Pamphlet Available

If you are considering converting your home into a bed and breakfast, you may want to first read "Starting A Bed and Breakfast in Michigan" recently released by the MSU Cooperative Extension Service. This bulletin discusses business concerns and options to consider before establishing a bed and breakfast.

In addition to the financial feasibility of this business venture, special attention must be given to the potential effects on you and your family, your home and neighborhood. Hospitality skills are imperative for a successful bed and breakfast. "Popularity and interest in bed and breakfasts have increased dramatically in the past few years," noted Phil Alexander, co-author of the Extension bulletin. "A lot of people, after seeing an old Victorian home, think to themselves 'wouldn't that make a beautiful bed and break-fast?' I suggest they study their proposal very carefully and get as much information as possible."

One excellent source of information is talking to other bed and breakfast operators. Another source is the county Extension office which has research reports on the bed and breakfast industry. The Washtenaw County Extension office is located at the County Service Center, Hogback and Washtenaw, 971-0079.

Cornstarch Based Bags

The Michigan Agricultural Co-operative Marketing Association (MACMA), an affiliate of the Michigan Farm Bureau, will begin marketing cornstarch-based degradable rubbish bags in August. According to Jan Wilford, MACMA's direct marketing program coordinator, the bags contain 6 percent cornstarch and have been shown to begin degrading in 18 months.

"By selling the degradable bags, we are helping to reduce our nation's solid waste problem," Wilford said. "We are helping to improve the environment, and we are supporting agriculture by using a renewable resource, corn."

Wilford said the bags will be available from county Farm Bureau offices throughout the state, and will also be available for fund-raising groups this fall.

Delegates at last year's Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting adopted policy calling for both "market expansion of agricultural products" and "aggressive action to reduce waste by using containers produced from starch-based packaging material."

Who Gets Your Food Dollar?

U.S. farmers received only 25 cents out of every dollar consumers spent on food at the supermarket or in restaurants in 1988. The remaining 75 cents covered other marketing costs from packaging to profit. That's according to a "Who Gets Your Food Dollar?" brochure prepared by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Other components of the food dollar included 34.5 cents that was devoted to labor required in processing, marketing and serving; 8 cents in packaging; 7.5 cents in rent and depreciation; 4.5 cents in transportation; 4.5 cents in advertising; 3.5 cents in energy costs; 3 cents in before-tax profits; 2 cents for interest charges; 1.5 cents for repairs and 6 cents in other miscellaneous items such as insurance, property taxes, debt losses and accounting.

The farm share of the food dollar varies greatly from one product to another. Eight cents of every dollar spent on bread goes to the wheat grower, while 58 cents out of every dollar spent on beef goes to the producer.

Limit Use of Repellents with DEET

Michigan Department of Agriculture's (MDA) Pesticide and Plant Pest Management Division officials are advising consumers to limit the use of insect repellents containing the chemical diethyltoluamide (DEET) on children due to the possibility of adverse disorders including: headaches, restlessness, crying spells, mania, coma, staggering, abnormal rapid respiration, convulsions, and lack of coordination.

The public's concern for this year's large mosquito population and the threat of contracting Lyme disease has resulted in a greater usage of insect repellents. Although repellents ward off pesky mosquitos and infectious ticks, the use of repellents containing DEET in high concentrations can be hazardous to one's health if used improperly.

Results Of Our Labors During The Past 26 Years

Well do we remember the beautiful day in the autumn of '67 when a crowd of men stood around the old Washington hand press, the same kind that Ben Franklin used, and watched us as we grasped the lever and struck off the first copy of the Enterprise. It was in the same room in which the press work is now done, and many of those who watched the slow and tedious process of printing by hand, now view our office to witness the working of our beautiful and rapid power press. But some of those who, 20 years ago, stood by and watched the slow and tedious process, are gathered to their reward. Peace to their ashes.

the first number was "An early history of Sharon and Manchester," written by the lamented Andrew Robison; an original poem, entitled "Our City," written by Mrs. M. F. Tucker, and considerable local matter prominent among which was mentioned improvements and new buildings going up, for it must be remembered that the village was enjoying a boom. Among the advertisers were Van Dyne, Lynch & Co., where Haetselaar now is, G. W. Doty, and Case & Coon, our townsman Arthur Case being the senior member of the firm. This is all we remember who are now living here.

The first copy of the Enterprise was presented to our much esteemed townsman Chauncey Walbridge who still has it in his possession. We well remember

Board of Education Calls "Town Meeting"

The Manchester Community Schools Board of Education announces a Special Meeting for Tuesday, September 12, 1989, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Study Auditorium.

The purpose of the meeting is to seek information from district residents that will assist the Board of Education in establishing district goals for 1989-90.

For the past three years the Board of Education has invited representatives from various organizations within the community to help the Board identify school district needs.

"This year, the Board of Education wishes to expand community involvement and invites all district residents to an "Old Fashion Town Meeting".

POW/MIA Day

A candlelight vigil in Washtenaw County for the 2343 Americans still unaccounted for in Indochina is the centerpiece of this Friday's observance of POW/MIA Recognition Day. The vigil, which will include reading of the names of the 73 Michigan citizens still unaccounted for, begins at 8:00 p.m. in Riverside Park near Depot Town of Ypsilanti.

Organized by Chapter #310 of Vietnam Veterans of America, the ceremony is part of a local and statewide effort aimed at raising awareness in hopes of speeding a resolution to the POW/MIA issue.

