

State Agencies Commended

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan Department of Treasury received a special commendation from the state's largest farm organization at the Michigan Farm Bureau's annual banquet. About 1,000 people watched the directors of the two state agencies accept honors for outstanding administration of P.A. 116, Michigan's Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act.

"Nearly 11 years ago, a bill was adopted by the Michigan Legislature which has had a profound impact on the farmers of this state," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. "The bill became what is commonly known as P.A. 116. Since then, over 4.4 million acres have been enrolled into the program. It goes without saying that P.A. 116 has accomplished its original purpose of preserving one of Michigan's most important natural resources."

"Passage of this law was an important achievement for the Farm Bureau organization and all of agriculture. But that was only the first step toward the development of this very successful program. Just as critical has been the administration of the law. The departments of natural resources and treasury have had the primary responsibility for the implementation and day-to-day operation of P.A. 116. Michigan Farm Bureau is pleased to publicly commend them for their efforts toward preserving more than 4 million acres of Michigan farmland through outstanding administration of the program," he said.

DNR Director David Hales and Treasury Department Director Robert Bowman accepted the special commendations. Staff members of the DNR's special land programs section and the treasury's farmland preservation unit were given special recognition by Laurie for their service to P.A. 116.

Cassidy Lake To Be Fenced In

Today at the Cassidy Lake Technical School in Lyndon Township, State Senator Lana Pollack announced that the prison camp would be fenced to deter walk aways. "According to Department of Correction statistics, 45 prisoners escaped from the Cassidy Lake Technical School between January 1 and December 15 of 1988. I am here today with the Director of the Department of Corrections, Bob Brown, to announce that this facility will be fenced as a means of deterring this walk away problem."

Just prior to the press conference, Pollack walked portions of the camp's perimeter. Accompanied by representatives of the Department of Corrections and the Department of Management and Budget, Pollack surveyed the hilly and wooded terrain that will be fenced in the next six to eight months. "The funds have been appropriated by the legislature. The plan will be finalized in the next few weeks and then the bidding process for contractors will begin. I have been advised that the fence will be in place by mid-to late summer."

"The fence will improve the security of the camp by preventing inmates from casually walking away. While the fence will not be a cure all, it should make a significant difference for the people in this area," Pollack stated. "Comparing the incidence of 9 escapees from Camp Waterloo (a fenced facility) to Cassidy Lake Technical School's 45 escapees over the same time period, we can anticipate that the fence will make a real difference."

Carrying The Mails

Manchester Enterprise
April 12, 1888

A civil engineer of the Lake Shore Railway was in town on Saturday measuring the distance from the postoffice to the two railway stations. When the distance between the station and the postoffice is less than 80 rods the railroad company carrying the mails have to receive the mails from and deliver them to the postoffice, but when it is more than that distance, the postoffice department has to transport them.

The distance from the Ypsilanti branch depot is a little less than 80 rods and consequently the railroad company has to deliver the mails, but from the Jackson branch depot it is more than 80 rods to the postoffice, and so the postoffice department deliver them.

For many years after the late Chauncy Walbridge was appointed postmaster, he would sling the mail bag over his shoulder and whether the weather was fair or foul, he would trudge back and forth between the office and the Jackson branch depot, bearing his burden. The Enterprise once published the number of miles he traveled in making those trips, it was a good many, but we cannot now recall them.

We believe that the contract for carrying the mail was let year after year until the present time, to the late Arthur Case, but he has sub-let it during the past few years, to I. M. Robison, the hackman, at $65.00 a year, the same price he received. Why he cared to do this the few who knew the circumstances, could not understand; he had his own private reasons and chose to keep them to himself.

A notice has been posted on the postoffice door, calling for bids for transporting the mails, and we understand that a number of bids have been sent in. Of course it is worth a great deal more to carry the mails now than it was years ago when Mr. Walbridge carried them on his shoulder, but we do not know whether the department will be willing to pay any more or not.

Quilts, Speakers, & Honors

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

The history of the Manchester Township Library will be the guest of honor next Monday evening, February 20th, when the Manchester Area Historical Society presents a program for members and for the community which will discuss and honor the Library. The Manchester Township Library has just completed its 150th year of continuous service to our community, giving it the distinction of being one of the longest serving libraries in the State of Michigan.

