MEDIA IMAGE

A Detroit Free Press comic strip last week featured a young student with a schoolboy crush on his teacher. As the teacher asked the boy a question, it was evident that he was more interested in her beauty than her brains. The teacher reprimanded the boy and assigned him ten extra pages of homework to "teach him to pay attention in class."

I would hope that no responsible teacher would ever assign extra homework as punishment. How would such a practice ever encourage children to enjoy and take pride in the work they do in school?

But, unfortunately, this kind of representation of teachers and educators in general is all too common in the mass media. Educators are made to look unprofessional, ogre-like, or just plain foolish in too many books, comic strips, movies, and television shows.

Pat Sahakian Receives Claire Reck Award

Pat receives her award from Diane Schwab.

Patricia Sahakian received the 1990 Claire Reck Outstanding Community Service Award May 3 at the Community Resource Center Benefit Banquet hosted by Chelsea Community Hospital.

Pat has volunteered in many areas of our community. She has a real concern for all members, but especially for children and their educational and recreational needs. She started the "art cart" at Klager school when she saw there were not enough art supplies for the classrooms. She started a Sunday school program at St. Mary's when she noticed there wasn't a program for children too young to attend catechism. She organized a latch-key program to teach grade school students safety practices, simple first aid, and how to prepare healthy snacks because she was concerned about the number of kids that went home to empty houses after school.

She has volunteered as a room mother, band booster, PTO member, computer room assistant and for the last four years has held the elected position as trustee of the Manchester Community Schools. In the latter, she served two years a vice-president and this year as president of the school board. She is a member of the Community Action Committee of the Recreation Task Force.

Pat has been a Girl Scout volunteer for seven years. As a leader for the last three years she has pulled together a strong parent support group which has enabled the girls to participate in an impressive number of community service, educational, and fun activities. They have raked leaves for senior citizens, caroled shut-ins, visited nursing homes, cleaned up the banks of the River Raisin, planted wild flowers to prevent further erosion, and performed flag ceremonies for the Historical Society's Gazebo dedication, the dedication of the Manchester Township Library plaque, and the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Constitution.

The troop made a three-day camping trip to Ohio when they were fourth graders, a five-day

She was elected class treasurer in both 10th and 11th grade, tutors students, and teaches flute. Julie has been a cheerleader since 9th grade and will continue in her senior year. Her athletic achievements include participation in track in both 9th and 10th grades, and managing for the team this year. She has been in school plays and a member of the band since her freshman year, playing both solo and ensemble.

This year, Julie was chosen for the Summer Institute for the Arts and Sciences, named Girls' State and participated in the Academic Games/Science. She has been a member of St. Mary's Youth Group since 9th grade and teaches catechism. She plans to attend the University of Michigan, majoring in Pre-Med.

Four-Tune Tellers Bud Knorpp, Tom Cushman, Red Shaw and Sam Cushman.

In observance of Michigan Week, the annual Mayor Exchange Day was held on Monday, May 21.

Manchester and Jonesville traded mayors for the day. After a day of various activities the entourage was entertained at a dinner held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Those participating from Jonesville were Councilman Roy Warner and wife Kathy, Mayor Terry Fleetham and wife Marsha, and Councilman Mark Malinaro and wife Rhonda.

After dinner, entertainment was provided by the Four Tune Tellers.

The Four Tune Tellers entertained guests at the annual Mayor Exchange Day Dinner Monday, May 21.

This fine barbershop quartet is celebrating 40 years of singing together.

When they first began to sing, three of the four gentlemen were local residents. Now only one member, Charles "Bud" Knorpp, is the lone Manchesterite.

Congratulations and best wishes for 40 years more!

Language Screenings

Free speech and language screenings for children will be offered by appointment between June 4 and 8 at Saline Community Hospital, 400 W. Russell, Saline.

Speech and language are vital to a child's development, said Laura Biletdeaux, speech pathologist at SCH. If you think your child may be having a problem, take advantage of this free screening.

