988. Officers elected for 1988-89 were: President - Howard Parr, First Vice-President - Jan Shurtliff, Co-Second Vice Presidents - Edna Knass and T.V. Ludwick, Secretary - Betty Cummings, Treasurer - Loring Ebersole, Directors - Gail Curtis and Tom Walton.

John Swainson, as Immediate Past President, also serves as a Director.

The videotape of the events of 1987 was previewed. It is an excellent film produced by Bill and Jan Shurtliff and shows snapshots of the various parades held during 1987, the arrival of Santa Claus, the changing scene of main street businesses, our Heritage Day celebration, and a very interesting interview of Cora Grossman Jenter. It ended with a peaceful scene of ducks swimming on the river with the snow softly falling. Groups wishing to see the film may contact an officer of the Society to arrange it.

Ruth Oates served refreshments.

Recreation Task Force met Wednesday, September 14, at the Blacksmith Shop. Summer activities were viewed very successful. Many residents, especially young people were involved in the planning, implementing and enjoyment of the Day Camp, Heritage Fair Celebration, Dunk Tank at the Fair and the float in the parade.

Monday, October 31st will be TRICK OR TREAT Night for all the ghosts and goblins. An old fashioned Halloween party will be planned for all the Manchester area kids after all the treats are gathered.

A Halloween Dance for 7th and 8th graders is being planned for October 22. More details will be available at a later date.

The Task Force brainstormed ideas for the coming months. They are as follows: Brighton Ski Trips, Family Sock Hop, Family Day of Fun, Hayride for Families, Christmas Sing at the Gazebo, Cross Country Skiing, Dances at the school, Bowling, Roller Skating and Ice Rink in the park.

Board member concern is that we need more involvement of community people to help on a one time basis with events. Parents, adolescents, teens, need to be involved in planning and coordinating of future events. Volunteers can call the Community Resource Center 428-7722 to become part of the fun activities of the MRTF.

By Jon

Our Dutch Golf squad's season is about half over and is supporting a respectable 4 and 5 record.

August 24, at Clark Lake, we met Concord and lost 180-183. (Remember, low score wins in golf). Co-Captain Dave Mitchell clubbed a 42 as Chris Spalding shot 43. August 30, saw us at Hudson. In this 3-team match Columbia Central totaled 150. Our combined score was 194, edging out the Tigers at 195. Dave was again our low scorer with 46. September 1st had us traveling to Clinton. In a very close match, we downed the Skins 180-184. Dave smacked a 41, as Doug Raab shot a 45. On September 8, at Jonesville, we were beaten 188-210. Tim Burkhardt led our scorers with 47. September 12, we traveled to Sand Creek and were victorious 194-200. Dave was our low man with 44. On September 15, we trekked to Concord Hills for a 4-way match. Concord was first with a 152 tally. Western captured second place with 165. We took third place with 185, as Albion came in last with 215. Shawn Lowery had a big outing with 44, as Dave hit 45.

Fall Color Show to Unfold

Autumn in Michigan Becomes A Dazzling Spectrum of Colors

Despite the summer's long drought and unprecedented heat Michigan forests will likely unfold their annual panorama of spectacular colors on schedule, AAA Michigan reports.

"The relatively mild weather in recent weeks should encourage many people to plan a fall color tour," said Brian Potter, AAA Michigan Touring Manager. "Color buffs will begin trekking into the Upper Peninsula a week before the first day of autumn, September 22, this year."

Generally, peak periods to admire autumn's artistry are mid-September to early October across the Upper Peninsula from Copper Harbor to Mackinac Island; late September to mid-October in the northern third of the Lower Peninsula, above a line between Ludington and Standish; and early to mid-October for the central section of the Lower Peninsula, north of a line from Muskegon to Port Huron. Nature's paintbrush usually spreads through the southern third of the Lower Peninsula from Lake Michigan toward Metropol-could upset the chemical process and cause a late, lackluster display."

To help travelers enjoy autumn's splendid color show, the AAA Michigan Travel Agency offers an October 14-16 tour via motorcoach and ferry boat to Mackinac Island, with two nights in the Lake View Hotel or Island House Hotel and two meals each day, from $235. A one-day bus excursion on October 5, to Marshall costs $42, including lunch at Schuler's Restaurant.

AAA Michigan also issues a weekly report on leaf colors during September and October.
