Discussion Series

THE DOLLMAKER demands discussion! Please come tonight and take advantage of a forum for this discussion. Whether or not you've finished the book (or even only saw the movie), whether or not you are burning to tell the world what this book meant to you and why you love (or hate) it, whether or not you would like to just hear others talk and allow yourself to quietly put this story into a more comfortable spot in your mind - the discussion portion of the Reading and Discussion Series will provide the opportunity.

The guest lecturer tonight will be Agnes Perkins, distinguished professor emerita from Eastern Michigan University. But the STAR of the meeting will be the story - the powerful and unforgettable story of THE DOLLMAKER. See you there.

Grange Picnic At Norvell

Manchester Enterprise September 30, 1975

It had never been our good fortune to attend the picnic given by the P.O.F.H., and as there was to be one at Norvell on the 22nd inst., we concluded to go. The day opened cold, and overcoats had to be brought into requisition. Old Sol did his level best to brighten up, but failed in the attempt to warm mother earth sufficiently to make a grass lunch anything of a temptation, except to those who had everything prepared and couldn't wait.

Arriving at the village of Norvell, we found the Manchester Brass Band had preceded us and were entertaining the people at the Norvell House with some of their excellent music.

A procession headed by the band and composed of members of the Order from various surrounding towns, in regalia, the glee club, speakers, and invited guests marched to a large and beautiful grove, "over the river," where ample seats had been arranged in front of a large stand built for the speakers, singers and band. In front of this stand was erected a triumphal (?) arch, adorned with fruits and other products of the farm, with the word "Welcome" at the summit. On the right hand was a banner with these words: "Equal rights to all;" and on the left, "Better days are coming." We don't know whether that motto was put there to signify "over the left," or not. Many of the trees were trimmed with cornstalks, etc., and the entire grove looked as though planted with pumpkins, while one large tree had fifteen or twenty attached to its limbs. We have often heard of cucumber trees, but a pumpkin tree is the latest. The unpleasant weather of the few preceding days had kept

Intriguing Program At MAHS

Wystan Stevens is one of the most colorful and entertaining speakers around on the subject of history. Even those who ordinarily don't thrill to the subject, enjoy and appreciate Wystan Stevens lectures. And the Manchester Area Historical Society is delighted to invite you to hear Wystan Stevens speak at its next regular meeting, this coming Monday, October 17th, at 7:30 p.m., at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main Street.

The subject will be "Postcard Collecting" - an unusual yet incredibly interesting door to history through people and pictures.

Mr. Stevens was for years known as "Ann Arbor's unofficial historian," but his work embraces the "entire country." He has recently been active in establishing the "Community History Foundation for Washtenaw County," an organization which will raise funds to pursue research, writing, classes, oral histories, etc.

Mr. Stevens also has an enthusiastic following who attend his classes and tours - a favorite of which is a cemetery tour.

But it is not just the information of Wystan Stevens that makes his lectures so valuable. Certainly it is the man who shares the information, for Wystan Stevens is simply fascinating!

The Manchester Area Historical Society invites ALL in the community - whether members of the Historical Society or not - to come to the Blacksmith Shop next Monday at 7:30 p.m. to hear Wystan Stevens - and to enjoy an evening like no other - hearing history revealed through the stories contained in postcard collecting.

Youth Week Oct. 23-29

October 23 through October 29 will be Youth Week in the Manchester Community. It seems an opportune time to me that as adults (former youth) and current youth take the time to consider our positions in life and how we relate to each other.

The old adage of "the more things change the more they remain the same" can be seen as the "50's" are repeated again in the flat tops & buzz cuts in the men and the pegged pants and pedal pushers worn by the women and described as "new fashion".

Though the adults may smile knowingly at this, there are some changes that have occurred in the fabric of our young society. Academic pressures have increased ten-fold leaving those who can't compete even further behind and frustrated. Economically, the future is an expensive one requiring both husband and wife to work to achieve the same things that one salary at one time purchased.

Sadly, the substance abuse problem now begins in the 4, 5, 6 grades resulting in hardened, cynical people in high school.

