Halloween Fun At Old Athletic Field

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

The prettiest, the ugliest, the most unusual. These are the very appropriate categories into which masquerading Manchester children will happily find themselves classified on Halloween evening.

The trick or treating will begin as is the custom at 5:00 p.m. And it will last until 7:00 p.m.

Following this ritual of children in all manner of disguise moving through the streets, knocking on doors, and accumulating large stashes of goodies, the young people may make their way to the Athletic Field behind the Middle School for a Grand Finale.

A Costume Judging will begin at about 7:15 p.m. during which prizes will be awarded for "The Prettiest," "The Ugliest," and "The Most Unusual."

There will also be a Grand Prize of $5 awarded for the "Most Outstanding Costume."

This event is sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Task Force with the support and partnership of the Kiwanis PTO.

Kids will gather in groups by grade - preschool through sixth - and then the judges will begin their work.

Following the judging, cider and donuts will be served to the children.

Last year's Costume Contest was great fun. It allowed the Village's many ghosts and witches, ballerinas and wizards to see each other and really experience the wonder of so many people in such a wonderful array of costumes.

As in any "contest" not everyone wins the official prize, but in this event, EVERYONE WINS THE THRILL of seeing so many amazing characters, so may brilliant costumes, and such perfect casting in some cases - all gathered together in the cold darkness of Halloween night!

And then you might notice Dracula sharing donuts with Snow White, Brunhilda drinking fresh cider with Buffalo Bill, and perhaps even a giant pencil whispering to a mad scientist!

Bring the little ones, and prepare to be impressed! On Halloween evening, beginning at about 7:15 at the old Athletic Field.

Village Must Pay Judgement

Manchester Must Look To Bonding Company For Its Money

Ann Arbor Times, Feby. 14

Judge Kinne this morning over-ruled a motion to quash a writ of garnishment for $683 against the village of Manchester.

The writ was secured by the Buckeye Traction Ditcher company of Findlay, O., in lieu of an appeal to the supreme court in the case against the Fitzgerald Construction of Lima, and the National Surety company, the construction company's bondsman. The Fitzgerald company took the contract last spring to put in a waterworks system for the village of Manchester and secured a bond from the National Surety company binding the performance of the contract. The construction company rented a ditcher from the Buckeye Traction ditcher company agreeing to pay at so much a foot of work done. Last September the Fitzgerald company defaulted and failed to carry out the rest of its contract. At that time the company using the Buckeye ditcher had excavated something like 8,000 feet of trench and the Buckeye company claimed that it owed $683 for the use of the machine. Suit was brought to force payment either by the construction company or its bondsman, and the ditcher company obtained judgement against the construction company in the circuit court here, but not against the bonding company, which had defended the suit, as the court held that the Buckeye company was a foreign corporation doing business in this state, and as such should have obtained a license from the secretary of state. Attorney James Waters, on behalf of the Buckeye company having merely leased its machine to the Fitzgerald company, was not doing business in the state, within the meaning of the statute, and took 60 days in which to perfect an appeal to the supreme court. In the meantime he decided to take advantage of a recent statute permitting a writ of garnishment to issue against the village and took out such a writ against the village of Manchester for the $683. As the village would naturally look to the bonding company for reimbursement should the writ be sustained the bonding company's attorneys moved to quash the writ and this was the motion that was heard this morning. By refusing to quash the writ Judge Kinne has virtually placed the Buckeye company in the position of victor in the litigation and puts the next move up to the village or the bonding company. As the village will have to pay $683 on the writ or have it quashed in some way and as it will probably demand repayment from the bonding company if it does have to pay, the Buckeye Ditcher company seems to have attained the object of its suit, temporarily at least without an appeal to the supreme court.

Chamber Considers Education

Employers say, "Send us workers who can read and write because that's what we need."

Thus began Mr. Bert Chapman from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District as he described the need, rationale, and goal of the "WE2 Program" when he spoke at the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon last Wednesday.

The luncheon commenced at noon at the K of C Hall with a good crowd in attendance, including some new faces to the community.

Ron Mowers, manager of the Pilot Industries Manchester Division, the company soon to occupy the old Double A building. Mr. Mowers said Pilot "would be moving in within about two weeks."

Deborah Havens, owner of the English House on West Main Street was also present. The English House (whose previous owner was Jim Hurd, curator of the Antique Bicycle Museum) is on its way toward becoming Manchester's first Bed and Breakfast under the care of Ms. Havens and her husband, Jim Lembaugh.

Also, Cynthia Hudgins, assistant to Representative Carl Purcell, attended to keep in touch with Manchester through this

Senior Citizens News

What a surprise last Thursday to wake up to all that snow! Three inches of that white stuff was a joy to our young ones and many grumbles from the oldsters who maintain it's too early. It's been awhile since we've seen snow-covered jack-o-lanterns cavorting with snowmen and ghosts of the same color as the ground.

Time to come in to senior lunch this Thursday, the 26th, and enjoy fish in many colors - the weatherman promises 70 degrees. Just be sure to reserve your dinner ahead at 428-8359 or you may call 428-7630 before 10:30 a.m. on meal days. Seniors, these meals on Tuesdays and Thursdays are geared for you. Bingo will be played at the Center at 12:30 and to round out the day, come to Freedom Township Hall at 8:00 p.m. for the senior sponsored card party. There is fun and fellowship for all.

Saturday, October 28: Members of the National Honor Society (High School) plan to do area senior and handicapped jobs on Chose Day beginning at 8:30 a.m. If you wish to employ them for a chore you cannot handle around your home, call Rubena Boelter at 428-8655 to be placed on the list. These dedicated kids work hard and do the job right.

Tuesday, October 31: Jan and helpers will serve turkey pie with batter crust (this is good) for noon lunch at Emanuel. Seniors will adjourn to the Center to work on the many projects they have at 12:30. Come and help. Let's make this a safe and happy Halloween for all our little goblins by turning on porch lights to welcome them and by driving very carefully. We of another generation wonder if we ever had all that energy it takes to outfit them in all their glory. I can remember spending days making a "Little It" from the Addams Family with rows of sewn black crepe paper (and hoping it didn't rain!)

Thursday, November 2: Birthday Bash day and ham will be featured with cake and candles. Come all you November-born for your free meal. Call in.

Looking ahead: Seniors plan a Jiffy Mix tour on Friday, November 17 from the Center. Call Erma Alber (428-8707). Please call promptly as the number attending is needed as soon as possible.

Counting "Snowbirds" For Census

Persons living in Michigan six months and one day should be counted as Michigan residents, even if they vote in another state, pay taxes in another state or are visiting another state on Census Day, April 1, 1990.

It is important that "Snowbirds" are counted in Michigan because money for meals on wheels, homemaker services, senior centers and many other programs for Michigan's elderly are determined by the state's senior population count.

According to James McGuire, Director of Planning & Advocacy of the Area Agency on Aging 1-B, "If in their southern residence at Census time, many seniors mistakenly count themselves as southern residents when they should be counted as Michigan residents instead. We urge "Snowbirds" to be counted in Michigan, since funding for hospitals, highways and recreation is also based on the state's population count."

The results of the Census bear a significant impact on the number of dollars available for many senior services. Many federal funds received in Michigan annually are distributed according to the number of Michiganders counted.

