

Tax Information Resources

Every tax season, the Michigan Tax Information Council is deluged with calls requesting income tax filing information, says Ellen Palmer, the council's executive director.

"Usually, only the government agency with whom you file your return can answer specific questions about deductions, special situations and refunds," says Palmer. "We've assembled a list of both state and federal resources, based on some frequently asked questions, which we believe will be helpful as the April 15 deadline approaches."

Michigan Income Tax Information Resources

General information: For questions regarding your state taxes, call 1-800-877-6424 or from the Lansing area, 517-373-2910.

Forms: To obtain Michigan tax forms, call 1-800-FORM-2-ME (367-6263) or write: Michigan Department of Treasury, Treasury Building, Lansing, MI 48929.

Refund information: To make inquiries regarding your refund, call 617-373-3386.

Federal Income Tax Information Resources

Last minute tax forms: Check the local post office, public library, bank or IRS office for copies. If you have at least a week, forms can be ordered from the IRS by calling 1-800-424-FORM.

Lost W-2 form: Only your employer can provide additional copies of W-2. Ask your employer immediately for a duplicate.

Status of refund: To check on the status of your federal tax refund, or if you never received your refund, wait 10 weeks after filing your return. Then, with a copy of your return in hand, call the IRS at 1-800-554-4477.

Specific tax questions: Call Tele-Tax at 1-800-554-4477, for recorded information on more than 100 topics such as tax rules, credits, schedules, dependency exemptions and other common concerns.

Wins Essay Contest

Brenda Nimke, a senior at Manchester High School, has won the 1988 Essay Contest which is conducted by the Manchester Historical Society. She wrote a 400-word essay on the subject:

"Freedom: Our Most Precious Heritage."

Manchester High School seniors Linda Hensel and Angie Campbell received second and third place.

Freedom: Our Most Precious Heritage

by Brenda Nimke

People have searched for freedom since the beginning of time. We, as Americans, have been lucky enough to achieve most of the freedoms of life. But, life was not always as easy as it is presently. Our ancestors had very limited, if any, freedoms. Ancestry is an important and precious part of a person's heritage, but freedom is the most precious heritage available to man.

The word freedom has many varied interpretations. Some people may say that freedom is the ability to freely speak one's own mind. Others may say that freedom is the ability to go where one pleases. Of course, there is also the ever-popular freedom that is most often declared - the freedom of the press.

Americans need to learn and understand that "freedom" is a very important aspect of their lives. Presently, freedoms are taken for granted. The Revolutionary War resulted in allowing the colonists to establish their own free country. Those people felt that they had all the possible freedoms available. But, freedom is not as simple as some people may think, there is always a continuous tug-and-pull method that is in operation. The good must continually tug to keep its feet firmly planted on solid ground, but, of course, the bad and evil continuously tries to pull the good down and wishes to totally destroy all the good surrounding it.

Wars are apt illustrations of the tug-and-pull method. In the Civil War the North fought to gain freedom for the black slaves. Whether through luck, or good always overcomes all evil, the North gained freedom for the blacks. World War II also aptly illustrates the freedoms of the world. The war was not fought to gain more freedoms for Americans, but merely to protect and preserve the freedoms that had already been gained. For in World War II people quickly realized that more terrible and horrible events would occur if Hitler became the absolute ruler of Europe. But, again, this evil power was defeated and freedom began to blossom from the ashes and rubble of the war.

Every year memorial services are held to honor the men and women who fought so valiantly to keep freedom alive. We must continue to fight and overcome the powers that wish to destroy freedom. This action must be taken; because, most certainly, freedom is the most precious heritage any person can ever possibly have.

Optimist Contest

The Manchester Optimist Club will hold a Tri-Star Basketball skills contest at the Manchester Middle School on Saturday, February 25 at 4:30 p.m. The contest is composed of three basic skill tests aimed at evaluating a contestant's skill in passing, shooting and dribbling.

Boys and girls compete in six age groups, eight through thirteen against youth of their own age. All that is needed is the desire and a pair of gym shoes.

There will be trophies for the first three places of each age group. Entry blanks will be available at the Middle School the day of the contest.

MANCHESTER AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society was held on Monday, February 20, 1989, at the Blacksmith Shop.