"The cities of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saine, Milan, Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester, South Lyon, as well as the County of Washtenaw helped us a lot in this effort," said Jim Wade, President of the local chapter. Last year each city accepted our gift of a POW/MIA flag, told us they'd fly it each POW/MIA Recognition Day, and on holidays like Veteran's Day and Memorial Day, and again this year issued proclamations calling on their citizens to help commemorate the day.

In the decade since the Vietnamese conflict ended, the Indochinese governments have proven less than cooperative in accounting for prisoners who did not return or in providing information on the missing. Within the past two years cooperation increased significantly. Yet, according to the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, there are 2343 American servicemen and women still missing and unaccounted for in Indochina.

"A lot of people ask me how I can think any of them are still

Drive For Life

Drunk driving kills our friends and family members at an alarming rate, and remains the most frequently committed crime in the nation. On average, one person dies every 22 minutes, 65 each day, and more than 23,000 Americans lose their lives due to drunk driving crashes each year.

Here in Michigan 793 men, women, and children died in alcohol-related crashes last year. That is why MADD and Volkswagen United States, Inc. are focusing state attention on the third annual DRIVE FOR LIFE public awareness campaign.

We are asking that all motorists turn on their headlights during daylight hours of the Labor Day Weekend in remembrance of those 793 individuals who were killed in drunk driving crashes and, of course, to drive sober over the Labor Day Weekend and for the rest of the year.

Senior Citizens News

Sometimes the world feels like it is spinning too fast and you say "Stop, world, and let me get off!" Are you amazed as I that man can send a relatively small object (and direct it) to Neptune? A television reporter stated the craft was a few degrees off, but if you could stretch a thread from NY to LA, it would only be off by the size of a postage stamp! This is beyond my scientific mind (which didn't do too well in Physics class). Where it is now headed will be interesting. Our fifth grade class teacher told us in the '30's that it would take our lifetime to reach the moon and we wouldn't have any time left to get back to earth. Wish she could see 'em now.

Time is also spinning. I always dread turning August over and letting September in with all its activity. Labor Day is upon us again, so have fun with family and friends.

Tuesday, September 5: Jan Barbour is back with her super helpers to delight our taste buds at senior meals. She will serve meat loaf and all the trimmings which only she can come up with. If you are 55 or older, come to our Tuesday and Thursday meals at Emanuel UCC dining room at 12 noon. Call in your reservation to 428-8359 beforehand, or call Jan at 428-7830 before 10:30 a.m. the meal day. After the meal, there will be senior activities at the Center - you are invited.

Thursday, September 7: Birthday time for all seniors who were born in both August and September. You will enjoy your meal free this day which features baked chicken, birthday cake with special candle and all the fellowship you can handle. Then come to the Center for bingo to round out the day. Looking ahead: Friday, September 8: The senior bus will leave the Center at 9:30 for Kapniks. Call Erma Alber (428-8707) and reserve your spot.

Saturday, September 9: A trip is planned to Wyandotte for "Celebrate Great Lakes" which is free for all seniors who can go. The bus will leave the Center at 9:30 a.m. Get your reservation in to Erma. You will witness cultural variety shows, history of the role of the Great Lakes waterways in the development of the region, and entertainment.

The Trumpeter will be ready at the first meal of the season.

Alzheimer's Family Relief Program

Financial assistance is available to Alzheimer's patients and their caregivers through the Alzheimer's Family Relief Program, a national program of the American Health Assistance Foundation.

The Alzheimer's Family Relief Program awards grants of up to $1,000 to provide financial relief for expenses related to the patient's care and treatment. Money can be used for such costs as short-term nursing care, respite and day care, medication and other expenses related to the Alzheimer's condition.

Application for the Alzheimer's Family Relief Program are funded based on financial need. Candidates for grants may reapply. In addition, they are encouraged to seek alternative sources for additional income.

Alzheimer's disease is a degenerative brain disorder of which there is no cure. It is the fourth leading cause of death among adults affecting 4 million people and costing this country approximately $88 billion. Although most victims are over the age of 65, there are reported cases of victims in their forties and fifties. A free copy of the Alzheimer's Family Relief Program brochure or an application form may be obtained by calling 1-800-227-7998 or by writing to the American Health Assistance Foundation, 15825 Shady Grove Road, Suite 140, Rockville, MD 20850.

Leaf Walk

The monthly Sunday trail walks for the general public at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens will resume on September 10 at 2:00 p.m.

The topic for the walk is "A Look at Leaves Before They Fall". The similarities and differences between various leaves, and how these features help in leaf identification, will be emphasized. This walk is suitable for families and for anyone curious about plants. It is Not A Leaf Collecting Walk.

Meet the docents at the steps to the building. Dress for the weather and expect to be out on the trails for 1½ hours.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor, ¼ mile south of the Plymouth Road intersection.

The "Print Shop"

with what pride he received the folded copy from the hands of Mr. Spafford. There was no speech made but the nervous jerk of that stub arm was expression and caused all to smile.

Our merchants were not used to advertising and they had but little job printing done the first year, and Mr. Spafford found after dwelling here a few months, that he would have to seek a more paying "sit," so he threw up the Enterprise and left it in possession of the present proprietor who, by hard work and close figuring managed to buy some more type, a job press, etc., and put the office on a paying basis. Each year the business increased, not only at home, but by doing good work at fair prices we gained a reputation abroad for doing good job printing and orders came in from all directions.

