

Governor Hails Sand Dune Legislation

Governor James J. Blanchard called legislation protecting environmentally sensitive lakefront sand dunes "an important milestone in Michigan history" as it passed the House and was sent to the Senate, where he urged quick approval.

The Governor first proposed the legislation in 1985 to protect dunes along Lakes Michigan and Superior. He praised House Democrats and Republicans, particularly sponsoring Reps. Lynn Jondahl (D-Okemos) and Paul Hillemonds (R-Holland), for resisting amendments that would have weakened the measure as it moved through the House.

"Thanks to the efforts of many House members committed to conservation of a unique Michigan resource, the legislation remains an effective and fair method of protecting more than 60,000 acres of our coastal sand dunes," the Governor said.

"This is an important milestone in Michigan history. It is our duty and responsibility to manage these magnificent dunes wisely and to assure that future generations will be able to enjoy and appreciate the dunes."

The bill would require the Department of Natural Resources to draft model dune protection standards which local communities could adopt and enforce as zoning ordinances for residential, commercial and industrial development in sensitive sand dune areas. The proposal also would ban oil and brine drilling and gradually eliminate dune mining for industrial purposes.

The state would enact zoning ordinances where local governments failed to adopt regulations.

"The bill strikes a balance between the state's interest in guarding what remains of our dunes and the interest of local governments in managing land use within their boundaries," the Governor said.

"Most important, it will make developers, landowners and government officials aware of the need to manage our dunes carefully. The Senate should swiftly act to pass this legislation."

Manchester Enterprise
April 26, 1888

We received a copy of the Citigraph, a nicely gotten up and highly interesting newspaper, published at Redlands, California, this morning. In its folds was hidden an orange blossom, whose fragrance was exquisite. They were from our much esteemed friend Charles Rowe, formerly of Sharon, who will please accept our thanks.

From the paper we clip the following regarding Redlands, which is from the Los Angeles Bulletin:

"Probably no colony in Southern California has made such strides during the past year as Redlands, and none certainly have more to base their prosperity on, as it is situated in the most fertile part of the San Bernardino Valley the eastern end. The side, some 1,500 feet above the level of the sea, beyond the reach of fogs, and commands one of the finest views to be had in Southern California. But little improvement was made until the spring of 1887, when enterprising real estate men, foreseeing that its adaptability as a fruit-raising district and health resort warranted the investment of capital, commenced improvements on a large scale, with the result that it is now an important point and the center of a population of some 1,500 souls. It is called Redlands from the color of its soil, which has become famous for its extreme fertility and the high grade of the fruit which it produces. Oranges from this district have been placed in competition with displays from other favored parts of Southern California and Florida and the result has always been in favor of the Redlands product. At first grapes were planted, but the fruit is giving way to the orange, probably more on account of immunity from insect pests than any other reason, as deciduous and citrus fruits do equally well. Water is abundantly supplied from a large reservoir which is in turn supplied by the Santa Ana canyon and other localities. It is distributed through cement pipes to the highest point in each holding on the basis of two inches statute measurement to each eight acres of land. This flourishing colony is well supplied with schools, churches and all the modern accessories of comfort, refinement and sanitary conditions.

The commercial outlook for Redlands is growing more favorable every day, several enterprises in the shape of canning and fruit drying factories will locate there in the near future, and will at once give prominence to the colony as a producer, besides giving employment to a large number of people during the season. During the past year over $500,000 has been spent in improvements, principally in buildings, and this year will probably see twice that amount invested.

150 Year Celebration

Letter To The Editor:

An article in the Ann Arbor News on April 18 states that in all probability the Manchester School Board will ask voters in the June school election to override the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment. If I remember correctly the Headlee Amendment was passed by the voters of the state of Michigan at a general election in either 1978 or 1980. The idea of this proposal was a protection for property owners against rapidly rising assessments and now they may ask the residents to vote it down! The residents of the City of Ann Arbor were asked to do the same thing on April 3, and they defeated the override by a margin of 4-1, in effect telling the city to live within its means as all ordinary people have to do.

I believe in most cases residential property owners in the Townships comprising Manchester School District received assessment increases of 10-14% this year. Some residential property in Sharon Township went up considerably more than 14%. The argument is of course that the value of the property is rapidly increasing. We all realize this is true for those people who wish to stay in their homes rather than sell and move, the rise in value means very little.

Headlee is fair to individuals, schools and governmental units. Very simply, it limits State Equalized Valuation increases to the rate of inflation of the previous year which is 4.1% for 1989. If SEV is more than this rate of inflation, millage rates have to be adjusted downward. This is where the protection comes for property owners when assessments are sky-rocketing. Schools and governments should be able to live with this. The average property owner has to live with it. Very few have their household incomes rise 10-15% in one year.

Another statement in the Ann Arbor News article said that the owner of an $80,000 house would pay $1,660 in property taxes. It should be pointed out that this is Manchester School tax ONLY. Besides this there is County tax, Township or Village tax, or maybe both, Community College tax, and Washtenaw County Intermediate School District tax which will bring the total for a house worth $80,000 to nearly $2,300 or maybe more.