The quilt that the Society had made for the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution was on display. It will be on display at the Iron Horse Antique Mall this week and at the Library next week. The community is invited to drop in and see this beautiful quilt with 200 names embroidered on it. John Swainson presented a check for $1,200 to Petty Swaney, Manchester Township Library Board. The check represented the proceeds of the quilt raffle and will be used to publish the manuscripts of Jane Palmer and Annetta English.

George Washington was inaugurated as the first president of the United States on April 30, 1789. Manchester will celebrate the anniversary of this occasion with a ceremony on the gazebo on Sunday, April 30. It is rumored that President Washington may make an appearance to re-enact the first inaugural address.

The speaker for the evening was Elizabeth Boyd who spoke on "A History of Libraries in Washtenaw County." She traced the history of the Ann Arbor library and briefly mentioned the formation of libraries in Ypsilanti, Manchester and Chelsea.

Cooperative Extension Agent

Kerry J. Kelly, of Northville, has been appointed the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service horticulture agent for Washtenaw County.

Kelly received her bachelor's degree from the MSU Department of Crop and Soil Sciences in 1977. After graduation, she was an agronomist with Standard Oil of Ohio until 1979 and was then a part-time agriculture and horticulture agent for the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service from 1979 through 1983.

This responsibility will include providing technical assistance and education in commercial production and marketing of fruit and vegetables to producers, growers and others associated with the horticulture industry in Washtenaw County.

A Trip To Florida

Manchester Enterprise
January 19, 1988

Sanford, Fla., Jan. 16, 1988
Mr. Editor: - Memory calls to mind my promise to you that if the proverbial lack of ambition in the south did not come over me too soon, I would write you a letter. Perhaps have waited too long to write anything sufficiently energetic for the columns of the Enterprise. Nevertheless here am I with my hat and coat off, beneath this orange tree, determined to keep that promise, costing as much exertion as it may.

We left Manchester enveloped in snow and ice, which gradually diminished until it vanished at Cincinnati. By the way, what a grand old state Ohio is, with its numerous solid and busy towns, oil wells and manufacturers. What a contrast to that after we pass Cincinnati and find ourselves in "Dixie."

Appointed Director

Nancy Diible-Thelen, of Olivet, has been appointed the director of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Washtenaw County. The appointment is effective February 15. She replaces Morse Brown who last October was appointed the director of the Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne County.

Thelen received a bachelor's degree in home economics from MSU in 1974. She had experience as a junior high school teacher and as an evaluator for two beef cattle breeder organizations before starting her Extension career in 1979. At the time of her current appointment, she was the 4-H youth agent for Eaton County.

Her duties will include maintaining a working relationship with the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners and others who are interested in Cooperative Extension Service programs and activities.

"Old Kentucky" by moonlight is picturesque if nothing more. We are alternately riding over tree tops and plunging through tunnels. The country along the line of the railroad is very sparsely settled, though quite often is seen the tumbling down remains of slave cabins, but "Uncle Tom" is gone.

We awoke on a fine spring morning to find ourselves sidetracked on the southern border of Tennessee. The scenery is fine here. Beside other lofty ranges in the far distance is Lookout Mountain, where Fighting Joe Hooker fought and won the battle in the clouds.

Thence we proceeded southward. Georgia is one continual disappointment. Her soil is red clay, her people are so poor as to excite no other sentiment but pity. Everywhere is seen tumbling-down houses and mills. We are told this is the result of the war. It may be, but it occurs to me that the cause dates still further back, unto the day of creation. It looks as though the d— had taken a sub-contract for this portion, then painted the whole state red. Q.E.D.

Oh! Florida! thou art a jewel, but (aside) you paint! For every acre a man buys here he gets the measure heaped up and running over with beautiful climate, with the sand thrown in. The soil don't even smile when "tickled with a hoe," but it laughs aloud when a northerner steps upon it, and the harvest begins right away - not for the aforesaid northerner.

There is wealth in oranges undisputable, but Florida is for those that like it. I am yours of Michigan and for Michigan.

A. J. Waters.

P.S. - The mail will have to travel fast or I shall pass this on my way home.

