Around The Table With PJ Sports Nuts

I guess I'm about as big a sports nut as anyone. I can quote you Mickey Mantle's batting statistics from 1956 when he won the American League Triple Crown, recount for you Super Bowl I between the Green Bay Packers and the Kansas City Chiefs (even though they didn't designate games with Roman numerals then), and tell you about Wilma Rudolph's sprint triumphs in the 1960 Olympics in Rome.

I was something of a jock in high school, earning varsity letters in two sports, and I appreciate the talent and dedication it takes to be a superior athlete. I am always awed by the grace and agility of Michael Jordan, the power and precision of Jack Nicklaus, and the speed and strength of Bo Jackson. But even the nuttiest of sports nuts has to concede that sports are emphasized too much in our society.

Why, in the name of any clear-headed values at all, does Don Mattingly get paid something like five million dollars a year to play first base for the New York Yankees when teachers, the people who do the most important work in our nation, average something like thirty thousand? As I said, I'm as big a sports fan as the next guy, and I admire Mattingly's prowess with a bat, but five million!

That grossly inequitable pay scale, in terms of the importance of the work being delivered, is not the only imbalance I see when it comes to sports and education. When Harold Shapiro resigned from the University of Michigan presidency to take the same position at Princeton, the move was covered quite adequately in the local press, but it hardly made headlines. On the other hand, a few months ago, "BO RESIGNS" stood at the head of the "Ann Arbor News" in type large enough to make Schembechler's leaving seem equivalent to a declaration of war.

This upsidedown value system is clearly at work in high schools as well as in big time colleges. An athlete who makes all-state is sure to get a couple of columns in the home town paper, but a student who finishes high school with all A's, blows the top off the SAT, and gets a full ride to Harvard will get a nice picture and polite paragraph if he's real lucky. The basketball star who scores thirty-five points in a game will get her name mentioned a lot on the sports page, but a scholar

How To Buy A Horse

Manchester Enterprise
May 17, 1888

An old horseman says: If you want to buy a horse, don't believe your own brother. Take no man's word for it. Your eye is your market. Don't buy a horse in harness. Unhitch him and take everything off but his halter, and lead him around. If he has a corn or is stiff, or has any other failing, you can see it. Let him go by himself a ways, and if he staves right into anything, you know that he is blind. Back him, too. Some horses show their weakness or tricks in that way when they don't in any other. But, be as smart as you can; you'll get caught sometimes. Even an expert gets stuck. A horse may look ever so nice and go a great pace, and yet have fits. There isn't a man could tell it until something happens. Or he may have a weak back. Give him the whip and off he goes for a mile or two, then all of a sudden he stops on the road. After a rest he starts again, but soon stops for good, and nothing but a derrick can move him.

The weak points of a horse can better be discovered while standing than by moving. If he is sound he will stand firmly and squarely on his legs without moving them, feet squarely on the ground with legs plump and naturally poised; or if the foot is lifted from the ground and the weight taken from it, disease may be suspected, or at least tenderness, which is a precursor of disease. If the horse stands with his feet spread apart, or straddles with his hind legs, there is a weakness in the loins, and the kidneys are disordered. Heavy pulling bends the knees. Bluish, milky cast eyes in horses indicates moon blindness or something else. A bad-tempered one keeps his ears thrown back; a kicking horse is apt to have scarred legs; a stumbling horse has blemished knees. When the skin is rough and harsh, and does not move easily to the touch, the horse is a heavy eater, and digestion is bad. Never buy a horse whose breathing organs are at all impaired. Place your ear at the heart, and if a wheezing sound is heard, it is an indication of trouble.

Reading Pledge Breakfast

The Klager teaching staff and Chapter 1 staff welcome the special readers and their guests with a delicious breakfast. The breakfast was organized by the Klager staff and Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

The Raisin Pickers, along with Masters of Ceremony David Little, Dr. Al Curry and Rev. Eric Alsgaard, provided the entertainment for students and guests at the "March is Reading Month" reading pledge breakfast.

4th graders Ginger Peters and Matt Laskowski enjoy their breakfast with their special guests, Mrs. Sarah Laskowski and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Peters. Ginger and Matt were only two of 154 Klager students that met their reading pledge goal and received special invitations to the reading pledge breakfast.

New Home For Recycling Station

The Manchester Recycling Station moved into town on Friday morning, April 20—just two days before Earth Day. It is now located on West Main Street, on land provided by Walco Foods.

The new site was selected after discussion among the Village Council and the Township Boards of Manchester, Bridgewater and Freedom Townships.

The Recycling Station had been located at G.E. Wacker Co., just off Pleasant Lake Road. In fact, without the participation of Lois and George Wacker, this local recycling program would not have been able to get underway as early or as smoothly as it did.

The local governments thank the Wackers for their support of the program, and thank Walco foods for agreeing to take over as host for the Recycling Station.

