Kiwanis Donates To High Point Greenhouse

High Point student tends plants in temporary greenhouse.

Manchester Kiwanis president Larry Ruble has announced the donation of $100 to the Kiwanis Greenhouse project at High Point Center located on Wagner Road.

The High Point Center is a facility serving approximately 160 of the most severely impaired students in Washtenaw County. For the past two years, a plant tending and gardening program for those students has been conducted in a makeshift, plastic-covered greenhouse, but that's about to change.

A permanent greenhouse is scheduled to open next spring, funded largely by donations from Washtenaw Kiwanis Clubs. The greenhouse project offers a way for the older High Point students to interact with the community by growing plants, then selling and tending them in nearby offices.

Seven families in Manchester have children enrolled at the center.

Project directors say the greenhouse project helps people in the community increase their involvement and acceptance of High Point students through interaction with them on plant tending.

The greenhouse is estimated to cost $46,000 and will be named "The Kiwanis Greenhouse." A memorial plaque within the structure will note the specific clubs and individuals who made the project possible.

The donation from the Manchester club came from proceeds of the recent annual Manchester Kiwanis bird seed sale. A contribution from Johnson Controls of plastic containers for the seed kept costs down and helped make the donation to the greenhouse project possible.

The Village Paper

Manchester Enterprise
November 15, 1888

"G.H.W." in a late copy of the Plymouth Mail, has something to say about village newspapers, from which we clip the following:

A good, clean, well conducted newspaper, in its sphere, is as necessary to the community as a church, or a school. Each has its specific work, which the other cannot well do, or doing it must be in a very compressed and imperfect manner.

Every institution, profession, and business, has its particular relationship to the people, for whom they are and by which they are benefitted. The newspaper is the aid and mouthpiece of them all, one great means by which they reach the people, and the people are unconsciously influenced in their directions.

The business man puts money in his pockets by judicious and liberal advertising, calling the attention of an indifferent public to his particular wares, or particular values of his wares.

The professional man is made more popular; causing himself and his work to be discussed by the people at large; making them familiar with him, and sooner or later putting the people in mind that they need his services.

The schools, churches and societies need it to keep their work prominently before the community, directing attention to either public or private duty, and through its columns making their individual needs known, and inviting the thoughtless and the stranger to enter and be welcomed. The farmer needs it to keep him constantly informed of

Substance Abuse Awareness

The Substance Abuse Awareness Committee meets Monday, March 5, 7:30 p.m. at the Community Resource Center.

The SAAC is committed to promoting the health of the community as related to substance abuse issues. Membership includes but is not limited to residents of the village and surrounding townships.

Agenda items will include discussion about Share the Vision educational awareness training opportunities, parental consent for teens to attend hotel overnights, all night graduation party promotion, and future programs to be coordinated and supported by SAAC.

The Substance Abuse Awareness Committee is the community organization that should be used to facilitate prevention and education programs in the Manchester area; programs that support and compliment education provided for students in the Manchester schools.

Candidate Forum At Chamber Breakfast

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

Six of the eight candidates for office in the Village of Manchester presented opening statements for those attending the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce breakfast meeting last week on Wednesday.

Four of the eight were able to stay for a question and answer period.

The entire "Candidate Forum" provided a rare and valuable opportunity to hear issues discussed in a free-ranging yet focused manner with candidates revealing the nuances of differences between them.

Present were Joe Marshall, Christopher Brooks, Bill Kwolek, and Deborah Havens, all candidates for a seat on the Village council.

Mary Kallewaard, candidate for Village president, made a brief opening statement, but then left due to a previous appointment.

Before leaving, she reminded everyone, "I think everybody here knows how to get a hold of me - either at the Village Hall or at home. Don't be shy."

She recited a list of what she felt had been accomplished while she was mayor and concluded, "Basically I think we've made a great deal of progress."

Upon her departure, the five candidates for council each presented an opening statement.

Michael Gordon, who was unable to attend due to a previous family commitment, had submitted a written statement which Ann Pat Wolf, the president of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce, read for him. It offered his vision of the community.

President Wolf announced that Richard Boatwright, candidate for Village president, and Raymond "Bink" Steele, candidate for Village council, were unable to attend due to work commitments.

All of the candidates present, in the opening statements, described their relationship to Manchester, i.e. why they chose to move here and what they valued here.

Receive Master Farmer Award

Bud and Don DuRussel, of DuRussel Potato Farm, Inc., Manchester were among those honored during the recent Great Lakes Vegetable Growers Convention in Grand Rapids.

The DuRussels received the Master Farmer Award which is presented yearly to an individual or company that has made substantial contributions to the vegetable industry.

The DuRussel farm produces almost 20 crops each year on 2,000 acres. Everything grown is for fresh consumption. Most produce is packed and shipped directly from the farm.

The DuRussels use crop rotation and IPM practices to reduce sprays. They have also assisted MSU in developing new fresh market potato varieties.

Awards have been given each year since 1977 by the Michigan Vegetable Council, which co-sponsors the Great Lakes Vegetable Growers Convention with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Senior Citizens News

At last, an ingenious family near Camden has captured a black panther on videotape for posterity. Suppose it is "ours"? He (or she) gave us a most unusual summer of '84 when we went for a walk and only to be nervous anywhere near the river. I have always wished that I could have seen it, but I heard from reliable witnesses that it was across the street in the river early one morning in May. What fun to go on those panther chases - remember how we used to chase flying saucers? I hope no one ever catches and cages these mysterious animals, that way I may have a chance!

Thursday, March 1: We will honor those seniors who were born this month of March with a free meal. Pork chops and cake will be on the noon lunch menu at Emanuel's dining room. Call in your reservation ahead to Linda at 428-8359 or to Jan at 428-7630 (before 10:30 on meal days). We welcome all our new seniors who have been attending. Why not try these delicious meals?

Saturday, March 3: The bus leaves the Center at 9:30 for the Giant Flea Market in Ypsilanti. Call Rubena Boelter (428-8655) or sign up at senior meals to go along on this or any trip planned.

