WHAT'S ON TV?

Last week in this column, I discussed students and homework - how they put it off and how to get them to do it. This week, I'd like to talk about the one thing that most people think keeps kids from their studies - television.

Experts and theorists have been expounding on the negative effects of TV for years. TV rots brains, stifles creativity, causes violence, has ill effects on kids' health and physical fitness, makes them passive, kills imagination, and generally raises hell with kids' education - or so they say. Even such highly regarded educational shows as "Sesame Street" come under fire for being so quick-paced that they shorten children's attention spans.

But, for good or bad, television is here to stay. It is not the silly fad that some naysayers predicted in the fifties, and we should learn to live with it at home and especially in school. In fact, a recent study completed by researchers Daniel R. Anderson and Patricia A. Collins at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst indicates that the harmful effects of TV have been somewhat exaggerated. They say that no direct evidence shows that television gets in the way of reading, that it keeps kids from their homework, or that it shortens attention spans. What TV does, they say, is interfere with activities like going to the movies, playing, reading comic books. Now, interfering with play is a pretty serious thing; psychologists tell us that play is the work of childhood, the way kids learn how to deal with the real world later on. But there is little hard data to show that TV is actually detrimental to kids' development, intellectually or otherwise.

So, if this magic box in our living rooms isn't such a bad thing, is it any good? I think it can be if parents and teachers take advantage of the things it has to offer. One thing it can do, which, in fact, it can also interfere with, is to inspire family discussion. Lots of families watch TV instead of talking to each other, and that's a problem. But, if families watch TV together, it offers a wealth of ideas for discussion. Even the most inane sitcoms generally offer something of social consequence.

Not long ago, for example, I found myself watching, for God knows what reason, "Growing Pains," a show I find especially banal and mind numbing. This particular episode showed each of the three children in the family receiving a large sum of money and dealt with their respective problems of responsibility or irresponsibility in using the

Benefit Banquet

Look around the community. Notice all the work that is being accomplished by the people we call VOLUNTEERS.

Wednesday, May 2, at the Third Annual Benefit Dinner for the Community Resource Center, Manchester will have a second opportunity to recognize many special people who give of themselves when asked to serve our community.

All Manchester organizations and boards have been sent information extending the invitation to participate in the process of recognizing outstanding community volunteers. In May, 1989, 17 volunteers from 18 organizations were awarded certificates of recognition and one person, TV Ludwick, was presented the Claire Reck Outstanding Volunteer Award.

This year, in addition to organization nomination of volunteers, the residents of the community-at-large are encouraged to sponsor area citizens. A person may be sponsored by more than one organization or individual.

To receive information about sponsorship, contact the Community Resource Center, 428-7722.

All people nominated will receive recognition. A screening board chaired by John Swainson, will review the nominations and

Manchester Plastics Retains Rating

Manchester Plastics, Inc. is very proud to announce that after a three-day review, performed by Ford Motor Company, they have retained their QI rating.

The QI status allows the company to fly the blue flag underneath the American flag in front of the facility.

Manchester Plastics has been a QI supplier for Ford Motor Company since 1987. It should be noted that this is much more difficult to retain this status than the initial attainment.

This honor not only allows continuous Ford business, but enhances the future for more business. The credit belongs to Manchester Plastics' employees, the company indicates, and further states, "We believe in helping to support local business in Manchester."

The doctors are finding out a great many things nowadays, concerning the effects of externals and surroundings upon the physical condition and well-being of humanity. It has been a popular fallacy that a warm house must be unhealthy, and that perfect hygiene demands cool rooms and a low temperature. The apostles of latter day knowledge tell us, however, that our houses ought to be warm enough so that there is no sensation of chill. Warm houses are essential to health and beauty. Cold rooms send the blood inward, leaving the skin blue and pinched. The extra clothing worn to keep up the heat of the blood is injurious, dragging down the body with undue weight and exhausting vitality.

It is a mistaken economy to scrimp in fuel and keep everybody uncomfortable; moreover, the changes in temperature bring on rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred diseases. The constant heat should be sufficient to keep the blood warm at its normal temperature. Think how many colds are due to going into an unheated parlor to entertain chance callers, because the sitting room was a little out of order, or the parlor is better furnished! The guest, in her outer wrappings, is fairly comfortable; at least she is not shivering like the poor victim who tries to be cordial with her teeth chattering and the life blood turning to seeming ice in her veins. Better "put your pride in your pocket" and the company in an untidy room than interfere with the circulation of the vital fluid.

The cold weather of the present month should be a lesson to those who clean house early not to

Community Good Friday Service

The Manchester community has had a tradition of worshipping together on Good Friday for many, many years. This year's service will be held at 1:00 p.m., April 13 at the Sharon United Methodist Church, Rev. Erik Alsgaard, pastor. The Reverend Nancy Doty of the Emanuel United Church of Christ will speak.

The Sharon United Methodist Church is located at the corner of M-52 and Pleasant Lake Road. There is parking available on Pleasant Lake Road, in back of the church.

banish stoves in April. In our uncertain climate fires are an absolute necessity until the middle of May, often till the first of June. It is imprudent, a rash invitation to colds, and all their consequences to take down the stoves before settled warm weather. Nor is it best to take down the "good friend", the coal stove, and replace it by the less reliable wood stove, until that time. A wood fire blazes up and goes out unless tended; a coal fire can be kept low and furnish a steady heat. A grate in a house is comfort, but not to be depended on to warm the room on a cold day; it takes the chill off the air and brightens and dispels the dampness and chill of a rainy day in summer. Where there are no grates a wood stove ought to be left up during summer, especially where there are babies or young children, and old people, and a fire built in damp weather to dry the air and promote circulation.