Michigan is counting on "Snowbirds" for the 1990 Census!

Autumn Bloodmobile

WOW! Manchester, you did it again! Another successful bloodmobile because of you.

This Autumn Bloodmobile was held at the Manchester United Methodist Church on Monday, October 16 and was supported by 130 women and men of our community. 122 were able to donate a pint of blood each, while 8 were deferred for various reasons.

We would first like to acknowledge those FIRST-time donors: Darryl Betterley, Jeff Campbell, Jonathon Walz and Gloria Hayden. We hope this is just the beginning of your blood donating careers. And now those who received donor pins: 6-gallon pins went to Virginia Fielder and Mark Van Bogelen; 5-gallon pins to Shirley Roller and Marja Warner; 4-gallon pin to Fredrick Strobl; 3-gallon pins to Robert Burkhardt, Glenda Dennis, Brad Messing, Victor Mann and Jeannine Up-house; 2-gallon pins to Mary Francis Fielder and David Flint; and finally, 1-gallon pins went to Rachel Bross, Nancy Doty and Carol Mahan. Congratulations to you all.

This activity, like any other that Manchester hosts, relies on the help of volunteers to keep it running smoothly. Assisting the nurses and staff of the South-eastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Center was Veda Ridge, chairlady of the day and pre-screener; Jane Korth and Dorothy Mahle, registration; Shirley Roller and Gladys Uphaus, pack table; Helen Flint and Charlotte Timmerman, escorts; and, Marguerite Gillow, Jill Roller, Margaret Sannes and Nellie Uphouse, canteen. Good job done by all!

Shakespeare Reading Club

On Tuesday, October 17, the club met at the home of Florence Parr. Her topic was "Queen's Grace". It was the colorful story of the six wives of Henry VIII and how differently women were treated at that time rather than now.

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 31, at the home of Mae Hardenberg. Her topic will be "Shakespeare's Town". It will be interesting to all of our members. We will meet at 2:00 p.m. See you there.

Officers Receive Awards

On October 19, 1989, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department held an Awards Ceremony at the Service Center complex in Pittsfield Township to honor distinguished service given by employees during the last two-year period. Two officers assigned to the Manchester Operation were cited for their exemplary service by Sheriff Ronald J. Schebil, and received Meritorious Service Awards.

Corporal Charles Cornell and Sgt. Joseph Yekulis were both honored for their roles in aiding the Manchester Community following the severe storm which struck the area on May 30, 1989. Corporal Cornell was also singled out for his many contributions to the citizens of Manchester during his assignment to the community, while Sgt. Yekulis was praised for his many letters of commendation received and implementation of the Department's Field Training and Evaluation Program. Both officers received certificates from Sheriff Schebil for their efforts.

Manchester resident and deputy, Donald Steele, was also honored at the ceremony and received Lifesaving and Meritorious Service Awards. On August 7, 1989, Deputy Steele helped to revive an Ypsilanti Township resident who had stopped breathing by initiating CPR. He was also cited for his efforts in aiding in the apprehension of armed robbery suspects at the Stop-N-Go store at Grove and McCartney Roads in Ypsilanti Township and for his consistent work as a Field Training Officer in the FTO Program. Don is currently on assignment in Ypsilanti Township.

Eye Care
Cheryl Huey, M.D.
Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon
GLAUCOMA Questions & Answers
Your vision is one of your most valuable possessions. None of us would purposely neglect eye care. However, there is one eye disease that has no symptoms, until it is far advanced. This disease is glaucoma. Glaucoma is a condition in which the pressure inside the eye is abnormally high. Slowly, over a long period of time, this pressure gradually damages the nerves in the eye, and causes blind areas in your peripheral or side vision. You cannot feel this pressure, and the defects in the side vision are not noticed until they are far advanced. Once vision is lost from glaucoma, it cannot be recovered.
How can I tell if I have glaucoma? There is no way you can tell on your own. You cannot feel the pressure. You must have an examination by your eye doctor to detect glaucoma.
Does glaucoma affect only older people? No. Glaucoma can affect anyone from an infant to the elderly. It is more common in persons over 40 years old.
Is glaucoma hereditary? It tends to run in families. If there is glaucoma in your family, it is more likely that you could have glaucoma, but if it is not in your family, you can still have it.
Is there treatment for glaucoma? With modern methods, most cases of glaucoma can be controlled. This is usually done using eye drops. The laser can also be used for some cases of glaucoma.

Ten Reasons to Buy Frozen Foods

Freshness - Freezing seals in freshness. Foods designed for the freezer are selected at their peak of nutrition and flavor, quickly processed and frozen within hours, before there has been any deterioration in quality.

Nutrition - There's no better known means of preserving food than by freezing. Commercial rapid-freezing processes maintain nutritional quality of products without chemical preservatives. Foods quick-frozen and properly stored keep their high nutritional value.

Labeling - Frozen food packages tell you what you're getting. Most packages have ingredient and nutrition labeling. If you're nutrition conscious, counting calories, or on doctor's orders, frozen foods can help.

Quality - Frozen foods are consistent in quality. Only the best ingredients are used. That's because of stringent industry quality control procedures that begin right on the farm.

Taste - Frozen foods can pass the most discriminating taste tests. Some of the world's greatest chefs develop the recipes for frozen foods - picked at the peak of quality and freshness, then quick-frozen to seal in flavor and assure a treat for your taste buds.

Convenience - Frozen foods are convenient. The cleaning, picking, dicing, chopping, and squeezing has been done for you. Whatever you choose, it's all prepared, ready to take from your freezer and use.

No Waste - Frozen foods have no waste. Almost every ounce of most frozen products is edible. There's no waste from peeling, coring, pitting, paring, or other methods of preparation. You get what you pay for.

Availability - Frozen foods are available anytime, anywhere. Frozen foods have no seasonal or regional limitations. Strawberries in January, fresh vegetables all year round, seafood as easy to buy in the Midwest as any coastal town - all attest to the all-seasons quality of frozen foods.

Economy - Frozen foods are economical. You do not pay for stalks, pits, skins, rinds, or damaged food. Edible ounce for edible ounce, frozen food costs are usually less than their fresh counterparts.

Value - Frozen foods offer incomparable value for your food dollar. Freshness, nutrition, labeling, quality, taste, convenience, no waste, availability, economy - you get them all with frozen foods.

Water Bills Begin Flowing

The Michigan House is in the process of putting together a package of five groundwater protection bills that would include a requirement that drinking water wells be tested for bacteria and nitrates before a home is sold. "The testing prior to sale is really a safeguard," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Water quality may deteriorate over a period of time without us realizing it. So the test prior to sale would alert the buyer and the seller if there is a problem with that water supply."

Nelson said the legislative package also provides for the closing of abandoned wells, and requires that a permit be obtained before a new drinking water well is drilled.

Record Net Farm Income

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says 1989 net farm income will set a new record of around $48 billion to $53 billion. Farm assets are also predicted to rise between 4% and 6% to a range of $780 billion to $790 billion.

Higher cash receipts which will likely be up $2 billion to $10 billion this year will more than offset the declines in government payments to farmers, the department said.