The program will be held at the Blacksmith Shop on Monday, February 20th, beginning at 7:30 p.m. All in the community are warmly invited to attend. The discussion is sure to be interesting and lively and will include speakers and a quilt presentation.

The featured speaker will be Elizabeth Boyd, a Manchester resident and a student of Library Science at the University of Michigan. Ms. Boyd will present "A History of Libraries in Washtenaw County." Also part of the discussion will be librarians, board members, and staff - past and present - of the Manchester Township Library who have contributed to the Library's role in the history of our community. Last summer the Manchester Area Historical Society helped the 150 Committee of the Library to obtain an historic marker recognizing the Library's proud history. This marker now stands on the lawn in front of the Library, providing passers-by with a quick history of the Library and of the charming building in which it is housed.

The Historical Society also held a Bicentennial Quilt Raffle, the net proceeds of which were earmarked for the Library. This remarkable quilt, just recently completed with the embroidering of 200 names in the border, will be officially presented to the raffle winner, Margaret Fielder, at this Monday evening's meeting and will be available for all to see.

The Manchester Township Library has tirelessly served our community for more than 150 years. The community is invited to learn more about our Library's role in history and to join in honoring it on Monday, February 20th, when the Manchester Area Historical Society salutes "The Library."

Pursell Calls For Reforming Pay Process

One day after a 51 percent pay increase was voted down by members of Congress, U.S. Rep. Carl D. Pursell again called for changing the process for considering future increases.

"Although we successfully blocked the raise from taking place yesterday, members of Congress should use this opportunity to reform the process for dealing with pay raises," Pursell said.

"If the Speaker of the House hadn't changed his mind at the last minute, the proposed $45,000 raise for members of Congress would have gone into effect without a vote.

"While I'm pleased to have had the chance to record my opposition to the raise, I also realize we need to take action to prevent the same scenario from happening again.

"It is my hope the leadership will allow the House to consider a measure such as the Tauke Bill (named after sponsor Tom Tauke, R-Iowa), which I co-sponsored," Pursell said.

"This bill would reform the process for considering Congressional pay raises. Specifically, it would require recorded votes, would disallow tying pay legislation to other bills, and would delay any increases from one session of Congress to the next.

"This would allow for an election between the time of a pay vote and when a raise would go into effect," Pursell said.

"My personal feeling is Congress should not even consider a pay raise until the budget deficit is brought under control."

Shakespeare Reading Club

Our club had two very nice meetings held at Emanuel Church. We are thinking about our summer vacations because of the topics that were chosen. On January 31, Lenora Parr chose "The Folger Shakespeare Library" to tell about. It is located in Washington, D.C. in a beautiful building built by Mr. and Mrs. Folger and is filled with thousands of rare volumes of books. The inside of the building is something everyone who can should see.

On February 7, Sally Marshall told us about the various vacations she and her family have taken which truly means a vacation is an education.

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 21 at 2:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of Emanuel Church. Annette Van Der Schalie has chosen "Amazing Zimbabwe" for her topic. She will show her slides also.

not get the offense on track, only shooting 19% from the floor. The Dutch went down in defeat 21-29 against Wines 1 bringing their record to 9-2 in the league. The Dutch scoring was led by Troy Niehaus and Jeff Kemner both with 9 points, Mark Kueffner with 2 points and Robby Blatchford with 1.

Sunday afternoon the 6th grade Dutchmen took part in two scrimmages, one with the Adrian Dawgs and the other with the Adrian Mustangs both which narrowly defeated the Manchester team 28-31 and 32-39 respectively. Although the Adrian teams played high school rules, Manchester adapted well in staying close to both teams. Coach Branch had nothing but praise as his team adapted to the totally new offense and defense strategy Branch was forced to use early in the 1st quarter. "Each of the boys executed very well and the entire team gave 100%," said Coach Branch.

The Manchester 6th grade Dutch will play again this Saturday at Tappan in Ann Arbor at 11:50 a.m.