The speech and language screenings are for children 2 to 8 years old. Parents must provide a brief history of their child's language and articulation development and health. Screening will take about 10 to 15 minutes. Follow up recommendations will be provided, if necessary.

To make an appointment for free speech and language screening, call 429-1522.

Around The Table With PJ

Take, for example, the doltish, obsessed principal in the popular movie "Ferris Bueller's Day Off." Ferris was able to get away with all of his admittedly entertaining shenanigans largely because this administrator and the rest of the teachers portrayed in the film were too stupid to figure out what he was doing.

Teachers on television, with a few notable exceptions, are either busybody crusaders who get involved in the personal lives and problems of their students (usually to demonstrate the latest teenage social problem), or clownish, good-natured jokesters like the Gabe Kaplan character on "Welcome Back Kotter." Some, like the teacher Howard Hessman plays on "Head of the Class," are both.

Over the years, there have been some balanced portrayals of educators, such as in the acclaimed program "Room 222" of a generation ago, but most characterizations of school people are far from realistic, and far from respectful of the dedication and professionalism of most teachers.

One of the most recent films of school life is in some ways even worse than the previous examples. "Lean on Me," the movie version of the career of Joe Clark, principal of a high school in Paterson, New Jersey, is not only unrealistic, it is downright misleading.

The movie shows Clark's famous baseball-bat-and-bullhorn administrative methods as being the salvation of a badly run school. There is little evidence Clark ever achieved, however, the kinds of improvements in his school that he and his movie have claimed, and there is a great deal wrong with his draconian administration of an educational institution.

"Lean on Me" makes Clark out to be a hero of the "Rocky" mold, but in reality, he has few defenders left either among education colleagues or among the constituents of his school. On the other side of the Hollywood vision of educators, however, is "Stand and Deliver," the story of Jaime Escalante, the Los Angeles math teacher who has had incredible success teaching calculus to inner-city black and Hispanic kids. His students continually rank among the nation's best in mathematics, despite the fact that no advanced math courses were even offered in his school when he started teaching there about a decade ago.

Furthermore, he actually does succeed, claiming no more than he can back up, and he accomplishes this without wielding bludgeons and voice amplifiers. "Stand and Deliver" is a positive movie that can give viewers a better idea of what teaching is all about, and I recommend it to everyone.

Admittedly, school routine generally offers little of entertainment value, but I do think educators don't get a fair shake in the media. I try to make it a point not to watch movies and TV shows that don't at least try to give a balanced picture, and I avoid other media that tend to portray teachers negatively.

I think parents should make note of poorly informed versions of school life and discuss with their kids the implications of such stuff. If kids go to school believing that teachers are really like the characters they see on TV and in movies, it should be no surprise if they behave disrespectfully in the classroom and don't value their education.

Your thoughts are welcome. Just write to PJ in care of the "Enterprise" if you want to share them.

Wedding Bells Ring

Brenda Sue Voyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Voyce of Knoxville, Iowa, became the bride of Robert Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross of Manchester, on April 20, 1990. The ceremony took place in the Emanuel Church of Christ and was performed by Rev. Paul Kuntzman.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown, last worn in 1961. It was a white floor-length gown of chantilly lace, tulle and white satin, worn over a hooped skirt. The fitted bodice was adorned with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and featured long sleeves that tapered to a point over the wrists. She carried roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Mollie Grove, of Iowa City, Iowa, is a friend of the bride. She wore a red satin and lace tea-length gown and carried a single rose. Shaun Dohr, a friend of the groom from Manchester served as best man. Ushers were the grooms brothers Louie Ross and Tom Ross.

The reception was held following the ceremony at the American Legion Hall. The couple will make their home in Manchester. The groom is employed by Manchester Stamping and the bride works for Johnson Controls.

Library Reading Program

The Manchester Township Library reading program continued its 4-part series last Thursday night with the discussion of a very "uncomforting" book: "Braided Lives" by Marge Piercy.