New Ag Director Named

The Michigan Commission of Agriculture today appointed Robert Mitchell director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Mitchell is currently chief deputy director of the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT), where he works with the department director and transportation commission to oversee administration of state-wide transportation programs. During his six-year tenure in the position, he has led two gubernatorial task forces; as chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Capital City Revitalization since 1986, and as the Governor's Coordinator of Public Investment since 1988.

Prior to joining MDOT in 1983, Mitchell was a management and marketing consultant from 1979 to 1983, providing management and marketing services to private and public sector clients.

Mitchell served as state director of the Farmer's Home Administration from 1977 to 1979. As state director, he oversaw disbursement of federal funds for agriculture, business, industry, housing and community development programs statewide.

He also served as administrative assistant to U.S. Senator Gravel, Alaska, from 1973 to 1977.

Mitchell received a bachelor of arts in history from Olivet Nazarene University in 1964.

Mitchell serves on a number of boards and community service organizations, including MDA's Futures Team 2020, a blue-ribbon panel of state and national leaders challenged to develop a long-range strategic plan for Michigan's food and agriculture industry.

Farmers Could Benefit From Freer Markets

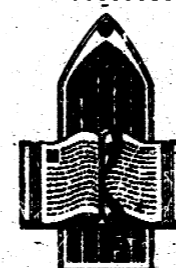

Farmers have some good economic reasons for supporting the dramatic political and economic changes going on in Eastern Europe, according to Bob Craig, Michigan Farm Bureau economist.

"It's really in the best interest of not only American farmers but the whole world economy to have more countries growing and developing economically," Craig said.

"Freer markets in Communist countries can bring more prosperity to their people and boost the demand for U.S. farm exports," he said. "Research has shown that developing countries become customers for more grains, meat and processed food. We believe that American producers will get a good portion of that market growth."

Craig said one possible snag is a lack of trained people who can assist less developed countries in building the economic structures needed to succeed in the world of capitalism.

Flying Dutch Survive the Slush and Center

by Jon

On Friday night we hosted undefeated league-leading Michigan Center in near-blizzard conditions. The earthquake hit in California, but the Cardinals may have felt some aftershocks administered by the Dutchmen. The scoreboard read 19-18 our favor after 48 minutes of battle.

We took the opening kickoff and drove steadily downfield. Andy Page crossed the goal line from 2 yards, then toed the extra point, making the score 7-0. Soon after, Center tallied, but their kick was blocked, 7-6.

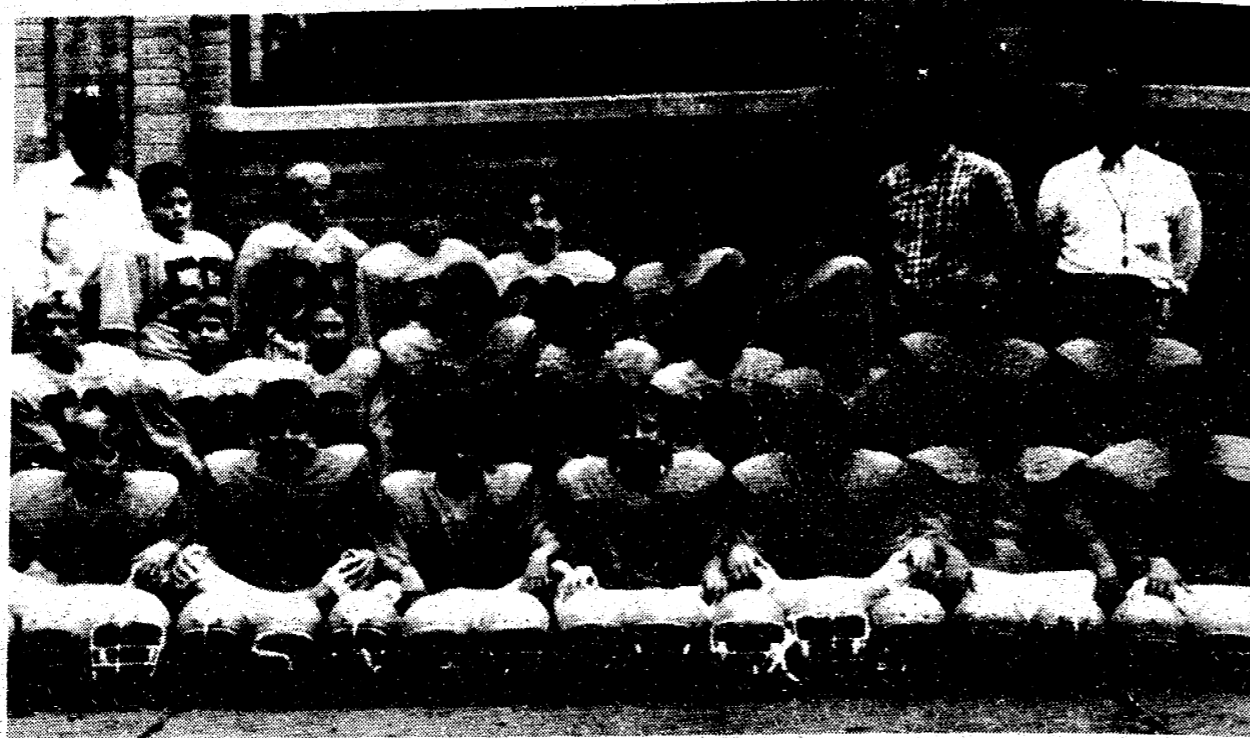

Just into the second period, Dave Beck took the handoff and scampered 64 yards for the touchdown. At halftime, the score stood 13-6.

The third period was terribly exciting. The snow fell steadily, but Center went to the air and scored. Our defense stonewalled their conversion attempt, leaving it 13-12. Center tried a trick play by quick-kicking on 3rd and 19. The pigskin nestled on the 6-yard line when our John Ward scooped it up, then dodged, jumped and zoomed 94 yards for the TD. The Cardinals came right back to score on a 30-yard breakaway. Once again, our defense rose to the occasion as they stopped Center's conversion. There was no scoring in the 4th period, so the final read 19-18.

This win makes us co-champions of the Cascade Conference. We have now earned the right to represent the league in the playoffs. We will meet undefeated eight-time champs Homer Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Hillsdale College.

8th Grade Undefeated

Though the temperature hovered around 40 and the wind blew bitter cold, many spectators remained to watch the final game of the year. Archrival Clinton came to town and bowed 29-0, as the 8th grade finished their 2nd unbeaten football season. The defensive unit did a super job again, as the Dutchmen allowed only one TD on a kickoff return all year.

Clinton received the opening kickoff at their 10, returning to the 19. They punted on 4th and 15 from their 14. Manchester started at the Clinton 38 with Shane Ahrens carrying 3 times for 16 yards and Brad Davis carrying twice, including a 20-yard gain through a hole in the right side of the line, and also the TD. Brad also carried for the 2-point conversion.

On Jeremy Strock's next kickoff the ball was downed at the Clinton 2. Tony Weir recovered the Clinton fumble at the 9. Brad Davis carried to the 4 and Ahrens scored the TD. The PAT kick by Jeremy was good. Score: 15-0.

The first quarter ended after the kickoff, which Clinton returned from the 17 to the 24. On 4th and 7, Clinton made a nice punt with Ahrens returning from the Dutch 25 to the 37. In 5 plays, Manchester had another score. Ahrens carried 3 times for 48 yards, including a 30 yarder.