Questions regarding identities and direction seem to be commonplace in today's high school. The odds of surviving the young years intact are greatly reduced today. Teen pregnancies, teen suicide, alcohol related issues and family instability contribute to the physical & emotional problems confronting our youth.

We as adults and young people need to make the effort to develop relationships in which we can mutually face these issues together.

Marathon Runner Returns And Remembers

Both courses are relatively flat and definitely picturesque. Whether you're starting in Windsor or running home to Detroit or in Moscow starting at the Luzhnik Sports Complex running out to the Kremlin, along the Moscow River & finishing again at the Luzhnik Sports Complex it's still 26.2 long miles - it just takes longer to get to the Moscow starting line.

This year's Moscow Marathon drew 6200 male & female runners (females were 1,016 in number) was 85 degrees and remained that warm until 8:30 p.m.

-meals were served to 45-60 senior citizens twice weekly by the Manchester Area Senior Citizens Council.

Co-op Preschool. -training and material was available to encourage the youth to "Just Say No" to drugs through the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee.

Senior Citizens News

"And if I should live to be the last leaf upon the tree in the spring, Let them smile as I do now at the old forsaken bough where I cling." Had to delve in File X for that one and thought Whittier wrote it-it is a case of wishing I'd said that. The beauty of the six poems assigned to us in the sixth grade to memorize come and go and things such as leaves falling remind us once again. Once at a party when younger, I recited the 18 linking verbs and a friend topped me with all the South American countries. I find it's embarrassing now to not immediately answer queries from the past. If I don't think about it I can usually blurt it out. This is part of growing older and being "The Last Leaf". Fun, huh?

Marathon Runner Returns

A major difference between the two marathons is the "aide station" arrangements. In Moscow, aide stations were stocked with cartons of water, tonic water or tea and placed three miles apart. At every other aide station there was dark Russian bread added. In Detroit the aide stations are stocked with cups of water & sport drink and placed every mile. Sponges are equally distributed at both races. The aide stations are manned by uniformed Russian soldiers in Moscow instead of volunteers.

The runners in Moscow are an interesting array of humans. The Soviet runners do not have a variety of running shoes available to them. Thus they run in one of three styles 1) a brightly colored running shoe similar in style to the inexpensive gym shoe of the '60's 2) a shoe resembling men's lace-up oxford dress shoes, or 3) barefoot. Their running outfits were mostly cotton tank tops & shorts. They do not have the luxury of comfortable & cool clothing or well-fitting shoes but they sure run with spirit.

The Soviets have a custom of sharing small pins (emblems of Lenin, etc.) with their visitors while sharpening their English speaking skills or geography knowledge. How convenient for me to point to my mid-palm & say "Manchester, Michigan". Their faces quickly lit up in recognition of Michigan's unique glove shape.

Both races finish with fatigued runners feeling triumphant at having accomplished their own personal goals. Lots of family members & friends cluster at the exit chute to personally congratulate the runners. In Moscow the lower level of the Luzhnik Sports Complex is set up with a light meal—cheese, bread, caviar, sausage, fruits & soda—for the foreign runners only. This is Moscow's gesture of hospitality to her visiting foreign runners.

The main theme of the Moscow International Peace Marathon is citizen to citizen diplomacy which I witnessed repeatedly. Soviet runners handing cartons of water to others before they took their carton, their friendly attempts at conversation, their cheering on of "America keese", their arms interlocking across an American's back and supporting him for the last two miles of the race for which he claims he "couldn't have finished" the marathon without their help.

The differences between the two marathons becomes minimal when the similarity of the men & women runners accepting a challenge they've trained for, and singularly accomplishing it is acknowledged. Good luck to all the runners (especially those from Manchester) in the Detroit Free Press Marathon who have accepted the 26.2 mile challenge October 16th!

Grange Picnic

Grange Hall, from whence they came, and soon departed for their respective homes. However, before they took their departure, they had the pleasure of witnessing the many neatly executed evolutions performed by our excellent band, accompanied by their sweet music. The boys received many flattering compliments from noted personages that day, for their proficiency in drill, neat and attractive appearance, and the superior quality of their music. The drum major won the hearts of all the girls—but how many hearts he "smashed" we are unable to say.