The discussion leader was a very articulate Judy Lockyear, professor of English at Albion College. She led the 13 persons gathered at the Blacksmith Shop through a lively discussion of women's issues as they are presented in "Braided Lives."

"This is a very unsettling book," Lockyear said. "It's a 'quest' novel, a growing up novel. But it's an important book in that it articulates some of the problems and joys in women's lives today, as seen through the main character of Jill." Some of the problems Jill faced were issues of power, especially with her mother, and the myth that women become somehow "evil" or "dangerous" after they pass through puberty.

Another problem women face, as seen through Jill, is the issue of stereotypes. "Piercy helps us see that women can't be a part of this world without some form of amputation," Lockyear stated. "Women are socialized to take care; men are socialized to expect to be taken care of."

Lockyear helped those present see that the book, written in 1982

but set in Ann Arbor in the late 50's and early 60's, was a representation of feminism in its earliest stages. "This book is also partly autobiographical," Lockyear said, and outlines the feminist theory that the author lived.

All in all, the book was generally well received by those in attendance. The Manchester Township Library wishes to thank Ms. Lockyear, those who attended, and the Michigan Council for the Humanities for making these reading series possible.

The next book will be "The Sporting Club", written by Thomas McGuane. This work will be discussed on Thursday, May 31 at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop on Main Street.

Boysville Receives Grant

Trustees of the Skillman Foundation approved a grant to Boysville of Michigan, Inc. in the amount of $423,000 toward the construction of a new dormitory at Clinton campus.

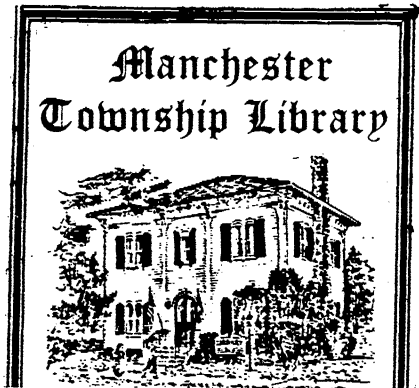

On December 16, 1989, a major fire destroyed the St. Joseph Hall dormitory located at Boysville's main campus in Clinton, Michigan. Fortunately, none of the staff or 48 residents were in the building at the time of the blaze and no injuries resulted. Boysville was then faced with the challenge of replacing the dormitory to meet both current and future program needs.

The replacement building will occupy 24,255 square feet and has been designed to house six groups of young men between the ages of 12 and 17. It will be built to serve an open program, but will have added security measures that will give Boysville the flexibility to serve those youths who need a highly structured program. In addition, the new building will have space for a multi-purpose area to be used for individual and group meetings, educational activities, family visitations, and dining.

Total cost of replacing the dormitory with a new, multi-purpose building is $1,844,300. With the grant from the Skillman Foundation, insurance monies, and other grants, and contributions, over $1,000,000 has been raised thus far. Construction is scheduled to begin July 1 and the anticipated completion date is

March 31, 1991, at which time residents housed temporarily in another location on campus will move in.

The Skillman Foundation was founded in December of 1960 by Rose P. Skillman, widow of Robert H. Skillman, vice-president and director of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company.

Way made a motion to accept the minutes with the above corrections. Palms seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote.

REPORTS COMMITTEE REPORT ON SITE PLAN REVIEWS

Members of the committee presented suggestions on some specific issues to consider and ask the developers about. The discussion resulted in the recommendation the committee find out what parts of the Village ordinance are not in conflict with the Mobile Home Commission Act, and therefore could be used in the site plan review, and how to "negotiate" areas of difficulty. It was also recommended the legal interpretation of such words as "shall" and "may" as used in the Mobile Home Commission Rules, and how this interpretation may affect the application of the Village ordinance, be looked into. Discussion also took place concerning the need for more time between the deadline for site plan submissions and the meeting at which they are to be addressed.