"Heat is life; cold is death," says an old saw. Remember this, and keep your rooms comfortable. Do not, above all things, attempt to "harden" delicate children by exposing them to cold, or insisting they sleep in cold rooms. If the air is very chilly, the little ones are apt to sleep with the bedclothing drawn over their heads, a most unhealthy, debilitating practice, but one which shows their instinctive protest against the conditions you enforce upon them.

Canoe Race Organizes

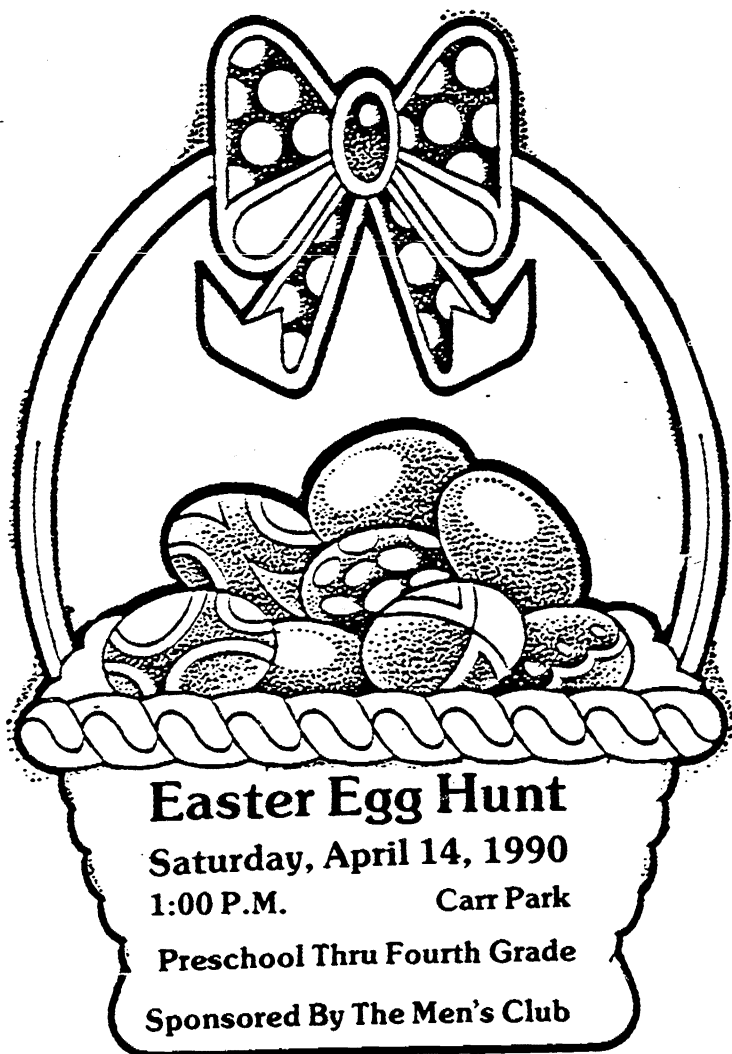

The 24th Annual Canoe Race is scheduled for May 20, and planning for the event is now in progress.

As in years past, the competition will run in five different classes:

- 1) Women's Canoe Open Partner,
- 2) Open Canoe Choose Partner,
- 3) Man and Woman Canoe,
- 4) Adult Child Canoe, and
- 5) Open Competition.

This year, the committee has decided to check community interest in canoe rentals. A canoe rental company may be asked to bring enough canoes to the race to allow more people to participate on a "first come, first served" basis.

The rules for this year's race are under review now. If you would like to participate in the planning of the event, chairman Bill Schwab has announced an organization meeting will be held April 17 at 7:00 p.m. Call Dianne Schwab at the Community Resource Center (428-7722) for further details.

Senior Citizens News

Now, come on, did we really need snow two days last week? If I ever felt like carrying a sign in a protest march, it would be "Down with snow in April" (or stronger sounding words.) Even the birds didn't like it - they squawked 'til I hurried out with their dinner.

Let's not let rain or snow keep you April born seniors from enjoying your free birthday meal on April 12. Ham will be on the menu and come to the Center for bingo after the meal.

Have a most joyous Easter with family and friends. We are ordering a nice day weatherwise, so spruce up and enjoy.

Monday, April 16: Our bus leaves the Center at 9:00 a.m. for the Monroe Outlet Center. go along, but call Erma Alber (428-8707) to reserve your spot on the bus.

Tuesday, April 17: Today Jan delights us with a Chinese Day at senior meals (we do get around the world when she cooks!) Join Rubena at the Center to help on current activities at 12:30. At 5:30 there will be a bus pick up for the Tecumseh Travelog where you will tour "Western Canada" by film. It has been reported these are excellent and if you wish to go, call Erma.

Wednesday, April 18: Whee. aquazincing starts again after a two-week absence by most of us. Call Howard Parr at 428-9233 to go join the regulars on the senior bus to Michigan Center's pool. Water can do amazing things for your body and also is a lot of good clean fun.

Thursday, April 19: Baked chicken will be served and it is so tender and moist. Join in the bingo games afterwards at the Center.

Looking ahead: Saturday, April 21: Chore Day is here! The great kids of the National Honor Society and sponsor, Astrida Panches, will be helping at senior's homes.

They rake, wash windows, and do those jobs which are beyond us (maybe trimming those bushes.) They will help from 9:00 a.m. until noon and you may call Rubena (428-8655) to place your name on the list. You may make a donation for help to the Honor Society or to the Manchester Area Senior citizens.