If the Manchester School Board places a Headlee override on the ballot in the coming school election, I believe, in all fairness to everyone, it should be voted down. The people of the state of Michigan voted for this Amendment a decade ago; why now should we be asked to vote to override it? The residents of the City of Ann Arbor were not fooled into giving up their only protection against very rapidly rising assessments and neither should we.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Duane R. Haselschwerdt

Post Office Relocation

"If it ain't broke, don't fix it!" But in the case of the Manchester Post Office, isn't it in fact "broke" and in need of fixing - by moving it to a larger facility? Apparently so. And that is why a search has been underway to find a new location for the Post Office.

But let's consider just what exactly is "broke" about our present Post Office: certainly its size is inadequate. Anything else? Is the location ok? Yes. Is parking availability sufficient? Yes. Then why tinker with those factors if it isn't necessary?

The U.S. Government should vigorously pursue the leasing or purchase of the entire K. of C. Hall for use as the Manchester Post Office. That would fix what's broken without introducing new elements which may very well create new problems!

Discussion is underway by the Postal Authorities to lease the old Widmayer Hardware building on the corner of Main and Clinton. Imagine what might immediately be considered in need of "fixing" should that move take place! Parking for one thing.

The old maxim about not fixing what isn't broken came about as do all old maxims: out of experience. Let's not make an unnecessary mistake. The Postal Authorities should be encouraged to expand the Manchester Post Office at its present location if at all possible.

Music In Manchester Update

Congratulations to both the Middle School and the High School bands for receiving the highest possible rating of a 1 at band festival this past month. It was the Middle School's second attempt to perform since their original festival date was iced out early on the morning of March 4. A week later, they were on a bus to Pittsford on a Thursday night to try again, and ended up as the only band with a 1 rating out of five bands. The High School almost suffered the same fate just two weeks later but they decided to brave the weather and drive to Lansing anyway. It was well worth it. All four of the judges stated that our band was one of the most musical groups that they'd ever heard.

Festival was certainly the high point of the band program's year to date, though there is much more that has taken place in the past few months. On February 11, many of the high school students took part in the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association's Solo and Ensemble Festival and all of them received good to superior ratings for their efforts. These students were Amy Major, Krista Sahakian, Hans VanAlstine, Melissa Hawk, Beth Gilbert, Vicki Warner, Lynn Marshall, Jamie Hall, Audra Kennedy, Melanie White, Benji Winzenz, Darrian Davies, Rachel Arney, Ryan Weigel, Cara Cox, and Cindy Schulte. Cindy Schulte provided piano accompaniment for all of the solos which was no meager task. Of these students, four of them went on to perform at the state level at Eastern Michigan University on April 1. All four of them received the highest, 1, rating. These students are Jamie Hall, Benji Winzenz, Krista Sahakian and Hans Van Alstine.

Also, this past year from September through March, Krista Sahakian and Jamie Hall have been rehearsing and performing with the Michigan Youth Band for three hours every Sunday afternoon. This band is comprised of the top wind players from the state of Michigan by audition only and it is sponsored by the University of Michigan. Also in conjunction with the University of Michigan, three of our students, Jay Gillow, Benji Winzenz and Rachel Arney, were chosen to perform with the Michigan Marching Band at the U of M stadium in November. This was an experience that they will always remember.

The remainder of the year holds a great deal of events and excitement yet for the band program. On April 28th the high school band will perform at "state" band festival for the first time ever. From there they will go on to the city of Evanston, Illinois to participate in a clinic at Northwest University with the director of bands there. Following Chicago the bands will prepare for the Memorial Day parade and the Graduation performance. Spring concerts for the bands are as follows:

High School-May 4
Middle School-May 24
Both concerts will be held at the High School Auditorium.

The report from Michelle Mann on our "Hurricane in Jamaica" project was passed until the May meeting. Funds have been allocated and Michelle is to bring her purchased items to the May 13th club meeting.

Demonstrations were given by Andrea Clark and Sharon Goodell. Refreshments were served by Andrea Clark.

Demonstrations for the May meeting are to be given by Jody Mitchell and Sarah Feldkamp. Refreshment Committee is Sharon and Karen Goodell. Book exchange scheduled for May meeting.

The meeting was adjourned and the members continued to McDonalds for supper and attendance at the Lenawee County 4-H Style Review in Adrian.

Spring means flowers to many of us. The bright, cheerful banners of daffodils, tulips, crocus, hyacinths, and forsythia are a welcome sight. In addition to these commonly planted flowers, there are some extra special flowers of the season which poke up through fallen leaves and paint the woods in pinks, yellows, blues, lavenders and white. These are the woodland flowers, the spring flowers that are native to this region and which certify the season for many of their admirers.

The Call of the Wildflowers is the topic of the monthly trail walk at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens on Sunday, May 7, 2:00 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend. Wildflowers growing along the trails and in the woodland wildflower garden will be featured. The walk will last approximately 1 1/2 hours.

Meet the Docents in the Gardens lobby. The tour begins promptly at 2:00. Dress for the weather and possible muddy trail conditions.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 N. Dixboro Road, Ann Arbor, 1/2 mile south of the Plymouth Road intersection.

Promotional Coordinator is Margaret Verghitt at 763-7061.