Avoid Last Minute Rush

"Don't put off filing your income tax return," said IRS District Director John Hummel. "The rush of last minute preparation could mean missed deductions or credits, and mistakes that could cause delays in processing and slower refunds."

Hummel said that as of the end of January, approximately 146,000 federal income tax returns had been filed by Michigan residents. 1,000 of those were filed through the new Electronic Filing Program, available in Michigan for the first time this year. Using computers, participating tax return preparers transmit federal tax returns over telephone lines directly to the Cincinnati Service Center. This results in fewer errors and faster refunds. The refund can also be deposited directly into a checking or savings account, eliminating the chance of a refund check being lost, stolen or misdirected.

Hummel emphasized that the IRS wants to help Michigan taxpayers. "In addition to our regular toll-free information line, 1-800-424-1040, and the walk-in assistance we provide at our 22 offices statewide, we also have speakers available to address a variety of tax topics, as well as other IRS procedural or policy related issues," he said. "Professional associations or other groups may request one of our speakers by calling our Taxpayer Education Coordinator at 1-800-424-1040, extension 3674." Hummel said.

Wedding Bells Ring

A gazebo on the lawn overlooking Lake Fenton was the setting for the marriage of Marcie Lynn Horan and Scott Thomas Gormley.

Claren Wallen of Linden officiated at the July 1, 1988 double ring ceremony. The bride, escorted by her father, arrived for the ceremony by boat. They were assisted by the bride's brothers, Dan and Jeff Horan.

Marcie was attired in a white tea-length satin gown with a lace overlay and dropped waist, accented with a satin sash and bow. She carried a bouquet of white calla lilies, white lilies and freesia tied with a white bow.

Honor attendants were Therese Henry of Fenton, sister of the bride, and Maxx Gormley of Marquette, brother of the groom. Cathie Horan, of Fenton, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor while Mona Rojas of Holly was bridesmaid. Kali Chapelle of Fenton, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Groomsmen included Richard Kennedy of Brooklyn and Daniel Osburn of Fenton.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horan of Fenton and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gormley of Manchester.

A reception was held at the Fenton Township Hall. The newlyweds were escorted to the reception by boat. A fireworks display was given by the bride's brother, Dan.

The bride and groom honeymooned at Mackinaw Island and are residing in Fenton.

Dutch Tame Panthers

Varsity's Tim McGinn flies high for the score.

by Jon them 10 points to 0 to hold the half-time advantage 32-23.

Our roundballers hosted Addison on Friday and won their 7th straight, 75-47. We now improve our league record to 8 and 3, creeping closer to league-leading Michigan Center as they lost to Napoleon Friday.

"Matt Knul had a nice game" interim Coach Jim Krzyzaniak said. "From what I've seen, he's gotten better each game this season." Junior Center Matt scored 21 points and snared 19 glassers.

The game started rather slowly but we assumed control and took a 7-point lead after 8 minutes of play. After only 4 minutes had gone by in the 2nd period, Addison had out scored us 14-2 to capture the lead 23-21. This seemed to wake us up as in the next 4 minutes we overpowered

I don't know what magic words Coach Krzyzaniak said to the players at intermission, but they sure entered the 3rd period fired up. We slapped a man-to-man press on them and got another point streak going. This time we outscored them 14-0 to take a commanding 46 to 23 lead. You could almost hear the Manchester fans starting to sing "Turn out the lights, the party's over." Besides Matt's outstanding performance, Tom Mann and Bryan Barnard combined for 24 points, 14 and 10 respectively.

Congratulations to the Little Dutch as they out hustled Addison 63-52.

Be with us Friday at Napoleon and come watch us at our last home performance of the season Tuesday against Hanover-Norton.

HOW MUCH DID YOU LOSE LAST YEAR ON NON-DEDUCTIBLE INTEREST?

UNLESS YOU ACT QUICKLY, THIS YEAR COULD BE WORSE.

As you know, Congress is steadily phasing out interest deductions on most consumer loans. An exception is a loan secured by your home.* Which makes it a great time to apply for a home equity line of credit at First of America Bank.

Put The Deduction Back In Your Interest.

