Anticipation vs Realization

Manchester Enterprise
June 17, 1915

At Frisco the special train was abandoned and all took different routes home. Our first stop was at Portland, Oregon. On sight seeing we saw the most beautiful roses on the trip. Portland is called the rose city and it seemed as if all the lawns were one rose bed. Here we called on Will Klessler, formerly of Bridgewater who was glad to see us and made the short stay pleasant.

Our next stop was Seattle, Washington, and our very first impression was a good one and a lasting one. Here we felt at home more than at any other city on the coast. Our own home boys to greet, it seemed good. Ed Nisla, an employee of the Ready Tailored Co., took us to points of interest and for 6 o'clock dinner at his beautiful new home. At 11 a.m., we met Ed Grossman at the market of his brother Matt. Nothing would do but to go with him to lunch at his beautiful new home. There we met Mrs. Matt Grossman who was spending the day with her sister. They were daughters of our former townsman Wray Graham. This was our first real meal in a private home.

In the afternoon Fred Blosser gave us the afternoon and we saw many points of interest. Visited Volunteer park and ascended to the top of the tower, here we saw one of the most picturesque scenes since leaving Grand Canyon. On a clear day Mt. Rainier, 100 miles away can be seen, Puget Sound and many interesting sights. Roses are here plentiful and we were told an effort is being made to outclass Portland as a rose city. Seattle has the second highest building in the United States, the Smith building, 42 stories. At the shop of Matt Grossman we saw Earney Kiebler cutting meat. One thing characteristic of the western people was striking, not one we met on our whole trip, living in the west would go east to live if they formerly had lived east.

Our next stop was Great Falls, Montana. Here we met with our brother Julius and sister, Mrs. Stukey. This is a beautiful city and growing fast. Here the largest smelter is located. It has a smoke stack 506 feet high and is 50 feet in diameter. A few miles from the smelter is located Great Falls from which the city received its name. Here they are building a dam which will give 90,000 horse power. We spent one day on the ranch of Dr. Stukey eight miles from Great Falls, not a tree could be seen for miles. In the east you call five or more acres a farm, in the west five or more acres are called a ranch. The doctor took up a homestead and this will be his last year to improve it and get a little. He and the boys have a suite of rooms for office in one of the largest buildings in the city. We were told by outsiders that the firm of Murch & Wuertner are the coming young lawyers of Great Falls. They are enjoying a fine practice at the present time.

A scenic route to Denver was surely beyond description. We stopped one day in Salt Lake City, saw the Mormon tabernacle and at noon attended an organ recital given for the benefit of the tourists. About 1,000 attended. This tabernacle seats about 10,000 people. A pin was dropped at one end of this large tabernacle and was distinctly heard at the other end. Brigham Young's bronze statue stands on the square of two principle streets. 60,000 mormons live in the city which has a population of 110,000.

After leaving Salt Lake City we passed through mountains and gold mines, Tennessee pass, the highest point on our whole trip, an altitude of 10,240 feet, passed through a snow storm at this point. This high altitude affected us, snow on the mountains was common as sparrows in Manchester. The trip through the Royal gorge was surely wonderful. Two open cars were attached to the observation car before we entered the gorge. We stopped off at Colorado Springs on Saturday and were present at the convention of the united commercial travelers and enjoyed many new acquaintances. On Sunday we attempted to go up Pikes Peak but when we were told snow was 25 to 30 feet deep within 1000 feet of the top and impossible for the cog wheel train to go further we did not attempt to ascend, it was snowing at the foot then so we returned to the city. We left Denver and found Dr. G. Kuhl, former Manchester boy, enjoying a fine practice. We met Dr. G. W. Loomis, formerly professor of the high school at Manchester who is now in the real estate business. Before we left we were surprised to meet Chas. Cole who left Manchester on account of his health and is now looking fine. He has gained 16 pounds since leaving home and expects soon to be with his family, a well wisher. We next journeyed to Kansas City, Mo., and there the word "Hospitality" was written over the door of our friend Will Payne and family their untiring efforts to show us that Kansas City was not in the back woods was readily comprehended. We were shown the Hercules Spring Bed factory of which Will is vice president and manager. Having been established less than two years much larger quarters are being sought to take

Manchester Fair Date Set

At the November 13, 1989 meeting, the Fair Board signed a contract with W.G. Wade Shows, Inc. for the 1990 Fair. The Manchester Community Fair will be July 10-14, 1990.

The carnival hopes to bring more rides than last year and there will be advance sale of ride tickets at a reduced rate. Plans are under way for entertainment and different events for your enjoyment. If anyone has ideas that they would like to share with the Fair Board, please call Carol Britten at 428-8474 or 428-8589 or call Jerry Bristle at 428-7113.