Bus pick up for the area Church Fun Night begins at 6:30 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church. Call Erma.

Shakespeare Reading Club

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, April 17, at 2:00 p.m. at the home of Lenora Parr. Bonita Daisher has chosen "The Robe", a novel written by Lloyd Douglas for her topic. Our roll call will be a novel based on an event in the life of Christ.

dough. Now, even if the show is not high drama or particularly socially perceptive, it could lead to talks among the family about kids and money. An innocent question, "What would you do if you got that much cash?" might get kids thinking about money and how to make best use of it.

Teachers can exploit the things kids see on TV, too. Robert Oliphant, a professor of English at a university in California, wrote in an article in "Educational Horizons" that children gain a sophisticated awareness of drama through all of their hours of watching TV. He suggests that teachers take advantage of that dramatic awareness to get students to write: first, writing short reading-performance plays, and then moving on from the lessons they learn from that writing to conventional expository prose. I think he has a good point. In fact, television teaches kids a great deal about character, plot, chronological sequence, and detail, and if teachers fail to capitalize on what kids already know, they are making their own work that much harder.

As something of a couch potato myself, especially when it comes to sports events and old movies, I suppose I have some favorable disposition with regard to the boob tube. But I do think that if we use it to our advantage, there is no reason it can't become a tool of education instead of an impediment.

Any thoughts you have regarding kids and TV would be appreciated for a future conversation. I can be reached by writing to PJ, c/o "The Manchester Enterprise," 150 East Main, Post Office Box 37, Manchester, MI 48158.

MANCHESTER AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

ACTRESS TO ADDRESS HISTORICAL SOCIETY

In the old days, traveling tent theaters used to bring vaudeville and drama to small towns throughout the midwest. That was before there was any television or even movie theaters.

Laura Rosier is the granddaughter of Harold Rosier whose "Rosier Players Repertory Theater" was a well-known and highly respected traveling tent theater company in the early 20th century.

Laura Rosier will speak at the Manchester Area Historical Society meeting on next Monday, April 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main.

All in the community are welcome. You need NOT be a member to attend.

As an actress, dancer and choreographer, Laura Rosier has performed with the Rosier Players since she was a small girl.

Her grandfather, Harold Rosier, donated his tent theater - including equipment, scripts and costumes - to Jackson Community in 1976 with the stipulation that the school continue presenting authentic old time tent theater. And they have.

Laura Rosier will share her charming insights into this truly American tradition, offering information and anecdotes from her unique perspective.

Come hear about the only form of entertainment known in the rural areas of the midwest at the turn of the century from a young woman whose family has played such a significant role in it. Enjoy Rosier's presentation at the next meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society.

Three condominium units in the Village of Manchester have been given to Catherine McAuley Health Center (CMHC) by Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hendley, longtime Manchester area residents.

Net proceeds from the sale of the property will be used to establish the James and Virginia Hendley Endowment Fund to provide continuing and long term support for Health Center programs.

Robert E. Lavery, Catherine McAuley Health Center president, said he was "tremendously pleased at the thoughtfulness and consideration of the Hendleys in making such a significant gift."

Born in Oklahoma, Mr. Hendley received his undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan in 1932 and his law degree there in 1935. Mrs. Hendley, a native of Ann Arbor, was graduated from Michigan in 1935 with a bachelor's degree.

Mr. Hendley practiced law in Nebraska for a short time, then, at the suggestion of his law professors, returned to Michigan in 1936 and purchased a Manchester law firm. He reports that the firm, now operated by James Datsko, is possibly the oldest in Washtenaw County as it was begun in 1890.

Mrs. Hendley was secretary for the law office for 32 years.

Hendley was president of Union Savings Bank for 35 years and in 1945 was appointed to the County Board of Road Commissioners, serving as its chairman for 12 years. He also was president of the State County Road Association for one year and served one term as Village president.

Hendley also organized the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and played a key role in bringing Double A products and a division of Hoover to the area. Presently he is organizing the 55th reunion of the 1935 law school class scheduled May 10-12.

During World War II, Hendley was chair of the county's Price Control Board, served on the county draft board and was War Bond chair for the Manchester area.

The Hendley donation is one of an increasing number of real estate gifts made to CMHC by various individuals during the past several years. Proceeds of such gifts go to support Health Center programs as determined by donors and CMHC. Under certain provisions, highly appreciated real property may be donated in return for a life income to the donor.

Filletts Fill The Bill

Healthy, convenient but still elegant: vegetable-topped fillets.

An elegant dish for guests and a healthy meal for family can both be found in these flounder fillets.

Vegetable-Topped Fillets

- 1 pound fresh or frozen skinless sole or flounder fillets
- 1 small yellow summer squash
- 1 small zucchini
- 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
- 1/2 of a small onion, sliced and separated into rings
- 1 clove of garlic, minced
- 1 1/4-ounce can tomatoes, cut up
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon dried basil, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
- Dash bottled hot pepper sauce
- 1 cup chicken broth

Thaw frozen fish if desired. For sauce, cut yellow squash and zucchini in half lengthwise, then crosswise into 1/4-inch-thick slices. In a saucepan combine squash, zucchini, mushrooms, onion, garlic, 1/4 cup water, and 1/8 teaspoon salt. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 4 minutes or till vegetables are nearly tender. Drain. Mix undrained tomatoes, cornstarch, basil, oregano, and hot sauce. Stir into vegetables. Cook and stir till bubbly. Cook and stir 2 minutes more. Meanwhile, measure thickness of fish. In a large skillet bring chicken broth just to boiling. Carefully add fish. Return just to boiling; reduce heat. Cover and simmer till fish flakes easily with a fork. (Allow 4 to 6 minutes per 1/2-inch thickness for fresh and thawed fish; 6 to 9 minutes per 1/2-inch thickness for frozen fish.) Serve sauce over fish. Garnish with fresh herbs, if desired. Serves 4.