Brad Davis carried for 2 and Brandon Woods scored from 13 out. The 2-point conversion, a pass from QB Mike Barnard to Nate Kloster, made it 23-0. Clinton covered the next kickoff at their 32. Forced to punt from the 33, Brandon Woods returned the punt from the Dutch 40 to the Clinton 23, where Clinton recovered his fumble. Clinton again punted from the 31 and a fair catch was signaled at the Dutch 37. The half was played out with a Dutch punt, an interception by Brandon Woods, and a Clinton interception at their 10.

Manchester wasted no time in scoring in the second half. Shane Ahrens took the Clinton kickoff at the 32, running to the Clinton 28. A clipping penalty returned the ball to the Dutch 40. An off-side penalty against Clinton, and a QB keeper by Barnard set the ball at the Clinton 43. Ahrens then ran around right end, cut left and scored the TD. The PAT kick was wide.

Clinton took the kick off at the 15 returning to the 27. Their possession ended on the Dutch 34 as Ahrens knocked down a pass on 4th and 17. Tony Weir, Bryan Schneider, and J. D. Gould made big defensive plays in the series. Once again on offense, Matt Fielder made an 11-yard reception, but Ahrens had to punt from the 38. Clinton was able to drive from their 37 to the Dutch 14 before losing the ball on an incomplete pass on 4th down at the 22. Good plays by the Dutch in this series: Gordy Gilbert and Brent Woods broke up pass plays, just missing interceptions, and Robby Davis sacked the runner, forcing the pass attempt on 4th down. QB Barnard kept the ball on the final 2 plays running out the remaining 52 seconds.

Perfect Season

A blustery north wind caused the spectators of Wednesday afternoon's game some discomfort but the 7th grade Dutchmen on the field were unaffected as they thoroughly defeated Clinton 20-0 and celebrated a perfect 6-0 season. The defense, which allowed only 6 points all year stopped the Redskins cold, and touchdowns by Geoff Brooks, Jeff Kemner and Mica Puscas finalized the Cascades Conference championship for the Manchester 7th grade team!

Clinton booted the opening kickoff which the Dutch returned to the 50. Manchester then proceeded to launch an impressive drive, marching for three 1st downs before Geoff Brooks carried the ball in for the first score. After a failed PAT attempt, it was Manchester 6, Clinton 0.

The Dutch kickoff was returned to the Clinton 40, however, 4 futile downs later the Redskins turned the ball over to Manchester. The 7th graders pickup up one 1st down, but were forced to punt.

One down later, Jay Eiss recovered a Clinton fumble at their 14 and Jeff Kemner scrambled in from 5 yards for the second Manchester TD. Once more the conversion failed. With 5:19 left in the first half, tackles by Jeff Kemner and Jay Eiss and a hard sack by Doug Meeks and Brent Hoefft ruined any forward motion by the Redskins.

Manchester kicked off the 2nd half which Clinton returned to their own 42. The Dutch gained another opportunity when Shane Goodell recovered another Redskin fumble at the opposing 45. Again, an impressive drive followed, capped off by Mica Puscas powering 9 yards for the 3rd hometown score. The Dutch would not be denied their conversion attempt and Jeff Kemner picked up 2 points to give Manchester the 20-0 lead.

The 4th quarter produced no additional scoring; a determined Dutch defense with aggressive tackles and blocks by Jeff Steele, Andy Kallewaard and Robby Blatchford gave no opportunities to the Redskins.

Congratulations to the 7th grade team. And special congratulations to Coach Brian Schick and assistants Mr. McGuire and Mr. Schaffer for their time and successful efforts in creating a winning team, teaching sportsmanship and instilling dedication and teamwork.

Chamber Considers

Chamber function.

Ann Pat Wolf, president of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the assembled gathering and first introduced the new Board of Directors, elected for this present Chamber "year."

She then gave the floor to Mr. Chapman. WISD superintendent Michael Emlaw originally planned to speak, but a schedule conflict prevented this. And so his able assistant, Bert Chapman, came in his stead.

Mr. Chapman's talk concerned the need for the whole community, from businesses to existing educational institutions to private citizens, to address the needs of many of our young students for an educational experience that will be truly useful in their lives and which they may not be getting now.

"WE2" stands for "Washtenaw Education for Employment" and seeks to address this need.

Mr. Chapman presented his topic and then took questions. The audience seemed to truly CARE and asked for specifics on how the Chamber could help.

Both Mr. Chapman and Ron Niedzwiecki, Manchester Schools superintendent, explained existing committees in place to address these concerns.

Mr. Niedzwiecki added that the "key to success" in a program such as this is the joint participation of the schools, the staff, and private industry.

He said a program such as "WE2" is as important in Manchester as it is in Ypsilanti or Willow Run. Even though Manchester only loses about one student in 90 as a "drop-out," that student plus those who continue but still need different training to be successful must be helped. And this must be a county-wide effort. It would "take too long and be too expensive" to accomplish locally.

Parents Night

If you are a parent who's child is receiving Chapter 1 services in reading or math, if you would like to meet the Chapter I staff, or if you would like to learn more about helping your child learn outside of school, you should head for Klager Elementary School on Thursday, October 26 at 7:00 p.m.

A special parent's information night has been scheduled to share information on these topics.

A Look At The Forest Floor

A question was raised about the report that the Michigan legislature is considering consolidating small school districts such as Manchester to reduce the number of districts.

Mr. Niedzwiecki discussed this at some length, pointing out that the concerns the legislators are trying to address by making this suggestion, i.e. quality of education and costs, would in no way automatically be met with this action.

The luncheon program concluded at about 1:00. Some hurried back to work. Others lingered in conversation, much of it concerning the topic.

"This is something the Chamber will follow up on," said Ann Pat Wolf following the meeting. She said the purpose of these luncheon programs is to consider a topic which is relevant to our community and explore the Chamber's role in solutions. She asked that anyone who attended, or anyone from the community with an interest in this topic, who might want to explore the Chamber's involvement in it, contact her at 428-8389.

The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce exists to "advance the general welfare and prosperity of the Manchester area so that its citizens and all areas of its business community shall prosper," according to its by-laws. Individuals as well as businesses are invited to join. Call Ann Pat Wolf for more information.

The Sunday trail walks at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens on November 5 will be exploring how and why plants grow where they do. The Docents will be looking below the surface of the ground to relate various soil types with the plants which grow there. Various questions will be addressed, such as: Are there any ubiquitous plants which grow anywhere? Are there plants which are highly specific to the soils they grow in? How did a variety of soils develop in the first place?

All interested persons are welcome to join the walk. Meet at the steps to the Conservatory Building at 2:00 p.m. Dress for the weather and possible wet ground conditions. The walk will last approximately 1 1/2 hours.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 N. Dixboro Road, Ann Arbor 1/2 mile south of the Plymouth Road intersection.

Hunters Cautioned

Hunters should pack a pair of latex surgical gloves along with their other paraphernalia when they head for the woods and fields during deer season.

They should wear the gloves when field dressing and processing deer carcasses as a precaution against contracting Lyme disease, even though chances of getting the disease are slim.