Kiwanis Donates Funds

Steve Kuebler, Joni DeBell and Jane Finkbeiner

Joni DeBell, Manchester Community Schools Agricultural teacher accepts a check for $260 from Steve Kuebler and Jane Finkbeiner of Manchester's newly formed Kiwanis Club. These funds are to help in the creation of an agricultural building for the study of animal sciences for the Manchester students. Ms. DeBell has indicated that the funds will go for much needed equipment for the new building. The funds were raised from the Kiwanis first annual cider sale, and the club thanks the community for their support in that event.

Santa Parade Update

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

The Friday after Thanksgiving is traditionally the "biggest shopping day of the year." Everyone is anticipating Christmas.

But for Manchester children, this coming Sunday is an even bigger day in Christmas preparations.

All is ready for the "Santa Claus Parade" to come to Manchester this Sunday!

If you're downtown near the Mill just before 1:00 p.m., you'll hear the parade coming up Main Street from Emanuel Church.

Santa will be chauffeured by George Macomber in a horse-drawn wagon. Brownies and Girl Scouts will escort him with jingling bells.

Awaiting Santa on the Mill porch will be the Mayor, Mary Kallewaard, and bands and choirs. The Manchester High School Band will play its first performance under its new director, George Rousseau.

And the always delightful Klager Children's Choir will charm the crowd with caroling.

Remember, Santa will be available at Corky D's dining room until 4:00 to listen to children telling him their "wish lists."

It's the day for the children. And so many Manchester folks are pitching in to make it an exciting and joyful day!

Come with your children and/or grandchildren. Or come alone just to warm your heart with that special excitement that only children can express.

This Sunday, November 26, at 1:00 p.m. at the Mill is a day for the children in all of us.

Happy Thanksgiving

Senior Citizens News

"Over the river and through the woods" makes me nostalgic just hearing the words. We still do go to Grandmother's on Thanksgiving, thank God for her. We plan to take the dinner down because she has been ill, but delights await us I'm sure. We told her "Please don't do anything 'til we get there in the morning." She retorted "I can set up the tables three days ahead and have that much done for you." Her delicious raspberry dessert is all we asked for, but she turned to me and said "Maybe some baked beans would taste good." I said "No, Mother." I can hardly wait to see what else she has had energy to fix! Let us be thankful for all of them everywhere.

Thursday, November 30: We have having misticoli for lunch (whatever that is, Jan.) It should have been in the dictionary between most-favored nation and mostly. She said it was Italian and new. I'm not sure I have it spelled right (the old adage of how can you look something up when you can't spell it?) Well, I CAN spell bingo, so come and enjoy afterwards.

DIAL -A- GARDEN

The following is a monthly schedule of Dial-A-Garden, the system of pre-recorded daily gardening tips sponsored by the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service. The system is in operation 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Interested persons are invited to call 971-1129 at their convenience to listen to timely, up-to-date gardening information.

Thursday, November 23: NO NEW TAPE, HOLIDAY

Friday, November 24: NO NEW TAPE, HOLIDAY

Monday, November 27: Constructing a Container Garden

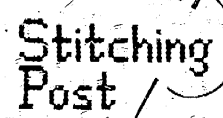

Tuesday, November 28: Plants for a Container Garden

Wednesday, November 29: Maintaining a Container Garden

Friday, November 25: There is still room on the bus for the trip to Crosswell Theater in Adrian for the production of "Christmas Carol." Pick up begins at 1:30 p.m. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to go along and enjoy.

Tuesday, November 28: One of our local nurses will be on hand to take our blood pressures starting at 11:00 a.m. Baked veal patties (doesn't that sound good?) is being served at noon lunch at Emanuel's dining room. At 12:30, Speech Pathologist, Laura B. Billedeux will present a talk on "Memory and Aging." This is for all of us who are beginning to wonder why we went to the refrigerator or downstairs for something. We think it is just us, until we talk to all the other seniors and find out we all have this malady. Come and listen.

Notice of Public Hearings on An Updated LAND USE PLAN and

The "Sliding Scale" Amendment to the Freedom Township Zoning Ordinance
November 28, 1989, 8:00 p.m.
Freedom Township Hall
11508 Pleasant Lake Road

The Freedom Township Planning Commission has prepared an amendment to update the Freedom Township Land Use Plan. This amendment considers changes to the Agricultural and Recreation/Conservation land demarcation to better reflect the current land use. The public is invited to review the revised plan.