Genealogical Society

The Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County will meet at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, February 26, 1989. Mrs. Kathy Horning of Hartland, Michigan, Genealogy teacher in the Livingston County Adult Education Program, will speak on the subject "The Oral History Approach."

Following the lecture session, Mrs. Carolyn Griffin, English teacher in the Ypsilanti School System, will lead the instruction session on the use of Land Records.

The meeting will be held in Lecture Hall #2 of the Liberal Arts and Science Building of Washtenaw Community College, 4800 East Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Senior Citizens News

Haven't you secretly envied someone else who seemed to be able to do something better than you? (Husbands don't count!) Anyway, they'll come around and take the job out of your hands (if you let them), and suggest ways that you could be doing it easier and much more efficient. Recently, one of our faithful bus drivers could not start our senior bus. The other got on board, flicked the switch and the engine roared (he even moved the machine to let the other know that it had started). There obviously is something that one person can and cannot do in this case - a magic touch maybe? Enjoyment reigns supreme whenever either of these gentlemen cart us around; thanks so very much. Let one of them bring you to Thursday's activities on the 23rd: exercise at 11:00, fish for noon lunch and bingo.

Tuesday, February 28: (Last day of another month, where do they go?) One of our nurses will be on hand to check your blood pressure starting at 11:00 a.m. Chicken terraki is on the noon lunch menu - call in your reservation the day before to Linda at 428-8359, or to Jan in the kitchen at 428-7630 on the day of each meal before 9:45 a.m. Health program follows dinner and the topic will be "Footcare."

Thursday, March 2: Exercise begins at 11:00. The March Birthday Bash features pork chops in mushroom sauce, cake and candles at 12 noon. All who were born in the month of March, 55 years of age or over may come and enjoy your meal free! Let's have a record attendance of March born seniors (there is quite a lengthy list in the Trumpeter). Come and enjoy this March birthday party just made for you. Our loyal president, Rubena, has run so fast that she caught the flu. We are currently working on the March-April issue of the Trumpeter and it will soon be put to bed. We've missed you Rubena, glad you are better!

Letter To The Editor

Letter to the Editor: Remember Love Canal? Toxic pollution so widespread it endangered the lives of an entire community and forced families to abandon forever their homes and property?

It's scheduled to happen right here in Michigan unless we do something right now to stop it. Without immediate steps, not only is our Water Wonderland doomed to become a toxic Wasteland, but we and our children could become an endangered species!

State officials, without the knowledge and approval of most of us, have agreed to let Michigan become a toxic dump for the poisonous and radioactive wastes of seven states.

They are putting at risk the safety of 27 million people by threatening the contamination of 95 percent of our nation's fresh water - the Great Lakes and all the rivers and water basins of the region, including even the underground water tables. All against the advice of national science groups and health authorities, who warn that the waste dump WILL LEAK!

We need your help to stop this madness which could risk all that we love and live here for! Please join us in letting Governor Blanchard and our legislators know how we feel. Write to:

lives. Reverend Reineck was given a "purse" made up of individual donations from the members of Bethel. In addition he wore, for the first time, a new clergy gown made possible through the generosity of the Senior Youth Fellowship.

Many events of his twenty years of faithful ministry, both humorous and serious, were recalled. It was noted that in its 149 years of existence, Bethel Church has had only eleven ministers serve, with only two having served slightly longer than Reverend Reineck. No one could forget the icy day in February, 1989 when he and his wife, Esther, and their three sons, David, Mark and Daniel, arrived at the parsonage from their previous home and church in Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin.

There was warmth in the fellowship that day passing from the pastor to his congregation and from the congregation to its pastor, each rejoicing in the commitment to one another and to serving the same Lord and Master.

On Sunday, February 12th, the members of Bethel United Church of Christ honored the Reverend Roman A. Reineck, their pastor for the past twenty years.

At the worship service on that day and at a potluck which followed, the members celebrated this milestone in his and their

One Win One Loss

by Jon

Tuesday night we bussed to the home of the Vandercook Lake Jayhawks and we came away with a hard fought 62-55 victory. Our big offensive stand-out was Tom Mann as he ripped the cords for 29 points, snatched 12 rebounds and collected 5 steals.