Benefit Banquet May 2

Have you purchased your tickets for the 3rd Annual Gala Benefit Banquet for the Community Resource Center?

Wednesday, May 2, Chelsea Community Hospital will host the festive evening in which volunteers from local organizations will be honored for their extraordinary community service efforts.

The CRC was organized to address the immediate needs of the displaced Double A Products employees. As the needs of the community have changed, the services provided by the Community Resource Center have also expanded. Today the CRC provides community information and acts as the gateway to other services by making referrals to other agencies and organizations.

A Surf & Turf dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m., however, hors d'oeuvres will be served from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m., so come early. Musical entertainment will immediately follow dinner. Then the awards will be presented to the recognized volunteers.

To make reservations, contact the Community Resource Center, 428-7722, by April 27.

Senior Citizens News

Let's cross our fingers and hope that spring is here to stay - let the magnolias bloom! Husband had to mow the lawn and put a colony of ants to sleep (that were beginning to invade our bathroom-what they wanted in there is beyond me.) Dandelions and wild violets are also saying spring is here, so ready, set, go!

On Thursday, April 26, Jan will treat us to mosticelli. As you might assume, it is Italian and we will have to wait to see how she'll make it new. The monthly card party sponsored by the seniors begins at 8:00 p.m. at Freedom Township Hall. Come for the fun. Pickup starts at 6:30 p.m.

Friday, April 27: Seniors leave the Center at 10:30 a.m. to visit the Gibraltar Trade Center. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to go along.

Saturday, April 28: Earl says the bus will leave at 8:30 a.m. for Vermontville and the 50th anniversary of the Maple Syrup Festival. He anticipates battling crowds both in parking and for grandstand seats for their hour-long parade, so this early departure time is necessary. Call Erma for information.

May already! Tuesday, the 1st: Polish sausage is on the noon lunch menu and it is good and tender. (It must be because she is cooking for over a hundred that everything is so good!) Call in your lunch reservations to Linda 428-8359 ahead, or to Jan 428-7630 before 10:30 on meal days and come. The Center will be open at 12:30 for helping cut blocks for projects.

Wednesday, May 2: Come join the water exercise group that journeys to Michigan Center's pool. Call Howard Parr 428-7233 for your ride on the bus. (You don't go in the deep water unless you wish - in the pool, not on the bus!) We also enjoy a meal afterwards which we need after all the washing machines, etc. that our instructor puts us through.

Thursday, May 3: Here's your chance to exercise on dry land beginning at 11:00 a.m. before the May Birthday Bash. Pork chops in mushroom sauce and cake will be served when the seniors born in May will enjoy their free meal. Call in your reservation. Bingo will be played at the Center at 12:30.

Looking ahead: During National Hospital Week, a hearing screening will be available at 12:30 on Tuesday, May 8, following the noon meal. Chelsea Hospital representatives will conduct this screening for all of us who are wondering if folks aren't talking loud enough.

The May-June Trumpeter is now ready to be picked up either at senior meals or at the Center.

Kiwanis Hears Plane Facts

Andy Parker is a man in love with an airplane, specifically the DC-3 Kiwanis Club of Manchester heard some of the details of the affair last Thursday morning.

Andy Parker is currently a Division 10 trustee from the Kiwanis Club of Brighton. But in 1944, he was a member of the British Air Force, stationed in India and Burma. As an air crewman supplying the 14th army, his fascination with the DC-3 began. It's a passion that has never abated.

The DC-3 no longer dominates the air as it did in the 40's. But at one time, the plane was the mainstay of every airline in the world.

As Parker tells it, air travel never got off the ground until after 1933. Before that time, the federal government controlled the airlines through the granting of air routes to deliver the mail. "Airlines had to have a government air mail contract in order to have an airline - passengers were incidental," says Parker. In fact, pilots and passengers had to be sturdy to survive the primitive conditions of flight at that time. Constructed of wood and fabric, the planes sported open cockpits making travel noisy and cold. "They had to issue them (passengers) warm clothing, ear plugs and a sick bag and hope they'd make it."

Yet just four years after the prototype for the DC-3 rolled off the assembly line in 1934, American Airlines was making so much money off passengers, it offered to fly the United States mail for free. That ended the government bidding system, though Parker says he doubts anyone would fly the mail for free today. Kiwanis Club of Manchester meets every Thursday morning at 7:30 at Neil Harter's Meeting Place. The next guest speaker is scheduled for May 3. Gary Rinkengerger of the U.S. Soil Service will discuss soil conservation.

Around The Table

who aces the toughest calculus test won't be mentioned at all-anywhere.

And the inequity doesn't stop with press coverage. Big bucks are spent even in high school athletic programs, and that money benefits a relatively small group of students. Don't you think it would be a good idea to deemphasize interscholastic competition in favor of giving all kids a chance at participating in some kind of athletics, or at least regular physical activity?