That's the recommendation of researchers at Michigan State University and an official at the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Here's why. The Lyme disease bacterium carried by the deer tick may exist in the blood of the deer long after the tick bit the deer. It is possible that the corkscrew-shaped spirochete bacterium could enter the human bloodstream of the deer.

"Other bacteria can cross a skin barrier, so it may be entirely possible that the spirochete that infects the deer tick can also penetrate unbroken skin," says Richard Merritt, MSU entomologist.

Ann Donahue, a parasitologist in the MSU Animal Health Diagnostic Laboratory, says that researchers do not know how long or when the spirochete is active in the animal's bloodstream. And they don't know how long the bacterium can survive as blood temperature declines.

"Though the risk of contracting Lyme disease when field dressing deer carcasses may not be high in this region (Michigan), individuals are placing themselves at risk for a variety of other infectious diseases, including Leptospira (another type of parasitic spirochete) and Taenia, a species of tapeworm," Donahue says.

Harry McGee, Michigan Department of Health, says that human skin is designed to protect against infectious invasion, but the slightest break in the skin—dermatitis, a small abrasion, a hangnail—allows passage of pathogens.

Manchester Community Schools

For the 1988-89 fiscal year, the Manchester Community School District had revenues of $4,785,801 and expenditures of $4,638,975.

The revenue is divided into local, state, and federal sources. Most of the funds for Manchester derive from local taxes. We receive some state aid primarily in the areas of transportation and special education. Funds received from the federal grants are earmarked and must be expended as per the grant.

The expenditures are divided into categories of direct student instructional cost, such as teacher wages, textbooks, and supplies used in the classroom; and the second area is support services such as counselors, libraries, administrators, operations, including transportation, utilities, custodial, maintenance and repair to the buildings.

The fund balance as of June 30, 1989 was $759,290. This represents funds defined as reserved, designated, and undesignated. Reserved funds are those set aside under the 1.5 mills for maintenance/capital improvement. Designated funds include inventory and energy note interest.

Of the undesignated fund balance approximately $122,679 will be needed to balance the 1989-90 budget. This will leave an estimated $636,611 as our fund balance for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1990.

Synopsis of Meeting
October 10, 1989

The meeting was called to order with all Board members present.

Minutes and Treasurer's Report were approved with $56,627.33 in the General Fund and $444.10 in the Liquor Fund.

Various communications were read and discussed. The Board approved spot graveling the roads in lieu of the second dust layer that was not put down. Uphaus reported that a public hearing has been set for November 28 to discuss a sliding scale parcel zoning for agricultural land.

Old Business included interviews of the three applicants for the townhall manager position. The hiring decision will be made at the next meeting. Little reported he had successfully completed the assessor testing and would be certified at the first level by the end of the month. He will then be able to assume the assessors duties. The Board passed a motion to contract with Washtenaw County to reappraise township parcels.

There was no New Business. Bills #2597 through #2614 were approved for payment. Meeting adjourned.

After-School Rewards

The After-School Friends with their edible "faces" will occupy imaginations as well as appetites. You can use your favorite sugar cookie mix to make a Tic-Tac-Toe Monster Cookie that's sure to please. Peanut Butter Oat Cookie Supreme and a glass of milk can even help make homework bearable.

- AFTER-SCHOOL FRIENDS
- 2 medium red apples
 - 4 wooden sticks (tongue-depressor type)
 - 2 ripe bananas
 - Smooth peanut butter
 - "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
 - Assorted Ribbon
 - Cereal of choice for decoration

Cut apples crosswise in half and place cut side down on plate. Insert wooden stick into center of rounded side of apple. Peel bananas; cut crosswise in half. Push a banana half down onto wooden stick. Spread banana with peanut butter. Make faces on banana with assorted "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies, using your imagination to form expressions. Garnish top of head with cereal of choice. Tie a ribbon around the stick to form a bow. Decorate apple with peanut butter and Plain Chocolate Candies, as desired. Makes 4 "friends."

- TIC-TAC-TOE MONSTER COOKIE
- 1 box (15-oz. size) sugar cookie mix
 - 1 large egg
 - 1 package (16-oz. size) "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
 - 1 tube (4 1/2-oz. size) red decorating icing

Prepare sugar cookie mix as package label directs, pressing evenly into a 9-inch baking pan lined with aluminum foil. Bake as package label directs for bar cookies. Grasping foil, gently lift cookie from pan. Place on wire rack. With large knife, score cookie lengthwise and crosswise into thirds. With small knife, mark X's and O's in squares. Allow cookie to cool completely. Screw a writing tip onto decorating tube. Use to outline perimeter of cookie, on the lengthwise and crosswise lines, and the X's and O's. Place red "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies on perimeter of cookie, tan and brown on lines, and orange and green on X's and O's. To serve, cut cookie along scored lines. Makes 9 servings.

PEANUT BUTTER OAT COOKIE SUPREME

- 3 large eggs at room temperature
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup white sugar
- 1 tablespoon vanilla extract
- 2 tablespoons light corn syrup
- 1 stick polyunsaturated margarine—corn or sunflower (butter may be substituted if desired, softened)
- 1 1/2 cups chunky peanut butter
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 4 1/2 cups quick-cooking oatmeal (1-minute type)
- 1 1/2 cups (12-oz. package) "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies
- 1 1/2 cups (12-oz. package) "M&M's" Peanut Chocolate Candies

Preheat oven to 325°F. Line several large baking sheets with aluminum foil, grease slightly. In large mixing bowl, cream together eggs, sugars, vanilla, corn syrup, margarine and peanut butter until light and fluffy. (Beat 1 minute on high speed with electric mixer, or 300 strokes by hand.) Stir in baking soda and oatmeal, blending well. Add "M&M's" Plain Chocolate Candies, incorporating into dough with hand, if necessary. Drop dough by tablespoonful, 2 inches apart, onto prepared baking sheets; bake 12 minutes, or until very lightly browned. Cool baking sheets on rack 5 minutes, or until set. With spatula, carefully remove cookies to rack to cool completely. (Cookies will be very soft when first removed from oven, but will become firm on standing.) Store cookies in covered container in layers separated by waxed paper. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

Senior Citizen's Credit Affected By Homestead

House Bill 4308 amends the Homestead Property Tax Credit Program and is one of the five bills that are tie-barred to the second of the two school finance reform proposals that will be on the ballot in November. Proposal B would increase the sales tax to 6 cents and provide property tax relief for residential and business property. Seniors and renters are targeted by this legislation and are the ones who will be most affected by the proposed sales tax increase. The new provisions will go into effect only if Proposal B is approved by voters in November.

House Bill 4308 will grant $60 refundable credit to taxpayers with income below 150% of poverty and who do not receive the 6% sales tax exemption on utilities. If you do not receive the 6% sales tax exemption on utilities, you will also be eligible to receive $60 back on your income taxes. It will also expand the Homestead Property Tax Credit for renters. Under the current law, the state assumes that 17% of your rent is used by your landlord to pay property taxes. House Bill 4308 would increase the rent proxy to 20% which would allow many renters to offset the sales tax increase. Finally this bill features expansion of the Homestead Credit for low-income seniors. The current law allows additional Homestead Credits for senior households with income below $6,000. This bill would expand the income criteria to $20,000.