Do-Ahead Pasta Sauce

Here is a home-made pasta sauce you can make ahead and refrigerate or freeze, yielding a convenient meal anytime you come home tired, or when you're just too busy to cook.

California ripe olives provide a meaty texture and contrasting color to this hearty, meatless dish. When cooked with tomatoes and eggplant, the olives create a robust sauce that's nutritious and relatively low in calories. To bring out even more of the olive flavor, saute the onions and garlic in a strong, fruity olive oil.

Eggplant-Olive Sauce is best served over spaghetti, but is also good over ziti, rigatoni, corkscrew or other shaped dried pasta. At serving, sprinkle with freshly grated Parmesan cheese, or pass it at the table.

Eggplant-Olive Sauce For Pasta

- 3 tablespoons olive oil, preferably strong, fruity flavor
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 can (28 oz.) whole peeled tomatoes, undrained
- 1/4 cup medium-sweet Madeira or dry red wine
- 1 eggplant (about 1 pound), peeled, cubed
- 1/4 pound mushrooms, sliced (about 2 cups)
- 1-1/4 cups pitted California ripe olives, cut into halves or quarters
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped fresh basil or 1 teaspoon dried
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh oregano, or 3/4 teaspoon dried
- 1/2 to 3/4 teaspoon sugar
- Salt and freshly ground pepper

Heat oil over medium-high heat in a 4 quart or larger pot. Add onion and garlic; saute about 2 minutes. Break up tomatoes into bits. Stir tomatoes and their juice, Madeira, eggplant, mushrooms, olives, herbs and sugar into onion mixture. Cover pan; simmer 5 minutes. Remove cover and cook over medium heat until sauce reduces and thickens, about 15 to 20 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve sauce immediately with 1 lb. pasta, or cool sauce to room temperature and refrigerate or freeze. Sauce may be refrigerated 2 days or frozen up to 4 months. Serve with Parmesan cheese. Makes 4 servings.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

First Inaugural Address in the City of New York

April 30, 1789

Fellow-Citizens of the Senate and of the House of Representatives:

Among the vicissitudes incident to life no event could have filled me with greater anxieties than that of which the notification was transmitted by your order, and received on the 14th day of the present month. On the one hand, I was summoned by my country, whose voice I can never hear but with veneration and love, from a retreat which I had chosen with the fondest predilection, and, in my flattering hopes, with an immutable decision, as the asylum of my declining years—a retreat which was rendered every day more necessary as well as more dear to me by the addition of habit to inclination, and of frequent interruptions in my health to the gradual waste committed on it by time. On the other hand, the magnitude and difficulty of the trust to which the voice of my country called me, being sufficient to awaken in the wisest and most experienced of her citizens a distrustful scrutiny into his qualifications, could not but overwhelm with despondence one who (inheriting inferior endowments from nature and unpracticed in the duties of civil administration) ought to be peculiarly conscious of his own deficiencies. In this conflict of emotions all I dare ever is that it has been my faithful study to collect my duty from a just appreciation of every circumstance by which it might be affected.

All I dare hope is that if, in executing this task, I have been too much swayed by a grateful remembrance of former instances, or by an affectionate sensibility to this transcendent proof of the confidence of my fellow-citizens, and have thence too little consulted my incapacity as well as disinclination for the weighty and untried cares before me, my error will be palliated by the motives which misled me, and its consequences be judged by my country with some share of the partiality in which they originated.

Such being the impressions under which I have, in obedience to the public summons, repaired to the present station, it would be peculiarly improper to omit in this first official act my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe, who presides in the councils of nations, and whose providential aids can supply every human defect, that His benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States a Government instituted by themselves for these essential purposes, and may enable every instrument employed in its administration to execute with success the functions allotted to his charge. In tendering this homage to the Great Author of every public and private good, I assure myself that it expresses your sentiments not less than my own, nor those of my fellow-citizens at large less than either.

No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the never be expected on a nation that disregards the eternal rules of order and right which Heaven itself has ordained; and since the preservation of the sacred fire of liberty and the destiny of the republican model of government are justly considered, perhaps, as deeply, as finally, staked on the experiment intrusted to the hands of the American people.

To the foregoing observations I have one to add, which will be most properly addressed to the House of Representatives. It concerns myself, and will therefore be as brief as possible. When I was first honored with a call into the service of my country, then on the eve of an arduous struggle for its liberties, the light in which I contemplated my duty required that I should renounce every pecuniary compensation.

From this resolution I have in no instance departed; and being still under the impressions which produced it, I must decline as inapplicable to myself any share in the personal emoluments which may be indispensably included in a permanent provision for the executive department, and must accordingly pray that the pecuniary estimates for the station in which I am placed may during my continuance in it be limited to such actual expenditures as the public good may be thought to require.

Having thus imparted to you my sentiments as they have been awakened by the occasion which brings us together, I shall take my present leave; but not without resorting once more to the benign Parent of the Human Race in humble supplication that, since He has been pleased to favor the American people with opportunities for deliberating in perfect tranquillity, and dispositions for deciding with unparalleled unanimity on a form of government for the security of their union and the advancement of their happiness, so His divine blessing may be equally conspicuous in the enlarged views, the temperate consultations, and the wise measures on which the success of this Government must depend.