We have no doubt this picnic will prove a good thing for the grange, for many who listened to the speeches were entirely ignorant of the objects and aims of the order until they had them explained by the speakers. At any rate all seemed to enjoy the occasion, not withstanding the cold, and the Norvell grange are entitled to the credit of getting up a picnic which was an entire success.

In the evening they had a hop at the Norvell House, in which a very fine company participated. Mine host I. Burton and his people did everything to make his guests comfortable, both during the day and evening, and he is entitled to praise as well as liberal patronage for his kindly efforts.

Fall Reading And Discussion Series

Refreshments and conversation follow the discussion portion of the Manchester Township Library's Reading and Discussion Series. Patty Swaney and guest lecturer, Prof. Agnes Perkins, chat over coffee.

Nearly two dozen people gathered at the Blacksmith Shop last Thursday evening to discuss THE DOLLMAKER, the first book in the Manchester Township Library's Fall Reading and Discussion Series. And discuss they did!

Prof. Agnes Perkins from Eastern Michigan University opened the discussion with a small story of her own about her experiences at "Willow Village" in Ypsilanti just after World War II. This made an excellent introduction to THE DOLLMAKER, a complex story of a woman from Kentucky and her family who move to Detroit (or was it Willow Village) during the War so that her husband can work in the factories.

There were those in the discussion group who knew firsthand, or from their parents, about the Bomber plants, steel factories, and Kentucky hills. And there was a sincerity in the discussion that lent an appropriate context to this large story which held so many overwhelming emotions.

Comments varied from ideas about "community" which exist in otherwise depressing ghetto conditions, to the nature of the "hold" a mother may exert on her seemingly strong and independent daughter.

The story is so full that the range of possibilities - but at the same time perhaps subdued by the variety of personal meanings each of the group embraced.

However, the beginning of the Reading and Discussion Series was satisfying. Refreshments and conversation followed the meeting.

The next book in this "Michigan Authors" Series is THE LOON FEATHER by Iola Fuller. Written in the '40's about the Michigan Indians, the author studied at the University of Michigan. This discussion will be led by Martha Stoner of Manchester, currently teaching in the English Department at U. of M. (Martha Stoner has previously taught also at M.S.U.) Copies of the book are available at the Library now. The next Discussion meeting will be held Thursday, October 20th, at 7:30 p.m., at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main.

The people who join in this series are many and varied. Please consider coming - for one book or for them all. It really is interesting and fun.

 We possessed the pigskin, QB Tom Mann tossed a 56-yard bomb to John Korican which set up Mike Brokaw's 2-yard run for a TD. Following Tom's pass to Tim McGinn for a successful 2-point conversion, we entered the second quarter ahead 14-0. Soon after, Tom scampered into the endzone from 1 yard out, then, two minutes later, connected via airway to Jason for 6 more. Jason capped off this quarter by booting a 32-yard field goal to leave the tally at halftime 31-0.

There was no scoring in the third quarter of play, but we did score twice in the final period; first, on a 1-yard dive by Andy Pagel, and secondly on a 4-yard pass from Tom to Jon Uphouse. The game ended with the score-board reading 44-0.

Girl Hoopsters Down Grass Lake

Nicole Reinhart guns for 2 of 18 on Thursday.

On Thursday, our Lady Dutch welcomed the Warriors to our gym. In the first contest of the evening our JV squad came out on top, 37-27. In the varsity game, we overcame several obstacles to win 52-42. With this, our third straight win, we stand 3 and 2 in Cascades Conference play.

We held the advantage of 14-10 after the first 8 minutes of play. Unfortunately, Grass Lake outscored us 16-8 in the second period to bring on the halftime at 26-22. We come out smoking and continued to play well throughout the second half as we outproduced the Warriors, with a 5 and 1 record, 30 points to 16. This left us victorious, 52-42.

Nicole Reinhart was top gun tonight with 18 points (12 of which she scored in the second half).

Friday night was our Homecoming night and also farewell to Booster Field for the season. It was also a farewell to Al Strieter, our Athletic Director, who is departing for a principalship northward. Special congratulations go to Vicki Warner, our Homecoming Queen, and Jennifer Faulhaber, the First Runnerup. With this win, we are now at 6 and 0 for the season, and this is our third straight shutout. Our offense generated 390 yards, while it was Mike Brokaw and the defense who held the Jayhawks at bay.