A second public hearing will present the proposed "Sliding Scale" amendment to the Agriculture (A-1) Zoning District. The amendment will consider changing the lot size requirement on Agricultural land based upon the sliding scale concept determined by the number of acres in a defined area.

The zoning ordinance text and map can be reviewed at Freedom Township Hall or by calling Lynn Voegeding at 428-9111.

Bob Miller, Secretary
Freedom Township Planning Commission

What is No-Fault?

No-fault is the form of auto insurance which returns the biggest share of your premium dollar to you if you have an accident. Under no-fault you don't have to sue the other person to collect. Your own company pays all the losses. This saves legal fees and returns more to the policy holder. Because of our unlimited medical benefits and generous wage loss provisions, Michigan's no-fault law has been hailed as one of the nation's best.

Shakespeare of Sleaze

Why do we enjoy sleaze? This question was at the front of the discussion at the Manchester Township Library's reading program Thursday night, November 16, as the 3rd of its fall discussions on Michigan Murders, with Michigan authors and Michigan settings, was held.

The book in question was Elmore Leonard's "52-Pick-up", set in Detroit and written in 1974. Our guest lecturer was Dr. Richard Tillinghast, Ph.D., from the University of Michigan Department of English. Dr. Tillinghast, in addition to his Harvard degree, had spent 3 years teaching in San Quentin prison and was able to use that experience to raise some interesting questions from an otherwise sleazy book.

"Why do we enjoy sleaze?" he asked. "Perhaps for the same reason we enjoy junk food. We tend to glamorize evil and crime and harbor this fantasy of it in our minds. Leonard paints a truer picture and shows us graphically that things are not always that neat."

The discussion between the 19 persons gathered and Dr. Tillinghast was lively. Some people didn't really care for the selection, and while Dr. Tillinghast did not defend the book as a literary gem, he tried to draw some points out of the text that relate to us.

"While this is not a flattering portrayal of human nature," he said, "and everybody in this book is 'on something,' we can still see the fantasy that is present. A person is a victim of injustice, takes matters into his own hands, and wins. That appeals to people." Dr. Tillinghast also pointed out that "52 Pick-up" serves a purpose that many books fulfill. "This book is a safe guided tour of places, people and things, the seamy side of Detroit, that is dangerous and that we would tend to avoid," he said. "It's the kind of a book a man would buy at the airport just before going on a plane."

As part of this continuing series, sponsored by the Manchester Township Library, the video "Anatomy of a Murder", the first book in the series, will be shown at the Blacksmith Shop on Tuesday, November 28 at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

The next book discussion is "Motor City Blue," with author Leonard Estleman on hand to talk with us, on Thursday, November 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop. Copies of the book are available at the Library, and everyone is invited to attend this free discussion.

Cantaloupe, honeydew, casaba, Persian and Odessa are all varieties of the muskmelon. Their differences are the result of cultivation in different regions of the world.

The November 18 meeting was called to order by Jody Parr at 1:00. The flag pledges were lead by Jody Feldkamp. Next came roll call. What's your favorite vegetable? The secretary, Sarah Feldkamp, gave the secretary's report. The treasurer's report was given by Andrea Clark. The committee reports were given on the following subjects: Sunshine boxes, Christmas name exchange, caroling, and the Christmas party. At the 4-H cookie sale, 88 1/2 dozen cookies were sold. Jennifer Bailey told about the Livestock Meeting. At the "make it with wool" contest, Jennifer and Mary Kay Bailey, Andrea Clark, Sarah and Jody Feldkamp, and Jody Parr all won wool and miscellaneous items. The Jolly Farmerettes won a certificate and banner for National 4-H Week promotions contest. Also Wendy Haessler, Michelle Mann, Andrea Clark and Jody Armentrout all won medals at the 4-H Recognition Breakfast. The next meeting will be December 16 to Christmas carol and party.

The Manchester Family Service Christmas Shop for low-income families in the area, will be held on Friday, December 15, from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. The shop will be held at the Manchester United Methodist Church, 501 Ann Arbor Street.
The Christmas Shop will not be a "clothing shop" this year. It will be a shop where low-income people are able to come and select toys and games for their children. The toys and games have been donated by various organizations, individuals and companies in the area. The people will also receive either a food or clothing order, as well as an order for a free roasting chicken, or chickens, depending upon size of the family. They will also receive a box or bag of canned food and packaged food and paper products which has been collected by the Boy Scouts and school children, as well as organizations in the area.
On Thursday evening, December 14, we will be setting up the "Christmas Shop" and also packing the bags and boxes of food. The Girl Scouts were of great help in this effort last year. If you can help for a little while, or if you have a toy or game you would like to donate, just come that evening, or call 428-8852 or 428-8790.