HOW TO AVOID LAST-MINUTE TAX MISTAKES

If you're scampering to file your 1989 tax return by midnight April 16, stop and take a deep breath. Keep in mind that in the frantic rush to beat the clock, you may make some careless errors. Before you mail your return, the Michigan Association of CPAs advises you to review the following list of common last-minute tax mistakes that can cost you more than you may suspect.

Failing To File For An Extension

Of all last-minute mistakes, perhaps the costliest is failing to file for an extension. If you are simply unprepared to file a carefully prepared and documented tax return, don't blindly rush ahead. You can request a filing extension by submitting Form 4868 by April 16, 1990, one day later than usual. The one-page form requires you to estimate your tax liability for 1989 and pay any tax due. By submitting the form, you push the filing deadline to August 15, thus gaining an additional four months to prepare and file your tax return.

Failing To Pay Tax When Filing For an Extension

While the IRS allows an extension for filing completed tax forms at a later date, any tax due must be paid at the time you request an extension or you will face interest and possible penalty fees, including a 0.5 percent per-month penalty on the net amount of tax not paid by the due date. However, the overall penalty cannot exceed 25 percent of the tax due. In addition, the IRS will charge interest on back taxes.

Failing To Report a Non-Deductible IRA Contribution

If you made a non-deductible

Individual Retirement Account (IRA) contribution for 1989, be sure to also fill out Form 8606 and attach it to your return. If you fail to do so, you become liable for a $50 fine.

Forgetting To Supply Social Security Numbers

On your tax return, you must supply your own Social Security number and the numbers of each dependent who reached age two by December 31, 1989. Some taxpayers mistakenly assume that this rule refers only to dependent children. In actuality, you must supply a Social Security number for any dependent child or adult you claim, including a spouse or parent. If you fail to do so, you will have to pay a $50 penalty.

Miscalculating Totals

Simple mathematical errors may seem relatively insignificant to you, but to the IRS they are red flags pointing the way to a carelessly prepared return. Miscalculating totals or transposing figures can draw more attention to your return than you desire. Always double-check your math before signing and mailing your tax return.

Failing To Deduct State and Local Income Tax

A good number of taxpayers have the mistaken impression that state and local income taxes are no longer deductible. In states with high tax rates, this misconception may mean losing a legitimate deduction worth thousands. You can find out how much state and local income tax was withheld from your 1989 salary by checking your W-2 form. In addition, see if you made any payments last April for the balance of your 1988 state and local tax bill. You should also take into consideration any state estimated tax payments made during the year. Those taxes are also deductible on your 1989 return.

Deducting Reimbursed Expenses

If you don't want to get into trouble with the Internal Revenue Service, here's one taxpayer pitfall to avoid: deducting reimbursed expenses. For example, Jim's annual medical expenses totaled $3,700. As he understood the tax law, these expenses were deductible to the extent that they exceeded 7.5 percent of his adjusted gross income (AGI), which was $38,000. Thus, on his tax return, he deducted $1,000. What Jim failed to take into account, however, was that his insurance company had reimbursed $3,000 of his medical costs. As a result, Jim could not deduct a single penny of his unreimbursed medical expenses.

Before you drop your tax return in the mailbox, make sure you carefully review your miscellaneous, medical and casualty-loss deductions to account for any expenses reimbursed by your employer or an insurance company.

Not Taking Credit When Credit's Due

Ignorance is not bliss when it comes to tax law. If you don't know what a tax credit is, it's time to find out. A tax credit is far better than a deduction, since it allows you to subtract a specified amount directly from the income tax you would otherwise owe. Credits are available for qualified dependent-care expenses, for the elderly or permanently and totally disabled and for low-income workers who claim one or more dependents. If you suspect that you may be eligible for one of these credits, a quick phone call to a CPA may ultimately result in significant tax savings.

Failing To Attach Proper Documentation

Failing to attach the necessary documents to your tax return may very well invite an IRS inquiry. Enclosed with your return should be a W-2 form, which lists your annual wages as well as the amount of taxes paid during the year. In addition, you may have to attach to your tax return one or more forms, such as Form 8283 for deducting noncash charitable contributions of more than $500.

Mailing An Unsigned Tax Return

Even the smallest mistakes, such as forgetting to sign your tax return, can have serious consequences. CPAs warn taxpayers that the Internal Revenue Service may treat unsigned returns as if they had never been filed. As a result, you could be penalized 5 percent of the net tax due for each month the return is late, with a maximum penalty of 25 percent.

Tree Sale Pick-Up Day

The Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District reminds everyone who has ordered tree and shrub seedlings through the District's Spring Tree Sale, that the distribution day for the seedlings has been set for Saturday, April 14, 1990, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., at the Washtenaw County Road Commission Garage, 55 North Zeeb Road, Ann Arbor.

Seedlings should be picked up that day because all extra or unclaimed trees and shrubs will be sold beginning at 12:30 p.m., April 14.

Reminder cards have been sent to all those who have ordered trees and shrubs. These cards should be brought along when picking up trees. If trees cannot be picked up on April 14, contact the District office by calling 313-761-6721 to make other arrangements.

If you have ordered trees and have not yet received a reminder card, contact the District office to obtain your order number to speed processing of your order on April 14.