Davenport made a motion to have the filing deadline for site plan reviews set at 30 days (instead of 12 days) prior to the Planning Commission meeting at which they will be addressed, and require eleven copies of the site plan to be submitted, two of which will be sent to the DPW and the Fire Department. (The remainder are for Planning Commissioners.) Written comments from the DPW and the Fire Department are to be sent to the Planning Commission one week prior to the Planning Commission meeting. Palms seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote. All other submissions will follow the regular two-week process.

REGULAR BUSINESS SIGN ORDINANCE REVIEW

The proposed sign ordinance was reviewed in depth. Also included was an example of the proposed application form. Little brought up concerns over the installation of delivery type boxes along streets. It was recommended this problem should be taken to council. There was some question as to whether or not this issue should be included in the sign ordinance.

Davenport made a motion to hold a Public Hearing on the proposed new sign ordinance at the next regular meeting at 8:00 p.m. The motion was seconded by Way. The motion passed on a voice vote.

NEW BUSINESS

Schiller noted the upcoming workshop on Bed and Breakfast Businesses.

JFK's Birthday Commemorated

May 29th marks the birthday of John F. Kennedy, the 35th president of the United States. Born in Brookline, Mass., in 1917, Kennedy was the nation's youngest president. He served in the White House from 1961 until his assassination in November 1963.

In an effort to memorialize his birth rather than his death, members of the Kennedy family have established the "John F. Kennedy Profile in Courage" award. The award derives its name from the 1957 Pulitzer Prize-winning book, "Profiles in Courage," written by President Kennedy while he was a senator, detailing examples of senators who risked their careers and the wrath of constituents by taking principled stands for unpopular positions. The award will emphasize contemporary acts of political courage, rather than honor officials for their careers.

Pickle Week Celebrated

Remember how hard it was to say "Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers" without laughing? Well, to give national recognition to the "world's most humorous vegetable," Pickle Packers International, the trade association for the pickle industry, has declared May 25-June 3 "International Pickle Week."

International Pickle Week was first celebrated in 1948 to satirize other commemorative observances. Although the event started out as a joke, pickles, it appears, are particularly popular. Believe it or not, Americans eat about nine pounds of pickles per person per year.

With only 15 calories in a hefty dill, more and more people are snacking on pickles instead of sweets. Of the 36 basic varieties of pickles, the top American pickles in order of popularity are dill pickles, sweet pickles, pickled relish, bread and butter pickles, and pickled peppers.

To celebrate the event, Pickle Packers International suggests that we ask all people we meet, especially radio and TV personalities, to recite five times quickly and without a slip the "Peter Piper" tongue twister. It

Local Man Completes Bike-A-Thon

John Taddonio, a Manchester resident and father of four, completed a 150-mile one man Bike-a-Thon on Wednesday, May 16, 1990, benefiting St. Paul's Community Center in Toledo, Ohio. To date, John has raised $26,240. Contributions are still being sent in.

St. Paul's Community Center is a place for the homeless to go for a safe and supportive environment. St. Paul's is a 30-bed facility and feeds an average of 170 homeless people daily. They provide case workers who meet individually with those who need guidance. A psychiatrist and part-time nurse are also available. The philosophy of St. Paul's Medical Center is one that means a lot to John. It is, "You can give a man a fish and he will eat for a day, teach a man to fish, and he will eat for a lifetime." St. Paul's Medical Center's goal is to help these people live independently with a minimum of ongoing care.

John, Toledo District Manager for BFI Waste Systems, began his trip on Tuesday at the Ohio State Capitol Building in Columbus and ended at the St. Paul's Community Center on Wednesday. John, assisted by a sheriff's escort and a BFI van, pedaled 150 grueling miles for a cause he believes in - most of his journey was in the pouring rain. A 90-piece local high school band and a cheering crowd welcomed John at the finish line. This was not John's first bike-a-thon. Three years ago he helped the Ronald McDonald House in Toledo pay off their mortgage. In both cases, the bike-a-thon was John's idea.

To the many homeless men and women who anxiously waited for John at St. Paul's Community Center at the conclusion of his trip, his effort and achievement was like a beacon of hope for them all. The many who shook his hand with thanks and appreciation made John's long, exhausting journey worthwhile.