The Federal tax laws allow you to use your home equity line of credit for any purpose you want. And in most cases, on loans all the way up to $100,000, you still get to take a 100 percent tax deduction.

You also may pay a lower interest rate along with those lower taxes.

Take Advantage Of Your Tax Break.

Get your tax break with our home equity line of credit. You can use this line instead of other loans that are no longer fully tax deductible.

You can also access your credit line simply by writing a check. And the payment schedule is flexible, too.

However, using the equity in your home is not something you should do without careful consideration. Furthermore, there are some items—like normal living expenses, for example—for which a home equity line of credit is definitely not appropriate.

So stop by your nearest First of America office, or call 1-800-544-6155 for more information. We'll provide you with a free information brochure and an application. We'll also help you determine if a home equity line of credit is right for you.

In no time, we can have your good credit working in your favor.

Republicans Seek Same Improvements

House Republicans are seeking some of the same quality-of-life improvements that Governor Blanchard cited in his State of the State address, but they disagree on what is the best approach, State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Lodi Township) said today.

"While the governor urges new programs at additional cost to state taxpayers, I prefer innovative ideas that don't bust the budget," O'Connor said. "I worry that the governor is promising more than government can afford. The new programs he has outlined will require additional taxes or extensive borrowing from future generations.

"Governor Blanchard has developed an extensive wish list and a large public relations machine. He should put the same energy into working with the Legislature on key issues. Michigan needs a 'hands on' leader as well as someone who promotes our state.

Receives Kresge Foundation

achieves its full $190,000.00 goal by this April 1. According to the Reverend Beaumont, the February 11th total amount raised stands at $171,820.59, or just $18,179.41 short of what's needed to insure payment of the grant.

"If the community continues to respond favorably to our recent mail appeal it remains possible we could realize good well before April 1st," the Reverend Beaumont said. "As of today, $7,865.00 in contributions have come in from the return envelopes used in the community-wide mailing. In addition, there are a few corporate prospects still considering a gift decision."

Grants are made toward projects involving construction or renovation of facilities and the purchase of major capital equipment or real estate. Most grant recipients have raised initial funds toward their respective projects before requesting Foundation assistance.

The Kresge Foundation is an independent, private foundation created by the personal gifts of Sebastian S. Kresge. It is not affiliated with any corporation or organization.

"I am sure all who live in our area join with the Faith in Action family in expressing deepest possible gratitude to The Kresge Foundation for such meaningful and important help", Rev. Beaumont added.

WILL YOU BE THE TARGET OF AN AUDIT?

You open your mail box. There, under the gas bill, you find a letter that makes your heart skip a beat: an Internal Revenue Service notice. The letter may be a simple request for additional information, but you fear the worst - an IRS audit.

Relax. Your chances of being audited are fairly slim. During 1987, only 1.09 percent of the 101.8 million individual tax returns filed were actually subject to an audit. But according to the Michigan Association of CPAs, the percentage may increase slightly this year. Tax reform has eliminated many tax shelters that formerly occupied much of the Internal Revenue Services audit efforts. As a result, the IRS may start focusing more attention on the average tax return.

How can you be sure that you will not be the unlucky winner of the audit lottery? Unfortunately, you can't. Even if your return is prepared scrupulously, you may be subject to a Taxpayer Compliance Measurement Program (TCMP) audit. Conducted every three years, the TCMP audit is an arduous, line-by-line examination designed to find any errors or discrepancies in approximately 50,000 randomly selected returns.

On the other hand, several factors may improve or lessen the odds of your being selected for an audit. Where you live, for instance, can increase or lower the risk of an audit. In Anchorage, Alaska, the percentage of returns audited is 2.56 percent, whereas in Boston, Massachusetts, the figure drops two points to .56 percent. According to the IRS, the difference in percentages between geographic areas is sheer coincidence. But experts explain that the variation reflects, in part, the proportion of filers in that area with higher or lower income levels.

Without doubt, income has a direct impact on whether or not you become the target of an IRS audit. In 1987, a non-itemizing taxpayer with an income between $10,000 and $25,000 had a 64-in-10,000 chance of being audited. For taxpayers earning more than $50,000, the odds shot to 224 out of 10,000 similar returns.