Michigan Farmers On Lobbying Mission

A delegation of 131 Michigan farmers, led by Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie, flew to Washington, D.C. on March 27 for three days of grassroots lobbying on national issues of concern to the state's agricultural community. This is the 30th year that the organization has sponsored the annual trip to the nation's capital to meet with members of Michigan's congressional delegation.

In addition to individual legislative contacts, the farmers had a group breakfast with their U.S. Representatives on March 28, and with U.S. Senators Don Riegle and Carl Levin on March 29. Also on their agenda was meeting with U.S. Department of Agriculture officials, and a visit to the British Embassy.

The 1990 farm bill topped the list of priority issues the farmers discussed with their national legislators.

"Farm Bureau supports continuing the general direction set by the 1985 farm bill," said Laurie, Tuscola County farmer who heads the state's largest farm organization. "The policies contained in that legislation have helped to move agriculture toward greater market orientation by setting price supports at levels that allow our products to compete in domestic and international markets. For the 1990 farm bill, we reaffirm our commitment to competitiveness. We want the new law to assure the opportunity for an adequate level of farm income, and maximize the freedom for farmers to respond to market conditions."

Pesticides and food safety were also a topic of discussion. The farmers encouraged their congressmen to oppose the Waxman/Kennedy "Food Safety Amendments of 1989" and support the de la Garza/Madigan bill, H.R. 3292. Both bills replace the zero risk Delaney Clause with a negligible risk standard, but the Waxman/Kennedy proposal defines "negligible risk" rigidly at one in a million risk with no exceptions. According to Laurie, Farm Bureau believes the Environmental Protection Agency should have the discretion to determine what is negligible based on a weighing of risks and benefits, and that many vital chemical tools would be lost if the benefits of a pesticide were not allowed to be considered beyond the one/million level.

Another priority issue for the farmers was seeking cosponsors for legislation to continue the 25 percent tax deduction for health insurance costs for self-employed persons. The deduction expires Sept. 30, 1990. Farm Bureau supports a permanent, 100 percent tax deduction. "We are concerned that many farmers are reducing their coverage or dropping it entirely because they cannot afford it," Laurie said. "At a time when the nation is growing more aware of the burdens of costly insurance and the needs of the uninsured, the tax code can provide an incentive for the self-employed to provide for their own insurance needs."

Also on the farmers' priority list was urging Michigan Congressmen to support legislation to repeal mandatory federal tax withholding on farmworkers. The mandatory withholding became effective on Jan. 1, 1990. "We estimate that about half of all farmers are employers," Laurie said. "Many of these hire seasonal and temporary workers who may have a number of farm jobs and employers throughout the year, and do not work for any one farmer for a significant length of time, so the required record-keeping will be burdensome for farm employers. Also, most farmworkers do not earn enough to incur a tax liability. While most of them could file for a refund of the taxes withheld, it is unfair for the federal government to attempt to balance the budget at the expense of a group of workers least able to afford to loan it the money, even temporarily."

Friday the 13th Fosters Fear

Forget walking under ladders or crossing the path of a black cat. That double whammy of bad luck, Friday the 13th, is right around the corner. Even people who think themselves entirely unsuperstitious may show slight symptoms of uneasiness when the 13th falls on a Friday, as it will in April 1990. Fear of Friday the 13th evolves from "triskaidekaphobia," fear of the number 13, and the long-held notion that Fridays are unlucky. The uneasiness about 13 may be related to the fact that 13 sat down to the Last Supper, that the Romans associated 13 with death and misfortune or that 13 is one more than 12, a number of completeness. The additional number, 13, has the connotation of dangerously exceeding proper limits, of going beyond a natural cycle, or starting on a new and uncertain course. Every year has at least one Friday the 13th, but never more than three. Two Fridays in 1990 fall on the 13th day, the one in April and another in July. lil

Newborn Babies Receive Gifts from Farm Bureau

William and Linda Lister of Canton receive a gift basket on behalf of their daughter, Bridgette, born March 23 at Beyer Hospital. Doug Welshans makes the presentation.

Members of the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau Promotion & Education Committee presented baby gifts for newborn babies born at the three local hospitals in Washtenaw County to celebrate Agriculture Day/Week.

To celebrate the event, the Promotion & Education Committee has put together a "Michigan Basket" consisting of food products grown locally.

Two babies were born on Ag Day, March 20, 1990. Kelsey Laurel Fossheim was born at U of M Hospital to Anjakorrina Fossheim of Ann Arbor at 12:55 a.m. and James Jeffrey Williams was born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Julanne and Jeff Williams of Canton at 2:50 a.m. A third baby was born during Ag Week. Bridgette Lister was born at Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, to William and Linda Lister on Friday, March 23, 1990 at 6:03 a.m.

"It just seemed a very appropriate way to celebrate Agriculture Week by the presentation of these food gifts to a newborn. We hope that by doing this we can better demonstrate the life-long interdependence of farm and non-farm people on a productive, profitable agricultural industry," said Robin Welshans, chairperson of the committee.

Conference Involves Double A Closing

The closing of Double A Products, Inc. will be discussed at the Fifth National Labor-Management Conference to be held May 30-June 1, 1990 in Washington, D.C.

A goal of the conference is to introduce innovative cooperative efforts that could change industrial relations. Thus, the Employment Transition Program of the University of Michigan School of Social Work will discuss the different responses of similar plant closings in two Michigan rural communities: Double A Products and Hydreco, Inc. of Galesburg.

The presentation will include a brief history of the Double A plant and the events which led up to the closing. Also, the significant steps in the closing sequence will be highlighted. Then emphasis will be placed on the community-based response to the plant, which was collaborative and innovative and contributed to the development of the Community Resource Center - a permanent service organization.

