STUCK IN THE MIDDLE? REDUCE THE FINANCIAL BURDEN OF SUPPORTING TWO GENERATIONS

Pat and Jim earn substantial salaries as managers in a Fortune 500 firm. Still, they are having a hard time making ends meet. The reason for their financial hardship is easy to pinpoint. A large portion of the couple's income goes toward supporting their two children as well as Pat's elderly mother.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, Pat and Jim are struggling with the realities of being part of the "sandwich generation," middle-aged adults who are financially responsible for both their children and their parents. With the aging of the "baby boomers," who represent about one-third of today's population, the size of the sandwich generation is bound to expand dramatically.

If you are already "stuck in the middle," you can alleviate the financial pressures of supporting two generations by sharing responsibilities with other family members and by taking advantage of numerous tax provisions.

Hire A Family Member As Caretaker

If you pay someone to take care of an elderly parent or a young child while you and your spouse work, why not hire another non-dependent family member? For instance, Bob and Sue hired Bob's father to watch their 2-year-old twins. As a result, the couple not only saves several thousand dollars in day-care fees, but they can also claim the dependent-care tax credit—worth as much as $720 for one qualified dependent and $1,440 for two or more. Remember, if you hire a non-dependent relative as caretaker, you must pay him or her a reasonable wage. In addition, at the end of the year you must supply the paid relative (or any other paid caretaker) with a W-2 form listing his or her annual wages.

Take Advantage Of Your Dependent Exemptions

You can claim an exemption for any dependent relative, whether a child or a parent, as long as you provide more than half of his or her annual support—including housing, food, clothing, medical and dental expenses. Don't underestimate the value of your exemptions. For each qualified dependent you claim, you can generally deduct $2,000 from your taxable income. If you are in the 28 percent tax bracket, that translates into a tax savings of $560 for each exemption.

CPAs point out that you may still be able to claim a parent as a dependent if you and your siblings share the costs for at least one-half of his or her annual support—and no one person provides more than half the support. To be eligible for the exemption, you must provide more than 10 percent of your parent's support. In addition, everyone providing more than 10 percent of your parent's total support must agree in writing on who claims the tax exemption in any particular year.

Buy Your Parent's Home

Is your parent's life savings invested in their home? If so, by buying their home you can help convert their home into a source of income. Let's look at an example. Tom's parents, Sara and Jim, were barely subsisting on a small pension and Social Security. Luckily, their house—originally purchased for $50,000—had a market value of $175,000. At the advice of his CPA, Tom bought his parents' home and then began charging them a reasonable rent. Sara and Jim were able to collect the proceeds from the sale of the house tax-free by claiming the $125,000 once-in-a-lifetime exclusion from gain, a provision reserved solely for taxpayers who are at least 55 years old. By carefully investing the $175,000, Tom's parents can be assured of a steady income for the rest of their lives.

At the same time, Tom now owns a rental property and is eligible for a host of valuable tax breaks, such as property tax and depreciation deductions. Moreover, since Tom's adjusted gross income is less than $100,000, he can deduct up to $25,000 in passive rental real estate losses.

Open A Trust For Your Parents

Another way to provide aging parents with income is through an irrevocable trust (in which you give up all rights to the trust funds). In an irrevocable trust, the trust money is taxed to the trust itself at a rate of 15 percent on the first $5,000 of income and 28 percent on any additional income. If these rates are lower than your own tax bracket, an irrevocable trust may be one way to give your parents more money than you may be able to afford otherwise.

Buy Nursing Home Insurance

According to a congressional subcommittee on aging, 70 to 80 percent of nursing home residents deplete their funds and are forced onto welfare a year or so after being admitted. If you anticipate that a parent may have to live in a nursing home in the near future, now is the time to explore nursing home or long-term-care insurance. Depending on the individual policy, the insurance will cover all or a portion of the daily expenses.

Approximately 70 commercial insurers and seven Blue Cross plans currently offer long-term-care insurance. You can obtain the names of companies selling these policies in Michigan by writing to the Health Insurance Association, 1001 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20004.

Shift Income To Your Children

By shifting income to your children, you can reduce your overall tax burden, and save for your children's educational expenses at the same time. Transfer just enough income-producing assets, such as a CD, to give each child under age 14 a maximum of $1,000 in unearned income. The assets must actually be in the children's names. If they are, your children will pay taxes on only $500 of the unearned income at a rate that will probably be much lower than yours. But be warned: any unearned income over $1,000 will be taxed at your highest marginal rate. (For children 14 or older, unearned income is taxed at their own rate, usually 15 percent.)