The softball diamonds of the country are filled with former high school jocks who now have beer bellies and sore muscles because they learned only how to play games and never learned how to keep in shape. Teaching our kids lifelong habits for keeping physically fit seems far more important to me than winning the conference football title. And I'm talking about all kids, not just those who have the natural athletic ability to make the varsity.

I'm not suggesting that interscholastic sports be done away with completely. There is something very American and satisfying about the home town hero whose exploits are celebrated for years after he leaves high school. But I do think we can find a better balance than generally exists in our schools between what's good for school spirit and what's good for all of the kids-for the rest of their lives.

I'm sure some of you have thoughts about sports in school. I'd like to hear them. Write to P.J. c/o The Manchester Enterprise, 150 East Main Street, P. O. Box 37, Manchester, MI. 48158.

6 important facts about wheel alignment

1. Extend tire life
It's happened to almost everyone: buy a set of tires, and before long one or two tires are wearing out before the others. On today's cars, this applies to the rear tires as well as the front tires. The most common cause of unusual tire wear is improper alignment. Over the years, a properly aligned vehicle can save hundreds of dollars in tire wear.
2. Spot problems early
A suspension system inspection is an inherent part of the wheel alignment operation. This gives the mechanic a chance to spot worn parts that would affect vehicle alignment. It also gives him an opportunity to spot small problems before they become big, costly ones.
3. Ensure safe driving
A periodic four wheel alignment makes sure your car handles properly and, more importantly, provides an opportunity for inspecting the suspension system for defective parts. In some ways, the safe driving aspect may be the most important benefit of wheel alignment.
4. Stretch fuel mileage
Fuel mileage increases as rolling resistance decreases. Proper wheel alignment sets all four wheels parallel which, in turn, assures minimum rolling resistance. This plus proper tire inflation provide top efficiency for maximum mileage.
5. Improve handling
Does your car pull to one side, does the steering wheel vibrate, do you have to constantly move the steering wheel to keep your car traveling straight ahead? These and other handling problems can generally be corrected by four wheel alignment.
6. Get a better ride
Proper alignment helps the front and rear suspension systems do their job. With all the system components in proper relation, road shock is efficiently absorbed, so the vehicle is more stable, and you get a smoother ride.

Front End Alignment $19.95
4 Wheel Alignment $44.95

Shakespeare Reading Club

We met at the home of Lenora Parr on Tuesday, April 17, and enjoyed being in her pretty home. Bonita Daisher gave a review of "The Robe" written by Lloyd C. Douglas who was a minister. He has written many novels of which "The Robe" is his most popular. We elected officers for the following year. Our president will be Sallie Anderson, vice-president Patty Swaney, and Jane Korth our secretary-treasurer. Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, May 1, which is Presidents' Day. We will meet at Haarer's Restaurant at 1:00 p.m. for lunch and then go to the Blacksmith Shop for an afternoon of entertainment. Mae Hardenberg and Lenora Parr are our committee members.

Jeff Kemner's Experience

Jeff, his family, and Robin Heck were visiting Jeff's aunt in Mesa, Arizona during spring break, and Jeff and his dad went golfing. On the 5th tee, Jeff teed off, his ball fell off the tee, and his 7-iron went boomeranging over a condo and into a carport. A lady came out yelling, thinking it was one of the men they were golfing with. Seeing Jeff was the only one without a club, he went over and apologized to her. Later in the day, the good kid that he is, bought her some flowers. When he took them to her, she got tears in her eyes and said it wasn't necessary. It goes to show all kids aren't bad like we sometimes make them out to be.

Facts And Figures From The U.S. Department Of Transportation

Increasingly, wearing safety belts while driving is considered "cool" by young American males. A recent survey found several reasons for this. ***

According to many respondents, wearing the belts helped them make sure they were in control of their cars and their lives. This type of control can be a lifesaver when the guy coming the other way has had too much to drink. Others added that when passengers wore safety belts, it also made the driver feel more in control of the car, giving him "room to drive," particularly in an emergency. ***

The survey found that safety belt users are more likely to have a job, be in good shape physically and have finished high school. And since safety belts save lives, young safety belt wearers are also more likely to grow older.

People believe if you hold the hair of a horse in your hand, nothing can harm you.

Blues and Grays To Battle Again

Authentically clad and equipped interpreters will portray Union and Confederate soldiers during Historic Fort Wayne's 16th Annual Civil War Days, May 5 and 6. The event marks the opening of the fort's official season and features re-enactments of battles fought during the War

The thunderous roar of cannon fire will herald the opening of Historic Fort Wayne's 1990 season May 5 and 6 as it celebrates its 16th Annual Civil War Days.