We took the opening kickoff and drove right down the field in four plays. Jason Van Deven broke loose from 19 yards out to cross the goal line. The next time we possessed the pigskin, QB Tom Mann tossed a 56-yard bomb to John Korican which set up Mike Brokaw's 2-yard run for a TD. Following Tom's pass to Tim McGinn for a successful 2-point conversion, we entered the second quarter ahead 14-0. Soon after, Tom scampered into the endzone from 1 yard out, then, two minutes later, connected via airway to Jason for 6 more. Jason capped off this quarter by booting a 32-yard field goal to leave the tally at halftime 31-0.

There was no scoring in the third quarter of play, but we did score twice in the final period; first, on a 1-yard dive by Andy Pagel, and secondly on a 4-yard pass from Tom to Jon Uphouse. The game ended with the score-board reading 44-0. Be with us Friday as we travel to Grass Lake.

Girl Hoopsters Down Grass Lake

by Jon

Nicole Reinhart guns for 2 of 18 on Thursday.

On Thursday, our Lady Dutch welcomed the Warriors to our gym. In the first contest of the evening our JV squad came out on top, 37-27. In the varsity game, we overcame several obstacles to win 52-42. With this, our third straight win, we stand 3 and 2 in Cascades Conference play.

We held the advantage of 14-10 after the first 5 minutes of play. Unfortunately, Grass Lake out-scored us 16-8 in the second period to bring on the halftime at 26-22. We come out smoking and continued to play well throughout the second half as we out-produced the Warriors, with a 5 and 1 record, 30 points to 16. This left us victorious, 52-42.

Nicole Reinhart was top gun tonight with 18 points (12 of which she scored in the second half).

WHEN THE SNOW FLIES WILL YOUR CAR BE WINTERIZED?
 inspections of the Cooling System are Crucial to the Engines Health

How To Prevent Car Heart Attacks.

Unfortunately, most car owners don't realize that cooling system parts should be replaced before they fail. Like heart attacks in people, car heart attacks can often be prevented with regular inspections of the cooling system.

Today's cars operate at higher engine speeds with more equipment under the hood, smaller engine compartments and reduced radiator size. So the cooling system — particularly the thermostat, which constantly opens and closes to regulate coolant flow — is under a lot of stress. In fact, the cooling system removes twice as much engine heat as the exhaust system.

FOR ONLY $39⁹⁰

COMPLETE INSPECTION INCLUDES:

1. Flush Cooling System
2. Check Operation of Thermostat.
3. Test Battery and Charging System.
4. Clean Battery Cables.
5. Inspect Radiator Cap, Belts and Hoses.
6. Fill System With Up to 2 Gallons of New Antifreeze.

THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH

A Report from The National Institutes of Health Bethesda, Maryland

Skin Care and Aging

Americans spend millions of dollars each year on "wrinkle" creams to keep the skin looking smooth. Yet, according to a recent survey, one-third of all adults work to develop a tan even though most of them know that sun exposure damages the skin. In fact, sun exposure causes the skin changes we usually call aging—wrinkling, looseness, dryness, yellowing, and pebbly texture.

Some people are at greater risk of sun damage than others. Whites, particularly those with fair skin and light eye and hair color and those who sunburn easily, are the most vulnerable. Blacks have the lowest risk; the risk for Orientals falls somewhere in between that of Whites and Blacks.

Nothing can completely reverse sun damage after it occurs.

Long-term exposure to ultraviolet (UV) light weakens the elastic fibers of the skin, causing a loss of collagen. The breakdown of this fibrous network results in loose skin that cannot snap back after stretching. However, collagen has some capacity to repair itself; so avoiding sun exposure will allow some new collagen to be laid down. It is never too late to protect your skin from sun damage.