Tuesday, March 6: Jan will serve salmon loaf (yummy) at noon, don't miss it. Seniors are invited to retire to the Center to help with current activities at 12:30.

Wednesday, March 7: Town (and on the way) seniors go each

Letter To The Editor

I truly am surprised at the proposal for utility services to Riverbend Subdivision. Having been in, or connected to, the development business in Washtenaw County for almost 30 years, never were we provided with new services. In every instance it was the responsibility of the developer to provide ALL utility services, road construction, landscaping or any other amenity required. As a matter of fact, if our development had the least impact on the capacity of existing water or sewer capacity, we were required to participate in the upgrading cost of the existing facilities.

Once again, the lack of a village manager who is able to sort out the problems before they arise or are submitted to council becomes apparent. Council is a legislative body and if they so chose to subsidize a local developer, council would have to answer for its actions.

Strange that the existing village president keeps stubbing her toes. Lack of knowledge, understanding or what? Let's hope there's no kickbacks or under-the-board dealings.

Thank you,
Emory Garlick

"First Class" Mail Carrier Retires

Jake Houck, postmaster presents certificate to Ruth Days.

Janet LaBeau Shurtliff

There were flowers and speeches, an award and a gift. All to say "Thank you for a great job" to Ruth Days, a Manchester postal worker retiring after 10 years of service to the Manchester area.

Fellow workers saluted Mrs. Days last Friday morning with a party and ceremony in the back of the new post office.

Jacob Houck, postmaster in Manchester, presented Ruth Days with a "Service Award" given by the United States Postal Service "in grateful appreciation for her dedicated service."

Mrs. Days' always began her day in the back of the post office in her small cubicle. Here she sorted the batches of mail for her route, arranging it into bundles for each resident, in order along the route she delivered. "My route goes all around," Mrs. Days said, from East Main to Hogan Road; from Sharon Hollow to Bemis; from Riverbend to Schneider; from City Road to Pleasant Lake.

And many points between. "I have 465 patrons and drive 52 miles on the route," she said. But that was last week.

Ruth Days' fine work for the United States Postal Service and the patrons on her route has ended. She will now relax with her handcraft work and perhaps some traveling.

The Manchester post office will add a fifth route and split up Mrs. Days' route.

And we all, postal workers, patrons on her route, and friends in the community, wish her well in her retirement!

Men Turning 26

Young men who will turn 26 in 1990 will be reaching an important milestone, according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on January 1, 1990, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1982 will be turning 26 and will no longer be eligible for induction should a draft be reinstated. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

Mr. William S. Rosenquist manager of Area Office 8 located in Ann Arbor, warned that with few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain benefits, such as federal student aid, job training and most federal employment in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon.

Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state supported colleges and universities, state employment and permission to practice law.

Mr. Rosenquist points out that men age 18 through 25 who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in prison, or both.

Over 14 million men, age 18 through 25 are currently registered with Selective Service.

Candidate Forum At Chamber Breakfast

And each one touched on how running for office was for them an opportunity to give back to the Village they cared so much about through public service.

Joe Marshall talked about the challenges in the 90's which he saw as "recycling and solid waste disposal" and "land use - what's going to be where."

Bill Kwolek included the thought that "doers stick together. This town acts as a unit rather than factions." He concluded, "I'm proud to be part of it."

Chris Brooks contrasted his experiences here in Manchester with his previous residency in Mt. Clemens. He values this community for the abundance of friendliness and commitment. And he wants to do what he can to help.

Deborah Havens offered her skills in problem solving to the Village government and the community. She talked of "reaching out to get input" from the community about difficult issues, not just holding "passive hearings."

Regarding the issue of pay for council members, she stated she would not accept any pay, but rather turn it back to the Village.

Then the audience began with questions. Being a Chamber of Commerce group, it was not surprising the main focus of questioning was on business issues. Wayne Hamilton, owner of Manchester Stamping, asked if the Village had a plan to work in harmony with business/industry and residents, "between the people who live here and the businesses who do business here - a plan for industry?"

Bill Kwolek's response to the question included a historical perspective. He described how the Double A property came to be developed and other general industrial zones within residential areas. He discussed the efforts to make the best out of these difficult past decisions.

He stated, "These problems exist from the past. And they have been addressed with the industrial park."

Deb Havens called for both industry and residents to be "good neighbors" and to respect each other. "I'm very optimistic," she said.

Chris Brooks said, although his background is in finance, he is "more residential oriented than industrial oriented."

And Joe Marshall pointed out that our Village government plan is "somewhat different" from the textbook version.

The subject of the industrial park elicited this question: "Is it true the Village only owns 2/3rds of the area we think of as the industrial park? That we own only the two sides and not the section in the middle?"

The incumbents Marshall and Kwolek confirmed this was true. When asked "Why?" they said they were not on council at the time of the purchases.

Much discussion ensued on how best to find clients for the "industrial park." The discussion revealed that both the Washtenaw Development Council and Consumers Power act as search committees for the Village.

One question not connected to business was about why the council meetings are held on Mondays when so many other groups meet that night. Was it possible to consider another night?

Joe Marshall said council would be open to suggestions.

The Manchester Village election will be held Monday, March 12, at the Village Hall from 7:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m.

One candidate will be chosen for Village president and three for Village council.

Pork Paprika Perks Up Winter Meals

Convinced that you'll feel hungry or deprived after a "heart-healthy" meal? Not true. This winter indulge in "heart" eating — enjoy delicious food which is not only heart-smart but satisfying, too!

With heart disease a leading health problem, more than ever we are checking labels and watching what we eat. Unfortunately, many of us are disheartened to find that many favorite foods are often high in fat, cholesterol and/or sodium.

But, with some imagination and creativity, many traditional winter specialties, such as robust soups and stews, hot casseroles and "sinful" side dishes, can still be enjoyed — and without guilt! For starters, follow these tips:

- Substitute low-fat, low-cholesterol ingredients for those higher in fat and cholesterol. For example, use canned evaporated skim milk in place of heavy cream and No Yolks cholesterol-free egg noodles (0 mg cholesterol per serving) in place of regular egg noodles (54 mg cholesterol per serving).
- Select only lean meat, fish and poultry. Trim visible fat from meat before cooking. Remove skin from poultry.
- Use cooking spray and nonstick pans for sauteing.