What other factors affect your chances of being audited? To answer that question, it helps to know how the IRS handles tax returns. First, the IRS screens for simple mistakes, such as: mathematical errors; disregard of the 7.5 percent floor on medical deductions or the 2 percent floor on miscellaneous expenses; using the wrong tax-rate schedule; or failing to attach a W-2 form. Any one of these mistakes may cause the IRS to suspect the accuracy of your entire return - and may ultimately increase the likelihood of an audit.

Even more important is the overall "score" your tax return receives after being reviewed by a computer program known as the "Discriminant Function System" or DIF. This formidable program compares your deductions, credits and exemptions with the norm for taxpayers with similar levels of income and assigns points to certain entries on your return. The further you are from the norm, the higher your score - and the better your chances of being audited. Thus, if your medical expenses exceed $6,000 when the normal range is closer to $2,000, the DIF program may shoot your return into the audit pipeline. In other words, when it comes to tax returns, it pays to be average.

But even if your deductions are perfectly in line with IRS expectations, the odds of an audit can increase simply because of your profession or the type of deductions you claim. For example, the percentage of returns audited is generally more than twice the average rate for self-employed taxpayers who file a Schedule C. Similarly, taxpayers who deduct home-office expenses are more likely to receive a letter from their local IRS offices.

Deducting excessive travel and entertainment expenses related to business can also open a Pandora's box of IRS questions. To protect yourself in case of an audit, make sure that you keep accurate records and follow the IRS rules on deducting only 80 percent of business meals and entertainment costs. If you deduct the costs of operating a company car, carefully abide by the IRS

Overwhelmed at the prospect of starting your own business?

Starting a small business can be overwhelming. Fortunately, there's the Certificate Program for Entrepreneurs (CPE) to help you out things in perspective. Co-sponsored by the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti Chambers of Commerce and Washtenaw Community College, CPE is designed to help entrepreneurs fill in the gaps in their business education. The modestly priced seminars - offered evenings and weekends - are taught by business professionals and faculty with wide-ranging experience in marketing, business law, finance, personnel, computers... everything a small business owner needs to know about. The entire series can be completed in as little as four months. And because local lending officers know and respect the program, your CPE certificate can help give you the kind of credibility you need when making a loan application. Call (313) 668-6400 today for more information about CPE. The program that gives small businesses a big advantage.

deduction guidelines. Homeowners should also be aware of several red flags that they can easily trip. Claiming high mortgage-interest deductions, for instance, may arouse an auditor's curiosity - especially if you live in a low-income neighborhood. Similarly, if you deduct rental losses, the risk of an audit may increase. Tax law allows you to deduct rental losses of up to $25,000 only if you actively manage your property and your adjusted gross income is below $100,000. An auditor may seek proof that you not only actively manage your property, but you also limited your personal use of the property to 14 days or less.

Host Families Needed

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Brazil, Ecuador, New Zealand, Australia and Japan for the school year 1989-90 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August, 1989, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in July, 1990. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host Families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

AISE is also seeking American High School students, age 15 through 17, who would like to spend a high school year in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France, Spain, New Zealand or Australia or participate in a five week summer Host Family stay throughout Western Europe, including Ireland.

Families interested in either program should contact the State Coordinator or call Toll Free: 1-800-SIBLING.

Even charitable contributions can trigger an audit. The IRS will usually look askance at any undocumented charitable gift, especially if the gift exceeds $5,000. Remember, too, the IRS considers charitable contributions in light of your overall finances. If you earn only $20,000 a year and claim contributions of $5,000, don't be surprised if your generosity results in a letter from the IRS.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, other items that may tilt the scales in favor of an audit include claiming a dependent who is not in your immediate family, failing to report dividend income and discrepancies between the amounts that divorced spouses claim as alimony paid and alimony received.

In the long run, however, there is no secret recipe for creating a tax return free from the risk of an audit. But you can prevent an audit from escalating into a full-scale financial and legal nightmare. By documenting all your income sources, business transactions, medical expenses and

Tax Information Resources

Every tax season, the Michigan Tax Information Council is deluged with calls requesting income tax filing information, says Ellen Palmer, the council's executive director.