For more information on how tax laws can help minimize the expenses of supporting children and elderly parents, consult a CPA. He or she should be able to help get you out of the pickle of being a member of the sandwich generation.

Elvira Vogel Retires After 31 Years of Service

Elvira Vogel, a 31-year member of Washtenaw Intermediate School District's (WISD) Board of Education, will step down on June 30th.

Elvira, who lives in Manchester, said her years on the board have been exciting and rewarding. "It's with reluctance that I leave, but it's time for me to move on to other challenges," she said.

First appointed to the board in 1958, Elvira completed the term of former board member, Horace Whitney. She went on to be re-elected to five 6-year terms serving in every capacity from Trustee to President.

The mother of three says her board membership was an outgrowth of her convictions. "I have a teaching background, a love of children and a belief that education is for everyone. So, it was natural to be involved with a district that serves students with special needs as well as provides services for children in local schools."

Once Elvira joined the Board, she discovered there was never a good time to leave. "It seemed like every 6 years when my term was about to expire, we were in the middle of an exciting project. There was always a challenge to be met and I wanted to be a part of it."

Elvira has been active statewide, too, serving on the Board of Directors of the Michigan Association of School Boards (MASE). Among her many MASE assignments, she served 2 years as the Chair of its Education and Curriculum Committee and is presently the Chair of its Inservice, Conference and Seminar Planning Committee. "It's also been my privilege to serve on state committees like the School Improvement Council and the Chapter I Committee. Both of these areas can impact all schools in the state," she said.

After Elvira's term ends, she plans to travel with her husband, Louis. "But, I'll still keep my ties with the ISD," she said. "My whole family has grown up with the ISD."

Chicago River Runs Uphill

Manchester Enterprise
January 13, 1977

Small Stream Has Seen Unnumbered Changes Since Improvements Began In 1835

It seems to be the habit of Chicago always to be doing something with the Chicago River, says the Chicago Science Monitor. As rivers go, the Chicago is not much of a stream. Its north branch is 24 miles long and the south branch is 10 miles long and 200 feet wide and the depth 22 feet. But this river has been turned around, is now in progress of straightening, and may be damned so it cannot reverse in flood time, and there is even talk that it may be raised should the Mississippi river barges make their way to the city.

Not always has Chicago been truly mindful of the fact that due to geographical causes, its existence as a city was determined by the river.

It was in 1835 when the river improvement urge first seized the city. The town trustees in that year conceived the idea of docks at the water's edge, and to accomplish this, wharf lots were leased for 999 years for $1,000 each. The tenants agreed to construct and maintain a five-foot dock three feet above ordinary high water mark, and the resulting improvements were considered epoch-making.

Seventeen years later the first step was taken to alter decisively the natural course of the stream also by "unkinking" it. Where now its mouth is found, formerly a great sand bar existed. The river bent sharply just east of the present Michigan Avenue bridge and coursed southward almost a quarter of a mile before it could flow freely into the lake about at Madison Street. The prevailing northeast winds and the surf of the lake had made this bar, just as today they are busily pulling up a beach on the Gold Coast off Oak Street.

It was Congress which came to the aid of the city in July, 1852, an act being passed decreasing the removal of the river sand bar. Now boats sail from the lake directly into the river.

The biggest alteration Chicago made on her river, however, and the thing that marks it is the most curious of its species, was the matter of making the water run backward. The Chicago river runs uphill: diverting water from the Great Lakes and into the Mississippi river as an immense sewage machine.

From Bluegrass to Classical

- Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

Please take note of this update regarding the next two Gazebo Concerts:

This Thursday, June 22, beginning at 7:00 p.m. at the Gazebo across from St. Mary's, the acoustic trio "Maxton Bay" will perform traditional and contemporary blues, bluegrass and folk tunes.

"Maxton Bay" includes Mark Palms, Carol Wells Palms, and Sheila Warner. The group has released two albums and will perform tunes from those albums. This is music for the whole family, from little ones to teen-agers to grown-ups. The energy and excitement of "Maxton Bay" plus the special qualities of this truly American music will combine to make the night an enjoyable one.