In order to be eligible for the property tax credit you must have a homestead located in Michigan, be a Michigan resident for at least 6 months during the fiscal year, and pay property taxes on your Michigan homestead. A vacation home or income property does not qualify as your homestead. The HPTC provides the most relief for senior citizens, blind and disabled people, military personnel, and to disabled veterans or surviving spouses of certain veterans. Also, nearly 1 million homeowners and renters not in these groups are eligible for property tax relief. The amount of credit depends on your household income. The maximum credit is $1,200.

State Chamber Issues Alert On Proposal "A"

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce issued a taxpayer alert to voters who might be thinking about supporting Proposal A, the proposed constitutional amendment to substantially increase the sales tax.

"This week children are going back to school. It's time also for voters to go to school on Proposal A. If Proposal A were a child's book report on the school finance story, it would not get a "A" or even a passing grade because it fails to provide any property tax relief; fails to significantly reduce the inequity in per pupil spending; and fails to address how the $400 million sales tax increase would be distributed to local school districts," said Jim Barrett, the State Chamber's President.

"Further analysis also indicates that there is also good reason to believe Proposal A will fail to really improve the quality of schools because the proposed amendment is not tie-barred to statutory bills like "schools of choice" or "student competency testing" that would really improve the quality of K-12 education," he continued.

"Most of the rhetoric from proponents of this unnecessary 12.5% sales tax increase relates to watered-down versions of minor changes like a core curriculum and accreditation plans that are already in the process of being implemented as a part of the $2.6 billion appropriations bill for schools the Governor just signed into law," Barrett explained.

"The lesson to be learned about Proposal A is that you don't have to support a big sales tax hike to be pro-education. That is why the State Chamber continues to support using existing state revenue to increase equity and improve the quality of K-12 education," he concluded.

License Law Delayed

Farmers have a little more time to comply with Michigan's complex new commercial driver license (CDL) regulations. The implementation date has been changed from October 1, 1989 to January 1, 1990.

"The reason was the implementing agency, which is the Secretary of State's office, simply needed some more time, and also drivers needed some more time to comply with the law," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "There are still a lot of questions regarding the commercial driver license, especially the different categories, group designations and individual needs."

Farmers who drive heavy trucks and are not exempt from the new law can drive with their present Class 1, 2 or 3 endorsement until their current license expires or April 1, 1992, whichever is first. After that they must have a commercial driver license to drive a commercial vehicle either within the state or out-of-state.

Nelson cautions farmers not to procrastinate in complying with the new law. He said if farmers need an endorsement on their current license, now is the time to get it, because testing requirements will become much more stringent after January 1.

It was a sad week for both our girls' squads as they fell to Addison then Michigan Center. Our Varsity is having a rough time as they have won only one game this season. However, this is a young squad in a learning phase which has shown improvement. I believe our JV record is now 6 wins and 7 losses.

Fall Leaf Pickup Village of Manchester

BAGGED LEAVES will be picked up beginning Monday, October 23 and continuing through Friday, December 1. Pickups may be on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays or Fridays, depending on availability of Village truck and labor.

LOOSE LEAVES will be picked up from Monday, October 30 through Monday, November 6 and again from Monday, November 27 through Monday, December 4. Each pickup will follow this order: (1) M-52 (2) Main Street (3) remainder of town, working from west to east. Leaves should be raked to the edge of the road, and wetting them down will help to keep them in place while waiting for pickup.

COMPOSTING SITE is open during the same hours as the Transfer Site, and there is no charge. Loose leaves should be deposited along the existing windrows; bagged leaves must be emptied along the windrows and the bags taken away from the site.

Food Safety Bill

Farm Bureau has thrown its support behind a food safety bill that has been introduced as an alternative to the Waxman/Kennedy bill. Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau, believes that because of its broad bipartisan support, the bill has a "reasonable chance" of passage. Nearly every member of the House Agriculture Committee has co-sponsored the legislation.

The bill (H.R. 3292) establishes a negligible risk standard as a basis for setting maximum legal limits for pesticide residues in foods, and replaces the controversial Delaney clause with one consistent standard for pesticide tolerances. The Delaney clause establishes a zero tolerance for any chemical shown to be a carcinogen in laboratory tests with animals.

"Just because a chemical shows some tendency to be carcinogen in laboratory tests with animals, which are oftentimes fed very massive doses of a particular chemical, does not mean that the very minute residues consumers would be exposed to over a lifetime is any problem," Almy said. "This bill would be a major step forward in allowing farmers to have access to effective chemicals that do not pose any health threat or hazard to consumers."

The bill also increases federal spending on integrated pest management and other techniques to reduce chemical use, particularly for specialty crops grown in states like Michigan.

World Community Day

Church Women United will observe World Community Day on November 3rd at the Sharon United Methodist Church at 1:30 p.m.

The theme for this year's observance is "To Pray Is To Risk". The worship service materials were prepared by a team of Korean-American women who have lived immigrant lives in the U.S. Mr. Neil Ericson of Prescott, Michigan, will have slides to help illustrate his experiences as he participated in a work Mission trip.

An offering will be received for Church Women United. These monies are used for building relationships between Christian women all over the world, aiding women in poverty, and for programs of peace and justice in the U.S.

A time of fellowship will follow the service.

With a minimal investment of time, money and effort, candy making can win rave reviews for your culinary talents. This activity is easy enough to provide fun for restless troops trapped indoors on a rainy afternoon. All you need is a good thermometer and the right recipe.

Chocolate-Dipped Apricots is a foolproof recipe that takes advantage of the chewy texture and sweet-tart flavor of California dried apricots and makes a healthful snack packed with fiber, Vitamin A, potassium, iron and Vitamin C.

First, the apricots take a dip in a simple syrup to become glossy and chewy. Then, when melting the brandy-flavored chocolate, keep the temperature under 96° to prevent the chocolate from losing its sheen or becoming chalky or grainy. The apricots are dipped just halfway into the chocolate for a colorful presentation. For the final touch, tuck into fancy cans and gift boxes. Chocolate Dipped Dried Apricots make festive, fun gifts.

For more Apricot recipes, send a self-addressed, stamped business-sized envelope to: The California Apricot Advisory Board, 1280 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek, California 94595.

CHOCOLATE DIPPED DRIED APRICOTS

- 1 cup sugar
- ¾ cup water
- 48 dried California apricot halves (about 10 ounces)
- 6 ounces semi-sweet chocolate, divided
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 2 tablespoons apricot brandy

Combine sugar and water in saucepan; bring to a boil and cook for five minutes. Reduce heat and add apricots. Gently simmer for about two minutes. Remove apricots; cool on waxed paper. In a double boiler over simmering water, combine 2 ounces chocolate, shortening, brandy and 2 tablespoons water, stirring constantly until smooth. Add remaining 4 ounces of chocolate and stir until melted. Do not heat chocolate over 56° F. Dip apricots halfway into chocolate. Remove and cool on waxed paper. Store covered in refrigerator. Makes 4 dozen.

Spells for Halloween Safety

- Try to Trick-or-Treat when it is still light outside.
- Use reflective tape on your costume.
- Cross only at corners. Never cross the street between parked cars or in the middle of the block.
- Plan your Trick-or-Treat routes with your family. Pick streets that are well-lighted.
- Wear makeup instead of a face mask. Masks interfere with safe vision.
- Have a parent, older brother or sister go Trick-or-Treating with you. Always travel in groups.
- Wear a costume that makes it easy for you to walk, see and be seen.
- If there is no sidewalk, walk facing traffic.
- If you must go out at night, make certain that your costume is light in color and carry a flashlight.
- Wait until you get home to sort, check and eat your treats.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HALLOWEEN!