"Usually, only the government agency with whom you file your return can answer specific questions about deductions, special situations and refunds," says Palmer. "We've assembled a list of both state and federal resources, based on some frequently asked questions, which we believe will be helpful as the April 15 deadline approaches."

Michigan Income Tax Information Resources

General information: For questions regarding your state taxes, call 1-800-877-6424 or from the Lansing area, 517-373-2910.

Forms: To obtain Michigan tax forms, call 1-800-FORM-2-ME (367-6263) or write: Michigan Department of Treasury, Treasury Building, Lansing, MI 48929.

Refund information: To make inquiries regarding your refund, call 617-373-3386.

Federal Income Tax Information Resources

Last minute tax forms: Check the local post office, public library, bank or IRS office for copies. If you have at least a week, forms can be ordered from the IRS by calling 1-800-424-FORM.

Lost W-2 form: Only your employer can provide additional copies of W-2. Ask your employer immediately for a duplicate.

Status of refund: To check on the status of your federal tax refund, or if you never received your refund, wait 10 weeks after filing your return. Then, with a copy of your return in hand, call the IRS at 1-800-554-4477.

Specific tax questions: Call Tele-Tax at 1-800-554-4477, for recorded information on more than 100 topics such as tax rules, credits, schedules, dependency exemptions and other common concerns.

Called for an audit: Call an accountant and assemble all your documents and evidence.

Estimated tax return: The deadlines are April 15, June 15, September 15 and January 15.

Wins Essay Contest

Brenda Nimke, a senior at Manchester High School, has won the 1988 Essay Contest which is conducted by the Manchester Historical Society. She wrote a 400-500 word essay on the subject:

Freedom: Our Most Precious Heritage

by Brenda Nimke

People have searched for freedom since the beginning of time. We, as Americans, have been lucky enough to achieve most of the freedoms of life. But, life was not always as easy as it is presently. Our ancestors had very limited, if any, freedoms. Ancestry is an important and precious part of a person's heritage, but freedom is the most precious heritage available to man.

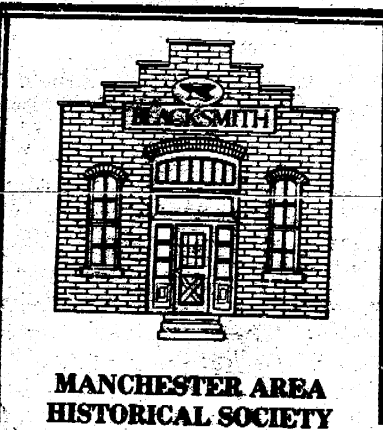

The word freedom has many varied interpretations. Some people may say that freedom is the ability to freely speak one's own mind. Others may say that freedom is the ability to go where one pleases. Of course, there is also the ever-popular freedom that is most often declared - the freedom of the press.

Americans need to learn and understand that "freedom" is a very important aspect of their lives. Presently, freedoms are taken for granted. The Revolutionary War resulted in allowing the colonists to establish their own free country. Those people felt that they had all the possible freedoms available. But, freedom is not as simple as some people may think, there is always a continuous tug-and-pull method that is in operation. The good must continually tug to keep its feet firmly planted on solid ground, but, of course, the bad and evil continuously tries to pull the good down and wishes to totally destroy all the good surrounding it.

Wars are apt illustrations of the tug-and-pull method. In the Civil War the North fought to gain freedom for the black slaves. Whether through luck, or good always overcomes all evil, the North gained freedom for the blacks. World War II also aptly illustrates the freedoms of the world. The war was not fought to gain more freedoms for Americans, but merely to protect and preserve the freedoms that had already been gained. For in World War II people quickly realized that more terrible and horrible events would occur if Hitler became the absolute ruler of Europe. But, again this evil power was defeated and freedom began to blossom from the ashes and rubble of the war.

Every year memorial services are held to honor the men and women who fought so valiantly to keep freedom alive. We must continue to fight and overcome the powers that wish to destroy freedom. This action must be taken; because, most certainly, freedom is the most precious heritage any person can ever possibly have.