The following Thursday, June 29th, the pace will change somewhat when "Westwood Camarata: An Evening of Classical Music" comes to the Gazebo.

On this evening various ensembles featuring musicians who play in a number of orchestras including the Toledo, Lansing, and West Bloomfield Symphonies, will gather on the Gazebo stage.

These fine musicians will also include some of our own Manchester talent. Hans VanAlstine, for instance, will be performing classical guitar. Other musicians include Heidi Cowan on keyboard, Bruce Cowan on clarinet, oboist Deborah Hinderer Rusinsky, Nora Shankin on bassoon, and soprano Stephanie Rosenbaum. Works will be by Telemann, Bach, Dubois and Bozza.

This night will truly be an evening of fine music. Bring a blanket or lawn chair.

The Gazebo Concerts are sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Task Force, a volunteer organization consisting of your friends and neighbors who are offering their energy, skills, and concerns to bring about various community activities in our area. The Task Force meets at the Blacksmith Shop once a month, and everyone, young and old alike, is invited and welcome to come to help with the planning of activities such as these Gazebo Concerts. (Or the Talent Show, Teen Dance, and Dunk Tank at the Fair; or the Road Rally in late July; or Summer Day Camp for the little ones; and many other things for young people and families.) The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, July 5th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop.

For more information about the Gazebo Concerts, or about the Manchester Recreation Task Force, contact 428-7722.

Fair Time

The Manchester Community Fair is fast approaching. Are you getting those items ready for exhibiting in the exhibit tent? The Fair books will be out soon. Check the books for new categories. We know the produce is not going to be quite as big as previous years, but there is a new class for green tomatoes. Watch those plants. Let's see how tall the tallest stalk of corn can be by July 11th.

The Manchester Community Fair is again have a "300 Club" drawing. If you do not yet have your ticket, you can get them from any Fair Board member or they are available at the Flower Garden or Carol's Cut-N-Curl. Remember, you must have your ticket by July 11th. No tickets will be sold after this date. There are eleven times you can win.

If you are interested in a booth in the Merchant's tent, please call Kathy Richardson at 428-8474. Don't forget the fair is early, July 11-15, 1989. See you at the Fair!

Letter To The Editor: Obituaries

We are writing this letter to clear up what we think may be some inaccuracies in some of the past letters to the editor in reference to Manchester Plastics. We have met with Emory Jonas, President of Manchester Plastics (MPI), and Keith Thomas, Chief Engineer of MPI, and were given an extensive tour of the entire complex. The new facility stands 60 feet away from the original facility with a 20-foot wide access with fire stops. This makes it possible to shut off one building from the other in case of fire.

The new facility will increase MPI's press capacity by less than 10%. This facility is designed as such that any possible leakage of hydraulic fluid is caught and contained. All possible hazardous materials or chemicals are stored separately in enclosed areas which meet or exceed OSHA standards.

The Manchester Fire Department has had an emergency plan in case of fire for MPI for several years. Before the new facility is occupied, there will also be an emergency plan for this structure. MPI has an access road encircling the entire facility with strategically located fire hydrants. MPI has installed a 150,000 gallon on-site water storage tank which enables them to instantaneously supply 90 P.S.I. to the sprinkler heads without which it would take the Manchester Fire Department 8 to 10 minutes to supply.

We were not approached by Manchester Plastics to write this letter. But after inspections, we thought it was necessary because of the concern of the residents of the village and township.

Mike Scully, Fire Chief
Gail Koebbe, Assistant Chief
Manchester Township Fire Dept.

The Gazebo Square Dance In Perspective

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

If you were not there, "ya shoulda been!" The first night of the Summer Gazebo Concerts was all one could have hoped.

Let's begin with the weather. After at least a week of nearly continuous rain, the clouds broke meant to be!

Then there was the crowd. At 7:00 sharp the gathering was enthusiastic and varied, although not so large in number. But people came and went throughout the evening, with unofficial estimates between 150 and 200 people. Many brought lawn chairs and blankets. Some used the picnic tables the Village had moved to the area. Some never sat down. Too busy dancing!

And of course dancing was very much what the evening was about. You can't dance without music, and the "Raisin Pickers" provided a fine context for dancing. When the dancers needed a break, the "Raisin Pickers" didn't let up, but instead changed the pace just a bit. Musically, it was superb.