Our advertising patronage increased rapidly until we found it necessary to print the paper all at home, and our subscription list having grown so fast, we were obliged to buy a power press on which to print the paper, a picture of which we present herewith. This move called for more room and the office was moved to the spacious and convenient rooms in the second story of the Goodyear Hall block, where we are now pleasantly, and we hope permanently located.

A few years since, having done a large amount of printing for a German Book Co., in Chicago, we were obliged to purchase the plates and copyrights of several german books, in order to get our pay, and after conducting a publishing house in that city for some time, we concluded to move here, where we now carry on the business in connection with our newspaper and job printing. Among the german books we now publish are:

"Select German Stories," by George Storme, with notes for use of schools and for self-instruction. A practical method for learning the german language. Bound in neat cloth covers and sold at 60 cents. These books are introduced in schools all over the united states and the demand for them is increasing.

"Kinder und Hausmaerchen," fairy tales, by the Brothers Grimm, 204 pages, with illustrations, bound in cloth, with embossed title; a very handsome and appropriate present. Price, 75 cents. We have also printed the above, with notes by Prof. Zimmerman, of the Chicago schools.

for use of college and advanced german classes, which we sell in paper covers for 50 cents.

"Deutsch-American Gratulant," which teaches all kinds of letter writing, having samples of the same, also a large amount of verses suitable for autograph albums, in german and english type. It is neatly bound in heavy paper covers and sells for 75 cents.

"Blumenlese" is a book of autograph album verses. It contains 64 pages and has a very attractive paper cover. The price is 25 cents.

assistants are well skilled in the business and with a practical knowledge of every branch of the trade, we feel confident that we can turn out as good work as anyone.

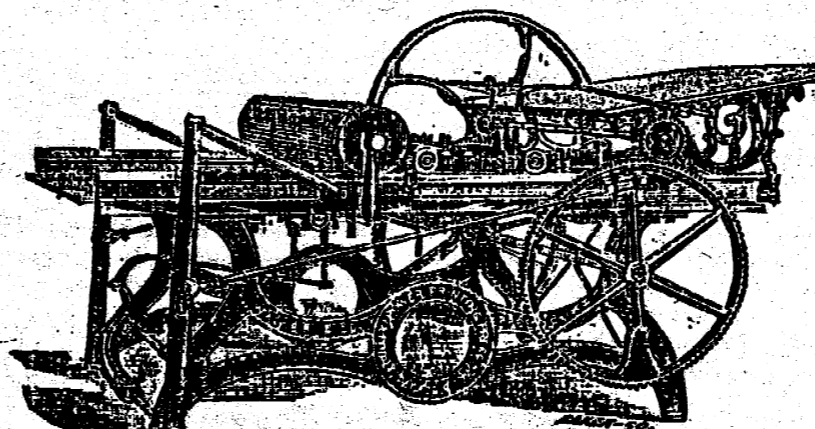

Circulars, samples and prices will be sent on application.

We have labored hard to please our patrons during the past 20 years and hope to merit a continuance of their favors in the future.

Shake!

Girl Scout Round-Ups

Two Girl Scout Round-ups will be held this year to register girls who would like to participate in Girl Scouting. All girls in kindergarten or age 5 and girls in grades 1-3 and a parent or guardian are invited to a meeting at the United Methodist Church (501 Ann Arbor Street) on Thursday, September 7, 1989 at 7:00 p.m. Kindergarten girls will be placed in Daisy troops and girls in grades 1-3 will be in Brownie troops.

A Round-up for girls in grades 4-8 and their parents or guardians will be held on Tuesday, September 12, at Emanuel Church of Christ (324 W. Main St.) at 7 p.m. Girls in grades 4-6 will be Juniors and those in grades 7-8 will be Cadettes.

After the girls are registered, troop meeting times, locations, and troop plans for the year will be discussed.

Bring out-grown uniforms to the meeting. They can be sold or donated to the cluster. If you wish to sell a uniform, please have the size, price and seller's name and phone number pinned to the uniform.

In the past year, all the troops participated in several all-cluster events: marching in the Santa Claus parade, carolling in the village, Girl Scout Song Night and family potluck, marching in the Memorial Day Parade, decorating a float, riding in the Manchester Fair Parade, and staffing a Girl Scout booth at the fair.

Each troop had many special activities determined by the age and interests of the girls. Some of these were: camp-outs in backyards or in a building by younger girls, roller skating party, a camping trip to an Amish Quilt Auction in Goshen, Indiana, train trips, bike trips, an overnight at Greenfield Village with special evening activities; trips to the Hands-on Museum in Ann Arbor, trips to plays, camp-outs at Wampler's Lake, camping trip to Mammoth Cave in Kentucky with side trips to the Air Force Museum and to a horse farm and museum, and a trip to the arboretum in East Lansing.

Each troop did one or more service projects, such as: collecting toys and working at the Family Service Christmas Shop, raising leaves for Senior Citizens, activities with the Senior Citizen Girl Scout troop at the Methodist Home in Chelsea, making gifts for Mott's Children's Hospital, and giving gifts to the Humane Society.

IT'S A FACT!