Halloween provides "ghoulish" fun for children, but safety precautions are necessary to protect tiny trick-or-treaters from mishaps, AAA Michigan reports.

"Every Halloween, children are hurt darting in front of cars, tripping on costumes and eating tainted candy," said AAA Michigan Community Safety Services Manager Robert V. Cullen. "However, accidents can be avoided if youngsters follow our safety advice and motorists take extra caution that evening."

Thousands of Michigan children take to the streets to "beg" for treats each Halloween. Last year, five youngsters were injured in traffic accidents during trick-or-treating hours, according to Michigan State Police.

This year AAA Michigan celebrates its tenth annual "Light Up A Life" program, which encourages Halloween safety around the state. As part of this effort, free cards listing Halloween safety tips are available at AAA Michigan offices statewide with such advice

- Trick-or-treat before dark.
- Wear flame-resistant costumes that are bright in color and short enough to prevent tripping.
- Avoid vision-blocking masks and floppy hats. Wear makeup instead.
- Avoid oversize shoes and high heels.
- Plan a route before leaving home, bypassing unlighted houses and deserted areas.
- Cross only at corners. Never run out between parked cars or in mid-block. Look all ways before crossing.
- If there is no sidewalk on the left, walk facing traffic.
- Let parents inspect treats before eating them.

- Motorists can help ensure a safe Halloween by being alert for children who may dart into the street. Drivers should turn headlights on at dusk and limit speed to 15 miles per hour in residential areas during trick-or-treating hours.

WHEN THE UNEXPECTED STRIKES: DEDUCTING CASUALTY LOSSES

A hard time proving that the loss was unexpected. And if your cat decides to play soccer with the antique Ming vase on your mantle you may think you've suffered an unusual disaster, but tax law does not.

Situations which generally constitute a casualty as defined by tax law include fires, hurricanes, storms, car accidents, vandalism and even loss of deposits in a bankrupt financial institution.

Once you establish that the damages or losses qualify as a casualty, you need to calculate the amount of your loss. A common mistake is to assume that damages are equal to the replacement value of the lost property. Unfortunately, that is not the case.

What can you do when disaster strikes and you have no insurance or your insurance company reimburses only a small portion of the loss? According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, one way to partially recoup is by taking a casualty deduction on your Federal income tax return.

Understandably, after experiencing a disaster, the last thing you want to think about is taxes. But by ignoring the financial consequences, you run the risk of making a bad situation worse. The sad fact is that when it comes to filing a casualty loss claim, timing is everything.

To be considered a casualty, a loss must be sudden, unexpected or unusual. So when termites spend a decade turning your four walls into slices of swiss cheese; the damage is gradual and does not qualify for a deduction. Similarly, if that rotting tree on your front lawn finally collapses onto your new sports car, you will have

Let's say that a fire destroys a sculpture that you bought from a little-known artist back in 1984 for $100. Today, the artist has become the talk of the town and the value of the artwork has soared to $3,000. How much is your loss? According to tax law, only $100.

Generally, the amount of a loss is equal to the decrease in the property's fair market value, or its adjusted basis prior to the incident - whichever is less. Essentially, the adjusted basis is what you paid for the property, minus depreciation and plus any increase in value as a result of improvements.

Here's another example. Mr. Smith accidentally closes a car door on his wife's finger, causing the diamond in her wedding ring to fall out and roll through a street grating. The ring was purchased for $7,000. This is the ring's adjusted basis. Its market value prior to the accident was $10,000. The decrease in value as a result of the casualty is also $10,000, since the diamond was irretrievably lost. According to tax law, the couple must figure their loss as the lesser of the two figures, which is $7,000.

How much of that amount will the Smiths be able to deduct? The answer depends on how much of the loss is reimbursed by insurance as well as the amount of their adjusted gross income.

To determine the deductible amount of casualty losses, you must first reduce the amount of each separate casualty loss experienced during the year by the amount of insurance reimbursement that you can reasonably expect to receive. Note that you must reduce your loss by the amount of your insurance coverage whether or not you have actually received the funds yet and even if you did not submit a claim. Next, subtract $100 from each loss. Finally, add up your total casualty and theft losses for the year. Any amount exceeding 10 percent of your adjusted gross income is deductible.

The key to successfully deducting the loss, however, will depend on your ability to prove that the casualty actually occurred and that the assessment of the property's value is accurate.

In cases of theft, you should report the crime immediately and ask the police for a copy of their

Ballot Proposals Meeting

To prove the value of your property, you should have receipts for the items damaged. If the receipts are lost, you will have to make a detailed list of everything as soon as possible. In addition, gather any photographs or videotapes that show your property before and, if possible, after the casualty.

If your home or landscape has been damaged or destroyed, you should ask a professional appraiser to assess your losses. Choose an appraiser familiar with property values in your neighborhood or someone who has worked on your home in the past. Remember, the cost of an appraiser is a miscellaneous itemized tax deduction, subject to a 2-percent floor.

CPAs advise you to save any other proof of the casualty and of the extent of your losses and repair costs, such as insurance reports and carpenter bills, just in case the IRS decides to audit your claim.

Road Safety Important

Having a slow moving vehicle (SMV) sign on your farm equipment is not only a good idea-it's the law.

According to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau, Michigan law requires the SMV sign on equipment that can't travel any faster than 25 miles per hour.

"Secondly, the law requires that after dark, not only is the SMV sign required, but lights are required," he said. "Those lights can either be supplied upon the implement, such as on the newer combines, or the implement must be followed by a motor vehicle with the proper lights."

Nelson reminded farmers that tourists driving in rural areas are unaccustomed to the slow speeds of farm equipment on roads.

Ballot Proposals Meeting

On Tuesday, November 7, 1989, Michigan voters will have the opportunity to vote on two different proposals related to school finances. Each issue will ask for a yes or no response, and each will be decided by a majority vote of those voting on that question. Both of these proposals were placed on the ballot by two-thirds vote of the Michigan House and Senate, and both would amend Michigan's constitution. If both ballot questions are approved by a majority of those voting on that question, the proposal receiving the higher number of votes will take effect.

To help citizens better understand their choices, the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service will sponsor an educational meeting on Thursday, November 2, 1989. The session will be held from 7:30-9:00 p.m. at the Farm Council Grounds, located at 5055 Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., Saline (the corner of Saline-Ann Arbor and Pleasant Lake Rds.) Beth Moore, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension specialist in Public Affairs Education, will explain the proposals and the consequences and alternatives connected with each. Her presentation will provide an opportunity to learn about the issues from an unbiased educational source. The program is open to all and there is no charge.

The Cooperative Extension Service also has available a free bulletin which explains the 1989 statewide ballot proposals. The bulletin can be picked up at the meeting, or at the Extension office located in the County Service Center, at 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor; or requested by calling the Washtenaw County Extension office at 971-0079.

INSURANCE

Notes

Why Might My Insurance Cost More When I've Never Had An Accident?