Sun exposure causes not only "premature aging" but skin cancers as well. The chance of developing skin cancer increases with advancing age, especially among persons living in sunny regions of the country. Basal cell carcinoma is the most common skin cancer. While it almost never spreads to vital organs, this type of skin cancer should be removed promptly because it can destroy surrounding skin. Squamous cell carcinoma is less common but can be more harmful because it can spread to other organs. Melanoma, which often looks like a dark, irregular mole, can spread to internal organs and can kill. Thus, any sudden change in the appearance of a mole requires a doctor's examination.

When detected early and treated promptly, most skin cancers can be cured. Therefore, it is important to learn the warning signs. Look for pale, waxy, pearly nodules or red, scaly patches of skin. Also watch for the growth of a new mole, such as differences in color, size, shape, or surface quality (scalliness, oozing, crusting, or bleeding).

Dry skin is common in later life—about 85 percent of older people develop "winter itch," caused by overheated indoor air. Another cause of dry skin is the loss of sweat and oil glands with age. Over-use of soaps, antiperspirants, perfumes, or hot baths also contributes to dryness.

Dry skin often causes itching, and itching almost always leads to scratching, which can cause long-term skin irritation or infection. Many moisturizers are available to help relieve dryness and itching; petroleum jelly, lanolin, and unmedicated creams are the best.

People with severe itching should be examined by a doctor because this condition can be a reaction to medication or a symptom of disease. For example, diabetes, kidney disease, and some forms of cancer can cause itching.

The following tips can help you maintain healthy skin:

- *Don't sunbathe or visit tanning parlors. Limit sun exposure between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.
- *When in the sun, wear protective clothing such as hats, long-sleeve shirts, and sunglasses.
- *Apply sunscreen at least an hour before going outside, and reapply it after swimming or sweating. Sunscreens with the highest sun protection factor (SPF) offer the best protection against harmful UV light.

Nine Tips to Help You Safeguard Your Savings

A Monday in mid-October. If those words make your heart beat just a little faster, you are probably one of the millions of investors who watched the stock market crash 508.92 points almost a year ago, on October 19.

Black Monday, as the fateful day was subsequently dubbed, sent people leaping out of the market in droves. Unfortunately, many of the first to jump were small investors who panicked at the thought of losing their savings. By pulling out too soon, many turned their paper losses into actual losses. Indeed, just six days later, the market recovered a record-breaking 186 points.

For the small investor still reeling from last year's plunge, the Michigan Association of CPAs offers nine tips that can help safeguard your savings.

Build a Strong Foundation

Don't put a single dime in any moderately risky investment until you have built a solid savings foundation. Most financial experts recommend that you keep enough funds in an insured money market account to cover at least three to six months of living expenses. Remember that your savings base must be able to cushion the blow from a sudden recession, unexpected unemployment or other personal crisis.

Choose Investments That Match Your Needs and Resources
If your life savings amounts to $1,000, investing in the stock market is about as wise as betting on the weather.

How you invest what you have is one of the most important financial decisions you can make. Assess your situation honestly. If your savings is small, risk terrifies you and security ranks as one of your most important objectives, you should probably stay clear of the stock market.

The risk-shy investor should investigate safer options, such as Treasury bills, which are backed by the U.S. government and are virtually free from the possibility of default.

Choose Investment Advisors You Can Trust
Most people shop around for a doctor or lawyer. Do the same for your financial advisor. If you have a stockbroker, make sure that he or she is readily available and is willing to listen to and understand your financial goals.

Diversify

No matter how much money you have, avoid putting all your eggs into one basket—they become too easy to trample. Spread your savings among different types of investments. The reason why this strategy works is simple: in general, when one segment of the financial world suffers, another prospers. For instance, when interest rates fall sharply, bond prices soar.

How you diversify your portfolio again depends on such factors as your age, your ability to sustain risk and your financial position. In today's volatile market, however, most individuals should maintain at least a portion of their funds in insured CDs, money market accounts or government securities.

Buy What You Know

Capitalize on your own expertise when choosing stocks. If, for example, you work for an airline and part of your job is staying on top of the industry's problems and opportunities, you are in an excellent position to select securities in that market segment.