There were recognizable Manchester faces in the "Raisin Pickers," such as Mike Gleason on the fiddle, Mark Palms on guitar, Carol Palms on stand-up bass, Bill Farmer on guitar, and Gary Reynolds on banjo.

The caller, Rich MacMath, while not from Manchester, will be welcome in these parts anytime. He was excellent both as a teacher and as a caller. He taught the most basic steps to adults and children who had little or no experience square dancing, and yet his calling was so lively that even the veteran dancers were appreciative. And he was so very patient those times when folks got just a bit tangled up.

There was dancing in circles around the tree, and dancing in more familiar squares; dancers who love square dancing, and dancers who hadn't square danced in 30 years. There were children dancing with other children, brothers with sisters, big folks with little folks, neighbor with neighbor, and not-yet-officially introduced with not-yet-officially introduced.

And there was a friendly gathering of listeners and supporters who, although not dancing, chatted, watched, clapped with the music, drank the pop and ate the popcorn the Girl Scouts were selling, and had a good time.

What a fine way to break-in the "new" Gazebo for its role this summer (and hopefully in years to come) of providing a setting for fun summer evenings of music and relaxation.

American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Legion Home on June 14, 1989, with 18 members and 3 guests present. Committee reports were given. Susan Kay DuRussell encouraged members to contact their congressmen and representatives to reinforce the need for V.A. health care funding.

Poppy Chairman, Mary Smith, reported that Poppy Day was a success and that more than 2000 poppies were sold. The Great Lakes Bancorp window was decorated with 700 poppies.

New Bingo schedules for the months of July through September have been prepared by Marilyn LaRock.

The Red Cross Blood Bank will be held in the Legion Hall on July 17. Co-Chairmen for the day will be Marilyn LaRock and Helen Hosmer.

Jacqueline Armentrout and Ethel Weir presented nominations of new officers for the 1989-90 year. Installation of the officers will take place at our July meeting.

Any Auxiliary member wishing to participate in the Manchester Fair Parade on July 11th should contact T. V. Ludwick.

Our July 12th meeting will take place in the Legion Hall with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Meat, rolls and beverage will be provided. Bring a dish to pass and your own table service. The committee for this event will be Alice Alexander, June Jenter and Vivian Middlemiss.

Missing The Chicken Broil

by Amy Berman

For as many people that will be attending the annual Manchester Chicken Broil this year, there are many that won't.

The reasons are varied. Some people have moved far away from the area, myself included, while others will be vacationing elsewhere during this third Thursday in July.

For everyone that has attended before, but won't be attending this year, it is hard to forget how much we will be missing.

Take the people for instance. Some of the friendliest people attend the chicken broil each year. How many times in the past have you stood in line in 90 degree heat for half an hour and had everyone in front and behind you in line smiling and in a festive mood.

How about the people that work at the broil every year. None of them, from the slow cutters to the guys in the pits, look unhappy to be there. Both workers and guests help to make the broil a happy occasion.

Of course not only will we be missing the people and the festive atmosphere, but also what the broil has become most famous for—the food. The crisp, sweet coleslaw, the fresh-baked rolls and the radishes all complement that world-famous chicken.

You can almost smell the chicken as you stand in an imaginary line waiting your turn for dinner. You can almost hear the chicken grilling on the open pits. But, since you won't be attending this year, you'll have to leave the tasting to those with the tickets.

And for those lucky 14 thousand guests that get to sink their teeth into the butter-basted chicken at the 1989 broil, remember, those of us that will only be dreaming about the broil this year, could very easily be standing in line with you next year. Of course, we'll all be smiling.

Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club

The June monthly meeting of the Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club was held Monday, June 5th. There were 10 members and 3 leaders present. The meeting was called to order by Acting President, Jodi Armentrout. Flag pledges were led by Andrea Clark. There was no secretary's report and the treasurer's report was given by Andrea.

Under new business, the club will sponsor a trophy for 4-H Youth Show. Postcards will be used to notify club members of upcoming club events rather than depending on the telephone grapevine. A trash barrel decorating work meeting will be held June 12th at 7:00 p.m. at the Feldkamp's and we will work on our club Youth Show display. Fair project sign-up is now complete.

Under Leader's report, Mrs. Feldkamp explained that Youth Show I.D. cards will be coming through the mail the first part of July. Andrea and Jennifer were given Herdsmanship Contest handouts.