In appreciation for John's accomplishment, the mayor of Toledo signed a proclamation establishing May 15 as St. Paul Community Center and John Taddonio Day.

John sets an example for us to follow. His determination and belief in a cause will change many homeless people's lives. They will long remember John Taddonio.

Eye Care

Cheryl Huey, M.D.
Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon

FIRST AID FOR EYE INJURIES

Chemicals in the Eye: This is a potentially blinding injury. Immediately flush the eye with water, holding the eye open with your fingers. Flush generously for fifteen minutes and then seek medical help. If water is not available, flush with any safe liquid—basically anything that is safe to drink is O.K.

Foreign Object in the Eye: Grasp your eyelashes and pull the upper lid down over the lower lid to try to dislodge the object. Let your tears try to wash it away. If it can't be removed this way, see a physician.

Lacerations: If the eyelid or eye has been cut, very gently cover the eye with a bandage without applying too much pressure, and seek medical attention immediately. Don't try to rinse the eye or remove embedded material.

Blunt Trauma: Apply a cold compress over the eye. If blurring persists, see a physician.

Contact Lens Overwear: After removing contacts, apply cold compresses. Expect several hours of irritation or discomfort, but if pain does not subside, see a physician.

The Physics and Drafting I classes recently performed a difficult project in designing and constructing a vehicle that was to be powered by a mousetrap, titled "Mousetrap Powered Vehicle". This experiment consisted of five teams made up of students from Mr. Jim Fielder's and Mr. Jim Diedrich's classes. The winning car traveled 48.2 feet, breaking the record of 33 feet 9 inches, which was previously set by a group of students in Ohio.

We started off the week on a high note as we blasted Vandercook Lake 12-2. Jackie Ahrens on the mound was nearly unstoppable as she gave up only one hit to be selected to the Ann Arbor News Prep Honor Roll.

On Friday, our girls participated in the Ann Arbor News softball tournament. In this 20-team, four-pool event, we found ourselves in pool number two with Pioneer, Milford Lakeland, East Kentwood and Greenhills. Our girls split as the shellacked Greenhills 20-2, but fell to Milford-Lakeland 14-3.

Ferris State University on May 19, 1990 has presented Charles P. Kripas with his Bachelor of Science degree and bestowed on him the University's highest honors. To qualify for this distinction, a student must be on the Dean's List every quarter for four years and graduate with a 3.75-4.0 GPA. Charles will now go on to the University of Michigan to work on his Master's degree. As of July 1, 1990, Charles will be employed by General Motors Corporation as a district manager of Michigan for Buick Motor Division, Flint, Michigan.

On Monday, our varsity boys' baseball squad hosted the Jayhawks from Vandercook Lake. We received stromt hitting from Jesse Widmayer, Andy Pagel, Dan Weber, John Ward, Tony Panches and Tim Burkhardt. This offensive assault netted us fourteen points as junior pitcher Jay Gillow gave up four hits, struck out six, to post his second straight victory. In this 14-4 win, junior Jesse Widmayer collected a double and a home run to be chosen by the Ann Arbor News as a top performer of the day.

On Friday, we closed out a super week by bombing Napoleon 11-0. Andy Pagel allowed only one hit. Andy, Jesse, Dan and Tony slugged two or more hits.

The Manchester Area Historical Society held its regular meeting on May 21, 1990 at the Blacksmith Shop. A much younger crowd was attracted by the program on baseball card collecting. Jeff Mari, owner of the Upper Deck in Ann Arbor, answered many questions from the younger set about the value of particular cards. He gave other interesting information on players and why their cards are priced the way they are.

Anyone interested in collecting baseball cards needs to know the potential. Cards need to be kept in good condition. If they are worth $100 or more, they should be kept in a safety deposit box.