This event traditionally marks the opening of the fort's official season and features re-enactments of battles fought during the War Between the States. Authentically clad and equipped interpreters will portray Union and Confederate soldiers and will demonstrate military life and battle during the 1860's. Civilian participation in the Civil War will not be overlooked in this authentic re-enactment. Interpreters will re-enact the roles played by relief agencies and societies as well as local townsfolk. There will also be a patriotic entertainment program with a military tableau and music, temperance rally, medicine show, and a fashion show of period dress.

The only remaining river fort built during the city's 300-year history, Fort Wayne offers visitors an experience that can't be found anywhere else for hundreds of miles. "We are the only original fort remaining in the lower peninsula," said Dr. William Phenix, curator of Military History for the Detroit Historical Department and curator of Historic Fort Wayne. "We pride ourselves on being a family facility with our location on the Detroit River and full schedule of activities—many of them free of charge."

The gates of the 148-year-old fort open at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday through Sunday and close at 5:00 p.m. Admission to the Fort including all Civil War Days activities, is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children and senior citizens.

Historic Fort Wayne is located at the foot of Livernois and West Jefferson, off I-75.

Spring Sports Start

On Monday, the bats began rattling as we squared off against Hanover Horton.

Our Varsity Girls' Softball squad opened their season by plastering the Comets 21-7. Nikole Reinhart was the winning pitcher. Offensive punch was supplied by Jennifer Kunzelman, Marci Sloat, Ginny Binder, Lisa Lozier and Jackie Ahrens.

Our boys had a rougher time as they fell 6-12 to the Comets. Hanover jumped out to an early 6-point edge which seemed to deflate us. Offensively, we had two hits or more by Dan Weber, Jeff Smith and Jesse Widmayer. Jesse was picked by the Ann Arbor News as a top performer for this day as he contributed four hits including two doubles.

Both squads traveled to Milan on Wednesday and were defeated. On Thursday, our boys and girls took to the track as they hosted Hanover-Horton.

The girls' meet ended successfully as we trimmed the Comets

82-46. Dutch winners were: high jump-Michelle Mann, 4'9"; 110 hurdles-Amy Lannom, 17.59 seconds; 100 meter dash-Kathy Nobsch, 14.09 seconds; 800 meter relay-we won in 2 minutes 7.99 seconds with Kathy, Joanne Kemner, Nikki Eastman and Amy. The 1600 meter run was won by Rachel Arny in just under 7 minutes. The 400 meter relay was won by Kim Reeb, Krista Sahakian, Kathy Nobsch and Sue Rizzo in 59.68. The 300 meter low hurdles-Amy, 51.77; 200 meter dash-Kathy, 29.95; 1600 meter relay-the foursome of Rachel Arny, Dawn Salkauskas, Michelle Mann and Nikki Eastman won with a time of 5 minutes 56.18 seconds. The Ann Arbor News picked Kathy Knosbush as top performer of the day.

Our boys didn't fare too well, as Hanover-Horton downed them 49-88. Dutch winners were: pole vault-Jason Woods, 11'; 3200 meter relay-Brian Weidmayer, Darian Davies, James Landini and Jamie Winzenz, in just under 9 minutes; 1600 meter run-Jamie Winzenz, 5 minutes 5.2 seconds; 800 meter run-Jamie in 2 minutes 11.23 seconds; 3200 meter run-Jamie in 11 minutes 28.43 seconds; 1600 meter relay-Jon Up-house, Brian Weidmayer, Jeremy Davis and Rob Gonzyer.

The Junior distance runner, Jamie Winzenz, was awarded Ann Arbor News top performer of the day.

Our Dutch Boys' Baseball squad closed the week by winning two games from Gabriel Richard and losing one game to Chelsea. We blew a 7-6 lead in the sixth inning as the Chelsea Bulldogs rallied for seven; final score, 8-13. John Ward held Gabriel Richard to only one hit as we won 6-3.

In the nightcap game, we bombed the Irish, 18-7. A 12-run third inning was the clincher for the Dutch. Jeff Gillow, Dan Weber and Andy Pagel supplied big bat power.

Batting helmets were introduced in major league baseball by the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1941.

Helpful Hints

April's showers may bring more than May flowers. They also may cause a number of deadly automobile accidents. It's rain—not snow or sleet—that causes the highest number of fatalities due to motor vehicle accidents.

According to a national safety organization, 5,625 fatal accidents occurred on wet road conditions in 1987. Of that number, 3,756 or 67 percent, occurred when it was raining.

But the Allstate Motor Club says rainy weather doesn't have to lead to death on the roadways. Instead, motorists can take a few precautions to make driving safe in wet weather.

An Allstate Motor Club expert says it's most important to watch your speed when the roads are wet. "When it's raining, it's a good idea to drive about 10 miles per hour less than the posted speed limit," he says. "You've got to reduce your speed in case you need to stop unexpectedly."