A simple game of checkers? There may be more to it than many realize. In England, the game's known as draughts; in France, jeu des dames; and in Germany, Damen-spiel. What's more, the rules are different in almost every country.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF HOUSE FOR SALE

Sharonville State Game Area
Notice is hereby given that the 2100 square foot ranch style home at 15820 Sharon Valley Road, Manchester, Michigan will be sold by sealed bid. To assist prospective bidders, a Department representative will be present to show the home from 9am to noon on Saturday, September 9, 1989.

One-hundred and twenty (120) days will be allowed for the removal and cleanup of the building from the day of the sales agreement. Site cleanup shall consist of burial and/or removal of all debris associated with the buildings and the land shall be left in a leveled, debris-free condition (no unfilled holes). The Michigan Department of Natural Resources reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

If the house is moved intact, it cannot be relocated to any location within the acquisition boundary of the Sharonville State Game Area.

To insure compliance with the specified conditions, a performance bond of $500.00 will be deposited with the state at the time the sales agreement is signed. This bond will be refunded after the site is satisfactorily cleaned up and the building removed.

All bids shall be addressed to:

Are You A Musophobe?

A recent survey found that musophobia—fear of mice—is the third most common fear among Americans, right after fear of public speaking and fear of going to the dentist.

According to Dr. Elliot Weiner, executive director of the Oregon Psychological Association, there's a reason for this fear. Musophobia, he says, is referred to in psychological theory as a "prepared" phobia. That is, people are biologically "prepared" to fear objects and situations that have threatened the survival of the species throughout evolutionary history. Ancient people who feared mice and successfully avoided them tended to survive and pass on their fear instinct to future generations.

While a debilitating phobia needs professional treatment, mild cases of mere mouse dislike can probably be solved with a rodent bait.

Unlike traps which require handling the dead or injured mice, bait releases you from even seeing the creatures. Of course, using bait also reduces the risk of being exposed to disease-carrying ticks, fleas or mites often found even on dead mice.

Place bait in dark, out-of-the-way places, close to walls, before you see a mouse. A bait such as d-CON® Mouse-Prufe II or d-CON®

Research shows fear of mice the third biggest phobia in America.

Ready Mixed in the basement, garage, kitchen and attic can help keep your home mouse-free. Then you only have to worry about the dentist and public speaking.

For a free copy of a booklet, HOW TO COPE WITH RODENT PROBLEMS write: d-CON, P.O. Box 5160-Z, Westbury, NY 11592.

POW/MIA Day

alive," said Jim Wallace, chapter vice-president. "My answer has a lot to do with the Golden Rule. No, I can't say with certainty that any of those Americans are still alive. But by the same token, I sure can't say they're all dead either. And I know if I was there and still alive, I'd hope someone would be working to get me out."

The stated goal of the League, Vietnam Veterans of America, the U.S. government and other veterans organizations, is to obtain as full as possible an accounting of Americans still prisoner, missing or unaccounted for in Indochina. Increasing public awareness and focusing public attention on this issue is one way to help achieve those ends.

Vietnam Veterans of America is the largest national service organization devoted exclusively to Vietnam and Vietnam-era veterans. With over 400 chapters and 40,000 members nationwide, the organization's goal is to foster, encourage and promote improvement of the condition of Vietnam and Vietnam-era vets.

The next meeting of V.V.A. Chapter #310 is Wednesday evening, September 13, at the U.A.W. Hall, 211 Monroe, Saline, Michigan. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Spouses are encouraged to attend. Call the Chapters new information number at 668-1818.

Grief Lecture Series

The loss of a loved one through death is a painful experience. Dealing with and adjusting to the death can pose a very difficult challenge. People experience a multitude of emotions including shock, despair, depression, anger, guilt and loneliness. Education, understanding and support can be helpful in soothing the pain of bereavement.

A series of four weekly lectures will be offered to all interested persons on Tuesday evenings beginning September 12. The presenters are Rev. Robert Weikart, Chelsea Community Hospital and James Peggs, M.D., University of Michigan Family Practice Center. There is no registration fee; meetings will occur in the Family Practice Conference Center in Chelsea Hospital.

The specific dates and topics appear below:

- September 12 - Basic Grief Model
- September 19 - Place of Memories in Grief
- September 26 - Changing Faces of Grief
- October 3 - Medical Aspects of Grief

Lifeline Helps People Live Independently

To many elderly persons living alone, maintaining independence is very important. LIFELINE is a personal emergency response system that provides 24-hour emergency assistance at the touch of a button.

A small personal help button is worn by the subscriber at all times. When assistance is needed, pushing the help button activates the LIFELINE unit connected to the telephone. The LIFELINE unit sends a "help needed" signal to the Response Center located at the Chelsea Community Hospital Emergency Room. Professional staff will call to determine what type of assistance is needed. If the subscriber is unable to answer the phone a responder-a neighbor, friend or relative will be sent to the home. Upon arriving at the home, the responder resets the LIFELINE unit. This sends a second signal to the hospital letting them know help has arrived.

LIFELINE can provide peace of mind and the gift of independence to many individuals. The cost is sixteen dollars per month. There are no additional installation or service fees. For more information, contact Chelsea Community Hospital Social Work Department at (313) 475-3952.

Saline Community Fair S.A.A.C.

Llamas, horses, steer, swine, monster trucks and crash-'em-up cars will be among the attractions at the Saline Community Fair next week.

The 54th annual fair will take place from September 4-9 at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds located on Saline-Ann Arbor Road.