Look For Reasonable Gains

We all dream of the million-dollar investment, the one smart tip that makes a fortune overnight. Keep dreaming. In reality, look for investments that yield reasonable gains—say, a few percentage points above the current inflation rate. Accounts paying eight percent will double your savings in approximately nine years. An 11 percent yield will double your funds in just six-and-a-half years. To figure how long it will take for your money to double, use the financial advisor's "rule of 72": divide 72 by the rate of interest on your savings.

Take The Long View

The worst victims of Black Monday were the ones who couldn't see past the day's closing prices. If you do invest in the market, you have to be willing to ride out the roller-coaster days. In general, the longer you hold onto an investment, the more likely you will be able to minimize your overall losses.

Some people, however, follow this advice a little too closely. They become attached to a favorite stock and won't sell it—even when it has become a clear loser. Remember, if a stock loses half its value, its price will have to double for you to break even.

Try Dollar-Cost Averaging

One often-recommended plan for people interested in making long-term market investments is called "dollar-cost averaging." According to this strategy, you invest a set amount of money in a security or a mutual fund at regular intervals. For example, you invest $100 in a mutual fund every two months. As a general rule, you will end up buying more shares at a lower price and fewer shares when the price is high. The primary advantage of dollar-cost averaging is that it tends to smooth out the devastating lows of stock-market investments. Unfortunately, you may also miss the spectacular heights.

Stay Involved

A frightening number of people fail to monitor their investments regularly. Imagine buying a house, walking away and then waiting some 15 years to check on its condition. You would un-derstandly return to find your house a weather-worn shambles. The same can happen to your financial investments.

When you make an investment, you make a commitment to your own financial future—and your success or failure will depend, in part, on the degree of your involvement.

Stay in touch with your broker or financial advisor, track the performance of your investment and keep attuned to major economic events.

CPAs advise investors to pay especially close attention to such factors as the rate of inflation, consumer spending and the federal deficit.

Investing is always a bit of a gamble, but staying informed can help move the odds in your favor.

Diabetes Sharing Group

A diabetic sharing group meets the second Wednesday of each month at 3:30 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital in the private Dining Room B. Individuals with diabetes and their family are invited to attend. We hope to give support and help with educating ourselves about diabetes.

The next meeting will be October 12th. Kris Hora, B.S.W. at Chelsea Community Hospital, will be our guest speaker. Kris will lead the group in an exercise to identify stress and support in your life.

Youth Week October 23rd - 29th

The week of October 23, 1988, will be declared YOUTH WEEK in the Manchester area. Phil VanDop, Youth Director at the United Church of Christ initiated the idea for the youth of his parish and contacted the COMMUNITY RESOURCE CENTER for ideas. Thus the involvement of the community. The focus for YOUTH WEEK will center around youth as they relate to their families. Churches, schools and other organizations will be encouraged to plan their own program to implement the theme.

INDIVIDUAL SUGGESTIONS TO HELP STRENGTHEN YOUR FAMILY UNIT:

FOR THE YOUTH: Remember to thank Dad or Mom when they took extra time for you for a ballgame, work or talk; they included you on family discussions; they treated you to a new outfit while it really wasn't needed; they helped you with your homework; when Dad or Mom cooked you a special meal when they were "really too tired"; they said "NO" when you really wished they would say "YES".

FOR THE PARENTS: Remember to thank that son or daughter when they took responsibility without being asked; when they were sensitive to your needs during a difficult time. Remember to praise - John or Mary when they were truthful when it really hurt.

Remember to provide - a listening ear, especially after school or when you get home from work.

Do something special as a family during YOUTH WEEK. PARENTS AND YOUTH - Remember to say I LOVE YOU even when things are not so good.

Main Break Causes Water Shut-Off

by Becky Doyle

Village residents were without water Saturday night following a break in a 12-inch water main near the water tower. A piece of pipe over 10 feet long developed a crack and released gallons of water, washing sand and debris into nearby back yards. Although it is unknown if the tower was full at the time, according to Gary Weidmayer as much as 330,000 gallons may have been discharged.

In addition, the water pressure tore through three electric lines that control another pump on East Main Street.

Residents Jim and Jeanine Uphouse discovered the break when they heard the noise of rushing water.

"We heard the noise—water running—and we went up there and saw water coming out of the ground by the fire hydrant," said Jeanine. They called Weidmayer about 6:30, they said. According to Weidmayer, the tower emptied in about an hour.