Employment Transition Program research associates Jeffrey Hagan and James Hagerman, who is also a former resident of Manchester and Double A employee, will be the speakers for the portion of the presentation focusing on Manchester's plant closing.

Pursell Staff Office Hours

A member of Congressman Carl Pursell's district staff will hold open office hours in Washtenaw County on Tuesday, April 17.

"As part of my continuing effort to make my office and staff accessible to constituents, I have asked Carol Haseltine to meet with residents from the Manchester and Chelsea areas this month," Pursell said.

One advantage of a Comerica home equity loan is obvious.

You might not even realize it, but many smart borrowers are taking advantage of the fact that the interest on a Comerica home equity loan is fully tax-deductible.* They're also discovering that Comerica charges no upfront fees and gives you these three loans to choose from.

- EQUITY LINE-A credit line you can draw on when you need it with convenient check access. Line amounts available to $200,000.
- IDEAL CREDIT LINE-A credit line available when you need it offering check or VISA access. Line amounts available from $5,000 to $20,000.
- FIXED EQUITY INSTALLMENT LOAN-A one-time fixed rate loan in amounts from $5,000 to $50,000 with fixed installment payments.

All three are ideal to pay for your children's education, consolidate debts, make home improvements, or even buy that dream car. Whatever need you might have, a Comerica home equity loan makes a lot of sense. Because when it comes to borrowing money, there's no place like home. To learn more, call 1-800-292-1300 or visit the Comerica branch nearest you.

Harbor Facilities Grow

Great Lakes harbors provide great views for landlubbers and expanded dock space for boaters this season, AAA Michigan reports.

Non-boaters can enjoy the parade of commercial and leisure craft from picnic areas or beaches located near 90 percent of the state-sponsored harbors.

Anglers can cast off from piers and breakwalls at many of the harbors, which are located in a variety of picturesque settings including big city downtowns, bustling shoreline communities and quaint rural hideaways.

Boaters interested in big cities will find 65 transient slips available at the St. Aubin Marina, which has opened in Detroit. Elsewhere, 193 slips have been added at Harbor Beach, Alpena and Muskegon.

The Michigan State Waterways Commission plans additional harbor development at Lexington, DeTour, Northport, New Buffalo, Escanaba, Bay City and Cross

Ten Free Shade Trees

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during April, 1990.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten shade trees are Red Oak, Weeping Willow, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tuliptree, Silver Maple and Red Maple.

"These trees were selected to provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and fall colors," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting in April or May with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by April 30, 1990.

Council On Aging

The Washtenaw County Council on Aging will conduct its annual meeting on Thursday, April 19, 1990 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Zion Lutheran Church, 1510 West Liberty, Ann Arbor.

Mr. James McGuire, Director of Planning and Advocacy from the Area Agency on Aging 1-B, will be the featured speaker. Mr. McGuire will discuss legislation issues of interest to senior adults, and the 1990 State initiated service programs for older adults such as MEPPS (Michigan Emergency Pharmaceutical Program for Seniors). MEPPS is a drug voucher program which will pay for the short-term drug needs of eligible older persons.

FACTS & FIGURES

The origins of the cafeteria date back to 1928 when an assembly line worker with a flair for carnival hawking asked to sell candy and hot dogs at noon. He started selling 18 candy bars and a string of hot dogs. His enterprise quickly grew into a permanent counter dispensing soup and sandwiches. Today, the cafeteria's well-rounded menus include traditional Milwaukee fare of brats, sausage and potatoes, a salad bar, fruit stand and other low-fat foods.

Good Friday Service

The Manchester community has had a tradition of worshipping together on Good Friday for many, many years. This year's service will be held at 1:00 p.m., April 13 at the Sharon United Methodist Church, Rev. Erik Alsgaard, pastor. The Reverend Nancy Doty of the Emanuel United Church of Christ will speak.

The Sharon United Methodist Church is located at the corner of M-52 and Pleasant Lake Road. There is parking available on Pleasant Lake Road, in back of the church.

Benefit Banquet

select the person to receive the 1990 Claire Reck Outstanding Volunteer Award. April 20 is the deadline for returning the nominations to the Community Resource Center office.

The Community Resource Center Benefit Banquet for 1990 will be hosted by Chelsea Community Hospital. The program will include award ceremony and entertainment by musicians from Manchester High School. It is hoped that all organizations will sponsor their nominee's attendance to the banquet. Banquet details are forthcoming in following issues of the Enterprise.

The Chemical Earth

Kiwanis Club of Manchester welcomed chemical salesman Bob Lund to speak last Thursday morning on the importance of chemicals in food production.

According to Lund, chemicals have undeservedly gained a bad reputation in connection with damage to the environment. He says environmentalists, whom he refers to as "bunny-huggers," typically think farmers indiscriminately use chemicals when growing crops. Lund stated the cost of such wasteful chemical application makes that notion ridiculous.

Lund claimed his company and others actually spend billions testing products to reduce toxicity. Meanwhile, the production of food has declined. He pointed out that less than 2% of the population feeds the rest of humanity. In 1920, over 30 million people in America farmed for a living. Now that number has shrunk to around 5 million. Lund warned that without chemicals, the production of food could be further jeopardized.

The Kiwanis Club of Manchester meets every Thursday morning at 7:30 at Neil Haarer's Meeting Place Restaurant.

Diocese Seeks $2,740,000

Bishop Kenneth Povich announced that the Diocesan Services Appeal (DSA), the annual fund raiser of the ten county Catholic Diocese of Lansing, will seek $2,740,000 from the over 220,000 Catholics in ninety-three parishes.