The U.S.A. Demolition Derby will kick off the festivities on Labor Day evening at 7:00 and the championship derby events will round out the week on Saturday at the same time. The Monster Madness Truck Show is slated for Thursday at 6:00 p.m.

Livestock will be displayed and sold throughout the week. According to Lyle Wahl, president of the Saline Fair Board, 50 draft horses, 35 llamas, and 30 miniature draft horses will be shown alongside the more traditional barnyard animals like steers, hogs, rabbits, chickens and lambs.

Thursday at 7:00 p.m. 18 steers, 40 lambs and 18 pigs will be sold through the Junior Livestock Auction, Wahl adds.

The limelight will fall on Saline residents during Tuesday's Local Talent Show and the Miss Saline-Queen Contest, at 6:00 and 8:30 p.m., respectively. The pageant will showcase six young women, while the talent show will feature contestants of all ages.

For those who want to dance, musical entertainment will be provided by "Saints and Sinners" on Tuesday. "Counter Clockwise" will take the stage on Wednesday evening. The 50's and 60's band was extremely popular at the Saline Summerfest and the picnic in the Park. Both shows will begin at 7:30.

Country band "Tracey Lynne and the Mountain Express" will perform Friday at 8:00, and "Sea Cruise" is slated for Saturday at the same time.

Judged floats will wind their way through the streets of Saline when the fair parade begins at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday following a pet contest at Union School.

Other attractions will include Grandpa Crachet's puppet shows; carnival rides; livestock judging; and pony, tractor, and ATV pulls.

Tickets to the fair will cost $5 for entrants 1 year or older. A season pass will be $12.50. Children under 1 will be admitted free as will be senior citizens 65 or older on Friday.

Regular admission prices include free carnival rides, while unlimited riding will cost $4 per day with a season pass. Tickets are $4 for the demolition derby on Monday. Admission will be only $4 on Wednesday and rides will be open from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

A human being is born with 306 bones, but during childhood a number of them fuse, so an adult has only about 206.

25th Anniversary

Neil and Connie (formerly Connie Raymond of Manchester) Bohnett of Saline celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a surprise party on August 5, 1989. They were married August 1, 1964 in Manchester at the Emmanuel United Church of Christ by Rev. Ralph Kuether.

The party was hosted by their family at the home of Bob and Mary Gross, Connie's sister, of Saline. About 80 friends and relatives attended.

The Bohnetts have two children, Carlene at home and David and his wife, Becky of Milan, and one granddaughter Marie.

Welcome Back Picnic

Village Council

September 5, 1989

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

It's the day before school begins. The cars start arriving at Carr park at about noon. More than 100 teachers and staff, administrators and Board members move toward the appetizing food table. So begins this year's annual "School Appreciation Picnic."

The Picnic marks the return to school for the many individuals who make up the school community - teachers, bus drivers, secretaries, janitors, principals, etc. And it is a gesture of community support for their efforts.

The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce initiated the idea of a picnic to show school support about five years ago. They asked the Optimists to be co-sponsors. The 20th Century Club offered to help, and in years past the Senior Citizens have also played a role in presenting the picnic.

This year the planning began early in the summer. The Chamber established a sub-committee, chaired by Ann Pat Wolf, which included Stan Gilbert, Len and Lucy Bruner, and this reporter.

Ron Neidzwicki was contacted to set the date: August 24, the Thursday before school would begin. Then the committee contacted Ted Tapping from the Optimists and Virginia Fielder of the 20th Century Club to assure joint support again.

The Chamber committee decided to present a tasty lunch made up of specialities from various food establishments in the Village: sloppy joes prepared by Haarer's Meeting Place; macaroni salad and cole slaw from Frank's;

Fresh tomatoes were sliced up to serve and Walco Foods was the source for cold pop and potato chips.

All the preparations came together at noon last week when the teachers and staff arrived. Representatives of the Chamber and the Optimists were on hand to greet folks.

The 20th Century Club, as represented by Virginia Fielder, Mary Blossom, Dorothy Mann, and Ann Fowler, had set a beautiful table. And they were ready to begin dishing up the sloppy joes.

Once people were served and seated, the speeches began. Stan Gilbert on behalf of the Chamber welcomed the teachers and staff. Dave Little expressed the support of the Optimists.

Ron Neidzwicki, superintendent of Manchester Schools, gave a pep talk. Introductions and ideas were presented by building principals Rod Morrison, Brian Schick and Yvonne Henry.

Then Stan Gilbert closed the speeches portion with a dramatic display of the huge, vividly decorated cake which would next be cut. He invited all to linger over cake and ice cream.

But they didn't linger long. The day before school begins is a busy one. Soon the last car pulled out, and the clean-up began.

But just for a moment, the entire educational community of Manchester was feted by organizations representing all of Manchester community. A "Welcome Back" was sincerely offered for another school year.

"Eyes & Ears"

With the start of the new school year, Consumers Power Company is alerting parents, teachers and youngsters about the "Eyes and Ears" program that can help children in emergencies.

Eyes and Ears is a program aimed at preventing crimes, but it also can be a source of aid for children who run into problems while traveling to or from school, says L. Michael Ketchens, Southeast District Community Services Director for Consumers Power. The company, along with many law enforcement agencies, local governments, other utilities and businesses, cooperates in the Eyes and Ears program.

"If a youngster, or even an adult, needs help, he or she should look for one of the familiar blue and white Consumers Power vehicles marked with the Eyes and Ears sticker," says Ketchens. Most of the vehicles are radio equipped and employees are trained to request emergency help.