He also says that drivers should be careful not to drive too closely to cars in front of them. "Stopping in rain is about 50 percent more difficult than stopping on dry pavement," he adds.

Motorists driving in the rain should also keep the following precautions in mind:

- Turn on your headlights. This is not only so you can see better,
- When it's raining, it's a good idea to drive about ten miles an hour less than the posted speed limit.
- Keep your defroster running. It will keep the inside of your windshield clear of moisture.
- Drive slowly and allow your self extra following distance.
- To avoid hydroplaning (when your tires lose contact with the road), slow down when the roads are wet, stay away from puddles, and drive smoothly avoiding sudden movements.
- Beware of wet leaves. They can be as slippery as ice.
- Check your wipers frequently and make sure the washer solvent is full. Visibility in rain is a serious problem.
- And remember to watch out for pedestrians. They are not as likely to see you when they are hidden under umbrellas or dodging puddles.

MICHIGAN'S POPULAR CANOEING RIVERS

Canoe rentals, public access and other services are available on most of the state's popular canoeing rivers listed. With more than 36,000 miles of rivers and streams, other Michigan rivers also provide canoeing opportunities for enthusiasts.

"Canoe rental rates vary widely, ranging from $12 a day to as much as $18 an hour depending on the location," said Peter Erickson, AAA Michigan Club Services director. "But most liveries are holding prices to last year's levels."

A survey of 61 liveries statewide showed canoes can be rented on several popular Southeast Michigan rivers including the Huron, River Raisin, Clinton and the south branch of the Kalamazoo.

Some liveries charge hourly rates of $3 to $18. Others reserve canoes for 2 1/2 hour blocks at costs between $14 and $20. Some charge daily rates of $12 to $30. Half-day, weekly and group discounts also may be available.

Rivers listed on the AAA Michigan 1990 Canoe Guide range from quiet water to fast moving with rapids. For more information about individual liveries, write to the Michigan Recreational Canoeing Association, P.O. Box 296, Montague, MI 49437. The association represents more than half of state liveries.

Most liveries open in April or May and remove canoes from the water in October or November. Reservations are recommended, especially during holidays and summer weekends.

Novices can learn to canoe free from May 15 to June 15 at participating liveries. Free, one-hour canoe trips also are available during Michigan Canoe Week, June 1-7, to those registering in advance.

Those heading out for a river paddle should wear tennis shoes and bring a dry change of clothing, suntan oil, hat and windbreaker. Leave expensive jewelry home and place wallets and keys in zippered or buttoned pockets.

To keep personal possessions dry, place items in garbage bags sealed separately and packed one inside the other. Attach bags to the canoe.

Alcohol affects balance and coordination and increases your willingness to take risks, so don't drink while canoeing. Canoeers should know how to swim and wear personal flotation devices approved by the U.S. Coast Guard.

Eye Care

Cheryl Huey, M.D.
Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon

IS MY CATARACT "RIPE"?

Dear Doctor: I've been told I have a cataract. When should I have surgery? Do I have to wait until my cataract is ripe?

Answer: We no longer use the term "ripe" to describe a cataract—the term goes back quite a few years when surgical techniques required that a cataract reach a certain stage of development before it could be removed. With modern surgical methods, surgery can be performed whenever the cataract is blurring vision enough to interfere with everyday activities such as reading, driving, hobbies or occupational needs.

How long to wait before having surgery depends on the individual's needs, symptoms from the cataract, and vision of the other eye. People who need sharp vision in both eyes for occupational needs, especially driving, will need surgery sooner than a sedentary person. Some people are bothered greatly by blurred vision from one eye, while others don't mind it. Some cataracts cause severe glare or reflection in sunlight, causing near-blindness on sunny days even though the patient may see fairly well indoors.

After a thorough examination and recommendation by your Ophthalmologist, the decision to perform cataract surgery is made by you.

Delightfully Delicious Desserts

Enjoying a rich tasting dessert does not necessarily mean adding extra calories. Yogurt is the secret. It is a natural fit in many traditional recipes associated with American cooking... even apple pie. Yogurt is the right choice for a low fat and low cholesterol diet, lending beneficial flavor and texture to a wide variety of desserts, both hot and cold.

The simply smashing spirited dessert pictured above is easy to make. Spoon Dannon Coffee Yogurt into wine or parfait glasses. Freeze for 2 hours. Add a splash of crème de menthe, coffee liqueur or crème de cacao. Let stand for 5 minutes at room temperature before serving.

Dannon Apricot Mousse below is easy and elegant. Everyone will love it. Make it by thickening all-natural gelatin-free Dannon Vanilla Yogurt.