On the defensive end, Jason VanDeven quieted their David Hawkins. In the last meeting between these squads, Hawkins banged in 38 points. Tonight, Jason was covering him like a fly on flypaper, therefore, Hawkins scored a mere 8 points.

Friday night's contest took place at the home of the Napoleon Pirates. Their record was not that good but it's always tough to win in Napoleon and tonight was no different. We had an 8-game win streak snapped 60-57.

The opening 8 minutes of play saw the score see-saw with the Pirates holding a 21-20 advantage going into the 2nd period. We came out fired-up to outscore them 14-8 to capture the half-time lead 34-29.

This time their coach delivered what must have been a heck of a locker room talk as Napoleon recaptured the lead 50-47. Both squads added 10 points in the final stanza leaving the score 60-57.

Tom Mann led our scorers with 21 as Matt Kaul contributed 11. Jason VanDeven also hit for double figures with 10.

Dutch Spikers Fall

Sherry Ricklemann slams

by Jon

On Monday, we trekked to Hanover-Horton to face the State's number 1 Class C Comet. We were simply overpowered and intimidated in the first set, losing 15-2. We did relax and play better but fell 15-11. The Dutch had 2 girls putting forth solid performances - Sherry Ricklemann and Kim Davis.

We now stand 9 and 6 overall and have a 4 and 3 league record.

The offense still is sputtering. Manchester, shooting 11% from the floor for only 12 points with another 15 points coming from the free throw line, lost their 3rd straight, 27-33.

Jeff Steele led the Dutch with 6 points, 4 for 4 from the free throw line, followed by Troy Niehaus with 5 points, Mark Kueffner and Jeff Kemner with 4 points each, and Brent Hoelt, Shane Goodell Robby Blatchford and Andy Winzenz with 2 each.

Lunch on Grounds

HOW MUCH DID YOU LOSE LAST YEAR ON NON-DEDUCTIBLE INTEREST?

UNLESS YOU ACT QUICKLY, THIS YEAR COULD BE WORSE.

As you know, Congress is steadily phasing out interest deductions on most consumer loans. An exception is a loan secured by your home.* Which makes it a great time to apply for a home equity line of credit at First of America Bank.

Put The Deduction Back In Your Interest.

The Federal tax laws allow you to use your home equity line of credit for any purpose you want. And in most cases, on loans all the way up to $100,000, you still get to take a 100 percent tax deduction.

You also may pay a lower interest rate along with those lower taxes.

Take Advantage Of Your Tax Break.

Get your tax break with our home equity line of credit. You can use this line instead of other loans that are no longer fully tax deductible.

You can also access your credit line simply by writing a check. And the payment schedule is flexible, too.

However, using the equity in your home is not something you should do without careful consideration. Furthermore, there are some items—like normal living expenses, for example—for which a home equity line of credit is definitely not appropriate.

So stop by your nearest First of America office, or call 1-800-544-6155 for more information. We'll provide you with a free information brochure and an application. We'll also help you determine if a home equity line of credit is right for you.

In no time, we can have your good credit working in your favor.

AFTER THE AUDIT - FIGHTING THE IRS

For most people, taking on the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is as far-fetched a concept as stepping into the ring with Mike Tyson. But the Michigan Association of CPAs points out that the IRS is not unbeatable. If you truly believe that an examiner's findings are unfair or inaccurate, you have the right to appeal within the IRS or through the court system.

How to initiate an appeal depends, in part, on the type of audit you have undergone and on the amount of tax liability in dispute. For a field audit involving a tax dispute of $2,500 or more, you are generally required to file a written statement or protest. However, in a correspondence or office audit, where the IRS asks you to submit documentation related to certain items on your tax return, you can usually begin an appeal simply by asking to meet with the examiner's supervisor. The supervisor will review the audit, discuss your concerns, and try to resolve the dispute. If you cannot reach an agreement on this level, your next step is requesting an appeals conference within the IRS. In either case, if you plan to appeal an examiner's decision, make sure that you do not sign the agreement form that the IRS agent provides at the end of an audit.

The majority of tax disputes are resolved during appellate hearings. These proceedings are relatively informal and you may even choose to represent yourself. However, you may have greater success - and less anxiety - if you ask a certified public accountant or attorney to appear before the IRS on your behalf.