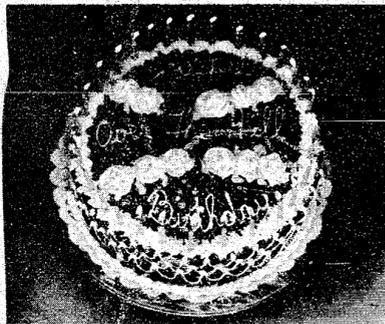

Besides the ordinary objects submitted to your care, it will remain with your judgment to decide how far an exercise of the occasional power delegated by the fifth article of the Constitution is rendered expedient at the present juncture by the nature of objections which have been urged against the system, or by the degree of inquietude which has given birth to them.

Instead of undertaking particular recommendations on this subject, in which I could be guided by no lights derived from official opportunities, I shall again give way to my entire confidence in your discernment and pursuit of the public good; for I assure myself that whilst you carefully avoid every alternation which might endanger the benefits of a united and effective government, or which ought to await the future lessons of experience, a reverence for the characteristic rights of freemen and a regard for the public harmony will sufficiently influence your deliberations on the question how far the former can be impregnably fortified or the latter be safely and advantageously promoted.

Invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of men more than those of the United States. Every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency; and in the important revolution just accomplished in the system of their united government the tranquil deliberations and voluntary consent of so many distinct communities from which the event has resulted can not be compared with the means by which most governments have been established without some return of pious gratitude, along with an humble anticipation of the future blessings which the past seem to presage. These reflections, arising out of the present crisis, have forced themselves too strongly on my mind to be suppressed. You will join with me, I trust, in thinking that there are none under the influence of which the proceedings of a new and free government can more auspiciously commence.

By the article establishing the executive department it is made the duty of the President "to recommend to your consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient." The circumstances under which I now meet you will acquit me from entering into that subject further than to refer to the great constitutional charter under which you are assembled, and which, in defining your powers, designates the objects to which your attention is to be given. It will be more consistent with those circumstances, and far more congenial with the feelings which actuate me, to substitute, in place of a recommendation of particular measures, the tribute that is due to the talents, the rectitude, and the patriotism which adorn the characters selected to devise and adopt them.

In these honorable qualifications I behold the surest pledges that as on one side no local prejudices or attachments, no separate views nor party animosities, will misdirect the comprehensive and equal eye which ought to watch over this great assemblage of communities and interests, so, on another, that the foundation of our national policy will be laid in the pure and immutable principles of private morality, and the preeminence of free government be exemplified by all the attributes which can win the affections of its citizens and command the respect of the world. I dwell on this prospect with every satisfaction which an ardent love for my country can inspire, since there is no truth more thoroughly established than that there exists in the economy and course of nature an indissoluble union between virtue and happiness; between duty and advantage; between the genuine maxims of an honest and magnanimous policy and the solid rewards of public prosperity and felicity; since we ought to be no less persuaded that the propitious smiles of Heaven can people are waiting for a bone or tissue transplant. Recent Gallup Polls have shown that most Americans have heard of tissue transplantation and know that tissues can be donated. Very few, however, understand how the donation process works.

Hospitals facilitate tissue/organ transplantation in cooperation with the Michigan Tissue Bank. In 1988, Chelsea Community Hospital assisted with six tissue/bone donations.

One of Michigan's newest donation laws is Required Request. The law provides that the next-of-kin to a family member who has expired and has healthy organs or tissues must be asked about donating those organs and tissues. Chelsea Community Hospital along with the Michigan Tissue Bank urges families to discuss their wishes concerning tissue/organ donations before a crisis occurs. The decision could save the life of a transplant recipient in Michigan.

Cheryl began the competition last fall as one of over 200 students across Michigan. Vying for one of four leadership scholarships, she was invited to N.M.U.'s campus last fall for academic testing and personal interviews. At that time the field was narrowed down to 30. A second interview was conducted and Cheryl was named as one of 15 finalists. She is the first Manchester student to advance this far in the competition. Announcement of the four winners will be made in early May. Cheryl's leadership ability has been evident during her four years at our high school. In eleventh grade she was elected Adapted from Washington's Circular to the States, written from his headquarters as commander in chief at Newburgh, New York, on June 8, 1783. This circular was directed to the Governors and States of the new nation; his reference to them has been replaced by the words "the United States." Otherwise the words and spelling are those of General Washington.

"I now make it my earnest prayer, that God would have the United States in his holy protection, that he would incline the hearts of the Citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to Government, to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another, for their fellow Citizens of the United States at large, and particularly for their Brethren who have served in the Fields, and finally, that he would most graciously be pleased to dispose us all, to do Justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that Charity, humility and pacific temper of mind, which were the Characteristicks of the Divine Author of our blessed Religion, and without an humble imitation of whose example in these things, we can never hope to be a happy Nation." Amen.

Planning Commission

Regular Meeting
March 14, 1989

CALL TO ORDER

The meeting was called to order at 7:40 by Chairman Daverman in the Council Room of the Village Hall.

PRESENT

Lowery, Boone, Walton, Daverman, Gleason, Schiller. Absent: Steele, Turk, Way (entered 7:41)

MINUTES

Enter Way at 7:41.