This updated version of pork paprika is delicious and heart-healthy. Served over cholesterol-free egg noodles, which look like, cook like and taste like regular egg noodles, it's just as tasty and satisfying as the traditional recipe.

"Heart" Pork Paprika

- |   |                                      |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| 1/3 package (4 oz.) No Yolks cholesterol-free egg noodles   | 1 garlic clove, minced               |
| 1 tablespoon olive oil                                      | 2 tablespoons water                  |
| 1 pound pork tenderloin, cut into 1 x 1/2 x 1/4-inch strips | 1 cup reduced-fat sour cream product |
| 1 small onion, thinly sliced                                | 1 tablespoon sweet paprika           |
|   | 1/8 teaspoon salt                    |

Cook No Yolks according to package directions without salt. Meanwhile, heat oil in large nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Add pork, onions and garlic. Cook, stirring constantly, until pork is cooked through and vegetables are tender, 3 to 5 minutes. Reduce heat to low; add water and stir to loosen any browned bits. Stir in sour cream, paprika and salt; heat through. Drain noodles. Serve pork and sauce over noodles. Makes 4 (1-1/2 cup) servings.

Nutritive values per serving: 365 calories; 33 g protein; 30 g carbohydrate; 13 g fat; 79 mg cholesterol; 227 mg sodium.

For additional recipes send stamped, self-addressed #10 envelope to: No Yolks, 520 E. Church St., Libertyville, IL 60048.

Recreation Action Committee

Recreation Action Committee will meet Saturday, March 3 at 9:00 a.m. in the Manchester High School Auditorium.

Approximately 75 people have been involved with planning for recreational activities in Manchester since the January 27 Town Meeting. Many more residents are invited to take part in planning and implementing future programs.

Remember the Raisin Pickers at the Gazebo last summer? They are ready to set the stage for a community square dance in early spring. They need volunteers to do publicity, plan the food and whatever else necessary to make it a success.

Would you like to see a circus come to town? Let us hear from you. A community theater group is a dream for Manchester. Join the action group and help make it become reality.

Comments, questions, or share an idea, contact Dianne at the Community Resource Center, 428-7722.

Shakespeare Reading Club

The club had a very enjoyable time on February 20 when we celebrated "Ladies Day" at Emanuel church. First we ate a delicious meal with the senior citizens and then went to the lounge to read a shortened version of "Hamlet" with everyone taking a part. We talked about the Shakespeare plays we had given in the past. Our committee members of Wilma Bucholtz and Charlotte Timmerman did a wonderful job to make our day so happy.

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 6 at 2:00 p.m. at the home of Alta Parr. Lenora Parr has chosen "Laura Haveland, and the Underground Railroad" for her topic. She will also read a poem to us as she does at every meeting. Our roll call will be to name a famous black person.

JV "Volleydutch" Finish Atop Conference

Manchester's J.V. volleyball team has closed conference play with a 6-1 record. This mark puts the young Dutch atop the conference. On February 22, State power Hanover-Horton entered the "Dutchdome" and were given a beating: 15-4, 15-6.

Manchester, 11-3 overall, relies on the unrelenting blocking of April Barrett and the blistering spikes dealt out by Amy Lannom. Krista Sahakian and Joanne Kemner also provide an offense that strikes fear in opponents' eyes. Sandra Wiitala joins Krista to run the show for the Dutch. The duo make good on 85% of their sets. Julie Morgan rounds out the starting lineup. She provides the Dutch with tough defense, and a serve that is all but automatic, 95%.

The spirit provided by the Dutch bench and head cheerleader, Jill Faulhaber, is yet another weapon this team possesses. The bench, however, provides more than just spirit; they give coach Gilmore access to a wealth of talent. Faulhaber provides the team with a consistent serve off the bench. Kim Reeb is a quick little defense-woman that often gets the call. Sharon Fielder is an all-around player who can be called on to replace a starter who is "off." Lynette Wackenhut adds primarily to the Dutch offense as she has developed a "whopping" spike. Additional depth is provided by Valerie Haeussler, Dawn Saulkauskas, Michelle Mann, Natalie Stantz, and Karen Hamilton.

In addition to boasting the best conference record and beating Hanover-Horton head-to-head, the young lady Dutch also brought home a trophy for the case by winning a tournament hosted by Addison.

Coach Gilmore adds, "Watch this team. They're going to shake up the Cascades Conference by denying Hanover their monopoly on power. They're a great group of kids; they've been real easy to work with."

The J.V. joins the Varsity in hosting Adrian Madison on February 28th.

America's first aerial photograph was taken from balloon over Boston in 1860. Taken by J.W. Black, it was entitled "Boston as the Eagle and the Wild Goose See It."

Wednesday, March 7: 6:30 pm AWANA Bible Clubs for kids through Junior Varsity, 7 pm Prayer Hour & Bible Study

Mrs. Savage's first grade class at Klager School invited school nurse, Mrs. Jane Howlett to visit their room on Valentine's Day so they could learn more about their hearts.

The class learned that no one can live without a heart and that the heart is about the size of a fist and has 4 rooms or chambers.

Mrs. Howlett told the children that the heart is made of muscle and it is a very strong pump. Blood moves through the body because it is being pushed by the heart.

They watched a model named Dudley as they squeezed a pump and red water flowed through his body.

It was fun listening to each other's hearts with a stethoscope.

World Day Of Prayer

This year the World Day of Prayer service was written by Christian women of Czechoslovakia with a theme "A Better Tomorrow - Justice for All." Czechoslovakia, a small country with 15 million inhabitants, lies in the very heart of Europe. Mountains alternate with fertile lowlands.

We are indeed fortunate to have a woman living in the Manchester area who has recently visited Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Yugoslavia, and Kiev, Russia. Mrs. Mae Hardenbergh will share her pictures and experiences at the World Day of Prayer service to be held at the Sharon United Methodist Church Friday, March 2, 1:30 p.m. Fellowship time following.