Under club activities, Jennifer was presented with a graduation gift of a 4-H Christmas tree ball. Club members worked on stenciling and sponge painting. A demonstration was given by Karen Goodell who also provided our refreshments.

The next club business meeting will be June 26th at 7:00 p.m. at the Feldkamp's. We will be working on the trash barrels and club display so wear old clothes. Demonstrations will be given by Kelly Parr, Casey Widmayer, Jennifer Bailey and Jodi Mitchell. Refreshments will be provided by Wendy Haussler and Mrs. Haussler.

REGULAR BUSINESS

HISTORIC DISTRICT ORDINANCE

Enter Schiller at 7:40. Daverman asked the Commissioners for comments and recommendations on the proposed Historic District Ordinance. He gave a brief outline of what is contained in the Ordinance, and the process for adoption. Lowery expressed concern about Section 10 Design, Item 6. "Roof lines should be consistent with the pattern established." He noted most of the roofs in the CBD are flat, which is not the best roof type, and one which they are trying to get rid of. Daverman stated the emphasis is on the view from the street. It was agreed however, that this section needs to be clarified. Lowery made a motion that the Historic District Ordinance be voted on at the next meeting. Walton seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

MASTER PLAN

A need for work sessions to deal with the Master Plan was expressed. Possible dates will be considered at the next meeting.

MULTI-USE ANNEXATION STUDY

Don Limpert had met with Daverman to express concerns and ideas regarding the annexation study. Written notes of this meeting were presented. The main points of Mr. Limpert's were as follows:

1. Industrial zoning expansion west seemed reasonable.
2. M-52 curb cuts are inappropriate.
3. Against rezoning commercial east of M-52.
4. Commission should think/plan within the Village boundaries first.

5. The Master Plan should anticipate areas of projected growth. Notes containing detail of the above points are in the Planning Commission files (with minutes).

At this meeting (May 9, 1989), Limpert also made the following points:

1. Really need an updated Master Plan before dealing with anything else.
2. Noted M-52 serves as a natural boundary.
3. Questioned if annexation is what the community really wants.
4. Noted that there already is some commercial development to the north and suggested the Commission consider this area in their future plans.
5. Asked if the Commission has really looked at a long range sewer plan.

Gleason passed out handouts to the Commissioners. One dealt with her comments on "Facts/Issues/Concerns" which Daverman had previously passed out. The other was a list of questions she felt needed to be given serious consideration when studying the possibility of annexing land east of M-52. Both articles are on file with the minutes. The main questions concerning annexation were:

1. Would the proposed zoning allow another type of growth than hoped for?
2. Is there the possibility of too much growth over too short a time for a village of this size?
3. Will the increase in the tax base balance the cost of increased services?
4. Should annexation be considered before the new Master Plan has been fully developed and adopted?
5. Is the proposed amount of growth in keeping with the projected rate of growth in the area, or significantly greater?

6. Is there a workable alternate plan if curb cuts are not allowed?
7. Would the development of a commercial district create more vacancies downtown as some merchants relocate?
8. How will the proposed zoning affect the aesthetic and natural resources in the area?
9. Is it in the best interest of the community to consider zoning a large parcel of land multifamily without having a Condominium Ordinance in place?

NEW BUSINESS

PRELIMINARY SITE PLAN DISCUSSION, MANCHESTER MANOR MOBILE HOME PARK

It was noted that a great deal of required information had not been included on this plan. It was also noted that the recreation area does not meet the square footage requirement. Schiller expressed concern about water runoff. Concern was also expressed over the possibility (no topographic shown) this project would alter land contours and what side effects this might have on surrounding land. Limpert stated there are artesian wells in the area. Lowery made a motion to send the Site Plan back to the applicant with the request that all required information be provided. Gleason seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

CORRESPONDENCE

Clerk Schaffer read a letter from the Manchester Recreation

Task Force regarding a request to close Main Street during a series of concerts at the Gazebo on Thursday evenings beginning on June 15, 1989. After some consideration Council decided not to close Main Street but instead have extra deputies available for traffic control.

The Clerk also presented Council with a request from Cub Scout Pack 421 to use Carr Park for a family picnic. Council asked the Clerk to notify the leader, Matt Donnellon, that the park cannot be reserved but he was more than welcome to use it.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

Emory Garlick along with several other township and village residents were present to express their concerns about the addition to the Manchester Plastics Plant. Several individuals spoke to Council dealing with the following areas of concern: property values, traffic lighting from the parking area, noise from the P.A. system contamination, oil spills, chemical spills, dust, truck route, and whether or not permits were acquired.