- 1 32-ounce container DANNON Vanilla Lowfat Yogurt
- 2 16- to 17-ounce cans apricot halves in heavy syrup
- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons orange-flavored liqueur (optional)
- 1 cup fresh blueberries or raspberries
- 4 strawberries
- Mint sprigs to garnish (optional)

Line a large strainer with a double thickness of cheesecloth or a triple layer of paper towel. Place strainer over a large bowl to catch the liquid (whey) that will drain off. Spoon yogurt into strainer. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Scrape drained yogurt into a medium bowl. Discard the whey. Drain apricots and process to a smooth puree in a food processor or blender. Add to yogurt with sugar and liqueur, stir to mix well. Cover and chill at least 30 minutes. To serve, spoon some of the blueberries or raspberries into 6 wine glasses or dessert dishes, reserving a few berries for the top. Spoon mousse over berries. Hull strawberries and slice thinly; arrange a few slices over each glass of mousse. Sprinkle with the remaining blueberries and garnish with a mint sprig. Makes 3 1/2 cups mousse; 6 servings.

Nutritional information per serving: 200 calories, 8 g protein, 39 g carbohydrate, 3 g fat, 5 mg cholesterol, 100 mg sodium, 275 mg calcium.

Manchester Township Library

"Novels Native and Near" is the topic for the spring book discussion series sponsored by the Manchester Township Library. At the meetings, a scholar gives a presentation examining the author's background and relevant points in the book. The meeting is then open for questions and discussion.

Our first book is "Farmer" by Michigan author Jim Harrison. This is the story of Joseph, a 43-year-old farmer/school teacher, who is torn between two loves—a precocious student and the girl he has loved since boyhood. It is the gentle but disturbing story of a man who has lost the ability to feel life strongly. Even hunting and fishing, always engrossing pastimes, have become boring.

Professor Diedrick from Albion College returns to open the series on Thursday, May 3 at the Blacksmith Shop. Other sessions are May 17, May 31 and June 21. All meetings are at 7:30 p.m.

This program is supported by the Michigan Council for the Humanities, is free and all are welcome to attend. It is encouraged (but not required) to read the selections before the program. Copies of the books are available for borrowing from the Manchester Township Library. Call 428-8045 for more information.

BACK TO BASICS COOKING

Spring into lighter dining with a refreshing salad that features tender broiled steak, spinach, mushrooms and juicy orange segments. The secret to its great taste is the naturally brewed low-sodium Kikkoman Lite Soy Sauce that's used as the base for both the steak marinade and the salad dressing. Lite soy sauce has all the flavor enhancing qualities of all-purpose brewed soy sauce, but with 40 percent less salt. The warm and cool contrasts of this tantalizing main dish will give virtually everyone a renewed appreciation for nutritious salads.

SPRING STEAK & SPINACH SALAD

|--|--|
| 3 tablespoons Kikkoman Lite Soy Sauce, divided | 1/4 teaspoon oregano, crumbled |
| 3 tablespoons red wine vinegar, divided | 1 pound fresh spinach, washed, stems removed and leaves torn into bite-size pieces |
| 1 clove garlic, pressed | 6 ounces fresh mushrooms, sliced |
| 1/4 teaspoon black pepper | 3 medium oranges, peeled and cut into sections |
| 3/4 pound boneless tender beef steak, about 3/4 inch thick | |
| 1/4 cup vegetable oil | |

Blend 2 Tbsp. lite soy sauce, 1 Tbsp. vinegar, garlic and pepper; pour over steak in large plastic bag. Press air out of bag; close top securely. Turn bag over several times to coat both sides. Marinate 30 minutes; turn bag over occasionally. Meanwhile, combine remaining 1 Tbsp. lite soy sauce, 2 Tbsp. vinegar, oil and oregano; set aside. Broil steak 4 minutes on each side (for rare), or to desired doneness. Cut steak across grain into thin slices; combine with spinach, mushrooms and oranges in large bowl. Blend soy sauce mixture; pour over spinach mixture and toss to combine.

Makes 4 servings.

The Microwave Way

While we pause to remember our national heroes, the long Memorial Day weekend also signifies the arrival of the picnic season. A holiday gathering of family or friends is reason enough to retrieve the picnic basket from its storage place. Home economists from Whirlpool Corporation suggest filling it with a hearty bread, assorted fruits and cheeses for a healthy, totable outdoor meal.

Applesauce Cheddar Bread is delicately sweet with a hint of cheddar. This bread offers the speed and convenience of microwave preparation. According to Whirlpool home economists, you can even shorten the rising time for this yeast bread by using the microwave method.

APPLESAUCE CHEDDAR BREAD

Makes 1 loaf (16 wedges)

- 2-2/4 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup bran flakes cereal
3 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
1 package active dry yeast
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
3/4 cup unsweetened applesauce
1/2 cup skim milk
3 tablespoons margarine
2 egg whites
1/2 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese

Measure 1/2 cup of the flour, the bran flakes, sugar, yeast and cinnamon into large bowl of electric mixer. Stir to combine. Set aside.