Anticipation

Care of the rapid growth of their business, "Jack" has made good and his influence is already being felt in Kansas City. We visited the stock yards, second largest in the United States, the new union depot finer than the M.C. in Detroit. While we were there Henry Gillett and wife formerly from Manchester spent the day with the Payne's. Mr. Gillett is a brother of A. Gillett, Mrs. Wisner and Mrs. H. Lesson of Manchester. We then journeyed on to Chicago, Grand Rapids and home. On the whole our trip further speaks in loud tones "see America first." This slogan can be seen very frequently and we know not 1-100 has yet been seen. After an 8,000 mile tour we are thankful to return home feeling the best for our trip.

Sincerely,
Carl Wuertner

New Hope For Specialty Crop Pesticides

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has organized a committee to gather data on so-called minor use pesticides and help decide which chemicals are most important to farmers. That's good news for Michigan's fruit and vegetable growers, according to Ken Nye, Michigan Farm Bureau director of commodity activities and research.

Nye said new federal testing requirements could spell doom for many minor use chemicals. "Farmers fear that the minor use chemicals don't have enough profit potential for the manufacturer to justify going through an expensive safety testing process," he said. "We know that the re-registration process, as a result of the changes to Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act a year ago, is going to cause us to lose a lot of chemicals from the market," he said. "A number of these will be critical or essential to specialty crop producers. So we know that what the U.S.D.A. committee does will be very important to us in prioritizing which chemicals are actually going to stay on the market."

Michigan State University also has a special program called IR-4 that will assist chemical companies in doing the testing needed to save minor use chemicals. But that program suffers from a lack of money, said Nye.

Manchester Village Council

November 6, 1989

and report at next meeting.

The regular meeting of the Manchester Village Council was called to order with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by President Kallewaard at 7:00 p.m. Council members present: Kallewaard, Wallace, Reinhart, Kwolek, Becktel, Cooper, Marshall and Tucker. Also present: Bob Lowery, Tom Walton, Edna Knauss, Paul J. Monohon, Mr. Monicatti, Louis Ciotto and Bob Daverman.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

Edna Knauss approached Council with concern about the sidewalk replacement on their property and their bill from the Village. Council explained that there are more sidewalks to be replaced as soon as budget allows. Mrs. Knauss requested an itemized bill showing cost per square foot. Council stated that more dirt will be needed to fill in low spots and it will be seeded in the spring.

Vote: Ayes-all.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Becktel reported that report will be ready for the next meeting.

PLANNING COMMISSION

Daverman reported to Council that he could have the Master Plan completed by March. Kwolek stated the possibility of budget providing for outside help.

DPW REPORT

Kwolek reported that the roll-baler did not work for left pickup and that it would take an estimated $9,500 plus $6,000 for modifications.

He also reported on a used street sweeper that was available for purchase at a cost of $5,000. Gary will look at it.

It was reported that Vickers, Inc. released more oil and it was suggested that Council send a letter concerning same. Kallewaard reported that the head of Vickers environmental Dept. was to meet with Mary and Brad.

Also, Pilot Industries dumped paint thinner down the sewers which was noticed by the Treatment Plant and investigated. It was suggested that a letter should be sent to Pilot also. Kwolek stated need for Ordinance setting fines in case of further spills.

Kwolek reported that Brad requests reinstatement of regular inspections of industries in Village.

He also reported on Trench Shield necessary for safety reasons. Motion by Kwolek, supported by Becktel to purchase 3/16" steel trench shield from Koebbe Welding per estimate of $1,300. Roll Call Vote: Ayes-all.

Motion by Kwolek, supported by Becktel to purchase an enclosed space ventilating Blower/extractor, gas engine in the amount of $878. Roll Call Vote: Ayes-all.

Village Planning Commission

Regular Session
October 10, 1989

CALL TO ORDER

The meeting was called to order at 7:32 by Vice-chairman Lowery in the Council Room of the Village Hall.

PRESENT

Lowery, Hinkley, Palms, Walton, Gleason, Way (entered 7:33). Absent: Daverman, Boone, Schiller. Also present: Guy Little (new zoning inspector), Ron Jenter, Don Limpert, Richard Boatwright.

APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Enter Way at 7:33. Palms made a motion to approve the agenda. Walton seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING

Walton made a motion to approve the minutes. Palms seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

REPORTS

None

REGULAR BUSINESS

FINAL SITE PLAN REVIEW; JENTER FUNERAL HOME PARKING

Lowery and Little had talked to Ron Jenter to inform him of the concerns and suggestions noted at the last meeting. A new drawing was provided. Jenter said the light in question was operated by a switch, was on only when the funeral home was open, and was turned off by 10:00 at night. He asked if he could plant evergreens as screening plants and said they would be kept relatively low in height. The commissioners approved the use of evergreens but stated that they must be planted close enough together to provide adequate screening. It was also noted that this was a good time of year to plant them.