Under Conditional Use: Boone recommended it be noted that the question is still open concerning review of Conditional Use Permits, and that the topic should be looked into further.

Lowery made a motion to accept the minutes with the above addition. Schiller seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote. Boone asked if approval of minutes could be reopened. He noted it should also be added that the Commission opted not to reconsider the Mobile Home Park Woods issue at this time. Schiller made a motion to accept the minutes with the above addition. Lowery seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

REQUESTS FROM PUBLIC TO ADDRESS THE MEETING

Although there were no specific requests to address the meeting it was noted that members of the Manchester Township Planning Commission were among those present. They had been invited to meet with the Village Planning Commission to discuss the annexation issue.

CORRESPONDENCE

None

REPORT FROM VILLAGE COUNCIL

None

OLD BUSINESS: VILLAGE ANNEXATION PROPOSAL, MULTI USE

Daverman reviewed the area under consideration. He also reviewed what he covered when he met with the Manchester Township Planning Commission at their February meeting. He noted that the size of the present Industrial Park is small in comparison to those of neighboring communities, and emphasized that Manchester is in competition with these communities to attract clean industry. He also noted that spin-off developments tend to occur as the result of increased industrial expansion, and stated that the purpose of the annexation proposal was to try to avoid haphazard development. A combination of residential and industrial/office has been suggested for the area south and southwest of the present Industrial Park, and a combination of residential and commercial has been suggested for the parcel of land east of M52.

Daverman opened the discussion. Lyle Widmayer asked what the Village would do, especially concerning taxes, for the property owners in the areas of the Township being considered for annexation, during the interval between annexation and the time the land would actually be used as Widmayer also expressed concern over the loss of Township revenue if these areas were annexed, and suggested that some type of revenue sharing be considered. Daverman stated he would contact Kallewaard, and have her obtain legal council on these issues. Boone suggested the possibility be explored of allowing the Township to continue to receive the tax until the time the land is developed, and then go into a formula of sharing.

Daverman was asked if a parcel of land has to be rezoned when it is annexed. This question referred to the land east of M52. Although it does not have to be rezoned, Daverman questioned whether the Ag zoning would be appropriate in this case. He felt it would be better to have appropriate zoning in place, instead of waiting until a developer asks to have it rezoned.

During the discussion, the following concerns and questions were also expressed:

- A. Area east of M52
  1. How would this area be zoned? Possibly residential & commercial.
  2. Who owns the property? (Holiday, Schmerberg, Hood)
  3. How long have they owned it? Unknown by those present.
  4. What plans they have for it? Development. Open to suggestion.
- B. 1. What are the procedures for annexation? Daverman presented a copy of "Annexation Procedures" to the Township Planning Commission.
2. Whether the annexation issue could go to the vote of the people? According to "Annexation Procedures in Michigan in General Law Villages", "Under the General Law Village Act, there is no provision for submission of this question to the electors."
- C. 1. Update on access off M52—Nothing definite as of yet.
2. Concern over the number of curb cuts allowed (too many might tend to promote strip development.)
- D. How developments tend to destroy that which attracted them in the first place (natural beauty, vistas, etc.)

The question was raised concerning what was planned for north M52 in Sharon Township. Daverman expressed his hope that a joint meeting of all the surrounding townships would take place, and some kind of agreement could be arrived at concerning future plans for the area as a whole.

The question was raised concerning what was planned for north M52 in Sharon Township. Daverman expressed his hope that a joint meeting of all the surrounding townships would take place, and some kind of agreement could be arrived at concerning future plans for the area as a whole.

Daverman encouraged the Township Planning Commission to submit any questions, comments, concerns, suggestions, etc. to the Village Planning Commission.

Boone suggested target dates be set up for the annexation process, and that a progression of steps be identified.

MASTER PLAN

Daverman informed the Commission he had drafted a letter to Mr. Hotaling concerning his fees and the development of the Master Plan.

TRAINING SESSION

Daverman made copies of material which was handed out at the training session, and gave them to the Commissioners who were not able to attend. He noted that the Training Session scheduled for Albion on March 7 was cancelled due to lack of enough registrations. Therefore, Daverman, Way and Schiller attended the Session in Frankenthon on March 9.

SPECIAL LAND USE REPORT

Boone reported that the article he was given to study concerning Special Land Use, resembled a "recipe" or "How to Book". He said it was necessary to obtain a copy of the MCL references in order to have a complete understanding of the article, and stated he would research it further.

NEW BUSINESS: BED AND BREAKFAST ORDINANCE

Lowery pointed out the need for a Bed and Breakfast Ordinance within the Village, and sent for sample ordinances from other communities. He noted that the main purpose was to protect the nature of housing as it presently exists, and recommended the Commission consider such an ordinance. It will be placed on next month's agenda.

BASEMENT APARTMENT ORDINANCE

Walton said he would like to see an ordinance which dealt with apartments which have walk out basements. Current zoning does not permit first floor or basement apartments in the Commercial District. The concern was expressed that allowing basement apartments in the Commercial District could aggravate the present parking shortage in some cases. On the other hand, it was agreed that it would be good if the basement levels could be put into use. Nothing was decided concerning this issue.