Combine applesauce, milk and margarine in 2-cup glass measuring cup. Microwave at HIGH (100%) for 1 minute or until very warm (120-130°F). Add to cereal mixture. Mix 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bowl frequently. Add 1/2 cup flour and egg whites. Mix 2 minutes longer at medium speed. By hand, stir in remaining 1-1/4 cups flour to make a stiff, sticky batter.

Cover loosely and let rise* until almost double in volume. Stir down batter. Spoon half the batter into well-greased (not oiled) 1-quart round glass casserole. Top with cheese and remaining batter. Let rise until almost double.

Bake in conventional oven at 350°F for 35-40 minutes or until golden brown and sounds hollow when lightly tapped. Loosen edges. Remove from casserole. Cool on wire rack.

*NOTE: To save rising time, use microwave method: Fill a 4-cup glass measuring cup with 3 cups of water. Heat, uncovered, at HIGH (100%) for 7-8 minutes or until water boils. Move container to back corner of microwave oven. Place the bowl of bread batter, covered with waxed paper, in microwave oven. Heat at LOW (10%) 15-20 minutes or until almost double in volume. Continue as above. Use same method for second rising. Let rise 10-15 minutes. Bake as directed above.

DEDUCTIBLE CLARINET LESSONS AND OTHER UNBELIEVABLE TAX TALES

If you think tax filing is dull and predictable, consider this: A taxpayer was allowed to deduct clarinet lessons prescribed by a doctor as a means of correcting an improper alignment of a child's upper and lower teeth. That story is just one of the many off-the-wall but true tax tales gathered by the Michigan Association of CPAs. Here are some other stories that may surprise and enlighten you.

An Unlucky Gambler

A gambler who was granted a generous credit line by the casino lost more than $3.4 million at a "craps" table in Atlantic City. Since he was unable to pay the full amount, the casino settled for $500,000 and released him from the remaining debt. But then the IRS handed the hapless gambler some more bad news. The forgiveness of debt results in taxable income, so the gambler owed tax on the $2.9 million of "income."

Ignorance Is Bliss

Matthias H. was charged with tax fraud. At his trial, he requested that the judge instruct the jury that if the defendant believed he didn't have to file a tax return, they should acquit him. The judge refused Matthias' request and the jury convicted him. But the Court of Appeals overturned the decision. In the Court's opinion, since Matthias was accused of criminal nonfiling, the question of his intention was a key element. The judge should have instructed the jury as requested.

What A Difference A Comma Makes

If you ever thought a misplaced comma was unimportant, consider this: Alice B. received an IRS check for $49,000 rather than $4,900 due to a mistake made by an IRS computer. Alice notified the IRS of the error several times, but was told that the money was hers. Over two years later, the IRS realized that it had blundered and tried to collect the inflated refund. However, the deadline for correcting mistakes on refund checks had elapsed, making it impossible for the IRS to get the money back. Alice B. kept the $49,000.

A Swinging Deduction

At the age of 40, a high school teacher decided to seriously pursue his dream of becoming a professional golfer. Not only did he take on an after-work job as an unpaid assistant to the pro at a local golf course, but he also practiced almost every day. Over three years, he reported $3,000 in tournament winnings and $21,000 in expenses. The IRS disallowed the losses, arguing that golf was just the taxpayer's hobby. But the Tax Court disagreed. Since the aspiring golfer clearly intended to make a profit, the Court deemed the losses legitimate.

A Cheating Spouse

For a number of years, Ralph hid money from his wife in various bank accounts. As a consequence, he underpaid his taxes during that time. When the IRS discovered the hidden accounts, it accused Ralph of tax fraud. But the Tax Court interpreted events differently. According to the Court, Ralph intended to hide the money from his wife and not the IRS. Since the IRS couldn't prove that tax evasion was Ralph's primary motivation, the Court held that the IRS couldn't collect the tax for those years for which the statute of limitations had run out.

The Costly Boast

A drug dealer's boast resulted in a hefty tax bill. In a conversation with undercover IRS agents, the drug dealer bragged about the amount of money he earned as a result of his activities. Although the IRS found only $870,000 in the dealer's possession, it hit him with a $34 million tax bill based on the information he gave the undercover agents. In Tax Court, the multi-million dollar tax bill was upheld.

Diving For A Deduction

A staggered work schedule enabled Randy to earn additional income as a rescue diver and as an instructor of searching for underwater treasures. After three of his students found their fortunes in sunken shipwrecks, Randy decided it was time to do a little treasure hunting of his own. He bought a specially equipped boat and began searching for sunken treasure. Although he located a few shipwrecks and recovered several artifacts, his finds were essentially worthless. However, the costs incurred during his treasure hunting dives came to $11,851.