John Bettig To Speak

John Bettig, former Russian department head for Trans World Radio, the largest Christian broadcasting network, will be speaking at Faith Community church this Sunday at 10:00 a.m. Rev. Bettig is presently a TWR mission representative and will be discussing the impact of political change on religious freedom in eastern communist bloc countries. There will be a time provided for questions at 11:30.

Mobile Unit Offers Mammograms

We have known for years that mammograms, when combined with effective breast self-examination and regular physical exams from a physician, can maximize the chances of finding breast cancer in its earliest stages when it can be almost 100% curable. Yet studies released last week show that only 28% of Michigan women over 40 have regular mammograms!

A mammogram is a low dose x-ray of the breast tissue that can often find the first evidence of breast cancer years before symptoms would occur. The procedure is safe, quick and for most women only mildly uncomfortable.

Most women are becoming aware that mammograms should be an important part of her preventive health program. The American Cancer Society recommends that all women between 35 and 40 have a baseline mammogram. All women between 40-49 should have a mammogram every 1 to 2 years and all women over 50 have one every year.

For many women, it is difficult to take time out of their busy day to schedule this examination, especially since they feel absolutely fine! But that is precisely the purpose of regular mammograms - to find the cancer long before the symptoms occur. So the state-of-the-art mobile program is bringing mammograms and breast cancer education to the women. Corporations, school districts, communities and churches throughout Michigan are scheduling the mobile unit on site in the hopes that more women will be encouraged and motivated to have a regular mammogram.

On Wednesday, March 7, the

The Wrestling Report

Last Friday and Saturday, the Individual State Championships were held at the Battle Creek Central Fieldhouse. Manchester had a couple of fine young men representing the community there: Chris Wiethoff and Bill Day. In round one of the sixteen-man bracket, Chris faced Shawn Lausch of Eau Claire. He was defeated 11-2 by his opponent who later became state champion at 119 lbs. But Chris wrestled much better than the score indicated. Bill Day was paired with Murl Homister of Shepherd in the first round. This defending state champion of a year ago technical-falled Bill, but again, I thought he wrestled well.

Both dropped to the consultations and at best could place no higher than 3rd. Chris now found himself head to head with Scott Parker of Memphis. It was a no-contest as "Wiet" drilled him 16-2 to advance. Bill was up against Denny Springer of Grayling. It was all over in 1 minute 40 seconds and Bill was eliminated from the tournament. In the second round of the consultations, Chris would face an old foe in Todd Corbin of Addison. In a close 3-0 match, Chris was defeated and watched as both of his defeats went on to place 1st and 5th.

Even though neither of our men were able to place, I felt they wrestled well and had a good season. Just getting to that tournament is a great achievement. I am proud of both of them.

The season isn't over just yet. We are one of the fortunate 8 class "C" teams who are in the State Quarter Finals. From the top of the bracket the teams are: New Lothrop vs Edwardsburg, Constantine vs Hart, Manchester vs Addison, and Shepherd vs Grayling. Grass Lake is also in the semi-finals of class "D". Which says a lot for the Cascade Conference.

Most everyone, with the exception of a few, are writing the "Maroon Machine" off in the first round wrestling the defending state champions and a team who has twice soundly pounded us. But I am not ready to jump ship just yet. There are at least a half dozen matches which could swing in our favor. Oh, yea, we are the dark horses here and Addison is already looking by us to Shepherd. Maybe, just maybe, we can ruin their day. You never know.

Wrestling for class "C" starts at 6:30 p.m. in the Kellogg Center Battle Creek. Wish us luck!

Kindergartners Celebrate "M's" Birthday

Mrs. Hankamp plays a special M game with students. They pretended that they were mirrors and repeated their teacher's movements.

The kindergartners in Mrs. Supers' and Mrs. Hankamp's classes learned the "M" sound through a variety of "M" activities. On "M's" birthday last week, the children practiced writing the letter "M", used "M&M's" for math, listed to the story of "Merry Mouse" who had the measles, located Manchester on the Michigan map, marched, munched on snacks, brought in articles for sharing that started with "M", made mittens and went to a mime assembly.

Deadline Nearing

Increasing numbers of Michigan farmers are insuring their crops for the first time to guard against the disastrous effects of drought, flood, hail and similar hazards, according to Jim Gallagher, director of the Farm Bureau Insurance subsidiary that writes federal crop insurance. Gallagher said his company wrote over 4,500 crop insurance policies in Michigan in 1989 compared to 542 the year before.

"Keeping a crop insurance policy continuously in force is a necessity in the high-risk business of farming," he said. "It makes sure that one bad year won't take back all the profits a farmer made in the good years."

Gallagher reminded farmers that the deadline for spring crop sign-up is April 15. The cost of crop insurance, which protects most crops against almost any kind of unavoidable loss, including drought, hail, too much rain, deer damage, freezes and disease, is based on each farmer's individual yield experience and the level of coverage selected.

Amendment To The Freedom Township Zoning Ordinance
ORDINANCE NO. 6G

AN ORDINANCE TO REPLACE SECTION 10.2, SUBSECTION A - STATEMENT OF INTENT FOR USE DISTRICTS-RURAL DISTRICTS, SECTION 10.03A - SCHEDULE OF USE REGULATIONS-RURAL DISTRICTS, SECTION 10.04A - SECTION OF AREA, PLACEMENT AND HEIGHT REGULATIONS-RURAL DISTRICT.

THE TOWNSHIP OF FREEDOM ORDAINS:

SECTION 10.02 - STATEMENT OF INTENT FOR USE DISTRICTS

A. Rural Districts

1. Recreation-Conservation District (RC) - The value to the public of certain areas of the Township is derived from the natural condition and features of these areas. This ordinance recognizes that the best use of such areas is the development, management and utilization of the natural resource base possessed by these areas. In order that value may be maintained and use encouraged, this zoning district is designed to preserve and enhance these natural amenities. It is the intent of this district to permit those uses, buildings, and structures which can operate or be located in areas of natural amenities in a compatible manner and to prohibit those uses, buildings, or structures which might detract from or injure or destroy these amenities. It is further the intent of this district to permit compatible uses, buildings and structures only at a low density as an add-d guarantee of compatibility.