Kallewaard's answer to some of the questions were: 1. We have received notification that we will be receiving a grant for road improvements leading into the plant, just waiting for the State's go-ahead; 2. Manchester Plastics has to comply with a long list of requirements from State, County and local levels and the Village has done lots of investigating.

Mr. Supers asked for a chronological list of the entire project. Kallewaard passed paper around and asked everyone to write down their questions and concerns so that each and everyone could get an answer as soon as possible. Several people were unhappy, wanting their answers now. After some discussion it was decided that a public meeting will be held and notices will be sent to everyone present. A notice will be put in the Enterprise. The meeting will be held as soon as possible.

Money Management

FROM TOOTH FAIRIES TO TUITION: TEACHING YOUR CHILD TO MANAGE MONEY

You may not be able to afford piano or singing lessons for your child, but there's one lesson you simply cannot afford to forego: money management. Few other lessons cost so little and count so much. According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, your child has a much better chance of growing into a financially responsible adult if you begin teaching him or her how to handle money today.

From the time your child first finds a dollar from the tooth fairy under the pillow until the time he or she begins saving for college tuition, your role is to help understand the value and purpose of money. Unfortunately, parents frequently forget that even the way they treat pennies in a piggy bank communicates a message about money to a child.

Sara, for example, would often give her 5-year-old son Adam coins to save in his piggy bank. On occasion, however, she would take a few coins out of the bank if she needed change for a toll machine she passed on her way to work. One day, when Sara came into Adam's room, she couldn't find the bank. On questioning Adam, she was surprised to find he had hidden the bank on purpose. "You said it was mine," he protested. Only then did Sara realize she had already begun communicating a mixed message to Adam about money.

If you want your children to learn how to handle money responsibly, you have to allow them a fair amount of control over how they use their money. At the same time, you should let them know there are right and wrong ways of handling money.

One of the best vehicles for teaching money management is the weekly allowance, usually given to children from the time they are at least 6 or 7 years old. To make an allowance an effective learning device, CPAs suggest you follow some simple guidelines.

First, don't make an allowance contingent upon household chores. If you do link an allowance with chores, the child may very well start viewing the allowance strictly as payment for a job. Bob found this out the hard way, when his son Peter began working as a paperboy and suddenly stopped doing his household chores. When Bob threatened to cut off his allowance, Peter shrugged. He had decided that he would rather be paid for riding his bike and delivering papers than for doing the dishes and cleaning his room.

Remember, an allowance tells the child he or she is a part of the family; in other words, the allowance represents the child's fair share of the family's income. Household chores, on the other hand, represent the child's duty as a family member. If you confuse the two issues, so will your child.

Another way to make an allowance an effective part of a child's financial learning experience is by carefully outlining its purpose. Take time to explain what expenses you expect the allowance to cover. So, if you expect half of the allowance to pay for school lunches while the remainder covers movies and other types of entertainment, let him or her know. This way, if your child carelessly spends the money on candy or other items and then cannot afford to go to a movie on the weekend, he or she will get a first-hand lesson in the impor-ment works and what you expect the funds to cover.

For a similar reason, you may want to set Monday or Tuesday as "allowance day". This tactic forces children to stretch their funds until the weekend, when they usually need more money. In many cases, an early- or mid-week allowance can make a child understand that he or she cannot always spend money as soon as it's received.

One last point about allowances: whenever possible, keep the amount of your child's allowance similar to those of his or her friends. If you cannot provide a comparative allowance, explain why in simple, matter-of-fact terms. No matter how guilty or frustrated you may feel, try to explain the necessity for budgeting in positive terms.

Allowances are not the only way to teach children financial responsibility. Once they reach age 8 or 9, kids can generally begin to grasp the concept of planning ahead and setting priorities. At that point, you should consider taking your child to a bank and opening a savings account in his or her name. Be sure the child understands why the money is being deposited in a bank. You may even want to provide a simplified explanation of how interest works. Once the account is established, encourage the child to maintain the account's records so that he or she can see just how the savings grew. Keep in mind, the experience will probably mean more to the child if you help him or her set realistic short- and long-term financial goals.