Since the hearing is generally limited to one meeting, be prepared to present and discuss documentation for each and every item in dispute. The appeals officer will review the government's chances of winning in court and, in most cases, argue for a speedy resolution. In fact, it's the appeals officer's job to settle the case out of court whenever possible. After all, the longer the litigation process, the more time and money the IRS must invest in the dispute. As a result, you may find that the appeals officer is more willing to negotiate than was the original auditor. During the hearing, expect a great deal of bargaining to occur and be prepared to make your own concessions.

If you cannot reach an agreement in the appeals office, you still have the right to appeal to the courts. But do not make this decision lightly. Court disputes can be time consuming and extremely expensive. In some cases, litigation can last years and cost a small fortune. Before taking your case to court, put aside your hard feelings and re-examine your tax bill. Ask your CPA to estimate the fees entailed in a lengthy tax dispute - and then compare that figure to the amount you owe the IRS. You can still argue the case on principle, but make sure you consider whether it makes sense to spend thousands of dollars to dispute a $1,000 tax bill. On the other hand, your future tax bills may in fact be affected by the principle you fight to support.

If you decide to go down the litigation route, there are two paths you can follow. You can go directly to the United States Tax Court or you may appeal to the United States District Court or the Court of Claims. Don't make the mistake of assuming that all roads lead to the same place. In 1987, taxpayers won complete or partial victories in 88.4 percent of the regular tax cases fought in Tax Court; on the other hand they won only 19.5 percent of those argued in the District Court and a scant 14.8 percent of those argued in the Court of Claims.

The U.S. Tax Court is totally independent of the IRS. In the small tax claims division for cases involving $10,000 or less in disputed tax, you can attend with or without a tax advisor. However, in cases involving disputes of more than $10,000, you will have to follow the same rules of procedure as those in effect in regular courts.

If you choose to go to Tax Court, you do not have to first pay the disputed amount, as is the case if you choose to appeal in federal court. But be warned: decisions made in the small tax claims division are final. Neither you, nor the IRS, can appeal.

If you decide to take your appeal to a federal court instead, you must first pay the amount in dispute plus any interest and penalties owed. Next, you file a claim for a refund. If the claim is rejected, you may bring your suit to the U.S. District Court where you reside or to the Court of Claims which hears cases in Washington, D.C. The proceedings in either case are formal, and you will most likely need an attorney.

Why then would you select the District Court over Tax Court? For one, you may choose this route if you believe your case would fare better before a jury. (Tax Court hearings have no jury.) Or, perhaps, your professional advisors are aware of previous rulings that make it likely that a federal court would judge your case favorable. In other cases, such as those involving employment taxes, you have no choice - the case must be argued in the District Courts.

CPAs recommend that you make every attempt to settle your case early in the appeals process. But if you are convinced that your case is just, don't accept an unfair decision simply because you are afraid of getting into the ring with the IRS.

Wrestling Report

This report is the final chapter of the season. It's all over with some great moments and some not so great all over. Now it's time to prepare for the future. But first, let me tell you how the season ended.

On February 8, our men entered the team districts where we faced the Jayhawks of Vandercook in the first round. We were defeated by them in mid-January 41-26 and knew how tough they were going to be. We had some good matches with them but could win only 6 of the 13 weight classes. In the end, we were defeated by the Jayhawks 37-36 and they went on to capture the District Championship.

Saturday, the 11th, we took our 5 regional qualifiers to New Lothrop. We went into the tournament with some good records but ran into some animals. But we let it all out and wrestled like champions. Unfortunately, none of the five were able to qualify for the State Championships but oh did we get close. And with 4 of the 5 being sophomores the future looks good.

The State Championships were held last Friday and Saturday in Battle Creek. The best of all classes were there. And the area schools did well. Mike Lewis and Kevin Donaldson of Addison were crowned with state titles with teammate Brian Weaver placing 5th. Kevin Beasley of Clinton took a runner-up at 275 lbs. In Class D Grass Lake put some wax on people. Six state champions isn't all bad. Something of note here is the fact that 3 weeks ago, one of Grass Lake's champions had a black mark put on his record by one of our own. Kinda' puts a lump in your throat, don't it,

"Wiet." Chelsea and Saline were able to place a couple for each school. The list goes on. This area of the state is really getting tough in this sport of grit.