2. Essential Agricultural District - A-1 (Sliding Scale) - The purpose of this district is to preserve, for agricultural activity, to the greatest extent possible those areas in the Township which have been designated as essential agricultural lands in the Township's General Development Plan, while allowing a limited amount of non-farm housing. To this end the number of non-farm dwellings allowed on a parcel of land, which is a parcel of record at the time this ordinance is adopted, shall be based on a schedule of density contained in this article. However, it should be noted that the primary intended use of this district is agricultural activities and that there may be odors, dust and noise associated with these activities which are not compatible with residences.

It is recognized that the public health and welfare of the citizens of Freedom Township, Washtenaw County, the State of Michigan, and the United States are greatly dependent upon the sustenance and economic benefits provided by a viable agricultural industry. This district is intended to insure that land areas within Freedom Township which are well suited for production of food and fiber are retained for such production, unimpeded by the establishment of incompatible uses which would hinder agricultural practices and irretrievably deplete agricultural lands.

The Essential Agricultural District has the following specific purposes and objectives.

- 1) Protect prime farmland from speculative increases in land values.
- 2) Prevent fragmentation of farmlands by division into small parcels.
- 3) Prevent loss of prime farmland.
- 4) Prevent conflicts between agricultural activities and residences.
- 5) Prevent encroachment of urban and suburban services into agricultural areas.
- 6) Minimize cost of providing services to rural areas.
- 7) Encourage long-term investment in improvements needed to maintain and expand agricultural production by creating a stable environment for such production.
- 8) Reduce the amount of land consumed in rural areas for non-agricultural use.
- 9) Prevent intrusion of uses into farm areas which are incompatible with general farming activities.
- 10) Permit services which are necessary to support farming activities.

The Essential Agricultural District is intended to be used in those parts of Freedom Township which are designated for permanent agricultural use in the Townships adopted master plan and in the adopted land use policies of Washtenaw County.

Capitol Design Contest

State Senator Lana Pollack (D-Ann Arbor) encourages artistic high school students in the Washtenaw County area to participate in a design contest that the Legislature is sponsoring as part of the restoration of the State Capitol.

"High school students throughout Michigan are being invited to submit a design for a decorative glass ceiling panel that will be installed in both the Senate and House chambers," Pollack said. "With the wealth of artistic talent that we have in our area, I hope some of the local high school students will submit entries. This is an excellent opportunity for a student to have his or her work become part of the beautiful, historic restoration of the Capitol," she added.

The student who submits the winning entry will receive a $2,000 savings bond. The black and white design must illustrate a Michigan theme. Suggested themes include agriculture, industry, commerce or tourism; a state symbol like the robin or apple blossom; Michigan lakes and waterways; mining and forestry; and landmarks.

Freedom Township

Synopsis
February 13, 1990

The meeting was called to order with all board members present. Minutes and Treasurer's report were approved with $30,984.22 in the General Fund and $4.10 in the Liquor Fund.

Various communications were read and discussed. The board approved back payments requested by the village for the transfer site lease with 6% interest. Voegeding, from the planning commission, reported that meetings are still being held concerning the tank farm proposed by Total Petroleum.

Old business included amending the building inspection resolution from January 9 to wages of $22.50 per inspection and $.24 per mile.

Under new business, the board approved a resolution amending the zoning ordinance to create sliding scale zoning in agricultural districts. The Freedom Township annual meeting will be held March 31, 1990, 1:00 p.m. at the Freedom Town Hall. Salary resolutions were also approved.

Bills #2703 through 2722 were approved for payment. Meeting adjourned 10:30 p.m.

Scouts Do Radio Promos

Nicole Bisard rehearses for her taping on WPZA while Erika Panches and Jenny Sahakian watch.

Ten local girl scouts from Troop 596 learned about radio production first hand on President's Day. With the help of Lucy Ann Lance from WPZA, co-host of the WPZA's morning show, the girls taped public service announcements about the girl scout's annual cookie sale. Their announcements will run periodically until March 15th.

The girls also toured the Ann Arbor News and Community Access television as part of the Media Day designed to give the girls first hand experience with local media and learn about career opportunities. At Community Access the girls taped a fashion video they produced. On Valentine's Day, the girls put on a Mom and Me Night featuring a fashion show. Sandi Winzenz, a local Mary Kay consultant, did a skin-wellness program and a makeover of a lucky mom and daughter. The program ended with a court of awards. Kathy Doyle, Erika Panches and Jenny Sahakian received the Sign of the World, completing their 4th and final Junior Sign. Laura Griffin and Jamie Knouse received their 3rd sign, the Sign of the Rainbow. This has been a busy year for the troop. Troop service projects included reverse trick-or-treating at the Saline Evangelical Home, sorting food for the Manchester Family Service Shop, and Christmas caroling. The girls took part in a winter camp-in at Camp Linden with a side trip to Frankenmuth. They had a volleyball clinic with coach Gilmore. At Marti's Salon, the girls learned about hair care and careers in cosmetology. In January, the girls surveyed the handicap accessibility of their school in wheel-chairs and presented the school board with a report of their findings. The Manchester High School S.A.A.D. chapter also presented a program for the girls on alcohol and substance abuse.

Future plans include attending the Fisher Theater to see Peter Pan, presenting a brownie badge workshop for Troop 706, a huge yard sale in May to raise funds for an extended summer trip and the Spring Fling Encampment with cadette and senior troops from the Huron Valley Council.

The scouts of Troop 596 are Lisa Anderson, Erin Binder, Nicole Bisard, Leah Bragg, Kathy Doyle, Maggie Gistingier, Heather Green, Laura Griffin, Michelle Helfrich, Amy Hlavka, Heather Kester, Jamie Knouse, Diane Kruse, Amber Marek, Erika Panches, Jenny Sahakian and Debbie Walter. The leaders of the troop are Marilyn Knouse, Julie Messing and Pat Sahakian. Gistingier and Gistingier are the troop sponsors.