The annual drive is the major fund raising effort of the diocese and, together with an assessment of each parish, provides the revenue for the diocese.

Funds are used to support 42 educational efforts, charitable works, ministry training programs for seminarians and lay persons, and the administrative costs of the diocese.

The Catholic Diocese of Lansing is composed of the 223,395 Catholics who live in ninety-three parishes in the ten counties of Ingham, Eaton, Clinton, Genesee, Shiawassee, Jackson, Hillsdale, Washtenaw, Livingston and Lenawee.

The Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County will meet at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, April 22, 1990, in the MAP ROOM on the 8th floor of the Harlan Hatcher Graduate Library on the U of M Campus. This is a change from the usual monthly meeting site.

Mr. Karl Longstreth, Maps Librarian at Harlan Hatcher Graduate Library, will discuss the topic "Maps, Geological Sources and Genealogical Research." The usual business and classroom portions of this meeting will be cancelled to permit full use of the meeting time for review and observation of the Library Map facility.

Recommended access to the Map Room is via the south entrance of the Graduate Library Building, taking the elevator to the 8th floor.

Easy-Way Deviled Eggs

For parties, snacks or family meals, few foods are more popular than deviled eggs! You can enjoy these delectable goodies often with this no-muss, no-fuss method of mixing and filling. It's simple, speedy and fun. (The kids will love it!) Best of all, there are no messy bowls to wash.

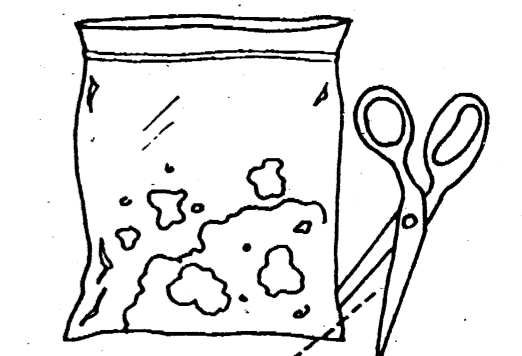

Here's a basic recipe which you can vary, if you like, by adding 2 to 4 tablespoons of finely chopped meat, fish, seafood, vegetables, nuts, sweet pickle relish or shredded cheese.

Deviled Eggs 6 servings

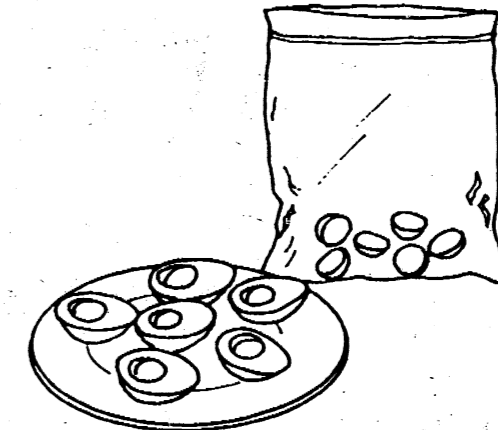

- 6 hard-cooked eggs
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, dairy sour cream or plain yogurt
- 3/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice, herb or seasoning blend
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper

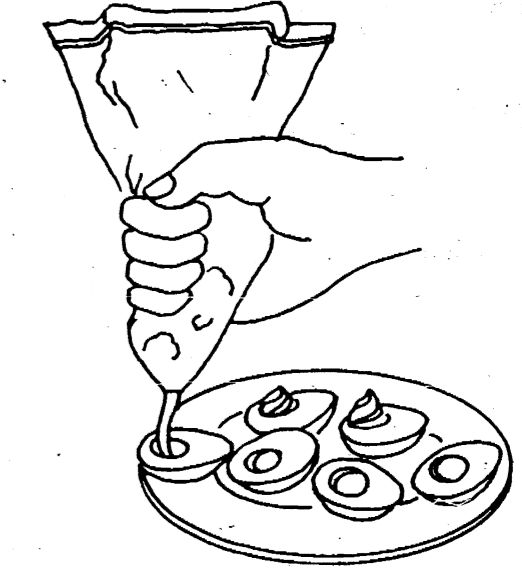

3. Close bag. Knead until contents are thoroughly blended.

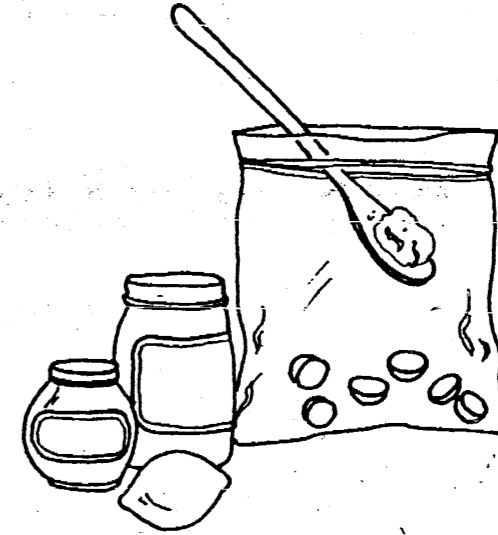

4. Push contents toward corner. Snip about 1/2 inch off corner of bag.

1. Cut eggs in half lengthwise. Place yolks in 1-quart plastic bag.

5. Squeezing bag gently, fill reserved whites with yolk mixture. Chill to blend flavors.

2. Place remaining ingredients in bag with yolks. Press out air.

Barley Salad to Suit Your Fancy

Pearl barley is the economical base for this salad which may be served chilled or piping hot. Displayed with rice and noodles in the grocery store, pearl barley is rich in soluble dietary fiber, vitamins and minerals. And studies show that it is equally as effective as oats in lowering blood cholesterol. For more barley recipes, send a self-addressed, stamped business envelope to: Barley Recipes, National Barley Foods Council, W. 905 Riverside, Suite 501, Spokane, WA 99201.