Ketchens offered some suggestions that children should follow to keep themselves safe:

- Stay away from strangers.
- Don't accept rides, gifts or treats from anyone.
- Travel with other children whenever you can.
- If you are approached by a stranger, go for help.
- Make sure your parents or an adult trusted by your parents knows where you are at all times.
- Go straight home or to your sitter after school.
- Don't go into public restrooms alone.
- Never hitchhike.

Our house was burned on March 18, 1989. The house was struck by lightning in the early morning hours and yet our family of six was able to get away physically unharmed. Almost immediately the residents of this community began taking care of us by donating clothes, food and money to help us face our crisis. We were impressed and warmed when we saw this demonstration of concern.

Now, if you haven't noticed already, there is a new house on the property at 515 Furnace. Our family was able to move into the house on Saturday, August 19, 1989 almost 5 months to the day of the fire.

This is a letter from our family to all those who have helped and cared. There were so many of you that we felt it appropriate to express our gratitude to the community of Manchester.

When we arrived it was noted to us that it takes a while to not be considered an outsider in Manchester. We were told roots grow deep and traditions are valued.

We would like to thank you for dispelling that notion by caring for us the way you did. Both Mary and I agreed that our family felt like insiders.

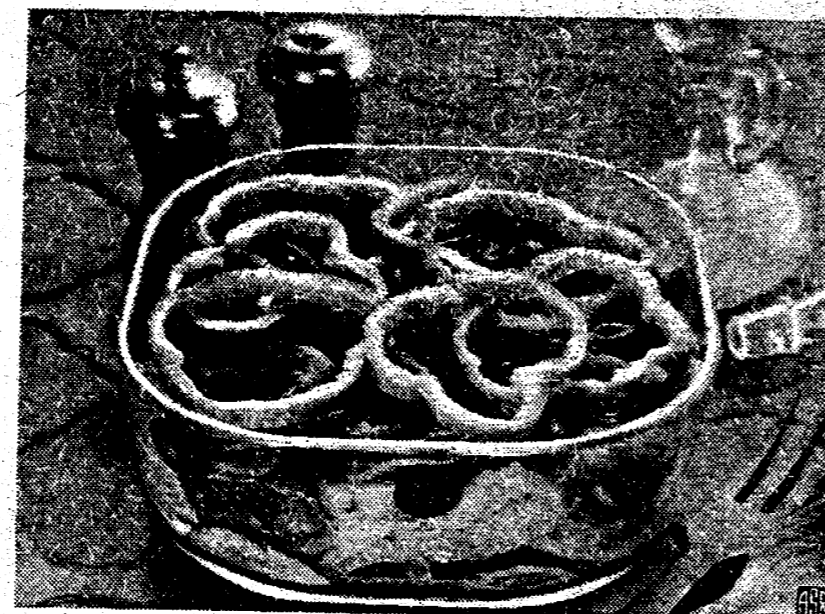

Thank you, and feel free to stop by the house for a tour. Sincerely,

Philip & Mary VanDop and the girls

To our Church Friends

Our house is up and we have moved in! We wish to thank you for the support that we have received from this church. Thank you for all of the gifts and your prayer support. Please feel free to stop by the house and get a great tour.

Phil and Mary VanDop

Layered Antipasto Salad

(Makes about 1 quart)

|---|---|
| 1/2 cup thinly sliced cucumber                                      | 1/2 cup (2 1/4-ounce can) drained, sliced ripe olives |
| 1/2 cup thinly sliced onion   | 1/2 cup thinly sliced green and/or red pepper rings   |
| 1 cup (two 6-ounce jars) drained, halved marinated artichoke hearts | 1/2 cup oil and vinegar Italian salad dressing.       |
| 1 ounce thinly sliced salami  |   |
| 3/4 cups (14 1/2-ounce can) drained CONTADINA® Stewed Tomatoes      |   |

Layer cucumber, onion, artichoke hearts, salami, tomatoes, olives, and green pepper in 1-quart clear glass casserole. Pour salad dressing over all. Cover and refrigerate several hours. Serve on lettuce, if desired.

QUICK QUIZ

Have you a taste for facts about food and nutrition? Taking this little test can help you tell how much information you've digested.

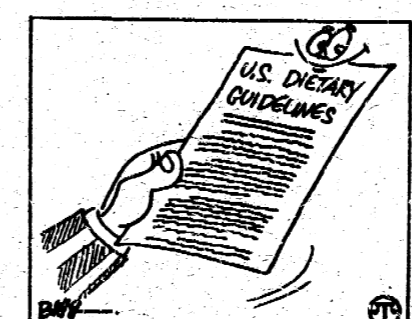

1. Experts recommend 30 percent of calories come from fats. The average American diet gets (a) less than (b) more than (c) exactly that amount of calories from fat?