Mayer Kallewaard called the Manchester Fire Department and some local businesses to let them know the situation, since some businesses were still open and the Fire Department would have had to rely on other sources for water if a fire had broken out.

The length of pipe was replaced by some that Union Construction had available. Manchester Electric repaired the electric lines and service was restored to residences on the West side by 9:30. Some East side residents did not have water service until about 11:30 that evening.

It is estimated that the main involved is about 20 years old, and no reason for the break has been found.

Village Council

Meeting 10-17-88

1. Accepted the resignation of Russ Smith from the Planning Commission, with thanks for his service since 1979, and appointed Joan Schiller to serve the remainder of his term.

2. Appointed Jim Roberts Alternate Building Inspector.

3. Heard an interim report from the Special Committee on Alternate Truck Routes for Manchester Plastics: Local management is taking an alternate plan, for improvements to the Elton Street entrance, to officers of the parent company, and expects to respond to the Committee next week.

4. Set an 11-7-88 date for a second-stage Council hearing on a repair order under the Dangerous Buildings Ordinance at 115-117 East Main St.

Trick Or Treat Night

October 31 is the night for us to see witches, robots, bunnies and princes out on the street between 5:00 and 7:00. Maybe even Roger Rabbit will be out trick or treating. Residents, remember, these scarry characters feel more welcome if your porch light is on.

Think a few years back when all the kids gathered in the Middle School or the athletic field for judging of costumes, cider and donuts? By popular demand it is going to happen again.

Manchester Recreation Task Force and the Community Resource Center are coordinating the party.

Prizes for the ugliest, prettiest and most unusual costumes will be given in every age group, pre-school through the sixth grade. One prize will be given for the most outstanding of all costumes.

Kids get your imagination working. Dad and Mom will help with ideas and construction.

Kids - Tax Due To IRS?

"Tax law changes have added more than five million children to the tax rolls this year," said IRS District Director, John Hummel. "Of those five million children, we estimate that as many as 100,000 nationwide may not pay the tax they owe and will receive a balance due bill from us. This means approximately 5,000 Michigan children could receive tax bills," Hummel said.

According to the IRS, any parent, legal guardian or child who receives a balance due bill from the IRS on a minor's account should immediately call the IRS and make it known that the case involves a child. This will allow the IRS to identify and resolve these cases appropriately.

Questions about tax bills owed by minors or any other tax questions will be answered through the IRS toll free telephone system on 1-800-424-1040.

Sends Letter to Her Sister Describing What She Has Seen While En Route to North

Miss Lydia Kuenkamp, who departed recently for a trip to the frozen North, is evidently enjoying the experience immensely, and writes her sister Ida as follows:

We surely have had a wonderful journey so far. We traveled about 3,200 miles by auto and are now on a C. P. R. steamer in Alaskan waters. There are mountains on both sides of us, some of them snow tipped. In the morning they are usually covered with fog or mist. Yesterday we saw many enveloped in clouds of smoke from forest fires.

The sunset last night was beautiful at 8 o'clock. At Dawson, which is the terminus of our trip they say one can read until 10:30 at night by the light of the sun. We shall soon know whether or not this is true.

The boat passes mainly through narrow channels, called the "inside route," with islands on either side. Sometimes it is fun to try to guess which channel we will next pursue—and we often guess wrongly. They tell us the best part of the scenery is still ahead, in some places there being glaciers, waterfalls and rugged mountains. In the passage we are traversing the water is very still and we scarcely know that we are moving. Only three times have we gone outside into the Pacific ocean properly speaking—but that was three times too many. The first time it lasted about three hours and I tried hard not to be seasick, but it was a little too much for me so I helped feed the fish along with many others. But I made up for it by eating a big dinner at night.

As we are on a Canadian boat, we find the English cook a little differently than we do in the States. Their so-called pies are nothing but a dish of cooked fruit with a square pie cracker on top, and their cakes are out about the size of a calling card and but a little thicker. But they are very generous and allow you to eat as many of them as you like. We certainly get good "eats" and we can have anything we want on the menu—even two or three desserts if we want them. Besides three