The principle of insurance is the sharing of risk. So, a large number of people are put together to develop a premium that's fair to all. That way, when you have an accident, others pay your costs. If the experience of the group is bad, premiums must go up for everyone. Otherwise, when you had an accident, your premium would increase to the point you couldn't afford it. Remember, the real value of your insurance can't be fully appreciated until you really need it.

Manchester Artist Commissioned

Many might know Nancy Sippel for her work on the Manchester Township Library Board for six years in the 1970's. Or perhaps you know of her beautiful home on Bowers Road where she's lived for the past 15 years. Maybe you're aware of the contributions she made to the League of Women Voters.

chosen from among seven EMU graduate students to sculpt a bust of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. which will stand at the center of EMU's new King Memorial Gardens and Plaza.

Mrs. Sippel's sculpture was chosen by unanimous vote of EMU's Arts on Campus Committee and King Gardens Planning Committee. A budget of $6,400 will pay for her supplies to sculpt the bust in clay, foundry fees to have it cast in bronze, and a commissioning fee for Mrs. Sippel.

Mrs. Sippel is what is known as a "non-traditional" student. She is NOT an eighteen-year-old just off to college.

She earned her bachelor's degree in 1948 from Bennington College in Vermont. After marrying and spending most of her adult life as a housewife and mother, she returned to school in 1980, attending Washtenaw Community College for art classes.

She continued on to earn a bachelor of fine arts degree in drawing from Eastern in 1986.

Then she took a sculpture course. "I knew sculpture was it for me," she says, recalling her first experiences in that course. She is now working toward a master's degree in sculpture at

For the past three years, however, Nancy's energy has been clearly focused on sculpting. And recently Eastern Michigan University where she is a student announced that Nancy Sippel was EMU. The chairman of the committee which selected her sculpture for the King Garden says of her entry, "Nancy's work was outstanding in terms of form, figure and anatomy. She had the unanimous vote of our committee for the best interpretation.

The sculpture is scheduled to be dedicated in January. Bravo to Manchester area resident Nancy Sippel for achieving this honor!

Influenza vaccines will be available through mid-November at several locations throughout Washtenaw County. The Washtenaw County Public Health Division will be offering Trivalent Types A and B. A $5 donation for a flu shot is requested.

Influenza shots are offered to people over 18 years of age; however, the Public Health Division's special aim is to vaccinate people who are 65 years of age and older. The vaccine is also recommended for people who are at risk for influenza-related complications which would include adults with diabetes, kidney disease, anemia, immuno-suppression or chronic disorders of the heart and lungs. Those who are currently under regular medical care are encouraged to check with their physician regarding influenza immunizations.

The schedule for the flu shot clinic in Manchester is Thursday, November 9, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Manchester Senior Center, 324 W. Main.

Has "Farmed It" For Many Years

Manchester Enterprise October 8, 1925

Arnold H. Kuhl is One Of Substantial Farmers Who Has Taken Enterprise Many Years

Among Enterprise subscribers who called last Saturday evening to renew their subscription for the coming year was our sterling friend Arnold H. Kuhl of Sharon, who has been a subscriber since the early seventies.

Mr. Kuhl informed us that it was 60 years ago today Thursday that he began farming on the place he owns and has lived upon all these years. The farm of 216 acres was bought from W. H. Calkins and Mr. Kuhl and his mother began living there. But the work was almost too much for his aged mother, and the subject of this item decided to procure a reliable helper, so he induced Miss Ricca Hartbeck to share the pleasures and hardships of farm life, which she did until her death about 10 years ago.

What wonderful changes have taken place since then. Most of the then needful swamp land has been drained and is growing great tall alfalfa instead of marsh grass. The woods have mostly been cleared away and not even a stump is left to endanger the grain binder, mower or the corn harvester. Nearly all labor-saving implements have been invented and brought into use within 60 years. Then even a carriage was a rarity; now the children go to school and the whole family to the church and movies in automobiles. There was no telephone over which to converse with neighbors or relatives in other states. The mouth organ and fiddle are here yet, but Victrolas and the radio supply most of the music. On a stormy day one can hear sermons preached by the prominent ministers in Detroit or other cities, while one sits in his own home by radio or telephone.

Sixty years ago it took hours of time to market a load of wheat by ox or horse-drawn wagon. Today the auto truck delivers the goods in less than an hour, traveling over highways constructed like the famous old Romans built.

And think of the crops Mr. Kuhl and his son raise on the farm besides the cattle, sheep and hogs, all of which bring in a good yearly profit. There are many other things enjoyed by our venerable friend never dreamed of in his youthful days.

Mr. Kuhl is a director of two flourishing banks, one in Manchester and one in Chelsea; he is what is called a public-spirited man, a good neighbor and a trusty friend. May he live long and prosper.

Gov. Blanchard Signs School Aid Bill

A $2.6 billion school aid bill that increases spending for K-12 education by 7 percent and provides new funds for preschool education, school improvement planning and the Governor's Achievement Incentive (GAIN) program was signed today by Governor James J. Blanchard.

"This bill is another important step toward making the improvements needed to prepare children for the jobs of tomorrow," the Governor told students, parents, teachers and school board members at the Arthur H. Vandenberg Elementary School in Wayne.

"It provides $100 million in new general fund money for K-12 education, a 19 percent increase over last year while the overall budget rose only 4.6 percent. In all, state aid per pupil has increased 80 percent since 1983. But money alone isn't the answer to problems in our schools.

"We have increased state spending four times the rate of inflation but still face an increasing dropout rate and a critical gap between the knowledge our children receive in school and the skills necessary to succeed in the workplace," Gov. Blanchard said.

To help bridge that gap, the Governor said the K-12 school aid bill (H.B. 4336) contains funds for many of the "Schools of Tomorrow" improvement initiatives announced in his 1989 State of the State message. Among those are: -$21.5 million for preschool education programs, bringing to 9,500 the number of "at risk" four-year-olds who will get an early start on education through the state's Preschool Readiness and Enrichment Program (PREP).

-A $2 million "Schools of Tomorrow" fund to provide an incentive to develop innovative ways to redesign schools and programs to improve student performance.

-A $17.5 million low income program for both in-formula and out-of-formula schools to begin narrowing the gap between rich and poor school districts.

-$2.4 million for school improvement plans, development of core curriculums and annual report cards that require schools to set goals for better performance and deliver yearly progress reports to the state and the community.

-$5 million for the Governor's Achievement Incentive program to provide monetary rewards for schools that meet and exceed their improvement goals and provide a better education for students.

-Another State of the State initiative, the $50 million "Classrooms of Tomorrow" program to place a computer in every classroom, will begin with funding in the Department of Treasury budget.

The bill contains also language requiring schools to adopt and implement these education quality measures or risk losing a portion of their 1991 state aid allotment.

Although the initiatives receive initial funding through this bill, the Governor said these and other quality proposals contained in his Schools of Tomorrow education improvement package will not be fully implemented with proper accountability required of school districts—unless voters approve Proposal A on the November 7 ballot.

Proposal A will provide $400 million in new revenues through a half-cent sales tax increase carefully focused to start early with preschool education for every "at risk" four year old; set tough performance and accountability standards for schools; and reward innovation and success through incentives that recognize accomplishment and encourage educators to redesign their schools and programs to meet the changing needs of students and employers.