Update Family Favorites With Rainbow Trout

Rainbow trout stars in this updated, glamorous version of an old favorite, the tuna melt. Served at lunchtime or as a quick supper, this Rainbow Trout Melt is a delicious, healthful alternative to sodium-laden canned tuna.

Since rainbow trout takes only minutes to cook, families can enjoy a wonderful meal in on time at all. Quickly saute or broil rainbow trout fillets until fish turns opaque and flakes easily with a fork. Topped with tomato slices and your favorite melted cheese, this tender, juicy fillet is perfect with pickle, red onion and lettuce on rye bread.

You'll be surprised how easy it is to prepare a nutritious meal that's tasty too. Rainbow trout is an excellent source of Omega-3 fatty acids, which are good for the heart and can reduce cholesterol levels.

For additional time-saving tips, buy sandwich garnishes from the salad bar in the produce department. To complete the meal, serve Rainbow Trout Melt with prepared salads from the deli and dessert from the bakery.

For more rainbow trout recipes, send a self-addressed, business size, stamped envelope to: Updated Family Recipes, c/o SY&T, 1000 Sansome Street, Suite 375, San Francisco, California, 94111.

RAINBOW TROUT MELT

- 4 Clear Springs* Idaho Rainbow Trout fillets (4-ounces each)
2 Tomatoes, sliced
8 Cheese slices, (American, Jack or Swiss)
Garnishes: rye toast points, red onion slices, lettuce, pickles

Broil trout 4 inches from heat source for about 3 to 5 minutes or until fish flakes with fork. Remove from broiler; top each fillet with 2 or 3 slices of tomato and 2 slices of cheese. Broil until cheese is melted. Serve with toast and garnish with onion, lettuce, and pickle. Makes 4 servings. Approximately 340 calories per serving.

Early Blood Recipients Alerted

If you received a blood transfusion between 1977 and 1985, it is recommended that you contact your personal physician to discuss whether you should be tested for possible exposure to the AIDS virus.

The recommendation was issued by the American Hospital Association, the National Center for Disease Control and the Infection Control Committee at Saline Community Hospital.

The Center for Disease Control has estimated 12,000 people living in the United States may have been infected with the Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) through blood transfusions and may, therefore, develop AIDS. These transfusions cover the period from 1977 to 1985.

Prior to April 1985, when the Red Cross began its program of testing for the presence of the AIDS antibody, some of the blood used in transfusions unknowingly contained the AIDS virus. Since April 1985, the risk of being infected with the AIDS virus through a blood transfusion is less than 1 in 400,000.

AIDS is a disease that breaks down the body's immune system and ability to fight infections, thus leaving the person susceptible to life threatening illnesses. When AIDS was discovered in 1981, it was thought to be a sexually transmitted disease. Now it is known that the AIDS virus can be spread through contact with infected blood.

If you have any questions about the AIDS virus or testing, contact your physician.

Bush Would Eliminate Crop Insurance

In his recent federal budget message, President Bush called for elimination of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. in 1991.

"The idea probably won't set well with the nation's farmers who are just becoming conditioned to the need for a revamped crop insurance program to replace the costly disaster assistance programs passed by Congress in 1983, 1986, 1988 and 1989," said Bob Craig, Michigan Farm Bureau economist.

"Many lawmakers feel farmers should make use of crop insurance instead of relying on disaster relief programs, but less than half the planted acreage was protected by crop insurance in 1989. The program pays out 2.5 times more than it collects in premiums," he said.

A Commission for the Improvement of the Federal Crop Insurance Program, on which Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie served, has made recommendations to Congress. Craig said that perhaps President Bush's proposal was designed to force Congress to start making improvements on the loss-plagued program.

As we enter this new decade,

Dairy Prices To Dip

Dairy producers should see lower prices soon, according to Kevin Kirk, dairy specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau, but he doesn't believe they will drop as far as they did in 1989.

"The seasonal price decline is especially vivid in 1990 because drought-driven milk prices soared 25 percent last year," he said. "My advice to dairy farmers who are coping with the potential price drop is to be conservative in major expenditures in 1990."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture expects milk production to increase between one and three percent this year.

concern continues to mount over the safety of our food supply. Pesticide use, groundwater contamination, and other health risks associated with convention agriculture are common topics in news media across the country. A growing demand for residue-free and organically grown food products reflects the public's increasing nervousness toward chemical-intensive agricultural practices.

At the center of all this attention are the farmers who after suffering the farm recession of the 80's, still struggle to survive in the face of low prices for what they grow.

Therefore, on March 8 a panel of local farmers, conventional and organic, will come together to discuss their current concerns and distinct approaches to dealing with this issue. There will be an opportunity for audience questions and comments following the formal program. Refreshments will be served during this free program.

The Village Paper

home and city markets, so that he can take advantage of the fluctuations of prices. He needs it also for advertising of farms and farm products, and if necessary to speak for him when his rights are being infringed upon.

The community at large needs it to inform them of what is constantly passing within their own borders, and with which they are specially interested - to tell them of times, events, meetings of all kinds, which they have been unable personally to attend - to tell of births, marriages, sickness and deaths, which it behooves them to know so that their words and conduct shall be that which is right and proper.

These things being true, every man, every household, should take the local paper, aid and encourage it in every proper way. Make it a power for good, financial and moral, by a large subscription list and generous advertising.

The more liberally it is supported, the more efficient it becomes, and the better work it can do. The local paper is very generous in its way, placing many notices in its columns without charge which ought, as advertisements and business matters, to be paid for.

A liberal support enables the editor to make it a newspaper such as the people will like, and in so doing he is carrying the advertisements of his patrons into every household. These things need to be understood, so that the whole community will deal wisely and justly by their local paper.

So friend, do not borrow your neighbor's paper, but take one of your own. It costs little, but will repay you much. It becomes monotonous and tiresome to have you continually bothering other people to supply your wants.

Do not plant yourself down in stores and offices and monopolize other people's property to their irritation and contempt, but subscribe to the paper yourself, and around your own fireside read and comment on the news, and if you will, smoke the pipe of contentment, independence and peace.