Walton made a motion to approve the Jenter Funeral Home Final Site Plan as shown on the application, except that he could plant evergreens instead of the plants recommended. It was also agreed that he did not have to shield the light as long as it was only on when the funeral home was open. Palms seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

NEW COMMISSIONER

Welcome was extended to the new Planning Commissioner, John Hinkley.

RAILROAD RIGHT OF WAY

The question arose as to where an up-to-date zoning map is. Gleason will look into the matter.

Lowery asked Kwolek what future plans the Village has concerning the installation of sewer and water lines in the railroad right of way. Kwolek stated the Village wanted to keep the right of way for future sewer and water use.

Limpert emphasized he was ready to develop property which the right of way cuts through. Lowery suggested he bring a Preliminary Site Plan to the next meeting and this Site Plan would be placed on the agenda. Limpert asked that the record be consulted on this matter, including the legal description of the right of way. He said he would provide any information the Commission needed.

Limpert raised the question of whether the right of way was being maintained at present (weeds cut, etc.) as required by the Village Ordinance.

Gleason questioned whether the right of way had been sold off between Manchester and Saline. Several of those present stated it had.

BED AND BREAKFAST ORDINANCE

Palms asked the commissioners if they had any thoughts on what would constitute a structure as "historically significant."

Limpert asked what zone Bed & Breakfasts are allowed in. Palms answered R1B and R2A. Limpert was concerned that Bed & Breakfasts are commercial in nature, yet are allowed in residential districts, and questioned whether this was good planning.

Hinkley asked how the development of a Bed & Breakfast Ordinance came about. Lowery mentioned that he, as zoning inspector, had received calls from realtors asking if certain properties could be turned into Bed & Breakfasts. Lowery felt that from interest shown in Bed & Breakfasts it was time to consider such an ordinance. He also emphasized there is a need for a place to stay overnight in this town.

NEW BUSINESS UPCOMING SEMINARS

Two upcoming seminars which might be of interest are the Washtenaw County Metro Planning Commission Urban Worship on October 13, and one entitled Growth Management on November 9. Hotaling will speak at the Growth Management seminar. Daverman plans to attend.

Winter Survival

Winter survival is a critical issue for any living organism directly exposed to the elements. On Sunday, December 3, 1989, the Sunday Trail Walk at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens will be exploring the various ways winter climate stresses plants and the strategies through which plants are able to survive. A close look at plants reveals evidence of insects, so the winter survival of insects will also be addressed.

All interested persons are welcome to attend this free walk. Meet the docents in the lobby of the Conservatory at 2:00 p.m. Dress for the weather and wear warm boots. Expect to be out of doors at least 1 1/2 hours.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor, 1/2 mile south of the Plymouth road intersection.

EXPIRATION OF COMMISSIONERS TERMS

Lowery presented a list which noted the dates which the present commissioners terms expire. There was some question concerning Palms. The commissioners thought he was appointed to fill Steele's vacancy which expires in 1991, yet someone had written in that Palms' term expires in 1990.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

Little questioned the zoning on some properties which at present are included in the commercial district, but border the residential district. He suggested that multi-family might be a more appropriate zoning in these cases, and such a designation would serve as a buffer between the commercial and single family residential districts.

ADJOURNMENT

Walton made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Hinkley seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote at 8:58.

Susan Gleason, Secretary

In 1954 Willie Messoni, a Philadelphia, set a world record in pocket billiards by running off 528 balls in a row.

Our Family would like to express our deep gratitude to the people of Manchester for the help, concern and prayers that we have received since our accident last spring. We have deep rooted faith in Jesus Christ which has sustained us and also given us a greater understanding of the purpose of life and the importance of family and friends in the eternal plan.

And I will also ease the burdens which are put upon your shoulders, that even you cannot feel them upon your backs...and this will I do that ye may stand as witnesses for me hereafter, and that ye may know of a surety that I, the Lord God, do visit my people in their afflictions.

And now it came to pass that the burdens which were laid upon Alma and his brethren were made light; yea, the Lord did strengthen them that they could bear up their burdens with ease, and they did submit cheerfully and with patience to all the will of the Lord. (Mosiah 24:14-15)

May this Thanksgiving provide everyone the opportunity to reflect upon all the blessings the Lord has bestowed.