For now it's over with only the team champions to be decided next Saturday in Battle Creek. Let's wish Addison and Grass Lake the best of luck as they pursue team titles in Class C and D.

As for the hometown boys, we have the future to prepare for. Some will put out the effort and be rewarded down the road. The opportunity is there right now, but once it's gone, it's gone!

Twentieth Century Club

Members of the Twentieth Century Club met on Valentine's Day at the home of Marge Scully. Recommended changes in the constitution and by-laws were discussed. Some very inventive homemade Valentines were exchanged. Two teams had to sort out Bible and popular sayings and test their geographic knowledge in a fun trivia game conducted by Virginia Fielder with Jean Schmidt as judge. Refreshments were served by Janice Little and Marge Scully.

Explanation Of Assessment Changes

The County Equalization Department's study of 117 residential sales between April 1986 and March 1988 showed that the Residential class of real property in Manchester Township was being assessed at 45.18% of market value. It is required that all property be assessed at 50% of market value. This means that all property in the Residential class must be increased an average of 10.5%.

All property assessment cards were reviewed and an adjustment made. The range of the majority of increases was from 7.5% to 12%. Some lakefront properties which have been selling for much more than twice the assessment, were increased from 15% to 20%.

When comparing your increase with those in surrounding Townships, keep in mind that only a few properties in Manchester Township were increased last year. The total increase last year was less than 1%.

The Agriculture class was increased an average of 4% as a result of an appraisal study by the Equalization Department. They also conducted an appraisal study on the Commercial class which has increased 3.5% and the Industrial class which was found to be at 50% of market value.

If you feel the assessment on your property is more than 50% of what the property should sell for, you may appeal before the Board of Review which will meet March 13 and March 14 at the Township Hall.

The best way to present your appeal is to be aware of what property in your neighborhood has sold for and be prepared to compare your property with that which sold.

Musical Theatre Returns To MHS

It has been a long ten years since Manchester High School put on its last musical production. The Manchester High School Players are pleased to present the critically acclaimed "Working."

"Working" is based on the best selling book of interviews with American workers by Studs Terkel. It explores the typical American workday through the original words of some uncommon "common" men and women. The workers, including a truck driver, newsboy, cleaning woman, housewife, fireman, etc., tell us about their jobs, defining not only their daily chores, but their hopes and aspirations as well.

The cast of twenty-eight high school students and fifteen Klager Elementary School students is raring to go and is eager to give you an evening of pure entertainment of song and dance.

Performances are March 10 and 11 at 8:00 p.m. at the High School auditorium. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $2.50/students and $3.00/adults. For information call 428-7333.

Local Girl Teaches In China

A phone call at 4:30 a.m. carried the cheerful voice of Katie Miller from Beijing, capital of China. Katie relayed that she had been met by two representatives of the university where she would teach and that they were to spend two days in Beijing before flying to Chang Chun, Jilin Province, Manchuria. Katie will teach English at a university called Cadres

Katie Miller

Institute of Industry, Communication and Management.

Although limited in what she could take for her one- to two-year teaching stay, she did carry a small amount of "Manchester popcorn", grown and marketed by the Vocational Education Agribusiness class. Katie had learned that popcorn wasn't available in north China so she hopes to introduce popcorn to an area that does grow corn and may soon grow popcorn. Agribusiness teacher and Manchester agriculture teacher, Joni DeBell, was excited with the news and surprised with the international impact of her program's marketing effort.

Katie Miller is a 1984 graduate of Manchester High School and graduated from Hope College last spring.

Kindergartners Pre Registration

In an effort to identify all 1989-90 potential Kindergartners we need your assistance.

If you have a child, or know of a child, who will be 5 years old on OR before December 1, 1989, please contact Klager Elementary School at 428-8321 between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Our Kindergarten Round-up is tentatively scheduled for the first week in May and information will be mailed to those families who have pre-registered their student.

Outwitted The Conductor

Manchester Enterprise
July 29, 1988

Adrian Times: It is generally conceded that it takes a pretty sharp man to get the better of Conductor Ketchum, of the Lake Shore road, but even he met his match a while ago. He tells the story himself with considerable gusto.