Senate Passes School Asbestos Removal Bill

By a vote of 37-0, the Senate passed a bill recognizing that removal of asbestos is not the preferred option in public and non-public schools where an approved operations and maintenance plan is in effect, Senator John J.H. Schwarz, M.D. (R-Battle Creek), the bill's sponsor announced.

Recent scientific studies have shown that common asbestos-containing building materials (ACBM) are not dangerous at the minuscule levels found in most school buildings. Unnecessarily disturbing this material "can lead to increases in airborne concentrations of fibers in buildings" above current levels.

Senate Bill 908 stops the unnecessary removal of asbestos and would only allow asbestos removal in schools in those circumstances where it is required by the federal Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA).

"While the bill mandates that school buildings comply with federal and state laws, it also clearly states that those schools in compliance don't have to go through the expense of removing asbestos," Schwarz said. "If air quality tests meet federal and state standards, school officials may not remove asbestos unless a qualified inspector identifies exposed or friable asbestos as described in the AHERA Act or Federal Clean Air Act."

Under the state legislation, an effective in-place management program is proposed which mirrors the Environmental Protection Agency regulatory policies for schools under AHERA. The EPA has stated that "removal is often not a building owner's best course of action to reduce asbestos exposure. In fact, an improper removal can create a dangerous situation where none previously exists."

Senator Schwarz said, "these removal costs, in Michigan alone, come close to $1 billion dollars. This money would have to come from local school millages and would be better used to supplement school operating budgets and teacher salaries."

U of M Degree Candidates Announced

RN of the Year

A Med-Surg nurse has been voted RN of the Year at Bixby Medical Center in conjunction with Michigan Nurses' Week, May 6-12.

Diane Love, RN, of Manchester was voted top honors by her colleagues last week in the annual balloting. Love, who has been at the Medical Center for one year, has been a nurse for 13 years. She is a graduate of a two-year program at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Her background includes three years as an LPN and five years as a registered nurse with a non-invasive cardiology practice in Livonia.

Nursing has been a good career for Love, not only because of the demands and challenges of the profession, but also for her personal life. The demands of a family are just as important as the demands of a career, and the flexibility of nursing has allowed her to devote time to her husband, Michael, and 4-year-old son, Neil. She plans to continue her education once her son gets older.

Freedom Township

The meeting was called to order with four board members present. Clerk, Julie Schaible, was absent. Minutes and Treasurer's Report were approved with $52,310.51 in the General Fund and $4.10 in the Liquor Fund.

Various communications were read and discussed. Neighbors surrounding an abandoned house on Hieber Road presented their concerns. Little will have the lawyer look into possible infractions and actions. The board approved use of the Township Hall for a Migrant Health Day sponsored by the CRC and Public Health Department.

The Planning Commission has granted a preliminary permit for Total Pipeline and reviewed and okayed permits for Barret and Holloway gravel operations.

Under old business, the Board approved the County Road Commission contract and voted to continue support for the recycle center for the rest of the fiscal year. New information concerning a household hazardous waste collection was presented. The board also formally adopted the new budget as presented at the annual meeting.

Bills #2768 through 2787 were approved for payment. Meeting adjourned 10:00 p.m.

RENTING OR BUYING A HOME: WHICH IS RIGHT FOR YOU?

With housing costs rising at only about 5 percent annually, the housing market projections for the 1990s are not very rosy. According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, a key question potential home buyers might want to be asking is whether to buy at all.

CPAs suggest that the decision whether to buy or rent can best be made by weighing the pros and cons of each option. Your ultimate decision will be influenced by the living arrangements you require, plus your current financial situation. Here are some factors you may want to consider when deciding if renting or buying is right for you.

Renting Is Cheaper Than Buying
First of all, in many parts of the country, it is now cheaper to rent than to buy - even when taking the tax benefits of home ownership into consideration. Remember that although home ownership does open the door to numerous tax deductions, the dollar value of those deductions has been somewhat deflated by lower tax rates.