Be a man, economize a few dimes in other directions, and take the paper. Be too gentlemanly to play the loafer and sponger on other people's money and property, but have a subscription, a fireside, and an easy chair of your own.

Governor's Conference On Agriculture

The future direction of Michigan's food and agriculture industry and the issue of food safety are likely to be the topics when the 1990 Governor's Conference on Agriculture takes place April 17 & 18, 1990 at the Clarion Hotel & Conference Center, Lansing. The annual conference is the only statewide event that brings together all segments of Michigan's food chain - growers, wholesalers, processors, retailers and restaurateurs - together with leaders from the non-food sectors of the industry to discuss mutual problems and opportunities.

feeling confident in the safety of food products to 58 percent of the people expressing concern about the safety of their food," Mitchell said. "It is time for the industry to develop a comprehensive strategy to restore consumer confidence."

The Futures Team 2020 is a blue-ribbon panel of Michigan leaders who have worked for over a year to develop a long-range strategic plan to position the food and agriculture industry as a dynamic contributor to the state's economic health into the 21st century.

Farm Income Could Top $50 Billion

U.S. Department of Agriculture economists are predicting that farmers' net cash income could top $50 billion this year for the fourth consecutive year. While cash returns, the difference between gross cash receipts and cash expenses, may top 1989 levels by 2 to 4 percent this year, net income - which also takes into account changes in the value of inventory, depreciation and other cost items - could be that much below the $48 billion earned in 1989, according to USDA.

The decline of direct subsidy payments to farmers also is likely to affect farm income. Costs of direct government payments rose to $16.7 billion in 1987, dropped to $11.5 billion in 1988, hitting about $11 billion in 1989. USDA projections put 1990 payments in the range of $8 billion to $11 billion.

Varsity Action - Dave Mitchell

On Tuesday night we hosted Vandercook Lake. What I thought would be no contest was a no contest except for a brief Jayhawk rally. At the end of one period of play, we stood atop 18-3. This game was half over with us in control, 33-18. At the end of the third period we still controlled 50-38 when the Jayhawks got hot. We brought our starters back in and they dominated to win 68-48.

Lenawee County Remains Candidate For Facility

Based on interpretation of newly developed wetlands data, the candidate areas in Ontonagon and St. Clair counties are being excluded from further consideration in the siting process for a low-level radioactive waste facility, it was announced today by the Michigan Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority.

James F. Cleary, Commissioner of the Authority, said the presence, frequency, size and location of wetlands in those areas, as defined under the State's Goemaere-Anderson Wetlands Protection Act (Act 203, 1979) and as required by the State law which establishes the criteria for the low-level radioactive waste siting process (Act 204, 1987), led to his decision to exclude those areas.

"The presence of wetlands throughout the Ontonagon and St. Clair candidate areas made it difficult to identify areas sufficient large enough to characterize parcels of land of 2,500 to 4,000 acres that are necessary to allow flexibility in the final placement of a 1,200-acre candidate site as will be required under State law," said Cleary.

He said that the Lenawee County candidate area allows for this flexibility and for that reason will continue to be evaluated. But Cleary said he plans to analyze additional wetlands information for that area along with other criteria being applied in this phase of the process, such as water well logs and other groundwater information.

"This does not mean that the three final sites will automatically be located in Lenawee County," Cleary said. "There is a lot of additional data to be collected and analyzed."

In further explaining the basis for today's decision to exclude the Ontonagon and St. Clair candidate areas, Cleary said:

"Final siting criteria prohibit placement of the disposal unit, that is, the actual waste storage area, within 6,000 feet of areas where groundwater discharges to the land surface. Many wetlands provide these connections.

"It was determined that these criteria could not be met in either the Ontonagon or St. Clair candidate areas. The Ontonagon and St. Clair candidate areas were excluded under Michigan statutes, which are very restrictive.

Before reaching today's decision, Cleary said Authority staff reviewed the new data earlier this week with Dr. Stephen Brown, an expert on wetlands who is assisting the Authority as a member of its Public Advisory Committee.

The new wetlands information recently provided to the Authority by the Department of Natural Resources and the Environmental Research Institute of Michigan, which were utilized by Cleary to make today's announcement, included more up-to-date-by-county base maps, soils maps, and land cover use map.

Other data sources included a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service wetlands inventory and co-occurrence maps which depict the association of vegetative cover and hydric soil conditions. These maps have been made available by the Authority to legislators, local officials, interested citizens, and public libraries in Lenawee, Ontonagon, and St. Clair counties.

New Credit Claim For Low-Income Seniors

Help with those prescription drug bills is possible for low-income older people who file credit claims between January 1 and June 1, says Olivia P. Maynard, director of the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging.

To determine whether or not you may be eligible, answer these questions. Are you age 65 or older? If single, is your household income less than $8,970, or if married, less than $12,030? Did you spend at least 5% of your household income for prescription drugs in 1989?

If your answer is yes to all of the above and you are a Michigan resident, the credit is yours, says Maynard, whose office is working with the Michigan Department of Treasury to get the word out to senior citizens.

To apply for the credit, you must complete a Prescription Drug Credit Claim form and file it with the Department of Treasury no later than June 1. Drug credit checks will be processed and mailed out by Treasury after this date.

If you are not certain of the

amount you spent for prescription drugs last year, you may want to contact your local pharmacist and ask for a year-end report of your 1989 prescription drug purchases. The amounts paid by Medicaid or which you were reimbursed by other insurance cannot be counted.

The maximum credit for a single person is $600. For married couples, both over 65, the maximum is $1200.

Credit claim forms can be obtained by contacting the Department of Treasury at 1-800-877-6424, or the Office of Services to the Aging at 517-373-8230. Your local Secretary of State or public library may also have forms available.

It's a mystery fit for the likes of Jessica Fletcher, Theo Kojak or any of the other well-known fictionalized TV sleuths. To date, this baffling mystery has stumped the best of scientific minds. Even a crack multi-state detective team has yet to come up with a single sound explanation for the deadly goings-on.