ADJOURNMENT

Boone made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Schiller seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote. The meeting adjourned at 9:31.

Survey Acclaims Chiropractic Care

Some may believe that the orthopedist is the only back specialist. But a recent survey of some 500 back-pain sufferers disclosed that Doctors of Chiropractic outperform orthopedists in relieving many kinds of back pain, according to the 1985 book, Backache Relief. For lower back pain other than attributed to a ruptured disc, chiropractors brought relief more often to patients than orthopedists did.

Participants in the nationwide survey saw a total of 422 chiropractors, 429 orthopedists and other practitioners.

The survey also reported that physical therapists and physiatrists (Doctors of Physical Medicine) provided relief to patients experiencing back pain.

Chiropractic adjustments work well on neck pain, the study found. More than 50 percent of the chiropractors seen for neck pain brought patients relief, while only 10 percent of the orthopedists could do the same.

The successful chiropractor used spinal adjustments as one element in a total program of chiropractic care. Spinal manipulation helped 25 percent of the people to function normally in the long run. The effective chiropractor also advised patients about exercise, life-style, stress management and nutrition.

Cards Of Thanks

The Manchester SAAC committee would like to thank all those persons, organizations and businesses who made it possible for Bill Manning's visit to be so overwhelmingly successful. It is not often that so many different people are involved in such a worthwhile community project. The Manchester Enterprise, The Village Bakery, The Village Shop, Walco IGA, Pyramid Office Supply, The Flower Garden, Wackers, The Back Door, Corky Dee's and Krauss Pharmacy all contributed to this positive community effort. The Optimists, Chamber of Commerce, Recreational Task Force, along with the Community Resource Center added direction and manpower to the project. Assisting Dr. Manning in his school presentations were: Annette Wurster, John Korican and Michelle Gilbert. Connie Zimmer along with the local SADD group also contributed to the two-day program. We very much appreciated the participation of the local sheriff's department and its sergeant, Joe Yekulis, along with a visit from his boss Sheriff Ron Schebil. The cooperation of Superintendent Niedzwiecki and many other school personnel made it possible to bring this positive message to the total community.

Thanks to all our friends and relatives for all their calls, gifts and assistance in our recent bereavement. Special thanks to Manchester Fire Department Rescue Unit for their quick response to our call.

Our Dutchmen hardballers opened up our league campaign with an impressive 9-3 win over East Jackson. Brian Barnard was the winning pitcher as Andy Hunt, John Korican, Tim McGinn and Jesse Widmayer supplied the offensive power.

Be with us Friday as we host Vandercook Lake at 4:30. Congratulations to our JV baseballers as they downed East Jackson, aided by John Ward's grand slam home run.

Friday, our girls' softball squad saw the first competition of the young season. It's always tough to play against a more experienced team your first time out as this score would indicate 23-1.

The softball team hosts Vandercook on Friday at the old athletic field. This game also begins at 4:30.

Other Business: The Board authorized the Superintendent to send out bids on the High School parking lot expansion and paving.

Staff Needs: The Superintendent advised the Board that we may need to add teachers to the teaching staff at the Middle School and Kindergarten. Further information will be brought before the Board.

The Board approved an additional $1,898.21 for the Superintendent's relocation expenses.

The Board adjourned into a closed session at 10:20 p.m. for a student hearing. Board adjourned the student hearing closed session to go back into regular session at 11:20 p.m. The Board adjourned the regular session to go into closed session regarding a teacher evaluation at 11:25. The closed session was adjourned at 11:58 to go back into regular session. Regular session was adjourned at 12:01 a.m.

What does 20/20 vision mean? It does not necessarily mean that you have perfect vision. 20/20 means only that you have normal vision for seeing sharply and clearly at a certain distance. You can have 20/20 vision and still not maintain visual awareness to the side while looking straight ahead, see clearly for reading and other near work, use your eyes together as a team, judge distances, or have eye strain. 20/20 also is not a sign that your eyes are free of disease. Your vision and eye health can only be checked by a comprehensive eye exam.

Money Management

ORGANIZING YOUR FINANCIAL RECORDS

You've just been accepted for a new job. Your employer asks you to report to work with your Social Security card. Ops. You can't remember if it's in that manila envelope in your desk or in the shoe box at the bottom of your closet. What you have is a record-keeping problem.

Every day, in every city, people are thrown into a state of panic when asked to produce anything from an original birth certificate to documentation supporting tax deductions. The answer to such problems is simple: get out of the shoe box and into the file cabinet.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, organized records can make life a lot simpler and, in the long run, less costly. Efficient record keeping can help you track investments, support insurance claims, protect your family's financial security, shave hours off your tax preparation time, cut your tax bill and make it more difficult for the Internal Revenue Service to disallow your tax deductions.

Safeguard Your Permanent Records

Considering the results of good record keeping, the means can be quite simple. First, invest in a safe deposit box or a fireproof filing cabinet to safeguard your permanent records and those papers that would be difficult to replace. Don't let the cost of a safe deposit box dissuade you from renting one. As long as you use the box to store papers related to your investments, the fee is deductible as a miscellaneous expense, subject to limitations.