2. Cholesterol comes from (a) animal fats (b) vegetable oils (c) tropical oils?

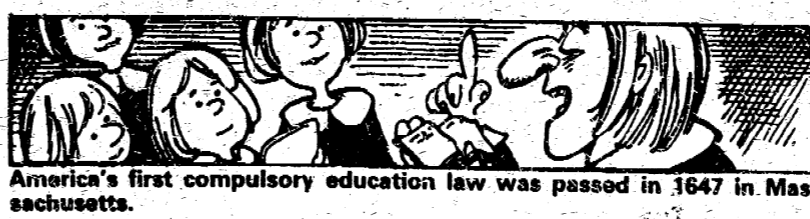

3. Scientific tests prove coconut oil, as used in American diets, affects health adversely. (a) True (b) False?

4. U.S. Dietary Guidelines call for (a) 100 (b) 10 (c) 0 percent saturated fats?

ANSWERS

1. (a) Americans generally now consume about 37 percent of their total nonunrefined fat and ten percent from polyunsaturated fats. (b) There is no scientific basis for concluding that coconut oil affects health adversely as used in American diets. (c) There are 100 calories in a gram of fat, but only 9 calories in a gram of protein.

America's first compulsory education law was passed in 1847 in Massachusetts.

1988 PEDESTRIAN FATALITIES AGES 5-14

As AAA Michigan celebrates the 70th year of its School Safety Patrol program, motorists are urged to be alert as students head back to school. Last year, 41 kindergarten through junior high school pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents, up from 37 deaths the prior year. But all traffic injuries in that age group dropped 4 percent to 1,298. This year, AAA Michigan's annual "School's Open - Drive Carefully" campaign will recognize the contributions of the School Safety Patrol program, which teaches children how and where to cross the street. Safety Patrols have played a significant role in reducing student pedestrian accidents by more than 50 percent. Currently there are an estimated 40,000 Safety Patrols in Michigan.

Safety Patrol 70th Anniversary

As AAA Michigan celebrates the 70th anniversary of its School Safety Patrol program, motorists are urged to be vigilant for an estimated 1.4 million children returning to the state's schools.

The nation's first Safety Patrol was founded in 1919 at Detroit's Alger Elementary School by the Detroit Auto Club - AAA Michigan's forerunner - with the Detroit Police Department and Detroit Public Schools. Over three generations, an estimated one million boys and girls have served as Safety Patrols on Michigan streets, and traffic fatalities near schools have decreased more than 50 percent.

In 1988, 41 pedestrians ages 5 to 14 were killed in traffic accidents, up from 37 deaths the previous year, while 1,298 children were injured, a 4 percent decrease compared with 1987.

"Today, few accidents involving school children occur en route to and from school. Those that do are at sites not manned by Safety Patrols or a police officer," said Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager. "The Safety Patrol's major influence is to protect students in primary grades until they can become self-reliant pedestrians."

As part of its annual "School's Open - Drive Carefully" campaign, AAA Michigan will conduct Safety Patrol training sessions statewide in more than 500 elementary and junior high schools.

AAA Michigan Community Education Consultants also will assist local police in training adult guards how to control traffic at intersections and help students across the street.

AAA Michigan suggests these safety tips for parents and students:

- For the beginning days of school, parents should walk with youngsters who are attending elementary classes for the first time.
- Cross only at intersections, never at mid-block.

WHEN YOUR CHILDREN LEAVE HOME: TURN AN EMPTY NEST INTO INCOME

When our youngest daughter moved to a college dorm, Kate was devastated. For years, her life had focused on her three children. Now, with the house empty, she felt abandoned and useless. Her husband John understood exactly how she felt.

Luckily, a neighbor who had experienced the same "empty nest" phenomenon a few years earlier came to their rescue. She reminded the couple of all the plans they had put on the back burner while they were raising children. Kate, for example, had always wanted to run a small catering business, and John dreamed of buying a small lake-side home. Within a year, the couple was too busy pursuing these long-postponed goals to focus on the void their children had left behind.

If you are suddenly confronting an "empty nest" the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you try concentrating on ways to turn the situation to your advantage. With some strategic planning, you may find that your empty nest is overflowing with golden eggs.

income. Capitalize on your knowledge, skills and interests. Although the fastest-growing segment of home business is computer and word processing, almost any type of service can be operated out of the home - from bridal consultations to investment counseling to gourmet-food services.

Besides satisfying your personal ambitions, a small business can reap substantial tax savings - especially if you operate the business out of your home. In most cases, you can deduct a portion of your utility costs and home insurance premiums. What's more, any additional income you earn from the business can help you achieve other personal and financial goals.

To get started, develop a business plan. Your local library can provide hundreds of sources to guide you. In brief, a business plan should describe your product or service, identify competitors and highlight your primary selling advantages. You should also address such issues as space requirements, equipment needs, financing and operating costs. Since some of the preparatory work you need to undertake is rather technical, you may want to consult legal and financial professionals.

Transform Free Time Into Business Income

Do you have a brilliant idea for a small business? If so, this may be the ideal moment to transform your free time into business

Turn An Empty Room Into Rental Income

Depending on the real estate market in your particular area, you may be able to substantially increase your standard of living by simply renting all or portion of your home.

For example, you may be able to convert a basement, attic, garage, or spare room into a rental apartment. The extra income can help pay off your mortgage, increase your retirement savings, or finance a dream vacation. To prevent your tax liability from jumping dramatically, make sure you offset the rental income by such allowable deductions as depreciation, repair and maintenance expenses and insurance costs.

You should also note that taxpayers with an adjusted gross income (AGI) of $100,000 or less can still deduct up to $25,000 in passive net losses, including those associated with a rental property that they actively manage. For owners with AGIs over $100,000, the $25,000 active-rental-loss allowance is reduced by 50 cents for every dollar of income. Once an owner's AGI exceeds $150,000, the allowance is totally phased out.