The Manchester Area Historical Society held its monthly meeting on Monday, November 20 at the Blacksmith Shop. The speaker, Mike Dashner, gave some very interesting information about Native American beliefs and prophecies.

The Indians gave thanks all the time. They did not give thanks only once a year after the harvest.

When the pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, they landed farther north than they expected, they did not bring enough supplies, and they were not prepared for such a hard winter. As a result, they were very sick and many died. They were in that condition when the Indians found the settlement. They did not drive out the white men because their coming fulfilled a prophecy. One of the Indian prophecies was that a light-skinned race would come and bring the gift of knowledge and together they would form a great nation. Later, the yellow and black races would come and form a mighty nation. According to the Indian prophecy, the white race is responsible for knowledge and technology; the black race for respect and nurturing; the yellow race for introspection; and the Native Americans are responsible for bringing the races together and for the ecology of Mother

Earth. The Native Americans believe that man must live in harmony with our earth. They believe in the circle of life - the four seasons blending from one to the other and man's walk through life. In the end, man returns to the earth that sustained him through life.

Knowing The Realities About Fire Could Save Your Life

Fires are not the bright blazing backdrops for hero rescues so often depicted on TV and in the movies. The brave young actor running through a burning building to save his sweetheart would, most likely, be dead in just seconds from the fire's extreme heat. And if he had crawled on the ground to survive the heat, he would have no idea where to go in the thick black smoke.

Fighting these misconceptions is the reason behind the development of "Plan To Get Out Alive," a home video available from First Alert, a leading manufacturer of fire safety products, and McDonald's Video host Dr. Frank Field, health and science editor for WCBS-TV in New York, takes viewers inside of a fire to help both children and adults understand its realities so that they will be able to escape if fire strikes their home.

- The "Plan To Get Out Alive" video emphasizes several important facts regarding home fires. For example:
  - Fire is dark, it is not light. When the pitch black smoke surrounds you it is important to have a flashlight and a planned escape route.
  - Fire gives off intolerable heat. Therefore, because heat rises, it is crucial to stay low and crawl to safety.
  - You only have two to five minutes to escape a fire. Every second is critical. A practiced escape plan could save your life.
- If you are sleeping, the smell of smoke will not wake you up. The chemicals in smoke will actually lull you to sleep rather than alert you to a fire. A smoke detector provides the best protection in alerting you of a fire in your home.
- The "Plan To Get Out Alive" video is attributed with saving many lives because viewers knew how to react when confronted with a fire. It can be obtained for only $4.95 (plus $1.00 postage and handling) with the purchase of any First Alert smoke detector, rechargeable light or fire extinguisher. Coupons are available at discount, hardware and home center stores where First Alert products are sold.
- The video is also available for $9.95 by mailing check or money order to: "Plan To Get Out Alive," c/o Mediatech, 110 West Hubbard Street, Chicago, Illinois 60610.

THE BOTTOM LINE ON SMALL BUSINESS

If you plan to join the ranks of small business owners, you have a lot of work ahead of you. Every decision you make - from choosing a tax accounting method to purchasing office equipment - will have a significant impact on your business' tax liability. Here are some tips on how to reduce the impact taxes may have on your bottom line.

Cash vs. Accrual Accounting

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, every small business must elect a tax accounting method - the set of rules that dictates when and how to report taxable income and deductions. The two most common methods are cash and accrual. Under the cash method, a business reports income when the cash is received and deducts expenses when the cash is paid out, a method similar to that used by most individuals in computing their personal taxes. Under the accrual method, income has to be reported when the goods are sold or services are rendered, and expenses are deducted when obligations are incurred.

If your business maintains an inventory, the choice of a tax accounting method is predetermined: you must use the accrual basis with respect to the inventories. Cash-basis accounting is generally limited to self-employed persons, S corporations, professional service corporations and partnerships. But any small business with annual gross receipts of $5 million or less may still use the cash method of tax accounting. Many business owners prefer the cash method because it is simpler and allows some flexibility in the timing of income and expenses.

Fiscal vs Calendar Reporting Year

In the past, owners of partnerships, S corporations and personal service corporations could defer taxes by putting the business entity on a fiscal year that differed from the calendar year they used to figure their personal taxes. By employing a different tax year for their businesses, the owners could structure their income and deductions to their best advantage. In particular, the owners were able to use the business profits for a limited time before these profits were actually taxed. Tax reform has changed all this.