Examples of items that should be kept in a secure location include documents recording how much you pay to purchase and improve your home, forms indicating the amount of your non-deductible Individual Retirement Account contributions and photographs or a video inventory of valuables in your home (for insurance purposes). An unsigned copy of your will, and a letter of instructions listing the location of your original will and any vital records or phone numbers a beneficiary may need if you become severely disabled or die, should be stored in a fireproof container at home rather than in a safe deposit box-which may be sealed after an owner's death.

Toss Out Unnecessary Papers
Your next priority is weeding through your other, more temporary papers. Start by tossing any papers that are unnecessary, such as cash register receipts for small, daily purchases. The simplest guideline is: if you can't use the document now, during an audit, after a casualty, when making investment decisions, or after selling your house, you probably don't need it. If you need additional guidance on which items fall into these categories, consult your CPA.

Other temporary papers, such as credit card bills or receipts for withdrawals from a bank, should be kept long enough to back up your monthly statements.

Establish A Filing System
As you sort through your papers, devise a meaningful filing system. Some people merely separate their papers into those related to income and those related to expenses. A more efficient system is to establish distinct categories, such as tax materials, insurance information, investment records and homeowner documents.

If you need help in organizing your tax records, review your most recent tax return for clues on what information you should have on hand. Remember, you should be able to document every item listed on the return, including all sources of income and any tax-deductible expenses. Most tax records-including cancelled checks and other papers related to medical bills, charitable contributions, rental expenses, alimony payments or business expenses-should be maintained for at least three to six years. In addition, keep careful records on where you deposit and how you spend loan proceeds since this information determines the tax treatment of the interest you pay.

Separate your records in a way that is meaningful to you. Whatever method you choose, make sure that you clearly label all folders. If you are married, take the time to explain your filing system to your spouse. If you are single, you should probably let a family member or close friend know how and where you have organized your records. Finally, the Michigan Association of CPAs strongly recommends that you file your records on a consistent basis-say, twice a month. Make record keeping as routine as housecleaning and you may be surprised at just how painless the job can be.

For insurance purposes you should maintain accident reports, policy statements, an inventory of assets and receipts for any major purchases. To document your investments, you will need proof of your initial cost, receipts for brokerage or mutual fund transactions, dividend or interest statements and any other papers that can substantiate a capital gain or loss. Necessary homeowner records include your deed, insurance policies, receipts or cancelled checks for home improvements and possibly rental records if you rent your property for more than 14 days a year.

Nitrate Well Test Results

The results of a well testing program, conducted by the Michigan Farm Bureau in cooperation with Michigan State University's Institute of Water Research and the Michigan Department of Public Health, indicate that the nitrate content of most of the wells tested are below the 10.0 parts per million (ppm) that the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) says are reason for concern. According to Becky Jeppesen, manager of Michigan Farm Bureau's Community Activities

Department, a total of 1,516 wells in 73 counties were tested for nitrates. "Of that number 77% showed zero to 3.0 ppm. Only three counties averaged over 10.0 ppm—Mason, Missaukee and Barry—but those were counties where the number of well tests was very low," Jeppesen said. "Of the total tested, only 128 wells, or 9%, tested at 10.0 ppm or higher." Jeppesen said Farm Bureau offered the well testing program to its members to alert them of the potential health problems that could occur because of high nitrate levels in drinking water. "We also wanted them to take a good look at their farm management practices and see where they could take actions to ensure a safe water supply. Education was an important part of the total program," she said. "Not only is pure water crucial to the agricultural industry, it is vital to the well-being of farm families, so farmers have a vital interest in maintaining and improving the quality of this resource." Farm Bureau members who participated in the program were sent well testing kits. They returned the samples to the organization's home office in Lansing and those samples were sent to the Michigan Department of Public Health for testing. "Those with high tests were encouraged to take a second test and if the nitrate level was still high, we encouraged them to work with either the county Public Health Department or the county Cooperative Extension Service to determine the source of contamination," Jeppesen said. Information on individual wells tested is confidential.

Manchester UMC Celebrates 150 Years

The earliest of Manchester Methodist states that the Tennessee Circuit was created in 1831. This comprised of Adrian, Clinton, Tecumseh, Manchester, Saline, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Coldwater, and Marshall. To take in the entire round it required some four hundred miles, taking four weeks with twenty seven regular preaching places. The first Methodist Society in Manchester was organized in 1839 with Rev. George Bradley as pastor.

In 1854, it was decided to move the building at Rowe's Corners to 211 Beaufort. This was done under the leadership of Brother William Judd and in time absorbed all the churches of Sharon. This Church was a lively body of interested people serving the needs of Methodism in the Community for 39 years.

The Church on West Main St. was purchased from the Presbyterians in 1893. An addition to the Church was made in 1958. In 1965 the purchase of our present parsonage took place and on Jan. 28, 1979, we had a mortgage burning ceremony. In the fall of 1966, Miss Nellie Ackerson, a devoted member and organist for many years, donated nearly an acre of land on Ann Arbor St. for the site of a new church. We later purchased seven acres surrounding to set the stage for our new building. On Sunday, April 18, 1971, a ground breaking ceremony was conducted by our District Superintendent, Dr. John Jury, our pastor, Rev. Walter Damburg, and members of our congregation.