However, if you plan to sell your home and buy a new residence in the near future, CPAs advise you to proceed cautiously. When you sell a home that is partially rented, tax law requires you to treat the sale as if it involved two separate pieces of property. Since you must pay tax on the gain allocated to the rental portion of your house, this provision may result in a stiff tax bill.

Trade Down And Build Up Savings

Another way to capitalize on your home is by selling it and trading down to a smaller, less expensive home. Let's look at how this works.

Thirty years ago, Kate and John bought their four-bedroom house for $40,000. When they decided to sell the house, they were surprised to find that its market price had soared to $165,000. Upon conclusion of the sale, the couple realized a profit of $125,000. Before you start calculating how much tax they had to pay on that profit, consider this: the couple collected the entire amount tax-free. They accomplished this feat by claiming the $125,000 exclusion-of-gain provision available to anyone who is at least age 55 and meets certain ownership and age requirements. A once-in-a-lifetime tax break, this provision enables taxpayers to avoid paying tax on up to $125,000 of the profit realized from selling a principal home.

Before you sell your home, the Michigan Association of CPAs advises you to thoroughly investigate this critical tax break. Used properly, the exclusion-of-gain provision can help you secure a financially sound retirement. Unfortunately, too many taxpayers unwittingly squander the exclusion simply because they failed to get all the facts.

Remember, an empty nest can be a great opportunity. With retirement not too far in the distance, this may be the ideal time for you to start focusing on ways to fortify your own nest egg.

Manchester Girl Wins National Title in Hawaii

Annette Michelle Wurster, daughter of Vicky and Ray Wurster, of Manchester was crowned Miss American Coed Hostess 1989, August 30, 1989 in Hawaii.

Annette won her all-expense paid trip to Waikiki Beach in June of 1989, when she won the State Competition in Lansing. The National Pageant took place at the Sheraton Moana Surfside and the Hyatt Waikiki Hotels. Pageant week started August 23 and ended August 30.

Upon arrival in Honolulu, the contestants were given a real Hawaiian welcome. Throughout the week, they had a very busy schedule including photo sessions and many rehearsals. Their pageant schedule included tours of Punch Bowl National Cemetery, Pearl Harbor and the Arizona Memorial, a tour of the city, a dinner show at the Hula Hut and a sunset cruise on the Windjammer.

All the contestants had hula lessons and performed a hula dance in the pageant. The week was filled with excitement and as

Progress Made In R. R. Building

Stockholders' Meeting Of Oldest Rail Road in U.S. West of Buffalo at Adrian, Monday

The first railroad built in the United States west of Buffalo was the Erie & Kalamazoo, extending from Toledo to Hillsdale. It was a strap rail construction at first and did business for a few years, then was leased to the Michigan Southern railroad. After the Northern Indiana road was built from Toledo through northern Ohio and Indiana to near Elkhart, these two companies consolidated under the name of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Co., with Chicago as its western terminal.

As years passed on, Buffalo and Dunkirk and a string of other companies which built roads between Erie, Cleveland, Sandusky and Toledo, merged under the name of Lake Shore and struggled along for several years, finally forming one company called the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, operating between Buffalo and Chicago.

These roads, with the addition of many others extending in all directions and reaching principal points in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, were later on merged or taken over by the New York Central, making one of the greatest railway systems in the United States.

Recycling Dilemma

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

Four out of the five Manchester area township/village governments agreed to share the cost of maintaining the local Recycling Station. But the fifth, Sharon Township, did not.

This is the situation which has developed over the fate of the Manchester Area Recycling Station, currently located behind Wacker's, in Sharon Township, at M-52 and Pleasant Lake Road.

"No one voted against recycling," said Duane Haselschwerdt, clerk of Sharon Township, when asked about Sharon's decision. "But this needs more study - maybe complete reorganization. Before we can go in on it," he continued.

As an example of what could happen, Mr. Haselschwerdt described the history of problems with the area's transfer site in the past: unauthorized and improper usage by non-residents and a steadily skyrocketing price tag.

"Three years ago the transfer site was costing us $100,000 a year. More than fire protection or roads! Couldn't any of us afford that!" Since then the transfer site was reorganized and now works well, he maintained.

The uncertain costs and lack of a system for supervising usage were the concerns which resulted in Sharon Township commissioners' decision not to approve funding at this time, according to Mr. Haselschwerdt.

Mary Kalleward, Village of Manchester president, said, "In time I hope Sharon Township will join us." The Manchester Village Council at its last regular meeting agreed to continue participating in the funding even though Sharon Township was not, and thus the costs would be divided four ways instead of five.

She said the agreement between the Village and Freedom, Bridgewater and Manchester townships was only for the remainder of this calendar year.

During the 3 1/2 month agreement period, the four municipality units involved will look for solutions to problems such as the location of the recycling station, the necessity and method of limiting usage, and the possibility of other sources of funding such as grants. The first meeting is scheduled for September 25.

Washtenaw County government began installing these recycling stations in out-county areas last year. The Manchester station was placed behind Wacker's in November of 1988.

Not much more than six months later, the County withdrew financial support for maintenance, leaving villages and townships to come up with the money after most municipality budgets had already been approved for the upcoming year.

Duane Haselschwerdt said, "Our budget was set. We didn't know exactly what the costs (for the recycling station) would be. We have to make sure we're handling finances in a business-