Current tax law requires all partnerships, S corporations and personal service corporations to conform their fiscal tax years to the tax years of their owners, unless the businesses can prove that they have a compelling reason for employing a different tax year. Since a compelling reason is difficult to demonstrate, the majority of small businesses have found it necessary to conform to the calendar reporting

S Corporations
Tax consequences have always played an important role in determining what form a business will take. When individual tax rates were lowered as a result of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, they dropped below corporate rates for the first time ever. This change prompted many small business owners to consider altering their legal structure to take advantage of the lower individual rates. One way to accomplish this goal is electing S Corporation status, which offers the legal advantages of a corporation without requiring payment of corporate taxes. In an S Corporation, the corporation itself is generally not taxed; income passes to shareholders in proportion to their ownership and is taxed at personal rates.

Obviously, S Corporations are not for everyone. Keep in mind that an S Corporation can have no more than 35 shareholders and all must be citizens or residents of the United States. Only one class of stock can be offered by an S Corporation, and neither corporate share holders nor company-owned incorporated subsidiaries are allowed. When you file for an S election, you may generally keep this election as long as it benefits you - and as long as you satisfy the necessary requirements.

Depreciation

The 1986 law also affected the way a business depreciated such assets as office equipment and fixtures. You can still write off the cost of equipment over a period of years, but you must now do so at a slower pace, with smaller deductions each year. This depreciation method, known as the modified accelerated cost recovery system (MACRS), lists various classes of business property. Class lives run from a low of three years to a high of 31.5 years for real property, such as office buildings and ware houses.

An alternative to depreciating is the $10,000 expensing allowance. Instead of depreciating the cost of business property over a period of years, a small business may write off the first $10,000 worth of items purchased during the year. This $10,000 expensing allowance starts to phase out when more than $200,000 worth of tangible personal property is purchased in any one year. (For each dollar over $200,000 invested in a tax year, the $10,000 maximum is reduced by one dollar.) With expensing, you can take a larger deduction in the year the asset is placed in service than you could take if you opt for the MACRS method. However, the deduction may not exceed the total taxable income from all businesses which an owner actively conducts.

As a new owner of a small business, you will almost inevitably find yourself overwhelmed by legal and financial considerations. ### College Planning Program

Part of the American dream is to send your child to college. It pays off financially for the child and for society. There is almost a $20,000 difference in yearly income between a high school graduate and a degreed worker. And society needs educated workers; there are fewer jobs available for those without higher education, whether it is vocational training or university degree.

Cooperative Extension Service can help you plan for the expense of higher education for your child/children. We have a new computer program, College Planning, that can be individualized for your situation and is, of course, confidential. After you tell the computer a few facts, including the age of your child and which Michigan school they are likely to attend (there are 84 to choose from), it tells you how much the tuition and room and board are likely to be when your child is ready. Tuition has been advancing over 7% a year.

It shows how much you need to save and furthermore it compares MET (Michigan Education Trust) to a private savings plan. There are many flexible points in the program including the four years divided among two schools, the percentage of tuition and room and board you choose to fund, etc. The program is available at this office. Each print-out costs $1 to cover mailing. Call for an input form.

Better Profits for Turkey Farmers

The Department of Agriculture is predicting better profits for turkey producers, thanks to lower feed costs and strong consumer demand.

Farm Bureau livestock specialist Kevin Kirk said the popularity of turkey has accelerated in recent years. "The turkey processors are developing more cuts that are being made available to the consumer," he said. "You don't have to buy a 16 to 20 pound turkey anymore. You can buy thighs, drumsticks, rolled roasts, even hotdogs made from turkey meat. There's the convenience of having smaller packages and more versatility in the items you can buy in the grocery store."

Kirk said consumer statistics show that consumers are not necessarily willing to substitute turkey for beef or chicken, but they will gobble it up instead of pork.

Manchester Stamping Suggests Closing

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

"If we don't get the zoning we need at the Township meeting on December 11, we're out of here!" That was the bombshell Wayne Hamilton, president of Manchester Stamping, dropped at the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce breakfast last Wednesday morning regarding the future of Manchester Stamping in this community.

It had been a comfortable morning: good breakfast, nice atmosphere, interesting crowd. Mary Kalleward, Manchester Village mayor, had just completed her presentation of "What's new with the Village."

During the question and answer period following Mayor Kalleward's remarks, Wayne Hamilton presented this possibility that Manchester Stamping would leave the Manchester area if their rezoning request was denied.

Most of those assembled there seemed to be taken by surprise at the extreme that this issue had reached.

According to Mr. Hamilton, three years ago Manchester Stamping purchased twenty-eight acres of land adjoining their present operations property. Now their intention is to expand Manchester Stamping using this acreage. However, this property must be rezoned for industrial use.