When Randy deducted his losses, the IRS objected since his activities had not resulted in a profit. But the Tax Court argued that Randy's treasure hunting

Dr. Revelli Conducts Ann Arbor Concert Band

The Case Of The Missing "John Hancock"

If you think that forgetting to sign your tax return is just a small mistake, you should talk to Gloria H. The IRS treated her unsigned return as if had never been filed. As a result, Gloria had to pay penalties for failure to file a timely return.

If you want to make sure that you don't get caught by some surprising tax law provision, the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you consult a tax expert before filing your return.

Those of you who thrilled to the music produced by University of Michigan bands when they were under the direction of Dr. William D. Revelli can relive some of those past glories May 6 when the Ann Arbor Concert Band makes its final appearance of the season. That's because the world-famous Dr. Revelli, now well into his 80's, is conductor of the ensemble, composed of musicians from all over southeastern Michigan. The concert is at 3:00 p.m. in Ann Arbor's Pioneer High School right across from the Michigan Stadium. Admission is free.

Dr. Revelli is still very busy fulfilling conducting, teaching and adjudicating appearances all over the world. Known as a perfectionist, he says his responsibilities as conductor of the Ann Arbor Concert Band, an all-volunteer group, "presents me with some unique challenges. It's the first time I've directed a group of musicians who only come because they wish to. And I'm doing it free!"

A number of the musicians were in his Michigan Band that toured Russia, the Near East and the satellite countries, including Romania and Poland, for four months in 1961.

Michigan Travel Guides Ready & Waiting

The 1990 Michigan Travel Planner and its companion publication, the Michigan Summer Travel Guide and Calendar of Events, are now ready for distribution.

The planner is a 74-page, large-format, full-color publication designed for year-round use. It includes information on 286 communities, 352 attractions, 94 state parks and recreation areas, the Celebrate! The Great Lakes program, fall and winter activities, and golf - as well as general travel information and a color-coded pull-out map of the state.

It is designed to be used with the bureau's summer, fall and winter travel guides.

The 78-page summer book serves as a more specific guide to the celebration of the Great Lakes, listing more than 600 festivals and events - particularly the 15 that have been designated official 1990 Celebrate! The Great Lakes festivals.

The guide also provides detailed information on the 15 communities hosting Celebrate! The Great Lakes festivals and on other activities in the area. Information on free camping, canoeing, and fishing programs, on B&Bs, and on golf is also provided - along with lists of summer theaters, symphony orchestras, and sources of summer travel information.

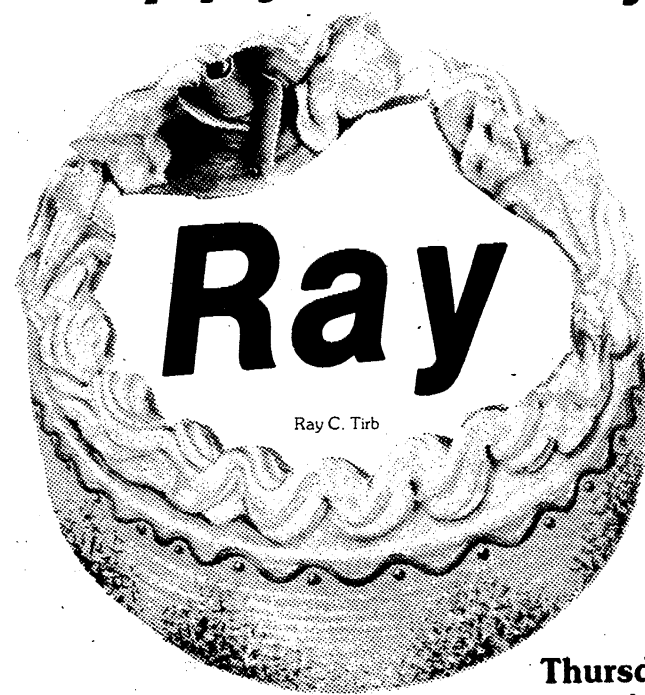

The Michigan Travel Planner and the Michigan Summer Travel Guide and Calendar can be obtained by calling the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432-YES, or by writing Michigan Travel Bureau, P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, Michigan 48909. The hearing-impaired can call the bureau's TDD at 1-800-722-8191 (in Michigan only.)

Safer Food Discussion

During March organic and conventional farmers came together to form a panel and discuss the topic of safer foods. Dale Lesser and John Porter, two local Farm Bureau members, were on that panel providing their insights into the future. Dale saw agriculture leaning toward "Sustainable agriculture" that would allow a farmer's yield to continue to grow and also avoid polluting everything. John pointed out the need for farmers to slowly change their operation due to the large amount of investment and overhead involved.

Though clearly no perfect solution was discovered, it is in these types of grassroots communications between city people, government people, and farmers that pave the way toward reaching the best solution.