What we're talking about here is not your typical television murder-mystery fare though. Under consideration is the mysterious die-off of a portion of Lake Michigan's sizeable Chinook salmon population. So far not enough fish have died as to truly endanger the lake's outstanding salmon sport fishery. But those fish which have died have caused the fisheries scientists and biologists as well as sport anglers and outdoor observers from throughout the Great Lakes region genuine concern.

First occurring in 1988 and again this past year, certain of southern Lake Michigan's large salmon population began showing up dead. A malady formally known as Bacterial Kidney Disease (or BKD for short) is suspected in part as the culprit. But why the disease, common among even healthy fish populations and normally not lethal, should suddenly begin causing the deaths of Chinook salmon (sometimes referred to as king salmon) remains baffling. Why is it that primarily Chinooks and not other salmon or trout die? And why should the deaths occur among only southern Lake Michigan fish? (So far no other Great Lakes fish than those inhabiting southern Lake Michigan waters have succumbed to the disease.)

Conjecture is that unknown stresses are causing the fish population, normally capable of successfully warding off the disease, to die one-by-one. Theories abound among fisheries managers though as to just what causes the lethal stress - environmental problems such as water quality, ecological problems such as changing food webs and foraging patterns, and as yet unidentified disease problems have all been blamed - but none has thus far been established as fact.

Michigan sport anglers are advised to remain patient. The Chinook deaths, though admittedly distressing, don't spell the end of the southern Lake Michigan salmon sport fishery. And, to reiterate, no other Great Lakes waters have been affected thus far. The "cure" for BKD disease and a halt to the deaths won't come overnight to be sure. But come it will - Great Lakes fisheries managers are confident of that.

An English highway boasts the smallest underpass in the world—a tunnel one foot wide which was constructed to permit badgers to get to the other side of the road.

YOUR HOME CAN BE THE KEY TO TAX SAVINGS

From the day you sign your mortgage papers, your house can make your life a lot less taxing, says the Michigan Association of CPAs. Here are just a few basic tips on how to make the most of your homeowner tax deductions.

Get the Points

At the beginning, there are "points" -- fees that a lender charges when you secure a mortgage to purchase a house. Each point represents 1 percent of the loan's total amount. For instance, a charge of three points of a $100,000 mortgage equals $3,000. Pay the points with personal funds and they are usually fully deductible as mortgage interest in the year paid. If, on the other hand, you pay the points from the loan proceeds, you will most likely have to deduct the points over the life of the mortgage, usually 15 to 30 years.

The real benefits of real estate taxes.

Real estate taxes may add to the cost of owning a home, but they can also help reduce the amount of income tax you owe. Generally, you can deduct any real estate tax charged against your property. Owners of cooperatives should note that they may be able to deduct their proportionate share of real estate taxes assessed on the building itself.

An interesting fact

The deduction for consumer interest may be down and almost out, but the itemized deduction for home mortgage interest remains largely untouched. In fact, you may deduct interest on loans of up to $1 million as long as you use the funds to construct, purchase or improve a principal or second residence.

You can also deduct interest on home equity loans of up to $100,000, providing the loan does not exceed the difference between your home's fair market value and the amount owed on it. Just remember that a home equity loan is, in fact, a mortgage; each withdrawal from an equity loan increases the amount of obligation held against your home.

Make the most of a rental

If you rent your second home for less than 15 days, the income is yours -- tax free. On the other hand, if you stay at your second home less than 15 days a year, or less than 10 percent of the time it is rented, your home is deemed a rental and you will have to report any income the property generates. However, you can offset the rental income by deducting a portion of the mortgage interest, the property tax and the home's depreciation. In addition, you can deduct a portion of such operating expenses as utilities, fire and liability insurance, repairs, advertising costs and even maid service.

Be aware that, under tax law, any net losses you incur while operating a rental are "passive losses." Unfortunately, this usually means that you may deduct them only from "passive income." But here's the good news. If you actively participate in renting the property, and your adjusted gross income (AGI) is $100,000 or less, you can deduct rental losses of up to $25,000 from your regular income. For owners with AGIs over $100,000, the $25,000 active rental loss allowance is reduced by 50 cents for every dollar of income above $100,000.

There's no business like home business

If you run a business out of your home, you have a few other reasons to smile. First, you may be able to depreciate your home office. Second, you can generally write off part of your various operating expenses, including utilities, for the office portion of your home. You can even deduct a portion of the cost of a home-security system.

As a general rule, to take a tax deduction for a home-based business, you must use the space exclusively and regularly as the principal place of business, or as a place where you frequently meet or deal with your clients, customers or patients. Deductions for business use of the home are allowed only to the extent of the taxpayer's net income from the business -- that is, gross income less deductions attributable to the business. The net effect of this limitation is that home office deductions may not be used to create or increase a net loss from the business conducted in the home.

Stop taxes from gaining on you

The house you bought for $60,000 years ago is about to sell for $250,000. You don't know if you should celebrate or get ready to foot the tax bill.

Break out the champagne. As long as you buy a new home whose cost equals or exceeds the selling price of the old house, the tax on the gain is deferred. If you spend less than the old house's selling price, however, the excess amount may be taxable income. And remember that the new house must be purchased within two years before or two years after the sale of your primary home.

A special break exists for older taxpayers. If you are age 55 or older, you may exclude gain of up to $125,000 on the sale of your home. Let's say you sell the quaint home you purchased for $45,000 back in 1958 for $270,000, for a gain of $225,000. You can roll $100,000 of the profit into a new home and pocket the remaining $125,000 -- and owe absolutely no taxes on the gain from selling your home. But be warned: This is a one-time only exclusion -- per individual or per couple. Use it too soon or at the wrong time, and you may regret it later.

Charity pays

Here's a new angle on converting your home into a handsome deduction. Contribute a "remainder interest" in your home to your favorite charity and take a substantial tax deduction in the year that you make the gift. A "remainder interest" means that you agree to allow the charity to take title and possession after you and your spouse pass away. While either of you are alive, you can continue to live in the house rent-free.

Remember, your home may be your castle, but it can also be your best tax break. CPAs advise you to proceed cautiously whenever making decisions that may affect your tax liability.