All-Season Barley Salad

1 cup pearl barley	1/2 cup thinly sliced onion or
3 cups water	1/4 cup chopped green onion
1 teaspoon salt	1/3 cup sliced water chestnuts
1/4 cup bottled Italian dressing	1 jar (2 oz.) sliced pimiento, drained
1/4 lb. diced bacon, fried crisp and drained	1/4 cup each mayonnaise and sour cream
1-1/2 cups frozen peas, thawed	Salt and pepper, to taste
1 cup thinly sliced celery	Tomato slices and lettuce leaves for garnish

Place barley, water and salt in large saucepan. Bring to boil. Cover and cook on low heat 1 hour or until tender; drain. Pour dressing over barley; toss to coat. Cover and chill. Add remaining ingredients except garnish.
For chilled salad: Spoon barley mixture into serving bowl; chill 2 to 3 hours.
For hot salad: Spoon barley mixture into a baking dish or individual ramekins. Bake at 350 degrees F. 15 to 20 minutes or until heated through. Or, heat in microwave on HIGH 2 to 3 minutes. Garnish with tomato slices and lettuce. Makes 6 servings.
Variations: In place of bacon, substitute one or a combination of the following: 1 cup cooked shrimp; 1 can (6-1/2 oz.) tuna, drained; 2 to 3 diced hard cooked eggs; 1 cup diced cheese or ham; 1 cup cooked and cubed chicken or turkey.

Special Yeast Pastry For Easter Breakfast

In celebration of spring's special holiday—Easter—plan a beautiful breakfast for family or friends. As the centerpiece for the occasion, Fleischmann's® Yeast has created a make-ahead, no-knead breakfast pastry for anyone who would like to serve a special yeast bread, but quickly and easily. Filled with a rich cream cheese and date filling, this Easter show-stopper requires both the filling and dough to be made a day ahead. Then, Easter morning, simply start the coffee brewing and assemble the pie. While the pastry bakes, slice fresh strawberries and set the table. With the richness of the pie, the fresh fruit and coffee are all that's needed for a leisurely Easter breakfast. For a later-morning meal, you might add a favorite egg dish.
The baking specialists at Fleischmann's Yeast can answer your questions about yeast baking. Call the toll-free Yeast Baker's Helpline at 1-800-227-6202 between 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, Monday through Friday.

LATTICE CHEESE PIE
Makes one 9-inch pie

1 1/4 to 2 1/4 cups flour
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 package Fleischmann's Active Dry or RapidRise™ Yeast
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 egg, at room temperature

Cheese Filling, recipe follows
Egg Glaze (one egg beaten with one teaspoon water)
Sugar

In small bowl, combine 1/2 cup flour, sugar, salt and undissolved yeast. Heat milk, water and butter to 120 to 130 degrees F. Butter does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients; beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add egg and 1/4 cup flour; beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. With spoon, stir in enough additional flour to make stiff batter. Cover tightly and refrigerate 2 to 24 hours.
Remove dough from refrigerator. Reserve 1/4 dough for lattice top. Roll remaining dough on lightly floured surface to 10-inch circle; fit into 9-inch pie plate. Leave about 1/2-inch of overhang all around the pan. Spoon filling into shell. Roll reserved dough to 10-inch circle; cut into 1/2-inch strips. Arrange strips on pie in lattice pattern. Fold the overhang up over the ends of the strips and press firmly. If desired, brush pie with egg glaze and sprinkle with sugar.
Bake in 350 degrees F. oven for 35 minutes. Cover with foil; bake additional 10 minutes or until skewer inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack.
Cheese Filling: Beat 1 (8-ounce) package softened cream cheese until light. Beat in 2 eggs and 1 tablespoon lemon peel. Stir in 1 cup chopped dates. Refrigerate until ready to use.

Animal Agriculture Expansion Can Be Economic Boon

A $67 million investment over the next four years to rebuild Michigan State University's animal agriculture facilities and staff could pay dividends of over $1 billion annually in direct and indirect benefits to the state's economy, according to Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. Laurie made a strong pitch for that funding at the Michigan Association of Agriculture banquet at MSU on March 21 to an audience of about 500 farmers, legislators, university and Michigan Department of Agriculture officials.

"We have nearly all of the basic resources in place for successful expansion of our animal agriculture industry," Laurie said. "We are close to some major population centers, markets which at this time are importing many animal products from outside of Michigan. We have a climate that is very suitable for good growth conditions in animals. And we have the forage crop industry that can support an expanding livestock sector."

"Unfortunately, one irreplaceable component of our expansion plan is missing—the level of high quality teaching and research that we must have from MSU if this expansion project is to be successful. Years of trimmed budgets have taken their toll on both facilities and people resources at MSU," he said.

The Farm Bureau leader cited antiquated, unsafe research facilities, outdated equipment, a dairy plant and meats laboratory that don't meet U.S. Department of Agriculture standards, and lack of funding for qualified faculty as reasons why the $67 million investment is needed. Revitalization of Michigan's animal agriculture would benefit not just the industry itself, he said, but the entire economy.

"For a $67 million investment, we're looking at nearly half a billion dollars each year in increased agricultural sales value.

This would generate additional jobs and income from the processing and distribution industries and, as the impact of this multiplies, it could produce over $625 million a year in direct and indirect value for the Michigan economy. Within a decade, this amount could exceed $1 billion a year," Laurie said.