One morning after the train left Jackson he went through the cars, and from one passenger took up a ticket for Norvell. When the station was passed he went through again, and saw his Norvell passenger still on the train. He looked him over; he was a good looking, well-dressed young man, with a heavy gold chain, and a nice looking traveling bag.

"Ticket," said the conductor. "You took my ticket," gruffly replied the passenger.

"I know I did, but that ticket was for Norvell, the station we have just passed. Where are you going?"

"I guess I'll go to Manchester." "Twenty-five cents, if you please."

"I can't pay you twenty-five cents." In telling the story, Mr. Ketchum says he thought the passenger acted strangely. "I could not believe that he had no money, and I suggested he probably had some friends in Manchester who would let him have a quarter, and I would take his watch or his satchel, and leave it with the station agent at Manchester, and he could redeem it, when he got the money. But he would let me have neither his watch, nor his satchel. All this time, of course the train was moving right along, and I noticed the fellow looking out of the window quite often. Finally, I began to get a little impatient, and said:

"Look here, I am here to collect fare, and you must pay the money or arrange for its payment in some way, or I shall have to put you off the train."

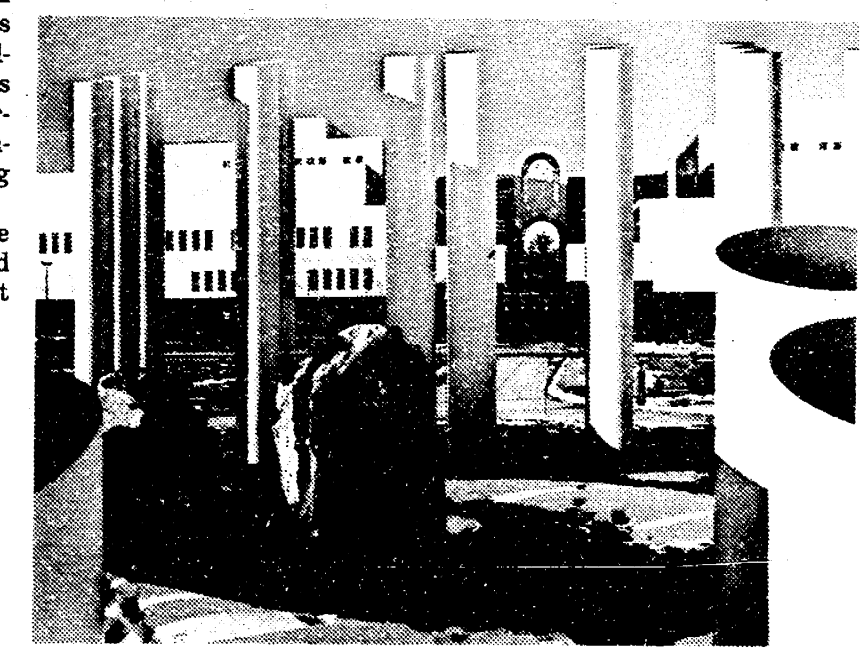

"Conductor," said he, "you can't put me off the train, and you haven't got crew enough on board to do it."

That settled it; I reached for the bell-rope, and the train soon stopped, and I thought I should have to reach for my passenger, when he gave a last glance out of the window, got up, took up his satchel and said, "Conductor, I guess I will leave the train without any trouble." I followed him to the platform and as he got off he said, "Conductor, do you see that house right there? That's just where I am going. You stopped exactly right for me. I've got money enough, but I was in a hurry to get there, and I knew you would not stop for me. How much is it?" and he pulled out a large roll of bills.

I told him to go to, well not to Manchester, and he went away with a laugh, saying, "We shall meet again some time, and then we'll settle this matter."

Of course, when I went back on the train the passengers gave me the laugh, but I had to stand for it, for my queer customer had got the better of me, and I couldn't deny it.

Dedication - March 7

State officials will dedicate the new Michigan Library and Historical Center in downtown Lansing during a noontime ceremony on Tuesday, March 7. Included in the ceremony will be a historic aircraft fly-by and balloon launch. The $43 million center is home to the Michigan Historical Museum, State Archives of Michigan, Library of Michigan and Office of the Great Seal.