Terry found an even more creative way to involve her daughter, Jennifer, in learning to manage money. Based on Jennifer's interest in computers, Terry bought her a few shares of stock in a small computer company. Jennifer's "assignment" was to track the progress of the stock and keep track of its worth. When the stock had earned a specified amount of money Jennifer would be allowed to take out enough funds to buy herself a home computer.

With pre-teen children, the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you find ways to involve them in the process of saving for their college education. Whether you invest in stocks, bonds, mutual funds or certificates of deposit, make sure your child understands how the investment works and what you expect the funds to cover. Encourage your child to track the performance of any investments targeted for his or her education. In addition, urge your child to contribute at least a portion of any part-time earnings to help pay for future expenses.

Teaching money management to your child requires patience and persistence. If you get frustrated, try to keep in mind that learning to handle money responsibly is one lesson both you and your child can bank on.

Tom Mann Receives Claire Reck Memorial Scholarship

On Sunday, June 4, 1989, the first annual Claire Reck Memorial Scholarship was awarded during the Commencement ceremonies. Tom Mann, son of Judy and Ron Mann of Manchester, was the 1989 scholarship winner.

This memorial scholarship, in the amount of $2500 was endowed by the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hamilton of Manchester Stamping Corporation in fond memory of Claire Reck. Her life was devoted to helping others and providing support to those in need. Claire Reck was the cornerstone of community service here in Manchester.

Selection was determined by a committee comprised of faculty, administration, Mrs. Wayne Hamilton and non-senior students. Applications were reviewed and judged primarily on community service, the range of community service, and the length of community service. Presenting the first-ever Claire Reck Memorial Scholarship was Mrs. Sara Reck Wakefield.

A partial list of the community services that Tom Mann has been involved in is listed below:

- worked for the Manchester Chicken Broil for 11 years worked on the Manchester Boat Race for 6 years worked in various capacities during the Manchester Community Fair including set up/clean up for Optimists Steer Club, tractor pull, Boosters Food Tent assisted firemen during the fourth of July celebration for 3 years worked the National Honor Society Senior Citizen Ch... Day for 2 years assisted in score/keeping, timing, etc., on various athletic events participated and worked at the Ice Cream Social at Bethel United Church of Christ for 7 years assisted Claire Reck and Family Service for the past 5 years.
It is hoped that the inspiration of Claire Reck and the monetary stipend involved with this scholarship will encourage other young people and motivate them toward the intrinsic rewards of performing community service.

Chicken Broil Draws Nearer

It's three short weeks until our famous Chicken Broil! If you looked closely at last week's article you realize just what this annual event has meant to so many of us. The purchases made from the profits have been significant and if you take into account inflation, it's almost unbelievable.

We all have immensely benefited from this broil on the basis of tangible assets. What about the intangible assets? We have to consider things like working together as a community at large, with little individual recognition. Cooperation of two and three generations in families for all of our common good.

It's an establishment of work ethic and community service for youngsters alongside their peers. In all, it sets Manchester area apart from other communities. It's a part of our identity and it's good! Let's not forget the cooperation of our customers - we couldn't have a broil without our 14,000 guests.

Fireworks On Monday, July 3

Monday night, July 3, the Manchester Men's Club will be hosting fireworks at Carr Park. There will be entertainment before the show and a live band after. We have not had fireworks for about 3 years due to insurance and liability problems. This year in cooperation with the Village Council we are able to have them again. Of special interest this year, we will have a Little League All-Star game, a Civil War band will provide traditional American music at 7:30 in the main pavilion, sponsored by the Historical Society, John Swainson and the Men's Club. Brad Frey and the Boogie Men will provide the music for a dance following the fireworks at dark.

As you may recall, the way that we fund this project is through donations as you come into the park. The Men's Club has borrowed money to put this event on - please donate so we may continue the fireworks for the community.

Sharon, Freedom Visited Wednesday Afternoon - Farm Homes, Buildings, Orchards, Etc. Devastate Ruin

PROPERTY LOSS IS HEAVY

Two Girls Injured, One Died This Morning. Many People Receive Minor Injuries

A cyclone swept over Sharon and Freedom Wednesday afternoon, demolishing nearly everything in its path, but human lives were miraculously saved. Animals also escaped injury, though some were buried in the wreckage.