On November 7, 1971, the corner laying ceremony was conducted by our pastor, Rev. Damburg. The last service in our building on W. Main St. was held Sunday, April 16 and the first service in our new church was held on April 23, 1972. A service of consecration was held on May

McMahon's Battery

Manchester Enterprise
June 7, 1888

Mister Editor: There is so much said about that battery of mine, that I mean to give you a sketch of it for publication. In '77 I went to Europe to sell this battery. It was rejected by the war departments of France, Prussia and Austria, but now that I have its rights protected, I mean to prove it before the people. I will place it at Ann Arbor hill at half past four o'clock Saturday, and invite all the men in Manchester and vicinity to try it with their rifles. I will pin a doll baby behind it and I will give $5 to any man who will touch her with a rifle ball through the armor.

When this battery is in battle array it will be seven feet high with a set of lances two feet high. It can be locked or unlocked in every eight feet. If flanked by an enemy it can be formed into a semi-circle or circle complete, yet defying the enemy. This battery, with four men deep behind it, will drive all the armies in the universe before it faster than a Michigan farmer can drive so many sheep. With four inches of Toledo steel plating on this battery, it will throw a cannon ball 40 feet in the air 500 yards from the place where it strikes it.

Hail To The "Chief"

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

George Washington's arrival in Manchester last Sunday afternoon was as picturesque an event as one could wish! Blue sky and bright sun; a Gazebo wrapped in red, white, and blue bunting; a thirteen-star flag flapping in the breeze; and a crowd which apparently was willing to forsake the Piston's playoff game and their gardens as well.

A team of white horses drew the presidential wagon which carried General Washington down Main Street and through the crowd to the Gazebo. Gen. Washington approached the microphone and first commented about the quality of his trip from Mount Vernon before he began his Inaugural Address.

The crowd listened attentively to his speech even though some contemporary critics probably would not have been kind about its dynamics. Too long, perhaps? Lacking in humor? And no easy one-liners which could be used for headlines or for television news. It was, however, a meaty speech. And the complete text was published in last week's "Enterprise" for those interested.

John Korican, teacher at Manchester High School, then gave his insights on the Address. One fact he took care to point out was that although George Washington in his speech stated his refusal to accept compensation for his position as president, he was willing to be reimbursed for expenses. Mr. Korican suggested that the fact that expenses ran so high made Congress decide they might be better off paying a salary!

President Washington remained on the platform while other announcements were made, speakers introduced, and a thoroughly enjoyable musical selection was performed by Manchester High musicians on flute, piano and drums. President Washington also presided over the unveiling of the marble marker which explains the significance of the cherry tree planted to remember this Bicentennial event.

President Washington had other engagements to attend, however, and therefore left when the crowd adjourned to Emanuel Church for the dedication of its new Historic Marker and then cherry pie and ice cream.

For the 200-300 people in attendance, the day was an historic success. And our own John B. Swainson was certainly triumphant in his arranging for George Washington's appearance in Manchester!

CRC Benefit Banquet

Have you purchased your tickets to the 2nd Annual Gaia Benefit Banquet for the Community Resource Center? Wednesday, May 20 at 7:00, 17 volunteers, nominated for recognition by 16 organizations of the community, will be honored at Weber's Inn.

Banquet planning committee Jeff and Connie Schaffer, Len Bruner, Bob Miller, Jackie Goerke and Dianne Schwab encourage you to contact the Community Resource Center, 428-7722, by May 5, to make a reservation for an evening that provides the opportunity to say "Thank You" to many residents as well as give support for on-going work of the CRC. Instrumental and vocal selections, presented by Manchester High school students, will add to the enjoyment of the evening.

Manchester residents, organizations and businesses are responding well to the benefit that will help underwrite the work at the Community Resource Center for the next year.

Organizations who benefit from the CRC are the Manchester Family Service, Chamber of Commerce, Manchester Recreation Task Force, United Way, Red Cross and the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee. The MESJ Job Service and the Interfaith Counseling Service are available in the community because of office space provided at the CRC.

Fire Safety Video At Library

Is your home or vacation cabin nestled in the woods? Do you have pine trees or tall grasses near your buildings? If you do, the Manchester Township Library has a free, seven-minute video tape that could help safeguard your property.

The video was produced by the Michigan Interagency Wildfire Prevention Group to help address the wildland fire problem. The program discusses safe practices outside the home and offers tips on preventing damage to real estate from wildfires. A checklist for on-site inspections alerts homeowners to possible problems. There is no charge to borrow this VHS tape.

Two Hour Parking

TO: All Manchester Downtown Merchants
FROM: Sgt. Joseph Yekulis
Manchester Station
RE: Two Hour Parking

As you know, the Village of Manchester has a two (2) hour time limit on motor-vehicle parking in the downtown area on Main Street. This free parking is provided to accommodate customers, however, numerous complaints have recently been received in regards to store owners, employees, and downtown residents parking in these spaces for extended periods of time. I would at this time request your assistance by asking that you use the available off-street parking provided.

The Village would prefer that our agency enlist your cooperation rather than strictly enforce. Continued on Page 8