In addition, if you want to buy a home, you must be prepared to make a 10 to 20 percent down payment and pay closing costs, title insurance, and points. For first-time buyers, the substantial down payment often presents the major stumbling block to buying a home, especially in light of the slow growth in the real income of young people today. And if you do have enough money for a down payment, renting offers you the opportunity to invest the money you would have had to tie up in the down payment and other closing costs.

Of course, the cost of owning a home extends beyond the initial payments. In the first year, the average cost of owning a home (after taxes) is approximately 32 percent of your income. In 1970, that cost was only 23 percent.

As a homeowner, you must be prepared to make a long-term commitment to expensive monthly payments, including maintenance, landscaping, trash and snow removal, as well as unexpected major repairs such as a new roof or furnace.

Renters Have More Mobility

Suppose you lose your job, or must transfer to another location. If you are tied to a short-term lease, you have far more mobility and flexibility than you have as a homeowner. And with some lease agreements, you can even sublet your apartment.

Furthermore, renting offers you the opportunity to test out a particular neighborhood before making a long-term commitment to stay in that location. If you know that you will be moving within four years, it is almost always more advantageous to rent. CPAs say that in most cases, it takes at least four years for your home equity growth to offset the costs of buying and selling.

Some Cautionary Advice About Renting

If you decide to rent, be sure you understand all the terms of the rental agreement. For example, some leases do not allow sublets. And some rental agreements require that you pay for utilities and other maintenance costs. Check your lease to see if it mentions whether your rent will increase if there is an increase in oil prices or local taxes. The lease should also specify how much notice you must give the landlord of your intention to vacate the apartment - and how much notice the landlord must give you if he or she decides to evict you. You should also find out whether you can fix up your apartment by building shelves or making other alterations.

When Is Buying Right?

On the other side of the scale, there are considerable advantages to buying a home. For many Americans, the increase in space, privacy and freedom to remodel associated with home ownership is vital to happiness.

Obviously, the decision to buy a home depends to a great extent on your ability to pay for the costs of the purchase plus the on-going monthly costs of ownership. Some first-time buyers turn to relatives to help with the down payment, others find loans. CPAs suggest that the total carrying charges of owning a home should not exceed 40 percent of your monthly net income.

If your finances are tight, but your heart is set on buying a home, consider a smaller home in a desirable location. You may also want to explore less expensive homes that may involve a longer commute to your place of employment, although these homes may not appreciate as quickly as you would like. Another option is a handyman's special, a home that needs lots of work. Finally, you may want to opt for a small home that has the potential for expansion.

Tax Benefits And Equity

Owning a home can still be a good investment - even if the mortgage interest rates exceed the annual appreciation of your home. The reason for this is simple: in the early years of a mortgage, a larger share of the monthly payment goes to tax deductible interest rather than principal. In addition, you can generally deduct real estate taxes and points paid to secure a mortgage. What's more, you can defer tax on the gain realized by selling your home simply by purchasing a home of equal or greater value.

Which Way Will The Scales Tip?

A recent survey reveals that an increasing population of single individuals is turning away from home ownership and opting to rent or purchase condominiums. Put off by the costs of home ownership, many young couples between the ages of 25 and 29, once a major house buying group, are opting to rent. But don't let the demographics dictate your personal decision. Carefully consider your own priorities and financial realities, and act on those factors. You may also want to consult a CPA who can help you decide which is right for you - buying or renting.

Check Ant Poisons

The Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA) is urging homeowners and business owners to check their ant poisons to see if they contain sodium arsenate. MDA inspectors have found ant poison products containing sodium arsenate for sale in several Michigan stores this spring in spite of a ban by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency because of potential harm to young children.

Homeowners possessing sodium arsenate-based ant poisons should take them to the nearest community collection program for household hazardous wastes. If no local collection program is available, they should contact the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service toll-free hotline numbers for disposal information (from 313 area code) 1-800-468-8879.

Store owners who have any of the banned product should notify the Michigan Department of Natural Resources waste characterization unit, 517-373-2730, or their local DNR office. By law, the stock held by stores must be managed as a hazardous waste and cannot be discarded in the trash.