The first appearance noted was on the Ed Baker place at Sharon Hollow, where slight damage was done. It then dipped down at Ernest Smith's, upsetting the windmill and breaking down some trees. Then with a mighty roar it grasped the residence, barns, trees and other property of Ernest Raymond and in the twinkling of an eye all were leveled to the ground and scattered about in reckless confusion.

The family heard the nose and seeing the approaching cloud, rushed for the cellar but the very floor was torn from beneath their feet and left them dismayed but uninjured among the wreckage.

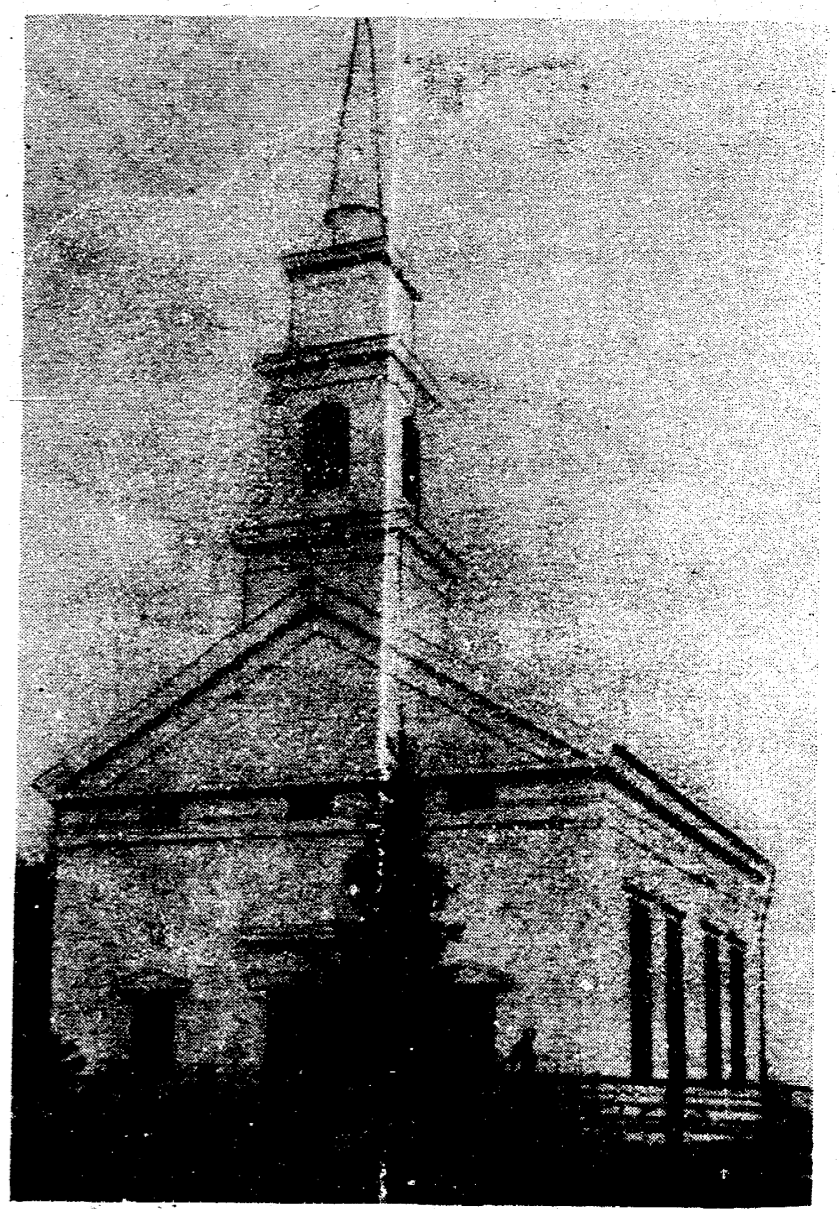

It next struck the home of Will Curtis' family, the Samuel Smith farm, where it destroyed all the buildings. Here the family sought safety in the cellar and were uninjured. We learn that Mr. Curtis had no insurance.

Henry Uphaus' brick house next felt the might force of the cyclone. A small portion of the walls was left standing but the contents of the house were smashed, barns, etc., and all the contents were like the rest - destroyed. The Parks home escaped the shock of the wind but trees were uprooted, twisted and broken, the demolished and the large barn moved on its foundation. The town hall opposite is only a pile of bricks, as though a bomb windmill overthrown, a small barn