Manchester Stamping requested a zoning change from the Township of Manchester. That process sent the request first to the Township Planning Commission who, after investigation and public hearings, recommends to the Manchester Township Board of Commissioners that they either approve or deny the request.

A similar process is followed by the Washtenaw County Planning

Tree of Lights

What Christmas present do you give someone who has everything? How about their own Christmas Tree Light! The Manchester Interfaith Counseling Service, a non-profit interdenominational counseling service of the Community Resource Center, is launching their Tree of Lights for the first time this holiday season.

For each donation to ICS of two dollars or more, given in memory or in honor of a loved one, friend, or neighbor, a light on the Christmas tree will shine brightly throughout the holiday season. The Christmas tree will be housed in the gazebo across from Wurster Park. The tree lighting ceremony, accompanied with the

A Festive Day For Young and Old

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

Santa Claus came to town last Sunday!

Bands played. Children sang. Tiny tots climbed on Santa's lap and told him all they want for Christmas.

Shops in town have had their Holiday Open Houses. They've hung the Christmas decorations on Main Street. And the Men's Club has fresh trees for sale next to Tib's.

All this and it's not yet December 1st!!!

But what fun Thanksgiving week-end was to usher in the Christmas season.

In contrast to last year's frigid temperatures for the Santa Parade, this year's weather was warm and friendly. Probably Santa was the only one who wished the day had been cold and

Keep Hens Through Winter

Manchester Enterprise

Feeds Cost More But Eggs Also Sell Higher At This Time, M.A.C. Finds

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 1- Poultrymen and farmers have become frightened at the upward flight of feed prices and have sold out their feathered stock; that is, some of them have, and have cried "fire" without cause, in the opinion of Prof. C.H. Burgess, head of the department of poultry husbandry in the Michigan Agricultural College. The professor has found through a cost survey and reports from many progressive poultrymen and farmers, that hens of the right sort can be kept with the assurance that they will return a good safe profit.

"In the light of what has been learned," Professor Burgess has said, "reduction of poultry flocks now is not only unpatriotic but it is unprofitable also."

The department's investigations showed that the average cost of the feed necessary for the production of a dozen eggs during the present year has been 19.2 cents, but that the average selling price has been 30.4 cents. In 1915-16 the average cost of feed for the production of the same dozen eggs was but 9.3 cents and the selling price of the eggs was 26.2 cents. In other words the figures show, while the cost of feed has increased 51 per cent, the selling price of eggs has gone up 58 per cent.

It must not be understood, the department points out however, that 19.2 is the total cost of producing a dozen eggs. Such items as labor, losses from disease, interest on the investment, cost of marketing, and a dozen other factors, have been left out. The point the department makes is that while feed prices have risen the increased selling price has more than compensated for this.

Any number of farmers and particularly a group of progressive agriculturists in the vicinity of Dewitt, in Ingham County, who keep farm flocks in a hundred hens, say their returns this year have been better than they ever have been before. The same thing has been found to be true on the college poultry farm.

In consequence, Professor Burgess is condemning the practice of killing off flocks. His recommendation instead is that more hens be raised.

Some Background On The Stamping Issue

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

"When the township zoning ordinance went into effect in 1973, Manchester Stamping was zoned Limited Industrial."

"A few years ago they asked for and received a rezoning for adjacent land. That expanded the Limited Industrial use."

"Now they are asking for all that they own to be rezoned General Industrial."

Ron Mann, Manchester Township Supervisor, was helpful in providing some details about the history of the Manchester Stamping zoning and the procedures for rezoning.

Mr. Mann said the 28 acres Manchester Stamping bought three years ago is zoned Recreation-Conservation. The rest of their land is zoned Limited Industrial. They are now seeking to have all the land rezoned General Industrial.

"There are more permitted uses in General Industrial," Ron Mann continued. "Limited Industrial includes things like research, light industrial (electronics, electrical, precision instruments, for example), some assembly. Clean, quiet, no dangerous or nuisance emissions."

"General Industrial is regular commercial and industrial, such as storage yards, lumber yards, trucking, fuel depot."

He explained the procedure for having property rezoned:

The property owner applies to the Township Board. This Manchester Stamping did in the late summer. The Township Board then gives the application to their Planning Commission for review, research, public hearings, and eventually a recommendation.

The application is also sent to the Washtenaw County Planning Commission who independently research and review it. They also return a recommendation to the Township Board.

State law says the Township Board must then have another public hearing which they will do on December 11th. They will then vote either to approve the request for rezoning, to deny it, or should any new information be presented - they could choose to table it.

Ron Mann said the Township Planning Commission has a very specific perspective when considering a request for rezoning. "Their job is to look at planning."