The regular monthly meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society was held on Monday, February 20, 1989, at the Blacksmith Shop.

The quilt that the Society had made for the Bicentennial of the U. S. Constitution was on display. It will be on display at the Iron Horse Antique Mall this week and at the Library next week. The community is invited to drop in and see this beautiful quilt with 200 names embroidered on it. John Swainson presented a check for $1,200 to Petty Swaney, Manchester Township Library Board. The check represented the proceeds of the quilt raffle and will be used to publish the manuscripts of Jane Palmer and Annetta English.

George Washington was inaugurated as the first president of the United States on April 30, 1789. Manchester will celebrate the anniversary of this occasion with a ceremony on the gazebo on Sunday, April 30. It is rumored that President Washington may make an appearance to re-enact the first inaugural address.

The speaker for the evening was Elizabeth Boyd who spoke on "A History of Libraries in Washtenaw County." She traced the history of the Ann Arbor library and briefly mentioned the formation of libraries in Ypsilanti, Manchester and Chelsea.

Cooperative Extension Agent

Kerry J. Kelly, of Northville, has been appointed the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Washtenaw County. The appointment is effective February 15. She replaces Morse Brown who last October was appointed the director of the Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne County.

Thelen received a bachelor's degree in home economics from MSU in 1974. She had experience as a junior high school teacher and as an evaluator for two beef cattle breeder organizations before starting her Extension career in 1979. At the time of her current appointment, she was the 4-H youth agent for Eaton County.

Her duties will include maintaining a working relationship with the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners and others who are interested in Cooperative Extension Service programs and activities.

A Trip To Florida

Manchester Enterprise January 19, 1988

Sanford, Fla., Jan. 16, 1988

Mr. Editor: - Memory calls to mind my promise to you that if the proverbial lack of ambition in the south did not come over me too soon, I would write you a letter. Perhaps have waited too long to write anything sufficiently energetic for the columns of the Enterprise. Nevertheless here am I with my hat and coat off, beneath this orange tree, determined to keep that promise, costing as much exertion as it may.

We left Manchester enveloped in snow and ice, which gradually diminished until it vanished at Cincinnati. By the way, what a grand old state Ohio is, with its numerous solid and busy towns, oil wells and manufacturers. What a contrast to that after we pass Cincinnati and find ourselves in "Dixie."

We awoke on a fine spring morning to find ourselves sidetracked on the southern border of Tennessee. The scenery is fine here. Beside other lofty ranges in the far distance is Lookout Mountain, where Fighting Joe Hooker fought and won the battle in the clouds.

Thence we proceeded southward. Georgia is one continual disappointment. Her soil is red clay, her people are so poor as to excite no other sentiment but pity. Everywhere is seen tumbling-down houses and mills. We are told this is the result of the war. It may be, but it occurs to me that the cause dates still further back, unto the day of creation. It looks as though the d— had taken a sub-contract for this portion, then painted the whole state red. Q.E.D.

Oh! Florida! thou art a jewel, but (aside) you paint! For every acre a man buys here he gets the measure heaped up and running over with beautiful climate, with the sand thrown in. The soil don't even smile when "ticked with a hoe," but it laughs aloud when a northerner steps upon it, and the harvest begins right away - not for the aforesaid northerner.

There is wealth in oranges undisputable, but Florida is for those that like it. I am yours of Michigan and for Michigan.

Nancy Dible-Thelen, of Olivet, has been appointed the director of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Washtenaw County.

Genealogical Society

The Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County will meet at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, February 26, 1989. Mrs. Kathy Horning of Hartland, Michigan, Genealogy teacher in the Livingston County Adult Education Program, will speak on the subject "The Oral History Approach."

Following the lecture session, Mrs. Carolyn Griffin, English teacher in the Ypsilanti School System, will lead the instruction session on the use of Land Records.

The meeting will be held in Lecture Hall #2 of the Liberal Arts and Science Building of Washtenaw Community College, 4800 East Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

A. J. Waters. P.S. - The mail will have to travel fast or I shall pass this on my way home.