Banned products include Jones Ant Killer, Fatsco Ant Poison, Protexall Ant Kil, and Terro Ant Kil.

Jolly Farmerettes Buckle Up America! Week

The monthly meeting of the Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club was called to order May 19 by president, Jodi Parr. Flag pledges were led by Kelly Parr. There were 11 members and 3 leaders present.

Under bills and communications, the pledge envelope was given to the treasurer for forwarding to the 4-H office. Michelle Mann gave a brief report about completing the Michigan Award form for the State level. We were reminded to keep up our Personal Record books.

Under new business, we selected our 4-H Fair Queen candidate. Jodi Parr will be our candidate with Michelle Mann and then Jodi Armentrout as 1st and 2nd alternates. Medical forms for the fair were given to Jennifer and Andrea. Petting zoo sign-up forms and service club food booth forms were collected. Also distributed and collected were the sign-up lists for adult volunteers for the first day of the fair and the weekly "keep the booth tidy." Final plans were made for the barrel decorating contest. A club booth display committee was formed with Mrs. Lowery as adult leader and Michelle, Sarah, Andrea, Suzanne, Jodi P., Joelle and Jodi F. as committee members. They will meet with Mrs. Lowery on Wednesday, May 23.

Under Leader's report, Mrs. Feldkamp collected sign-up lists for summer projects. Mrs. Clark brought catalogs for members to order various kits.

Demonstrations were given by Sarah Feldkamp. Refreshments were served by Sarah and Jodi Feldkamp, and Laura Monkiewicz. Recreation was watching our modeling tape from Spring Achievement 1990. The meeting was adjourned until June 11 at 6:00 p.m. for Buymanship project members and 7:9:00 p.m. for all club members. This meeting will be at the Feldkamps and hopefully we can begin painting barrels. Demonstrations for June will be make-ups and Michelle Mann and Kelly Parr are in charge of refreshments.

Flying Equestrians

Congratulations to the following Flying Equestrians 4-H Club members who participated in the Washtenaw County 4-H Spring Achievement Horse Show:

Michelle Alber, out of 18 entries in the age 12 and under division, placed 3rd in Walk/Trot Pleasure, honorable mention in Walk/Trot Equitation, and 4th in Fitting and Showing. Michelle has a registered paint horse named American Amy.

Kelly Allen on Raffles placed 2nd in Bareback Equitation, 3rd in English Pleasure and Western Equitation, 4th in Fitting and Showing, and English Equitation, and 5th in Western Pleasure.

LeAnne Ellsworth, on her Quarter Horse Sundance, won 1st place in Trail.

Each year, our nation celebrates Buckle Up, America! Week over the Memorial Day holiday, the traditional start of summer travel. This public awareness week, May 21-28, 1990, is designed to raise the nation's consciousness about the benefits of safety-belt use - and for good reason.

Traffic crashes are the #1 killer for those between the ages of one and 44. In 1988, more than 47,000 people were killed on our nation's highways. In the state of Michigan, an average of four people die on our roadways every day and 400 more are injured. Still, half of Michigan's vehicle occupants continue to ride without wearing a safety belt.

The good news is that safety belts do save lives and prevent needless injuries. The Michigan safety-belt-use law passed in July of 1985 has resulted in a 19-percent reduction in hospitalizations due to auto crashes, preventing thousands of injuries and saving lives.

In September of 1989, car manufacturers were required to equip all new cars with automatic crash protection - air bags or automatic safety belts. Air bags, however, are only effective in frontal crashes. They are not designed to provide protection for rear-end, side, rollover or low-speed frontal crashes. For maximum protection in all crashes, front seat occupants need the added benefit of a safety belt. Together, air bags and safety belts form the "winning combination" that offers the best available safety protection.

Everyone needs to make a commitment during Buckle Up, America! Week to wear a safety belt. Safety belts save lives, save Michigan money, and prevent senseless injuries. Be part of the "winning combination" and BUCKLE UP!
